action shall be had by him thereon. The Insurance Commissioner of the Territory in case he shall permit any such company to reduce its capital in the manner provided in this act, shall execute the certificate required in this act, in duplicate and deliver one of such certificates to the officers of such company, who shall forthwith file the same with the clerk of the county in which the company is located, and the other such certificate shall be filed in the office of said Commissioner. Such company upon filing such certificate with the county clerk as required by this act, shall with such reduced capital possess the same rights and be subject to the same liabilities that it possessed or was subject to at the time of the reduction of its capital, and the charter of such company shall be deemed to be amended in respect to the amount of capital and the par value of the shares so as to conform to such reduction. It shall be lawful for the said company to require the return of the original certificate of stock held by each stockholder and in lieu thereof, to issue new certificates for such numbers of shares as each stockholder may be entitled to in proportion that the reduced capital may be found to bear to the original capital of the company. It shall be lawful for any such company after its capital shall be so reduced as aforesaid, to increase its capital stock in the mode prescribed by this law. It shall be the duty of all receivers and trustees of insurance companies, during the month of January of each year, and any time when required by the Insurance Commissioner of the Territory, to make and file annual and other statements of their assets and liabilities, and of their income and expenditures in the same manner and form and under the same penalties as the officers of such companies are now required by law to make annual and other statements to the Insurance Commissioner's office. The said commissioner shall also cause its annual statement required to be filed by this act, to be published in one daily newspaper of general circulation not less than fifteen days.

Fees of commissioner of insurance.

(3149) § 27. There shall be paid to the Commissioner of Insurance by every company, association, person or persons or agent to whom this act shall apply, the following fees: For filing the declaration or the certified copy of a charter herein required the sum of thirty dollars ($30); for filing the annual statement required, ten dollars ($10); for each certificate of authority to agents of companies or association not incorporated under the laws of this Territory, two dollars ($2); for each certificate of authority to agents of companies incorporated under the laws of this Territory, fifty cents (50); for every copy of paper filed in his office the sum of twenty cents (20) per folio; and for fixing the seal of said office to such copy and certifying the same, one dollar ($1); and in case two or more companies shall combine and effect insurance under a joint policy each and every company shall pay the fees provided herein the same as if each company wrote separate and distinct policies; and of the fees so received by the commissioner, thirty-five per cent shall be retained by him and the balance be paid over to the Territorial Treasurer. Before any insurance company shall be permitted to do any business in this

Chap. 44.

Territory, such company, if a company organized within the Territory, shall pay a license tax to the Territory Treasurer of ten dollars, and if organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign government, the sum of twenty-five dollars, which license tax shall be required to be paid each year, thirty-five per cent of which shall be paid to the Commissioner of Insurance.

Agents responsible embezzlement.

(3150) § 28. Agents appointed by any company doing business in this Territory, to solicit for application for insurance to collect the premiums on the same and to transact the other duties of agents in such cases, shall be held personally responsible to such company for any money received for such company; and in case any such agent shall embezzle or fraudulently convert to his own use or shall take or secrete with intent to embezzle and convert to his own use without consent of such company, any money belonging to such company which shall have come into his possession or shall be under his care by virtue of his agency, he shall be deemed by so doing, to have committed the crime of larceny, and on conviction, shall be subject to the fines and penalties provided by the statutes in such cases.

Reciprocity.

(3151) § 29. Whenever the existing or future laws of any state or territory of the United States, or any other kingdom or country, shall require of insurance companies incorporated by or organized under the laws of this Territory, and having agencies in such other state, territory, kingdom or country, and deposits or securities in such state, territory, kingdom or country, for the protection of policy holders, or otherwise, or any payment of taxes, fines, penalties, certificates of authority, license fees, or otherwise greater than the amount required for such purposes from similar companies of other states by the then existing laws of this Territory, then and in every such case, all companies of such states establishing or having heretofore established an agency or agencies in this Territory, shall be and are hereby required to make the same deposit for a like purpose with the Commissioner of Insurance of this Territory, and to pay the Commissioner for taxes, fines, penalties, certificates of authority, license fees and otherwise, an amount equal to the amount of such charges and payments imposed by the laws of such territory or state upon the companies of this Territory and the agents thereof: Provided, That the payment required of such foreign companies shall in no case be less than required by this act.

Tax on net receipts.

(3152) § 30. Every agent of an insurance company incorporated by the authority of any other state or government, shall return to the proper officer of the county, town, or municipality in which the agency is established, in the month of January, annually, the amount of net receipts, of such agency, which shall be entered on the tax lists of the county, town, and municipality, and subject to the same rate of taxation for all purposes, Territorial, county, town, and municipality that other personal property is subject to at the place where created.

Security by foreign companies.

(3153) § 31. All fire or fire and marine insurance companies organized under the laws of any foreign country establishing or having heretofore established an agency or agencies in this Territory, shall be and are hereby allowed to make the deposit required by the laws of this Territory in such bonds, stocks or other securities of such foreign country: Provided, The same shall not be received for more than their par value, nor shall they in any case be valued at more than their current market value.

Amount of policy to be paid.

(3154) § 32. All insurance companies issuing policies in this Territory shall be required to pay in case of total loss the full amount, and in case of partial loss shall be required to pay the amounf of loss so sustained, for which the property is insured; Provided, however, That no policy shall be issued which shall contain a sum greater sum than seventy-five per cent of the value of the property so insured.

Policy to contain copy of application.

(3155) § 33. All insurance policies issued in this Territory under this act, must be accompanied by a copy of the application for insurance upon which the policy was issued, and such copy shall be evidence in favor of the assured of the matter in his application contained.

This act shall take effect from and after the adjournment of this session of the Legislative Assembly.

ARTICLE 3.—FIRE INSURANCE.

SECTION.
1. Alteration of use; increasing risk
2. Same; not increasing risk.
3. Act of insured not increasing risk.
4. Measure of indemnity.

Alteration of use, increasing the risk.

(3156) § 1. An alteration in the use or condition of a thing insured, from that to which it is limited by the policy, made without the consent of the insurer, by means within the control of the insured, and increasing the risk entitles the insurer to rescind a contract of fire insurance.

Same; not increasing risk.

(3157) § 2. An alteration in the use or condition of a thing insured, from that to which it is limited by the policy, which does not increase the risk, does not affect a contract of fire insurance.

Act of insured not increasing risk

(3158) § 3. A contract of fire insurance is not affected by any act of the insured subsequent to the execution of the policy, which does not violate its provisons, even though it increases the risk, and is the cause of a loss.

Measure of indemnity.

(3159) § 4. If there is no violation in the policy, the measure of indemnity in an insurance against fire is the full amount stated in the policy; but the effect of a valuation in a policy of fire insurance is the same as in a policy of marine insurance.

Foreign companies; statement of.

(3166) § 7. All life insurance companies, chartered or organized in any other state of the United States, or beyond the limits of the United States, and doing business in this Territory, shall make an annual statement of their condition and affairs to the Commissioner of the Insurance department in the same manner and in the same form as similar companies organized under the laws of this Territory. The Commissioner shall have authority to extend the time for filing such statement, for reasons which he shall deem good and sufficient, whether the company is organized in this Territory or elsewhere.

Companies without the United States, statement

(3167) § 8. Life insurance companies, chartered beyond the limits of the United States, and doing business in this Territory, shall make a return of their standing on the thirty-first day of December in each year, agreeable to the form required by this act of other companies doing a similar business in this Territory, said return to be made to the Commissioner on or before the first day of April, annually, and verified and sworn to before some consul or vice-consul of the United States, by two or more of the principal officers of such insurance company.

Neglect to make returns, penalty.

(3168) § 9. Any company doing business in this Territory, neglecting to making returns in the manner and within the time hereinbefore authorized and prescribed, shall forfeit one hundred dollars for each day's neglect; and every company that wilfully makes false statements, shall be liable to a fine of not less than five hundred, nor more than one thousand dollars. Any new business done by any company or its agents in this Territory, after neglect to make the prescribed returns, shall be deemed to be done in violation of law.

Stop issuing policies, when.

(3169) § 10. When the actual funds of any life insurance company doing business in this Territory, are not of net value equal to the net value of its policies, according to the "combined experience" or "actuary's" rate of mortality, with interests at four per centum per annum, it shall be the duty of the Commissioner to give notice to such company and its agents to discontinue issuing new policies within this Territory, until such time as its funds have become equal to its liabilities, valuing its policies as aforesaid. Any officer or agent who, after such notice has been given, issues or delivers a new policy, from and on behalf of such company, before its funds have become equal to its liabilities as aforesaid, shall forfeit, for each offense, a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Investment of funds.

(3170) § 11. It shall be lawful for any company, organized in this Territory, to invest its funds or accumulations in the bonds of the United States, or of this Territory, or any county, city, or town in this Territory, or in any National bank, or in such other stocks and securities as may be approved by the Commissioner, or in mortgages (being first liens) on real estate being worth at east twice the amount of money loaned thereon.

Investment in other states.

(3171) § 12. When any life insurance company, organized under the laws of this Territory, shall transact business in any other state, it may invest its surplus funds in such state in like security and under the same restrictions as in this Territory.

Inquiries by commissioner, revoke certificate.

(3172) § 13. The Commissioner is hereby authorized and empowered to address any inquiries to any life insurance company, or to the secretary thereof, in relation to its doings or conditions, or any other matter connected with its transactions; and it shall be the duty of any such company so addressed to reply promptly, in writing, to any such inquiries; and all such companies not incorporated under the laws of this Territory, failing to answer all such inquiries, shall not be authorized to transact any business in this Territory, and their certificates of authority may be revoked and cancelled. It shall be the duty of the Commissioner to mak or cause to be made an examination of the condition and affairs of any life insurance company doing business in this Territory, whenever he shall deem it expedient to do so; and, also, whenever he shall have good reason to suspect the correctness of any annual statement, or that the affairs of any company making such statements are in an unsound condition.

Dividends by mutual companies

(3173) § 14. Life insurances companies, doing business in this Territory, which do business upon the principle of mutual insurance, or the members of which are entitled to share in the surplus funds thereof, may make distributions of such surplus as may have accumulated, annually, or once in two, three, four, or five years, as the directors thereof may from time to time determine. In determining the amount of the surplus to be distributed, there shall be reserved an amount not less than the aggregate net value of all outstanding policies, said value being computed by the combined experience or actuary rate of mortality, with interest not exceeding four per cent.

Foreign companies, agent; service of process.

(3174) § 15. Every life insurance company, not organized in this Territory, before doing business in this Territory, shall in writing, appoint an attorney, resident in this Territory, upon whom all lawful processes against the company may be served, with like effect, as if the company existed in this Territory, and said writing, or power of attorney, shall stipulate and agree, on the part of the company making the same, that any lawful process against said company which is served on said attorney, shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served on said company. A copy of the writing, duly certified and authenticated, shall be filed in the office of the commissioner, and copies certified by him shall be sufficient evidence. This agency shall be continued while any liability remains outstanding against the company in this Territory, and the power shall not be revoked until the same power is given to another, and a like copy filed as aforesaid. Service upon said attorney shall be deemed sufficient service upon the company.

Territorial treasurer to receive deposits, income.

(3175) § 16. The Treasurer of the Territory, in his official capacity, shall take and hold on deposit the securities of any life insurance company incorporated under the laws of this Territory, which are deposited by any such company for the purpose of securing policy holders, and complying with the laws of any state, in order to enable such company to transact business in such state The company depositing such securities, shall have the right to receive the income thereof, and at any time to exchange the same, according to the laws of the state in which they may be doing business.

Valuing policies in special cases

(3176) § 17. If any life insurance compauy, organized in this Territory, or in any other state of the United States, or in any foreign country, whose policies are not valued by the insurance department or proper officers of any other state, shall transact business in this Territory, it shall be the duty of the Commissioner to calculate the existing value of all outstanding policies of such company; and every such company shall pay, annually, to the Commissioner of Insurance of this Territory, by way of compensation for the valuation of its policies, three cents on every one thousand dollars insured by it on lives.

Life companies not to insure what.

(3177) § 18. No life insurance company organized under the laws of this Territory, shall issue policies insuring fire or marine or accident or live stock risks, nor do any banking business.

Rights of married women, may insure life of husband

(3178) § 19. It shall be lawful for any married woman, by herself, and in her own name, or in the name of any third person, with his assent as her trustee, to cause to be insured, for her sole use, the life of her husband, for any definite period or for the term of his natural life and in case of her surviving such period or term, the sum or net amount of the insurance becoming due and payable by the terms of the insurance, shall be payable to her, to, and for her own use, free from the claims of the representatives of her husband or of any of his creditors: Provided, however, That if the premium of such policy is paid by any person with intent to defraud his creditors, an amount equal to the premium so paid, with interest thereon, shall inure to the benefit of said creditors, subject however, to the statute of limitations. The amount of the insurance may be made payable, in case of the death of the wife, before the period at which it becomes due, to his, or their children, for their use, as shall be provided in the policy of the insurance, and their guardian if under age, and shall be exempt from execution.

Conditional relations between state laws.

(3179) § 20. Whenever the existing or future laws of any other state of the United States shall require of life insurance companies, incorporated by or organized under the laws of this Territory, and having agencies in such other state, or of the agents thereof, any deposits of securities in such state for the protection of policy holders or otherwise, or any payment for taxes, fines penalties, certificates of authority, license fees or otherwise, greater than the amount required for such purposes from similar companies of other states by the then existing laws of this Territory, then, and in every such case, all life insurance companies of such states, establishing or having heretofore established an agency or agencies in this Territory, shall be and are hereby required to make the same deposit for a like purpose, with the Territorial Treasurer of this Territory, and to pay to the Commissioner, for taxes, fines, penalties, certificates of authority, license fees or any other obligations, an amount equal to the amount of such charges and payments imposed by the laws of such other state upon the companies of this Territory and the agents thereof.

Foreign companies, deposit of charter, etc.

(3180) § 21. Every life insurance company, not organized under the laws of this Territory, shall, before doing business in this Territory, deposit with the Commissioner a copy of the charter of the company, and a statement signed and sworn to by the president or vice-president and secretary, in the form prescribed or authorized for the annual statement adapted to the business done by such company.

To exhibit name or style of company, etc.

(3181) § 22. Every person, acting for a life insurance company not incorporated in this Territory, shall exhibit in conspicuous letters, on the sign designating his place of business, the name of the state under whose authority the company he represents has been incorporated; and said company and agents, shall also, have printed in large type the name of said state upon all policies issued to the citizens of this Territory, and on all placards, pamphlets and circulars published, issued or circulated in this Territory, by them or him, relating to the business of said company.

Who are agents for foreign companies

(3182) § 23. Whoever solicits insurance on behalf of any life insurance company, not chartered by, and not established within this Territory, or transmits, for any person other than himself, an application for life insurance, or a policy of life insurance, to or from such company, or advertises that he will receive or transmit the same, shall be held to be an agent of such company to all intents and purposes, and subject to all the duties. requisitions, liabilities and penalties set forth in the laws of this Territory, relating to life insurance companies not incorporated by the Legislature thereof.

Penalty.

(3183) § 24. Any agent making insurance in violation of any law of this Territory regulating life insurance companies, shall forfeit for each offense, a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars

Commissioner's fees.

(3184) § 25. For filing the annual statement required in the office of the Commissioner, if incorporated in this Territory, the said Commissioner shall be paid ten dollars; foreign corporations the sum of fifty dollars; for each agent's certificate of authority two dollars; for every copy of a paper filed in the Commissioner's office, twenty cents per folio, and for affixing the seal of said office to such copy, and certifying the same, one dollar; and for examining the affairs of any company, when deemed necessary, the expenses incurred therein, shall be paid to the said Commissioner by the company: Provided, That forty per cent of all the fees collected by the Commissiouer of insurance under the provisions of this act, shall be credited to said Commissioner, and the remaining sixty per cent be paid into the treasury of the Territory.

Publishing biennial statement.

(3185) § 26. The Commissioner shall, biennially, prepare and print in a single document the information contained in the statements made under this act, and shall communicate the same to the general assembly. He shall also cause the biennial statements required to be filed by this act to be published not less than one week in two daily newspapers of general circulation, published in this Territory.

(3186) § 27. An insurance upon life may be made payable on the death of the person, or on his surviving a specified period, or periodically so long as he shall live, or otherwise contingently on the continuance or determination of life.

Insurance upon life.

(3187) § 28. Every person has an insurable interest in the life and health:

First. Of himself.

Insurance interest.

Second. Of any person on whom he depends wholly or in part for education or support.

Third. Of any person under a legal obligation to him for the payment of money, or respecting property or services, of which death or illness might delay or prevent the performance; and,

Fourth. Of any person upon whose life any estate or interest, vested in him, depends.

(3188) § 29. A policy of insurance upon life or health may pass by transfer, will, or succession, to any peson, whether he has an insurable interest or not, and such person may recover upon it whatever the insured might have recovered.

Assignor of policy of life insurance.

Which oath shall be taken before the same person administering the oath to the judges of election to properly conduct the same It shall be the duty of the county clerk, before said poll pooks are delivered, to estimate the number of jurors that will be required to be drawn from each election precinct to make up the number of three hundred and fifty, in the ratio of that the vote cast in any election precinct at the last general election bears to the whole vote cast in the county, and shall order the judges of election to return that number; if however, the election precincts be changed, then the county clerk shall estimate the number of jurors to be drawn from the precinct newly established as best he can by taking into consideration the Territory embraced and the number of votes cast in the precinct or precincts of which the new precinct formed a part. The clerk shall fill in the blank oath on the poll books the number of jurors so ordered to be drawn from each precinct. When the election is over and the ballots have been counted, the judges of election shall examine the lists of names on the poll books and under their oaths select the number of persons designated by the clerk and possessing the qualifications required by this act to serve as jurors, and shall make a list of the same and shall sign it under their hand and return the same to the county clerk. When all of said jury lists are so received, it shall be the duty of the county clerk to write out all the names so returned on separate slips of paper, and place them in a box with lock and key, and keep the same locked, and from the names so placed in this box, the grand and petit jurors shall be drawn. Within ten days before the sitting of any term of the district or probate court the judges shall certify to the district clerk the number of persons desired for grand or petit jurors or both. Thereupon the clerk of the district court shall summon the sheriff or any of his deputies, and the county clerk, and shall take the box containing the names of the jurors so returned, and thoroughly shake the same, the box shall then be opened in the presence of all three of said officers and placed in such a position that they cannot see into it, and each officer shall then in turn draw a name therefrom and make a record thereof, until the required number of grand and petit jurors are drawn. The names first drawn shall constitute the grand jury and the latter the petit jury for the term to which they are drawn, and each slip containing the name drawn from the box shall be destroyed. If from any cause the judges of election should fail to make returns of jurors from their precinct, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to take the poll books returned from that precinct, and to select the number of persons required to serve as jurors from that precinct, and in making sueh selections shall exercise the same care required herein of judges of elections, and the list so selected by the county commissioners shall be received in lieu of the one required to be made by the judges of election: Provided, however, That no indictment shall be set aside for the reason that such indictment was found by a grand jury drawn from a list containing more or less than three hundred and fifty names: Provided, further, That any person bound to serve as a juror may when voting, notify the judges of election of his exemption, and such person shall not then be returned as a juror. It shall be the duty of the county clerks to prepare and have printed, a sheet containing the law with regard to the qualifications of jurors and the directions to the judges of election as a drawing the same, and have it attached to the face of the poll books before the same are sent from his office to the precincts.

Contempt of court

(3197) § 7. If any person summoned to appear as grand juror or petit juror fails, refuses or neglects to appear, such person shall be considered guiltyof contempt of the court, and may be fined by the court in any sum not less than five nor more than twenty dollars; and if any person, when a second order of attachment is issued, neglects or refuses to appear, such person may be fined as above provided and imprisoned by the court not longer than ten days in the county jail, and if the judges of election or county commissioners of any county wilfully neglect or fail to select and furnish to the clerk names of persons as hereinbefore provided, such person so offending may be fined by the court not less than five nor more than twenty dollars; and if the clerk of the district court, or deputy clerk or sheriff, deputy sheriff or coroner, so neglect or fail to perform the duties imposed by this act, the person so offending shall be considered guilty of contempt of court, and may be fined by the court not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, and if guilty of gross misconduct in office and contempt in disregarding the provisions of this act, may be imprisoned by the court not longer than thirty days in the county jail.

Chap. 45.

Jurors chosen by lot.

(3198) § 8. The clerk of the district court or his deputy, and the sheriff or his deputy, or if there be no sheriff, or in case of his disability or suspension from office, the county clerk or his deputy, shall immediately upon the receipt of the order of directing a jury to be summoned, meet together and draw by lot out of the box or receptacle wherein shall be kept the tickets aforesaid, the number of jurors directeted to be summoned by the judge of the district court. The jurors first drawn, to the number required in the order shall serve as grand jurors, if a grand jury shall be ordered to be summoned, and the remainder drawn in compliance with said order shall serve as petit jurors.

Venire issued.

(3199) § 9. The clerk shall on the day of drawing as herein provided, issue a venire or venires, as the case may be, directed to the proper officer of the county, commanding such officer to summon the persons whose names are drawn to appear before the district court at the hour, day and place designated in the order of the judge. A separate venire shall issue for the grand jury when such jury shall be ordered.

Venire served

(3200) § 10. The officer receiving such venire shall forthwith serve the same by reading or delivering a true copy thereof to each person therein named, or by leaving such a copy at its usual place of residence, such copy need contain only the name of the juror served, and shall make return thereof, with his proceedings endorsed thereon, to the clerk as soon as he has executed the same.

AN ACT to provide for the organization of the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma, defining its powers and duties and declaring the privileges of its member

[Took effect December 25, 1890.]

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma.

(3203) § 1. All legislative power, granted to the Territory of Oklahoma by the laws of the United States, shall be vested in the Governor, and the Legislative Assembly, which shall consist of a Council and House of Representatives. Legislative powers, how vested, which he is chosen. No person previously convicted of a felony shall be eligible to either house.

(3205) § 3. No person shall be a member of the Legislative Assembly who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years; [he must] be a male citizen of the United States. and of the Territory of Oklahoma, and have been an inhabitant of the Territory for at least one year before he is chosen, and shall have resided for the last six months previous to his election in the district from Qualification of members.

Chap. 46.

Who not eligible.

(3206) § 4. No person holding office under the authority of the United States, or any lucrative office under the authority of the Territory, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature, but this prohibition shall not exclude precinct or township officers, or officers of the militia, or notaries public, or United States commissioners. No person interested in a contract with, or holding an unadjusted claim against the Territory, shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislative Assembly. If any member of the Legislative Assembly during his term of office accepts any one of the offices above defined, or becomes interested in any contract or claim as above stated, it shall work a forfeiture of his office as a legislator.

Legislative districts.

(3207) § 5. The districts from which members of the Council and House of Representatives are chosen, shall be as provided by the law on apportionment.

Members, how chosen.

(3208) § 6. The members of both branches of the Legislative Assembly shall be chosen at the general election in one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, and biennially thereafter, and shall hold their respective offices for two years, from January first following their election. If a member fail to qualify without reasonable excuse, or remove from the district for which he was elected, during the term for which he was chosen, it shall work a vacation of his office.

Sessions, regular.

(3209) § 7. The regular session of the Legislative Assembiy, shall commence at two o'clock p. m. on the second Tuesday in January next ensuing the election of members, and shall be holden at the seat of Government, unless in time of pestilence or danger, the Governor shall convene them at some other place.

Assemblies, by whom called together; officers

(3210) § 8. When assembled, the Council and House of Representatives shall be called to order by any person claiming to be a member of that body; when those claiming to be members shall elect a temporary presiding officer, and temporary clerk, whereupon the certificates held by persons claiming to be elected to either body, shall be filed with the temporary clerk, and he shall make a roll therefrom; from the roll so made, a committee of five shall be chosen by ballot, not more than three of whom shall be from the same political party; to whom all certificates shall be submitted, and they shall report to the body the names of the persons appearing to the members; thereupon the Secretary of this Territory, or any judge of the Supreme Court, shall administer to the members so appearing to have been elected the following oath: "You do solemnly swear that you will support the Constitution of the United States and the Organic Act of the Territory of Oklahoma, and that as a member of this House of Representatives (or this Council as the case may be), you will not propose or assent to any bill, vote, or resolution, which shall appear to you iujurious to the people, nor do or consent to any act or thing whatever that will have a tendency to lessen or abridge their rights and privileges as declared by the Constitution of the United States and the Organic Act of this Territory, but will, in all things, conduct yourself as a faithful, honest representative and guardian of the people, according to the best of your judgment and ability. So help you God." Thereupon the respective bodies, shall permanently organize by electing the following officers: In the Council, a president, one chief clerk, one engrossing clerk, who shall also act as enrolling clerk, one sergeant-at-arms, who shall also act as door-keeper, one messenger, one watchman, and one chaplain; in the House of Representatives, a speaker, and one chief clerk, one engrossing clerk, who shall act as enrolling clerk, one sergeant-at-arms, who shall also act as door-keeper, one messenger, one watchman, and one chaplain. Each house may employ such subordinate officers as it may by special act provide, which special act shall expire at the end of each session, unless otherwise expressed in the act; Provided however, That the Council and House shall proceed to elect for their respective houses a president pro tem and speaker pro tem whose actions shall, if the president or speaker be absent or unable to act, have the same validity as those of the president or speaker of the house, as the case may be.

Rules, limit of.

(3211) § 9. When so organized, each house may by rule, provide its methods of procedure, as ordinarily done by legislative bodies, but no rule shall be adopted that will prevent a majority of all the members elected to any house from controlling that body, except as provided in section seventeen of this act.

Contests, how adjusted.

(3212) § 10. If there be contests for seats in either house, the contestants must prepare their cases as provided by law, and file with the clerk their evidence within five days after the House to which they claim to have been elected, is organized, and that body shall consider such contest in preference to all other matter until decided, unless the body by a three-fourths vote, on call of the yeas and nays, order some other matter to be considered, or the time to be extended. Only the one adjudged to be entitled to the seat shall draw the salary allowed to a member, and no member's salary shall be paid to him until after the contest is decided.

Judge of election of members.

(3213) § 11. Each house shall be the sole judge of the election returns and qualification of its members.

Salaries of officers and members

(3214) § 12. The salary of the members and, the officers named in section eight, shall be as provided by the laws of the United States, and shall be paid under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the authority thereof. The salaries of other subordinate officers shall be as provided for by the special act passed at each session, and the presiding officers of each of the houses, shall each month, and at the close of the session, certify to the Auditing Officer of the Territory the names of the employees of their respective houses, the number of days they have each been employed, and the amount due to each of them. Thereupon, such Auditing Officer shall draw his warrant upon the Treasurer of the Territory in the manner and form as provided by law, for the amount so certified to him as being due, and deliver the same to the employee, and retain in his possession the certificate signed by the presiding officer, and file and retain the same. Such warrant shall be paid out of any money in the Territorial treasury not otherwise appropriated.

President and Speaker, tenure of office; other officers.

(3215) § 13. The president of the Council, and speaker of the House of Representatives, shall hold their offices until the first day of January preceding the regular session of the next Legislative Assembly. All other officers elected by either house, shall hold their offices only during the session at which they were chosen: Provided, however, That any officer of any house may be removed by a majority vote of all the members of the house by which he was chosen.

Members not subject to arrest, when.

(3216) § 14. For any speech or debate in either house, the members shall not be questioned elsewhere. No member of the Legislature shall, during any session thereof, or while going to or from the sam, be served with any subpœna or other civil process; nor shall he be bound if served to obey the same; nor shall any civil action pending against him be prosecuted in any manner, nor shall he be arrested for any offense except felony, or breach of the peace committed during the session. The officers elected in either house shall, while holding their offices, be entitled to the same immunities as the members of that body.

Adjournment, how limited

(3217) § 15. When assembled, neither house shall without the consent of the other, adjourn to any other place, nor for a longer period than two days.

House journals to be kept.

(3218) § 16. When so organized each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which shall be published as may be provided by law. No law shall be enacted except by bill, and a majority of all the members elected to each house, voting in the affirmative, shall be necessary to pass any bills or resolutions.

Reading of bills

(3219) § 17. Every bill shall be read on three separate days in each house, the two first readings may be by the title, but the reading of the bill by sections, on its final passage shall in no case be dispensed with: Provided, however, That either house in case of emergency, may by a two-thirds vote of the members present and not less than a majority of all the members elected, (entered on the journal) suspend the operation of this section and at once pass the bill.

Bills shall contain but one subject

(3220) § 18. No bill shall contain more than one subject and matters properly connected with it; which subject shall be clearly expressed in the title.

Amendments and repeal.

(3221) § 19. Bills may be amended or substituted in either house, but no existing law, or any section thereof, shall be amended, unless the bill so amending it shall clearly designate the act or section so amended, and shall contain the entire act or section, as it will read when amended, and the act or section when so amended, shall stand repealed.

Enacting clause.

(3222) § 20. The enacting clause of the bills shall be "Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma."

Vote on final passage

(3223) § 21. The vote on the final passage of any bill or resolution, in either house, shall be by yeas and nays, which shall be entered on the journal. Any other vote taken in either house, shall, on the demand, of any member, be taken by yea and nay, and be entered on the journal.

(3224) § 22. When any bill shall have passed both houses, it shall be signed first, by the President of the Council, and then by the speaker of the House of Representatives, in the presence of the respective houses while in session; each officer, before signing the bill, shall state to the house what bill it is, and make inquiry of the committee on enrolled bills as to the correctness of the bill in the form presented for signature; if assured by members of that committee that they have carefully inspected it, and find that it is correctly enrolled, he shall sign it; if not so assured, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer to at once have the enrolled bill carefully compared and corrected, if errors there be, and to then sign the same. When signed by the president and speaker, the bill shall at once be forwarded from the speaker to the Governor for his action thereon, and shall thereafter be acted upon as provided by the Organic Act of the Territory, and there shall be made in the journal of the House of Representatives, a record showing when each bill was forwarded to the Governor.

Bills, how signed; record of.

(3225) § 23. Each house shall provide for such committees as it shall deem proper for the transaction of its business, and all officers and members of standing committees shall be chosen by vive voce vote of their respective houses, and entered on the journal, and no one shall be declared elected except by a majority of all the votes cast, and all officials shall be required to take and subscribe the same oath as is provided for other civil officers. Neither house shall transact any business other than that of its organization, until its officers are elected and sworn in. Special committees may be elected, or appointed, as the houses may direct.

Committees; officers, how elected.

(3226) § 24. It shall be the duty of the chief clerks, to keep correct journals of the proceedings of their respective houses; to have the custody of all records, accounts, bills and other papers committed to them and at the close of each Legislative Assembly shall correctly classify, label and fold all papers in their possession pertaining to the business of the session and then deposit them for safe keeping with the Secretary of the Territory, and generally perform such duties as shall be assigned to them by their respective houses; the journals of the houses shall be deposited as may be required to permit the printing of the same, until published, when when the original shall be deposited with the Secretary of the Territory. They shall have charge and control of all assistant clerks and engrossing clerks of their respective houses and shall promptly report to their houses any inefficiency, want of attention to duties, ungentlemanly or unladylike conduct on behalf of their subordinates to be dealt with as the house may determine.

Chief clerk's duties.

(3227) § 25. The sergeant-at-arms shall, under the direction of the presiding officers of their respective houses, keep and maintain order, and shall have general control and management of door-keepers, watchmen, messengers and janitors connected with their respective houses,, and shall see that they properly perform their duties, and shall report all delinquencies to their respective houses. They shall serve all subpœnas and warrants of arrest issued by their respective houses, or any committee thereof, in like manner as such writs are served by sheriffs within the Territory; and authority is by this act conferred upon them so to do.

Sergeant-at-arms, duties.

Quorum

(3228) § 26. A majority of all the members elected to each house shall, in their respective houses, constitute a quorum; but a lesser numbermay adjourn from day to day.

Expulsion of members

(3229) § 27. Either house may by a two-thirds vote, expel a member for good cause shown, but no member shall be expelled for any act, not transpiring in the presence of the house, until the same shall have been investigated by the house, when sitting for that purpose. When so sitting the chief officer of the house shall issue subpœnas, and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of any desired paper or record, and on failure to obey any such subpœna, when served as in civil cases, or for refusing to testify fully, the person so subpœnaed shall be adjudged guilty of contempt, and be punished accordingly. No witness shall be excused from answering any question propounded to him which does not tend to criminate him, or from producing any record or paper whatsoever, but the evidence so taken, shall not be used against him in any civil or criminal proceeding. No member shall be twice expelled for the same offense. The expulsion of a member shall create a vacancy, and there shall be elected another member as may be provided by law.

Chairman of investigating committee; powers of.

(3230) § 28. The chairman of any committee of either house to which is intrusted by the house the investigation of any matter, may, in like manner, issue subpœnas, cause them to be served with like force and effect as provided in the last section, and may, in like manner, administer oaths, examine witnesses, and they shall, in like manner, for refusal to obey or testify fully, be, by the house, adjudged guilty and punished for contempt.

Contempt.

(3231) § 29. The following acts shall constitute contempt:

First. Arresting a member or officer of the house, or procuring such member or officer to be arrested in violation of his privileges.

Second. Disorderly conduct in the immediate view of the house, and directly tending to interrupt its proceedings.

Third. Refusing to attend and be examined as a witness, either before the house or a committee, or before any person authorized to take the testimony in legislative proceedings.

Fourth. Giving, or offering a bribe to a member, or of attempting, by menace or other corrupt means or device, directly or indirectly, to control or influence a member in giving his vote, or to prevent his giving the same.

Fifth. Assaulting or threatening to assault a member, or threatening to do any act to the person or property of a member for anything by him said or done in either house as a member thereof.

Sixth. Assaulting or preventing any person going to either house, or its committees by order thereof.

Seventh. Knowingly rescuing or attempting to rescue any person arrested by order of either house.

Eight. Knowingly impeding any officer of either house in the discharge of his duties as such officer.

Ninth. A member in the house refusing to vote when his name is called, unless excused by a majority vote of the house.

Contempt, how tried.

(3232) § 30. Contempt shall be summarily tried by the house against which it is directed, and if the accused be adjudged guilty, there shall be an order to that effect entered upon the journal stating the grounds thereof, and fixing the punishment to be inflicted.

Contempt, punishment for.

(3233) § 31. Punishment for contempt, shall be by fine or imprisonment or both, as the house may direct. Imprisonment shall be effected by a warrant under the hands of the presiding officer of the house ordering it, countersigned by the chief clerk, running in the name of the Territory and directed to the sergeant-at-arms or sheriff or jailor of the proper county. Under such warrant, the proper officer will be authorized to commit and detain the person; but imprisonment for contempt shall not extend beyond the session at which it is ordered, and shall be in the jail of the county in which the Legislative Assembly is then sitting; or if there be no such jail, then in the jail of the next nearest county having a jail. Fines shall be collected by similar warrant directed to any proper officer of any county in which the offender has property, and executed in the same manner as executions issued for fines from courts of record, and the proceeds shall be paid into the Territorial treasury. The sergeant-at-arms, shall see that any one sentenced to imprisonment is duly delivered to the proper jailor: Provided, That a member of the Legislative Assembly shall only be punished by censure or expulsion.

Officers pro-tem

(3234) § 32. In the absence of any officer of either house, or in the event of disability to act, an officer pro tem shall be elected, and when so elected, shall for the time being have all the power of the officer regularly elected.

Witness fees.

(3235) § 33. Witnesses shall be entitled to the same compensation for attendance before either house, or before a committee, as before the district court, but shall not have the right to demand their fees in advance. Such fees shall be paid out of the Territorial treasury. The chief officer of the house calling such witness shall draw an order in his favor and deliver the same to the witness, and on presentation thereof to the auditing officer for the Territory, that officer shall retain and preserve the order, and issue to the witness a warrant on the Territorial Treasurer, which shall be paid as in other cases. All costs of arresting, detaining and caring for prisoners, and subpœnaing witness, shall be paid in the same manner. Such costs, in all cases, shall be the same as allowed by law for like services when performed in the district court.

Construction of "session."

(3236) § 34. The word "session" as applied to the Legislative Assembly, and as used in this chapter shall be held to mean the time between the convening and final adjournment.

Restoration of furniture.

(3237) § 35. At the end of each session, each member shall deposit with the Secretary of the Territory, all books, documents, papers, and other property of the Territory, that may have come to his hauds as a legislator, and shall so deposit them before the last installment of his salary is paid to him, and on a failure so to do, the cost thereof shall be deducted from his salary. All such property of the Territory, shall be delivered to the various members by the Secretary of the Territory, and a receipt taken therefor at the time it is delivered, which receipt shall show the price at which the property is charged to the member. Stationery supplies shall not be so receipted for.

AN ACT to provide additional officers for the Legislative Assembly of Oklahoma Territory. prescribing the duties and fixing the compensation thereof.

[Took effect September 27 1890.]

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma.

Assistant clerks

(3238) § 36. There shall be elected one assistant clerk for each branch of the Legislative Assembly, who shall receive the sum of four dollars per day for services during the session thereof, to be audited and paid out of the Territorial treasury upon an account certified by the respective presiding officers of the two houses of said Assembly. Said clerks so employed under the provisions of this section shall be skilled stenographers and typewriters, and shall be employed first in doing the work of the committees, other than the judiciary and ways and means committees of the respective houses, for which they are appointed and when not thus employed in committee work shall perform such clerical duties about their respective houses as may be ordered by the chief clerk: Provided, however, That in the House of Representatives, such clerk need not be a skilled stenographer, and the duties of such assistants clerk for the House of Representatives shall be to assist the chief clerk and to act as general reading clerk:

First assistant enrolling and engrossing clerks

(3239) § 37. The President of the Council, on behalf of the Council, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, on behalf of the House, are authorized to appoint by and with the advice and consent of their respective houses, when deemed necessary by the Council or House, as the case may be, a first assistant enrolling and engrossing clerk, who shall receive as compensation for his services the sum of four dollars per day for such time as he is actually and neccssarily employed, to be audited and paid out of the Territorial treasury upon allowance of their account by the said President and Speaker respectively.

Additional enrolling and engrossing clerks

(3240) § 38. The President of the Council, also the Speaker of the House, are each hereby authorized to employ for their respective bodies, such additional engrossing and enrolling clerks for both branches of the Legislature as are in their judgment deemed necessary for a proper fulfillment of the duties required of the committees of each house, and there is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury a sum of money sufficient to cover the expenses of such additional service.

Sergeants-at-arms.

(3241) § 39. The President of the Council when deemed necessary by the Council, shall appoint one assistant sergeant-at-arms for that body; and the Speaker of the House, when deemed necessary by the House, shall appoint an assistant sergeant-at-arms for that body. The assistant sergeants-at-arms shall receive compensation for such time as they are necessarily employed. They shall discharge the several duties of the sergeant-at-arms in case of his absence or inability to serve, and shall receive as compensation four dollars per day to be paid out of the Territorial treasury.

Committee clerks.

(3242) § 40. There shall be appointed by the chairman of the judiciary committee of each house, one clerk for each of their respective committees, and by the chairman of the ways and means committee of each house, by and with the consent of their respective houses, one clerk for each of their respective committees. Each of said clerks shall be a skilled stenographer and type-writer. whose duty shall be to act as clerk of the committee for which he is appointed. The per diem of such elerks shall be four dollars to be paid out of the Territorial treasury upon an account certified by the chairman of each of said committees, respectively, which account shall be reported to the Council or House, as the case may be, and said accounts, if shown to be correct, shall be approved by the Speaker for clerks for the House committees, and by the President of the Council for clerks of the Council committees, the chairman of each of said committees may discharge the clerks of his committee for inefficiency, inattention to business or ungentlemanly or unlady-like conduct, and may appoint another in their place. If in the judgment of the Council or House, stenographers be not needed, other parties may be employed.

Additional committee clerks

(3243) § 41. The House of Representatives and Council may each provide such additional committee clerks by resolution as may be deemed necessary.

Door keepers

(3244) § 42. There shall be appointed by the President of the Council, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, respectively, one door keeper who shall receive as his compensation the sum of three dollars and fifty cents per day.

Janitors.

(3245) § 43. There shall be appointed by the President of the Council, and Speaker of the House of Representatives, respectively, one janitor who shall receive a compensation of two dollars and fifty cents per day.

AN ACT to regulate the traffic in Intoxicating Liquors.

[Took effect Demceber 25, 1890.]

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Petition to county commissioners.

(3251) § 1. The board of county commissioners of each county shall grant license for the sale of malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, upon the application by petition of thirty of the resident tax payers of the town, if the county is under township organization, and if not under township organization, when thirty of the resident tax payers of the precinct where the sale of such liquors is proposed to take place, setting forth the applicant is a man of respectable character and standing and a resident of this Territory, and praying that license may be issued to him. Such application to be filed in the office of the county clerk and upon the payment into the county treasury, the sum of two hundred dollars for each license, upon the compliance with the provisions of this act.

Notice of application.

(3252) § 2. No action shall be taken upon said application until at least two weeks notice of the filing of the same has been given by publication in two newspapers published in said county, having the largest circulation therein or if no newspaper is published in said county by posting written or printed notices of said application in five of the most public places in the town, precinct, village or city, in which the business is to be conducted, when, if there be no objections in writing made and filed to the issuance of said licence, and the county board is in session and all other provisions of this act have been fully complied with, it shall be granted.

Chap. 48.

Remonstrance.

(3253) § 3. If there be any objection, protest or remonstrance filed in the office where the application is made against the issuance of said license, the county board shall appoint a day for hearing of said case and if it shall be satisfactorily proven that the applicant for license has been guilty of the violation of any of the provisions of this act within the space of one year or if any former license shall have been revoked for any misdemeanor against the laws of this Territory, then the board shall refuse to issue such license.

Hearing, appeal.

(3254 § 4. On the hearing of any cause arising under the provisions of the last two sections, any party interested shall have process to compel the attendance of witnesses who shall have the same compensation as now provided by law in the district court to be paid by the party calling said witnesses. The testimony on said hearing shall be reduced to writing and filed in the office of the county clerk and if any party feels himself aggrieved by the decision in said case he may appeal therefrom to the district court and said testimony shall be transmitted to said district court and such appeal shall be decided by the judge of such court upon said evidence alone.

License, form.

(3255) § 5. The license shall state the time for which it is granted, which shall not exceed one year, the place where the liquor is to be sold, and shall not be transferable; and any license granted under this chapter may be revoked by the authority issuing the same whenever the person licensed shall, upon due proof made, be convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act. The license be in the following form as near as practicable:

TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA, }

Clerk.

Bond.

(3256) § 6. No person shall be licensed to sell malt, spirituous or vinous liquors by any county board or the authorities of any city or village unless he shall first give bond in the penal sum of two thousand dollars payable to the Territory of Oklahoma, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, freeholders of the county, in which the license is to be granted, to be approved by the board who may be authorized to issue the license conditioned that he will not violate any of the provisions of this act; and that he will pay all damages, fines and penalties and forfeitures which may be adjudged against him under the provisions of this act. The board taking such bond shall examine any person offered as security upon any such bond, under oath, and require him to subscribe and swear to his statement in regard to his pecuniary ability to become such security. Any bond taken pursuant to this section may be sued upon for the use of any person or his legal representatives who may be injured by reason of the selling, or giving away any intoxicating liquors by the person licensed or by his agent or servant.

Surety

(3257) § 7. No person who is holden as the principal or surety upon any bond given under the provisions of the preceding section shall be permitted to become a surety upon any other bond of like characaer.

Selling to minors, etc.

(3258) § 8. Every person licensed as herein provided, who shall give or sell any malt, spirituous, vinous liquors or any intoxicating drinks to any minor, apprentice or servant under twenty-one years of age, shall forfeit and pay for each offense the sum of twenty-five dollars.

Misrepresenting age.

(3259) § 9. Any minor, apprentice, or servant, who shall for the purpose of evading the provisions of the preceding section, falsely represent his age, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined for each and every offense, not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

Selling to insane or drunkard.

(3260) § 10. Every person so licensed who shall sell any intoxicating liquors to any infirm, insane person or idiot or habitual drunkard, shall forfeit and pay for each offense the sum of fifty dollars.

Disposing without license.

(3261) § 11. Any person who shall sell at retail or give away upon any pretext, malt, spirituous, or vinous liquors, or any intoxicating drinks without having first complied with the provisions of this act, and obtained a license as herein set forth, shall for each offense be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not to exceed one month in the county jail and shall be liable in all respects to the public and to individuals, the same as he would have been had he given bonds and obtained license as herein provided: Provided, That any person or persons shall be allowed to sell wine made from grapes grown or raised by said person or persons, on land belonging to or occupied by said person or persons in the Territory of Oklahoma, the same to be sold in quantities not less than one gallon, without procuring the license provided for in this chapter.

Hearing before magistrate.

(3262) § 12. The magistrate before whom any complaint is made of a violation of the provisions of the preceding section, shall issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender and if upon examination the magistrate shall have reason to believe the party guilty, he shall recognize him to appear at the next term of the district court as in the case of felony.

Disposing adulterated liquors.

(3263) § 13. Every person so licensed, or any other person, who shall intentionally or otherwise sell or give away, or direct or permit any person or persons in his employ to sell or give away, any malt, spiritous or vinous liquors which shall be adulterated with strychnine, strontia, sugar of lead, or any other substance shall forfeit and pay the sum of one hundred dollars for every such offense. An analysis made by a practicical chemist shall be deemed competent testimony under the provisions of this section:

Chap. 48.

Election days; Sundays

(3264) § 14. Every person who shall sell or give away any malt, spirituous, and vinous liquors on the day of any special or general election or at any time during the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or who shall keep an open saloon after midnight, or open same before five o'clock in the morning shall forfeit and pay for every such offense the sum of one hundred dollars.

Suits by married woman or others.

(3265) § 15. Any wife, mother, father, son or daughter, of a person who is in the habit of getting intoxicated, may make complaint to any justice of the peace of the county where such person resides or may be staying, alleging the name or names of the person or persons from whom such person having such habit obtained his liquor as such relative believes; and thereupon said justice of the peace shall without charge thereof issue a notice in writing to such person or persons so named notifying him or them that no intoxicating liquors of any kind must be sold or given away by him or them at his or their places of business to such person having such habit, and which notice must be at once served upon such person or persons in the same manner as summons are served in justice's courts, and after the service of such notice if any person or persons so notified shall sell, give away, or permit any person at his place of business to sell or give away any intoxicating liquors to such person about whom he or they have received notice as aforesaid his license to sell liquor shall from that time be deemed and held to be cancelled and annulled; and said persons so selling or giving away shall be fined in the sum not less than one hundred dollars and not more than five hundred dollars, and be liable in a civil action at the suit or such relative to pay him, her, or them, the sum of five hundred dollars damages for each offense and no property of any kind shall be exempt from payment of such fine or damages, except property absolutely exempted.

Maintenance of intemperate paupers.

(3266) § 16. When any person shall become a county or city charge by reason of intemperance a suit may be instituted by the proper authorities on the bond of any person licensed under this act, who may have been in the habit of selling or giving away intoxicating liquors to the person so becoming a public charge: Provided, That the person against whom a judgment may be rendered under the provisions hereof may recover by a similar action a proportionate part of said judgment from any and all persons engaged in said traffic, who have sold or given liquor to such persons becoming a public charge or to any person committing an offense.

Trial, evidence.

(3267) § 17. On trial of any suit under the provisions hereof the cause or foundation of which shall be the acts done or injuries inflicted by a person under the influence of liquor, it shall only be necessary to sustain the action to prove that the defendant or defendants sold or gave liquor to the person so intoxicated or under the influence of liquor whose acts or injuries are complained of on that day or about that time when said acts were committed or said injuries received; and in an action for damages brought by a married woman or other person whose support legally devolves upon a person disqualified by intemperance from earning the same, it shall only be necessary to prove that the defendant has given or sold intoxicating drinks to such person during the period of such disqualification.

Suits, jurisdiction.

(3268) § 18. All suits for damages and expenses arising under this act may be commenced and prosecuted before a justice of the peace where the damages claimed do not exceed the jurisdiction of said justice, although the penalty in the bond may exceed that amount, and the judgment shall be for the damages proved.

Penalty, complaint for unlawful sale.

(3269) § 19. Hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person to keep for the purpose of sale at retail without license any malt, spirituous or vinous liquors in the Territory of Oklahoma, and any person or persons who shall be found in possession of any intoxicating liquors in this Territory with the intention of disposing of same, without license in violation of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned as provided in section eleven of this act. If any credible resident freeholder of any county in this Territory shall before any police judge, district judge or justice of the peace make complaint and information in writing and on oath that he has reason to believe and does believe that any intoxicating liquor describing it as particularly as may be in said complaint is in said county, in any place described as nearly as may be in said complaint, owned or kept by any person named or described in said information as particularly as may be, and is intended to be or is being, by the person named or described in said complaint, sold without license in violation of this act, said magistrate shall, upon filing said complaint and believing there is probable cause therefor issue his warrant for the search of the premises described in said complaint and the arrest of the person therein named or described as the case may be, naming and describing the liquors, person, and premises as in the complaint, which warrant shall be directed to the sheriff, city or villlage marshal or constable as the complaint may request and said warrant shall further command the officer that if after a thorough and diligent search of said premises liquor be found he shall seize the same with the vessels containing it and keep the same securely until final action be had thereon; and immediately arrest the person named or described in said warrant, or the person in charge of the said liquors and bring him before the said magistate for examination, and the possession of any of said liquors shall be presumptive evidence of a violation of this act, and subject a person to the fine prescribed in section eleven, unless after examination he shall satisfactorily account for and explain the possession thereof and that it was not kept for an unlawful purpose. Where any liquor shall have been seized by virtue of any such warrant, the same shall not be discharged or returned to any person claiming the same by reason of an alleged insufficiency of the description in the eomplaint or warrant; or of the liquor or places, but the claimant shall be entitled to an early and speedy hearing on the merits of the case: Provided, That, in case the place described in said complaint and to be searched in the residence of the person named or described in said complaint or any other person, then and in that case, the warrant shall not issue unless the complaint shall state that within thirty days immediately preceding the filing thereof, that liquor, describing it, has been sold therein in violation of this act.

Trial, destruction.

(3270) § 20. If upon said examination the magistrate hearing the same shall be satisfied that the person named or described in the complaint or found in the possession of said liquors, and premises described therein and had been selling liquor without license in violation of this act, or had said liquors so seized in his or her possession with intent to dispose of the same in violation of this act, said magistrate shall hold said person so arrested for trial at the next term of the district court, and shall order the liquors so seized destroyed by the offender having them in charge: Provided, The defendant may appeal from said order to the district court in which case the liquors shall abide the result of the trial of the defendant in the district court, and if there convicted he shall be fined or imprisoned as in this act, provided in the discretion of the court and the court shall further order said liquors destroyed as if the appeal herein provided for had not been taken.

Punishment, cost; disposal of liquors.

(3271) § 21. In case the defendant is acquitted he shall be discharged and the liquors returned, but if found guilty in addition to the payment of a fine he shall pay all costs of prosecution, including a reasonable attorney's fee to the prosecuting attorney in case the county attorney does not prosecute, to be determined by the court, in no case less than twenty-five dollars, which shall be taxed in the costs and recovered as other costs. If the defendant be discharged the costs shall be paid by the complaining witness unless the court shall sustain the finding that there was probable cause for the complaint. If no one is found in the possession of said premises, where said liquors may be found, the officer taking the same shall post in a conspicuous place on said building or premises a copy of his warrant and take possession of said liquors and the vessels containing the same, and hold them subject to the order of the magistrate and make return of his doings to the magistrate issuing the warrant. Whereupon it shall be the duty of the magistrate to fix a time for the hearing of the question for the purpose for which said liquors were kept and issue a notice thereof on the building or premises where the liquors were found: Provided, That the day so fixed shall not be less than five nor more than ten days from the date of the issuance of said notice. If at the time fixed for said hearing no persons appear, or if any person does appear after a hearing the magistrate shall be satisfied that said liquors were being kept or sold or with the intention and for the purpose of being sold in violation of this act, the magistrate shall order the same destroyed, and in case there is no appearance by the one claiming to be the owner of said liquors the costs shall be paid by the county in which the complaint is brought. For cases where the defendant is acquitted, and if any one appears and resists the complaint, he shall be adjudged to pay the costs if the liquor be ordered destroyed: Provided, The possession of said liquors is not found to be for an unlawful purpose the magistrate shall order them returned to the place where seized.

Fines, payment of.

(3272) § 22. All fines and penalties recovered under the provisions of this act shall, when collected, be paid into the proper treasury for the use of the school fund.

Gambling prohibited.

(3273) § 23. It shall be unlawful for any dealer in intoxicating liquors in this Territory, to have, or permit, any gambling, game of chance, or gambling carried on, or to have or keep any gambling table, billiard or pool table, or gaming device of any kind in the room where liquors are sold, and on conviction of same shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor and fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

License in cities

(3274) § 24. It shall be competent and lawful for any incorporated village or city within the county where such bond is filed and license granted to prohibit the party so licensed as well as others from engaging in the business of selling intoxicating liquors at retail within the corporate limits or within two miles thereof until he shall obtain from the village, town or city authorities a license, and pay into the village, town or city treasury such sum as may be fixed by ordinance to be not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars: Provided, That no additional bond shall be required nor shall any license be granted by authorities of any such village, town or city, to any one who has not filed the required bond with the board of county commissioners and obtained from such board a license: And provided further, That no license granted by any such incorporated village, town or city shall run for a longer period than the license granted by such board; and the revocation of the county license by the board of county commissioners shall work a revocation of any license granted under the provisions of this section.

Saloons open to view

(3275) § 25. It shall be the duty of all vendors of malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, under the provisions of this act to keep the windows and doors of their respective places of business unobstructed by screens, blinds, paint or other articles, and any person offending against the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than ten days or both at the discretion of the court, and shall have his license revoked by the same authority granting the same.

Sale prohibited in certain cases.

(3276) § 26. That no person shall sell, or expose for sale, give, barter or otherwise dispose of in any way or at any place any spirituous or other liquors or any article of traffic whatever, at or within the distance of three miles from the place where any religious society or assemblage of people are collecting or collected together for religious worship in any field or woodland: Provided, That nothing in this act shall effect tavern keepers from exercising their calling nor distillers, manufacturers or others in prosecuting their regular trades at their places of business, or any person disposing of any ordinary articles of provisions, excepting spirituous liquors at their residences, or any person having a written permit from the trustees or managers of any such religious society or assemblage, to sell provisions for the supply of persons attending such religious worship, their horses or cattle, such persons acting in conformity to the regulations of said religious assembly and the laws of the Territory.

Chap. 48.

Penalty.

(3277) § 27. That any person found guilty of committing a breach of the provisions of this act shall forfeit and pay for every such offense the penalty provided therefor and where no penalty is provided a fine not less than twenty nor more than five hundred dollars into the county treasury of the county within which offense was committed for the use of the common schools in said county, and any district judge, sheriff, coroner, or justice of the peace shall upon view or information and with or without warrant apprehend any person or persons so offending and seize all such liquors and other articles of traffic and the utensils or furniture containing them and convey them before a justice of the peace or the district judge within the county in which crime or offense may be committed, and the said district judge or justice of the peace upon complaint under oath or affirmation of said officer apprehending such offender or any person giving information shall issue his warrant of arrest which shall be formally served by the proper officer and proceed to inquire into the truth of such accusation, and, if found true, shall proceed to bind such offender or offenders in an amount not exceeding five hundred dollars as he shall deem proper to answer at the next regular term of the district court in and for the county in which such offense shall have been committed, to be proceeded with by indictment, the fine and costs to be allotted as in other criminal cases.

When prosecuting witness to pay costs.

(3278) § 28. That in any prosecution against any person orpersons for a violation of the provisions of this act if the defendant or defendants shall be acquitted he or they shall recover of the person or persons filing the complaint double the amount of his or their costs which said judge or justice shall award.

Duties of officers

(3279) § 29. It shall be the duty of all constables, sheriffs, police officers, and county attorneys to enforce the provisions of this act and to bring civil actions and to file informations for any and all violations of each and every provision thereof of which he has or can obtain legal advice. If any such officer fail so to do he he shall be removed from his office.

Complaint to remove officer.

(3280) § 30. For the purpose of such removal any resident of the county may if the officer be a county officer file complaint before the district court and if he be a city officer, before the city council, and on such information the evidence shall be heard and if it be made to appear that such officer knew of the violations of this act and that he failed to prosecute the same there shall be entered an order removing him from office and the office shall be vacant.

Vacancy, how filled

(3281) § 31. If the office so vacated be a county office the board of county commissioners shall proceed at once to fill the same by appointment and if it be a village or city office the vacancy shall be filled as provided by the ordinance of such village or city.

Wholesalers.

(3282) § 32. That all persons selling liquors at wholesale shall be subject to all the provisions of this act except that they shall be required to pay in each county within the Territory where they so wholesale liquous a license fee of twenty-five dollars per annum or for any part of the year they may so sell and no more, and shall not be required to pay the license fee hereinbefore mentioned. And no wholesale dealer shall engage in the retailing of liquor.

Penalty for violation.

(3283) § 33. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction shalt be sentenced to pay a fine not less than one hundred, nor more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

44. Stoppage effected, how, effect of.

Lien defined.

(3289) § 1. A lien is a charge imposed upon specific property, by which it is made security for the performance of an act.

Classes of liens

(3290) § 2. Liens are either general or special.

General lien.

(3291) § 3. A general lien is one which the holder thereof is entitled to enforce as a security for the performance of all the obligations, or all of a particular class of obligations, which exist in his favor against the owner of the property.

Special lien prior lien

(3292) § 4. A special lien is one which the holder thereof can enforce only as a security for the performance of a particular act or obligation, and of such obligations as may be incidental thereto. Where the holder of a special lien is compelled to satisfy a prior lien for his own protection, he may enforce payment of the amount so paid by him, as a part of the claim for which his own lien exists.

What law applies to.

(3293) § 5. Contracts of mortgage, pledge, bottomry, or respondentia, are subject to all the provisions of this chapter.

Lien created, how

(3294) § 6. A lien is created:

First. By contract of the parties; or,

Second. By operation of law.

Lien created by law.

(3295) § 7. No lien arises by mere operation of law and until the time at which the act to be secured thereby ought to be performed.

Lien on future interest

(3296) § 8. An agreement may be made to create a lien upon property not yet acquired by the party agreeing to give the lien, or not yet in existence. In such case the lien agreed for attaches from the time when the party agreeing to give it acquires an interest in the thing to the extent of such interest.

Lien to take immediate effect

(3297) § 9. A lien may be created by contract, to take immediate effect, as security for the performance of obligations not then in existence.

Lien transfers no title.

(3298) § 10. Notwithstanding an agreement to the contrary; a lien or a contract for a lien transfers no title to the property subject to the lien.

Contracts for forfeiture of property subject to lien are void

(3299) § 11. All contracts for the forfeiture of property subject to a lien, in satisfaction of the obligation secured thereby, and all contracts in restraint of the right of redemption from a lien, are void, except in the case specified in section 2761.

Lien does not imply obligation

(3300) § 12. The creation of a lien does not of itself imply that any person is bound to perform the act for which the lien is a security.

Extent of lien limited.

(3301) § 13. The existence of a lien upon property does not of itself entitle the person, in whose favor it exists, to a lien upon the same property for the performance of any other obligation than that which the lien originally secured.

Holder of lien not entitled to compensation.

(3302) § 14. One who holds property by virtue of a lien thereon, is not entitled to compensation from the owner thereof for any trouble or expense which he incurs respecting it, except to the same extent as a borrower, under sections 2772 and 2773.

Priority of liens according to date

(3303) § 15. Other things being equal, different liens upon the same property have priority according to the time of their creation, except in cases of bottomry and respondentia.

Lien for purchase price has priority over all others

(3304) § 16. A mortgage given for the price of real property, at the time of its conveyance, has priority over all other liens created against the purchaser, subject to the operation of the recording laws.

Order of resort for payment of prior liens.

(3305) § 17. Where one has a lien upon several things, and other persons have subordinate liens upon, or interests in, some but not all of the same things, the person having the prior lien, if he can do so without the risk of loss to himself, or injustice to other persons, must resort to the property in the following order. on the demand of any party interested:

First. To the things upon which he has an exclusive lien.

Second. To the things which are subject to the fewest subordinate liens.

Third. In like manner inversely to the number of subordinate liens upon the same thing; and,

Fourth. When several things are within one of the forgoing classes, and subject to the same number of liens, resort must be had:

(a) To the things which have not been transferred since the prior lien was created.

(b) To the things which have been so transferred without a valuable consideration; and,

(c) To the things which have been so transferred for a valuable consideration.

Every person having interest may redeem lien.

(3306) § 18. Every person having an interest in property subject to a lien, has a right to redeem it from the lien, at any time after the claim is due, and before his right of redemption is foreclosed.

Holder of inferior lien may redeem.

(3307) § 19. One who has a lien, inferior to another upon the same property, has a right:

First. To redeem the property in the same manner as its owner might, from the superior lien; and,

Second. To be subrogated to all the benefits of the superior lien when necessary for the protection of his interests, upon satisfying the claim secured thereby.

Redemption, how made.

(3308) § 20. Redemption from a lien is made by performing, or offering to perform, the act for the performance of which it is a security, and paying, or offering to pay, the damages, if any, to which the holder of the lien is entitled for delay.

Lien is an accessory obligation

(3309) § 21. A lien is to be deemed accessory to the act for the performance of which it is a security, whether any person is bound for such performance or not, and is extinguishable in like manner with any other accessory obligation.

Sale of property by holder of lien extinguishes lien.

(3310) § 22. The sale of any property on which there is a lien, in satisfaction of the claim secured thereby, or, in case of personal property, its wrongful conversion by the person holding the lien, extinguishes the lien thereon.

Not extinguished by mere lapse of time.

(3311) § 23. A lien is extinguished by the mere lapse of the time within which, under the provisionsof civil procedure, an action can be brought upon the principal obligation.

Partial performance does not extinguish part of lien.

(3312) § 24. The partial performance of an act secured by a lien does not extinguish the lien upon any part of the property subject thereto, even if it is divisible.

Voluntary restoration extinguishes lien.

(3313) § 25. The voluntary restoration of property to its owner, by the holder of a lien thereon, dependent upon possession, extinguishes the lien as to such property, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, and extinguishes it, notwithstanding any such agreement, as to creditors of the owner and persons subsequently acquiring title to the property, or a lien thereon, in good faith and for a good consideration.

Lien for price of realty.

(3314) § 26. One who sells real property has a special or vendor's lien thereon, independent of possession, for so much of the price as remains unpaid, and unsecured otherwise than by the personal obligation of the buyer.

Lien may be waived

(3315) § 27. Where the buyer of real property gives to the seller a written contract for payment of all or part of the price, an absolute transfer of such contract by the seller, waives his lien to the extent of the sum payable under the contract, but a transfer of such contract in trust to pay debts, and return the surplus, is not a waiver of the lien.

Certain liens declared valid.

(3316) § 28. The liens defined in sections 3314 and 3318 are valid against every one claiming under the debtor, except a purchaser or incumbrancer in good faith, and for value.

Special lien on personal property; same as pledge.

(3317) § 29. One who sells personal property has a special lien thereon, dependent on possession for its price, if it is in his possession when the price becomes payable; and may enforce his lien in like manner as if the property was pledged to him for the price.

Lien of purchaser of real property.

(3318) § 30. One who pays to the owner any part of the price of real property, under an agreement for the sale thereof, has a special lien upon the property, independent of possession, for such part of the amount paid as he may be entitled to recover back in case of a failure of consideration.

Lien for services rendered

(3319) § 31. Every person who, while lawfully in possession of an article of personal property, renders any service to the owner thereof by labor or skill employed for the protection, improvement, safe-keeping or carriage thereof, has a special lien thereon, dependent on posession, for the compensation, if any, which is due to him from the owner for such service.

Lien of factor upon articles intrusted to him.

(3320) § 32. A factor has a general lien, dependent on possession, for all that is due to him as such, upon all articles of commercial value that are intrusted to him by the same principal.

Banker has lien.

(3321) § 33. A banker has a general lien, dependent on possession, upon all property in his hands belonging to a customer, for the balance due to him from such customer in the course of the business.

Shipmaster has lien.

(3322) § 34. The master of a ship has a general lien, independent of posession, upon the ship and freightage, for advances necessarily made, or liabilities necessarily incurred by him for the benefit of the ship, but has no lien for his wages.

Mate and seamen have lien for wages.

(3323) § 35. The mate and seamen of a ship have a general lien, independent of posession, upon the ship and freightage for their wages, which is superior to every other lien.

Officer has lien for services

(3324) § 36. An officer, who levies an attachment or execution upon personal property, acquires a special lien, dependent on possession, upon such property, which authorizes him to hold it until the process is discharged or satisfied, or a judicial sale of the property is had.

Other liens Judgment liens.

(3325) § 37. Inn-keepers, boarding-house keepers, attorneys at law, and others, have liens which are defined and regulated.

(3326) § 38. The lien of a judgment is regulated by civil procedure.

Mechanic's liens on real property.

(3327) § 39. The liens of mechanics, for materials and services upon real property, are regulated by civil procedure.

Mechanics lien on personal property.

(3328) § 40. A person who makes, alters. or repairs any article of personal property, at the request of the owner or legal possessor of the property, has a lien on the same for his reasonable charges for work done and materials furnished, and may retain possession of the same until the charges are paid. If not paid within two months after the work is done, the person may proceed to sell the property at public auction, by giving ten days public notice of the sale by advertising in some newspaper published in the county in which the work was done; or, if there be no newspaper published in the county, then by posting up notices of the sale in three of the most public places in the town where the work was done, for ten days previous to the sale. The proceeds of the sale must be applied to the discharge of the lien, and the cost of keeping and selling the property the remainder, if any, must be paid over to the owner thereof.

Seller or consignor may stop property in transit.

(3329) § 41. A seller or consignor of property, whose claim for its price or proceeds has not been extinguished, may, upon the insolvency of the buyer or consignee becoming known to him after parting with the property, stop it while on its transit to the buyer or consignee, and resume possession thereof.

Insolvency defined.

(3330) § 42. A person is insolvent, within the meaning of the last section, when he ceases to pay his debts in the manner usual with persons of his business, or when he declares his inability or unwillingless to do so.

Transit ends, when.

(3331) § 43. The transit of property is at an end when it comes into the possession of the consignee, or into that of his agent, unless such agent is employed merely to forward the property to the consignee.

Stoppage in transit effected, how.

(3332) § 44. Stoppage in transit can be effected only by notice to the carrier or depositary of the property, or by taking actual possession thereof. Stoppage in transit does not of itself rescind a sale, but is a means of enforcing the lien of the seller.

17. Satisfaction of liens to be registered.
18. Sub-contractor defined.

Collateral security voids mechanic's lien

(3333) § 1. No person is entitled to a mechanic's lien who takes collateral security on the same contract.

Who may have mechanic's lien, and for what.

(3334) § 2. Every mechanic, or other person who shall do any labor upon, or furnish any materials, machinery or fixtures for any building, erection or other improvements upon land, including those engaged in the construction or repair of any work of internal improvement, by virtue of any contract with the owner, his agent, trustee, contractor or sub-contractor, upon complying with the provisions of this article, shall have for his labor done, or materials, machinery, or fixtures furnished, a lien upon such building, erection or improvement, and upon the land belonging to such owner, on which the same is situated, to secure the payment of such labor done, or materials, machinery, or fixtures furnished: Provided, That the provisions of this section and article, shall not be construed to apply to claims or contracts for furnishing lightning rods or any of their improvement.

Sub-contractor must file his lien within sixty days.

(3335) § 3. Every sub-contractor wishing to avail himself of the benefits of this article, shall, within sixty days after the material shall have been furnished or labor performed, file with the clerk of the district court of the county or judicial sub-division in which the building, erection or other improvement to be charged with the lien is situated, a just and true account of the demand due him after allowing all credits, and containing a correct description of the property to be charged with said lien, and verified by his affidavit. But a failure to file the same within the time aforesaid shall not defeat the lien except as against purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith and without notice whose rights accrued after the sixty days, and before any claim for the lien was filed, or against the owners, except the amount due to contractor at the time of filing the same.

In the case of railway companies or contractors.

(3336) § 4. Every railway owner, company, or contractor, and sub-connractor upon any railway, shall be deemed to have the notice provided for by the preceding section for a period of sixty days from the last day of the month in which such labor was done, or material furnished, during which period any person who has performed such labor or furnished such material, may file a lien with the clerk of the district court as provided in the preceding section, which lien shall be binding upon the erection, excavation, embankment, bridge, road bed, or right of way, and upon all land upon which the same may be situated, to the full value of such labor or material, in the county or judicial subdivision in which the same is filed. In case the lien is sought to be enforced against the owner, the liability shall not be greater than his liability would have been to the owner at the time the labor was performed or material furnished; but the liability of the owner in case actual notice shall be given after the sixty days, shall be the same as provided in this article.

Sub-contractor's lien within six months; statement and affidavit.

(3337 § 5. Every sub-contractor may, at any time within six months after his labor is performed or materials furnished, make a statement thereof in writing, supported by affidavit, that the same is just and true, and file the same with the clerk of the district court of the proper county or judicial sub-division, and give notice thereof, with a copy of such statement to the owner, his agent or trustee, and to the contractor; and from and after the service of such notice, his lien therefor, shall have the same force and effect, and be prosecuted in like manner as a lien by the contractor, but shall be enforced against the property only to the extent of the balance due to the contractor at the time of the service of such notice upon the owner, his agent or trustee.

If settlement with contractor is refused.

(3338) § 6. In case the contractor shall refuse to make and sign such settlement, then the sub-contractor may make a just and true statement of the labor done, or things furnished, giving all credits, which he shall present to the owner, his agent or trustee, and shall also within said thirty days file a copy of the same, verified by affidavit, with the clerk of the district court of the county or judicial sub-division in which the building, erection or other improvement is situated, together with a correct discription of the property to be charged with the lien.

Certificate of settlement or statement of sub-contractor.

(3339) § 7. The certificate of settlement or statement of the sub-contractor, shall be a justification to the owner in withholding from the contractor the amount appearing thereby to be due the sub-contractor until the same has been paid, and the owner shall become the surety of the contractor to the sub-contractor for the amount due to the extent before provided.

Notices served, by whom.

(3340) § 8. The notices mentioned in this article may be served by any sheriff or constable, and the return thereon shall be received in evidence without further proof.

Liens of other persons.

(3341) § 9. Every person, except as has been provided for sub-contractors, who wishes to avail himself of the provisions of this article, may file with the clerk of the district court of the county or judicial subdivision in which the building, erection or other improvement to be charged with the lien is situated, and within ninety days after all the things aforesaid shall have been furnished or the labor done, a just and true account of the demand due him after allowing all credits, and containing a correct description of the property to be charged with said lien, and verified by affidavit; but a failure to file the same within the time aforesaid shall not defeat the lien, except against purchasers, or incumbrancers in good faith, without notice, whose rights, accrued after the ninety days and before any claim for the lien was filed.

Clerk's record of liens.

(3342) § 10. The clerk of the district court shall endorse upon every account of the date of its filing, and make an abstract thereof in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, and properly indorsed, containing the date of its filing, the name of the person filing the lien, the amount of said lien, the name of the person against whose property the lien is filed, and a description of the property to be charged with the same.

Priority of liens.

(3343) § 11. The liens for labor done or things furnished shall have priority in the order of the filing of the accounts thereof, as aforesaid, and shall be preferred to all other liens and incumbrances which may be attached to or upon said building, erection or other improvement, and to the land on which the same is situated, or either of them, made subsequent to the commencement of said building, erection or other improvement.

Lands subject to the liens.

(3344) § 12. The entire land upon which any such building, erection or other improvement is situated, including that portion of the same not covered therewith, shall be subject to all liens created by this article, to the extent of all the right, title and interest owned therein by the owner thereof, for whose immediate use or benefit such labor was done or things furnished, and when the interest owned in said land by such owner of such building, erection or other improvement, is only a leasehold interest, the forfeiture of such lease for the non-payment of rent, or for non-compliance with any of the other stipulations therein, shall not forfeit or impair such liens so far as it concerns such buildings, erections and improvements, but the same may be sold to satisfy said lien, and be removed within thirty days after the sale thereof by the purchaser.

Lien superior to mortgage, when.

(3345) § 13. The lien for the things aforesaid, or work, shall attach to the buildings, erections or improvements, for which they were furnished or done, in preference to any prior lien or incumbrance, or mortgage upon the land upon which the same is erected or put, and any person enforcing such lien, may have such building, erection or other improvememt, sold under execution, and the purchaser may remove the same within a reasonable time thereafter.

Action may be brought to enforce lien.

(3346) § 14. Any person having a lien by virtue of this article may bring an action to enforce the same in the district court of the county or judicial subdivision where the property is situated, and any number of persons claiming liens against the same property may join in the same action, and when separate actions are commenced the court may consolidate them. The court may also allow as part of the costs the money paid for filing each lien and the sum of five dollars for drawing the same.

Demand upon lienor to commence action.

(3347) § 15. Upon the written demand of the owner, his agent or contractor, served on the person holding the lien, requiring him to commence suit to enforce such lien, such suit shall be commenced in thirty days thereafter, or the lien shall be forfeited.

Owner defined.

(3348) § 16. Every person for whose immediate use and benefit any building, erection or improvement is made, having the capacity to contract, including guardians of minors, or other persons, shall be included in the word "owner" thereof.

Satisfaction of liens to be registered.

(3349) § 17. Whenever a lien has been claimed by filing the same in the clerk's office, and it is afterwards paid, the creditor shall acknowledge the satisfaction thereof on the proper book in such office, or otherwise in writing, and if he neglects to do so for ten days after demand, he shall forfeit and pay twenty-five dollars to the owner or contractor, and be liable to any person injured to the extent of the injury.

Sub-contractor defined.

(3350) § 18. All persons furnishing things or doing work provided for by this article, shall be considered sub-contractors, except such as have therefor contracts directly with the owner, proprietor, his agent or trustee.

Marriage contract defined.

(3351) § 1. Marriage is a personal relation arising out of a civil contract, to which the consent of parties capable of making it is necessary. Consent alone will not constitute marriage; it must be followed by a solemnization, or by a mutual assumption of marital rights, duties, or obligations.

Proof of marriage.

(3352) § 2. Consent to and subsequent consummation of marriage may be manifested in any form, and may be proved under the same general rules of evidence as facts in other cases.

Lawful age for marriage

(3353) § 3. Any unmarried male of the age of eighteen years or upwards, and any unmarried female of the age of fifteen years or upwards, and not otherwise disqualified, are capable of consenting to and consummating marriage.

Consent must be present

(3354) § 4. The consent to a marriage must be to one commencing instantly, and not to an agreement to marry afterwards.

Certain marriages declared incestuous.

(3355) § 5. Marriages between parents and children, ancestors and descendants of every degree, and between brothers and sisters of the half as well as the whole blood, and between uncles and nieces, or aunts and nephews, and between cousins of the same half as well as of the whole blood, are incestuous and void from the beginning, whether the relationship is legitimate or illegitimate.

Certain marriages voidable.

(3356) § 6. If either party to a marriage be incapable from physical causes of entering into the marriage state, or if the consent of either be obtained by fraud or force, the marriage is voidable. Every marriage of a step-father with a step-daughter, or of a step-mother with a step-son, is illegal and void.

When subsequent marriage is illegal

(3357) § 7. A subsequent marriage contracted by any person during the life of a former husband or wife of such person, with any person other than such former husband or wife, is illegal and void from the beginning, unless:

First. The former marriage has been annnlled or dissolved.

Second. Unless such former husband or wife was absent and not known to such person to be living for the space of five successive years immediately preceding such subsequent marriage, or was generally reputed and was believed by such person to be dead at the time such subsequent marriage was contracted; in either of which cases the subsequent marriage is valid until its nullity is adjudged by a competent tribunal.

Pardon does not restore rights of previous marriage.

(3358) § 8. No pardon granted after the approval of this act to any person sentenced to imprisonment for life in this Territory restores such person to the rights of any previous marriage, or to the guardianship of any issue of such marriage.

Indian marriages

(3359) § 9. Indians contracting marriage according to the Indian custom, and cohabiting as husband and wife, are lawfully married.

Law regarding other contracts does not affect contract of marriage

(3360) § 10. The provisions of other portions of this statute in relation to contracts and the capacity of persons to enter into them, have no application to the contract of marriage.

Promise of marriage subject to same rules as as other contracts.

(3361) § 11. A promise of marriage is subject to the same rules as contracts in general, but neither party to a promise or contract to marry is bound by promise made in ignorance of the other's want of personal chastity; and either is released therefrom by unchaste conduct on the part of the other, unless both parties participate therein. All marriages contracted without this Territory, which would be valid by the laws of the country in which the same were contracted, are valid in this Territory.

Marriage solemnized, how.

(3362) § 12. Marriage must be solemnized, authenticated and recorded as provided in this article; but non-compliance with its provisions does not invalidate any lawful marriage. It may be solemnized by either a justice of the Supreme Court, a judge of the probate court, or justice of the peace, a mayor, or by a minister of the gospel, or priest of any denomination; and in case of Indians, by the peacemakers, their agents, or superintendent of Indian affairs.

Declaration of marriage, what must show.

(3363) § 13. No particular form for the ceremony of marriage is required, but the parties must declare, in the presence of the person solemnizing the marriage, and of at least one witness, that they take each other as husband and wife. Persons married without the solemnization provided for in this and the preceding section must, for the purpose of authentication, jointly make a written declaration of marriage, substantially showing:

First. The names, ages and residence of the parties.

Second. The fact of the marriage.

Third. The time of the marriage.

Fourth. That the marriage has not been solemnized.

If no record of the solemnization of a marriage heretofore contracted be known to exist, the parties may join in a written declaration of such marriage substantially showing:

First. The names, ages and residence of the parties.

Second. The fact of marriage.

Third. That no record of such marriage is known to exist. Such declaration must be subscribed by the parties and attested by at least three witnesses. Declarations of marriage must be acknowledged and recorded in like manner as grants of real property. And if either party to any marriage denies the same, or refuses to join in a declaration thereof, the other may proceed by action in the district court to have the validity of the marriage determined and declared.

Prerequisites of marriage.

(3364) § 14. The person solemnizing a marriage must ascertain to his satisfaction:

First. The identity of the parties.

Second. Their real and full names, and places of residence.

Third. That they are of sufficient age to be capable of contracting marriage; and,

Fourth. The name and place of residence of the witness, or two witnesses, if more than one is present.

Record of marriage

(3365) § 15. The person solemnizing a marriage must enter the facts ascertained by him, pursuant to the last section; and the date of the solemnization, in a book to be kept by him for that purpose.

Certificate of marriage to be furnished.

(3366) § 16. The person solemnizing marriage must furnish to either party, on request, a certificate thereof, signed by him, specifying:

First. The names and places of residence of the parties married.

Second. That they were known to him, or were satisfactorily proved by the oath of a person known to him, to be the persons described in such certificate.

Third. That he had ascertained that they were of sufficient age to contract marriage.

Fourth. The name and place of residence of the attesting witness, or of two witnesses.

Fifth. The time and place of such marriage; and,

Sixth. That after due inquiry made, there appeared to be no lawful impediment to such marriage.

Marriage must be registered.

(3367) § 17. The certificate mentioned in the last section may, within six months after the marriage, be filed with the clerk of the city or town where the marriage was solemnized, or where either of the parties reside or the register of deeds of such county, and, when thus filed, must be entered in a book to be provided by such officer, in the alphabetical order of the name of each party, and in the order of time in which it is filed.

Register must show what.

(3368) § 18. The entry required by the last section must specify:

First. The name and place of residence of each party.

Second. The time and place of marriage.

Third. The name and official station of the person signing the certificate; and Fourth. The time when the certificate was filed.

Acknowledgment of certificate

(3369) § 19. If a certificate of marriage is signed by a minister or priest, there must be indorsed or annexed, before filing a certificate of a magistrate residing in the same county with the clerk, that the person by whom it is signed is personally known to such magistrate, and has acknowledged the execution of the certificate in his presence, or that the execution of the certificate by a minister or priest of some religious denomination has been proved to the magistrate by the oath of a person known to him and who saw the certificate executed.

Certificate or certified copy thereof presumptive evidence

(3370) § 20. A certificate or declaration of marriage, or the entry thereof made as above directed, or a copy of the certificate or declaration or entry, duly certified, is presumptive evidence of the fact of the marriage.

Marriage annulled, causes therefor.

(3371) § 21. A marriage may be annulled by an action in the district court to obtain a decree of nullity, for any of the following causes existing at the time of the marriage:

First. That the party in whose behalf it is sought to have the marriage annulled was under the age of legal consent; and such marriage was contracted without the consent of his or her parents or guardian, or person having charge of him or her, unless, after attaining the age of consent, such party for any time freely cohabited with the other as husband or wife.

Second. That the former husband or wife of either party was living, and the marriage with such former husband or wife was then in force.

Third. That either party was of unsound mind, unlsss such party, after coming to reason, freely cohabited with the other as husband and wife.

Fourth. That the consent of either party was obtained by fraud, unless such party afterwards, with full knowledge of the facts constituting the fraud, freely cohabited with the other as husband or wife.

Fifth. That the consent of either party was obtained by force, unless such party afterwards freely cohabited with the other as husband or wife.

Sixth. That either party was, at the time of the marriage, physically incapable of entering into the marriage state, and such incapacity continues and appears to be incurable.

Every minister or magistrate who solemnizes any marriage where either of the parties is known to him to be under the age of legal consent, and without the consent of his or her parents or guardian, or persons having charge of him or her, or where either of the parties is known to him to be of unsound mind, or any marriage to which, within his knowledge, any legal impediment exists, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Limitation of action for annulling marriage.

(3372) § 22. An action to obtain a degree of nullity of marriage, for causes mentioned in the preceding section, must be commenced within the periods and by the parties as follows:

First. For causes mentioned in subdivision 1; by the party to the marriage who was married under the age of legal consent, within four years after arriving at the age of consent, or by a parent, guardian or other person having charge of such non-aged male or female, or any time before such married minor has arrived at the age of legal consent.

Second. For causes mentioned in sub-division 2; by either party during the life of the other, or by such former husband or wife.

Third. For causes mentioned in sub-division 3; by the party injured, or relative or guardian of the party of unsound mind, at any time before the death of either party.

Fourth. For causes mentioned in sub-division 4; by the party injured within four years after the discovery of the facts constituting the fraud.

Fifth. For causes mentioned in sub-division 5; by the injured party within four years after the marriage.

Sixth. For causes mentioned in sub-division 6; by the injured party, within four years after the marriage.

Children legitimate.

(3373) § 23. Where the marriage is annulled on the ground that a former husband or wife was living, or on the ground of insanity, children begotten before the judgment are legitimate, and succeed to the estate of both parents.

Custody of children

(3374) § 24. The court must award the custody of the children of a marriage annulled on the ground of fraud or force, to the innocent parent, and may also provide for their education and maintenance out of the property of the guilty party.

Judgment of nullity, effect of.

(3375) § 25. A judgment of nullity of marriage rendered is conclusive only as against the parties to the action and those claiming under them.

SECTION.
1. Marriage dissolved, how.
2. Causes for divorce.
3. Adultery defined.
4. Extreme cruelty defined.
5. Desertion defined.
6. Wilful neglect defined.
7. Habitual intemperance defined.
8. Desertion. neglect and intemperance must continue one year.
9. Divorce will be denied, when.
10. Connivance defined.
11. Collusion defined.
12. Condonation defined.
13. Requirements necessary to condonation.
14. Condonation revoked, when.
15. Recrimination defined.
16. Adultery by husband; legitimacy of children.
17. Adultery by wife; legitimacy of children.
18. Persons guilty of adultery cannot re-marry.

Marriage dissolved, how.

(3376) § 1. Marriage is dissolved only:

First. By the death of one of the parties; or,

Second. By the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction decreeing a divorce of the parties.

The effect of a judgment decreeing a divorce is to restore the parties to the state of unmarried persons. The district court in each county or subdivision, has such jurisdiction in an action as is provided in civil procedure.

Causes for divorce.

(3377) § 2. Divorces may be granted for any of the following causes:

First. Adultery.

Second. Extreme cruelty.

Third. Wilful desertion.

Fourth. Wilful neglect.

Fifth. Habitual intemperance.

Sixth. Conviction for felony.

Adultery defined.

(3378) § 3. Adultery, as to its definition as here used, is the voluntary sexual intercourse of a married person with a person other than the offender's husband or wife.

Extreme cruelty defined.

(3379) § 4. Extreme cruelty is the infliction of grevious bodily injury or grevious mental suffering upon the other, by one party to the marriage.

Desertion defined

(3380) § 5. Wilful desertion is the voluntary separation of one of the married parties from the other with intent to desert.

First. Persistent refusal to have reasonable matrimonial intercourse as husband and wife, when health or physical condition does not make such refusal reasonably necessary, or the refusal of either party to dwell in the same house with the other party, when there is no just cause for such refusal, is desertion.

Second. When one party is induced by the stratagem or fraud of the other party, to leave the family dwelling place, or to be absene, and during such absence the offending party departs with intent to desert the other, it is desertion by the party committing the stratagem or fraud, and not by the other.

Third. Departure or absence of one party from the family dwelling place, caused by cruelty or by threats of bodily harm from which danger would be reasonably apprehended from the other is not desertion by the absent party, but it is desertion by the other party.

Fourth. Separation by consent, with or without the understanding that one of the parties will apply for a divorce, is not desertion.

Fifth. Absence or separation, proper in itself, becomes desertion whenever the intent to desert is fixed during such absence or separation.

Sixth. Consent to a separation is a revocable act, and if one of the parties afterwards, in good faith, seeks a reconciliation and restoration, but the other refuses it, such refusal is desertion.

Seventh. If one party deserts the other, and before the expiration of the statutory period required to make the desertion a cause of divorce, returns and offers in good faith to fulfill the marriage contract, and solicits condonation, the desertion is cured. If the other party refuse such offer and condonation, the refusal shall be deemed and treated as desertion by such party from the time of the refusal.

Eighth. The husband may choose any reasonable place or mode of living, and if the wife does not conform thereto, it is desertion.

Ninth. If the place or mode of living selected by the husband is unreasonable and grossly unfit, and the wife does not conform thereto, it is desertion on the part of the husband from the time her reasonable objections are made known to him.

Wilful neglect defined.

(3381) § 6. Wilful neglect is the neglect of the husband to provide for his wife the common necessaries of life, he having ability to do so; or it is the failure to do so by reason of idleness, profligacy, or dissipation.

Habitual intemperance defined.

(3382) § 7. Habitual intemperance is that degree of intemperance from the use of intoxicating drinks which disqualifies the person a great portion of the time from properly attending to business, or which would reasonably inflict a course of great mental anguish upon the innocent party.

Duration of offenses as ground for divorce.

(3383) § 8. Wilful desertion, wilful neglect, or habitual intemperance, must continue for one year before either is a ground for divorce.

Divorce will be denied, when.

(3384) § 9. Divorces must be denied upon showing:

First. Connivance; or,

Second. Collusion; or,

Third. Condonation; or,

Fourth. Recrimination; or,

Fifth. Limitation and lapse of time.

Connivance defined.

(3385) § 10. Connivance is the corrupt consent of one party to the commission of the acts of the other, constituting the cause of divorce. Corrupt consent is manifested by passive permission, with extent to connive at or actively procure the commission of the acts complained of.

Collusion defined.

(3386) § 11. Collusion is an agreement between husband and wife that one of them shall commit, or appear to have committed, or to be represented in court as having committed acts constituting a cause of divorce, for the purpose of enabling the other to obtain a divorce.

Condonation defined.

(3387) § 12. Condonation is the conditional forgiveness of a matrimonal offense constituting a cause of divorce.

Requirements necessary to condonation.

(3388) § 13. The following requirements are necessary to condonation:

First. A knowledge on the part of the condoner of the facts constituting the cause of divorce.

Second. Reconciliation and remission of the offense by the injured party.

Third. Restoration of the offending party to all marital rights.

Condonation implies a condition subsequent, that the forgiving party must be treated with conjugal kindness. Where the cause of divorce consists of a course of offensive conduct, or arises in cases of cruelty from excessive acts of ill-treatment, which may, aggregately, constitute the offense, cohabitation, or passive endurance, or conjugal kindness, shall not be evidence of condonation of any of the acts constituting such cause, unless accompanied by an express agreement to condone. In such cases, condonation can be made only after the cause of divorce has become complete, as to the acts complained of. A fraudulent concealment, by the condonee of facts constituting a different cause of divorce from the one condoned, and existing at the time of condonation, avoids such condonation.

Condonation revoked, when.

(3389) § 14. Condonation is revoked and the original cause of divorce revived:

First. When the condonee commits acts constituting a like or other cause of divorce; or,

Second. When the condonee is guilty of great conjugal unkindness, not amounting to a cause of divorce, but sufficiently habitual and gross to show that the conditions of condonation had not been accepted in good faith, or not fulfilled.

Recrimination defined.

(3390) § 15. Recrimination is a showing by the defendant of any cause of divorce against the plaintiff, in bar of the plaintiff's, cause of divorce. Condonation of a cause of divorce, shown in the answer as a recriminatory defense, is a bar to such defense unless the condonation be revoked, as above provided, or two years have elapsed after the condonation, and before the accruing or completion of the cause of divorce against which the recrimination is shown.

Adultery by husband and legitimacy of children

(3391) § 16. When a divorce is granted for the adultery of the husband, the legitimacy of children of the marriage, begotten of the wife before the commencement of the action, is not affected.

Adultery by wife and legitimacy of children

(3392) § 17. When a divorce is granted for the adultery of the wife, the legitimacy of children begotton of her before the commission of the adultery is not affected; but the legitimacy of other children of the wife may be determined by the court, upon the evidence in the case. In every such case all children begotton before the commencement of the action, are to be presumed legitimate until the contrary is shown.

Person guilty of adultery cannot marry.

(3393) § 18. When a divorce is granted for adultery, the innocent party may marry again during the life of the other; but the guilty party cannot marry any person except the innocent party, until the death of the other.

SECTION.
1. Limitation as to time.
2. No other limitations.
3. Residence of ninety days.
4. Presumption as to domicile.
5. Affirmative proof required in action for divorce.

(3394) § 1. A divorce must be denied when there is an unreasonable lapse of time before the commencement of the action. Unreasonable lapse of time is such a delay in commencing the action as establishes the presumption that there has been connivance, collusion or condonation of the offense, or full acquiescence in the same, with intent to continue the marriage relation, notwithstanding the commission of the offense set up as a ground of divorce. The presumption, arising from lapse of time, may be rebutted by showing reasonable grounds for the delay in commencing the action. Limitation as to time.

(3395) § 2. There are no limitations of time for commencing actions for divorce, except such as are contained in the foregoing section 3394. No other limitations.

(3396) § 3. A divorce must not be granted unless the plaintiff has, in good faith been a resident of the Territory ninety days next preceding the commencement of the action. Residence of ninety days necessary.

(3397) § 4. In actions for divorce the presumption of law that the domicile of the husband is the domicile of the wife, does not apply. After separation each party may have a separate domicile, depending for proof upon actual residence, and not upon legal presumption. Presumption as to domicile.

(3398) § 5. No divorce can be granted upon the default of the defendant, or upon the uncorroborated statement, admission or testimony of the parties, or upon any statement or finding of fact made by a referee; but the court must, in addition to any statement or finding of the referee, require proof of the facts alleged, and such proof, if not taken before the court must be upon written questions and answers. Affirmative proof required in case of divorce.

ARTICLE 4.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

SECTION.
1. Maintenance when divorce is denied.
2. Alimony pending action for divorce.
3 Custody of children.
4. Support of wife and children in case of divorce.
5. Security for support; homestead assigned to innocent party.

(3399) § 1. Though judgment of divorce is denied, the court may, in an action for divorce, provide for the maintenance of a wife and her children, or any of them, by the husband. Maintenance when divorce denied.

(3400) § 2. While an action for divorce is pending, the court may, in its discretion, require the husband to pay as alimony any money necessary to enable the wife to support herself or her children, or to prosecute or defend the action. Alimony pending action for divorce.

(3401) § 3. In an action for divorce the court may, before or after judgment, give such direction for the custody, care and education of the children of the marriage as may seem necessary or proper, and may at any time vacate or modify the same. Custody of children.

Chap. 50.

Support of wife and children in case of divorce

(3402) § 4. Where a divorce is granted for an offense of the husband, the court may compel him to provide for the maintenance of the children of the marriage, and to make such suitable allowance to the wife for her support during her life, or for a shorter period, as the court may deem just, having regard to the circumstances of the parties respectively; and the court may from time to time modify its orders in these respects.

Security for support may be required, homestead may be assigned to innocent party.

(3403) § 5. The court may require the husband to give reasonable security for providing maintenance, or making any payments required under the provisions of this chapter, and may enforce the same by the appointment of a receiver, or by any other remedy applicable to the case. But when the wife has a seperate estate sufficient to give her a proper support, the court, in its discretion, may withhold any allowance to her out of the separate property of the husband. The court, in rendering a decree of divorce, may assign the homestead to the innocent party, either absolutely or for a limited period, according to the facts in the case, and in consonance with the law relating to homsteads. The disposition of the homestead by the court, and all orders and decrees touching the alimony and maintenance of the wife, and for the custody, education and support of the children, as above provided, are subject to revision on appeal in all particulars, including those which are stated to be in the discretion of the court.

ARTICLE 5.—HUSBAND AND WIFE.

SECTION.
1. Relations of husband and wife.
2. Husband is head of the family.
3. Duty to support.

Relations of husband and wife.

(3404) § 1. Husband and wife contract toward each other obligations of mutual respect, fidelity and support.

Husband head of the family.

(3405) § 2. The husband is the head of the family. He may choose any reasonable place or mode of living, and the wife must conform thereto.

Duty to support

(3406) § 3. The husband must support himself and wife out of his property or by his labor. The wife must support the husband, when he has not deserted her, out of her separate property, when he has no separate property, and he is unable, from infirmity, to support himself.

23. Continuance in certain cases.
24. Termination at will.
25. By fault of employe.
26. By employer.
27. Compensation, when dismissed.
28. Service quit for cause.

The contract of employment is a contract by which one, who is called the employer, engages another, who is called the employe, to do something for the benefit of the employer, or of a third person.

Indemnity to employe.

(3407) § 1 An employer must indemnify his employe, except as prescribed in the next section, for all that he necessarily expends or loses in direct consequence of the discharge of his duties as such, or of his obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employe, at the time of obeying such directions, believed them to be unlawful.

Co-employes

(3408) § 2. An employer is not bound to indemnify his employe for losses suffered by the latter in consequence of the ordinary risks of the business in which he is employed, nor in consequence of the negligence of another person employed by the same employer in the same general business, unless he has neglected to use ordinary care in the selection of the culpable employe.

Employer's negligence.

(3409) § 3. An employer must in all cases indemnify his employe for losses caused by the former's want of ordinary care.

Gratuitous employment.

(3410) § 4. One who, without consideration, undertakes to do a service for another, is not bound to perform the same, but if he actually enters upon its performance he must use at least slight care and diligence therein.

Same.

(3411) § 5. One who, by his own special request, induces another to trust him with the performance of a service, must perform the same fully. In other cases one who undertakes a gratuitous service may relinquish it at any time.

Same. power of attorney

(3412) § 6. A gratuitous employe, who accepts a written power of attorney, must act under it so long as it remains in force, or until he gives notice to his employer that he will not do so.

Duties of employe for reward.

(3413) § 7. One who, for a good consideration, agrees to serve another, must perform the service, and must use ordinary care and diligence therein, so long as he is thus employed.

Employe for his own benefit.

(3414) § 8. One who is employed at his own request to do that which is more for his own advantage than for that of his employer, must use great care and diligence therein to protect the interests of the latter.

Contract for personal service limited to two years.

(3415) § 9. A contract to render personal service, other than a contract of apprenticeship, as provided in the title on master and servant, cannot be enforced against the employe beyond the term of two years from the commencement of service under it, but if the employe voluntarily continues his services under it beyond that time, the contract may be referred to as affording a presumptive measure of the compensation.

Must obey employer.

(3416) § 10. An employe must substantially comply with all the directions of his employer concerning the service on which he is engaged, even though contrary to the provisions of this chapter, except where such obedience is impossible, or unlawful, or would impose new and unreasonable burdens upou the employe, or in case of an emergency, which, according to the best information which the employe can with reasonable diligence obtain, the employer did not contemplate, in which he cannot with reasonable diligence be consulted and in which non-compliance is judged by the employe in good faith, and in the exercise of reasonable discretion, to be absolutely necessary for the protection of the employer's interests. In all such cases the employe must conform as nearly to the directions of his employer as may be reasonably practicable and most for the interest of the latter.

Must conform to usage.

(3417) § 11. An employe must perform his service in conformity to the usage of the place of performance, unless otherwise directed by his employer, or unless it is impracticable, or manifestly injurious to his employer to do so.

Reasonable skill

(3418) § 12. An employe is bound to exercise a reasonable degree of skill, unless his employer has notice, before employing him, of his want of skill.

Such skill as is possessed.

(3419) § 13. An employe is always bound to use such skill as he possesses, so far as the same is required, for the service specified.

What belongs to the employer.

(3420) § 14. Everything which an employe acquires by virtue of his employment, except the compensation, if any, which is due to him from his employer, belongs to the latter, whether acquired lawfully or unlawfully, or during or after the expiration of the term of his employment,

(3421) § 15. An employe must, on demand, render to his employer just accounts of all his transactions in the course of his service, as often as may be reasonable, and must, without demand, give prompt notice to his employer of everything which he receives for his account. Duty to account to employer.

(3422) § 16. An employe, who receives anything on account of his employer, in any capacity other than that of a mere servant, is not bound to deliver it to him until demanded, and is not at liberty to send it to him from a distance without demand, in any mode involving greater risk than its retention by the employe himself. Not to deliver without demand.

(3423) § 17. An employe, who has any business to transact on his own account, similar to that intrusted to him by his employer, must always give the latter the preference. If intrusted with similar affairs by different employers, he must give them preference according to their relative urgency, or other things being equal, according to the order in which they were committed to him. Preference to employer.

(3424) § 18. An employe who is expressly authorized to employ a substitute, is liable to his principal only for want of ordinary care in his selection. The substitute is directly responsible to the principal. Substitute strictly responsible.

(3425) § 19. An employe who is guilty of a culpable degree of negligence, is liable to his employer for the damage thereby caused the latter; and the employer is liable to him, if the service is not gratuitous, for the value of such services only as are properly rendered. Responsibility for negligence.

(3426) § 20. Where service is to be rendered by two or more persons jointly, and one of them dies, the survivor must act alone if the service to be rendered is such as he can rightly perform without the aid of the deceased person but not otherwise. Surviving employe.

(3427) § 21. The obligations peculiar to confidential employments are defined in the chapter on trusts. Confidential employment.

(3428) § 22. Every employment, in which the power of the employe is not coupled with an interest in its subject, is terminated by notice to him of: What may terminate employment.

First. The death of the employer; or,

Second. His legal incapacity to contract.

Every employment is terminated:

First. By the expiration of its appointed term.

Second. By the extinction of its subject.

Third. By the death of the employe; or,

Fourth. By his legal incapacity to act as such.

(3429) § 23. An employe, unless the term of his service has expired, or unless he has a right to discontinue it at any time, without notice, must continue his service after notice of the death or incapacity of his employer, so far as is necessary to protect from serious injury the interests of the employer's successor in interest, until a reasonable time after notice of the facts has been communicated to such successor. The successor must compensate the employe for such service, according to the terms of the contract of employment. Continuance in certain cases.

Termination at will.

(3430) § 24. An employment, having no specified term, may be terminated at the will of either party, on notice to the other, except where otherwise provided.

By fault of the employe.

(3431) § 25. An employment, even for a specified term, may be terminated at any time by the employer, in case of any wilful breach of duty by the employe, in the course of his employment, or in case of his habitual neglect of his duty, or continued incapacity to perform it.

Terminated by employer.

(3432) § 26. An employment, even for a specified term, may be terminated by the employe at any time, in case of any wilful or permanent breach of the obligations of his employer to him as an employe.

Compensation when dismissed.

(3433) § 27. An employe, dismissed by his employer for good cause, is not entitled to any compensation for services rendered since the last day upon which a payment became due to him under the contract.

Service quit for cause.

(3434) § 28. An employe, who quits the service of his employer for good cause, is entitled to such proportion of the compensation which would become due in case of full performance, as the services which he has already rendered bear to the services which he was to render as full performance.

21. Overseers of the poor.
22. Absence of apprentice.
23. Free vocation.
24. Restraint of vocation; penalty.
25. Deceased master.
26. Consent to assignment.

Definition of servant.

(3435) § 1. A servant is one who is employed to render personal service to his employer, other than in the pursuit of an independent calling, and who in such service remains entirely under the control and direction of the latter who is called his master.

Presumed term.

(3436) § 2. A servant is presumed to have been hired for such length of time as the parties adopt for the estimation of wages. A hiring at a yearly rate is presumed to be for one year; a hiring at a daily rate, for one day; a hiring by piece work, for no specified term.

Month presumed

(3437) § 3. In the absence of any agreement or custom as to the rate or value of wages, the term of service or the time of payment, a servant is presumed to be hired by the month, at a monthly rate of reasonable wages, to be paid when the service is performed.

Renewal presumed.

(3438) § 4. Where, after the expiration of an agreement respecting the wages and the term of service, the parties continue the relation of master and servant, they are presumed to have renewed the agreement for the same wages and term of service.

Domestic service.

(3439) § 5. The entire time of a domestic servant belongs to the master; and the time of other servants to such extent as is usual in the business in which they serve, not exceeding in any case ten hours in the day.

Servant must account to his master.

(3440) § 6. A servant must deliver to his master, as soon as with reasonable diligence he can find him, everything that he receives for his account, without demand; but he is not bound, without orders from his master, to send anything to him through another person.

Causes for discharge,

(3441) § 7. A master may discharge any servant, other than an apprentice, whether engaged for a fixed term or not:

First. If he is guilty of misconduct in the course of his service, or of gross immorality, though unconnected with the same; or,

Second. If, being employed about the person of the master, or in a confidential position, the master discovers that he has been guilty of misconduct before or after the commencement of his service, of such a nature that, if the master had known or contemplated it, he would not have so employed him.

Apprenticeship authorized.

(3442) § 8. Male minors, and unmarried females under the age of eighteen years, with the consent of the persons or officers hereinafter mentioned, may bind themselves, by a writing called an indentnre, as fully as if they were of age, to serve as clerks, apprentices or servants, in a particular calling, until majority (except in the case of females, who cannot bind themselves further than until the age of eighteen), or for any shorter time.

Consent to apprenticeship.

(3443) § 9. Consent to an indenture of apprenticeship must be given by certificate at the end thereof, or endorsed thereon, signed:

First. By the father and mother of the apprentice.

Second. If the father lacks capacity to consent, or has abandoned or neglected to provide for the family, or is dead, and no testamentary guardian or executor has been appointed by him, with power under the will to bring up the child to a calling, and a certificate of such fact is endorsed on the indenture by a justice of the peace of the county, then by the mother.

Third. If the father is dead, and such guardian or executor has been appointed by him, then by such guardian or executor.

Fourth. If the mother is dead, or lacks capacity to consent, then by the father.

Fifth. If there is no parent of capacity to consent, and no such executor, then by the guardian; or,

Sixth. If there is no such parent, executor or guardian, then by the officers of the poor of the town or county, or by any two justices of the peace of the county, or by the probate judge.

Person consenting not liable for breach of contract.

(3444) § 10. A parent, executor or guardian, consenting to an indenture, is not liable for a breach thereof by the apprentice, unless the indenture or consent expresses an intention to bind him therefor.

Chap. 51.

Poor may be bound to service,

(3445) § 11. Any child who is chargeable, or whose parents are chargeable to a county or city poor house, or who is in such poor house may be bound to service uutil attaining twenty-one years, or if a female, until attaining eighteen years, by the proper officers of the poor, as provided in this chapter, but such binding by said officers must be with the consent in writing of the justice of the peace of county, or city.

Indian child cannot be bound; exception.

(3446) § 12. No child of an Indian woman can be bound, under this title, except in the presence, and with the consent of a justice of the peace; and his certificate of consent must be filed with the probate judge of the county where the indenture is executed.

Age of apprentice must be stated.

(3447) § 13. In every indenture of apprenticeship the age of the apprentice must be stated, and such statement is presumptive evidence thereof; and before an officer executes an indenture, or consents thereto, he must inform himself of the age of the apprentice.

Consideration must be stated.

(3448) § 14. If there is any pecuniary consideration, for an indenture of apprenticeship on either part it must be stated therein.

Education required.

(3449) § 15. The indenture shall also contain an agreement on the part of the person to whom such child shall be bound, that he will cause such child to be instructed to read and write, and to be taught the general rules of arithmetic, or, in lieu thereof, that he will send such child to school three months of each year of the period of indenture; and that he will give him a new Bible at the expiration of his term of service.

Counterpart of indenture must be filed.

(3450) § 16. Every officer executing an indenture of apprenticeship must file a counterpart thereof with the probate judge of the county in which he is an officer.

Immigrant minor.

(3451) § 17. An immigrant minor may bind himself to service until he attains his majority, or for a shorter term, in such manner as may be prescribed by the law of the country in which the contract is made. If the indenture is made for the purpose of enabling him to pay his passage to this country, it may be for the term of one year, although such term extends beyond his majority; but in no case for a longer term.

Indenture must be acknowledged.

(3452) § 18. Every indenture under section 3451 must be duly acknowledged by the minor on a private examination before a probate judge or a justice of the peace, and a certificate of the acknowledgment, showing that the same was made freely, must be endorsed upon the contract.

Assignment of indenture.

(3453) § 19. The master, under an indenture specified in section 3451 may assign it by writing indorsed thereon, and with the approval also indorsed of a magistrate mentioned in section 3452.

Indenture must conform to law.

(3454) § 20. No indenture or contract for the service of an apprentice is binding upon him unless made as hereinbefore prescribed.

Overseers of the poor

(3455) § 21. The county overseer of the poor, and the overseers of the poor of cities and towns, must see that every apprentice or other servant in their respective counties, cities or towns, is properly treated, and that the terms of the contract are fulfilled in his favor; and it is their duty to redress any grievance of such persons in the manner prescribed by law.

Absence of apprentice; penalty.

(3456) § 22. If an apprentice, for whose instruction the master receives no pecuniary compensation, wilfully absents himself from service without leave, he may be compelled to serve double the time of such absence unless he makes satisfaction for the injury; but such additional term of service cannot extend more than three years beyond the original term.

Free vocation

(3457) § 23. No person may except from an apprentice or servant an agreement, oath or promise not to exercise his vocation in any particular place; nor may any person exact from an apprentice or servant any consideration for exercising his vocation in any place after his term of service has expired.

Restraint of vocation, penalty.

(3458) § 24. Any consideration exacted contrary to the last section may be recovered back with interest, and every person accepting such agreement or exacting such consideration, is liable to the apprentice or servant in a penalty of one hundred dollars.

Deceased master.

(3459) § 25. The executors or administrators of the master of any apprentice bound by officers of the poor, may assign the indenture, with the written consent of the apprentice, acknowledged before a justice of the peace.

Consent to assignment.

(3460) § 26. If an apprentice refuses consent to an assignment under the last section, the probate or district court may authorize such assignment without his consent, upon application, after fourteen day's notice, to the apprentice, or to his parents or guardian, if he has any in the county.

Ship's Managers.

SECTION.
31. Manager defined.
32. Duties of ship manager.
33. Managing owner.

Shipmaster appointed at pleasure of owner.

(3461) § 1. The master of a ship is appointed by the owner, and holds during his pleasure. The word "ship," as used in this article, shall be construed to mean any boat, vessel or structure fitted for navigation.

Must be on board, when.

(3462) §. 2 The master of a ship is bound to be always on board when entering or leaving port. The word "port," as used in this article, shall be construed to mean any place on a navigable river or lake where a vessel lands to receive or put off freight or passengers, or for any other purpose, and when a vessel has made a landing it is said to be in port.

Pilotage.

(3463) § 3. Before leaving port the master of a ship must take a pilot on board, and the navigation of the vessel devolves on him.

Power of master over seamen.

(3464) § 4. The master of a ship may enforce the obedience of the mate and crew to his lawful commands by confinement and other reasonable corporal punishment, not prohibited by law, being responsible for the abuse of his power.

Power over passengers.

(3465) § 5. The master of a ship may confine any person on board, during a voyage, for wilfull disobedience to his lawful commands.

Private stores may be taken.

(3466) § 6. If, during a voyage, the ship's supplies fail, the master, with the advice of the officers, may compel persons who have private supplies on board to surrender them for the common want, on payment of their value or giving security therefor.

May abandon ship, when (3467) § 7. The master of a ship must not abandon it during the voyage, without the advice of the other officers.

Must take treasure.

(3468) § 8. The master of a ship, upon abandoning it, must carry with him, so far as it is in his power, the money and the most valuable of the goods on board, under penalty of being personally responsible. If the articles thus taken are lost from causes beyond his control, he is exonerated from liability.

Master cannot trade on his own account.

(3469) § 9. The master of a ship, who engages for a common profit on the cargo, must not trade on his own account, and if he does he must account to his employer for all profits thus made by him.

Must use care and diligence.

(3470) §. 10. The master of a ship must use great care and diligence in the performance of his duties, and is responsible for all damage occasioned by his negligence, however slight.

Authority of master.

(3471) § 11. The authority and liability of the master of a ship, as an agent for the owners of the ship and cargo, are regulated by the chapter on agency.

Mate defined.

(3472) § 12. The mate of a ship is the officer next in command to the master.

Seamen defined.

(3473) § 13. All persons employed in the navigation of a ship, or upon a voyage, other than the master and mate, are to be deemed seamen, within the provisions of this article.

Master engages and discharges.

(3474) § 14. The mate and seamen of a ship are engaged by the master, and may be discharged by him at any period of the voyage, for wilful and persistent disobedience, or gross disqualification, but cannot otherwise be discharged before the termination of the voyage.

Unseaworthy vessel.

(3475) § 15. A mate or seaman is not bound to go on a voyage in a ship that is not seaworthy; and if there is a reasonable doubt of its seaworthiness, he may refuse to proceed until a proper survey has been had.

Wages and lien not lost by any agreement.

(3476) § 16. A seaman cannot by reason of any agreement, be deprived of his lien upon the ship, or of any remedy for the recovery of his wages to which he would otherwise have been entitled. Any stipulation by which he consents to abandon his right to wages in case of the loss of a ship, or to abandon any right he may have or obtain in the nature of salvage, is void.

No agreement can destroy rights of seaman, exception.

(3477) § 17. No special agreement entered into by a seaman can impair any of his rights, or add to any of his obligations, as defined by law, unless he fully understands the effect of the agreement, and receives a fair compensation therefor.

Wages due when freightage is earned.

(3478) § 18. Except as hereinafter provided, the wages of seamen are due when and so far only as freightage is earned, unless the loss of freightage is owing to the fault of the owner or master.

When wages begin.

(3479) § 19. The right of a mate or seaman to wages and provisions begins either from the time he begins work, or from the time specified in the agreement for his beginning work, or from his presence on board, whichever first happens.

Voyage broken up.

(3480) § 20. Where a voyage is broken up before departure of the ship, the seamen must be paid for the time they have served and may retain for their indemnity such advances as they have received.

Wrongful discharge, may demand full wages.

(3481) § 21. When a mate or seaman is wrongfully discharged, or is driven to leave the ship by the cruelty of the master on the voyage, it is then ended with respect to him, and he may thereupon recover his full wages.

Wages not lost by wreck.

(3482) § 22. In case of loss or wreck of the ship, a seaman is entitled to his wages up to the time of the loss or wreck, whether freightage has been earned or not, if he exerts himself to the utmost to save the ship, cargo and stores.

Certificate from master.

(3483) § 23. A certificate from the master or chief surviving officer of a ship, to the effect that a seaman exerted himself to the utmost to save the ship, cargo and stores, is presumptive evidence of the fact.

Disabled while on duty.

(3484) § 24. Where a mate or seaman is prevented from rendering service by illness or injury, incurred without his fault, in the discharge of his duty or the voyage, on by being wrongfully discharged, or by a capture of a capture of the ship, he is entitled to wages notwithstanding.

Expense of sickness

(3485) § 25. If a mate or seaman becomes sick or disabled during the voyage without his fault, the expense of furnishing him with suitable medical advice, medicine, attendance, and other provisions for his wants, must be borne by the ship till the close of the voyage.

Death during voyage.

(3486) § 26. If a mate or seaman dies during a voyage, his personal representatives are entitled to his wages to the time of his death, if he would have been entitled to them had he lived to the end of the voyage.

Desertion, theft, etc. forfeits wages.

(3487) § 27. Desertion of the ship without cause, or a justifiable discharge by the master during the voyage for misconduct, or a theft of any part of the cargo or appurtenances of the ship, or a wilful injury thereto or to the ship, forfeits all wages due for the voyage to a mate or seaman thus in fault.

Cannot ship goods.

(3488) § 28. A mate or seaman may not, under any pretext, ship goods on his own account without permission from the master.

Embezzlement or injury.

(3489) § 29. If any part of the cargo or appurtenances of a ship is embezzled or injured by the mate or a seaman, the offender, or if it is not known which is the offended, all those of whom negligence or fault may be presumed, must make good the loss.

Further regulations.

(3490) § 30. The shipment of officers and seamen, and their rights and duties, are further regulated by law.

Manager defined.

(3491) § 31. The general agent for the owners, in respect to the care of a ship and freight, is called the manager; if he is a part owner, he is also called the managing owner.

Duties of ship manager.

(3492) § 32. Unless otherwise directed, it is the duty of the manager of a ship to provide for the complete seaworthiness of the ship, to take care of it in port, to see that it is provided with necessary papers, with a proper master, mate and crew, and supplies of provisions and stores.

Managing owner.

(3493) § 33. A managing owner is presumed to have no right to compensation for his own services.

ARTICLE 4.—SERVICE WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT.

SECTION.
1. Voluntary interference.
2. Salvage.

Voluntary interference not entitled to compensation.

(3494) § 1. One who officiously, and without the consent of the real or apparent owner of a thing, takes it into his possession, for the purpose of rendering a service about it, must complete such service, and use ordinary care, diligence and reasonable skill about the same. He is not entitled to any compensation for his service or expenses, except that he may deduct actual and necessary expenses incurred by him about such service, from any profits which his service has caused the thing to acquire for its owner, and must account to the owner for the residue.

Salvage.

(3495) § 2. Any person other than the master, mate, or a seaman thereof, who rescues a ship, her appurtenances, or cargo, from danger, is entitled to a reasonable compensation therefor, to be paid out of the property saved. He has a lien for such claim, which is regulated by the chapter on liens.

CHAPTER LII.—MIND PRODUCTS.

SECTION.
1. Products of the mind.
2. Joint products.
3. Transfer.
4. Publication.
5. Prior publication.
6. Private letters.

Product of the mind.

(3496) § 1. The author of any product of the mind, whether it is an invention, or a composition in letters or art, or a design; with or without delineation, or other graphical representation, has an exclusive ownership therein, and in the representation or expression thereof, which continues so long as the product, and the representations or expressions thereof made by him remain in his possession.

Joint products.

(3497) § 2. Unless otherwise agreed, a product of the mind, in the production of which several persons are jointly concerned, is owned by them as follows:

First. If the product is single, in equal proportions; or,

Second. If it is not single, in proportion to the contribution of each.

Transfer.

(3498) § 3. The owner of any product of the mind, or of any representation or expression thereof, may tranfer his property in the same.

Publication.

(3499) § 4. If the owner of a product of the mind intentionally makes it public, a copy or reproduction may be made public by any person without responsibility to the owner so far as the law of this Territory is concerned.

Prior publication.

(3500) § 5. If the owner of a product of the mind does not make it public, any other person subsequently and originally producing the same thing, has the same right therein as the prior author, which is exclusive to the same extent against all persons except the prior author; or those claiming under him.

Private letters.

(3501) § 6. Letters and other private communications in writing belong to the person to whom they are addressed and delivered; but they cannot be published against the will of the writer, except by authority of law.

CHAPTER LIII.—MILITIA.

Chap. 54.

Mortgage defined; formalities necessary

(3509) § 1. Mortgage is a contract, by which specific property is hypothecated for the performance of an act without the necessity of a change of possession. A mortgage of real property can be created, renewed or extended only by writing, executed with the formalities required in the case of a grant of real property.

Mortgages gives special lien.

(3510) § 2. The lien of a mortgage is special, unless otherwise expressly agreed, and is independent of possession.

What may be deemed a mortgage.

(3511) § 3. Every transfer of an interest in property, other than in trust, made only as a security for the performance of another act, is to be deemed a mortgage, except when in the case of personal property it is accompanied by actual change of possession, in which case it is to be deemed a pledge.

Bottomry and repsondentia not mortgages.

(3512) § 4. Contracts of bottomry or respondentia, although in the nature of mortgages, are not affected by any of the provisions of this article.

Defeasibility may be proved to show that transfer is a mortgage.

(3513) § 5. The fact that a transfer was made subject to defeasance on a condition, may, for the purpose of showing such transfer to be a mortgage, be proved, except as against a subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer, for value and without notice, though the fact does not appear by the terms of the instrument.

Rules governing mortgages.

(3514) § 6. First. Any interest in property, which is capable of being transfered may be mortgaged.

Second. Title acquired by the mortgagor subsequent to the execution of the mortgage, insures to the mortgagee as security for the debt in like manner as if acquired before the execution.

Third. A mortgage does not bind the mortgagor personally to perform the act for the performance of which it is a security, unless there is an express covenant therein to that effect.

Fourth. The assignment of a debt secured by mortgage carries with it the security.

Mortgage on property adversely held

(3515) § 7. A mortgage may be created upon property held adversely to the mortgagor. A mortgage of property held adversely to the mortgagor takes effect from the time at which he, or one claiming under him, obtains possession of the property, but has precedence over every lien upon the mortgagor's interest in the property, created subsequently to the recording of the mortgage.

Power of sale may be conferred by mortgage

(3516) § 8. A power of sale may be conferred by a mortgage upon the mortgagee or any other person, to be exercised after a breach of the obligation for which the mortgage is a security.

Power of sale is a trust.

(3517) § 9. A power of sale under a mortgage is a trust, and as to real property can be executed only in the manner prescribed by civil proceedure.

Power of attorney to execute mortgage

(3518) § 10. A power of attorney to execute a mortgage must be in writing, subscribed, acknowledged, or proved, certified, and recorded in like manner as powers of attorney for grants of real property.

Mortgage is lien upon property that may be passed by grant.

(3519) § 11. A mortgage is a lien upon everything that would pass by a grant of the property, and upon nothing more.

Mortgage is a lien against any one claiming under mortgage

(3520) § 12. A mortgage is a lien upon the property mortgaged in the hands of every one claiming under the mortgagor subsequently to its execution, except purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith, without notice and for value, and, except as otherwise provided by sections from 3536 to 3554 inclusive.

Mortgage does not entitle to possession.

(3521) § 13. A mortgage does not entitle the mortgagee to the possession of the property unless authorized by the express terms of the mortgage; but after the execution of the mortgage, the mortgagor may agree to such change of possession without a new consideration. No person whose interest is subject to the lien of a mortgage may do any act which will substantially impair the morgagee's security.

Foreclosure of right of redemption.

(3522) § 14. A mortgagee may foreclose the right of redemption of the mortgagor in the manner prescribed by civil procedure.

Assignment of mortgage, record; discharge.

(3523) § 15. An assignment of a mortgage may be recorded in like manner as a mortgage, and such record operates as notice to all persons subsequently deriving title to the mortgage from the assignor.

When assignment is not notice to personal representatives.

(3524) § 16. When the mortgage is executed as security for money due or to become due on a promissory note, bond, or other instrument designated in the mortgage, the record of the assignment of the mortgage is not of itself notice to a mortgagor, his heirs, or personal representatives, so as to invalidate any payment made by them, or either of them, to the person holding such note, bond, or other instrument.

Discharge by entry in record.

(3525) § 17. A recorded mortgage may be discharged by an entry in the margin of the record thereof, signed by the mortgagee or his personal representative or assignee, acknowledging the satisfaction of the mortgage, in the presence of the register who must certify the acknowledgment in form substantially as follows:

Signed and acknowledged before me, this.....day of....., in the year.....
A. B., Register.

Discharge noted by recording officer, when.

(3526) § 18. A recorded mortgage, if not discharged as provided in the proceding section, must be discharged upon the record by the officer having custody thereof, on the presentation to him of a certificate signed by the mortgagee, his personal representatives or assigns, acknowledged or proved and certified as is required for transfers, stating that the mortgage has been paid or otherwise satisfied and discharged.

Certificate of discharge recorded at length.

(3527) § 19. A certificate of the discharge of a mortgage, and a proof or acknowledgment thereof, must be recorded at length, and a reference made in the record to the book and page where the mortgage is recorded and in the minute of the discharge made upon the record of the mortgage, to the book and page where the discharge is recorded.

Mortgagee to make certificate of discharge, when (3528) § 20. When any mortgage has been satisfied, the mortgagee or his assignee must, immediately on demand of the mortgagor, execute and deliver to him a certificate of the discharge thereof, and must, at the expense of the mortgagor, acknowledge the execution thereof so as to entitle it to be recorded, or he must enter satisfaction, or cause satisfaction of such mortgage to be entered of record; and any mortgagee, or assignee of such mortgage, who refuses to execute and deliver to the mortgagor the certificate of discharge, and to acknowledge the execution thereof, or to enter satisfaction or cause satisfaction to be entered of the mortgage, as provided in this chapter, is liable to the mortgagor, or his grantee or heirs for all damages which he or they may sustain by reason of such refusal, and also forfeit to him or them the sum of one hundred dollars.

Chap. 54.

Form of mortgage of real property

(3529) § 21. A mortgage of real property may be made in substantially the following form:

This mortgage, made.....day of....., in the year....., by A. B., of .....,mortgagor to C. D., of.....mortgagee, witnesseth

That the mortgagor mortgages to the mortgagee (here describe the property) as security for the payment to him of .. ....dollars, on or before the.....day ....., in the year ....., with interest thereon (or as security for the payment of an obligation, describing it, etc.)

A. B,

Mortgage follows the property.

(3530) § 22. When real property, subject to a mortgage, passes by succession or will, the successor or devisee must satisfy the mortgage out of his own property, without resorting to the executor or administrator of the mortgagor, unless there is an express direction in the will of the mortgagor that the mortgage shall be otherwise paid.

Mortgage executed like grants

(3531) § 23. Mortgages of real property may be acknowledged or proved, certified, and recorded in like manner and with like effect as grants thereof.

Record is notice to subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers.

(3532) § 24. The record of a mortgage, duly made, operates as notice to all subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers.

Papers accompanying mortgage must be recorded

(3533) § 25. Every grant of real property, or of any estate therein, which appears by any other writing, to be intended as a mortgage within the meaning of this chapter, must be recorded as a mortgage; and if such grant and other writing explanatory of its true character are not recorded together at the same time and place, the grantee can derive no benefit from such record.

Defeasance must be recorded,

(3534) § 26. When a grant of real property purports to be an absolute conveyance, but is intended to be defeasable on the performance of certain conditions, such grant is not defeated or affected as against any person other than the grantee or his heirs or devisees or persons having actual notice, unless an instrument of defeasance, duly executed and acknowledged, shall have been recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the property is situated.

Form of mortgage of personal property.

(3535) § 27. A mortgage of personal property may be made in substantially the following form:

This mortgage, made the.....day of..... , in the year..... .....by A, B., of..... .....by occupation a .... mortgagor, to C. D., of ... ., by occupation a..... ..... mortgagee, witnesseth:

That the mortgagor mortgages to the mortgagee (here describe the property), as security for the payment to him of .....dollars, on (or before) the ....day of..... ....., in the year..... with interest thereon (or security for the payment of a note or obligation describing it, etc.)

A. B.

Foreclosure of mortgage of personal property.

(3536) § 28. A mortgagee of personal property, when the debt to secure which the mortgage was executed becomes due, may foreclose the mortgagor's right of redemption by a sale of the property, made in the manner and upon the notice prescribed by the article on pledge, or by proceedings under civil procedure:

Provided, That when the mortgagee, his agent or assignee, has commenced foreclosure by advertisement, and it shall be made to appear by the affidavit of the mortgagor, his agent or attorney, to the satisfaction of the judge of the district court of the county where the mortgaged property is situated, that the mortgagor has a legal counter-claim or any other valid defense against the collection of the whole or any part of the amount claimed to be due on such mortgage, such judge may, by an order to that effect, enjoin the mortgagee, his agent or assignee, from foreclosing such mortgage by advertisement, and direct that all further proceedings for the foreclosure of such mortgage be had in the court properly having jurisdiction of the subject matter.

Foreclosing by advertisement.

(3537) § 29. A chattel mortgage, when the conditions of the same have been broken, may be foreclosed by a sale of the property mortgaged, upon the notice, and in the manner following: The notice shall contain:

First. The names of the mortgagor and mortgagee, and the assignor, if any.

Second. The date of the mortgage.

Third. The nature of the default and the amount claimed to be due thereon at the date of the notice.

Fourth. A description of the mortgaged property, conforming substantially to that contained in the mortgage.

Fifth. The time and place of sale.

Sixth. The name of the party, agent or attorney foreclosing such mortgage.

Posting notice.

(3538) § 30. Such notice shall be posted in five public places in the county where the property is to be sold, at least ten days before the time therein specified for such sale.

Mortgagee may be purchaser.

(3539) § 31. The mortgagee, his assigns, or any other person may in good faith become a purchaser of the property sold.

Attorney's fees.

(3540) § 32. Such attorney fee as shall be specified in the mortgage may be taxed and made a part of the costs of foreclosure: Provided, Such mortgage is foreclosed by an attorney of record of this Territory, and the name of such attorney appears as attorney on the notice of sale, and in no other cases shall an attorney fee be allowed.

Construction of act.

(3541) § 33. Sections 3537 to 3540 shall not be construed to affect the provisions relating to foreclosures of chattel mortgages by action.

Mortgage of personal property void unless filed.

(3542) § 34. A mortgage of personal property is void as against creditors of the mortgagor, and subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers of the property in good faith for value; unless the original, or an authenticated copy thereof, be filed by depositing the same in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the property mortgaged, or any part thereof, is at such time situated.

Filing gives notice to subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers.

(3543) § 35. The filing of a mortgage of personal property, in conformity to the provisions of this article, operates as notice thereof to all subsequent purchasers and incumbrances of so much of said property as is at the time mentioned in the preceding section situated in the county or counties wherein such mortgage or authenticated copy thereof is filed.

Property in transit or of carrier considered to be where (3544) § 36. For the purposes of this article property in transit from the possession of the mortgagee to the county of the residence of the mortgagor, or to a location for use, is, during a reasonable time for transportation, to be taken as situated in the county in which the mortgagor resides, or where it is intended to be used. For a like purpose personal property used in conducting the business of a common carrier is to be taken as situated in the county in which the principal office or place of business of the carrier is located.

Mortgage of personal property valid only when filed.

(3545) § 37. A single mortgage of personal property, embracing several things of such character or so situated, that by the provisions of this article, separate mortgages upon them would be required to be filed in different counties, is only valid in respect to the things as to which it is duly filed; but a copy of the original mortgage may be authenticated by the register of deeds in whose office it is filed, and such copy to be filed in any other county with the same effect as to the property therein that the original could have been.

Filing is valid for three years, renewal

(3546) § 38. A mortgage of personal property ceases to be valid as against creditors of the mortgagor, and subsequent purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith after the expiration of three years from the filing thereof, unless within thirty days next preceding the expiration of such term, a copy of the mortgage and a statement of the amount of existing debt for which the mortgagee or his assignee claims a lien, sworn to and subscribed by him, his agent or attorney, are filed anew in the office of the register of deeds, in the county in which the mortgagor then resides, and in like manner the mortgage and statement of debt must be again filed every three years, or it ceases to be valid as against the parties above mentioned.

Execution of mortgage of personal property

(3547) § 39. A mortgage of personal property must be signed by the mortgagor in the presence of two persons, who must sign the same as witnesses thereto, and no further proof or acknowledgment is required to admit it to be filed.

How mortgages filed, careful custody; cancelled.

(3548) § 40. The register of deeds of each of the several counties must receive and file all such instruments as are offered to him and must keep the same in his office in regular and orderly file, for the public information, and must not permit them, or any of them, to be removed from his office until cancelled. Every such mortgage may be cancelled by the register of deeds upon the presentation to him of a receipt for the sum, money or property secured, or an acknowledgment of satisfaction thereof, signed by the mortgagee.

Registry index.

(3549) § 41. Every register of deeds with whom any such mortgage or authenticated copy thereof is filed, must indorse a number upon the same in regular order, together with the time of receiving the same, and must enter the name of every party thereto in a book kept for that purpose, alphabetically, placing mortgagors and mortgagees under a separate head, and stating in separate colums, opposite each name, the number indorsed upon the mortgage, the date thereof, and of the filing, the amount secured thereby, a brief of the substance thereof not otherwise entered, and at the time at which it is due. A mortgage is not to be deemed defectively filed by reason of any errors in the copy filed, which do not tend to mislead a party interested; and the negligence of the officer with whom a mortgage is filed does not prejudice the rights of the mortgagee.

Mortgagee may take property, when (3550) § 42. If the mortgagor voluntarily removes or permits the removal of the mortgaged property from the county in which it was situated at the time it was mortgaged, the mortgagee may take possession and dispose of the property as a pledge for the payment of the debt, though the debt is not due.

Property may be attached.

(3551) § 43. Personal property mortgaged may be taken under attachment or execution issued at the suit of a creditor of a mortgagor.

Mortgagee's rights.

(3552) § 44. Before the property is so taken, the officer must pay or tender to the mortagee the amount of the mortgage debt and interest, or must deposit the amount thereof with the county treasurer, payable to the order of the mortgagee.

Proceeds of sale applied, how.

(3553) § 45. When the property thus taken is sold under process, the officer must apply the proceeds of the sale as follows:

First. To the repayment of the sum paid to the mortgagee, with interest from the date of such payment; and,

Second. The balance, if any, in like manner as the proceeds of sales under execution are applied in other cases.

Mortgage of ships.

(3554) § 46. No mortgage of any ship or vessel, or part thereof, of the United States, shall be valid against any person (other than the mortgagor, his heirs and devisees, and the persons having actual notice thereof,) unless such mortgage is recorded in the office of the collector of the customs where such vessel is registered or enrolled.

Sections 3541 to 3552 inclusive, do not therefore apply to any mortgage of a ship or vessel (or any part thereof), which is required as above, by act of Congress, to be recorded in a particular place or manner.

ARTICLE 2.—PLEDGE.

SECTION.
1	Pledge defined.
2.	What deemed a pledge.
3	Possession necesary to validity.
4.	Increase pledged with property.
5	Lien may be pledged.
6	Pledge by apparent owner.
7	Property pledged for another person.
8.	Pledgeholder may be selected.
9	Property pledged for another cannot be withdrawn.
10	Exoneration of pledgeholder.
11	Duties of pledgeholder.
12	Pledgeholder for reward.
13	Same, gratuitous.
14.	Fraudulent misrepresentation of value.
15.	Sale of property pledged.
16.	Demand necessary.
17.	Actual notice to pledgor.
18.	Notice of sale waived.
19.	How waiver is made.
20.	Sale by public auction.
21.	Evidences of debt cannot be sold.
22.	Sale may be required.
23.	Proceeds of sale.
24.	Sale before due.
25.	Pledgeholder cannot purchase.
26.	Foreclosure of right of redemption.

Pledge defined.

(3555) § 1. Pledge is a deposit of personal property by way of security for the performance of another act.

Chap. 54.

What deemed a pledge.

(3556) § 2. Every contract by which the posession of personal property is transferred, as a security only, is to be deemed a pledge.

Possession necessary to validity of pledge

(3557) § 3. The lien of a pledge is dependent on possession, and no pledge is valid until the property pledged is delivered to the pledgee, or to a pledgeholder, as hereafter prescribed.

Increase pledged with property

(3558) § 4. The increase of property pledged is pledged with the property.

Lien may be pledged.

(3559) § 5. One who has a lien upon property may pledge it to the extent of his lien.

Pledge by apparent owner

(3560) § 6. One who has allowed another to assume the apparent ownership of property for the purpose of making any transfer of it, cannot set up his own title, to defeat a pledge of the property, made by the other, to a pledgee who received the property in good faith, in the ordinary course of business, and for value.

Property pledged for another person

(3561) § 7. Property may be pledged as security for the obligation of another person than the owner, and in so doing the owner has all the rights of a pledgor or for himself, except as hereinafter stated.

Pledgeholder may be selected

(3562) § 8. A pledgor and pledgee may agree upon a third person with whom to deposit the property pledged, who, if he accepts the deposit, is called a pledgeholder.

Property pledged for another cannot be withdrawn

(3563) § 9. One who pledges property as security for the obligation of another, cannot withdraw the property pledged otherwise than as a pledgor for himself might; and, if he receives from the debtor a consideration for the pledge, he cannot withdraw it without his consent.

Exoneration of pledgeholder.

(3564) § 10. A pledgehelder for reward cannot exonerate himself from his undertaking; and a gratuitous pledgeholder can do so only by giving reasonable notice to the pledgor and pledgee to appoint a new pledgeholder, and, in case of their failure to agree, by depositing the property pledged with some impartial person who will then be entitled to a reasonable compensation for his care of the same.

Duties of pledgeholder.

(3565) § 11. A pledge holder must enforce all the rights of the pledgee, unless authorized by him to waive them.

Pledgee and pledgeholder are depositaries.

(3566) § 12. A pledgee or pledgeholder for reward assumes the duties and liabilities of a depositary for reward.

Same

(3567) § 13. A gratuitous pledgeholder assumes the duties and liabilities of a gratuitous depositary.

Fraudulnet mis-representation of value of property pledged.

(3568) § 14. Where a debtor has obtained a credit, or an extension of time, by a fraudulent misrepresentation of the value of property pledged by or for him, the creditor may demand a further pledge to correspond with the value represented; and in default thereof may recover his debt immediately, though it be not actually done.

Sale of property pledged.

(3569) § 15. When performance of the act for which a pledge is given is due, in whole or in part, the pledgee may collect what is due to him by a sale of property pledged, subject to the rules and exceptions hereinafter prescribed.

Demand necessary

(3570) § 16. Before property pledged can be sold, and after performance of the act for which it is security is due, the pledgee must demand performance thereof from the debtor, if the debtor can be found.

Actual notice must be given to pledgor.

(3571) § 17. A pledgee must give actual notice to the pledgor of the time and place at which the property pledged will be sold, at such a reasonable time before the sale, as will enable the pledgor to attend.

Notice of sale may be waived.

(3572) § 18. Notice of sale may be waived by a pledgor at any time; but is not waived by a mere waiver of demand of performance.

How waiver made.

(3573) § 19. A debtor or pledgor waives a demand of performance as a condition precedent to a sale of the property pledged, by a positive refusal to perform, after performance is due, but cannot waive it in any other manner except by contract.

Sale must be by public auction.

(3574) § 20. The sale by a pledgee, of property pledged, must be made by public auction, in the manner and upon the notice to the public usual at the place of sale, in respect to auction sales of similar property, and must be for the highest obtainable price.

Cannot sell evidence of debt.

(3575) § 21. A pledgee cannot sell any evidence of debt pledged to him, except the obligations of governments, states or corporations; but he may collect the same when due.

Sale may be required

(3576) § 22. Whenever property pledged can be sold for a price sufficient to satisfy the claim of the pledgee, the pledgor may require it to be sold, and its proceeds to be applied to such satisfaction, when due.

Proceeds of sale, how disposed of.

(3577) § 23. After a pledgee has lawfully sold property pledged, or otherwise collected its proceeds, he may deduct therefrom the amount due under the principal obligation, and the necessary expenses, of sale and collection; and must pay the surplus to the pledgor, on demand.

Same.

(3578) § 24. When property pledged is sold by order of the pledgor before the claim of the pledgee is due, the latter may retain out of the proceeds all that can possibly become due under his claim until it becomes due.

Pledgee cannot purchase property except, how.

(3579) § 25. A pledgee or pledgeholder cannot purchase the property pledged, except by direct dealing with the pledgor.

Foreclosure right of redemption

(3580) § 26. Instead of selling property pledged, as hereinbefore provided, a pledgee may foreclose the right of redemption by a judicial sale under the direction of a competent court; and in that case may be authorized by the court to purchase at the sale.

Extinction of Negotiable Instruments.

SECTION.
61. Obligation extinguished, how.
62. Obligation revived, how.

Scope of this article.

(3581) § 1. The provisions of this article apply only to negotiable instruments as defined herein.

Negotiable instrument defined.

(3582) § 2. A negotiable instrument is a written promise or request for the payment of a certain sum of money, to order or bearer.

Must be payable in money and must be certain.

(3583) § 3. A negotiable instrument must be made payable in money only, and without any condition not certain of fulfillment.

Payee must be certain.

(3584) § 4. The person to whose order a negotiable instrument is made payable must be ascertainable at the time the instrument is made.

Payment of money or performance of other act.

(3585) § 5. A negotiable instrument may give to the payee an option between the payment of the sum specified therein, and the performance of another act; but as to the latter the instrument is not within the provisions of this article.

Date, place and time.

(3586) § 6. A negotiable instrument may be with or without date, and with or without designation of the time or place of payment.

Collateral security.

(3587) § 7. A negotiable instrument may contain a pledge of collateral security, with authority to dispose thereof.

Must be single contracts.

(3588) § 8. A negotiable instrument must not contain any other contract than such as is specified in this article.

Date may be nominal.

(3589) § 9. Any date may be inserted by the maker of a negotiable instrument, whether past, present or future, and the instrument is not invalidated by his death or incapacity at the time of the nominal date.

Classes of negotiable instruments.

(3590) § 10. There are six classes of negotiable instruments, namely:

First. Bills of exchange.
Second. Promissory notes.
Third. Bank notes.
Fourth. Checks.
Fifth. Bonds.
Sixth. Certificates of deposit.

When payable.

(3591) § 11. A negotiable instrument which does not specify the time of payment, is payable immediately.

Where payable.

(3592) § 12. A negotiable instrument which does not specify a place of payment, is payable at the residence or place of business of the maker, or wherever he may be found.

To whom payable.

(3593) § 13. An instrument otherwise negotiable in form, payable to a person named, but adding the words, "or to his order," or "or to bearer," or words equivalent thereto, is in the former case payable to the written order of such person, and the latter case payable to the bearer.

Payable to maker or fictitious person is payable to bearer.

(3594) § 14. A negotiable instrument, made payable to the order of the maker, or of a fictitious person, if issued by the maker for a valid consideration, without indorsement has the same effect against him and all other persons having notice of the facts, as if payable to the bearer.

Same.

(3595) § 15. A negotiable instrument, made payable to the order of a person obviously fictitious, is payable to the bearer.

Consideration presumed.

(3596) § 16. The signature of every drawer, acceptor and indorser of a negotiable instrument, is presumed to have been made for a valuable consideration, before the maturity of the instrument, and in the ordinary course of business.

Indorsement defined.

(3597) § 17. One who writes his name upon a negotiable instrument, otherwise than as a maker or acceptor, and delivers it with his name thereon to another person, is called an indorser, and his act is called indorsement.

Agreement to indorse.

(3598) § 18. One who agrees to indorse a negotiable instrument, is bound to write his signature upon the back of the instrument, if there is sufficient space thereon for that purpose.

May be on annexed paper.

(3599) § 19. When there is not room for a signature upon the back of a negotiable instrument, a signature equivalent to an indorsement thereof may be made upon a paper annexed thereto.

Classes of indorsement.

(3600) § 20. An indorsement may be general or special.

General indorsement.

(3601) § 21. A general indorsement is one by which no indorsee is named.

Special indorsement.

(3602) § 22. A special indorsement specifies the indorsee.

General may be changed to special.

(3603) § 23. A negotiable instrument bearing a general indorsement, cannot be afterwards specially indorsed; but any lawful holder, may turn a general indorsement into a special one by writing above it a direction for the payment to a particular person.

Special indorsement may destroy negotiability.

(3604) § 24. A special indorsement may, by express words for that purpose, but not otherwise, be so made as to render the instrument not negotiable.

Warranties implied.

(3605) § 25. Every indorser of a negotiable instrument warrants to every subsequent holder thereof who is not liable thereon to him:

First. That it is in all respects what it purports to be,

Second. That he has a good title to it.

Third. That the signature of all prior parties are binding upon them.

Fourth. That if the instrument is dishonored, the indorser will, upon notice thereof duly given to him, or without notice, where it is excused by law, pay the same in full, with interest, unless exonerated under the provisions of sections 3656, 3693 or 3695.

Liability of indorser before delivery.

(3606) § 26. One man who indorses a negotiable instrument before it is delivered to the payee, is liable to the payee, thereon, as an indorser.

Qualified indorsement.

(3607) § 27. An indorser may qualify his indorsement with the words "without recourse," or equivalent words; and upon such indorsement he is responsible only to the same extent as in the case of a transfer without indorsement.

Same.

(3608) § 28. Except as otherwise prescribed by the last section, an endorsement without recourse has the same effect as any other indorsement.

Prior indorsers.

(3609) § 29. An endorsee of negotiable instrument has the same rights against every prior party thereto, that he would have had if the contract had been made directly between them in the first instance.

Indorser has rights of guarantor.

(3610) § 30. An indorser has all the rights of a guarantor, as defined by article one of chapter 39, and is exonerated from liability in like manner.

Accommodation in indorser has rights of surety

(3611) § 31. One who indorses a negotiable instrument, at the request and for the accommodation of another party to the instrument, has all the rights of a surety, as defined by article two of chapter 39, and is exonerated in like manner, in respect to every one having notice of the facts, except that he is not entitled to contribution from subsequent indorsers.

Want of consideration does not exonerate as against indorsee in good faith, (3612) § 32. The want of consideration for the undertaking of a maker, acceptor or indorser of a negotiable instrument, does not exonerate him from liability thereon to an indorsee in good faith for a consideration.

Indorsee in due course defined

(3613) § 33. An indorsee in due course is one who, in good faith, in the ordinary course of business, and for value, before its apparent maturity or presumptive dishonor, and without knowledge of its actual dishonor, acquires a negotiable instrument duly indorsed to him, or indorsed generally, or payable to the bearer.

Indorsee in due course acquires absolute title.

(3614) § 34. An indorsee of a negotiable instrument, in due course, acquires an absolute title thereto, so that it is valid in his hands, notwithstanding any provision of law making it generally void or voidable, and notwithstanding any defect in the title of the person from whom he acquired it.

Blank indorsement.

(3615) § 35. One who makes himself a party to an instrument intended to be negotiable, but which is left wholly or partly in blank, for the purpose of filling afterwards, is liable upon the instrument to an indorsee thereof in due course, in whatever manner and at whatever time it may be filled, so long as it remains negotiable in form.

Demand not necessary.

(3616) § 36. It is not necessary to make a demand of payment upon the principal debtor in a negotiable instrument, in order to charge him; but if the instrument is by its terms payable at a specified place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to an offer of payment upon his part.

Presentment of negotiable instrument.

(3617) § 37. Presentment of a negotiable instrument for payment when necessary must be made as follows, as nearly as by reasonable diligence it is practicable:

First. The instrument must be presented by the holder.

Second. The instrument must be presented to the principal debtor, if he can be found at the place where presentment should be made; and if not, then it must be presented to some other person having charge thereof, or employed therein, if one can be found there.

Third. An instrument which specifies a place for its payment must be presented there, and if the place specified includes more than one house, then at the place of residence or business of the principal debtor, if it can be found therein.

Fourth. An instrument which does not specify a place for its payment must be presented at the place of residence or business of the principal debtor, or wherever he may be found, at the option of the presentor; and.

Fifth. The instrument must be presented upon the day of its maturity, or, if it be payable on demand, it may be presented upon any day. It must be presented within reasonable hours; and, if it be payable at a banking house within the usual banking hours of the vicinity, but by the consent of the person to whom it should be presented, it may be presented at any hour of the day.

Sixth. If the principal debtor have no place of business, or if his place of business or residence cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, presentment for payment is executed.

Apparent maturity.

(3618) § 38. The apparent maturity of a negotiable instrument, payable at a particular time, is the day on which by its terms it becomes due; or, when that is a holiday, the next business day.

Presumed dishonor.

(3619) § 39. A bill of exchange is payable at a certain time after sight, which is not accepted within ten days after its date, in addition to the time which would suffice, with ordinary diligence, to forward it for acceptance, is presumed to have been dishonored.

Maturity of bill of exchange defined.

(3620) § 40. The apparent maturity of a bill of exchange, payable at sight or on demand, is:

First. If it bears interest, one year after its date; or,

Second. If it does not bear interest, ten days after its date, in addition to the time which would suffice, with ordinary diligence, to forward it for acceptance.

Apparent maturity of promissory note.

(3621) § 41. The apparent maturity of a promissory note payable at sight or on demand, is:

First. If it bears interest, one year after its date; or,

Second. If it does not bear interest, six months after its date.

Time added.

(3622) § 42. Where a promissory note is payable at a certain time after sight or demand, such time is to be added to the periods mentioned in the last section.

Payer may require certain conditions.

(3623) § 43. A party to a negotiable instrument may require, as a condition concurrent to its payment by him:

First. That the instrument be surrendered to him, unless it is lost or destroyed, or the holder has other claims upon it; or,

Second. If the holder has a right to retain the instrument, and does retain it, then that a receipt for the amount paid, or an exoneration of the party paying, be written thereon; or,

Third. If the instrument is lost or destroyed, then that the holder give to him a bond, executed by himself and two sufficient sureties, to indemnify him against any lawful claim thereon.

Dishonor defined.

(3624) § 44. A negotiable instrument is dishonored when it is either not paid or not accepted, according to its tenor, on presentment for the purpose, or without presentment, where that is excused.

Notice of dishonor, how given.

(3625) § 45. Notice of the dishonor of a negotiable instrument may be given:

First. By a holder thereof; or,

Second. By any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who would, upon taking it up, have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given.

Form of notice.

(3626) § 46. A notice of dishonor may be given in any form which describes the instrument with reasonable certainty, and substantially informs the party receiving it that the instrument has been dishonored.

Notice served how.

(3627) § 47. A notice of dishonor may be given:

First. By delivering it to the party to be charged, personally, at any place; or,

Second. By delivering it to some person of discretion at the place of residence or business of such party, apparently acting for him; or,

Third. By properly folding the notice, directing it to the party to be charged, at his place of residence, according to the best information that the person giving the notice can obtain, depositing it in the postoffice most conveniently accessible from the place where the presentment was made, and paying the postage thereon.

Service of notice after death.

(3628) § 48. In case of the death of a party to whom notice of dishonor should otherwise be given, the notice must be given to one of his personal representatives; or if there are none, then to any member of his family who resided with him at his death; or if there is none, then it must be mailed to his last place of resience, as prescribed by subdivision 3 of the last section.

Service after death, when valid

(3629) § 49. A notice of dishonor sent to a party after his death, but in ignorance thereof, and in good faith, is valid.

If notice not given by mail.

(3630) § 50. Notice of dishonor, when given by the holder of an instrument, or his agent, otherwise then by mail, must be given on the day of dishonor, or on the next business day thereafter.

Notice by mail.

(3631) § 51. When notice of dishonor is given by mail it must be deposited in the postoffice in time for the first mail which closes after noon of the first business day succeeding the dishonor, and which leaves the place where the instrument was dishonored, for the place to which the notice should be sent.

Notice given by agent.

(3632) § 52. When the holder of a negotiable instrument, at the time of its dishonor, is a mere agent for the owner, it is sufficient for him to give notice to his principal in the same manner as to an indorser, and his principal may give notice to any other party to be charged, as if he were himself an indorser. And if an agent of the owner employs a sub-agent, it is sufficient for each successive agent or sub-agent to give notice in like manner to his own principal.

Notice to prior parties

(3633) § 53. Every party to a negotiable instrument receiving notice of its dishonor, has the like time thereafter to give similar notice to prior parties, as the original holder had after its dishonor. But this additional time is available only to the particular party entitled thereto.

Notice benefits all persons.

(3634) § 54. A notice of the dishonor of a negotiable instrument, if valid in favor of the party giving it, inures to the benefit of all other parties thereto, whose right to give the like notice has not then been lost.

Notice of dishonor is excused by what.

(3635) § 55. Notice of dishonor is excused:

First. When the party by whom it should be given cannot, with reasonable diligence, ascertain either the place of residence or business of the party to be charged; or,

Second. When there is no postoffice communication between the town of the party by whom the notice should be given, and the town in which the place of residence or business of the party to be charged is situated; or,

Third. When the party to be charged is the same person who dishonors the instrument; or,

Fourth. When the notice is waived by the party entitled thereto.

Presentment is excused by what.

(3636) § 56. Presentment and notice are excused as to any party to a negotiable instrument, who informs the holder, within ten days before its maturity, that it will be dishonored.

Security excuses presentment and notice.

(3637) § 57. If, before or after the maturity of an instrument, an indorser has received full security for the amount thereof, or the maker has assigned all his estate to him as such security, presentment and notice to him are excused.

Delay excused when.

(3638) § 58. Delay in presentment, or in giving notice of dishonor, is excused when caused by circumstances which the party delaying could not have avoided by the exercise of reasonable care and diligence.

Waiver of presentment.

(3639) § 59. A waiver of presentment waives notice of dishonor also, unless the contrary is expressly stipulated; but a waiver of notice does not waive presentment.

Waiver of protest.

(3640) § 60. A waiver of protest on any negotiable instrument other than a foreign bill of exchange, waives presentment and notice.

Obligation extinguished, how.

(3641) § 61. The obligation of a party to a negotiable instrument is extinguished:

First. In like manner with that of parties to contracts in general; or,

Second. By payment of the amount due upon the instrument, at or after its maturity, in good faith and in the ordinary course of business, to any person having actual possession thereof, and appearing by its terms, to be entitled to payment.

How obligation revived.

(3642) § 62. If, after its extinction, a negotiable instrument comes into the possession of an indorsee in due course, the obligation thereof revives in his favor.

Chap. 55.

Bill of exchange defined.

(3643) § 1. A bill of exchange is an instrument, negotiable in form, by which one, who is called the drawer, requests another, called the drawee, to pay a specified sum of money.

Additional drawee.

(3644) § 2. A bill of exchange may give the name of any person in addition to the drawee, to be resorted to in case of need.

May be drawn in sets.

(3645) § 3. A bill of exchange may be drawn in any number of parts, each part stating the existence of the others, and all forming one set.

Drawn in three parts

(3646) § 4. An agreement to draw a bill of exchange binds the drawer to execute it in three parts, if the other party to the agreement desires it.

One part for whole.

(3647) § 5. Presentiment, acceptance, or payment, of a single part in a set of a bill of exchange, is sufficient for the whole.

Place of payment.

(3648) § 6. A bill of exchange is payable:

First. At the place where, by its terms, it is made payable; or,

Second. If it specify no place of payment, then at the place to which it is addressed; or,

Third. If it be not addressed to any place, then at the place of residence or business of the drawee, or wherever he may be found. If the drawee has no place of business, or if his place of business or residence cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, presentment for payment is excused, and the bill may be protested for non-payment.

Drawer's rights.

(3649) § 7. The rights and obligations of the drawer of a bill of exchange are the same as those of the first indorser of any other negotiable instrument.

Days of grace allowed on what instruments

(3650) § 8. Days of grace are allowed unless there be an express stipulation to the contrary, as follows:

First. On all bills of exchange, or drafts, payable at sight, whether foreign or inland, the party or parties upon whom the same are drawn shall have three days of grace after presentation for payment of the same; but Sundays and holidays are excluded from the computation of the aforesaid days of grace.

Second. The like days of grace, to be computed as above, shall be allowed for the payment of all promissory notes, bills of exchange, and drafts, on the face of which time is given or specified; and,

Third. Notes due on demand shall also be subject to the like days of grace, in manner as aforesaid, ofter demand it made for the payment of the same.

Presentment for acceptance.

(3651) § 9. At any time before a bill of exchange is payable, the holder may present it to the drawee for acceptance, and if acceptance is refused the bill is dishonored.

Manner of Presentment.

(3652) § 10. Presentments for acceptance must be made in the following manner, as nearly as by reasonable diligence it is practicable:

First. The bill must be presented by the holder or his agent.

Second. It must be presented on a business day, and within reasonable hours.

Third. It must be presented to the drawee, or, if he be absent from his place of residence or business, to some person having charge thereof, or employed therein; and,

Fourth. The drawee, on such presentment, may postpone his acceptance or refusal until the next day. If the drawee have no place of business, or if his place of business or residence cannot, with reasonable diligence be ascertained, presentment for acceptance is excused, and the bill may be protested for non-acceptance.

Presentment to one of several joint drawers.

(3653) § 11. Presentment for acceptance to one of the several joint drawees, and refusal by him, dispenses with presentment to the others.

Drawee in need, presentment must be made to him.

(3654) § 12. A bill of exchange which specifies a drawee in case of need, must be presented to him for acceptance or payment, as the case may be, before it can be treated as dishonored.

Presentment must be made within ten days.

(3655) § 13. When a bill of exchange is payable at a specified time after sight, the drawer and indorsers are exonerated if it is not presented for acceptance within ten days after the time which would suffice, with ordinary diligence, to forward it for acceptance, unless presentment is excused.

Acceptance must be made in writing.

(3656) § 14. An acceptance of a bill must be made in writing by the drawee, or by an acceptor for honor; and may be made by the acceptor writing his name across the face of the bill with or without other words.

Holder may treat bill as dishonored if acceptance is qualified.

(3657) § 15. The holder of a bill of exchange, if entitled to an acceptance thereof, may treat the bill as dishonored if the drawee refuses to write across its face an unqualified acceptance.

What deemed a sufficient acceptance

(3658) § 16. The holder of a bill of exchange may, without prejudice to his rights against prior parties, receive and treat as a sufficient acceptance:

First. An acceptance written upon any part of the bill, or upon a separate paper.

Second. An acceptance qualified so far only as to make the bill payable at a particular place within the city or town, in which, if the acceptance was unqualified, it would be payable; or,

Third. A refusal by the drawee to return the bill to the holder after presentment; in which case the bill is payable immediately, without regard to its terms.

Acceptance upon separate piece of paper.

(3659) § 17. The acceptance of a bill of exchange, by a separate instrument, binds the acceptor to one, who upon the faith thereof, has the bill for value or other good consideration.

Unconditional promise to accept is sufficient when.

(3660) § 18. An unconditional promise, in writing, to accept a bill of exchange, is a sufficient acceptance thereof, in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, has taken the bill for value or other good consideration.

Cancellation of acceptance.

(3661) § 19. The acceptor of a bill of exchange may cancel his acceptance at any time before delivering the bill to the holder, and before the holder has, with the consent of the acceptor, transferred his title to another person who has given value for it upon the faith of such acceptance.

What acceptance admits.

(3662) § 20. The acceptance of a bill of exchange admits the signature of the drawer, but does not admit the signature of any indorser to be genuine.

Bill may be accepted by any person after dishonor.

(3663) § 21. On the dishonor of a bill of exchange by the drawee, and, in case of a foreign bill, after it has been duly protested, it may be accepted or paid by any person, for the honor of any party thereto.

Holder not bound to allow acceptance for honor, but must accept payment.

(3664) § 22. The holder of a bill of exchange is not bound to allow it to be accepted for honor, but is bound to accept payment for honor.

Acceptance for honor must be made, how.

(3665) § 23. An exceptor or payor for honor must write a memorandum upon the bill, stating therein for whose honor he accepts or pays, and must give notice to such parties, with reasonable diligence, of the fact of such acceptance or payment. Having done so, he is entitled to reimbursement from such parties, and from all parties prior to them.

Acceptance for honor, how enforced

(3666) § 24. A bill of exchange which has been accepted for honor, must be presented at its maturity to the drawee for payment, and notice of its dishonor by him must be given to the acceptor for honor in like manner as to an indorser; after which the acceptor for honor must pay the bill.

Notice of dishonor must be given.

(3667) § 25. The acceptance of a bill of exchange for honor does not excuse the holder from giving notice of its dishonor by the drawee.

Where presentment for payment must be made

(3668) § 26. If a bill of exchange is by it terms payable at a particular place, and is not accepted on presentment, it must be presented at the same place for payment, when presentment for payment is necessary.

Same, on acceptance.

(3669) § 27. A bill of exchange accepted payable at a particular place, must be presented at that place for payment, when presentment for payment is necessary, and need not be presented elsewhere.

Reasonable diligence must be shown,

(3670) § 28. If a bill of exchange, payable at sight, or on demand, without interest, is not duly presented for payment, within ten days after the time in which it could, with reasonable diligence, be transmitted to the proper place for such presentment, the drawer and indorsers are exonerated, unless such presentment is excused.

Mere delay does not exonerate

(3671) § 29. Mere delay in presenting a bill of exchange payable with interest, at sight or on demand, does not exonerate any party thereto.

Lack of capacity to accept (3672) § 30. The presentment of a bill of exchange for acceptance is excused if the drawee has not capacity to accept it.

Delay beyond control of holder.

(3673) § 31. Delay in the presentment of a bill of exchange for acceptance is excused, when caused by circumstances over which the holder has no control.

When acceptance and payment are forbidden

(3674) § 32. Presentment of a bill of exchange for acceptance or payment, and notice of its dishonor, are excused as to the drawer if he forbids the drawee to accept, or the acceptor to pay the bill; or if, at the time of drawing, he had no reason to believe that the drawee would accept or pay the same.

Inland bill defined.

(3675) § 33. An inland bill of exchange is one drawn and payable within this Territory. All others are foreign.

(3676) § 34. Notice of the dishonor of a foreign bill of exchange can be given only by notice of its protest. Protest of foreign bill necessary.

(3677) § 35. Protest must be made by a notary public, if with reasonable diligence one can be obtained; and if not, then by any reputable person in the presence of two witnesses. Protest made by whom.

(3678) § 36. Protest must be made by an instrument in writing, giving a literal copy of the bill of exchange, with all that is written thereon, or annexing the original; stating the presentment, and the manner in which it was made, the presence or absence of the drawee or acceptor, as the case may be; the refusal to accept or to pay, or the inability of the drawee to give a binding acceptance; and in case of refusal, the reason assigned, if any; and finally protesting against all the parties to be charged. Form of protest.

(3679) § 37. A protest for non-acceptance must be made in the city or town in which the bill is presented for acceptance, and a protest for non-payment in the city or town in which it is presented for payment. Place where protest is made

(3680) § 38. A protest must be noted on the day of the presentment, or on the next business day; but it may be written out at any time thereafter. Protest noted on day of presentment

(3681) § 39. The want of protest of a foreign bill of exchange, or delay in making the same, is excused in like cases with the want or delay of presentment. Protest excused by what.

(3682) § 40. Notice of protest must be given in the same manner as notice of dishonor, except that it may be given by the notary who makes the protest. Notice of protest, how given.

(3683) § 41. If a foreign bill of exchange on its face waives protest, notice of dishonor may be given to any party thereto, in like manner as of an inland bill, except that if any indorser of such a bill expressly requires protest to be made by a direction written on the bill at or before his indorsement, protest must be made, and notice thereof given to him and to all subsequent indorsers. Where bill waives protest.

(3685) § 43. Damages are allowed as herein after prescribed, as a full compensation for interest accrued before notice of dishonor, re-exchange, expenses, and all other damages in favor of holders for value only, upon bills of exchange drawn or negotiated within this Territory, and protested for non-acceptance or non-payment, Damages on bills protested for non-acceptance and non-payment.

(3686) § 44. Damages are allowed under the last section upon bills drawn upon any person: Rates of damages

First. If drawn upon any person in this Territory, two dollars upon each one hundred dollars of the principal sum specified in the bill.

Second. If drawn upon any person out of this Territory, but in the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri, or in the Territory of Montana, three dollars upon each one hundred dollars of the principal sum specified in the bill.

Third If drawn upn any person in any of the United States or territories other than those above named, five dollars upon each hundred dollars of the principal sum specified in the bill.

Fourth. If drawn upon any person in any place in a foreign country, ten dollars upon each hundred dollars of the principal sum specified in the bill.

And from the time of notice of dishonor and demand of payment, lawful interest must be allowed upon the aggregate amount of the principal sum specified in the bill, and the damages mentioned as above.

If bill in United States money, foreign money.

(3687) § 45. If the amount of a protested bill of exchange is expressed in money of the United States, damages are estimated upon such amount without regard to the rate of exchange. If the the amount of a protested bill of exchange is expressed in foreign money, damages are estimated upon the value of a similar bill at the time of protest, in the place nearest to the place where the bill was negotiated, and where such bills are currently sold.

ARTICLE 3.—PROMISSORY NOTES.

SECTION.	SECTION.
1. Promissory note defined.	3 Bill accepted by other than drawee.
2. Bill drawn upon and accepted by drawer.	4, Laws applicable
	5. Delay in presentment.

Promissory note defined.

(3688) § 1. A promissory note is an instrument, negotiable in form, whereby the signer promises to pay a specified sum of money.

Bill drawn upon and accepted by drawer is a promissory note.

(3689) § 2. An instrument in the form of a bill of exchange, but drawn upon and accepted by the drawer himself, is to be deemed a promissory note.

Bill accepted by other than drawee becomes note.

(3690) § 3. A bill of exchange, if accepted, with the consent of the owner, by a person other than the drawee, or an acceptor for honor, becomes in effect the promissory note of such person, and all prior parties thereto are exonerated.

What laws are applicable.

(3691) § 4. Article 1 of this chapter, and sections 3651 and 3672 apply to promissory notes.

Delay in presentment exonerates indorsers.

(3692) § 5. If a promissory note, payable on demand or at sight without interest, is not duly presented for payment within six months of its date, the indorsers thereof are exonerated unless such presentment is excused.

ARTICLE 4.—CHECKS.

SECTION.	SECTION.
1. Check defined.	2. Check like bill of exchange.

Check defined.

(3693) § 1. A check is a bill of exchange drawn upon a bank or banker, or a person described as such upon the face thereof, and payable on demand without interest.

Check like bill, exceptions.

(3694) § 2. A check is subject to all the provisions of this chapter concerning bills of exchange, except that:

First. The drawer and endorsers are exonerated by delay in Second. An endorsee, after its apparent maturity, but without actual notice of its dishonor, acquires a title equal to that of an indorsee before such period.

Third. No days of grace are allowed on checks.

ARTICLE 5.—BONDS, BANK NOTES AND CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT.

SECTION.
1 Bank note negotiable.
SECTION.
2. Known dishonor.

Bank note remains negotiable.

(3695) § 1. A bank note remains negotiable, even after it has been paid by the maker.

Known dishonor.

(3696) § 2. A transferee of a bond, bank note or certificate of deposit, after its apparant maturity or actual dishonor within his knowledge, acquires a title equal to that of a transferee before such event.

Except where it is otherwise declared, the foregoing provisions of this chapter, in respect to the rights and obligations of parties to contracts are subordinate to the intention of the parties, when ascertained in the manner prescribed by the article on the interpretation of contracts; and the benefit thereof may be waived by any party entitled thereto, unless such waiver would be against public policy.

(3700) § 4. Nothing which is done or maintained under the express authority of a statute can be deemed a nuisance.

Successive owners neglecting to abate nuisance.

(3701) § 5. Every successive owner of property who neglects to abate a continuing nuisance upon, or in the use of, such property, created by a former owner, is liable therefor in the same manner as the one who first created it.

Abatement does not preclude damages

(3702) § 6. The abatement of a nuisance does not prejudice the right of any person to recover damages for its past existence.

Time does not legalize public nuisance.

(3703) § 7. No lapse of time can legalize a public nuisance, amounting to an actual obstruction of public right.

Remedies against public nuisance

(3704) § 8. The remedies against a public nuisance are:

First. Indictment.

Second. A civil action; or,

Third. Abatement.

By indictment

(3705) § 9. The remedy by indictment is regulated by the law on crimes and punishment and criminal procedure.

By civil action.

(3706) § 10. A private person may maintain an action for a public nuisance if it is specially injurious to himself, but not otherwise.

How abated.

(3707) § 11. A public nuisance may be abated by any public body or officer authorized thereto by law.

(3708) § 12. Any person may abate a public nuisance which is specially injurious to him, by removing or, if necessary, destroying the thing which constitutes the same, without committing a breach of the peace or doing unnecessary injury. Same.

(3709) § 13. The remedies against a private nuisance are: Remedies against private nuisance.

First. A civil action; or,

Second. Abatement.

(3710) § 14. A person injured by a private nuisance may abate it by removing, or, if necessary, destroying the thing which constitutes the nuisance, without committing a breach of the peace or doing unnecessary injury. How person may abate

(3711) § 15. Where a private nuisance results from a mere omission of the wrong-doer, and cannot be abated without entering upon his land, reasonable notice must be given to him before entering to abate it. When notice is required.

AN ACT to prevent public nuisances and fixing penalties for maintaining the same.

[Took effect December 25, 1890.]

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma.

(3712) § 16. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons or corporations to put any dead animal, carcass, or part thereof, into any well, spring, brook or branch of running water of which use is made for domestic purposes; every person or persons so offending shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars. Nuisance defined, penalty.

(3713) § 17. Any person or persons or corporations who shall put any dead animal or any part of the carcass of a dead animal into any river, creek or pond, shall upon conviction thereof be fined in any sum not less than two nor more than twenty-five dollars. Putting dead animal in stream.

(3714) § 18. If any person or persons or corporations shall put any dead animal or any part of a carcass of a dead animal in any road, street, alley, lane, lot, field meadow, common or school section, without burying the same not less than two feet below the level of the surface of the earth, or if the owner or owners thereof shall knowingly permit the same to remain in any of the aforesaid places, without such burial as aforesaid to the injury of the health, or to the annoyance of the citizens of this Territory, or any of them, every such person so offending shall on conviction thereof before any justice of the peace of the county, be fined in a sum not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars, and every twenty-four hours during which said owner may knowingly permit the same to remain unburied thereafter shall be deemed an additional offense against the provisions of this act. 20. Bonds shall issue when.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Location, branches taught.

(3716) § 1. The Normal School for the Territory of Oklahoma is hereby located and established at or within one mile of the village of Edmond in the county of Oklahoma in said Territory, the exclusive purposes of which shall be the instruction of both male and female persons in the art of teaching and in all the various branches that pertain to a good common school education, also to give instruction in the theory and practice of teaching, in the fundamental laws of the United States, and in what regards the rights and duties of citizens.

By whom governed.

(3717) § 2. The said Normal School shall be under the direction of a board of education and shall be governed and supported as hereinafter provided.

Board of education,

(3718) § 3. Said board of education shall consist of five members, three of whom shall be appointed by the Governor and by and with the consent of the Legislative Council if in session, one of whom shall hold his office for six years, another for four years, and another for two years. The Governor shall designate which person shall hold his office for six years, which for four years and which for two years. The Territorial Treasurer and Superintendent of Public Instruction shall by virtue of their offices be members of said board. The Territorial Treasurer by virtue of his office shall be treasurer of said board and the members thereof shall annually elect from their members, a president and secretary. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep an exact and detailed account of the doings of said board, and he shall make such reports to the Legislature as are required by this act.

(3719) § 4. Said board of education shall have power to appoint a principal and assistant to take charge of said school, and such other teachers and officers as may be required in said school, and fix the salary of each and prescribe their several duties. They shall also have power to remove either the principal, assistant, or teachers and appoint others in their stead. They shall prescribe the various books to be used in said school and shall make all the regulations and by-laws necessary for the good government and management of the same.

Appointment of officers and teachers; salaries.

(3720) § 5. The said board of education shall ordain such rules and regulations for the admission of pupils to said school as they shall deem necessary and proper. Every applicant for admission shall undergo an examination in such manner as shall be prescribed by the board and the board may in their discretion, require an applicant for admission into said school other than such as shall prior to such admission sign and file with said board a declaration of intention to follow the business of teaching schools in this Territory, to pay or secure to be paid such fees or tuition as to said board shall seem reasonable.

Admission, rules for.

(3721) § 6. After said Normal School shall have commenced its first term, and at least once in each year thereafter, it shall be visited by three suitable persons, not members, to be appointed by the board of education who shall examine thoroughly the affairs of the school and report to the superintendent of public instruction or Auditor their views in regard to its condition, success and usefulness, and any other matters they may judge expedient. Such visitors shall be appointed annually.

Pupils examined, when.

(3722) § 7. As soon as any person has attended said institution twenty-two weeks, said person may be examined in the studies, required by the board, in such manner as may be prescribed by them, and if it shall appear that such person possesses the learning and other qualifications necessary to teach a good common school, said person shall receive a certificate,

Custodian of funds.

(3723) § 8. All funds appropriated for the use and benefit of said Normal School shall be under the direction and control of the board of education, subject to the provisions herein contained. The Treasurer of the Territory shall pay out of such funds all orders or drafts for money to be expended under the provisions of this act, such orders or drafts to be drawn by the Territorial Auditor or on certificates of the Secretary, countersigned by the president of the board. No such certificates shall be given except on accounts audited and allowed by the board at their regular meetings.

Board shall appoint committee to examine school.

(3724) § 9. Services and all necessary travelling expenses, as hereinafter provided incurred by members of the board of education in carrying out the provisions of this act, shall be paid on the proper certificate out of any funds belonging to said institution in the hands of the Treasurer, until the erection and completion of the necessary buildings. The principal assistants, teachers, board of education, and other officers employed in said school, shall be paid out of normal school fund, and from receipts for tuition after the erection of necessary buildings. The members of the board of education shall be entitled to three dollars per day and ten cents per mile actually and necessarily travelled in attending meetings of the board.

Examiners and employes, how paid.

Chap. 57.

Board of education, vacancy.

(3725) § 10. It shall be the duty of the Governor to fill by appointment all vacancies that may from any cause occur in the board of education of the Territorial Normal School, and he may, for neglect of duty, or any violation of trust reposed, or the arbitrary exercise of the power conferred, remove any member of said board and appoint a suitable person in his stead.

Same, meetings.

(3726) § 11. The board of education shall hold four regular meetings in each year, viz: during the first week in April, the first week in July, tbe first week in October, tne first week in January in each year, at which second meeting the officers of the board shall be elected. All meetings of the board shall be held at Edmond and when practicable in the Normal School building. All financial matters, allowance, claims and accounts, shall be disposed of at such regular meetings only. Special meetings of the board may be called upon the written order of the president of the same, which order shall specify the object of the meeting. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum to transact business. A true and faithful journal of their proceedings shall be kept, subject at any reasonable time to the inspection of any member of the board.

Same, clerk.

(3727) § 12. The clerk of the board of education shall on the first day of January of each year transmit to the Governor a full report of the expenditures of the same for the previous year, setting forth in full each item and the date thereof.

Pupils, guardianship of.

(3728) § 13. The board of education in their regulations, and the principal in his supervision and government of the school shall exercise a watchful guardianship over the morals of the pupils at all times during their attendance on the same, but no religious or sectarian tests shall be applied in the selection of teachers, and none shall be adopted in the school.

Establishing and supporting school.

(3729) § 14. For the purpose of locating and supporting said institution there shall be furnished forty acres of land, lying within one mile of said village of Edmond which shall without cost to the Territory, be conveyed by good and sufficient warranty deed to the board of education in this act designated, for the use and benefit of said institution; ten acres of said land, shall be reserved as a site on which to erect buildings for said institution and the remainder shall be laid into lots and blocks, and disposed of for cash, for the use and benefit of such institution.

Bonds may issue for.

(3730) § 15. In addition thereto, the county commissioners of said county of Oklahoma, are hereby authorized and directed to issue the bonds of said county for the sum of five thousand dollars due and payable in twenty years from date thereof and drawing seven per cent interest payable annually, and when so executed said board of commissioners shall deliver said bonds to the Territorial Treasurer and he shall sell the same, at not less than ninety-five cents on the dollar, and shall hold the proceeds thereof as a fund, out of which to erect buildings on said land. The proceeds of the lots sold, shall likewise be paid, to the treasurer, and be by him held for the same purpose, and for the further purpose of paying the expenses of the commissioners, designated to erect such institution.

Commission to plat and sell land.

(3731) § 16. It shall be the duty of the Governor within ninety days after the passage and approval of this act, to appoint three discreet persons, one of them residing in said village of Edmond, as commissioners, to select the land, plat and make sale thereof and to make all contracts for the erection of buildings, and who shall draw orders upon the fund in the hands of the Territorial Treasurer for the payment of such buildings, and when such orders are duly approved by the Territorial Auditor, it shall be the duty of the Territorial Treasurer to pay them from the Normal School fund in his hands: Provided, however, That no contracts shall be made by said commissioners to erect buildings or incur expenses to be paid from any other source than from the money deposited with the Territorial Treasurer arising from the sale of the bonds and lots before mentioned, nor in excess of the amount of the funds so realized. Such commissioners may make deeds for all the lots sold which must be sold for cash at a price fixed thereon by the board of education, but all payments therefor shall be made to the Territorial Treasurer.

Compensation of commissioners.

(3732) § 17. Said commissioners shall receive as compensation for their services two dollars and fifty cents per day each, for the time actually and necessarily employed in the discharge of their duties which shall be paid by the Territorial Treasurer from the funds of such Normal School in his hands, on an account made out and sworn to, filed and approved by the Territorial Auditor.

Buildings occupied, when.

(3733) § 18. When the buildings are so far completed as to be fit for use as a Normal School such commissioners sball permit the board of education to control and manage the same for use as a Normal School.

Commissioner's bond

(3734) § 19. All commissioners appointed under the provisions of this act, shall give bond to the Territory of Oklahoma for the sum of three thousand dollars for the use and benefit of such Normal School, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties, and the proper payment of all funds coming to their hands, said bond to be in form as designated by the Governor and with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by him.

Bonds shall issue, when.

(3735) § 20. The bonds provided to be issued by Oklahoma county shall be issued only after the people of that county have so ordered at a general or special election. The people shall vote at such election for or against the issuance of such Normal School bonds, and if a majority of the vote be cast for the issuance of such bonds they they shall be issued, otherwise they shall not.

Oath or affirmation.

(3747) § 2. Persons conscientiously opposed to swearing may affirm and shall be subject to the penalties of perjury as in case of swearing.

CHAPTER LX.—OBLIGATIONS.

ARTICLE.
1. Definition of obligation.
2. Interpretation of obligations.
3. Transfer of obligations.
4. Extinction of obligations.

ARTICLE 1.—DEFINITION OF OBLIGATIONS.

SECTION.
1. Obligation defined.
2. Origin and enforcement.

Obligation defined.

(3748) § 1. An obligation is a legal duty, by which a person is bound to do or not to do a certain thing.

Origin and enforcement.

(3749) § 2. An obligation arises either from:

First. The contract of the parties; or.

Second. The operation of law.

An obligation arising from operation of law may be enforced in the manner provided by law, or by civil action or proceeding.

ARTICLE 2.—INTERPRETATION OF OBLIGATIONS.

Joint or Several Obligations.

SECTION.
1. Classes of obligations.
2. Presumed joint, when.
3. Contribution.

Conditional Obligations.

SECTION.
4. Uncertain event.
5. Conditions classed.
6. Conditions precedent.
7. Condition concurrent.
8. Condition subsequent.
9. Equity requires equity.
10. Performance waived.
11. Unlawful conditions.
12. Forfeiture.

Alternative Obligations.

SECTION.
13. Selection of alternative obligations.
14. Right not used.
15. Alternative distinct.
16. Valid one prevails.

The rules which govern the interpretation of contracts are prescribed by chapter 17. Other obligations are interpreted by the same rules by which statutes of a similar nature are interpreted.

Classes of obligations.

(3750) § 1. An obligation imposed upon several persons, or a right created in favor of several persons, may be:

First. Joint.

Second. Several; or,

Third. Joint and several.

Presumed joint.

(3751) § 2. An obligation imposed upon several persons, or a right created in favor of several persons, is presumed to be joint, and not several, except in the special cases mentioned in the article on the interpretation of contracts. This presumption, in the case of a right, can be overcome only by express words to the contrary.

Contribution.

(3752) § 3. A party to a joint, or joint and several obligation who satisfies more than his share of the claim against all, may require a proportionate contribution from all the parties joined with him.

Uncertain event.

(3753) § 4. An obligation is conditional when the rights or duties of any party thereto depend upon the occurrence of an uncertain event.

Conditions classed.

(3754) § 5. Conditions may be precedent, concurrent or subsequent.

Condition precedent.

(3755) § 6. A condition precedent is one which is to be performed before some right dependent thereon accrues, or some act dependent thereon is performed.

Condition concurrent.

(3756) § 7. Conditions concurrent are those which are mutually dependent, and are to be performed at the same time.

Condition subsequent.

(3757) § 8. A condition subsequent is one referring to a future event, upon happening of which the obligation becomes no longer binding upon the other party, if he chooses to avail himself of the condition.

Equity requires equity.

(3758) § 9. Before any party to an obligation can require another party to perform any act under it, he must fulfill all conditions precedent thereto imposed upon himself; and must be able and offer to fulfill all conditions concurrent, so imposed upon him, on the like fulfillment by the other party; except as provided by the next section.

Performance waived.

(3759) § 10. If a party to an obligation gives notice to another, before the latter is in default, that he will not perform the same upon his part, and does not retract such notice before the time at which performance upon his part is due, such other party is entitled to enforce the obligation without previously performing, or offering to perform, any conditions upon his part, in favor of the former party.

Unlawful conditions.

(3760) § 11. A condition in a contract, the fulfillment of which is impossible or unlawful, within the meaning of the chapter on contracts, or which is repugnant to the nature of the interest created by the contract, is void.

Forfeiture.

(3761) § 12. A condition involving a forfeiture must be strictly interpreted against the party for whose benefit it is created.

Selection of alternative obligations.

(3762) § 13. If an obligation requires the performance of one of two acts, in the alternative, the party required to perform has the right of selection, unless it is otherwise provided by the terms of the obligation.

Not used passes to other party.

(3763) § 14. If the party having the right of selection between alternative acts does not give notice of his selection to the other party within the time, if any, fixed by the obligation for that purpose, or if none is so fixed, before the time at which the obligation ought to be performed, the right of selection passes to the other party.

Alternatives distinct.

(3764) § 15. The party having the right of selection between alternative acts, must select one of them in its entirety, and can not select part of one and part of another, without the consent of the other party.

Chap. 60.

Valid one prevails.

(3765) § 16. If one of the alternative acts required by an obligation is such as the law will not enforce, or becomes unlawful, or impossible of performance, the obligation is to be interpreted as though the other stood alone.

ARTICLE 3.—TRANSFER OF OBLIGATIONS.

SECTION.		SECTION.
1.	Beneficiary's consent.	6.	If it benefits property.
2.	A right may be transferred.	7.	Covenants that run with the land.
3.	Non-negotiable written contract may be transferred.	8.	Limited to certain assigns.
4.	Covenants follow the land.	9.	Only follows whole estate.
5.	What so run with land.	10.	Liability only while holding.
		11.	Burdens apportioned.

Beneficiary's consent

(3766) § 1. The burden of an obligation may be transferred, with the consent of the party entitled to its benefit, but not otherwise, except at provided by section 3777.

A right may be transferred (3767) § 2. A right arising out of an obligation is the property of the person to whom it is due, and may be transferred as such.

Non-negotiable written contract may be transferred (3768) § 3. A non-negotiable written contract for the payment of money or personal property may be transferred by indorsement, in like manner with negotiable instruments. Such indorsement shall transfer all the rights of the assignor under the instrument to the assignee, subject to all equities and defenses existing in favor of the maker at the time of the indorsement.

Covenants follow the land

(3769) § 4. Certain covenants, contained in grants of estates in real property, are appurtenant to such estates, and pass with them, so as to bind the assigns of the covenantor, and to vest in the assigns of the covenantee, in the same manner as if they had personally entered into them. Such covenants are said to run with the land.

What so run.

(3770) § 5. The only covenants which run with the land are those specified in this chapter and those which are incidental thereto.

If it benefits property.

(3771) § 6. Every covenant contained in a grant of an estate in real property, which is made for the direct benefit of the property, or some part of it then in existance, runs with the land.

Covenants that run with the land.

(3772) § 7. The last section includes covenants of warranty, for quiet enjoyment, or for further assurance, on the part of a grantor, and covenants for the payment of rent, or of taxes or assessments upon the land, on the part of a grantee.

Limited to certain assigns

(3773) § 8. A covenant for the addition of some new thing to real property, or for the direct benefit of some part of the property not then in existence or annexed thereto, when contained in a grant of an estate in such property, and made by the covenantor expressly for his assigns or to the assigns of the covenantee, runs with the land so far only as the assigns thus mentioned are concerned.

(3774) § 9. A covenant running with the land binds those only who acquire the whole estate of the covenantor in some part of the property. Only follows whole estate.

(3776) § 11. Where several persons, holding by several titles, are subject to the burden, or entitled to the benefit of a covenant running with the land, it must be apportioned among them according to the value of the property subject to it held by them respectively, if such value can be ascertained, and if not, then according to their respective interests in point of quantity. Burden apportioned.

ARTICLE 4.—EXTINCTION OF OBLIGATIONS.

Performance.

SECTION.
1. Performance extinguishes obligation.
2. Performance by one for all.
3. Same to one for all.
4. Particular manner.
5. Partial performance.
6. Payment defined.
7. Performance, how applied.

Offer of Performance.

SECTION.
8. Complete performance.
9. Partial performance.
10. Must be by debtor.
11. Must be to creditor.
12. Place of performance.
13. Time of performance.
14. Time not specified.
15. Delay compensated.
16. Offer made in good faith.
17. Free from condition.
18. Ability must attend offer.
19. Production only if accepted.
20. Thing offered must be distinct.
21. Contingent offer.
22. Receipt obligatory.
23. Deposit of tender.
24. Objections waived.
25. Proffered title passes.
26. Deposit of thing offered.
27. Due offer stops interests.
28. Bailee of non-accepted offer.

Prevention of Performance or Offer.

SECTION.
29. Excuses for non-performance.
30. Prevented by creditor.
31. Ratable part of consideration.
32. Refusal before offer.

Accord and Satisfaction.

SECTION.
33. Accord defined.
34. Obligation abides.
35. Accord extinguishes obligation, when.
36. Part performance accepted.

Novation.

SECTION.
37. Novation defined.
38. Classes of substitution.
39. Under rules of contract.
40. Rescinding acceptance.

Release.

SECTION.
41. Release extinguishes obligation.
42. Only known claims released.
43. Joint debtors' duties.

Performance extinguishes an obligation.

(3777) § 1. Full performance of an obligation, by the party whose duty it is to perform it, or by any other person on his behalf, and with his assent, if accepted by the creditor, extinguishes it.

Performance by one person.

(3778) § 2. Performance of an obligation, by one of several persons who are jointly liable under it, extinguishes the liability of all.

To one for all.

(3779) § 3. An obligation in favor of several persons is extinguished by performance rendered to any of them, except in the case of a deposit made by owners in common, or in joint ownership, which is regulated by the chapter on deposits.

Particular manner

(3780) § 4. If a creditor, or any one of two or more joint creditors, at any time directs the debtor to perform his obligation in a particular manner, the obligation is extinguished by performance in that manner, even though the creditor does not receive the benefit of such performance.

Partial performance.

(3781) § 5. A partial performance of an indivisable obligation extinguishes a corresponding proportion thereof, if the benefit of such performance is voluntarily retained by the creditor, but not otherwise. If such partial performance is of such a nature that the creditor cannot avoid retaining it, without injuring his own property, his retention thereof is not presumed to be voluntary.

Payment defined

(3782) § 6. Performance of an obligation for the delivery of money only, is called payment.

Performance, how applied.

(3783) § 7. Where a debtor, under several obligations to another, does an act, by way of performance, in whole or in part, which is equally applicable to two or more of such obligations, such performance must be applied as follows:

First. If, at the time of the performance, the intention or desire of the debtor that such performance should be applied to the extinction of any particular obligation, be manifested to the creditor, it must be so applied.

Second. If no such application be then made, the creditor, within a reasonable time after such performance, may apply it toward the extinction of any obligation, performance of which was due to him from the debtor at the time of such performance; except that if similar obligations were due to him, both individually and as a trustee, he must, unless otherwise directed by the debtor, apply the performance to the extinction of all such obligations in equal proportion; and an application once made by the creditor cannot be rescinded without the consent of the debtor.

Third. If neither party makes such application within the time prescribed herein, the performance must be applied to the extinction of obligations in the following order; and, if there be more than one obligation of a particular class, to the extinction of all in that class, ratably:

(a) Of interest due at the time of the performance.

(b) Of principal due at that time.

(c) Of the obligation earliest in date of maturity.

(d) Of an obligation not secured by a lien or collateral undertaking.

(e) Of an obligation secured by a lien or collateral undertaking.

Complete performance.

(3784) § 8. An obligation is extinguished by an offer of performance, made in conformity to the rules herein prescribed, and with intent to extinguish the obligation.

Partial performance.

(3785) § 9. An offer of partial performance is of no effect.

Must be by debtor.

(3786) § 10. An offer of performance must be made by the debtor or by some person on his behalf and with his assent.

Must be to creditor.

(3787) § 11. An offer of performance must be made to the creditor, or to any one or two or more joint creditors, or to a person authorized by one or more of them to receive or collect what is due under the obligation, if such creditor or authorized person is present at the place where the offer may be made; and if not, wherever the creditor may be found.

Place of performance.

(3788) § 12. In the absence of an express provision to the contrary, an offer of performance may be made, at the option of the debtor:

First. At any place appointed by the creditor; or,

Second. Wherever the person to whom the offer ought to be made, can be found; or,

Third. If such person cannot, with reasonable diligence, be found within this Territory, and within a reasonable distance from his residence or place of business, or if he evades the debtor, then at his residence, or place of business, if the same can, with reasonable diligence, be found within the Territory; or,

Fourth. If this cannot be done, then at any place within this Territory.

Time of performance.

(3789) § 13. Where an obligation fixes a time for its performance, an offer of performance must be made at that time, within reasonable hours, and not before nor afterwards.

Time not specified.

(3790) § 14. When an obligation does not fix a time for its performance, an offer of performance may be made at any time, before the debtor, upon a reasonable demand has refused to perform.

Delay compensated.

(3791) § 15. Where delay in performance is capable of exact and entire compensation, and time has not been expressly declared to be of the essence of the obligation, an offer of performance, accompanied with an offer of such compensation, may be made at any time after it is due, but without prejudice to any rights acquired by the creditor or by any other persons in the meantime.

Offer made in good faith

(3792) § 16. An offer of performance must be made in good faith, and in such manner as is most likely, under the circumstances, to benefit the creditor.

Free from condition.

(3793) § 17. An offer of performance must be free from any conditions which the creditor is not bound on his part to perform.

Ability must attend offer

(3794) § 18. An offer of performance is of no effect if the person making it is not able and willing to perform according to the offer.

Production only if accepted.

(3795) § 19. The thing to be delivered, if any, need not in any case be actually produced upon an offer of performance, unless the offer is accepted.

Thing offered distinct.

(3796) § 20. A thing, when offered by way of performance, must not be mixed with other things from which it cannot be separated immediately and without difficulty.

Contingent offer.

(3797) § 21. When a debtor is entitled to the performance of a condition precedent to, or concurrent with, performance on his part, he may make his offer to depend upon the due performance of such condition.

Receipt obligatory.

(3798) § 22. A debtor has a right to require from his creditor a written receipt for any property delivered in performance of his obligation.

Deposit of tender.

(3799) § 23. An obligation for the payment of money is extinguished by a due offer of payment, if the amount is immediately deposited in the name of the creditor with some bank of deposit within this Territory, of good repute, and notice thereof is given to the creditor.

Objections waived.

(3800) § 24. All objections to the mode of an offer of performance, which the creditor has an opportunity to state at the time to the person making the offer, and which could be then obviated by him, are waived by the creditor, if not then stated.

Proffered title passes.

(3801) § 25. The title to a thing duly offered in performance of an obligation passes to the creditor, if the debtor at the time signifies his intention to that effect.

Deposit of thing offered,

(3802) § 26. The person offering a thing, other than money, by way of performance must if he means to treat it as belonging to the creditor, retain it as a depositary for hire until the creditor accepts it, or until he has given reasonable notice to the creditor that he will retain it no longer, and if with reasonable diligence, he can find a suitable depositary therefor, until he has deposited it with such person.

Due offer stops interest.

(3803) § 27. An offer of payment or other performance duly made though the title to the thing offered be not transferred to the creditor stops the running of interest on the obligation, and has the same effect upon all its incidents as a performance thereof.

Bailee of non-accepted offer.

(3804) § 28. If anything is given to a creditor by way of performance, which he refuses to accept as such, he is not bound to return it without demand; but if he retains it, he is gratuitous depositary thereof.

Excuses for non-performance of obligation.

(3805) § 29. The want of performance of an obligation, or of an offer of performance, in whole or in part, or any delay therein, is excused by the following causes, to the extent to which they operate.

First. When such performance or offer is prevented or delayed by the act of the creditor, or by the operation of law, even though there may have been a stipulation that this shall not be an excuse.

Second. When it is prevented or delayed by an irresistible superhuman cause, or by the act of public enemies of this Territory or of the United States, unless the parties have expressly agreed to the contrary; or,

Third. When the debtor is induced not to make it, by any act of the creditor intended or naturally tending to have that effect, done at or before the time at which such performance or offer may be made, and not rescinded before that time.

Prevented by creditor.

(3806) § 30. If the performance of an obligation be prevented by the creditor, the debtor is entitled to all the benefits which he would have obtained if it had been performed by both parties.

Ratable part of consideration.

(3807) § 31. If performance of an obligation is prevented by any cause excusing performance, other than the act of the creditor, the debtor is entitled to a ratable proportion of the consideration to which he would have been entitled upon full performance according to the benefit which the creditor receives from the actual performance.

Refusal before offer.

(3808) § 32. A refusal by a creditor to accept peformance, made before an offer thereof, is equivalent to an offer and refusal, unless, before performance is actually due, he gives notice to the debtor of his willingness to accept it.

Accord defined.

(3809) § 33. An accord is an agreement to accept, in extinction of an obligation, something different from or less than that to which the person agreeing to accept is entitled.

Obligation abides.

(3810) § 34. Though the parties to an accord are bound to execute it, yet it does not extinguish the obligation until it is fully executed.

Accord extinguishes obligation.

(3811) § 35. Acceptance, by the creditor of the consideration of an accord, extinguishes the obligation, and is called satisfaction.

Part performance accepted.

(3812) § 36. Part performance of an obligation, either before or after a breach thereof, when expressly accepted by the creditor in writing in satisfaction, or rendered in pursuance of an agreement in writing for that purpose, though without any new consideration, extinguishes the obligation.

Novation defined.

(3813) § 37. Novation is the substitution of a new obligation for an existing one.

Classes of substitution.

(3814) § 38. Novation is made:

First. By the substitution of a new obligation between the same parties, with intent to extinguish the old obligation.

Second. By the substitution of a new debtor in place of the old one, with intent to release the latter; or,

Third. By the substitution of a new creditor in place of the old one, with intent to transfer the rights of the latter to the former.

Under rules of contract.

(3815) § 39. Novation is made by contract, and is subject to all the rules concerning contracts in general.

Rescinding acceptance.

(3816) § 40. When the obligation of a third person on an order upon such person is accepted in satisfaction, the creditor may rescind such acceptance if the debtor prevents such person from complying with the order, or from fulfilling the obligation; or if, at the time the obligation or order is received, such person is insolvent, and this fact is unknown to the creditor; or if, before the creditor can with reasonable diligence present the order to the person upon whom it is given, he becomes insolvent.

Release extinguishes obligation.

(3817) § 41. An obligation is extinguished by a release therefrom given to the debtor by the creditor, upon a new consideration, or in writing, with or without new consideration.

Only known claims released.

(3818) § 42. A general release does not extend to claims which the creditor does not know or suspect to exist in his favor at the time of executing the release, which if known by him must have materially affected his settlement with the debtor.

Joint debtors duties.

(3819) § 43. A release of one or two or more joint debtors does not extinguish the obligations of any of the others, unless they are mere guarantors; nor does it affect their right to contribution from him.

CHAPTER LXI.—OFFICERS.

18. Oath of deputy.
19. Who may not be deputies
20. Place of office.
21. Violations.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Term of office when to begin.

(3820) § 1. Except when otherwise specially provided, the regular term of office of all county, township and road district officers, when elected for a full term, shall commence on the first Monday of January next succeeding their election; but if the office to which any person is elected be vacant at the time of election, even if he were not elected to fill a vacancy, he shall forthwith qualify and enter upon the duties of his office.

When officers to qualify.

(3821) § 2. Except where otherwise specially provided, all Territorial, district, county, township and road district officers shall qualify and enter upon the duties of their office on the first Monday of January succeeding their election or within ten days thereafter.

Failure to qualify, vacancy, contest.

(3822) § 3. If any person elected to any office mentioned in the preceding section shall fail to qualify and enter upon the duties of such office within the time fixed by law such office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled by appointment by the authority provided by law to fill such vacancy: Provided, however, That if there is a contest for such office, or if the person elected to such office is prevented or obstructed in any manner from entering upon the duties of such office the time prescribed in which he shall qualify and enter upon the duties of his office shall not govern, and he shall be allowed twenty days after the day of such decision or the termination of such preventing or obstructing cause in which to qualify.

Re-election; bond.

(3823) § 4. When the incumbent of any office is re-elected he shall qualify as above required; but his bond shall not be approved until he has produced or fully accounted for all public funds and property in his control under color of his office during the expiring term, to the person or authority to whom he should account, and the fact and date of such satisfactory exhibit shall be endorsed upon the new bond before its approval.

Officer to deliver to successor.

(3824) § 5. Every officer elected or appointed under the laws of the Territory on going out of his office at the expiration of his term thereof, shall deliver to his successor in office all public moneys, books, records, accounts, papers and documents in his possession belonging or appertaining to such office.

Vacancy, how caused.

(3825) § 6. Every office shall become vacant on the happening of either of the following events before the expiration of the term of such office:

(a) The death of the incumbent; his resignation.

(b) His removal from office, failure to qualify as required by law.

(c) His ceasing to be a resident of the Territory, district, county, township, or road district in which the duties of his office are to be exercised or for which he may have been elected.

(d) His conviction of any infamous crime or for any offense involving a violation of his official oath.

(e) Whenever a judgment shall be obtained against him for a breach of his official bond.

How resignations may be made.

(3826) § 7. Resignations may be made as follows:

First. Of all Territorial and district officers, to the Governor.

Second. Of all members of the Legislative Assembly, to the presiding officers of their branches respectively, when in session, and when not in session, to the Governor; and when made to the presiding officer he shall at once notify the Governor thereof.

Third. Of all the officers of the Legislative Assembly, to the respective branches thereof.

Fourth. Of all elective county officers, by filing or depositing such resignation in writing in the office of the county clerk, except that of county clerk, which shall be filed or deposited with the board of county commissioners, which resignations, unless a different time is fixed therein, shall take effect upon such filing or deposit.

Fifth. Of officers of municipal townships, to the board of county commissioners.

Sixth. Of all officers holding their offices by appointment, to the body, board, court or officer that appointed them.

Causes for removal.

(3827) § 8. All elective, county, township and other officers may be charged, tried and removed from office for either of the causes following:

First. Habitual or wilful neglect of duty.

Second. Gross partiality.

Third. Oppression.
Fourth. Extortion.
Fifth. Corruption.
Sixth. Wilful maladministration in office.
Seventh. Habitual drunkenness.
Eighth. For a failure to produce and account for all public funds and property in his hands at any settlement or inspection authorized by law.

Who to make charge.

(3828) § 9. The board of county commissioners in the name of the county or any person in his own name, make such a charge and bring the action, and the district court shall have exclusive criminal jurisdiction thereof. The proceedings shall be as provided in civil and criminal procedure.

Officer may be suspended.

(3829) § 10. At any time after the commencement of the action, the court may suspend the accused from the functions of his office until the determination of the matter if sufficient cause appear from the testimony or affidavits then presented; and if such suspension take place, the board of county commissioner shall temporarily fill the office by appointment.

Judgment, county clerk to record.

(3830) § 11. The question of fact shall be tried as in other actions, and if the accused is found guilty, the judgment shall be entered removing the officer from his office and declaring the latter vacant, or as provided for in the criminal procedure, and a copy thereof shall be certified to the board of county commissioners, and the county clerk shall enter the same upon the proper record.

Successor to receive books, papers, etc.

(3831) § 12. Upon the death, resignation, suspension or removal from office of any officer, all books and papers belonging to his office and all moneys in his hands and all property of whatever kind held by him by virtue of his office, shall be delivered to his successor.

Vacancies, how filled.

(3832) § 13. All vacancies, except where otherwise specifically provided, for, and except in the offices of the members of the Legislative Assembly, shall be filled by appointment, as follows:

First. In Territorial and county offices, by the Governor.

Second. In township offices by the board of county commissioners.

Vacancy within thirty days of election.

(3833) § 14. If a vacancy occurs within thirty days previous to an election day at which it may be filled, no appointment shall be made unless it be necessary to carry out said election and the canvass of the same according to law; in that case an appointment may be made at any time previous to said election to hold until after said election or until his successor is elected and qualified.

Appointments to be in writing

(3834) § 15. Appointments made under the provisions of this act shall be made in writing, and made to continue until the next general election at which the vacancy can be filled, and until a successor is elected and qualified, to be filed with the Secretary of the Territory or in the proper county offices respectively.

When to qualify.

(3835) § 16. Persons appointed to offices as herein provided, shall qualify in the same manner as is required of those elected the time of which shall be prescribed in their appointments.

(3836) § 17. The Territorial Auditor, Treasurer, and superintendent of public instruction, the county treasurer, sheriff, register of deeds, surveyor, clerk of the district court, may each appoint a deputy, for whose acts he shall be responsible; and each officer required to give bond may require a bond from his deputy in a penal sum not greater than half the penal sum of his own bond, and such bond may be retained by the officer for his own protection and the appointment must be in writing and shall be revocable in writing at the pleasure of the principal, and all such appointments and revocations shall be filed as and where required for the bond and oath of the principal.

Deputies, appointment in writing.

(3837) § 18. Each deputy shall take and subscribe the same oath as his principal, (naming his deputyship), which shall be endorsed upon and filed with his certificate of appointment.

Oath of deputy.

(3838) § 19. No territorial officer can appoint as his deputy any other territorial or any district officer, nor can a Territorial Treasurer appoint as his deputy any county treasurer, judge of the probate court, ragister of deeds, sheriff, or county commissioner, nor can either the clerk of the district court, the register of deeds or sheriff appoint as his deputy either of the others or their deputies.

Who may not be deputies.

(3839) § 20. It shall be unlawful for any county, township or road district officer in this Territory to keep his office or keep any books, papers, records or other property belonging to said county, township or road district in said count (at any place) other than that in which he is required by the laws now in force to keep said office.

Place of office.

(3840) § 21. Any county, township or road district officer violating the provisions of this act is guilty of misdemeanor.

Violations.

ARTICLE 1.—PARTNERSHIP IN GENERAL.

What Constitutes a Partnership.

SECTION.
1. Partnership defined.
2. Ship owners.
3. Consent necessary.

Partnership Property.

SECTION.
4. Partnership property..
5. Interest on all property.
6. Shares in property and loss.
7. Implied division of loss.
8. Property applies to debts.
9. Presumption as to partnership property.

Mutual Obligations of Partners.

SECTION.
19. Partners as trustees for each other.
11. Good faith between partners,
12. Mutual liability.
13. No compensation.

Renunciation of Partnership.

SECTION.
14. Renunciation of profits.
15. Effect of renunciation.

Partnership defined.

(3841) § 1. Partnership is the association of two or more persons, for the purpose of carrying on business together, and dividing its profits between them.

Ship owners.

(3842) § 2. Part owners of a ship do not, by simply using it in joint enterprise, become partners as to the ship.

Consent necessary to form partnership

(3843) § 3. A partnership can be formed only by the consent of all the parties thereto, and therefore no new partner can be admitted into a partnership without the consent of every existing member thereof.

Property of partnership consists of what.

(3844) § 4. The property of a partnership consists of all that is contributed, to the common stock at the formation of the partnership, and of all that is subsequently acquired thereby,

Interest of each member extends to all property.

(3845) § 5. The interest of each member of a partnership extends to every portion of its property.

Shares in profit and loss.

(3846) § 6. In the absence of an agreement on the subject, the shares of partners in the profits or loss of the business are equal, and the share of each in the partnership property is the value of his original contribution, increased or diminished by his share of profit or loss.

Implied division of loss.

(3847) § 7. An agreement to divide the profits of a business implies an agreement for a corresponding division of its losses, unless it is otherwise expressly stipulated.

Property applies to debts.

(3848) § 8. Each member of a partnership may require its property to be applied to the discharge of its debts, and has a lien upon the shares of the other partners for this purpose and for the payment of the general balance, if any, due to him.

Presumption as regards partnership property.

(3849) § 9. Property, whether real or personal, acquired with partnership funds, is presumed to be partnership property.

Partners are trustees for each other.

(3850) § 10. The relations of partners are confidential. They are trustees for each other within the meaning of article 1, of the chapter on trusts. Their obligations as such trustees are defined by that chapter.

Good faith required between partners.

(3851) § 11. In all proceedings connected with the information, conduct, dissolution and liquidation of the partnership, every partner is bound to act in the highest good faith toward his copartners. He may not obtain any advantage over them in the partnership affairs by the slightest misrepresentation, concealment, threat or adverse pressure of any kind.

Mutual liability.

(3852) § 12. Each member of a partnership must account to it for everything that he receives on account thereof, and is entitled to reimbursement therefrom for everything that he properly expends for the benefit thereof, and to be idemnified thereby for all losses and risks which he necessarily incurs on its behalf.

No compensation.

(3853) § 13. A partner is not entitled to any compensation for services rendered by him to the partnership.

Renunciation of profits exonerates partner

(3854) § 14. A partner may exonerate himself from all future liability to a third person on account of the partnership, by renouncing in good faith, all participation in its future profits, and giving notice to such third person, and to his own copartners, that he has made such renunciation, and that, so far as may be in his power, he dissolves the partnership, and does not intend to be liable on account thereof for the future.

Effect of renunciation.

(3855) § 15. After a partner has given notice of his renunciation of the partnership, he cannot claim any of its subsequent profits, and his copartners may proceed to dissolve the partnership.

16. May draw profits.
17. When special partner becomes general.
18. Preference void against creditors.

Liability of Partners.

SECTION.
19. Liability of general partners.
20. Liability of special partners.
21. Same, unintentional act.
22. Questioning existence of special partnership.

Alteration and Dissolution.

SECTION.
23. Special partnership becomes general, when.
24. New special partners admitted.
25. Notice of dissolution must be published.

Special partnership is formed, how.

(3856) § 1. A special or limited partnership may be formed by two or more persons in the manner and with the effect prescribed in this article, for the transaction of any business except banking or insurance.

Special partnership, how constituted.

(3857) § 2. A special partnership may consist of one or more persons, called general partners, and one or more persons called special partners.

Certified statement of special partnership

(3858) § 3. Persons desirous of forming a special partnership must severally sign a certificate, stating:

First. The name under which such partnership is to be conducted.

Second. The general nature of the business intended to be transacted.

Third. The names of all the partners, and their residences, specifying which are general and which are special partners.

Fourth. The amount of capital which each special partner has contributed to the common stock; and,

Fifth. The periods at which such partnership will begin and end.

Certificate must be acknowledged and filed.

(3859) § 4. Certificates under the last section must be acknowledged by all the partners before some officer authorized to take acknowledgement of deeds, one to be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county or sub-division, and the other recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the principal place of business of the partnership is situated, in a book to be kept for that purpose, open to public inspection; and if the partnership has places of business situated in different counties, a copy of the certificate, certified by the register of deeds, in whose office it is recorded, must be filed in the clerk's office as aforesaid, and recorded in like manner in the office of the register of deeds in every such county. If any false statement is made in any such certificate, all the persons interested in the partnership are liable, as general partners, for all the engagements thereof.

Affidavit showing money paid in by special partners.

(3860) § 5. An affidavit of each of the partners, stating that the sums specified in the certificate of the partnership as having been contributed by each of the special partners, have been actually and in good faith paid in the lawful money of the United States, must be filed in the same office with the original certificate.

Compliance required.

(3861) § 6. No special partnership is formed until the provisions of the last five sections are complied with.

Certificate of special partnership must be published.

(3862) § 7. The certificate mentioned in this article, or a statement of its substance, must be published in a newspaper printed in the county where the original certificate is filed, and if no newspaper is there printed, then in a newspaper in the Territory nearest thereto. Such publication must be made once a week for four successive weeks, beginning within one week from the time of filing such certificate. In case the publication is not so made, the partnership must be deemed general.

Affidavit of publication must be filed.

(3863) § 8. An affidavit of publication, pursuant to the preceding section, made by the printer, publisher or chief clerk of a newspaper, may be filed with the register of deeds with whom the original certificate was filed, and is presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated.

Renewal of special partnership.

(3864) § 9. Every renewal or continuance of a special partnership must be certified, recorded, verified and published in the same manner as upon its original formation.

Style of special partnership.

(3865) § 10. The business of a special partnership must be conducted under a name, consisting of the names or surnames of one or more of the general partners only, with or without the addition of the words "and company." or "& Co," Such partnership shall put up in some conspiciuous place, on the outside and in front of the building in which it has its chief place of business, some sign on which shall be painted, in legible English characters, all the names of all the members of such partnership, designating the special partners.

Who transact business.

(3866) § 11. The general partners only have authority to transact the business of a special partnership.

Special partner may investigate.

(3867) § 12. A special partner may at all times investigate the partnership affairs, and advise his partners or their agents as to their management.

He may loan money to the firm.

(3868) § 13. A special partner may lend money to the partnership, or advance money for it, and take from it security therefor, and as to such loans or advances has the same rights as any other creditor; but, in case of the insolvency of the partnership, all other claims which he may have against it must be postponed until all other creditors are satisfied.

Who may sue and be sued.

(3869) § 14. In all matters relating to a special partnership, its general partners may sue and be sued alone, in the same manner as if there were no special partners.

Withdrawal of capital.

(3870) § 15. No special partner, under any pretense, may withdraw any part of the capital invested by him in the partnership during its continuance.

May draw profits.

(3871) § 16. A special partner may receive such lawful interest, and such proportion of profits, as may be agreed upon, if not paid out of the capital invested in the partnership by him, or by some other special partner, and is not bound to refund the same to meet subsequent losses.

Special partner becomes general partner, how.

(3872) § 17. If a special partner withdraws capital from the firm, contrary to the provisions of sections 3865 to 3873 inclusive, he thereby becomes a general partner.

Preferences, Void as against creditors.

(3873) § 18. Every transfer of the property of a special partnership, or of a partner therein, made after or in contemplation of the insolvency of such partnership or partner, with intent to give a preference to any creditor of such partnership or partner, over any other creditor of such partnership, is void against the creditors thereof; and every judgment confessed, lien created or security given, in like manner and with like intent, is in like manner void.

Liability of general partners

(3874) § 19. The general partners in a special partnership are liable to the same extent as partners in a general partnership.

Liability of special partners.

(3875) § 20. The contribution of a special partner to the capital of the firm, and the increase thereof, is liable for its debts, but he is not otherwise liable therefor, except as follows:

First. If he has wilfully made or permitted a false or materially defective statement in the certificate of the partnership, the affidavit filed therewith, or the published announcement thereof, he is liable as a general partner to all the creditors of the firm.

Second. If he has wilfully interferred with the business of the firm, except as permitted in sections 3843 and 3848 inclusive, he is liable in like manner; or,

Third. If he has wilfully joined in or assented to an act contrary to any of the provisions of sections 3843 to 3848 inclusive he is liable in a like manner.

Same.

(3876) § 21. When a special partner has unintentionally done any of the acts mentioned in the last section, he is liable as a general partner to any creditor of the firm who has been actually mislead thereby to his prejudice.

Questioning the existence of special partnership.

(3877) § 22. One who, upon making a contract with a partnership, accepts from or gives to it a written memorandum of the contract, stating that the partnership is special, and giving the names of the special partners, cannot afterwards charge the persons thus named as general partners upon that contract, by reason of any error or defect in the proceedings for the creation of the special partnership, prior to the acceptance of the memorandum, if an effort has been made by the partners, in good faith, to form a special partnership in the manner required by law.

Special partnership becomes general, when.

(3878) § 23. A special partnership becomes general, if within ten days after any partner withdraws from it, or any new partner is received into it, or a change is made in the nature of its business, or in its name, a certificate of such fact, duly verified and signed by one or more of the partners, is not filed with the clerk of the district court and the register of deeds, with whom the original certificate of the partnership was filed, and notice thereof published as is provided in sections from 3855 to 3863 inclusive.

New special partners admitted.

(3879) § 24. New special partners may be admitted into a special partnership, upon a certificate, stating the names, residences and contributions to the common stock of each of such partners, signed by each of them and by the general partners, verified, acknowledged or proved, and filed with the clerk, and recorded in the register's office in which the original certificate was filed, according to the provisions of sections 3855 to 3863 inclusive.

Dissolution, notice of must be filed and published.

(3880) § 25. A special partnership is subject to dissolution in the same manner as a general partnership, except that no dissolution by the act of the partners is complete until a notice thereof has been filed and recorded in the office of the register of deeds with whom the original certificate was recorded, and filed in the office of the clerk of the district court, and published once in each week, for four successive weeks, in a newspaper printed in each county where the partnership has a place of business.

General partnership defined.

(3881) § 1. Every partnership that is not formed in accordance with the law concerning special partnership, and every special partnership, so far only as the general partners are concerned, is a general partnership.

Majority governs.

(3882) § 2. Uuless otherwise expressly stipulated, the decision of the majority of the members of a general partnership binds it in the conduct of its business.

Each partner a general agent.

(3883) § 3. Every general partner is agent for the partnership in the transaction of its business, and has authority to do whatever is necessary to carry on such business in the ordinary manner, and for this purpose may bind his copartners by an agreement in writing.

Limitations on authority of partners.

(3884) § 4. A partner, as such, has not authority to do any of the following acts, unless his co-partners have wholly abandoned the business to him, or are incapable of acting.

First. To make an assignment of the partnership property, or any portion thereof, to a creditor, or to a third person in trust for the benefit of a creditor or of all creditors.

Second. To dispose of the good will of the business.

Third. To dispose of the whole of the partnership property at once, unless it consists entirely of merchandise.

Fourth. To do any act which would make it impossible to carry on the ordinary business of the partnership.

Fifth. To confess a judgment.

Sixth. To submit a partnership claim to arbitration; or,

Seventh. To do any other act not within the scope of the preceding section.

Bad faith does not bind partners.

(3885) § 5. A partner is not bound by any act of a co-partner in bad faith toward him, though within the scope of a partner's powers, except in favor of persons who have in good faith parted with value in reliance upon such act.

Profits belong to firm

(3886) § 6. All profits made by a general partner, in the course of any business usually carried on by the partnership, belong to the firm.

Partners cannot have adverse interest.

(3887) § 7. A general partner, who agrees to give his personal attention to the business of the partnership, may not engage in any business which gives him an interest adverse to that of the partnership, or which prevents him from giving to such business all the attention which would be advantageous to it.

But may engage in separate business.

(3888) § 8. A partner may engage in any separate business, except as otherwise provided by the last two sections.

General partner must account for profits.

(3889) § 9. A general partner, transacting business contrary to the provisions of this article, may be required by any copartner to account to the partnership for the profits of such business.

Liability to third persons

(3890) § 10. Every general partner is liable to third persons for all the obligations of the partnership, jointly with his co-partners.

Liability for each other's acts.

(3891) § 11. The liability of general partners for each other's acts is defined by the chapter on agents and agencies.

Liability of one represented as a partner.

(3892) § 12. Any one permitting himself to be represented as a partner, general or special, is liable as such to third persons to whom such representation is communicated, who on the faith thereof gives credit fo the partnership.

Who not liable.

(3893) § 13. No one is liable as a partner who is not such in fact, except as provided by the last section.

Duration of partnership.

(3894) § 14. If no term is prescribed by agreement for its duration, a general partnership continues until dissolved by a partner or by operation of law.

Causes of dissolution of partnership.

(3895) § 15. A general partnership is dissolved as to all the partners:

First. By lapse of the time prescribed by agreement for its duration.

Second. By the expressed will of any partner, if there is no such agreement.

Third. By the death of a partner.

Fourth. By the transfer, to a person not a partner, of the interest of any partner in the partnership property.

Fifth. By war, or the prohibition of commercial intercourse between the country in which one partner resides and that in which another resides; or,

Sixth. By a judgment of dissolution.

Partial dissolution.

(3896) § 16. A general partnership may be dissolved as to himself only, by the expressed will of any partner, notwithstanding his agreement for its continuance, subject, however, to liability to his co-partners for any damage caused to them thereby, unless the circumstances are such as entitle him to a judgment of dissolution.

Judgment of dissolution.

(3897) § 17. A general partner is entitled to a judgment of dissolution.

First. When he or another partner becomes legally incapable of contracting.

Second. When another partner fails to perform his duties under the agreement of partnership, or is guilty of serious misconduct; or,

Third. When the business of the partnership can be carried on only at a permanent loss.

Notice of termination of partnership must be published.

(3898) § 18. The liability of a general partner for the acts of his co-partners continues, even after a dissolution of the partnership, in favor of persons who have had dealings with, and given credit to the partnership during its existence, until they have had personal notice of the dissolution; and in favor of other persons, until such dissolution has been advertised in a newspaper published in every county where the partnership, at the time of its dissolution, had a place of business; to the extent, in either case, to which such persons part with value, in good faith, and in the belief that such partner is still a member of the firm.

Notice of change of partnership.

(3899) § 19. A change of the partnership name, which plainly indicates the withdrawal of a partner, is a sufficient notice of the fact of such withdrawal to all persons to whom it is communicated. But a change in the name which does not contain such an indication is not notice of the withdrawal of any partner.

Powers after dissolution.

(3900) § 20. After the dissolution of a partnership, the powers and authority of the partners are such only as are prescribed by this article.

Who may act in liquidation.

(3901) § 21. Any member of a general partnership may act in liquidation of its affairs, except as provided by the next section.

Who may not act.

(3902) § 22. If the liquidation of a partnership is committed, by consent of all the partners, to one or more of them, the others have no right to act therein; but their acts are valid in favor of persons parting with value, in good faith, upon the credit thereof.

Power of partner authorized to liquidate.

(3903) § 23. A partner authorized to act in liquidation may collect, compromise or release any debts due to the partnership, pay or compromise any claims against it, and dispose of the partnership property.

Same, indorse papers, death of a partner.

(3904) § 24. A partner authorized to act in liquidation, may indorse, in the name of the firm, promissory notes, or other obligations held by the partnership, for the purpose of collecting the same, but he cannot create any new obligation in its name, or revive a debt against the firm, by an acknowledgment, when an action thereon is barred under the provisions of civil procedure. On the death of a partner, the surviving partners succeed to all the partnership property, whether real or personal, in trust for the purpose of liquidation, even though the deceased was appointed by agreement sole liquidator; and the interest of the deceased in the ultimate distribution of the partnership assets passes to those who succeed to his other personal property.

Use of fictitious names; certificate of true names.

(3905) § 25. Except as otherwise provided in the next section, every partnership transacting business in this Territory under a fictitious name, or a designation not showing the names of the persons interested as partners in such business, must file with the clerk of the distrct court of the county or sub-division in which its principal place of business is stated, a certificate, stating the names in full of all the members of such partnership, and their places of residence, and publish the same once a week for four successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one, and if there be none in such county, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

Foreign partnership.

(3906) § 26. A commercial or banking partnership, established and transacting business in a place without the United States, may, without filing the certificate or making the publication prescribed in the last section, use in this Territory the partnership name used by it there, although it be fictitious, or do not show the names of the persons interested as partners in such business.

Certificate must be acknowledged.

(3907) § 27. The certificate filed with the clerk of the district court, provided in section 3905 must be signed by the partners and acknowledged before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments of conveyances of real property. Persons doing business as partners, contrary to the provisions of this article, shall not maintain any action on or on account of any contracts made or transactions had in their partnership name in any court of this Territory until they have first filed the certificate and made the publication herein required: Provided, however, That if such partners shall at any time comply with the provisions of this article, then such partnership shall have the right to maintain an action in all such partnership contracts and transactions entered into prior as well as after such compliance with this article, and the disabilities heretofore imposed on partnerships by said article, for a failure to comply therewith, are hereby removed and made to conform to this section.

New certificate must be used with every change.

(3908) § 28. On every change in the members of a partnership transacting business in this Territory under a fictitious name, or designation which does not show the names of the persons interested as partners in the business, except in the cases mentioned in section 3906, a new certificate must be filed with the clerk of the district court, and a new publication made as required by this article on the formation of such partnership.

Chap. 63.

Firms and names of persons must be registered.

(3909) § 29. Every clerk of the district court must keep a register of the names of firms and persons mentioned in the certificates filed with him, pursuant to this article, entering in alphabetical order the name of every such partnership and of each partner therein.

Copies of register are evidence.

(3910) § 30. Copies of the entries of a clerk of the district court as herein directed, when certified by him, and affidavits of publication, as herein directed, made by the printer, publisher, or chief clerk of a newspaper, are presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated.

CHAPTER LXIII.—PARENT AND CHILD.

ARTICLE.
1. Children by birth.
2. Adoption.
3. Guardian and ward.

ARTICLE 1.—CHILDREN BY BIRTH.

SECTION.
1. Legitimacy presumed.
2. Children born after dissolution of marriage or before wedlock.
3. Disputed legitimacy.
4. Both parents to support children.
5. Custody of legitimate child.
6. Custody of illegitimate children.
7. Allowance out of property of child.
8. Permit no control over property of child.
9. Abuse of parental authority.
10. Parents' power ceases, when.
11. Public action for support of child.
12. Support of poor.
13. Bequest to provide for child.
14. Parent not liable, when.
15. Support of step children.
16. Support after majority.
17. Child's earnings.
18. Wages of minor.
19. Change of residence of child.
20. No liability prevails.
21. Custody by father and mother.

Legitimacy presumed.

(3911) § 1. All children born in wedlock are presumed to be legitimate.

Children born after dissolution of marriage or before wedlock.

(3912) § 2. All children of a woman who has been married, born within ten months after the dissolution of the marriage, are presumed to be legitimate children of that marriage. A child born before wedlock becomes legitimate by the subsequent marriage of its parent.

Disputed legitimacy.

(3913) § 3. The presumption of legitimacy can be disputed only by the husband or wife, or the descendant of one or both of them. Illegitimacy, in such case, may be proved like any other fact.

Both parents to support children.

(3914) § 4. The parent entitled to the custody of a child must give him support and education suitable to his circumstances. If the support and education which the father of a legitimate child is able to give are inadequate, the mother must assist him to the extent of her ability.

Custody of legitimate child is in the father.

(3915) § 5. The father of a legitimate unmarried minor child is entitled to its custody, services and earnings; but he cannot transfer such custody or services to any other person, except the mother, without her written consent, unless she has deserted him, or is living separate from him by agreement. If the father be dead, or be unable, or refuse to take the custody, or has abandoned his family, the mother is entitled thereto.

Illegitimate child.

(3916) § 6. The mother of an illegitimate unmarried minor is entitled to its custody, services and earnings.

Allowance out of property of child.

(3917) § 7. The district court may direct an allowance to be made to a parent of a child, out of its property, for its past or future support and education, on such conditions as may be proper, whenever such direction is for its benefit.

Parent no control over property of child.

(3918) § 8. The parent, as such, has no control over the property of the child.

Abuse of parental authority.

(3919) § 9. The abuse of parental authority is the subject of judicial cognizance in a civil action in the district court brought by the child, or by its relative within the third degree, or by the officers of the poor where the child resides; and when the abuse is established, the child may be freed from the dominion of the parent, and the duty of support and education enforced.

Parent's power ceases, when

(3920) § 10. The authority of a parent ceases:

First. Upon the appointment by a court of a guardian of the person of the child.

Second. Upon the marriage of the child; or,

Third. Upon its attaining majority.

Public action for support of child.

(3921) § 11. If a parent chargeable with the support of a child dies, leaving it chargeable upon the township or county, and leaving an estate sufficient for its support, the officers of the poor, in the name of the township or county respectively, may claim provision for its support from the parent's estate by civil action, and for this purpose may have the same remedies as any creditors against that estate, and against the heirs devisees, and next of kin to the parent.

Support of poor.

(3922) § 12. It is the duty of the father, the mother, and the children, of any poor person who is unable to maintain himself by work, to maintain such person to the extent of their ability. The promise of an adult child to pay for necessaries previously furnished to such parent is binding.

Neglect to provide for child

(3923) § 13. If a parent neglects to provide articles necessary for his child who is under his charge, according to his circumstances, a third person may in good faith supply such necessaries and recover the reasonable value thereof from the parent.

Parent not liable, when.

(3924) § 14. A parent is not bound to compensate the other parent or a relative for the voluntary support of his child without an agreement for compensation, nor to compensate a stranger for the support of a child who has abandoned the parent without just cause.

Support of step-children.

(3925) § 15. A husband is not bound to maintain his wife's children by a former husband; but if he receives them into his family and supports them, it is presumed that he does so as a parent, and where such is the case, they are not liable to him for their support, nor he to them for their services.

Chap. 63.

After majority.

(3926) § 16. Where a child, after attaining majority, continues to serve and to be supported by the parent, neither party is entitled to compensation in the absence of an agreement therefor.

Child's earnings.

(3927) § 17. The parent, whether solvent or insolvent, may relinquish to the child the right of controlling him and receiving his earnings. Abandonment by the parent is presumptive evidence of such relinquishment.

Wages of a minor.

(3928) § 18. The wages of a minor employed in service may be paid to him or her until the parent or guardian entitled thereto gives the employer notice that he claims such wages.

Change residence of child.

(3929) § 19. A parent entitled to the custody of a child has a right to change his residence, subject to the power of the district court to restrain a removal which would prejudice the rights or welfare of the child.

No liability.

(3930) § 20. Neither parent or child is answerable, as such, for the act of the other.

Custody by father and mother.

(3931) § 21. The husband and wife [father], as such, have [has] no rights superior to those of the wife and mother, in regard to the care, custody, education and control of the children of the marriage, while such husband and wife live separate and apart from each other; and when they so live in a state of separation without being divorced, the district court or judges thereof, upon application of either, may grant a wait of habeas corpus to inquire into the custody of any minor unmarried child of the marriage, and may award the custody of such child to either, for such time and under such regulations as the case may require. The decision of the court or judge must be guided by the rules prescribed in section 3951.

ARTICLE 2.—ADOPTION.

SECTION
1. Adoption of minor child.
2. Person adopting must be ten years older.
3. Mutual consent of husband and wife necessary.
4. Consent of parent of child.
5. Consent of child.
6. Approval of judge of probate.

SECTION.
7. Judge must examine persons separately.
8. Changing name of child.
9. Parents of child relieved of responsibility.
10. Adoption of illegitimate child by the father.

Adoption of minor child.

(3932) § 1. Anv minor child may be adopted by any adult person, in the cases, and subject to the rules prescribed in this article.

Person adopting must be ten years older.

(3933) § 2. The person adopting a child must be at least ten years older than the person adopted.

Mutual consent of husband and wife necessary.

(3934) § 3. A married man not lawfully separated from his wife, cannot adopt a child wifhout the consent of his wife, nor can a married woman not thus separated from her husband, without his consent, provided the husband or wife not consenting, is capable of giving such consent.

Consent of Parent.

(3935) § 4. A legitimate child cannot be adopted without the consent of its parents, if living, nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother, if living, except that consent is not necessary from a father or mother deprived of civil rights or adjudged guilty of adultery, or of cruelty, and for either cause divorced or adjudged to be an habitual drunkard, or who has been judiciously deprived of the custody of the child, on account of cruelty or neglect.

Consent of child.

(3936) § 5. The consent of a child, if over the age of twelve years, is necessary to its adoption.

Approval of judge of probate.

(3937) § 6. The person adopting a child, and the child adopted and the other persons whose consent is necessary, must appear before the probate judge of the county where the person adopting resides, and the necessary consent must thereupon be signed, and an agreement be executed by the person adopting, to the effect that the child shall be adopted and treated in all respects as his own lawful child should be treated.

Judge must examine persons separately.

(3938) § 7. The probate judge must examine all persons appearing before him pursuant to the last section, each separately, and if satisfied that the interests of the child will be promoted by the adoption, he mnst make an order declaring that the child shall thenceforth be regarded and treated in all respects as the child of the person adopting.

Changing name of child.

(3939) § 8. A child, when adopted, may take the family name of the person adopting. After adoption, the two shall sustain towards each other the legal relation of parent and child, and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relation.

Parents of child. relieved of responsibility.

(3940) § 9. The parents of an adopted child are, from the time of the adoption, relieved of all parental duties towards, and of all responsibility for, the child so adopted, and have no right over it.

Adoption of illegitimate child by father

(3941) § 10. The father of an illegitimate child, by publicly acknowledging it as his own, receiving it as such, with the consent of his wife if he is married, into his family, and otherwise treating it as if it were a legitimate child, thereby adopts it as such, and such child is thereupon deemed for all purposes legitimate from the time of its birth. The foregoing provisions of this article do not apply to such an adoption.

Chap. 60.

Guardian defined.

(3942) § 1. A guardian is a person appointed to take care of the person or property of another.

Ward defined.

(3943) § 2. The person over whom, or over whose property, a guardian is appointed, is called his ward.

Guardians classed.

(3944) § 3. Guardians are either:

First. General; or,

Second. Special.

General guardian.

(3945) § 4. A general guardian is a guardian of the person, or of all the property of the ward within this Territory, or of both.

Special guardian.

(3946) § 5. Every other is a special guardian.

Guardian appointed, how.

(3947) § 6. A guardian of the person or estate, or of both, of a child born, or likely to be born, may be appointed by will or by deed, to take effect upon the death of the parent appointing:

First. If the child be legitimate, by the father, with the written consent of the mother, or by either parent, if the other be dead or incapable of consent.

Second. If the child be illegitimate, by the mother.

Guardian must be appointed.

(3948) § 7. No person, whether a parent or otherwise, has any power as guardian of property, except by appointment as hereinafter provided.

Probate court has power to appoint.

(3949) § 8. A guardian of the person or property, or both, of a person residing in this Territory, who is a minor, or of unsound mind, may be appointed in all cases, other than those named in section 3947, by the probate court, as provided in chapter 19.

Guardian of non-resident.

(3950) § 9. A guardian of the property, within this Territory, of a person not residing therein, who is a minor, or of unsound mind, may be appointed by the probate court.

Court controls guardian.

(3951) § 10. In all cases the court making the appointment of a guardian has exclusive jurisdiction to control him.

Rules to be observed in appointing guardian.

(3952) § 11. In awarding the custody of a minor, or in appointing a general guardian, the court or judge is to be guided by the following considerations:

First. By what appears to be for the best interests of the child in respects to its temporal and its mental and moral welfare; and if the child be of sufficient age to form an intelligent preference, the court or judge may consider that preference in determining the question.

Second. As between parents adversely claiming the custody or guardianship, neither parent is entitled to it as of right, but, other things being equal, if the child be of tender years, it should be given to the mother; if it be of an age to require education and preparation for labor or business, then to the father.

Preferences as between two equally entitled.

(3953) § 12. Of two persons equally entitled to the custody in other respects, preference is to be given as follows:

First. To a parent.

Second. To one who was indicated by the wishes of a deceased parent.

Third. To one who already stands in the position of a trustee of a fund to be applied to the child's support.

Fourth. To a relative.

(3954) § 13. A guardian appointed by a court has power over the person and property of the ward, unless otherwise ordered. Power of guardian.

(3956) § 15. A guardian of the property must keep safely the property of his ward. He must not permit any unnecessary waste or destruction of the real property, nor make any sale of such property without the order of the probate court, but must so far as it is in his power, maintain the same, with its buildings and appurtenances, out of the income or other property of the estate, and deliver it to the ward at the close of his guardianship, in as good condition as he received it. Power of guardian of the property.

(3957) § 16. The relation of guardian and ward is confidential, and is subject to the provisions of the chapter on trusts. Relation of guardian and ward.

(3958) § 17. In the management and disposition of the person or property committed to him, a guardian may be regulated and controlled by the court. Court control.

(3959) § 18. On the death of one of two or more joint guardians, the power continues to the survivor until a further appointment is made by the court. Joint guardians (3960) § 19. A guardian may be removed by the probate court for any of the following causes: Guardians may be removed, causes.

First. For abuse of his trust.

Second. For continued failure to perform its duties.

Third. For incapacity to perform its duties.

Fourth. For gross immorality.

Fifth. For having an interest adverse to the faithful performance of his duties,

Sixth. For removal from the Territory.

Seventh. In the case of guardian of the property, for insolvency.

Eighth. When it is no longer proper that the ward should be under guardianship.

(3961) § 20. The power of a guardian appointed by a parent is superseded: Power of guardian appointed by parent is superseded

First. By his removal, as provided in section 3960.

Second. By the solemnized marriage of the ward.

Third. By the ward's attaining majority.

(3962) § 21. The power of a guardian appointed by court is suspended only: Court guardians

First. By order of the court.

Second. If the appointment was made solely because of the ward's minority, by his obtaining majority.

Third. The guardianship over the person of the ward by the marriage of the ward.

(3963) § 22. After a ward has come to his majority, he may settle accounts with his guardian and give him a release, which is valid if obtained fairly and without undue influence. Majority of the ward

Chap. 64.

Limitation of discharge.

(3964) § 23. A guardian appointed by a court is not entitled to his discharge until one year after the ward's majority.

Asylum for people of unsound mind.

(3965) § 24. A person of unsound mind may be placed in an asylum for such persons upon the order of the probate court of the county in which he resides, as follows:

First. The court must be satisfied, by the oath of two reputable physicians, that such person is of unsound mind, and unfit to be at large.

Second. Before granting the order the judge must examine the person himself, or if that is impracticable, cause him to be examined by an impartial person, duly sworn for that purpose.

Third. After the order is granted the person alleged to be of unsound mind, his or her husband or wife, or relative to the third degree, may appeal to the district court and demand therein an investigation before a jury, which must be substantially, in all respects, conducted as under an inquisition of lunacy.

CHAPTER LXIV.—PERSONS.

SECTION.
1. Minority defined.

(3966) § 1. Minors are:

First. Males under twenty-one years of age.

Second. Females nnder eighteen years of age.

The periods thus specified must be calculated from the first minute of the day on which persons are born, to the same minute of the corresponding day completing the period of minority.

Adults defined.

(3967) § 2. All other persons are adults.

Unborn child

(3968) § 3. A child conceived, but not born, is to be deemed an existing person so far as may be necessary for its interests in the event of its subsequent birth.

Persons of unsound mind.

(3969) § 4. Persons of unsound mind within the meaning of this chapter are idiots, lunatics and imbeciles.

Custody oi minors.

(3970) § 5. The custody of minors is regulated by the chapter on parent and child.

Disability of minors.

(3971) § 6. A minor cannot give a delegation of power, nor under the age of eighteen, make a contract relating to real property, or any interests therein, or relating to any personal property not in his immediate possession or control.

Minor may make certain contracts.

(3972) § 7. A minor may make any other contract than as above specified in the same manner as an adult, subject only to his power of disaffirmance under the provisions of this chapter and subject to the provisions of the law on marriage, and on master and servant.

Minor's contracts may be disaffirmed.

(3973) § 8. In all cases other than those specified in sections 3974 and 3975, the contract of a minor, if made whilst he is under the age of eighteen may be disaffirmed by the minor himself, either before his majority or within one years time afterwards; or in case of his death within that period, by his heirs or personal representatives; and if the contract be made by the minor whilst he is over the age of eighteen, it may be disaffirmed in like manner upon restoring the consideration to the party from whom it was received or paying its equivalent with interest.

Cannot disaffirm contract for necessaries

(3974) § 9. A minor cannot disaffirm a contract, otherwise valid, to pay the reasonable value of things necessary for his support, or that of his family; entered into by him when not under the care of a parent or guardian able to provide for him or them.

Statutory contract.

(3975) § 10. A minor cannot disaffirm an obligation, otherwise valid, entered into by him under the express authority or direction of a statute.

Powers of idiots.

(3976) § 11. A person entirely without understanding has no power to make a contract of any kind, but he is liable for the reasonable value of things furnished to him necessary to his support or the support of his family.

Rescission of contract made by person of unsound mind.

(3977) § 12. A conveyance or other contract of a person of unsound mind, but not entirely without understanding, made before his incapacity has been judicially determined, is subject to rescision as provided in sections from 891 to 895 inclusive.

Incapacity determined

(3978) § 13. After his incapacity has been judicially determined. a person of unsound mind can make no conveyance or other contract, nor designate any power, nor waive any right, until his restoration to capacity is judicially determined. But if actually restored to capacity, he may make a will, though his restoration is not thus determined.

Wrongs done by minor or person of unsound mind.

(3979) § 14. A minor, or person of unsound mind, of whatever degree, is civilly liable for a wrong done by him, in like manner as any othe person,

Minor or person of unsound mind not liable for exemplary damages.

(3980) § 15. A minor or person of unsound mind, cannot be subjected to exemplary damages, unless at the time of the act he was capable of knowing that it was wrongful.

Rights of action

(3981) § 16. A minor may enforce his rights by civil action, or other legal proceedings, in the same manner as a person of full age, except that a guardian must be appointed to conduct the same.

Rights of Indians, disabilities

(3982) § 17. Indians resident within this Territory have the same rights and duties as other persons, except that:

First. They cannot vote or hold office

Second. They cannot grant, lease or incumber Indian lands, except in the cases provided by special laws.

(3984) § 19. Defamation is effected by:

First. Libel; or,

Second. Slander.

Definition of libel.

(3985) § 20. Libel is a false and unprivileged publication by writing, printing, picture, effigy or other fixed representation to the eye which exposes any person to hatred, contempt, ridicule or obloquy, or which causes him to be shunned or avoided, or which has a tendency to injure him in his occupation.

Definition of slander.

(3986) § 21. Slander is a false and unprivileged publication, other than libel, which:

First. Charges any person with crime, or with having been indicted, convicted or punished for crime.

Second. Imputes in him the present existence of an infectious, contagious or loathsome disease.

Third. Tends directly to injure him in respect to his office, profession, trade or business, either by imputing to him general disqualification in those respects which the office or other occupation peculiarly requires. or by imputing something with reference to his office, profession, trade or business that has a natural tendency to lessen its profit.

Fourth. Imputes to him impotence or want of chastity; or,

Fifth. Which, by natural consequence, causes actual damage.

Privileged communications.

(3987) § 22. A privileged communication is one made:

First. In the proper discharge of an official duty.

Second. In any legislative or judicial proceeding, or in any other official proceeding authorized by law.

Third. In a communication,without malice, to a person interested therein, by one who is also interested, or by one who stands in such relation to the person interested as to afford a reasonable ground for supposing the motive for the communication innocent, or who is requested by the person interested to give the information.

Fourth. By a fair and true report, without malice, of a judicial, legislative or other public official proceeding, or of anything said in the course thereof.

Fifth. In the cases provided for in sub-divisions 3 and 4 of this section. Malice is not inferred from the communication or publication.

Personal relation, offenses against.

(3988) § 23. The rights of personal relation forbid:

First. The abduction of a husband from his wife or of a parent from his child.

Second. The abduction or enticement of a wife from her husband, of a child from a parent, or from a guardian entitled to its custody, or of a servant from his master.

Third. The seduction of a wife, daughter, orphan sister or servant; and,

Fourth. An injury to a servant which affects his liability to serve his master.

Force may be used to protect.

(3989) § 24. Any necessary force may be used to protect from wrongful injury the person or property of one's self, or of a

20. Accounts of overseers must be sworn to.
21. Sickness or death.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma.

County commissioners to be overseers of poor.

(4009) § 1. The county commissioners of the several counties of this Territory shall be the over-seers of the poor within their several counties and shall perform all duties with reference to the poor within their respective counties that may be prescribed by law. Every board of county commissioners shall in discharging the duties imposed by this act, be designated as over-seers of the poor.

Suits against overseers.

(4010) § 2. In all suits or proceedings in favor of or against any such over-seers of the poor, pertaining to or connected with the poor of their respective counties, the same shall be conducted in favor of or against such county in its corporate name.

County to support poor.

(4011) § 3. Every county shall relieve and support all poor and indigent persons lawfully settled therein whenever they shall stand in need thereof, and the board of county commissioners may raise money for the support and employment of the poor in the same way and manner as in section eighteen provided.

Legal settlement, how acquired.

(4012) § 4. Legal settlement may be acquired in any county so as to oblige such county to relieve and support the persons acquiring such settlement, in case they are poor and stand in need of relief, as follows:

First. A married woman shall always follow and have settlement of her husband if he have any within the Territory, otherwise her own at the time of her marriage, and if she then have any settlement it shall not be lost or suspended by the marriage; and in case the wife shall be removed to the place of her settlement, and the husband shall want relief, he shall receive it in the place where his wife shall have the settlement.

Second. Legitimate children shall follow and have the settlement of their father if he have any within the Territory, until they shall gain a settlement of their own, but if the father have no settlement, they shall in like manner follow and have the settlement of their mother if she have any.

Chap. 66.

Third. Illegitimate children shall follow and have the settlement of their mother at the time of their birth, if she then have any within this Territory; but neither legitimate or illegitimate children shall gain a settlement by birth in the place where they were born, unless their parent or parents had a settlement therein at the time.

Fourth. Every male person and every unmarried female over the age of twenty-one years, who shall have resided in any county in this Territory ninety days, shall thereby gain a settlement in such county.

Fifth. Every minor whose parents, and every married woman whose husband, has no settlement in this Territory, who shall have resided ninety days in any county in this Territory, shall thereby gain a settlement in such county.

Sixth. Every minor who shall be bound as an apprentice to any person shall immediately upon such binding, if done in good faith, thereby gain a settlement where his or her master or mistress has a settlement.

Seventh. Every settlement when once legally acquired shall continue until it shall be lost or defeated by acquiring a new one in this Territory, or by wilful absence, from the county in which such legal settlement has been obtained for ninety days or more; and upon acquiring a new settlement, or upon the happening of such wilful absence, all former settlements shall be defeated and lost; and the provisions of this section shall apply to cases of settlement begun to be acquired or lost or defeated, as well heretofore as after.

Duties of overseers

(4013) § 5. The overseers of the poor in each county shall have the oversight and care of all the poor persons in their county so long as they remain a county charge, and shall see that they are properly relieved and taken care of in the manner provided by law.

Counties having no poor house.

(4014) § 6. It shall be the duty of the over-seers of the poor, in counties where no common poor house is established, two weeks next preceding the first Monday of April, in each year, to give public notice by having published in the newspaper or newspapers in their respective counties, or in case no such newspaper is published in the county, by posting upon three public places in the county, an advertisement certifying the poor that are to be provided for and asking for sealed proposals for their maintenance during the coming year, which sealed proposals shall be opened and acted upon by said overseers of the poor at their regular meeting, beginning on the said first Monday in April; but nothing herein contained shall prohibit any overseers of the poor from receiving and accepting propositions at any time for the keeping of such poor persons as may in the interim become a county charge, or of rejecting the propositions of such persons as they know to be unable to fulfill their obligations to said poor.

Annual allowance.

(4015) § 7. The board of county commissioners, may in their discretion, allow and pay to poor persons who may become chargeable as paupers, and who are of mature years, and sound mind, and who from their general character will probably be be n-efitted thereby, and also the parents of idiots and of children otherwise helpless, requiring the attention of their parents, and who are unable to provide for said children themselves, such annual allowance as will not exceed the charge of their maintenance in the ordinary mode, the said board taking the usual amount of charges in like cases as the rule for making such allowance.

Duties of over-seers when complaint is made.

(4016) § 8. It shall be the duty of said over-seers of the poor, on any complaint made to them in behalf of the poor, to examine into the grounds of such complaint, and if in their judgment the said poor have not been sufficiently provided with the common necessaries of life, or have in any respect been ill-treated by the person or persons under whose charge they shall have been placed, to withhold any part of the compensation allowed to such person or persons for keeping them, as such over-seers may deem reasonable and proper, and remove said poor and place them in the care of some other person.

Overseers to keep "poor book."

(4017) § 9. The overseers of the poor shall enter into the poor book of their respective counties all poor persons in their counties who are unable to care for themselves, and who shall in their judgment be entitled to the benefits of the provisions of this act, together with the date of such entry.

Poor person may apply to district court.

(4018) § 10. If any poor person shall suppose that he or she is entitled to the benefit of the laws for the relief of the poor, and the overseers of the poor of the county in which he or she resides, shall refuse to give such person the benefit thereof, upon application of such person, the judge of the district court of the county, or judicial subdivision, may, if he shall think proper, direct the said overseers of the poor to receive him or her, on the poor list, on his or her application therefor.

How to proceed when legal settlement is not known.

(4019) § 11. If anyone within the description of poor persons specified in this act, shall be found in any county, and the overseers of the poor of such county shall be unable to ascertain and establish the last place of legal settlement of such person, they shall proceed in their discretion to provide for such poor person, in the same manner as other persons are hereby directed to be provided for.

Temporary relief.

(4020) § 12. Whenever any person entitled to temporary relief as a pauper shall be in any county in which he or she has not a legal settlement, the overseers of the poor thereof may, if the same is deemed advisable, grant such relief by placing him or her temporarily in the poor house of such county, if there be one, but if there be no poor house then they shall provide the same relief as is customary in cases where a legal settlement has been obtained.

Justice may issue warrant to send pauper away.

(4021) § 13. Upon complaint of any overseer of the poor, any justice of the peace may issue his warrant, directed to and to be executed by any constable or any other person therein deisgnated, to cause any poor person found in the county of such overseer, likely to become a public charge and having no legal settlement therein to be sent and charged at the expense of the county, to the place where such person belongs, if the same can be conveniently done; but if he or she cannot be removed, such person shall be relieved by such overseers whenever such relief is needed.

Overseers may appeal.

(4022) § 14. If the overseers of the poor of any county in this Territory, to which any pauper shall have been removed, as above provided, shall feel themselves aggrieved by such order of removal, they may at any time within twenty days after such removal shall be made known to them, appeal from the decision of the justice ordering such removal to the district court of the county or judicial subdivision from whence the removal was ordered to be made, such appeal to be taken, tried and determined and the costs adjudged as in other cases of appeal from a judgment of a justice of the peace, and the order of removal may be vacated or affirmed according to the law and the right of the case.

When appeal to be heard

(4023) § 15. Such appeal shall be heard at the term of the court next after the same is filed therein, if in the opinion of the court reasonable notice of the appeal has been given the opposite party; but if not thus given, the cause shall stand continued until the next term of court, and notice of the appeal be then given, if not before done.

May amend order.

(4024) § 16. If the order of removal is defective, the court shall permit the same to be amended without costs, and after such amendment is made the appeal shall be heard and determined as if such order had not been defective.

Overseer to receive poor.

(4025) § 17. If any person be removed by virtue of this act, from any county to any other place within this Territory, by warrant or under the hand of any justice of the peace as hereinbefore provided, the overseers of the poor of the county to which such person shall be removed are required to receive such person if he has a legal settlement in their county.

Overseers return, amount, how paid

(4026) § 18. The overseers of the poor shall make a return to the clerk of the board of county commissioners of the sums of money required by the poor of their respective counties, within fifteen days after such contract hereinbefore provided for shall have been made, which sums shall be paid quarterly out of the county treasury, upon the order of the board of county commissioners in the same manner as other claims against the county are paid.

Compensation of overseers.

(4027) § 19. The overseers of the poor in each county shall be entitled to receive each one dollar and fifty cents per day for each and every day during which they shall be necessarily employed in the discharge of their several duties as such, to be allowed by the board of county commissioners.

Account of overseers, must be paid for.

(4028) § 20. The overseers of the poor of the several counties shall annually, at the first session of the board of county commissioners in the year, submit their accounts and make a sworn statement of their proceedings for the past year, which report shall be presented to the clerk of the board of county commissioners at least one day prior to the meeting of said board, and said board may then credit and allow said accounts so presented, and may draw on the county treasurer therefor, whose duty it shall be to pay the same out of any money in the county treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Chap. 67.

(4029) § 21. It snall be the duty of the overseers of the poor, on complaint made to them that any person not an inhabitant of their county is lying sick therein or in distress, without friends or money, so that he or she will likely suffer to examine into the case of such person and grant such temporary relief as the nature of the same may require, and if any person shall die within any county, who shall not have money or means necessary to defray his or her funeral expenses, it shall be the duty of the overseers of the poor of such county to employ some person to provide for and superintend the burial of such deceased person, and the necessary and reasonable expenses thereof shall be paid by the county treasurer upon the order of such overseers. Sickness or death.

(4049) § 10. The county clerks of the several counties of this Territory shall on the first Monday of February next succeeding the time when any session of the Legislative Assembly shall be held, make a requisition upon the Secretary of the Territory for as many copies of the laws of said session as may be required to supply one copy to each county, or township office entitled to the same, and shall forward said requisition to said Secretary, who shall thereupon, or as soon thereafter as he shall receive the said volumes of laws, forward the number of copies called for by said requisition, to said clerk, either by express, or in any other secure manner, the charges of said carriage to be borne by the county receiving such laws. The county clerk, upon receiving the laws, shall distribute them to the several officers entitled by law to the same, taking in every instance, receipt to describe the date of the volumes so delivered, and to be thereafter filed in the office of said county clerk.

Incoming officers to receive laws, etc, from predecessor.

(4050) § 11. Whenever any person shall be elected to fill any of the county, or township offices mentioned in section four, it shall be such person's duty, before taking posession of the said office, to procure from the county clerk of their county a copy of the receipt filed with said clerk by the outgoing officer for any volumes of the laws of this Territory; which copy of said receipt the person so elected shall exhibit to his predecessor in office, at the time when he shall assume the duties of his office, and shall require from his predecessor all the volumes of the laws which he may have received, as shown by the receipt on file with the county clerk; and it shall be the duty of said officer, after having received from his predecessor the volumes of the laws, as heretofore specified, to make out duplicate receipts of the same, one of said receipts to be given to his predecessor in office, and the other to be forthwith transmitted to the county clerk of the county, who is hereby required to file the same in his office.

Failure ro deliver laws, etc., to successor.

(4051) § 12. In case any person holding an office in this Territory, or in any county or township thereof, shall, upon relinquishing said office to his successor fail or refuse to deliver over to his successor in office all the volumes of laws that have come into his possession by virtue of holding such office such person so failing or refusing shall be liable, upon conviction. to a fine of fifty dollars, or to imprisonment, in the county jail not exceeding twenty days; and it is hereby made the duty of the person succeeding to the office of such delinquent to file complaint against him before a justice of the peace; Provided, That in case the person so failing or refusing to deliver said volumes of laws can show to the satisfaction of the justice that said volumes have been destroyed or stolen in a manner the said delinquent person should not be held responsible, then and in that case no penalty shall be imposed.

Missing copies replaced, cost how met.

(4052) § 13. Whenever any county or township officer entitled to a copy of the laws of this Territory, shall, through the neglect or refusal of his predecessor in office to turn such laws over to him, or through loss occasioned by fire, theft or other cause for which said person cannot be held responsible, be without such laws such person is hereby authorized to make a written requisition upon the county clerk of his county for such volumes of his laws as may be required, and the said clerk is authorized to proceed in the manner hereinbefore provided for the general distribution to supply the said requsition: Provided, That the Secretary shall be authorized to charge the county from which such requisition is made, the cost, with ten per cent added, for each and every additional volume so furnished; which said amount shall be allowed by the board of commissioners of said county, and paid over to the Secretary in cash, who shall in turn pay the same to the Territorial Treasurer, taking his official receipt therefor.

Secretary to sell copies.

(4053) § 14. The Secretary of the Territory shall sell to any party applying therefor, the volumes of laws of this Territory, for the cost and fifty per cent added per volume and pay over to the Territorial Treasurer all sums so received, taking the official receipt of said Treasurer therefor.

Territorial library to be given copies.

(4054) § 15. Ten volumes of the laws of the Territory of Oklahoma passed by each Legislative Assembly shall be placed in the Territorial Library by the Secretary of the Territory and shall be kept therein for the use of any person visiting said library; but shall not be loaned or otherwise disposed of.

Conflicting povisions.

(4055) § 16. If the provisions of any code, title, chapter or article conflict with or controvene the provisions of any former code, title, chapter or article, the provisions of the latter code, title, chapter or article must prevail as to all matter and questions arising thereunder out of the same subject matter.

Secretary to arrange the publication,

(4056) § 17. In the publication of the codes and general statutes, the Secretary of the Territory has power, without altering the general plan, to renumber and readjust sections, chapters, articles and subdivisions, and also to place and distribute general statutes not now embraced in the codes in the same, under the appropriate chapter or other heading.

Territorial appropriation

(4057) § 18. There is hereby appropriated out of the Territorial treasury a sum of money sufficient to pay any deficit which may remain unpaid for the publication of the laws—after the appropriation made by Congress for that purpose shall be exhausted

AN ACT to make provisions for for the care and custody of persons sentenced to punishment in the penitentiary under the laws of the Territory of Oklohoma.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Care and custody.

(4058) § 1. The Governor of the Territory of Oklahoma is hereby authorized and empowered to contract, in the name of this Territory, with the proper authorities of some other state or territory, for the care and custody of such persons as may be convicted of crimes punishable in the penitentiary, by the courts of this Territory and to bind this Territory to the faithful performance of such contract or contracts.

When and how sentenced.

(4059) § 2. After entering into any such contracts, the Governor shall forthwith notify the several judges of the district courts of this Territory of the fact of making such contracts. and thereafter all persons convicted of crimes punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary, shall be sentenced by the district courts to the penitentiary named in such contracts, with like force and effect as though such penitentiary was located in this Territory.

Sheriff to deliver convicts.

(4060) § 3. The sheriff of each county within this Territory shall convey to the penitentiary aforesaid, all persons convicted in his county and sentenced to be confined in said prison, as soon as may be after sentenced. The sheriff shall deliver such convict or convicts, together with a certified copy of the judgment and sentence of the court ordering such imprisonment, to the warden of the penitentiary, and he shall in return deliver to the sheriff a receipt for each prisoner received, [naming each one], which receipt the sheriff shall file in the office of the clerk of the court where sentence was had.

Sheriff's account, etc.

(4061) § 4. The sheriffs of the several counties within the Territory of Oklahoma shall, at the end of each term of the district courts held in their county, at one and the same time, convey to said penitentiary, all persons sentenced to imprisonment therein at that term of court. As compensation for the services so performed, the sheriff shall be allowed twelve and one-half cents per mile for himself and ten cents per mile for each guard, from the place of conviction to the nearest railroad station, computing the distance by the shortest usually travelled route, and two cents per mile for himself and one cent per mile for each guard for each mile travelled on railways from said starting point to said penitentiary and back to said station, computing distance by the shortest usually travelled railway route, and in addition thereto, the railway fare for himself and for the guards and prisoners, and one dollar per day for the subsistence of each of said persons while necessarily on the route. There shall be allowed, not to exceed one guard to four prisoners, unless the district court, or the judge thereof, in vacation, shall order additional guards for good cause shown. The accounts of the sheriffs for conveying the prisoners, made out in an itemized form showing fully the route travelled and the name of each guard, and if more than one to four prisoners, setting out the order therefor, which account shall be duly sworn to, and presented to the Auditing Officer of the Territory, and if found to be correct, that officer shall draw a warrant on the Territorial treasury for the sum so claimed, or for as much thereof as that officer shall find to be correct.

Sheriff compensation, fine.

(4062) § 5. Should any sheriff fail to take all convicts at one and the same time, as in this act provided, or if he shall knowingly demand, claim or receive a greater compensation than herein provided for, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction therefor, in the district court, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred dollars and be removed from his office.

Expenses met; sentenced prisoners, when conveyed to penitentiary.

(4063) § 6. A sum of money sufficient to defray the expenses growing out of this act, is hereby appropriated for that purpose. Persons sentenced to confinement in the penitentiary may, when so ordered by the district court passing the sentence, be conveyed to the penitentiary in which the prisoners of this Territory are confined, at a time fixed by such order with like force and effect, and in like manner as though it were the end of the term. And the officers and guards so conveying prisoners to penitentiary shall be entitled to the same compensation and to be paid in the same manner as provided for conveying and guarding prisoners to the penitentiary at the end of the term of court.

AN ACT to Legalize the Removal of Persons Convicted of Crime Punishable by Imprisonment in the Penitentiary from the Territory of Oklahoma to the Prison Provided for the Confinement of such Persons.

[Took effect November 1, 1890.]

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Conveyance of sentenced prisoners.

(4064) § 7. That in all cases where persons have been or may hereafter be, by the courts of this Territory, sentenced to incarceration in the penitentiary, it shall be lawful for any officer of this Territory having such persons in charge, to convey them from this Territory into any other state or territory where provisions may have been made for their incarceration.

Acts legalized

(4065) § 8. That such conveyances of such persons shall, under section 4066, be held and deemed to be a case especially authorized by law within the meaning of that section, and such imprisonment without the Territory of Oklahoma is hereby declared to be legal.

(4066) § 9. No citizen of this Territory, being an inhabitant or resident of the same, shall be sent a prisoner to any place whatever out of the Territory, for any crime or offense committed within this Territory except in cases specially authorized by law, and every such imprisonment is hereby declared to be illegal. And if any such citizen shall be so imprisoned, he may for every such imprisonment maintain an action of false imprisonment in any court having cognizance thereof, against the person or persons by whom he shall be so imprisoned or transported contrary to law, and against any person who shall contrive, write, seal, sign, or countersign any writing for such imprisonment or transportation, or shall be aiding and assisting in the same, or any of them, and shall recover triple costs besides damages, which damages so to be given shall not be less than five hundred dollars; and every person knowingly concerned in any manner as aforesaid, in such illegal imprisonment or transportation, contrary to this chapter, and being thereof lawfully convicted, shall be disabled from thenceforth to bear any office of trust or profit within this Territory: Provided, That if any citizen of this Territory, or any person or persons at any time resident in the same, shall have committed, or shall be charged with having committed, any treason, felony, or misdemeanor, in any other part of the United States or territories where he or she ought to be tried for such offense, he, she or they may be sent to the state or territory having jurisdiction of the offense.

vidual, and the property private. The Territory may also hold property as a private proprietor.

Land below high water mark.

(4077) § 2. The ownership of land below ordinary high-water mark, and of land below the water of a navigable lake or stream, is regulated by the laws of the United States or by such laws as, under authority thereof, the Legislative Assembly may enact. The Territory is the owner of all property lawfully appropriated or dedicated to its own use; and of all property of which there is no other owner.

Who may convey property

(4078) § 3. Any person, whether citizen or alien, may take, hold and dispose of property, real or personal, within this Territory.

Ownership classed.

(4079) § 4. The ownership of property is either:

First. Absolute; or,

Second. Qualified.

Absolute ownership.

(4080) § 5. The ownership of property is absolute when a single person has the absolute dominion over it, and may use it or dispose of it according to his pleasure, subject only to general laws.

Qualified ownership.

(4081) § 6. The ownership of property is qualified:

First. When it is shared with one or more persons.

Second. When the time of enjoyment is deferred or limited; or,

Third. When the use is restricted.

Sole ownership.

(4082) § 7. The ownership of property by a single person is designated as a sole or several ownership.

Ownership of property.

(4083) § 8. The ownership of property by several persons is either:

First. Of joint interests.

Second. Of partnership interests; or,

Third. Of interests in common.

Joint tenancy.

(4084) § 9. A joint interest is one owned by several persons in equal shares, by a title created by a single will or transfer, when expressly declared in the will or transfer to be a joint tenancy, or when granted or devised to executors or trustees as joint tenants.

Partnership.

(4085) § 10. A partnership interest is one owned by several persons, in partnership, for partnership purposes.

Tenancy in common.

(4086) § 11. An interest in common is one owned by several persons not in joint ownership or partnership.

Definition of tenancy in common

(4087) § 12. Every interest created in favor of several persons in their own right is an interest in common, unless acquired by them in partnership, for partnership purposes, or unless declared in its creation to be a joint interest, as provided in section 4084.

Commencement and duration of interest in property

(4088) § 13. In respect to the time of enjoyment, an interest in property is either:

First. Present or future; and,

Second. Perpetual or limited.

Present interest.

(4089) § 14. A present interest entitles the owner to the immediate possession of the property.

(4090) § 15. A future interest entitles the owner to the possession of the property only at a future period. Future interest.

(4091) § 16. A perpetual interest has a duration equal to that of the property. Perpetual interest

(4092) § 17. A limited interest has a duration less than that of the property. Limited interest.

(4093) § 18. A future interest is either: Future interterest classed.

First. Vested; or,

Second. Contingent.

(4094) § 19. A future interest vested when there is a person in being who would have a right, defeasible or indefeasible, to the immediate possession of the property, upon the ceasing of the intermediate or precedent interest. When future interest vests.

(4095) § 20. A future interest is contingent whilst the person in whom, or the event upon which, it is limited to take effect, remains uncertain. When future interest contingent.

(4096) § 21. Two or more future interests may be created to take effect in the alternative, so that if the first in order fails to vest, the next in succession shall be substituted for it, and take effect accordingly. Alternative contingencies.

(4097) § 22. A future interest is not void merely because of the improbability of the contingency on which it is limited to take effect. Not void because of improbability.

(4098) § 23. When a future interest is limited to successors, heirs, issue or children, posthumous children are entitled to take in the same manner as if living at the death of their parent. Posthumous heir

(4099) § 24. Future interests pass by succession, will and transfer, in the same manner as present interests. Future estates pass.

(4100) § 25. A mere possibility, such as the expectancy of an heir apparent, is not to be deemed an interest of any kind. Mere possibility is not an interest.

(4101) § 26. In respect to real or immovable property, the interests mentioned in this chapter are denominated estates, and are specially named and classified in sections 2734 to 2770, inclusive. Estates of realty

(4102) § 27. The names and clasifications of interests in real property have only such application to interests in personal property as in this statute expressly provided. Applies to personal property.

(4103) § 28. No future interest in property is recognized by the law, except such as is defined in this statute. Future interests limited.

(4104) § 29. The time when the enjoyment of property is to begin or end may be determined by computation, or be made to depend on events. In the latter case, the enjoyment is said to be upon condition. Conditions of ownership defined.

(4105) § 30. Conditions are precedent or subsequent. The former fix the beginning, the latter the ending of the right. Conditions classed.

(4106) § 31. If a condition precedent requires the performance of an act wrong of itself, the instrument containing it is so far void, and the right cannot exist. If it requires the performance of an act not wrong of itself, but otherwise unlawful, the instrument takes effect and the condition is void. Illegal conditions are void.

(4107) § 32. Conditions imposing restraints upon marriage, Conditions restraining marriage except upon the marriage of a minor, or of the widow of the person by whom the condition is imposed, are void; but this does not affect limitations where the intent was not to forbid marriage, but only to give the use until marriage.

Conditions restraining alienation.

(4108) § 33. Conditions restraining alienation, when repugnant to the interest created, are void.

Restraint upon alienation limited.

(4109) § 34. The absolute power of alienation cannot be suspended by any limitation or condition whatever, for a longer period than during the continuance of the lives of persons in being at the creation of the limitation or condition, except in the single case mentioned in section 4136.

Future limitation void.

(4110) § 35. Every future interest is void in its creation, which, by any possibility, may suspend the absolute power of alienation for a longer period than is prescribed in this chapter. Such power of alienation is suspended when there are are no persons in being by whom an absolute interest in possession can be conveyed.

Leases limited

(4111) § 36. No lease or grant of agricultural land for a longer period than ten years, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid. No lease or grant of any town or city lot, for a longer period than twenty years, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid.

Income; future interest.

(4112) § 37. Dispositions of the income of property to accrue and to be received at any time subsequent to the execution of the instrument creating such disposition; are governed by the rules prescribed in this article in relation to future interests.

Illegal accumulation

(4113) § 38. All directions for the accumulation of the income of property except such as are allowed by this article are void.

Income may be directed, how.

(4114) § 39. An accumulation of the income of property, for the benefit of one or more persons, may be directed by any will or transfer in writing, sufficient to pass the property out of which the fund is to arise as follows:

First. If such accumulation is directed to commence on the creation of the interest out of which the income is to arise, it must be made for the benefit of one or more minors then in being, and terminate at the expiration of their minority; or,

Second. If such accumulation is directed to commence at any time subsequent to the creation of the interest out of which the income is to arise, it must commence within the time in this article permitted for the vesting of future interests and during the minority of the benificiaries, and terminate at the expiration of such minority.

Direction void beyond minority of beneficiaries

(4115) § 40. If in either of the cases mentioned in the last section, the direction for an accumulation is for a longer term than during the minority of the beneficiaries, the direction only, whether separable or not from other provisions of the instrument, is void as respects the time beyond such minority.

Probate court may make allowance.

(4116) § 41. When a minor, for whose benefit an accumulation has been directed, is destitute of other sufficient means of support and education, the probate court, upon application, may direct a suitable sum to be applied thereto, out of the fund.

(4117) § 42. The owner of a thing owns also all its products and accessions. Owner owns products.

(4118) § 43. When, in consequence of a valid limitation of future interest, there is a suspension of the power of alienation or of the ownership, during the continuation of which the income is undisposed of, and no valid direction for its accumulation is given, such income belongs to the persons presumptively entitled to the next eventual interest. Undirected income.

(4119) § 44. A future interest, depending on the contingency of the death of any person without successors, heirs, issue, or children, is defeated by the birth of a posthumous child of such person, capable of taking by succession. Succession defeats contingency.

(4120) § 45. A future interest may be defeated in any manner, or by any act or means, which the party creating such interest provided for or authorized in the creation thereof; nor is a future interest, thus liable to be defeated, to be on that ground adjudged void in its creation. Future interest defeated.

(4121) § 46 No future interest can be defeated or barred by any alienation or other act of the owner of the intermediate or precedent interest, nor by any destruction of such precedent interest by forfeiture, surrender, merger, or otherwise, except as provided by the next section, or where a forfeiture is imposed by statute as a penalty for the violation thereof. When not defeated.

(4122) § 47. No future interest, valid in its creation, is defeated by the determination of the precedent interest before the happening of the contingency on which the future interest is limited to take effect; but should such contingency afterwards happen, the future interest takes effect in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if the precedent interest had continued to the same period. Same.

(4130) § 6. An estate during the life of a third person, whether limited to heirs or otherwise, is a freehold.

Future estate limited.

(4131) § 7. A future estate may be limited by the act of the party to commence in possession at a future day, either without the intervention of a precedent estate, or on the termination, by lapse of time, or otherwise, of a precedent estate, created at the same time.

Reversion defined.

(4132) § 8. Ths reversion is the residue of an estate left, by operation of law, in the grantor, or his successors, or in the successors of a testator, commencing in possession on the determination of a particular estate granted or devised.

Remainder, what is.

(4133) § 9. When a future estate, other than a reversion, is dependent on a precedent estate, it may be called a remainder, and may be created and transferred by that name.

Suspension limited.

(4134) § 10. The absolute ownership of a term of years cannot be suspended for a longer period than the absolute power of alienation can be suspended in respect to a fee.

Suspension further defined

(4135) § 11. The suspension of all power to alienate the subject of the trust, other than a power to exchange it for other property to be held upon the same trust, or to sell it and re-invest the proceeds to be held under the same trust, is a suspension of the power of alienation within the meaning of section 4109.

Contingent remainder in fee.

(4136) § 12. A contingent remainder in fee may be created on a prior remainder in fee, to take effect in the event that the persons to whom the first remainder is limited die under the age of twenty-one years, or upon any other contingency by which the estate of such persons may be determined before they attain majority.

Limitations on estate.

(4137) § 13. Subject to the rules of this chapter a freehold estate, as well as a chattel real, may be created to commence at a future day; an estate for life may be created in a term of years, and a remainder limited thereon; a remainder of a freehold or chattel real, either contingent or vested, may be created, expectant on the determination of a term of years; and a fee may be limited on a fee, upon a contingency, which, if it should occur, must happen within the period prescribed in sections 2734 to 2770, inclusive.

Subsequent life estates are void.

(4138) § 14. Successive estates for life cannot be limited, except to persons in being at the creation thereof, and all life estates subsequent to those of persons in being are void; and upon the death of those persons, the remainder, if valid in its creation, takes effect in the same manner as if no other life estate had been created.

No remainder on successive lives

(4139) § 15. No remainder can be created upon successive estates for life, provided for in the preceding section, unless such remainder is in fee; nor can a remainder be created upon such estate in a term for years unless it is for the whole residue of such term.

Contingent remainder on term of years

(4140) § 16. A contingent remainder cannot be created on a term of years, unless the nature of the contingency on which it is limited is such, that the remainder must vest an interest during the continuance or at the termination of lives in being at the creation of such remainder.

Estate for life limited to person in being.

(4141) § 17. No estate for life can be limited as a remainder on a term of years, except to a person in being at the creation of such estate.

Conditional limitations.

(4142) § 18. A remainder may be limited on a contingency which, in case it should happen, will operate to abridge or determine the precedent estate; and every such remainder is to be deemed a conditional limitation.

Limitation to heirs of the body

(4143) § 19. When a remainder is limited to the heirs, or heirs of the body, of a person to whom a life estate in the same property is given, the persons who, on the termination of the life estate, are the successors or heirs of the body of the owner for life, are entitled to take by virtue of the remainder so limited to them, and not as mere successors of the owner for life.

On death of first owner.

(4144) § 20. When a remainder, on an estate for life or for years, is not limited on a contingency defeating or avoiding such precedent estate, it is to be deemed intended to take effect only on the death of the first taker, or the expiration, by lapse of time, of such term of years.

Unexecuted power

(4145) § 21. A general or special power of appointment does not prevent the vesting of a future estate, limited to take effect in case such power is not executed.

Termination of estate at will.

(4146) § 22. A tenancy or other estate at will, however created, may be terminated by the landlord's giving notice to the tenant, in the manner prescribed by the next section, to remove from the premises within a period specified in the notice, of not less than one month.

Notice served.

(4147) § 23. The notice prescribed by the last section must be in writing, and must be served by delivering the same to the tenant, or to some person of discretion residing on the premises; or if neither can, with reasonable diligence, be found, the notice may be served by affixing it on a conspicuous part of the premises, where it may be conveniently read.

Action after notice.

(4148) § 24. After the notice prescribed by sections 4146 and 4147 has been served in the manner therein directed, and the period specified by such notice has expired, but not before, the landlord may re-enter or proceed according to law to recover possession.

Three days notice.

(4149) § 25. Whenever the right of re-entry is given to a grantor or lessor in any grant or lease, or otherwise, such re-entry may be made at any time after the right has accrued upon three days previous written notice of intention to re-enter, served in the mode prescribed by section 4147.

Action without three days' notice.

(4150) § 26. An action for the possession of real property leased or granted, with a right of re-entry, may be maintained at any time after the right to re-enter has accrued, without the notice prescribed in section 4149.

Easements attached to lands.

(4151) § 27. The following land burdens or servitudes upon land, may be attached to other land as incidents or appurtenances, and are then called easements:

First. The right of pasture.
Second. The right of fishing.
Third. The right of taking game.
Fourth. The right of way.
Fifth. The right of taking water, wood, minerals and other things.
Sixth. The right of transacting business upon land.
Seventh. The right of conducting lawful sports upon land.
Eighth. The right of receiving air, light or heat from or over, or discharging the same upon or over land.
Ninth. The right of receiving water from or discharging the same upon land.
Tenth. The right of flooding land.
Eleventh. The right of having water flow without diminuation or disturbance of any kind.
Twelfth. The right of using a wall as a party wall.
Thirteenth. The right of receiving more than natural support from adjacent land or things affixed thereto.
Fourteenth. The right of having the whole of a division fence maintained by a coterminous owner.
Fifteenth. The right of having public conveyances stopped, or of stopping the same on land.
Sixteenth. The right of a seat in church.
Seventeenth. The right of burial.

Easements not attached to lands.

(4152) § 28. The following land burdens or servitudes upon land, may be granted and held, though not attached to land:
First. The right to pasture, and of fishing and taking game.
Second. The right of seat in church.
Third. The right of burial.
Fourth. The right of taking rents and tolls.
Fifth. The right of way.
Sixth. The right of taking water, wood, minerals, or other things.

Dominant tenement.

(4153) § 29. The land to which an easement is attached is called the dominant tenement; the land upon which a burden or servitude is laid is called the servient tenement.

Who can create a servitude.

(4154) § 30. A servitude can be created only by one who has a vested estate in the servient tenement.

Who cannot hold.

(4155) § 31. A servitude thereon cannot be held by the owner of the servient tenement.

Extent of servitude.

(4156) § 32. The extent of a servitude is determined by the terms of the grant, or the nature of the enjoyment by which it was acquired.

Partition of servitude.

(4157) § 33. In case of partition of the dominant tenement, the burden must be apportioned according to the division of the dominant tenement, but not in such a way as to increase the burden upon the servient tenement.

Right of future owner.

(4158) § 34. The owner of a future estate in a dominant tenement, may use easements attached thereto, for the purpose of viewing waste, demanding rent, or removing an obstruction to the enjoyment of such easements, although such tenement is occupied by a tenant.

Right of action to enforce easement.

(4159) § 35. The owner of any estate in a dominant tenement, or the occupant of such tenement, may maintain an action for the enforcement of an easement attached thereto.

Action for possession of land.

(4160) § 36. The owner in fee of a servient tenement, may maintain an action for the possession of the land, against any one unlawfully possessed thereof, though a servitude exists thereon in favor of the public.

Servitude extinguished, how.

(4161) § 37. A servitude is extinguished:

First. By the vesting of the right to the servitude and the right to the servient tenement in the same person.

Second. By the destruction of the servient tenement.

Third. By the performance of any act upon either tenement, by the owner of the servitude, or with his assent which is incompatible with its nature or exercise; or,

Fourth. When the servitude was acquired by enjoyment, by disuse thereof by the owner of the servitude for the period prescribed for acquiring title by enjoyment.

ARTICLE 5.—RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF OWNERS.

Incidents of Ownership.

SECTION.
1. Land includes water.
2. Inheritance protected.
3. Rights of a tenant.
4. Rights limited by instrument creating tenancy.
5. Succession to the rights.
6. Assignees of lessor and lessee.
7. Notice to change terms.
8. Life lease rent.
9 Rent may be recovered after death.
10. Right of action for injury to the inheritance.

Boundaries.

SECTION.
11. Boundaries above and below surface.
12. Banks and beds of streams.
13. Highways.
14. Lateral support.
15. Trees on the land.
16. Trees on the line.

Obligations of Owners.

SECTION.
17. Repairs and taxes.
18. Boundaries and fences.

Land includes water.

(4162) § 1. The owner of the land owns water standing thereon, or flowing over or under its surface, but not forming a definite stream. Water running in a definite stream, formed by nature over or under the surface, may be used by him as long as it remains there; but he may not prevent the natural flow of the stream, or of the natural spring from which it commences its definite course, nor pursue nor pollute the same.

Inheritance protected.

(4163) § 2. The owner of a life estate may use the land in the same manner as the owner of a fee simple, except that he must do no act to the injury of the inheritance.

Rights of tenant.

(4164) § 3. A tenant for years or at will, unless he is a wrongdoer by holding over, may occupy the building, take the annual products of the soil, work mines and quarries open at the commencement of his tenancy, and cultivate and harvest the crops growing at the end of his tenancy.

(4165) § 4. A tenant for years or at will has no other rights to the property than such as are given to him by the agreement or instrument by which his tenancy is acquired, or by the last section. Rights limited by instrument creating tenancy.

(4166) § 5. A person to whom any real property is transferred or devised, upon which rent has been reserved, or to whom any such rent is transferred, is entitled to the same remedies for recovery of rent, for non-performance of any of the terms of the lease, or for any waste or cause of forfeiture, as his grantor or devisor might have had. Succession to the rights.

(4168) § 7. In all leases of lands or tenements, or of any interest therein, from month to month, the landlord may, upon giving notice in writing at least fifteen days before the expiration of the month, change the terms of the lease, to take effect at the expiration of the month. The notice, when served upon the tenant, shall of itself operate and be effectual to create and establish as a part of the lease, the terms rent and conditions specified in the notice, if the tenant shall continue to hold the premises after the expiration of the month. Notice to change terms.

(4169) § 8. Rent due upon a lease for life may be recovered in the same manner as upon a lease for years. Life lease rent.

(4171) § 10. A person having an estate in fee, in remainder or reversion, may maintain an action for any injury done to the inheritance, notwithstanding an intervening estate for life or years, and although, after its commission, his estate is transferred, and he has no interest in the property at the commencement of the action. Right of action for injury to the inheritance.

(4172) § 11. The owner of land in fee has the right to the surface and to everything permanently situated beneath or above it. Above and below surface.

(4173) § 12. Except where the grant under which the land is held indicates a different intent, the owner of the upland, when it borders upon a navigable lake or stream, takes to the edge of the ake or stream, at low-water mark, and all navigable rivers shall emain and be deemed public highways. In all cases where the pposite banks of any streams not navigable belong to different Banks and beds of streams persons, the stream and the bed thereof shall become common to both.

Chap. 69.

Highways.

(4174) § 13. An owner of land, bounded by a road or street is presumed to own to the center of the way, but the contrary may be shown.

Lateral support

(4175) § 14. Each coterminous owner is entitled to the lateral and subjacent support which his land receives from the adjoining land, subject to the right of the owner of the adjoining land to make proper and usual excavations on the same for purposes of construction, on using ordinary care and skill, and taking reasonable precautions to sustain the land of the other, and giving previous reasonable notice to the other of his intention to make such excavations.

Trees on land.

(4176) § 15. Trees whose trunks stand wholly upon the land of one owner, belong exclusively to him, although their roots grow into the land of another.

Trees on line.

(4177) § 16. Trees whose trunks stand partly on the land of two or more coterminous owners belong to them in common.

Repair and taxes.

(4178) § 17. The owner of a life estate must keep the buildings and fences in repair from ordinary waste, and must pay the taxes and other annual charges, and a just proportion of extraordinary assessments benefiting the whole inheritance.

Boundaries and fences.

(4179) § 18. Coterminous owners are mutually bound equally to maintain:

First. The boundaries and monuments between them.

Second. The fences between them, unless one of them chooses to let his land lie open as a public common, in which case, if he afterwards encloses it, he must refund to the other a just proportion of the value, at that time, of any division fence made by the latter.

ARTICLE 6.—USES AND TRUSTS.

SECTION.		SECTION.
1.	Uses limited to those specified.	13.	Certain trust a power.
2.	Uses held under former statutes.	14.	Power in trust may be created.
3.	Use defined.	15.	Realty passes.
4.	Certain trust declared valid.	16.	Estates vested in trustees.
5.	Transfer must be direct.	17.	Contingent trusts.
6.	Limitation.	18.	Legal estate.
7.	Requisites of a trust.	19.	Undisposed estates.
8.	Trust is presumed, when.	20.	Limited disposal.
9.	Innocent purchaser.	21.	Grant separate from trust.
10.	Purpose of express trust.	22.	Acts of trustee void, when.
11.	Power in trust.	23.	Trust ceases when.
12.	Surplus liable to creditors.

Limitation to those specified

(4180) § 1. Uses and trusts, in relation to real property, are those only which are specified in this article.

Uses held under former statutes.

(4181) § 2. Every estate which is now held as a use, executed under any former statute of this Territory, is confirmed as a legal estate.

Use defined.

(4182) § 3. Every person who, by virtue of any transfer or devise, is entitled to the actual possession of real property, and the receipts of the rents and profits thereof, is deemed to have a legal estate therein, of the same quality and duration, and subject to the same conditions as his beneficial interest.

Trust valid.

(4183) § 4. The last section does not divest the estate of any trustee in a trust heretofore existing, where the title of such trustee is not merely nominal, but is connected with some power of actual disposition or management in relation to the real property, which is the subject of the trust.

Transfers must be made direct.

(4184) § 5. Every disposition of real property, whether by transfer or will, must be made directly to the person in whom the right to the possession and profits is intended to be vested, and not to any other, to the use of or in trust for such person; and if made to any person, to the use of or in trust for another, no estate or interest vests in the trustee; but he must execute a release of the property to the beneficiary on demand, the latter paying the expense thereof.

Limitation of preceding.

(4185) § 6. The preceding sections of this chapter do not extend to trusts arising or resulting by implication of law, nor prevent or affect the creation of such express trusts as are hereinafter authorized and defined.

Requisites of a trust.

(4186) § 7. No trust in relation to real property is valid, unless created or declared:

First. By a written instrument, subscribed by the trustee [trustor] or by his agent thereto authorized by writing.

Second. By the instrument under which the trustee claims the estate effected; or,

Third. By operation of law.

Trust presumed, when.

(4187) § 8. When a transfer of real property is made to one person, and the consideration therefor is paid by or for another, a trust is presumed to result in favor of the person by or for whom such payment is made.

Innocent purchaser.

(4188) § 9. No implied or resulting trust can predjudice the rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer of real property, for value and without notice of the trust.

Express trusts created for what purpose

(4189) § 10. Express trusts may be created for any of the following purposes:

First. To sell real property and apply or dispose of the proceeds in accordance with the instrument creating the trust.

Second. To mortgage or release real property for the benefit of annuitants or other legatees, or for the purpose of satisfying any charge thereon.

Third. To receive the rents and profits of real property, and pay them to or apply them to the use of any person, whether ascertained at the time of the creation of the trust or not, for himself or for his family, during the life of such person, or for any shorter term.

Fourth. To receive the rents and profits of real property, and to accumulate the same for the purposes and within the limits prescribed by the same title.

Power in trust.

(4190) § 11. A devise of real property to executors or other trustees, to be sold or mortgaged, where the trustees are not also empowered to receive the rents and profits, vests no estate in them; but the trust is valid as a power in trust.

Surplus liable to creditors

(4191) § 12. Where a trust is created to receive the rents and profits of real property, and no valid direction for accumulation is given, the surplus of such rents and profits, beyond the sum that may be necessary for the education and support of the person for whose benefit the trust is created, is liable to the claims of the creditors of such person, in the same manner as personal property which cannot be reached by execution.

Certain trust a power.

(4192) § 13. Where an express trust in relation to real property is created for any purpose not enumerated in the preceding sections, such trust vests no estate in the trustees; but the trust, if directing or authorizing the performance of any act which may be lawfully performed under a power, is valid as a power in trust, subject to the provisions in relation to such powers contained in article 7.

Power in trust may be created.

(4193) § 14. Nothing in this chapter prevents the creation of a power in trust for any of the purposes for which an express trust may be created.

Realty passes

(4194) § 15. In every case where a trust is valid as a power in trust, the real property to which the trust relates, remains in or passes by succession to the persons otherwise entitled, subject to the execution of the trust as a power in trust.

Estate in trustees limited

(4195) § 16. Except as hereinafter otherwise provided, every express trust in real property, valid as such, in its creation, vests the whole estate in the trustees, subject only to the execution of the trust. The beneficiaries take no estate or interest in the property, but may enforce the performance of the trust.

Contingent trust.

(4196) § 17. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last section, the author of a trust may, in its creation, prescribe to whom the real property to which the trust relates shall belong, in the event of the failure or termination of the trust, and may transfer or devise such property, subject to the execution of the trust.

Legal estate.

(4197) § 18. The grantee or devisee of real property subject to a trust acquires a legal estate in the property, against all persons except the trustees and those lawfully claiming under them.

Undisposed estates.

(4198) § 19. Where an express trust is created in relation to real property, every estate not embraced in the trust, and not otherwise disposed of, is left in the author of the trust, or his successors.

Limited disposal.

(4199) § 20. The beneficiary of a trust for the receipt of the rents and profits of real property, or for the payment of an annuity out of such rents and profits, may be restrained from disposing of his interest in such trust during his life, or for a term of years, by the instrument creating the trust.

Grant separate from trust.

(4200) § 21. Where an express trust is created in relation to real property, but is not contained or delared in the grant to the trustee, or in an instrument signed by him, and recorded in the same office with the grant to the trustee, such grant must be deemed absolute in favor of the subsequent creditors of the trustee not having notice of the trust, and in favor of purchasers from such trustee without notice, and for a valuable consideration.

(4201) § 22. Where a trust in relation to real property is expressed in the instrument creating the estate, every transfer or other act of the trustees, in contravention of the trust, is absolutely void. Act of trustee void, when.

(4202) § 23. When the purpose for which an express trust was created ceases, the estate of the trustee also ceases. Trust ceases.

60. District court.
61 Trust for benefit of creditors.
62. Defects cured.
63. Certain law applies.

(4203) § 1. Powers in relation to real property are those only which are specified in this article. Only specified powers.

(4204) § 2. The provisions of this article do not extend to a simple power of attorney to convey real property in the name of the owner and for his benefit. Power of attorney excluded.

(4205) § 3. A power, as the term is used in this article, is an authority to do some act in relation to real property, or to the creation or revocation of an estate therein, or a charge thereon, which the owner granting or reserving such power might himself perform for any purpose. Definition of power.

(4206) § 4. The author of a power, as the term is used in this title, is the person by whom a power is created, whether by grant or devise; and the holder of a power is the person in whom a power is vested, whether by grant, devise or reservation. Definition of author.

(4307) § 5. Powers are general or special, and beneficial or in trust. Powers classed.

(4208) § 6. A power is general when it authorizes the alienation or incumbrance of a fee in the property embraced therein, by General powers.

Chap. 69. grant, will or charge, or any of them, in favor of any person whatever.

Special powers. (4209) § 7. A power is special:

First. When a person or class of persons is designated, to whom the disposition of property under the power is to be made; or,

Second. When it authorizes the alienation or incumbrance, by means of a grant, will, or charge, of only an estate less than a fee.

Beneficial power. (4210) § 8. A power is beneficial when no person other than its holder has, by the terms of its creation, any interest in its execution.

Power in trust. (4211) § 9. A power is in trust when any person or class of persons, other than its holder, has, by the terms of its creation, an interest in its execution.

General power in trust. (4212) § 10. A general power is in trust when any person or class of persons other than its holder, is designated as entitled to the proceeds or the disposition or charge authorized by the power, or to any portion of the proceeds or other benefits to result from its execution.

Special power in trust. (4213) § 11. A special power is in trust:

First. When the disposition or charge which it authorizes is limited to be made to any person or class of persons other than the holder of the power; or,

Second. When any person or class of persons, other than the holder, is designated as entitled to any benefit from the disposition or charge authorized by the power.

Capacity to create. (4214) § 12. No person is capable of creating a power who is not at the same time capable of granting some estate in the property to which the power relates.

Vests in whom (4215) § 13. A power may be vested in any person.

A power may be created, how (4216) § 14. A power may be created only:

First. By a suitable clause contained in a grant of some estate in the real properly to which the power relates, or in an agreement to execute such a grant; or,

Second. By a devise contained in a will.

Reserved power. (4217) § 15. The grantor in any conveyance may reserve to himself any power, beneficial or in trust, which he might lawfully grant to another; and every power thus reserved is subject to the provisions of this article in the same manner as if granted to another.

Power irrevocable unless right reserved. (4218) § 16. Every power, beneficial or in trust, is irrevocable unless an authority to revoke it is given or reserved in the instrument creating the power.

Lien of power defined. (4219) § 17. A power is a lien upon the real property which it embraces from the time the instrument in which it is contained takes effect; except that against creditors, purchasers and incumbrancers, in good faith and without notice, from any person having an estate in such real property, the power is a lien only from the time the instrument in which it is contained is duly recorded.

Power a security. (4220) § 18. Where the power to sell real property is given to a mortgagee or other incumbrancer, in an instrument intended to secure the payment of money the power is to be deemed a part of the security and vests in any person who, by assignment becomes entitled to the money so secured to be paid, and may be executed by him whenever the assignment is duly acknowledged and recorded.

Capacity lacking.

(4221) § 19. A power cannot be executed by any person not capable of disposing of real property.

Married women may execute power.

(4222) § 20. A married woman may execute a power during her marriage without the concurrence of her husband, unless otherwise prescribed by the terms of the power.

Same, acknowledgement.

(4223) § 21. No power can be executed by a married woman before she attains her majority, nor without being acknowledged by her.

Execution of a power.

(4224) § 22. A power can be executed only by a written instrument which would be sufficient to pass the estate or interest intended to pass under the power, if the person executing the power was the actual owner.

Many persons, survivor.

(4225) § 23. Where a power is vested in several persons all must unite in its execution; but in case any one or more of them is dead, the power may be executed by the survivor or survivors, unless otherwise prescribed by the terms of the power.

Execution by a will.

(4226) § 24. Where a power to dispose of real property is confined to a disposition by devise or will, the instrument of execution must be a will duly executed according to the provisions of the chapter on wills.

Execution by grant.

(4227) § 25. Where a power is confined to a disposition by grant it cannot be executed by will even though the disposition is not intended to take effect until after the death of the person executing the power.

When instrument not sufficient to pass estate.

(4228) § 26. Where the author of a power has directed or authorized it to be executed by an instrument which would not be sufficient in law to pass the estate, the power is not void, but its execution is to be governed by the rules before prescribed in this article.

Observance of surplus formalities not necessary.

(4229) § 27. Where the author of a power has directed any formalities to be observed in its execution, in addition to those which would be sufficient to pass the estate, the observance of such additional formalities is not necessary to a valid execution of the power.

Nominal condition may be disregarded.

(4230) § 28. Where the conditions annexed to a power are merely nominal, and evince no intention of actual benefit to the party to whom, or in whose favor, they are to be performed, they may be wholly disregarded in the execution of the power.

Binding conditions

(4231) § 29. With the exceptions contained in the preceding sections, the intentions of the author of a power as to the mode, time and conditions of its execution must be observed, subject to the power of a district court to supply a defective execution in the cases provided in sections 4240 and 4264.

Consent of third party must be expressed.

(4232) § 30. When the consent of a third person to the execution of a power is requisite,, such consent must be expressed in the instrument by which the power is executed, or be certified in writing thereon. In the first case the instrument of execution, in the second, the certificate, must be subscribed by the party whose consent is required, and to entitle the instrument to be recorded, such signature must be duly proved or acknowledged.

Consent of survivors.

(4233) § 31. Where the consent of several persons to the execution of a power is requisite, all must consent thereto; but in case of any one or more of them is dead, the consent of the survivors is sufficient, unless otherwise prescribed by the terms of the power.

Validity without recital by power.

(4234) § 32. Every instrument executed by the holder of a power, conveying an estate or creating a charge which such holder would have no right to convey or create except by virtue of his power, is to be deemed a valid execution of the power, even though not recited or referred to therein.

Instrument is a conveyance

(4235) § 33. Every instrument except a will, in execution of a power, even though the owner is one of revocation only, is to be deemed a conveyance.

Disposition of charge valid to extent of power

(4236) § 34. A disposition of charge, by virtue of a power more extensive than was authorized thereby, is not therefore void; but every estate or interest so created, so far as it is embraced by the terms of the power, is valid.

Time runs from (4237) § 35. The period during which the absolute right of alienation may be suspended by an instrument in execution of a power, must be computed, not from the date of the instrument, but from the time of the creation of the power.

Legality of estate

(4238) § 36. No estate or interest can be given or limited to any person, by an instrument in execution of a power, which could not have been given or limited at the time of the creation of the power.

Married woman.

(4239) § 37. When a married woman, entitled to an estate in fee, is authorized by a power to dispose of such an estate during her marriage, she may by virtue of such power, create any estate which she might create if unmarried.

Relief from defects

(4240) § 38. Purchasers for a valuable consideration, claiming under a defective execution of a power, are entitled to the same relief as similar purchasers claiming under a defective conveyance from an actual owner.

Fraud.

(4241) § 39. Instruments in execution of a power are affected by fraud in the same manner as like instruments executed by owners or trustees.

Power to woman.

(4242) § 40. A general and beneficial power is valid which gives to a married woman power to dispose, during her marriage, and without the concurrence of her husband, of a present or future estate in real property conveyed or devised to her in fee.

Estates changed into fee

(4243) § 41. Where an absolute power of disposition, not accompanied by any trust, is given to the owner of a particular estate for life or years, such estate is changed into a fee, absolute in favor of creditors, purchasers and incumbrancers, but subject to any future estates limited thereon, in case the power should not be executed, or the property should not be sold for the satisfaction of debts

(4244) § 42. Where an absolute power of disposition, not accompanied by any trust, is given to any person to whom no particular estate is limited, such person also takes a fee, subject to any future estate that may be limited thereon, but absolute in favor of creditors, purchasers and incumbrancers. Same.

(4245) § 43. In all cases where an absolute power of disposition is given, not accompanied by any trust, and no remainder is limited on the estate of the holder of the power, he is entitled to an absolute fee. Same

(4246) § 44. Where a general and beneficial power to devise the inheritance is given to the owner of an estate for life or for years, he is deemed to possess an absolute power of disposition, within the meaning of the last three sections. Same.

(4247) § 45. Every power of disposition is deemed absolute, by means of which the holder is enabled in his lifetime to dispose of the entire fee, in possession or in expectancy, for his own benefit. Power absolute.

(4248) § 46. Where the grantor in any conveyance reserves to himself for his own benefit, an absolute power of revocation such grantor is still to be deemed the absolute owner of the estate conveyed, so far as the rights of creditors and purchasers are concerned. Reserved power.

(4249) § 47. A special and beneficial power is valid which is granted: Beneficial power valid.

First. To a married woman to dispose, during the marriage, of any estate less than a fee, belonging to her, in the property to which the power relates; or,

Second. To the owner of a life estate in the property embraced in the power to make leases, commencing in possession during his life.

(4250) § 48. A special and beneficial power to make leases of agricultural land for more than ten years, or of town or city lots for more than twenty years, is void only as to the time beyond ten or twenty years, and authorizes leases for those terms or less. Power to lease

(4251) § 49. The power of the owner of a life estate to make leases is not transferable as a separate interest, but is annexed to his estate, and will pass, unless specially excepted, by any grant of such estate. If specially excepted in any such grant, it is extinguished. Power annexed to estate

(4252) § 50. The power of the owner of a life estate to make leases may be released by him to any person entitled to a future estate in the property and is thereupon extinguished. Extinguishing grant

(4253) § 51. A mortgage executed by the owner of a life estate having a power to make leases, or by a married woman, by virtue of any beneficial power, does not extinguish or suspend the power, but the power is bound by the mortgage in the same manner as the real property embraced therein. Mortgage binds power.

(4254) § 52. The effects on the power of a lien by mortgage, such as is mentioned in the last section, are: Effects of same.

First. That the mortgagee is entitled to an execution of the power, so far as the satisfaction of his lien may require it; and,

Second. That any subsequent estate created by the owner, in execution of the power, becomes subject to the mortgage in the same manner as if in terms embraced therein.

Creditors claims

(4255) § 53. Every special and beneficial power is liable to the claims of creditors, in the same manner as other interests that cannot be reached by execution, and the execution of the power may be adjudged for the benefit of the creditors entitled.

Other powers void.

(4256) § 54. No beneficial power, general or special, not already specified and defined in this article, can hereafter be created.

Enforceable powers.

(4257) § 55. Every trust power, unless its execution is made expressly to depend on the will of the trustee, is imperative, and imposes a duty on the trustee, the performance of which may be compelled for the benefit of the parties interested.

Trust power still imperative.

(4258) § 56. A trust power does not cease to be imperative where the trustee has the right to select any, and exclude others of the persons designated as the beneficiaries of the trust.

Equal shares.

(4259) § 57. Where a disposition under a power is directed to be made to among or between several persons, without any specification of the share or sum to be allotted to each, all the persons designated are entitled in equal proportion.

Discretionary power.

(4260) § 58. Where the terms of a power import that the estate or fund is to be distributed among several persons designated, in such manner or proportions as the trustee of the power may think proper, the trustee may allot the whole to any one or more of such persons in exclusion of the others.

Death of trustee.

(4261) § 59. If the trustee of a power, with the right of selection dies leaving the power unexecuted its execution must be adjudged for the benefit equally of all the persons designated as objects of the trust.

District court.

(4262) § 60. Where a power in trust is created by will, and the testator has omitted to designate, expressly or by necessary implication, by whom the power is to be executed, its execution devolves on the district court.

Creditors, trust for benefit.

(4263) § 61. The execution, in whole or in part, of any trust power, may be adjudged for the benefit of the creditors or assignees of any person entitled, as one of the beneficiaries of the trust, to compel its execution, when his interest is transferable.

Defects cured

(4264) § 62. Where the execution of a power in trust is defective in whole or in part, under the provisions of this article, its proper execution may be adjudged in favor of the persons designated as the objects of the trust.

Certain law applies

(4265) § 63. The provisions of the article on uses and trust, saving the rights of other persons from prejudice by the misconduct of trustees and authorizing the court to remove and appoint trustees; the provisions of the article on succession, devolving express trusts upon the court on the death of the trustee; and the provisions of section 4202 in article on uses and trusts, apply equally to powers in trust, and the trustees of such powers.

(4267) § 2. A thing in action is a right to recover money or other personal property, by judicial proceeding. Thing in action

(4268) § 3. A thing in action, arising out of the violation of a right of property, or out of an obligation, may be transferred by the owner. Upon the death of the owner, it passes to his personal representatives, except where, in the cases provided by law, it passes to his devisees or successors in office. A thing in action is transferable (4269) § 4. The term "ship" or "shipping," when used in this code, includes steamboats, sailing vessels, canal boats, barges, and every structure adapted to be navigated from place to place for the transportation of merchandise or persons. Ship defined.

(4270) § 5. All things belonging to the owners, which are on board a ship, and are connected with its proper use, for the objects of the voyage and adventure in which the ship is engaged, are deemed its appurtenances. Appurtenances

(4271) § 6. Ships are engaged either in foreign or domestic navigation. Ships are engaged in foreign navigation when passing to or from a foreign country; and in domestic navigation when passing from place to place within the United States. Navigation classed.

(4272) § 7. A ship in a port of the state or territory to which it belongs is called a domestic ship; in another port it is called a foreign ship. Domestic and foreign ships.

(4273) § 8. If a ship belongs to several persons, not partners, Court Power.

and they differ as to its use or repair, the controversy may be determined by any court of competent jurisdiction.

Possessor liable.

(4274) § 9. If the owner of a ship commits its possession and navigation to another, that other and not the owner, is responsible for its repairs and supplies.

Registry enrollment and license.

(4275) § 10. The registry, enrollment, and license of ships are regulated by acts of Congress.

Meeting ships.

(4276) § 11. In the case of ships meeting, the following rules must be observed in addition to those prescribed by any statutes of this Territory, which relate to navigation:

First. Whenever any ship, proceeding in one direction, meets another ship proceeding in another direction, so that if both ships were to continue their respective courses they would pass so near as to involve the risk of a collision, the helms of both ships must be put to port so as to pass to the port side of each other, except where the circumstances of the case are such as to render a departure from the rule necessary in order to avoid immediate danger, and subject also to a due regard to the dangers of navigation.

Second. A steamer navigating a narrow channel must, whenever it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of that fair way or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of the steamer. A steamer when passing another steamer in such channel must always leave the other upon the larboard side.

Third. When steamers must inevitably or necessarily cross so near that, by continuing their respective courses, there would be a risk of collision, each vessel must put her helm to port, so as always to pass on the larboard side of each other.

The rules of this section do not apply to any case for which a different rule is provided by the regulations for the government of pilots of steamers approaching each other within sound of the steam whistle, or by the regulations concerning lights upon steamers, or other matters prescribed under authority of any act of Congress.

Infringement of the rule. damages.

(4277) § 12, If it appears that a collision was occasioned by failure to observe any rule of the foregoing section, the owner of the ship by which such rule is infringed cannot recover compensation for damages sustained by the ship in such collision, nnless it appears that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the rule necessary.

Default presumed.

(4278) § 13. Damage to person or property arising from the failure of a ship to observe any rule of section 4276, must be deemed to have been occasioned by the wilful default of the person in charge of the deck of such ship at the time, unless it appears that the circumstances of the case made a departure from the rule necessary.

Liability defined.

(4279) § 14. Losses caused by collision are to be borne as follows:

First If either party was exclusively in fault he must bear his own loss, and compensate the other for any loss he has sustained.

Second, If neither was in fault, the loss must be borne by him on whom it falls.

Third. If both were in fault the loss is to be equally divided, unless it appears that there was a great disparity in fault, in which case the loss must be equitably apportioned; or,

Fourth. If it cannot be ascertained where the fault lies, the loss must be equally divided.

Trade-marks limited.

(4280) § 15. One who produces or deals in a particular thing, or conducts a particular business, may appropriate to his exclusive use, as a trade mark, any form, symbol or name which has not been so appropriated by another, to designate the origin or ownership thereof; but he cannot exclusively appropriate any designation, or part of a designation, which relates only to the name, quality, or the description of the thing or business, or the place where the thing is produced, or the business is carried on.

Good-will.

(4281) § 16. The good-will of a business is the expectation of continued public patronage, but it does not include a right to use the name of any person from whom it was acquired.

It is property.

(4282) § 17. The good will of a business is property, transferable like any other.

Title deeds.

(4283) § 18. Instruments essential to the title of real property, and which are not kept in a public office as a record pursuant to law, belong to the person in whom, for the time being, such title may be vested, and pass with the title.

Fourth. Will; or,
Fifth. Succession.

Title by occupancy.

(4285) § 2. Occupancy for any period confers a title sufficient against all except the Territory, and those who have title by prescription, accession, transfer, will or succession.

Chap. 69.

Prescription

(4286) § 3. Occupancy for the period prescribed by civil procedure, or any law of this Territory as sufficient to bar an action for the recovery of the property, confers a title thereto, denominated a title by prescription, which is sufficient against all.

Land fixtures; tenants

(4287) § 4. When a person affixes his property to the land of another without an agreement permitting him to remove it, the the thing affixed belongs to the owner of the land, unless he chooses to require the former to remove it: Provided, That a tenant may remove from the demised premises any time during the continuance of his term anything affixed thereto for purpose of trade, manufacture, ornament or domestie use, if the removal can be affected without injury to the premises, unless the thing has, by the manner in which it is affixed, become an integral part of the premises.

Riparian accretions.

(4288) § 5. Where from natural causes land forms by imperceptible degrees upon the bank of a river or stream, navigable or not navigable, either by accumulation of material or by the recession of the stream, such land belongs to the owner of the bank. subject to any existing right of way over the bank.

Removals in mass.

(4289) § 6. If a river or stream navigable or not navigable, carries away, by sudden violence, a considerable and distinguishable part of a bank, and bears it to the opposite bank, or to another part of the same bank, the owner of the part carried away may reclaim it within a year after the owner of the land to which it has been united takes possession thereof.

Islands in navigable streams.

(4290) § 7. Islands and accumulations of land formed in the beds of streams which are navigable, belong to the Territory, if there is no title or prescription to the contrary.

Islands in other streams

(4291) § 8. An island or accumulation of land, formed in a stream which is not navigable, belongs to the owner of the shore on that side where the island or accumulation is formed, or if not formed on one side only, to the owners of the shore on the two sides, divided by an imaginary line drawu through the middle of the river.

Island formed by a new channel

(4292) § 9. If a stream, navigable or not navigable, in forming itself a new arm, divides itself and surrounds land belonging to the owner of the shore, and thereby forms an island, the island belongs to such owner.

Ancient bed

(4293) § 10. If a stream, navigable or not navigable forms a new course, abandoning its ancient bed, the owners of the land newly occupied take, by way of indemnity, the ancient bed abandoned, each in proportion to the land of which he has been deprived.

Things inseparably united (4294) § 11. When things belonging to different owners have been united so as to form a single thing, and cannot be separated without injury, the whole belongs to the owner of the thing which forms the principal part, who must, however, reimburse the value of the residue to the other owner, or surrender the whole to him.

Dominant part defined.

(4295) § 12. That part is to be deemed the principal to which the other has been united only for the use, ornament or completion of the former, unless the latter is the more valuable and has been united without the knowledge of its owner, who may in the latter case require it to be separated and returned to him, although some injury should result to the thing to which it has been united.

How determined

(4296) § 13. If neither party can be considered the principal, within the rules prescribed by the last section, the more valuable, or if the values are nearly equal, the more considerable in bulk, is to be deemed the principal part.

Work and material.

(4297) § 14. If one makes a thing from materials belonging to another, the latter may claim the thing on reimbursing the value of the workmanship unless the value of the workmanship exceeds the value of the materials, in which case the thing belongs to the maker, on reimbursing the value of the materials.

Blended materials.

(4298) § 15. Where one has made use of materials which in part belong to him and in part to another, in order to form a thing of a new description, without having destroyed any of the materials, but in such a way that they cannot be separated without inconvenience, the thing formed is common to both proprietors in proportion, as respects the one, of the materials belonging to him, and as respects the other, of the materials belonging to him and the price of his workmanship.

Admixtures of materials

(4299) § 16. When a thing has been formed by the admixture of several materials of different owners, and neither can be considered the principal substance, an owner, without whose consent the admixture was made, may require a separation, if the materials can be separated without inconvenience. If they cannot be thus separated, the owners acquire the thing in common, in proportion to the quantity, quality and value of their materials; but if the materials of one were far superior to those of the others, both in quantity and value, he may claim the thing on reimbursing to the others the value of their materials.

Wilful uses.

(4300) § 17. The foregoing sections of this chapter are not applicable to cases in which one wilfully uses the materials of another without his consent; but, in such cases, the product belongs to the owner of the material, if its identity can be traced.

Alternative of kind or value.

(4301) § 18. In all cases where one, whose material has been used without his knowledge, in order to form a product of a different description, can claim an interest in such product, he has an option to demand either restitution of his material in kind, in the same quantity, weight, measure and quality or the value thereof; or where he is entitled to the product, the value thereof in place of the product.

Damages.

(4302) § 19. One who wrongfully employs materials belonging to another is liable to him in damages, as well as under the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

ARTICLE 1.—FORM OF ACTION.

SECTION.
1. One form of action.
2. Plaintiff and defendant.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

This act shall be known as the civil procedure of the Territory of Oklahoma.

One form of action.

(4303) § 1. There shall be no distinction in pleading and practice between actions at law and suits in equity; and there shall be but one form of action for the enforcement or protection of private rights and the redress of private wrongs, which shall be denominated a civil action.

Plaintiff and defendant.

(4304) § 2. In such action, the party complaining shall be known as the plaintiff and the adverse party as the defendant.

SECTION.
1. Real party; exemption.
2. Executors, trustees; etc.; how may sue.
3. Action upon official bonds.
4. Married women.
5. Infants.
6. Next friend, written consent, costs, removal.
7. Bond of next friend.
8 Guardian ad litem.
9. Guardian not liable for costs; exemptions.
10. Poor person, attorney for.
11. Order, when annulled.
12. Who plaintiffs.
13. Unmarried woman, seduction, damage.
14. Parent or guardian, seduction.
15. When wife or mother may sue.
16. Father or guardian may sue for injury to child.
17. Joinder of plaintiffs barred; striking from record.
18. Who defendants.
19. Joint interest; when one may sue for all.
20. Persons liable on same instrument.
21. When no abatement, proceedings, transfer.
22 Making new parties.
23. Interpleader, otice,
24 New party, notice.
25. Party in action for purchase money; decree.
26. Assignor, when defendant: rule as to set off, etc.
27. New party how brought in by defendant.

(4305) § 1. Every action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, except as otherwise provided in the next section; but this section shall not be deemed to authorize the assignment of a thing in action not arising out of contract. Real party exemptions

(4306) § 2. An executor, administrator, a trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, may sue, without joining with him the person for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. A trustee of an express trust, within the meaning of this section, shall be construed to include a person with whom, or in whose name, a contract is made for the benefit of another. It shall not be necessary to make an idiot or lunatic a joint party with his guardian or committee, except as may be required by statute. Executors, trustees, etc; how may sue.

(4307) § 3. Actions upon official bonds, and bonds payable to the Territory, shall be brought in the name of the Territory of Oklahoma, upon the relation of the party interested. Action upon official bonds.

(4308) § 4. A married woman may sue and be sued in the same manner as if she were unmarried. Married women.

(4309) § 5. When an infant shall have the right of action, such infant shall be entitled to bring suit thereon, and the same shall not be delayed or deferred on account of such infant not being of full age. Infants.

(4310) § 6. Before any process shall be issued in the name of an infant who is a sole plaintiff, a competent and responsible person shall consent in writing to appear as the next friend for such infant; and such next friend shall be responsible for the costs of such action; and thereupon process shall issue as in other cases. But where it shall appear to the court that such next friend is incompetent or irresponsible, the court may remove him, and permit some suitable person to be substituted without prejudice to the progress of the action. Next friend, written consent, costs, removal.

sufficient sureties to be approved by the court that the next friend shall duly account to the infant for all moneys which may be recovered in such action.

Guardian ad litem.

(4312) § 8. An infant defendant shall appear and defend by guardian appointed by the court or chosen by such infant with the consent of the court.

Guardian not liable for costs, exception.

(4313) § 9. No person appointed as guardian shall be liable for the costs of the action, unless charged by the special order of the court of some personal misconduct in the same.

Poor persons, attorney for.

(4314) § 10. Any poor person, not having sufficient means to prosecute or defend an action may apply to the court in which the action is intended to be brought, or is pending, for leave to prosecute or defend as a poor person. The court, if satisfied that such person has not sufficient means to prosecute or defend the action, shall admit the applicant to prosecute or defend as a poor person, and shall assign him an attorney to defend or prosecute the cause, and all other officers requisite for the prosecution or defense, who shall do their duty therein without taking any fee or reward therefor from such poor person.

Order, when annulled.

(4315) § 11. If any person so admitted be guilty of any improper conduct, or of any unjustifiable delay in the progress of such action, the court may, in its discretion, annul such order, and he shall thereafter be deprived of all benefit of the order admitting him to prosecute and defend as such poor person.

Who plaintiff.

(4316) § 12. All persons having an interest in the subject of the action, and in obtaining the relief demanded, shall be joined as plaintiffs, except as otherwise provided in this act.

Unmarried woman, seduction, damages.

(4317) § 13. Any unmarried female may prosecute, as plaintiff, an action for her own seduction, and may recover therein such damages as may be assessed in her favor.

Parent or guardian; seduction.

(4318) § 14. A father, or, in case of his death, or desertion of his family, or imprisonment, the mother may prosecute as plaintiff for the seduction of the daughter, and the guardian for the seduction of the ward, though the daughter or the ward be not living with, or in the service of the plaintiff, at the time of the seduction or afterwards, and there be no loss of service. When the action is brought by the guardian, the damages recovered shall inure to the ward.

When wife or mother may sue.

(4319) § 15. When a husband or father has deserted his family, or is imprisoned, the wife or mother may prosecute or defend, in his name, any action which he might have prosecuted or defended, and shall have the same powers and rights therein as he might have had.

Father or guardian may sue for injury to child.

(4320) § 16. A father, or in case of his death, or desertion of his family, or imprisonment, the mother may maintain an action for the injury or death of the child, and the guardian for the injury or death of his ward. But when the action is brought by the guardian for an injury to his ward, the damages shall inure to the benefit of his ward.

Joinder of plaintiffs barred; striking from record

(4321) § 17. In cases where part only of the persons entitled to bring an action are barred by the statute of limitations, all may be joined as plaintiffs; and when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court, by admission or otherwise, that part of the plaintiffs are barred by the statute the court, upon motion, shall order the names of such plaintiffs to be stricken from the record, and the action may be prosecuted by those not barred.

Who defendant.

(4322) § 18. Any person may be made a defendant who has, or claims, an interest in the controversy adverse to the plaintiffs, or who is a necessary party to a complete determination or settlement of the questions involved.

Joint interest, when one may sue for all

(4323) § 19. Of the parties in the action, those who are united in interest must be joined as plaintiffs or defendants; but if the consent of any one who should have been joined as plaintiff can not be obtained, he may be made a defendant, the reason thereof being stated in the complaint, and when the question is one of a common or general interest of many persons, or where the parties are numerous, and it is impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue or defend for the benefit of the whole.

Persons liable on same instrument

(4324) § 20. Persons severally and immediately liable upon the same obligation or instrument, including the parties to bills of exchange and promissory notes, may, all or any of them, be included in the same action, at the option of the plaintiff.

When no abatement, proceedings, transfer.

(4325) § 21. No action shall abate by the death or disability of a party, or by the transfer of any interest therein, if the cause of action survive or continue. In case of the death or disability of a party, the court, on motion or supplemental complaint at any time within one year, or on supplemental complaint afterward, may allow the action to be continued by or against his representative or successor in interest. In case of any transfer of interest, the action shall be continued in the name of the original party; or he court may allow the person to whom the transfer is made to be substituted in the action.

Making new parties

(4326) § 22. The court may determine any controversy between the parties before it, when it can be done without prejudice to the rights of others or by saving their rights; but when a complete determination of the controversy can not be had, without the presence of other parties, the court must cause them to be joined as proper parties. And when, in an action for the recovery of real or personal property, a person not a party to the action, but having having an interest in the subject thereof, makes application to the court to be made a party, it may order him to be made a party by the proper amendment.

Interpleader, notice

(4327) § 23. A defendant against whom an action is pending upon a contract, or for specific real or personal property, may, at any time before answer, upon affidavit that a person not a party to the action, and without collusion with him, makes against him a demand for the same debt or property, upon due notice to such person and the adverse party, apply to the court for an order to substitute such person in his place, and discharge him from liability to either party, on his depositing in court the amount of the debt, or delivering the property, or its value, to such person as the court may direct; and the court may, in its discretion, make the order.

New party, notice.

(4328) § 24. When a party is introduced into an action as a representative or successor of a former party, such new party is entitled to the same notice, to be given in the same manner as required for defendants in the commencement of an action.

Party in action for purchase money, decree.

(4329) § 25. In any action brought for the recovery of the purchase money against any person holding a contract for the purchase of lands, the party bound to perform the contract, if not the plaintiff, may be made a party, and the court, in the final judgment, may order the interest of the purchaser to be sold or transferred to the plaintiff upon such terms as may be just; and may also order a specific performance of the contract in favor of the complainant or the purchaser, in case a sale be ordered.

Assignor, when defendant; rule as to set-off, etc.

(4330) § 26. When any action is brought by the assignee of a claim arising out of a contract, and not assigned by indorsement in writing, the assignor shall be made a defendant, if a resident of the Territory, to answer as to the assignment or his interest in the subject of the action. And all actions by assignees shall be without prejudice to any set-off or other defense existing at the time of or before notice of the assignment, except actions on negotiable promissory notes and bills of exchange, transferred in good-faith and upon good consideration before due.

New party, how brought in by defendant.

(4331) § 27. When it is necessary for the defendant to bring a new party before the court, he may state the matter relating thereto in his answer, and demand relief; and thereupon a summons shall issue and other proceedings be had against him as if such matter had been exhibited in the original complaint.

ARTICLE 3.—JOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION.

SECTION.
1. What causes of actions joined.
2. Action for title papers, reformation, etc.
3. Joinders in matters of contract, separate trial.

What causes of action joined.

(4332) § 1. The plaintiff may unite several causes of action in the same complaint, when they are included in either of the following classes:

First. Money demands on contract.

Second. Injuries to property.

Third. Injuries to person or character.

Fourth. Claims to recover the possession of personal property, with or without damages for the withholding thereof, and for injuries to the property withheld.

Fifth. Claims to recover the possession of real property, with or without damages, rents and profits for the withholding thereof, and for waste or damage done to the land; to make partition of and to determine and quiet the title to real property.

Sixth. Claims to enforce the specific performance of contracts and to avoid contracts for fraud or mistakes.

Seventh. Claims to forclose mortgages; to enforce or discharge specific liens; to recover personal judgment upon the debt secured by such mortgage or lien; to subject to sale real property upon demands against decedents' estates, when such property has passed to heirs, devisees, or their assigns; to marshal assets and to substitute one person to the rights of another; and all other causes of action arising out of a contract or a duty, and not falling within either of the foregoing classes. But causes of action so joined must effect all the parties to the action, and not require different places of trial, and must be separately stated and numbered.

Actions for title papers, reformation, etc.

(4333) § 2. When the plaintiff desires to recover the possession of title papers or other instruments of writing, or correct any mistakes therein, a separate action may be brought therefor; or the possession of such title or papers or other instruments of writing may be recovered, or mistakes corrected in any other action, when such recovery or correction would be essential to a complete remedy.

Joinders in matters of contract, separate trials.

(4334) § 3. When the action arises out of contract, the plaintiff may join such other matters in his complaint as may be necessary for a complete remedy and a speedy satisfaction of his judgment, although such other matters fall within some other one or more of the foregoing classes. When the several causes of actions are united, belonging to any of the foregoing classes, the court may order separate trials for the furtherance of justice.

ARTICLE 4.—CAUSES OF ACTION THAT SURVIVE.

SECTION.
1. Where actions survive, representative.
2. What actions die, exception.
3. All other actions survive, exception.
4. Action for death of another, limitation.

Where actions survive, representatives.

(4335) § 1. In all cases where actions survive, they may be commenced by or against the representatives of the deceased to whom the interest in the subject matter of the action has passed.

What actions die, exception.

(4336) § 2. A cause of action arising out of an injury to the person dies with the person of either party, except in cases in which an action is given for an injury causing the death of any person, and actions for seduction, false imprisonment, and malicious prosecution.

All other actions survive, exception.

(4337) § 3. All other causes of action survive and may be brought by or against the representatives of the deceased party, except actions for promise to marry.

Action for death of another, limitation.

(4338) § 4. When the death of one is caused by the wrongful act or omission of another, the personal representatives of the former may maintain an action therefor against the latter if the former might have maintained an action, had he lived, against the latter for an injury for the same act or omission. The action must be commenced within two years. The damages cannot exceed ten thousand dollars, and must inure to the exclusive benefit of the widow and children, if any, or the next of kin, to be distributed in the same manner as personal property of the deceased.

ARTICLE 5.—SPECIAL CAUSES OF ACTION.

SECTION.
1. Charges of incest, etc., how actionable.
2. Waste, forfeiture and eviction.
3. Waste of trespass; suit by remainder-man.
4. Suit against co-tenant.
5. Nuisance.
6. Who may sue.
7. Nuisance, remedy.

Charges of incest, etc, how actionable.

(4339) § 1. Every charge of incest, fornication, adultery, or whoredom, falsely made by any person against a female; also words falsely spoken of any person, charging such person with incest, or the infamous crime against nature, whether with mankind or the brute creation, shall be actionable in the same manner as in the case of slanderous words charging a crime, the commission of which would subject the offender to death or other degrading penalties.

Waste, forfeiture and eviction

(4340) § 2. Wrongs heretofore remediable by action of waste shall be subjects of action, as other wrongs in which there may be judgment for damages, forfeiture of the estate of the party offending and eviction from the premises. Judgment of forfeiture and eviction shall only be given to the person entitled to the reversion against the tenant in possession when the injury to the estate in reversion shall be adjudged in the action to be equal to the value of the tenants' estate or unexpired term, or to have been done in malice.

Waste of trespass, suit by remainder man.

(4341) § 3. A person seized of an estate in remainder or reversion may maintain an action for waste or trespass, for injury to the inheritance, notwithstanding an intervening estate for life or years.

Suit against co-tenant.

(4342) § 4. A joint tenant, or tenant in common, or tenant in coparcenary, may maintain an action against his co-tenant or co-parcener, or their personal representatives, for receiving more than their just proportion.

Nuisance

(4343) § 5. Whatever is injurious to health, or indecent, or offensive to the senses, or an obstruction to the free use of property, so as essentially to interfere with the comfortable enjoyment of life or property, is a nuisance, and the subject of an action.

Who may sue.

(4344) § 6. Such action may brought by any person whose property is injuriously affected, or whose personal enjoyment is lessened by the nuisance.

Nuisance, remedy.

(4345) § 7. Where a proper case is made, the nuisance may be enjoined or abated and damages recovered therefor.

ARTICLE 6.—ACTIONS, WHERE COMMENCED.

SECTION.
1. Real actions in county where land lies.
2. Actions for penalties, etc., where commenced.
3. Corporations, etc., agency.
4. Wills.
5. Railroads and other carriers.
6. Residents and non residents; assignees.
7. Foreign corporation.

Real actions in county where land lies.

(4346) § 1. Actions for the following causes must be commenced in the county in which the subject of the action, or some part thereof, is situated:

First. For the recovery of real property, or of an estate or interest therein, or for the determination in any form of such right or interest, and for injuries to real property.

Second. For the partition of real property.

Third. For the foreclosure of a mortgage of real property.

Actions for penalties, etc., when commenced.

(4347) § 2. Actions for the following causes must be commenced in the county where the cause, or some part thereof, arose:

First. For the recovery of a penalty or forfeiture imposed by statute; except when imposed for an offense committed on a lake or river or other stream of water, situated in two or more counties, the action may be brought in any county bordering on such lake, river or stream, and opposite to the place where the offense was committed.

Second. Against a public officer or person specially appointed to execute his duties, for an act done by him in virtue of his office; or against a person who, by his command or in his aid, shall do anything touching the duties of such officer.

In all cases enumerated in this and the section immediately preceding it, process may issue to and be served in any county in this Territory.

Corporations, etc., agency.

(4348) § 3. When a corporation, company or an individual has an office or agency in any county for the transaction of business, any action growing out of or connected with the business of such office may be brought in the county where the office or agency is located at the option of the plaintiff, as though the principal resided therein; and service upon any agent or clerk employed in the office or agency shall be sufficient service upon the principal; or process may be sent to any county, and served upon the principal.

Wills.

(4349) § 4. An action to establish or set aside a will must be brought in the county in which the will, if valid, ought, according to law, to be proved and recorded.

Railroads and other carriers.

(4350) § 5. An action against a railroad or canal corporation or company, or owner of a line of stages or coaches, for an injury to person or property upon the railroad, canal, or line of stages or coaches of the defendant, or upon a liability as a carrier, may be brought in any county through or into which such railroad, canal, or line of stages or coaches passes; and the summons may be served in any county in the Territory.

Residents and non-residents; assignees.

(4351) § 6. In all other cases, the action shall be commenced in the county where the defendants, or one of them, has his usual place of residence. Where there are several defendants residing in different counties, the action may be brought in any county where either defendant resides, and a separate summons may be issued to any other county where the other defendant may be found; and in cases of non-residents, or persons having no permanent residence in the Territory, action may be commenced and process served in any county where they may be found. But any action brought by the assignee of a claim, arising out of contract, whether assigned in writing or by delivery, shall be commenced in the county where one or more of the parties immediately liable to judgment and execution reside, and not elsewhere.

Foreign corporations.

(4352) § 7. Actions may be brought against a corporation created by or under the laws of any other state, government, or country, in any court having jurisdiction of the amount demanded, by any person having a cause of action, in any county within the Territory where any property, moneys, credits, or effects belonging or due to the corporation may be found.

ARTICLE 7.—ACTIONS, HOW COMMENCED.

SECTION.		SECTION.
1.	Filing complaint, summons.	11.	Lis pendens record.
2.	Service, guardian ad litem for same.	12.	Notice by party, contents, filing
3	Service on corporations.	13.	Attachment or levy, notice and filing by sheriff.
4.	Summons and service, when good.	14.	Index of clerk.
5.	Notice by publication.	15.	Fees of clerk.
6.	Personal service without the Territory, proof.	16.	Satisfaction of lien, costs.
7.	Proceedings when part only are served.	17.	Dismissal of attachment, etc, certificate, fees.
8.	Proceedings against joint debtors not summoned, when.	18.	Failure to file notice, effect.
9	Return of "not found" as to part.	19.	Judgment, liens, not effected.
10	Plaintiff's privilege, when part are served.

Filing complaint; summons.

(4353) § 1. A civil action shall be commenced, by filing in the office of the proper clerk a complaint, and causing a summons to issue thereon; and the action shall be deemed to be commenced from the time of issuing the summons; but as to those against whom publication is made, from the time of the first publication. The summons shall be issued by the clerk, under the seal of the court, and directed to the sheriff, and shall notify the defendant of the action commenced, the parties thereto, and the court where pending.

Or the plaintiff may bring his action by serving the defendant with a summons signed by the plaintiff or his attorney, informing the defendant of the name of the plaintiff, and that on or before a day therein named, a petition will be filed in the office of the clerk of the court wherein suit is brought, naming it, and stating generally the cause or causes of action and if the action is for money the amount thereof, and that unless the defendant appear thereto and defend before noon of the second day of the term, naming it, or at such other time as the court may by rule direct, default will be entered against him and judgment be rendered thereon.

The time of filing the petition must be not less than ten days before the first day of the next term of the court. Delivery of such summons to the sheriff or his deputy for services shall be deemed the commencement of the action.

Service, guardian ad litem for same

(4354) § 2. The summons shall be served, either personally on the defendant, or by leaving a copy thereof at his usual or last place of residence. An acknowledgment on the back of the process, or the voluntary appearance of a defendant, is equivalent to service.

Process against persons of unsound mind shall be served upon the guardian of such persons, if there be a guardian. If no guardian shall have been appointed, then such process shall be served, by copy, upon the superintendent of the hospital in which such persons shall be confined, or upon the person having charge or custody of such person; in which case, upon proof of the insanity of the defendant, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for such defendant, whose duty it shall be to make proper defense to such action.

Service on corporations.

(4355) § 3. The process against either a domestic or foreign corporation may be served on the president, presiding officer, mayor, chairman of the board of trustees, or other chief officer or, if its chief officer is not found in the county, then upon its cashier, treasurer, secretary, clerk, general or special agent; or, if it is a municipal corporation, upon its marshal; or, if it is an incorporated library company, upon its librarian; if none of the aforesaid officers can be found, then upon any person authorized to transact business in the name of such corporation and if no such person, officer, or agent be found in the county where suit is pending, process may be sent, for service, to any other county in the Territory where such person, officer, or agent may be found: Provided, however, That process shall not be served upon any such person, officer, or agent when he is plaintiff in the suit, but, in such cases, process shall be served upon some other such person, officer, or agent of the corporation than such plaintiff; and in case the defendant be a foreign corporation, having no such person, officer, or agent resident in the Territory, service may be made in the same manner as against other non-residents.

Summons and service, when good.

(4356) § 4. No summons, or the service thereof, shall be set aside, or be adjudged insufficient, where there is sufficient substance about either to inform the party on whom it may be served that there is an action instituted against him in court, the name of the plaintiff and the court, and the time when he is required to appear.

Notice by publication.

(4357) § 5. The clerk, by order of the court if in session, or in vacation without such order, shall cause a notice of the pendency of such action, and the term at which the same will stand for trial, to be published for three weeks successively in some newspaper of general circulation named by the plaintiff or his attorney, printed in the English language, and published in the county, or if none be published or printed therein, then in the county in this Territory nearest thereto in which any such paper may be printed in either of the following cases shown by affidavit:

First. Where the defendant is a foreign corporation, and has property wherein the Territory, or the cause of action arose therein.

Second. Where the defendant, being a resident of this Territory, has departed therefrom, with intent to defraud his creditors, or to avoid the service of the summons, or keeps himself concealed therein, with a like intent.

Third. Where the defendant is not a resident of this Territory and the cause of action is founded upon or connected with a contract; or arises from a duty imposed by law in relation to rea estate in this Territory, or the object of the action is to enforce or discharge a lien; or to obtain a divorce; or to try and determine or quiet the title to, or possession of real estate or any interest therein; or to enforce the collection of any demand by proceedings in guarnishment or attachment.

Chap. 70.

Fourth. Where the residence of any defendant, upon diligent inquiry, is unknown.

Fifth. Where the name of any defendant is unkonwn, and he is believed to be a non-resident.

Personal service without the territory, proof

(4358) § 6. When the defendant is a non-resident, personal service of the summons out of the Territory is equivalent to publication; and such service may be proved by the affidavit of a competent person, made before any officer authorized to administer oaths; which affidavit shall state the time and place and mode of giving the notice, and set forth that the person thus served with notice is the identical person named in the action or proceeding; or the identify of the person may be proved by the affidavit of the plaintiff or any other person.

Proceedings when part only are served.

(4359) § 7. Where the action is against two or more defendants, and the service is served on one or more, but not all of them, the plaintiff may proceed as follows:

First. If the action be against defendants jointly indebted on contract, he may proceed against the defendant served; and if he recover judgment it may be enforced against the joint property of all and the separate property of the defendant served.

Second. If the action be against defendant severally liable, he may proceed against the defendants served in the same manner as if they were the only defendants, and may afterward proceed against those not served.

Third. If all the defendants have been served, judgment may be taken against any or either of them severally, when the plaintiff would be entitled to judgment against such defendant or defendants, if the action had been against them, or any of them alone.

Proceedings against joint debtors not summoned, when.

(4360) § 8. In all cases where judgment has heretofore been, or shall hereafter be, recovered against one or more persons jointly liable on contract, but such judgment has been, or shall be, rendered only against part of the persons liable, for the reason that the others were not summoned and did not appear, the plaintiff may proceed against those not summoned and who did not appear, in the same manner as if they were alone liable, but the complaint must allege the facts aforesaid.

Return of "not found" as to part.

(4361) § 9. When there is a return of "not found," as to any of the defendants, such return shall be suggested on the record, and the plaintiff may continue the cause, as to them, for another summons, at his option; and he may, in either case, proceed against the defendants served in time.

Plaintiff's privilege when part are served

(4362) § 10. When the summons has been served in due time on part only of the defendants, the plaintiff may dismiss, or continue for further proceedings, his action as to those not summoned, or not summoned in time, and proceed to trial as to the others, or continue as to all of them, at his option.

Lis pendens record.

(4363) § 11. There shall be kept in the office of the clerk of the several district courts of this Territory a book to be called the "Lis Pendens Record," which shall be a public record.

Notice by party, contents, filing.

(4364) § 12. Whenever any person shall have commenced a suit, whether by complaint as plaintiff, or by cross complaint as defendant, to enforce any lien upon, right to, or interest in, any real estate, upon any claim not founded upon an instrument executed by the party having the legal title to such real estate, as appears from the proper records of such county, and recorded as by law required; or not founded upon a judgment of record in the county wherein such real estate is situated, against the party having the legal title to such real estate, as appears from such proper records. It shall be the duty of such person to file with the clerk of the district court in each county where the real estate sought to be effected is situated, a written notice containing the title of the court, the names of all the parties to such suit, a description of the real estate to be affected, and the nature of the lien, right, or interest sought to be enforced against the same; which notice shall, upon the payment of the proper fees, be immediately recorded in said "Lis Pendens Record" by the clerk, who shall note upon the record the day and hour when said notice was filed and recorded.

Attachment or levy; notice and filing by sheriff.

(4365) § 13. Whenever any sheriff or coroner of any county in this Territory shall seize upon any real estate or interest therein, by virtue of any writ of attachment, or shall levy upon any such real estate or interest therein, by virtue of any execution issued to him from any court other than a court of the county in which he is sheriff or coroner, he shall, at the time of making the seizure or levy, file with the clerk of the district court of his county a written notice, setting forth the names of the parties to the proceedings upon which the written attachment or execution is founded, and recorded as provided for in the preceding section of this act; and such sheriff or coroner shall state in his return to the attachment or execution, that such notice has been filed, and he shall be allowed a fee of fifty cents, to be taxed as costs: Provided, That such sheriff or coroner shall not be required to file such notice until the attachment or execution-plaintiff shall have furnished the money to pay the clerk for filing and recording the same

Index of clerk.

(4366) § 14. It shall be the duty of the several clerks, upon filing and recording the notices herein provided, to index the same in the name of the several parties whose interest in such real estate is sought to be affected by such suits, attachments, or executions, the plaintiff versus the names of all the defendants, and such defendant whose real estate is sought to be affected at the suit of the plaintiff.

Fees of clerk.

(4367) § 15. The clerk shall receive twenty-five cents for filing, recording, and indexing each notice required by this act, to be paid by the person filing the same; and the further sum of fifteen cents for entering satisfaction of the lien, right, or claimed interest, as hereinafter provided

Chap. 70.

Satisfaction of lien, costs.

(4368) § 16. Upon the final determination of any suit, brought for the purposes in section seventy-seven specified, adversely to the party seeking to enforce a lien upon, right to, or interest in, such real estate, it shall be the duty of the court rendering the judgment to order the proper clerk to enter in said "Lis Pendens Record" a satisfaction of the lien, right or interest sought to be enforced against said real estate; and upon such entry being made, said real estate shall be forever discharged therefrom, and the costs for entering such satisfaction shall be taxed as a part of the costs in the case.

Dismissal of attachment, etc., certificate, fee

(4369) § 17. Whenever any such attachment shall be dismissed, or the judgment rendered thereon shall be satisfied, or such execution shall be satisfied without a sale of such lands so seized or levied upon as aforesaid, or upon a redemption of such real estate within the time allowed by law, after a sale thereof upon execution, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the proper court, from which such attachment or execution was issued, upon a payment of a fee of fifty cents by the owner of such real estate, to make a certificate of such dismissal or satisfaction, to be entered upon the "Lis Pendens Record," if the same is in his office, or to be recorded in the "Lis Pendens Record" of the proper county where such real estate is situated; and upon such certificate being entered or recorded, such real estate shall be discharged from the lien of such attachment or execution.

Failure to file notice, effect

(4370) § 18. Until the proper notices required by this act have been filed with the proper clerk, the bringing of suits for the purposes mentioned in section seventy-seven and the seizure of real estate under attachments, and the levy thereon under execution, in the cases mentioned in section seventy-eight, shall not operate as constructive notice of the pendancy of such suits, or of the seizure of or levy upon such real estate, nor have any force or effect as against bona fide purchasers or incumbrancers of the same.

Judgment liens not effected.

(4371) § 19. Nothing in this act shall be construed to impair the lien of judgments of the several courts of record of this Territory upon the real estate of defendants in the county where such judgments are rendered, or transcripts thereof filed and recorded as now required by law.

ARTICLE 8.—ACTIONS, WHEN DISMISSED.

SECTION.		SECTION.
1.	Action dismissed when.	2.	Dismissal in vacation, costs.

Action dismissed, when.

(4372) § 1. An action may be dismissed without prejudice.

First. By the plaintiff before the jury retires; or, when the trial is by court, at any time by the finding of the court is announced.

Second. By the court where the plaintiff fails to appear on the trial.

Third. By the court, on the refusal to make the necessary parties, after having been ordered by the court.

Fourth. By the court on the application of some of the defendants, where there are others whom the plaintiff fails to prosecute with diligence.

Fifth. By the court, for disobedience by the plaintiff of an order concerning the proceedings in the action.

In all other cases, upon the trial, the decision must be upon the merits.

Dismissal in vacation, costs.

(4373) § 2. The plaintiff may dismiss his action in vacation. by filing with the clerk a writing to that effect. The clerk shall enter such written dismissal in the order book, and the court shall enter judgment accordingly to the next term. The plaintiff shall not be liable to the defendant for any costs made by him after notice of dismissal.

Definition

(4374) § 4. The pleadings are formal allegations of the parties of their respective claims and defenses, for the judgment of the court.

Distinct forms abolished

(4375) § 2. All the distinct forms of pleading heretofore existing, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby abolished; and hereafter the forms of pleadings in civil actions in courts of record, and the rules by which the sufficiency of the pleadings is to be determined, are modified as prescribed by this act.

What allowed.

(4376) § 3. The only pleadings allowed are:

First. The complaint by the plaintiff.

Second. Demurrer and answer by the defendant.

Third. The demurrer and reply by the plaintiff.

Fourth. Demurrer to the reply.

Complaint, contents, paragraphs numbered.

(4377) § 4. The first pleading on the part of the plaintiff is the complaint.

The complaint shall contain:

First. The title of the cause, specifying the name of the court and the county in which the action is brought and the names of the parties to the action, plaintiff and defendant.

Second. A statement of the facts constituting the cause of action in plain and concise language, without repitition and, in such manner as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.

Third. Where the complaint contains more than one cause of action, each shall be distinctly stated in a separate paragraph and numbered.

Fourth. A demand of the relief to which the plaintiff may suppose himself to be entitled.

If the recovery of money be demanded the amount thereof shall be stated.

Demurrer, cause therefor.

(4378) § 5. The defendant may demur to the complaint when it appears upon the fact thereof, either;

First. That the court has no jurisdiction of the person of the defendant or the subject of the action.

Second, That the plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue.

Third. That there is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause.

Fourth, That there is a defect of parties, plaintiff or defendant.

Fifth. That the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Sixth. That several causes of action have been improperly joined and for no other cause shall a demurrer be sustained.

Seventh. When it appears on the face of the petition that the cause of action is barred by statute of limitation.

Demurrer sustained for misjoiner, proceedings.

(4379) § 6. Where a demurrer is sustained on the ground of several causes of action being improperly joined in the same complaint, the court shall order the misjoinder to be noted on the order book and cause as many separate actions to be docketed between the parties as there are causes decided by the court to be improperly joined, and each shall stand as a separate action. And the plaintiff shall thereupon file a complaint in each of the above cases to which the defendant shall enter his appearance and plead and go to trial, or suffer a default, in the same manner as in the original action.

Misjoiner not ground for reversal.

(4380) § 7. No judgment shall ever be reversed for any error committed in sustaining or overruling a demurrer for misjoinder of causes of action.

Pleading over amendment, terms.

(4381) § 8. If the court sustain or overrule a demurrer the party affected by such ruling may plead over or amend, upon such terms as the court may direct, and on payment of costs occasioned by the demurrer.

Objection by answer, when.

(4382) § 9. Where any of the matters enumerated in section ninety does not appear upon the face of the complaint, the objection (except for misjoinder of causes) may be taken by answer. If no objection is taken, either by demurrer or answer, the defendants shall be deemed to have waived the same, except only the objection to the jurisdiction of the court over the subject of the action, and except the objection that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action: Provided, however, That the objection that the action was brought in the wrong county, if not taken by answer or demurrer, shall be deemed to have been waived.

Demurrer to part, answer to residue.

(4383) § 10. The defendant may demur to one or more of the several causes of action alleged in a complaint and answer as to the residue.

Demurrer overruled; judgment.

(4384) § 11. The judgment upon overruling a demurrer shall be that the party shall plead over; and the answer or reply shall not be deemed to overrule the objection taken by demurrer. But no objection taken by demurrer and overruled shall be sufficient to reverse the judgment, if it appear from the whole record that the merits of the case have been fairly determined. If a party fail to plead after the demurrer is overruled judgment shall be rendered against him as upon a default.

Demurrer to answer.

(4385) § 12. Where the facts stated in any paragraph of the answer are not sufficient to constitute a cause of defense, the plaintiff, may demur to it under the rules prescribed for demurring to complaint.

(4386) § 13. The answer shall contain:

Answer, contents, paragraphs numbered

First. A denial of each allegation of the complaint controverted by the defendant.

Second. A statement of any new matter constituting a defense, counter-claim, or set-off, in plain and concise language.

Third. The defendant may set forth in his answer as many grounds of defense, counter-claim, and set-off, whether legal or equitable, as he shall have. Each shall be distinctly stated in a separate paragraph, and numbered, and clearly refer to the cause of action intended to be answered.

Set-off.

(4387) § 14. A set-off shall be allowed only in actions for money demands upon contract, and must consist of matter arising out of debt, duty, or contract, liquidated or not, held by the defendant at the time the suit was commenced, and matured at or before the time it is offered as a set-off.

Principal and surety; set-off.

(4388) § 15. In all actions upon a note or other contract against several defendants, any one of whom is principal and the others sureties therein, any claim upon contract in favor of the principal defendant, and against the plaintiff, or any former holder of the note or other contract, may be pleaded as a set-off by the principal or any other defendant.

Counter-claim.

(4389) § 16. A counter-claim is a matter arising out of or connected with a cause of action which might by the subject of an action in favor of the defendant, or of which would tend to reduce the plaintiff's claim or demand for damages.

Omission to plead counter-claim, effect

(4390) § 17. If any defendant personally served with notice omit to set up a counter-claim arising out of the contract, or transaction set forth in the complaint as the ground of the plaintiff's claims, or any of them, he can not afterwards maintain an action against the plaintiff therefor, except at his own cost.

Cross demands, effect of assignment or death.

(4391) § 18. When cross demands have existed between persons, under such circumstances that one could be pleaded as a counter claim or set-off to an action brought upon the other, neither can be deprived of the benefit thereof by the assignment or death of the other and the two demands must be deemed compensated so far as they equal each other.

Set-off or counter-claim, right of defendant.

(4392) § 19. In any case where a set-off or counter claim has been presented, which in another action would entitle the defendant to a judgment against the plaintiff, the defendant shall have right of proceeding to the trial of his claim without notice although the plaintiff may have dismissed his action or failed to appear.

Answers, joint or several.

(4393) § 20. Several defendants may answer jointly or severally, as the facts set forth in the complaint may require.

Answer by guardian or committee.

(4394) § 21. It shall be the duty of the guardian of an infant, or the committee of a person of unsound mind, or attorney appointed for a prisoner, to file an answer denying the material allegations of the complaint prejudicial to such defendant without oath.

Defenses general denial, special.

(4395) § 22. All defenses, except the mere denial of the facts alleged by the plaintiff, shall be pleaded specially.

Reply, demurrer thereto; paragraphs numbered

(4396) § 23. When any paragraph of the answer contains new matter, the plaintiff may reply to it by a general denial; and may also, in separate paragraphs, reply any new matter which supports the complaint and avoids the new matter in such paragraph of the answer. The defendant may demur to any paragraph of the reply, on the ground that the facts stated therein are not sufficient to avoid the paragraph of answer, or, if the answer be a set-off or counter claim, any part thereof. The paragraphs of the reply, like the answer shall be severally numbered, and each shall plainly refer to the paragraph of the answer to which it is addressed. The pleadings to a counter claim shall be an answer by the defendant thereto, and a reply to new matter in the answer with the right to demur to any of them, as if the counter claim were an original complaint.

Pleadings subscribed.

(4397) § 24. Every pleading of fact in a court of record must be subscribed by the party or his attorney, and verified by the party, his agent or attorney.

Interrogatories to parties; continuance.

(4398) § 25. Either party may propound interrogatories, to be filed with the pleadings relevant to the matter in controversy, and require the opposite party to answer the same under oath. And corporations, through their proper officers, agent, or agents, shall be required to answer interrogatories as natural persons. All interrogatories must be answered within the time limited by the court or judge, positively and without evasion, and the court may enforce the answer by attachment or otherwise; and the party may, in addition thereto, set forth in his answer, all the relevant matter in avoidance. The answer to the interrogatories may be used on the trial or not, at the option of the party requiring it: Provided, however, That in the absence of such opposite party, the filing of the interrogatories shall not work a continuance of the cause unless it be shown to the court, by affidavit, that the party who files such interrogatores expects to elicit facts by the answer, material to him on the trial; that he believes such facts to be true; that he can not prove the same by any witness; and that he files the interrogatories not for delay merely, but to obtain substantial justice at the trial.

When a party filing interrogatories shall also file an affidavit that he verily believes the subject of the interrogatories, or any of them is in the personal knowledge of the opposite party interrogated, and that the answers thereto, if truthfully made from such knowledge will sustain the claim or defense as the case may be, or any part thereof, and if the opposite party shall fail to answer, within the time allowed, or extended by the court therefor, the claim or defense, or the part thereof, according to such affidavit, shall de deemed to be sustained, and judgment be given accordingly.

Verified pleadings not proof, exception.

(4399) § 26. Pleadings sworn to by either party in the case shall not, on the trial, be deemed proof of the facts alleged therein, nor require other or greater proof on the part of the adverse party than those not sworn to, except as herein or otherwise by law provided.

Excuse pleaded, when denial.

(4400) § 27. When the pleadings show sufficient excuse for not admitting or denying allegation, such excuse operates as a denial of the truth of the allegation and to require its proof.

When instrument or copy must be filed.

(4401) § 28. When any pleading is founded on a written instrument or on account, the original, or a copy thereof, must be filed with the pleading. A set-off or a counter-claim is within the meaning of this section. Such copy of a written instrument, when copied in the pleadings, shall be taken as a part of the record. The account, if the items are numerous, shall not be copied in the pleadings nor be deemed to be any part of the record, unless by order of the court. Any variance between the pleadings and copy of a written instrument filed, as to matter of description or legal effect, may be amended at any time (as of course) before judgment without causing a continuance.

Bill of particulars.

(4402) § 29. The court on motion, may order a further bill of particulurs, when the one filed is defective; and may, in all proper cases upon motion, order a bill of particulars of the claim of either party, and abstracts of title to be furnished.

Proof of execution of instrument, verified plea, exception.

(4403) § 30. Where a pleading is founded on a written instrument, or such instrument is therein referred to; when an assignment, in writing, of such instrument is specially alleged in a pleading, such instrument or assigement may be read in evidence on the trial of the cause without proving its execution, unless its execution be denied by pleading under oath, or by an affidavit filed with the pleading denying the execution. And when a written instrument or assignment is so pleaded or referred to proof of the names of the makers, assignors, obligors, assignees, payees, or obligees, shall not be necessary uuless the same shall be denied by pleading under oath, or by affidavit filed as aforesaid. The oath in case that the time of assignment is questioned, shall be that the party has reason to believe, and does believe, that the assignment was not made before the suit was commenced, but the executors, administrators, or guardians need not deny the execution of an instrument, or the assignment thereof, under oath, but the same must be proved as if it were so denied. The party shall in all cases be entitled to an inspection of the instrument in writing, before pleading thereto.

Dilatory pleas verified, answers and issue in abatement.

(4404) § 31. Pleadings denying the jurisdiction of the court, or in abatement of the action, and all dilatory pleadings, must be supported by affidavit. The character or capacity in which a party sues or is sued, and authority by virtue of which he sues, shall require no proof on the trial of the cause, unless such character, capacity or authority, be denied by a pleading under oath, or by an affidavit filed therewith. An answer in abatement must precede, and can not be pleaded with an answer in bar, and the issue thereon must be tried first and separately. If the issue be found against the answer, the judgment must be that the party plead over and against him for all costs of the action up to that time.

Failure of consideration, exception.

(4405) § 32. A failure or want of consideration, in whole or in part, may be pleaded to any action, set-off, or counter-claim upon or arising out of any specialty bond or deed, except instruments negotiable by the law merchant, and negotiated before the falling due.

Pleading set-off or payment, though barred.

(4406) § 33. A party to any action may plead or reply a set-off or payment to the amount of any cause of action or defense, notwithstanding such set-off or payment is barred by the statute: Provided, It was not barred at the time the cause of action arose.

Averment of demand at place when unnecessary.

(4407) § 34. In any action or defense, founded upon a bill or note, or other contract for the payment of money at a particulur place,it shall not be necessary to aver or prove a demand at the place, but the opposite party may show a readiness to pay such demand at the proper place.

Judgment of court of special jurisdiction, proof.

(4408) § 35. In pleading a judgment or decision of a court or officer of special jurisdiction, it shall be sufficient to allege, generally that the judgment or decision was duly given or made. If the allegation be denied, the facts conferring jurisdiction must be proved on the trial.

Condition precedent, proof.

(4409) § 36. In pleading the performance of a condition precedent in a contract, it shall be sufficent to allege, generally, that the party performed all the conditions on his part. If the allegations be denied, the facts showing a performance must be proved on the trial.

Private statute.

(4410) § 37. In pleading a private statute or a right derived therefrom, it shall be sufficient to refer to such statute by its title and the day of its approval, and the court shall take judicial notice thereof.

Libel or slander, defamatory matter.

(4411) § 38. In an action for libel or slander it shall be sufficient to state, generally, that the defamatory matter was published or spoken of the plaintiff; and if the allegation be denied, the plaintiff must prove, on the trial, the facts, showing that the defamitory matter was published or spoken of him.

Justification and mitigation, evidence.

(4412) § 39. In all actions mentioned in the last section, the defendant may allege the truth of the matter charged as defamitory and mitigating circumstances to reduce the damages, and give either or both in evidence.

Presumption; matters of judicial notice.

(4413) § 40. Neither presumptions of law nor matters of which judicial notice is taken need be stated in a pleading.

Property distrained, sufficient answer.

(4414) § 41. In an action to recover the possession of property distrained doing damage, an answer that the defendant, or person by whose command he acted, was lawfully possessed of the real property upon which the distress was made, and that the property distrained was at the time doing damage thereon, shall be good, without setting forth the title of such real property.

Liberal construction; indefiniteness, how corrected.

(4415) § 42. In the construction of a pleading, for the purpose of determining its effect, its allegations shall be liberally construed, with a view to substantial justice between the parties; but when the allegations of a pleading are so indefinite or uncertain that the precise nature of the charge or defense is not apparent, the court may require the pleading to be made definite and certain by amendment.

Evidence under general denial

(4416) § 43. Under a mere denial of any allegation, no evidence shall be introduced which does not tend to negative what the party making the allegation is bound to prove.

Fictions abolished.

(4417) § 44. All fictions in pleading are abolished, and their use forbidden in the courts of justice in this Territory.

Paper lost or withheld, copy used.

(4418) § 45. If an original pleading or paper be lost or withheld by any person, the court may authorize a copy thereof to be filed and instead of the original.

Copy of pleadings for adverse party, rule.

(4419) § 46. The court may, by rule, require that when the complaint, answer or reply in any cause is filed, the party filing the same shall also file one copy thereof for the use of the opposite party, but no copy of any exhibit need be filed; and for the filing of which copy no fee shall be taxed by the clerk.

Case numbers continuous.

(4420) § 47. Each case, when it is filed and entered, shall be numbered; and thereafter, in all its stages in the same court, and upon every docket and the book; such cause, and all the papers and exhibits filed therein, shall bear the same number as when first filed.

Sham pleadings.

(4421) § 48. An answer or other pleading shall be rejected as sham, either when it plainly appears upon the face thereof to be false in fact, and intended merely for delay, or when shown to be so by the answers of the party to special written interrogatories propounded to him to ascertain whether the pleading is false; and all surplusages, tautology, and irrelevant matter shall be set aside and struck out of any pleading, when pointed out by the party aggrieved.

Allegations, when taken as true.

(4422) § 49. Every material allegation of the complaint not controverted by the answer, and every material allegation of new matter in the answer not controverted by the reply shall for the purpose of the action be taken as true but the allegations of new matter in a reply are to be deemed controverted by the adverse party as upon a direct denial or avoidance as the case may require. Allegations of value or amount of damages shall not be considered as true by the failure to controvert them; but in actions upon account, in which an itemized bill of particulars, the correctness of which is duly affirmed or sworn to by the plaintiff, or some one in his behalf has been filed with the complaint a default by the defendant shall be deemed to admit the correctness of the bill of particulars, as sworn or affirmed to and judgment may be rendered thereon without further evidence.

Damages, when recoverable

(4423) § 50. Whenever damages are recoverable, the plaintiff may claim and recover, if he show himself entitled thereto, any damages which he might have heretofore recovered for the same cause of action.

Relief, extent of.

(4424) § 51. The relief granted to the plaintiff, if there be no answer, cannot exceed the relief demanded in his complaint; but in any other case, the court may grant him any relief consistent with the case made by the complaint and embraced within the issue.

When party constructively summoned may defend.

(4425) § 52. A defendant constructively summoned shall be allowed, at any time before judgment, to appear and defend the action; and upon a substantial defense being disclosed, time may be given on reasonable terms, to prepare for trial.

Complaint must be proved.

(4426) § 53. The statements of a complaint against a defendant constructively summoned, and who has not appeared, except such as are for his benefit, shall not be taken as true, but shall be established by proof.

Plaintiff may be examined.

(4427) § 54. Before rendering judgment against a defendant constructively summoned, and who has not appeared, the court may cause the plaintiff to appear personally in court, or before a commissioner and answer, under oath, interrogatories concerning the matters in the complaint, or any matters which might be set up in defense thereto, including matters of set-off and counter-claim, and may order the examination to be reduced to writing, and filed with the papers of the action.

Adjustment of set-off or counter-claim.

(4428) § 55. If upon the examination provided in the last section, any matters of set-off or counter-claim are disclosed, the same may be adjusted by the judgment.

No personal judgment

(4429) § 56. No personal judgment shall be rendered against a defendant constructively summoned, who has not appeared in the action.

Variance immaterial, unless party misled

(4430) § 57. No variance between the allegations in a pleading and the proof is to be deemed material, unless it has actually misled the adverse party to his prejudice in maintaining his action or defense upon the merits. Whenever it is alleged that a party has been so misled, that fact must be proved to the satisfaction of the court and it must be shown in what respect he has been misled; and thereupon the court may order the pleading to be amended on such terms as may be just not exceeding costs caused by such amendment.

Variance immaterial, action of court.

(4431) § 58. Where the variance is not material, as provided in the last section, the court may direct the fact to be found according to the evidence, or may order an immediate amendment, without costs.

Failure of proof.

(4432) § 59. When, however, the allegation of the claim or defense to which the proof is directed is unproved, not in some particular only, but in its general scope and meaning, it is not to be deemed a case of variance within the last two sections, but a failure of proof.

Amendment, delay thereby, affidavit

(4433) § 60. Any pleading may be amended by either party, of course, at any time, before the pleading is answered. All other amendments shall be by leave of the court. The party amending shall pay the costs of the leave to amend. When the trial is not delayed by reason of the amendment, no other costs shall be taxed. When the amendment causes a delay during any part of the term, or to another term, the party amending shall pay the costs of such delay. No cause shall be delayed by reason of an amendment, excepting only the time to made up issues, but upon good cause shown by affidavit of the party or his attorney asking such delay.

Contents of affidavit, pleadings filed.

(4434) § 61. The affidavit shall show distinctly in what respect the party asking for the delay has been prejudiced in his preparation for trial by the amendment. When the action is continued for such cause, the party asking the delay shall file his pleadings at such time as the court may direct.

Names of parties, pleadings corrected, relief, judgment.

(4435) § 62. The court may, at any time, in its discretion, and upon such terms as may be deemed proper for the furtherance of justice, direct the name of any party to be added or struck out; a mistake in name, description, or legal effect, or in any other respect, to be corrected; any material allegation to be inserted, struck out or modified, to conform the pleadings to the facts proved, when the amendment does not substantially change the claim or defense. The court may also, in its discretion, allow a party to file his pleadings after the time limited therefor; and shall relieve a party from a judgment taken a against him, through his mistake, inadvertance, surprise, or excusable neglect, and supply an omission in any proceedings, on complaint or motion filed within two years.

Name of defendant.

(4436) § 63. When the plaintiff is ignorant of the name of the defendant such a defendant may be designated in any pleading or proceeding by any name; and when his true name is discovered, the pleading or proceeding may be amended accordingly, either before or after service of the summons.

Judgment not reversed for technical error.

(4437) § 64. The court must in every stage of the action, disregard any error or defect in the pleadings which does not affect the substantial rights of the adverse party; and no judgment can be reversed or effected by reason of such error or defect, not exceeding the costs caused by such amendment.

Supplemental pleadings.

(4438) § 65. The court may on motion allow supplemental pleadings, showing facts which occurred after the former pleadings were filed.

ARTICLE 10.—FORMATION AND ORDER OF ISSUES.

SECTION.
1. Calling of causes; completing issues.
2. Judgment on failure to plead, exception.
3. Entry docket of clerk.
4. Issues of fact, when tried, damages assessed.
5. Docket entries.
6. Judge to arrange order of business.

Calling of causes; completing issues

(4439) § 1. On the second, and each succeeding day of the term, the court shall call as many of the causes which stand for trial at such term, for issues, as the business of the court will permit; the court shall call the causes in the order they stand on the docket, and shall compel the parties to file their respective pleadings and answers to interrogatories, at such time as the court shall deem just, in no case allowing unreasonable delay; and the pleadings shall be completed at an early day of the term.

Judgment on failure to plead, exceptions

(4440) § 2. If, from any cause, either party shall fail to plead or make up the issues within the time prescribed, the court shall forthwith enter judgment as upon a default, unless, for good cause shown, further time be given, on the payment of the costs occasioned by the delay.

Entry-docket of clerk.

(4441) § 3. The clerk shall keep an entry-docket, wherein he shall enter all actions in the order in which they are brought, and the date of issuing the process and the date of the judgment. Within three weeks after the adjournment of the court he shall make out an issue-docket for all actions then pending, and shall docket therein all cases which may be commenced previous to the first day of the next term, in their order, and furnish a copy of the same for the use of the court.

Issues of fact, when tried, damages assessed.

(4442) § 4. The trial of any issue of fact shall be on or after the day on which the cause is set on the docket, unless otherwise agreed by the parties. The assessment of damages, in case of default, shall be on or after the day on which the default is taken.

Docket entries.

(4443) § 5. The entry on the docket shall show whether or not the summons has been fully served or notice given in due time for trial, and whether or not the issues have been formed.

Judge to arrange order of business.

(4444) § 6. The district judges of this Territory, shall have power, and it is hereby made their duty, by proper order, to arrange and regulate the order of business in their respective districts; and in making such order they shall provide:

First. For making up of issues.

Second. For the trial of criminal cases.

Third. For the trial of civil cases.

ARTICLE 11.—ISSUES.

SECTION.
1. Issues, two kinds.
2. Issues of law.
3. Issues of fact.
4. Causes, how tried, distinction.

(4445) § 1. Issues arise on the pleadings, where a fact or conclusion of law is maintained by one party and controverted by the other. They are of two kinds. Issues, two kinds.

First. Of law.

Second. Of fact.

(4446) § 2. An issue of law arises upon demurrer to the complaint, answer, or reply, or to some part thereof. Issues of law.

(4447) § 3. An issue of fact arises: Issues of fact.

First. Upon a material allegation in the complaint, denied by the answer.

Second. Upon a material new matter in the answer, denied by the reply.

Third. Upon material new matter in the reply, which shall be considered as controverted by the opposite party without further pleading.

(4448) § 4. Issues of law and issues of fact in causes that are of exclusive equitable jurisdiction, shall be tried by the court; issues of fact in all other causes shall be triable by jury. In case of the joinder of causes of action or defenses which, formerly, were of exclusive equitable jurisdiction, with causes of action or defenses which were designated as actions at law and triable by jury, the former shall be triable by the court, and the latter by a jury, unless waived; the trial of both may be at the same time or at different times, as the court may direct: Provided, That in all cases triable by the court as above directed, the court, in its discretion, for its information, may cause any question of fact to be tried by jury, or the court may refer any such cause to a referee, for hearing and report. Causes, how tried, distinction.

ARTICLE 12.—CONTINUANCES.

SECTION.
1 Continuance on affidavit.
2. Continuance by court, proviso.

(4449) § 1. A motion to postpone the trial on account of the absence of evidence can be made only upon affidavit, showing the materiality of the evidence expected to be obtained, and that due diligence has been used to obtain it, and where the evidence may be, and if it is for an absent witness the affidavit must show the name and residence of the witness, if known, and the probability of procuring the testimony within a reasonable time, and that his absence has not been procured by the act or connivance of the party, nor by others at his request, nor with his knowledge and consent, and what facts he believes the witness will testify to, and that he believes them to be true, and that he is unable to prove such facts by any other witness whose testimony can be as readily procured. If, thereupon, the adverse Continuance on affidavit.

Chap. 70.

party will consent that, on the trial, the fact shall be taken as true, if the absent evidence is written or documentry, and, in case of a witness, that he will testify to said facts as true, the trial shall not be postponed for that cause, and, in such case, the party against whom such evidence is used, shall have the right to impeach such absent witness, as in case where the witness is present or his deposition is used.

Continuance by court, proviso.

(4450) § 2. Any court, for good cause shown, may continue any action at any stage of the proceedings, at the cost of the applicant, to be paid as the court shall direct: Provided, That if, by reason of an amendment to the pleadings, a party who would otherwise be ready for trial be compelled to obtain a continuance, it shall be at the costs of the party making the amendment.

ARTICLE 13.—CHANGE OF VENUE.

SECTION.
1. Causes for.
2. Change from county, costs; one change.
3. Payment to county of expense of trial.
4. No change in vacation, exception.

Causes for.

First. That the judge has been engaged as counsel in the cause prior to his election or appointment as judge, or is otherwise interested in the cause.

Second. That the judge is of kin to either party.

Third. That the opposite party has an undue influence over the citizens of the county, or that an odium attaches to the applicant, or to his cause of action or defense, on account of local predjudice.

Fourth. When the county is a party to the suit.

Fifth. Showing to the satisfaction of the court that the convenience of the witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change.

Sixth. That the judge of the court wherein such action is pending, is a material witness for the party applying for such change.

Seventh. When either party shall make and file an affidavit of the bias, predjudice, or interest of the judge before whom the said cause is pending.

Change from county, costs, one change.

(4452) § 2. When a change of venue is directed for any of the causes mentioned in the third, fourth and fifth specifications of the preceping section, the court or judge shall designate the county to which the venue shall be changed (which may be in the same or in an adjoining district, as may be deemed best for the furtherance of justice), and shall prescribe the time within which the appellant shall pay the costs of the change; and the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending, as soon as the costs are paid, shall forthwith transmit all the papers and transcript of all the proceedings to the clerk of the court of the county to which venue is changed; and the clerk of the proper court shall receive the papers and transcript, giving a receipt therefor, and docket the action in its order among the other causes of the court; and the action shall stand for trial at the first term, and shall be tried or otherwise be disposed of in the same manner as if the cause had originated in that court. If the party fail to pay the costs of the change within the time prescribed by the court, he shall be taxed with all the costs made in the case up to the time of such failure, and shall not be entitled to a change of venue from the county. Only one change of venue shall be granted to the same party from the county, and only one from the judge.

Payment to county of expenses of trial.

(4453) § 3. In all cases, where there has been or shall be a change of venue from one county to another, the county from which the change of venue shall have been or shall be taken shall be liable to pay to the county to which such change shall have been or shall be taken, all such expenses as shall have been or shall be incurred by such county to which such change shall have been or shall be taken, in consequence of such change, and in all cases, the fees paid by such county to the jury trying the case, and any of the regular panel not engaged in such trial, allowance to bailiffs, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by such county, and consequent upon such change of venue and the trial of such cause. Such expenses shall be audited and allowed by the court to which such cases shall have been changed; and such court shall certify such allowance to the county clerk of the county from which the change of venue was first taken; and such county clerk shall issue his warrant on the treasurer of the county for the amount so allowed and certified.

No change in vacation, exception.

(4454) § 4. No change of venue shall be granted in vacation unless the opposite party has been given ten days notice of the application therefor.

Chap. 70.

lic, mayor or recorder of a city, clerk of a court of record, or commissioner appointed by the court to take depositions; but depositions shall not be taken before any person being of kin to either party or interested in the action.

Notice, contents, service.

(4456) § 2. A party wishing to take depositions shall give notice to the adverse party, if there be only one person; if there be several, to any one of them who is a real party in interest, his agent or attorney. Such notice shall specify:

First. The cause or matter in which the deposition is to be used.

Second. The court or tribunal in which the trial is to be had.

Third. The time and place of taking the deposition, and the names of the witnesses.

Time to travel, etc., allowed.

(4157) § 3. The adverse party shall be allowed a reasonable time to travel from his usual place of abode to the place of taking the deposition, by the ordinary route of travel, exclusive of the day of service, the day of taking the deposition and the intervening Sundays. If served on an attorney or agent, a reasonable time shall be allowed him to communicate the same to the party.

Notice, how served.

(4458) § 4. The notice may be served in the same manner, and by any person authorized to serve a summons for a witness. If neither the party nor his agent or attorney reside in this Territory, the notice may be filed in the clerk's office, or published three weeks successively in the county in which the suit is pending.

When court may order taking.

(4459) § 5. In all actions, the court may order the taking of depositions, whenever deemed necessary to determine the rights of the parties, or to expedite the trial of causes; and may, if necessary for that purpose, order a continuance until the next term.

When taken and used

(4460) § 6. In all actions, depositions may be taken by either party, in vacation or term time, at any time after service of summons, without order of court therefor. They may be used in the trial of all issues, in any action, in the following cases:

First. Where the witness does not reside in the county, or in a county adjoining the one in which the trial is to be held, or is absent from the county.

Second. When the deponent is so aged, infirm, or sick, as not to be able to attend the court or other place of trial, or is dead.

Third. When the depositions have been taken by agreement of the parties, or by the order of the court trying the cause.

Fourth. When the deponent is a Territorial or county officer, or judge, or a practicing physician, or attorney at law, and the trial is to be had in any county in which the deponent does not reside. In either of the foregoing cases, the attendance of the witnesses cannot be enforced.

Fifth. When notice is given fixing the time of taking any deposition on a day in term time, the court may, if in session, or the judge thereof in vacation, on notice being given by the adverse party of the time and place of hearing the motion, fix another day for such taking, and the court, on the hearing of such motion, may fix the time for such taking from which there shall be no appeal.

Deponent not obliged to leave county.

(4461) § 7. A witness is not obliged to attend for examination upon a deposition in any other county than that of his residence, but may consent to do so.

When not read, exception.

(4462) § 8. No deposition shall be read in evidence on the trial of a cause, if at that time the witness is produced in court, unless the deposition has been taken by the agreement of the parties or by the order of the court.

Attendance, how enforced.

(4463) § 9. The officer taking the deposition shall have power to summon and compel the attendance of witnesses. In case of the refusal of a witness to attend and testify, such fact shall be reported by the officer to any district or probate court of the county, or the judge thereof, and such court or judge shall order such witness to attend and testify; and on failure or refusal to obey such order, such witness shall be dealt with as for a contempt.

All officers to report non-attendance.

(4464) § 10. The provisions of the last section shall extend to all officers and commissioners authorized to take depositions in this Territory, to be read in the courts of other states, territories or countries.

Oath, manner of examination.

(4465) § 11. The deponent shall first be sworn by the officer to testify to the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, relating to the cause or matter for which the deposition is to be taken; and he shall then be examined by the party producing him and then by the adverse party, and by the officer or parties afterward, if they see cause.

By whom written and signed.

(4466) § 12. The deposition shall be written down by the officer, or by the deponent or by some disinterested person, in the presence and under the direction of the officer; and after the same has been carefully read to or by the deponent, it shall be subscribed by him.

Certificate

(4467) § 13. The officer shall annex a certificate to the deposition, stating the following facts:

First. That the deponent was sworn according to law.

Second. By whom the deposition was written; and if written by the deponent or some disinterested person, that it was written in the presence and under the direction of the officer.

Third. Whether or not the adverse party attended.

Fourth. The time and place of taking the deposition, and the hours between which the same was taken. And the officer shall sign and attest the certificate, and seal the same, if he have a seal of office.

Sealing, enclosing, directing, endorsing.

(4468) § 14. The officer taking the deposition shall seal up the same in a sufficient paper envelope, and direct the same to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, indorsing on the envelope the names of the parties and of the witnesses whose depositions are enclosed.

Cause of taking shown at reading.

(4469) § 15. When a deposition is offered to be read in evidence, it must appear to the satisfaction of the court that the cause for taking and reading it still exists.

Commission only for foreign country.

(4470) § 16. When a deposition is to be taken within or without the Territory, but within the United States no commission may be issued for taking the deposition. When taken out of the United States the clerk shall, upon the request of the party taking the deposition, issue a commission to the officer or commissioner designated to take the depositions. No order of court or affidavit shall be necessary to authorize the issuing of the commission.

Certificate, when authenticated.

(4471) § 17. When the commission contains the name of the officer before whom the deposition is to be taken, his attestation officially certifying the same, shall be sufficient; but if the commission do not specify the name of the officer, and he have no official seal, his certificate shall be authenticated by the certificate and seal of the clerk or prothonotary of any court of record of the county in which the officer exercises the duties of his office.

Foreign depositions, how taken, notice.

(4472) § 18. When the depositions are to be taken within the Territory or in a foreign country, they may be taken pursuant to an order of the court, under a commission, with such reasonable notice of the time and place of taking the same as the court shall require; and they shall be certified and returned by the commissioner in such manner as the court shall direct.

Filing, continuance, when had (4473) § 19. Every deposition intended to be read in evidence, must be filed in court at least one day before the time at which the cause in which the deposition is to be used stands on the docket for trial; or, if filed afterward, and claimed to be used on the trial, the adverse party shall be entitled to a continuance, at the costs of the party filing the deposition, upon showing good cause by affidavit.

Publication, when had.

(4474) § 20. Depositions, after being filed, may be published by the clerk, at the request of either party.

Objections to competency.

(4475) § 21. Objections to the competency of a deponent, or to the propriety of any question proposed to him or answers given by him, may be made at the time of taking his deposition or in court whether made at the taking of the deposition or not. No deposition shall be suppressed for any informality therein or in the taking thereof unless such informality shall be prejudicial to the substantial right of the party.

Objections to validity.

(4476) § 22. All objections to the validity of any deposition, or its admissibility in evidence, shall be made before entering upon the trial; not afterward. But any deposition after the commencement of the trial may be suppressed, if any matter which is not disclosed in the deposition appears, which is sufficient to authorize such suppression.

When used in another action.

(4477) § 23. When an action has been dismissed, and another action has been commenced for the same cause, the depositions taken in the first action may be used in the second or any other action between the parties, or their assignees or representatives, for the same cause; but it must appear that the depositions have been duly filed in the court where the previous cause was pending, and have remained on file from the time the action was dismissed until the time at which it was proposed to use them.

Perpetuating testimony, notice.

(4478) § 24. Whenever any person shall make affidavit before any district or probate court, or judge thereof, or clerk of the court, that such person expects to be made a party in any action thereafter to be commenced, and that the testimony of the affiant or any other person, whether residing within or out of the Territory to be named in the affidavit, is material and necessary to the prosecution or defense thereof, the court or officer before whom the affidavit is made shall order reasonable notice to be given to the party expected to be adverse to the applicant or his attorney, that on the day and at the place in such notice to be expressed, the witness will be examined conditionally before such officer as shall be specified in the order.

Manner of taking.

(4479) § 25. Upon proof that the notice has been given, either by personal service, or advertisement at least three weeks successively in some newspaper published in the proper county, or the one most convenient thereto (when the person to be notified is not an inhabitant of the Territory), being made to the officer authorized to take the testimony, he shall proceed to take, and certify, seal up and return the depositions according to the rules provided for other depositions in this act.

Filing and keeping sealed.

(4880) § 26. Every affidavit and order, and every deposition, so taken and certified, shall, within thirty days after the deposition is taken, be filed in the office of the clerk of the proper court of the county where the subject matter of such expected suit may be situated. The clerk shall file said deposition, and it shall remain sealed until published by order of the court after commencement of such expected action.

Publication.

(4481) § 27. Any deposition which has heretofore been taken and filed for the purpose of perpetuating testimony, in pursuance of any existing or former statute of this Territory, as well as any deposition which may hereafter be taken and filed to perpetuate testimony, may, at any time, either before or after the commencement of the action in anticipation of which such deposition may have been taken, be published by order of the court in the office of whose clerk the same may be filed, on the motion of any person or party interested in the preservation of the testimony; and such deposition, with all the accompanying affidavits, orders, notices and other documents shall be directed by such court to be entered of record in the order-book of such court, at the cost of the party making such motion; and such record shall contain a statement or recital of the date of the filing of such deposition.

Record and copy, evidence.

(4482) § 28. The record of any deposition recorded under the provisions of the last section, and copies of such record, duly certified, may be used as evidence whenever and wherever the original deposition might be used.

Deposition, when used.

(4483) § 29 Upon the proof of the death, insanity, or absence from the Territory of such witness, or inability by reason of age or infirmity to attend, the deposition, or a certified copy thereof by the clerk of the court where the same is filed, shall be admitted as evidence in any court in this Territory, in any cause between the parties named in the affidavit, or in any cause between persons claiming under either of said parties, and shall have like effect as if the witness had been personally present and given oral testimony therein, saving the right of exception in all cases on account of the incompetency of the witness or of any part of the testimony contained in the deposition.

Unimportant deviation.

(4484) § 30. An unimportant deviation from any direction relative to taking deposition shall not cause any deposition to be excluded where no substantial prejudice would be done to the opposite party.

Adverse party, when allowed expenses.

(4485) § 31. When a party shall, in response to a notice to take depositions orally, attend at the time and place, by himself or attorney, and the deposition shall not be taken, he shall, upon notice and affidavit of the fact, have judgment against the party at whose instance the notice was given, for two dollars per day for each day he may have attended under the notice, and six cents per mile for the distance necessarily travelled in going to and returning from the place fixed for taking such depositions, unless it shall be shown that the failure to take such depositions did not result from the negligence or fault of the party giving such notice.

Taking by interrogatories, proviso.

(4486) § 32. The deposition may be taken upon written interrogatories as follows: The parties desiring to take such deposition shall serve notice of his intention, together with a copy of the interrogatories which he intends to propound. The opposite party may file with the clerk within five days such cross-interrogatories as he desires to propound. The clerk shall then issue to some officer by him to be selected, authorized to take depositions, a commission with the interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and re-examining interrogatories annexed thereto, requiring him to cause the witness to come before him at such time and place as he may appoint, and to faithfully take his deposition, upon the questions annexed to the commission, and thereupon to make return to the court of his doings under such commission without delay. The officer shall first swear or affirm the witness that he will make a true, full and perfect answer to the interrogatories to be propounded to him; and then he shall propound the interrogatories annexed to the commission in their order, and accurately write the answers of the witness to such. He shall then read carefully to the witness such interrogatories and his answer thereto, and correct the answers as the witness may desire; and then the witness shall sign such deposition. Neither the parties, their agents or attorney, shall be present, nor shall they, or any of them be informed of the nature of the evidence until the deposition is, finished. The officer shall annex to the deposition his certificate, showing specifically, a fulfillment of each requirement of this section; and shall then enclose the deposition with the commission, interrogatories, and the answers securely sealed, and transmit the same, addressed to the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending, with the title of the cause indorsed thereon: Provided, however, If the parties served with notice, as in this section provided, shall prefer to cross-examine the witness orally, he shall notify the opposite party of such election within three days after receiving notice, and in that case the deposition shall not be taken without notice to him of the time and place thereof, and he shall have the privilege of an oral examination; and the commission and officer's certificate shall be modified accordingly.

(4487) § 1. There shall be no difference in evidence between sealed and unsealed writings, and every writing not sealed shall have the same force and effect that it would have if sealed. A writing under seal therein, may, therefore, be changed, or altogether discharged, by a writing not under seal. An agreement in writing, without a seal, for the compromise or settlement of a debt, is as obligatory as if a seal were affixed. Sealed and unsealed writings.

(4488) § 2. The execution of an instrument is the subscribing and delivering it, with or without affixing a seal. Instruments, how executed.

(4490) § 4. The acts of the legislature of any state or territory, or of any country subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, shall be authenticated by having the seals of such state, territory, or country affixed thereto. The records and judicial proceedings of the courts of any state or territory, or of any such country, shall be proved or admitted in any other court within the United States by the attestation of the clerk and the seal of the court annexed, if there be a seal, together with a certificate of the judge, chief justice or presiding magistrate, that the said attestation is in due form. And the said records and judicial proceedings authenticated, shall have such faith and credit given to them in every court within the United States as they have by law or usage in the courts of the state or territory, from which they are taken. Legislative acts and judicial records authenticated, effect.

(4491) § 5. All records and examplifications of books, which may be kept in any public office of any state or territory, or of any country subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, not appertaining to a court, shall be proved or admitted in any court or office in any other state or territory, or in any such country, by the attestation of the keeper of said records or books, and the seal of his office annexed, if there be a seal, together with a certificate of the presiding justice of the court of the county, parish or district in which such office may be kept, or of the Governor, or Secretary of the Territory, the Chancellor, or Other public records authenticated, effect.

keepers of the great seal of the state or territory, or country, that the said attestation is in due form, and by the proper officers. If the said certificate is given by the presiding justice of the court, it shall be further authenticated by the clerk or prothonotary of the said court, who shall certify, under his hand and seal of his office, that the said presiding justice is duly commissioned and qualified; or if given by such Governor, Secretary, Chancellor, or keeper of the great seal, it shall be under the great seal of the state, territory, or country aforesaid in which it is made. And the said records and exemplifications, so authenticated, shall have such faith and credit given to them in every court and office within the United States, as they have by law or by usage in the courts or offices of the state or territory, or country as aforesaid, from which they are taken.

Statutes of states, etc., evidence.

(4492) § 6. The printed statute books of the several states and territories of the United States, purporting to be printed under the authority of those states and territories, without further proof, shall be presumptive evidence, in all courts, of the legislative acts, public or private, of those states or territories respectively.

Judgment o justices, etc., of states.

(4493) § 7. Copies of the proceedings and judgments of any justice of the peace of any state or territory of the United States, or of the District of Columbia, certified by the justice or justices, under his or their hands and seals, before whom the proceedings were had or judgment rendered, or their successors in office, or other justices having legal custody thereof, that the same are true and complete copies of the proceedings or judgments, with the certificate of the clerk or prothonotary of any court of record of the county or district where said justice or justices shall hold his or their office or offices, certifying, under the seal of said court, that the justice or justices was or were at the time when the proceedings were had or judgments rendered, and when the copy was taken, duly commissioned and qualified to act as such, shall be admissible as evidence in any of the courts of this Territory.

Judgments of justices in this territory.

(4494) § 8. Copies of the proceedings and judgments of any justice of the peace of this Territory, certified under his hand, or under the hand of the justice who may have the legal custody thereof, as true and complete copies of such proceedings or judgments, shall be received as evidence in the several courts of this Territory.

Certificates of notaries public

(4495) § 9. Certificates or instruments, either printed or written, purporting to be the official act of a notary public of this Territory, of the District of Columbia or of any other state or territory of the United States, and purporting to be under the seal and signature of such notary public, shall be received as presumptive evidence of the official character of such instrument and of the facts therein set forth.

Certificate of Secretary of the Territory,

(4496) § 10. The certificate of the Secretary of the Territory, under the seal of the Territory, stating the time when any act or acts of the Legislative Assembly were deposited in his office, or deposited in the office of the clerk of any district or probate court in this Territory, as shall appear from the certificate or receipt of any such clerk, shall be admissable in all the courts of this Territory as evidence of the facts stated in the Secretary's certificate.

Copies of records, etc., in public places.

(4497) § 11. Exemplifications or copies of record, and records of deeds and other instruments, or of office books or parts thereof, and official bonds which are kept in any public office in this Territory, shall be proved or admitted as legal evidence in any court or office in this Territory, by the attestation of the said records or books, deeds or other instruments, or official bonds, that the same are true and complete copies of the records, bonds, instruments or books, or parts thereof in his custody, and the seal of office of said keeper thereto annexed, if there be a seal, and if there be no official seal, there shall be attached to such attestation, the certificate of the clerk, and the seal of the district or probate court of the proper county where the keeper resides, that such attestation is made by the proper officer.

Land office registers, etc.

(4498) § 12. The register, catalogue, tract book, plat book, and description of lands kept by any land officer of the United States located in this Territory and copies thereof duly certified as true and complete by their proper keeper, and copies duly cetified by the proper officer of the Territory as true and complete copies from said original documents or from copies of the same legally deposited in the office of the proper officer shall be admissible in evidence in civil actions in all the courts of this Territory, and shall be taken and held as prima facie evidence of the truth of their contents.

Land office certificates.

(4499) § 13. Every certificate of purchase at a land office of the United States shall be prima facie evidence of legal title to the land therein described.

Corporate acts proved by sworn copy

(4500) § 14. The acts and proceedings of corporations may be proved by a sworn copy of the record of such acts and proceedings. The oath shall state that such transcript is a true and full copy of the original, and that such original has remained unaltered from its date, to the best of deponent's knowledge and belief. Such sworn copies shall be received as evidenee in all cases where the original would be evidence.

Legislative acts of any state or territory.

(4501) § 15. Every act of the legislature of any one of the states or territories of the United States, certified by the Secretary, and having the seal of the state or territory affixed thereto, shall be deemed authentic, and receive full faith and credit when offered in evidence in any court within this Territory.

Patents and records.

(4502) § 16. All patents issued by the United States conveying real estate in this Territory, and the records of such patents as have been duly recorded, shall be taken and received as competent evidence in all the courts of this Territory; and all such patents that have not been recorded may be recorded as other deeds and conveyances are now recorded by law; and such record shall be competent evidence in all the courts of the Territory.

Record of patents, etc. evidence.

(4503) § 17. The record of all patents and all certificates of purchase, and all other evidence in writing of the sale of real estate, whether issued by the United States or by this Territory, or made by any person or corporation, and all duly certified copies of such record, shall be admissible in evidence in all courts and places with the same force and effect as if the original was produced.

Chap. 70.

Proceedings of courts of record.

(4504) § 18. The records and judicial proceedings of the several courts of record of or within the United States or the territories thereof shall be admitted in the courts within this Territory as evidence, by attestation or certificate of the clerk or prothonotary, and the seal of the court annexed, together with the seal of the chief justice or one or more of the judges, or the presiding magistrate of any such court, that the person who signed the attestation or certificate was, at the time of subscribing it, the clerk or prothonotary of the court, and that the attestation is in due form of law; and the records and judicial proceedings, authenticated as aforesaid, shall have full faith and credit given to them in any court within this Territory, as by law or usage they have in the courts whence taken.

Proof of publication of notice.

(4505) § 19. When notice is, in any action, proceeding, or rule under execution or other matter required by the provisions of law to be given by public agents in any newspaper, an affidavit of the printer, annexed to a copy of the notice taken from the paper in which it was published, may be filed in the clerk's office by the person whose duty it was to cause the publication to be made. Such affidavit must specify the county, the time when, and the paper in which the notice was published.

Affidavit and copy of notice presumptive, evidence.

(4506) § 20. The original affidavit and copy of the notice filed pursuant to the provisions of the last section, and copies thereof duly certified by the clerk, shall be presumptive evidence in all cases and before every court of the facts contained in the affidavit.

Affidavit taken in another state, when evidence.

(4507) § 21. When an affidavit is taken in another state or Territory, and certified by the officer or justice of the peace taking the same under his hand and the seal of office, if he have any such seal, and attested by the clerk of the district or probate court of the county where such officer exercises the duties of his office, under the hand of the clerk and the seal of his court, the clerk also certifying that the officer or justice of the peace is by the laws of said state or territory duly empowered to administer oaths and affirmations and make affidavits, every such affidavit shall be deemed sufficiently authenticated and may be received and used in any of the courts of this Territory.

Common law and reports of other states.

(4508) § 22. The unwritten or common law of any other of the United States or of the territories thereof, may be proved as facts by parol evidence; and the books of reports of cases adjudged in their courts may also be admitted in evidence of such law.

Law of foreign country

(4509) § 23. The existence and tenor or effect of the laws of any foreign country may be proved as facts by parol evidence, but if it shall apear that the law in question is contained in a written statute or code, the court may, in its discretion, reject any evidence of such law which is not accompanied by a copy thereof.

(4510) § 24. If either party, at any time before trial, allow the other an inspection of any writing, material to the action, whether mentioned in the pleadings or not, and deliver to him a copy thereof, with notice that he intends to read the same in evidence on the trial of the cause, it may be so read without proof of its genuineness or execution, unless denied by affidavit before the commencement of the trial; if such denial be made of any writing not mentioned in the pleadings, the court may give time to either party to procure evidence, when necessary for the furtherance of justice.

Production of books, papers, etc.

(4511) § 25. The court, or judge thereof, may, upon affidavit of their necessity and materiality, upon motion, compel by order, either party to produce, at or before the trial, any book, paper, or document in his possession or power; the order may be made upon application of either party, upon reasonable notice to the adverse party or his attorney. If not produced, parol evidence may be given of its contents.

Inspection and copy, when ordered

(4512) § 26. The court, or a judge thereof, may, under proper restrictions, upon due notice, order either party to give the other, within a specified time, an inspection and copy of any book or part thereof, paper, or document, in his possession, or under his control, containing evidence relating to the merits of the action or the defense therein. If compliance with the order be refused, the court, on motion, may exclude such evidence, or punish the party refusing, or both.

Proof of service of process or notice

(4513) § 27. The proof of the service of any process issued by the court, or of any notice required to be served upon any party, shall be as follows:

First. If served by the sheriff, his certificate thereof.

Second. By any other person, his affidavit thereof.

Third. In case of publication, a printed copy, with the affidavit of the printer, his foreman or clerk, or of any competent witness

Fourth. The written admission of the defendant. The affidavit or admission must state the time and place of service.

All notices in writing, service

(4514) § 28. In all cases where notice is required by this act, it must be in writing, and may be served by the proper officer or any other person.

Filing of clerk, presumptive evidence.

(4515) § 29. The clerk shall endorse upon every paper filed in his office or in open court, and upon every process returned to him or to the court, except summonses, the date of the filing and return; and the indorsement shall be presumptive evidence of the time of the filing and return.

Summons, service.

(4516) § 1. The clerk of the proper court shall issue a summons for witnesses upon the application of any party to the action. The summons may be served by the party or any person, or by the sheriff. The party, or any other person than the sheriff, shall not be entitled to fees for the service. When a summons is served by the sheriff, his return is proof of the service. When served by any other person, the service must be shown by affidavit.

Service by copy, when.

(4517) § 2. Where a summons from any court of this Territory, for a witness can not be served by reading, on account of the temporary absence of such witness from his last usual place of residence within the jurisdiction of the officer having such process, or when such witness, so conceals himself within such jurisdiction that such process cannot be read to him, the same may be served by leaving a copy thereof, certified to be a true one by such officer at such residence; but in no case shall service by copy be made when such officer has reasonable cause to believe that such witness has removed his residence without such jurisdiction.

No attachment except upon affidavit.

(4518) § 3. In no case shall an attachment issue against a witness upon whom such service by copy only has been made, until the party applying therefor, or his attorney, shall make affidavit in the court from which it is sought to be issued, that he has reasonable cause to believe, and does believe, that the witness against whom the summons issued had knowledge of the service thereof by copy in time to have obeyed its commands.

Summons, how issued, what to contain.

(4519) § 4. The summons shall be issed and attested by the clerk without seal, and one summons shall include all the witnesses required at the same time, residing in the same county.

More than three, costs, exception.

(4520) § 5. If any party summon more than three witnesses to prove the same fact, he shall pay the costs occasioned by the additional number of witnesses, unless the court shall otherwise order.

In the county, prepayment unnecessary.

(4521) § 6. Witnesses residing in the county where the court is held shall be compelled to attend in obedience to the summons without payment or tender of fees being first made, unless he demand such fees at the time he is summoned.

Out of county prepayment necessary.

(4522) § 7. A witness shall not be obliged to attend before a court or judge out of the county where he resides, unless his legal fees for travelling to and from the court, and one day's attendance are paid or tendered before or at the time of the service of the summons.

Attachment for non-attendance

(4523) § 8. The attendance of all witnesses when duly summoned and to whom fees have been paid or tendered in cases required by law, may be enforced by attachment.

When non-resident witness may demand fees.

(4524) § 9. At the commencement of each day after the first day, a witness attending a trial out of the county in which he resides shall be entitled to demand and receive the legal fees for that day in advance. If not thus paid, he is not compelled to attend or remain as a witness.

Oath, form of.

(4525) § 10. Before testifying, every witness shall be sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. The mode of administering an oath shall be such as may be most consistent with and binding upon the conscience of the person to whom the oath may be administered.

Interpreter, pay of.

(4526) § 11. Interpreters may be sworn to interpret truly whenever necessary; and they shall receive the same fees and mileage as witnesses.

Competent witnesses.

(4527) § 12. All persons, whether parties to or interested in the suit, shall be competent witnesses in a civil action or proceeding, except as herein otherwise provided.

Who not competent witnesses.

(4528) § 13. The following persons shall not be competent witnesses:

First. Persons insane at the time they are offered as witnesses, whether they have been so adjudged or not.

Seeond. Children under ten years of age, unless it appears that they understand the nature and obligation of an oath.

Third. Attorneys, as to confidential communications made to them in the course of their professional business, and as to advice given in such cases.

Fourth. Physicians, as to matter communicated to them, as such, by patients, in the course of their professional business, or advice given in such cases.

Fifth. Clergymen, as to confessions or admissions made to them in eourse of discipline enjoined at their respective churches.

Sixth. Husband and wife, as to communications made to each other. Neither husband nor wife shall in any case be a witness against the other, except in a criminal prosecution for a crime committed one against the other, or in a civil action or proceeding by one against the other; but they may in all civil and criminal cases be witnesses for each other.

When an executor or administrator is party, proviso.

(4529) § 14. In suits or proceedings in which an executor or administrator is a party, involving matters which occurred during the lifetime of the decedent, where a judgment or allowance may be made or rendered for or against the estate represented by such executor or administrator, any person who is a necessary party to the issue or record, whose interest is adverse to such estate, shall not be competent witnesees as to any personal transaction or communication had with the deceased: Provided, however, That in cases where a deposition of such decedent has been taken, or he has previously testified as to the matter, and his testimony or deposition can be used as evidence for such executor or administrator, such adverse party shall be a competant witness for himself, but only as to any matters embraced in such deposition or testimony.

When heirs or devisee are parties.

(4530) § 15. In all suits by or against heirs or devisees, founded on a contract with or demand against the ancestor, to obtain title to or possession of property, real or personal, of, or in rights of such ancestor, or to effect the same in any manner, neither party to such suit shall be a competent witness as to any matter which occurred prior to the death of the ancestor.

When agent of decedent testifies, restitution.

(4531) § 16. When in any case an agent of a decedent shall testify on behalf of an executor, administrator, or heirs, concerning any transaction, as having been had by him, such agent, with a party to the suit, his assignor or grantor, and in the absence of the decedent; or if any witness shall, on behalf of the executor, administrator, or heirs, testify to any conversation or admission of a party to the suit, his assignor or grantor, as having been had or made in the absence of the deceased; then the party against whom such evidence is adduced, his assignor or grantor, shall be competent to testify concerning the same manner. No such person who shall have acted as an agent in the making or continuing of a contract with any person who may have died, shall be a competent witness in any suit upon or involving such contract, as to matters occurring prior to the death of such decedent, on behalf of the principal to such contract against the legal representatives or heirs of the decedent, unless he shall be called by such heirs or legal representatives. And in such case he shall be a competent witness only or to matters concerning which he is interrogated by such heirs or representatives. When, in any case, a person shall be charged with unlawfully taking or detaining personal property, or having done damage thereto, and such person by his pleading shall defend on the ground that he is executor, administrator, guardian, or heir, and as such has taken or detains the property, or has done the acts charged, then no person shall be competent to testify who would not be competent if the person so defending were the complainant; but when the person complaining cannot testify, then the party so defending shall also be excluded.

Husband and wife.

(4532) § 17. When the husband or wife is a party, and not a competent witness in his or her own behalf, the other shall also be excluded; except that the husband shall be a competent witness in a suit for the seduction of his wife, but she shall not be competent.

Assignor or grantor, proviso

(4533) § 18. In all cases in which executors, administrators, heirs, or devisees are parties, and one of the parties to the suit shall be incompetent, as hereinbefore provided, to testify against them, then the assignor or grantor of a party making such assignment or grant voluntarily, shall be deemed a party adverse to the executor or administrator, heir or devisee, as the case may be: Provided, however, That in all cases referred to the preceding sections, the objection to the competency of such witnesses may be waived. Or the court may, in its discretion, require any party to a suit, or other person, to testify; and any abuse of such discretion shall be reviewable upon appeal.

When executor or administrator competent.

(4534) § 19. In all actions by an executor or administrator, on contracts assigned to the decedent, when the assignor is alive and a competent witness in the cause; the executor, or administrator and the defendant or defendants shall be competent witnesses as to all matters which occurred between the assignor and the defendant or defendants, prior to notice of such assignment.

Experts.

(4535) § 20. A witness who is an expert in any art, science, trade, profession, or mystery may be compelled to appear and testify to an opinion, as such expert, in relation to any matter, whenever such opinion is material evidence, relevant to an issue on trial before a court or jury without payment or tender of compensation other than the per diem and mileage allowed by law to witnesses, under the same rules and regulations by which he can be compelled to appear and testify to his knowledge of facts relevant to the same issue.

Religious belief, general moral character.

(4536) § 21. No want of belief in a Supreme Being or in the Christian religion shall render a witness incompetent; but the want of such religious belief may be shown upon the trial. In all questions effecting the credibility of a witness, his general moral character may be given in evidence.

Credibility.

(4537) § 22. Any fact which might heretofore be shown to render a witness incompetent, may be hereafter shown to effect his credibility.

Party producing not to impeach, exception.

(4538) § 23. The party producing a witness shall not be allowed to impeach his credit by evidence of bad character, unless it is indispensable that the party should produce him, or in case of manifest surprise, when the party shall have this right; but he may, in all cases, contradict him by other evidence, and by showing that he has made statements different from his present testimony.

Impeachment.

(4539) § 24. When a witness, whether a party to the record or not, is cross examined, to lay the foundation of his impeachment by proof of an act or statement inconsistent with his testimony, and is asked if he did not do the act or make the statement and he answers that he does not recollect having done the act or made the statement, the party thus laying the foundation for impeachment shall have the right to introduce evidence of the act, or statement in the same manner as if the witness had answered that he had not done the act or made the statement.

Party may be examined.

(4540) § 25. A party to an action may be examined as a witness concerning any matter stated in the pleading, at the instance of the adverse party, or of any one of the several adverse parties, for that purpose may be compelled, in the same manner, and subject to the same rules of examination as any other witness, to testify either at the trial, or conditionally, or upon commission.

Time before whom, notice.

(4541) § 26. The examination instead of being had at the trial may be had at any time before the trial, at the option of the party claiming it, before any officer authorized to take depositions, on a previous notice to the party to be examined and any other adverse party of at least five days, unless for good cause shown, the court order otherwise. But the party to be examined before trial shall not be compelled to attend in any other county than that of his residence.

Attendance enforced, filing and reading

(4542) § 27. The attendance of the party to be examined may be enforced and the examination shall be taken and filed as a deposition in the cause and may be read by the party taking it, at his option; but if not read, the party causing the examination shall pay the costs thereof.

Evidence rebutted.

(4543) § 28. The evidence of the party thus taken may be rebutted by adverse testimony.

Penalty for refusing to attend

(4544) § 29. Any party refusing to attend and testify, as above provided, may be punished as for a contempt and his complaint, answer or reply may be stricken out.

ARTICLE 17.—OFFER BEFORE TRIAL.

SECTION.
1. To allay judgment.
2. To confess judgment.

To allay judgment.

(4545) § 1. The defendant may, at any time before the trial, serve upon the plaintiff an offer in writing, to allow judgment to be taken against him for the sum or property, or to the effect therein specified, with costs. If the plaintiff accept the offer in court, in the presence of the defendant, or give notice of acceptance in writing within five days and before the trial, judgment shall be entered accordingly. If the offer is not accepted, or notice of acceptance be not given as above directed, the offer is to be deemed withdrawn, and shall not be given in evidence, or commented on before the jury; and if the plaintiff fail to obtain a more favorable judgment, the defendant shall recover from the plaintiff the costs occasioned subsequent to the time of the offer.

To confess judgment

(4546) § 2. Before an action for the recovery of money is brought against any person, he may go into the court of the county of his residence, or of that in which the person having the cause of action resides, and offer to confess judgment in favor of such person, for a specified sum on the cause of action. Whereupon, if the person, having had notice that the offer would be made, of its amount, and the time and place of making it, ten days before the first day of any term of the court, does not at such term accept the confession, and should afterward commence an action upon such cause, and not recover more than the amount so offered to be confessed, he shall pay all costs of the action; and on the trial thereof, the offer shall not be deemed to be an admission of the cause of action or amount to which the plaintiff is entitled, or be given in evidence.

Action, when for issue and trial.

(4547) § 1. Every action shall stand for issue and trial at the first term after it is commenced, when the summons has been served on the defendant ten days, and publication has been made for thirty days before the first day of the term: Provided, however, That when the complaint is filed, whether before or during any term of court, the plaintiff may fix the day during such term, by indorsement thereof upon the complaint at the time of filing the same on which the defendant shall appear; which day, when so fixed shall be stated in the summons when issued, and the action shall be docketed in its order. And if summons shall be personally served ten days before such day, or publication shall be made three weeks, thirty days before such day, such action shall thereupon stand for issue and trial at such term, and the court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine such action, as if summons had been served, or publication made before the first day of the term, as hereinbefore provided. And if at any time, after the filing of the complaint, it shall be found that any party to the action has not been properly notified, the plaintiff may file with the clerk, or indorse on the complaint, a written request for such notice to be given, naming therein the day of the pending or subsequent term on which such party is required to appear to the action; and summons shall be issued or publication made accordingly in the proper cases, as above provided. And if summons shall be personally served ten days before such day, or publication made three weeks successively thirty days before such day, such case shall thereupon stand for issue and trial at such term, and the court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine such action as if summons had been served or publication made before the first day of the term, as hereinbefore provided.

Trial defined.

(4548) § 2. The trial is a judicial examination of the issue, whether of law or fact, in an action.

Order of trial.

(4549) § 3. The trial in each action shall be in the order in which it stands upon the docket, unless the court, for good cause shown, shall direct otherwise.

When jury shall appear.

(4550) § 4. The petit jury shall be summoned to appear on the first day designated for the trial of criminal business, and not before. After the beginning of the trial term, the court shall proceed to try the cases in their regular order; which trials shall not be delayed or interrupted by the making up of issues. The judge shall as far as practicable, so arrange the cases to be tried by the court that the same may be tried after the discharge of the jury; and such jury shall be immediately discharged when the issues requiring it shall be disposed of.

Jury for regular panel

(4551) § 5. In any civil action where the parties are entitled to a trial by jury, and either party shall demand such trial, the sheriff shall call a jury from the regular panel, except as hereinbefore provided.

Number of jurors.

(4552) § 6. The number of jurors to try a civil action shall not exceed twelve, nor be less than three. The parties may determine the number of jurors by agreement; and in case of their disagreement, the number shall be twelve.

Special jury.

(4553) § 7. The court shall have power when the business thereof requires it, to order the impaneling of a special jury for the trial of any cause.

Jury by agreement.

(4554) § 8. The parties may agree upon the jurors to compose a special jury, and notify the court thereof; and the court shall thereupon, direct the sheriff to impanel such jury, if it can be done without unreasonable delay of the cause.

Struck jury by consent

(4555) § 9. When both parties desire it, the court may direct the sheriff to summon eighteen competent jurors, or a less number; and the plaintiff first, and then the defendant, shall strike out one juror in turn until each has struck off six or more, and the remaining jurors shall try the cause. Or the parties, when they consent, upon being furnished with a list of jurors to be summoned, may exercise the right to strike out any part of the names before the jurors are summoned, and the remaining jurors only shall be summoned.

Struck jury, upon notice.

(4556) § 10. Whenever a struck jury shall be deemed necessary for the trial of any civil cause in any district or probate court of this Territory, it shall be lawful for either party to file with the clerk a demand for such jury; when it shall be the duty of such clerk to give four days notice to both parties, or to their attorneys, of the time of striking the same. At the time designated, said clerk shall attend at his office, and in the presence of the parties or of such of them as shall attend for that purpose shall select from the number of persons qualified to serve as jurors within the county, forty such persons as he shall think most indifferent between the parties and best qualified to try such cause; and then the party requiring such jury, his agent or attorney, shall first strike off one of the names, and then the opposite party, his agent or attorney, another, and so on alternately, until each shall have struck out twelve. If either party shall not attend in person or by attorney, it shall be the duty of the clerk to strike out for the party not attending. When each party shall have stricken out twelve names as aforesaid, the clerk shall make a fair copy of the names of the remaining sixteen persons, and immediately thereafter, issue process, directing the sheriff of the county to summon said sixteen persons, as jurors struck for the trial of such cause, stating the day for which it is set for trial; and such sheriff shall, thereupon summon accordingly. But in all cases, it shall be necessary to strike such jury at least five days previous to the day at which said case is set for trial on the docket, and two days service of the process by the sheriff shall be held sufficient. And upon the trial of the cause, the jury so struck shall be called as they stand upon the panel, and the first twelve of them who shall appear, and are not challenged for cause or set aside by the court, shall be the jury, and shall be sworn to try the said issue : Provided, however, That unless at least one-half of such struck jury shall have been summoned and shall be in attendance and such cause is called for trial, the case shall be tried by the regular petit jury as other cases

Selected, when clerk interested.

(4557) § 11. If the clerk of such court shall be interested in the cause, or related to either of the parties, or does not stand indifferent between them, in every such case the judge entitled to try said cause may in vacation or term time name some judicious and disinterested person to strike the jury, and to do and perform all things required to be done by such clerk relating to the striking of such jury.

Fees for striking

(4558) § 12. The party requiring such struck jury shall pay the fees for striking the same, and one dollar and twenty-five cents each day for each juror so attending, and shall not have an allowance therefor in the taxation of costs, unless the court shall be of opinion that the cause required such special jury; in which last case, the extraordinary expense shall be taxed in the bill of costs. If the court upon motion of either party, shall have ordered a struck jury, then the costs thereof shall abide the event of the suit.

Struck jury, continuance, if parties consent

(4559) § 13. A struck jury for the trial of the cause at any term of the court may be continued with the continuance of the cause, and be summoned in as jurors, at a subsequent term, provided both parties consent thereto, but not otherwise.

Challenge for interest

(4560) § 14. It shall be sufficient cause for challenge to a juror, that he is interested in another suit, begun or contemplated, involving the same or a similar matter.

Oath of jurors.

(4561) § 15. Before the commencement of the trial an oath must be administered to each juror, that he will well and truly try the matter in issue between the parties, and a true verdict give, according to the law and the evidence.

Peremptory challenge

(4562) § 16. In all cases where the jury consists of six or more persons, each party shall have three peremptory challenges.

Calling talesmen.

(4563) § 17. When the regular panel is exhausted, or is insufficient from any cause, the sheriff shall call the bystanders, or fill the jury in such a manner as the court may direct.

Manner of trial.

(4564) § 18. When the jury is sworn, the trial shall proceed in the following order, unless the court, for special reasons, otherwise directs:

First. The party upon whom rests the burden of the issue may briefly state his case and the evidence by which he expects to sustain it

Second. The adverse party may then briefly state his defense and the evidence he expects to offer in support of it.

Third. The party on whom rests the burden of the issues must first produce his evidence; the adverse party will then produce his evidence, which may be rebutted.

Fourth. When the evidence is concluded, and either party desires special instructions to be given to the jury, such instrnctions shall be reduced to writing, numbered and signed by the party or his attorney asking the same, and delivered to the court.

Fifth. Before the argument of the cause, the court shall give general instruction to the jury, which shall be in writing, and be numbered and signed by the judge.

Sixth. Where either party asks special instructions to be given to the jury, the court shall either give each instruction as requested, or positively refuse to do so; or, give the instructions with a modification, in such manner that it shall distinctly appear what instructions were given, in whole or in part, and, in like manner those refused, so that either party may except to the instructions as asked for, or as modified, or to the modification. All instructions given by the court must be signed by the judge, and filed, together with those asked for by the parties, as a part of the record. The instructions shall not be entered at large on the final record, unless either party may wish to remove the cause to a district court.

Exceptions to instructions,

(4565) § 19. A party excepting to the giving of instructions, or the refusal thereof, shall not be required to file a formal bill of exception; but it shall be sufficient to write on the margin, or at the close of such instruction, "refused and excepted to," or "given, and excepted to," which memorandum shall be signed by the judge, and dated.

Argument.

(4566) § 20. The parties may either submit or argue the case to the jury. In the argument, the party having the burden of the issue shall have the opening and closing, but shall disclose in the opening all the points relied on in the cause; and if in the closing he refer to any new point or fact not disclosed in the opening, the adverse party shall have the right of replying thereto, which reply shall close the argument in the case.

View of property and place by jury

(4567) § 21. Whenever in the opinion of the court, it is proper for the jury to have a view of the real or personal property which is the subject of litigation, or of the place in which any material fact occurred, it may order them to be conducted in a body under the charge of a sworn officer, to the place, which shall be shown to them by some person appointed by the court for that purpose While the jury are thus absent, no person, other than the person so appointed shall speak to them on any subject connected with the trial.

Deliberation of jury.

(4568) § 22. Whenever a case is finally submitted to the jury. they may decide in court, or retire for deliberation. If they retire, they must be kept together in some convenient place, under the charge of a sworn officer, until they agree upon a verdict or are discharged by the court, subject to the discretion of the court to permit them to separate temporarily and at their meals. The officer having them under his charge shall not suffer any communication to be made to them, or make any himself, except to ask them if they have agreed upon their verdict, unless by order of the court; and he shall not, before the verdict is rendered, communicate to any person the state of their deliberations or the verdict agreed upon, where there is a panel of twelve jurors nine may return a verdict.

Caution by court at each adjournment.

(4569) § 23. If the jury are permitted to separate, either during the trial or after the cause is submitted to them, they must be admonished by the court that it is their duty not to converse with each other, or suffer themselves to be addressed by any other person, on any subject of the trial; and during the trial, that it is their duty not to form or express among themselves an opinion thereon, until the cause is finally submitted to them.

Further instructions, when had.

(4570) § 24. After the jury have retired for deliberation, if there is a disagreement between them as to any part of the testimony, or if they desire to be informed as to any point of law arising in the case, they may request the officer to conduct them into the court, where the information required shall be given in the presence of, or after notice to, the parties or their attorneys.

Cause again tried.

(4571) § 25. In all cases where the jury are discharged during the trial, or after the cause is submitted to them, it may be tried again immediately or at a future time, as the court may direct.

Verdict written and signed.

(4572) § 26. When the jury have agreed upon their verdict, it must be reduced to writing and signed by the foreman; and when returned into court the foreman shall deliver the verdict and either party may poll the jury. If four jurors dissent from the verdict, they shall again be sent out to deliberate.

Verdict, general or special.

(4573) § 27. The verdict of the jury is either general or special. A general verdict is that by which they pronounce generally upon all or any of the issues, either in favor of the plaintiff or defendant. A special verdict is that by which the jury find facts only, leaving judgment thereon to the court.

Jury may find special verdict

(4574) § 28. In all actions, the jury, unless otherwise directed by the court, may, in their discretion, render a general or special verdict; but the court shall, at the request of either party, direct them to give a special verdict in writing upon all or any of the issues; and in all cases, when requested by either party, shall instruct them, if they render a general verdict, to find specially upon particular material questions of fact, to be plainly stated in writing. This special finding is to be recorded with the verdict.

Special controls general.

(4575) § 29. When the special finding of facts is inconsistent with the general verdict, the former shall control the latter. and the court shall give judgment accordingly.

Money verdict.

(4576) § 30. In actions for recovery of money, the jury must assess the amount of the recovery.

Verdict in replevin.

(4577) § 31. In actions for the recovery of specific personal property, the jury must assess the value of the property, as also the damages for the taking or detention, whenever, by their verdict, there will be a judgment for the recovery or return of the property.

ARTICLE 19.—TRIAL BY COURT.

SECTION.
1. Jury, how waived.
2. Special findings by court.
3. Rules of trial.

Jury, how waived

(4578) § 1. The trial by jury may be waived by the parties, in all actions in the following manner:

First. By failing to appear at the trial.

Second. By written consent in person, or by attorney, filed with the clerk.

Third. By oral consent in open court, entered on the record.

Special findings by court.

(4579) § 2. Upon trials of question of fact by the court, it shall be necessary for the court to state its finding, except generally for the plaintiff or defendant, unless one of the parties request it, with a view of excepting to the decision of the court upon the questions of law involved in the trial; in which case, the court shall first state the facts in writing, and then the conclusions of law upon them, and judgment shall be rendered accordingly. And whenever any issue of law or fact is submitted to the court for trial, and the judge shall take the same under advisement, the judge shall not, except in case of severe illness of himself or family, hold the same under advisement for more than sixty days; and, if the court wherein said issue arose be not then in session, he shall file his determination therein, in writing, with the papers in the case.

Rules of trial.

(4580) § 3. The provisions of this chapter respecting trials by jury apply, so far as they are applicable, to trials by the court.

ARTICLE 20.—TRIAL OF AGREED CASES.

SECTION.
1. Agreed cases, affidavit
2 Record.
3. Judgment, how enforced, costs.

Agreed cases, affidavit.

(4581) § 1. Parties shall have the right in all cases, either with or without process, by agreement to that effect, to submit any matter of controversy between them to the court that would otherwise have jurisdiction of such cause, upon an agreed statement of facts, to be made out and signed by the parties; but it must appear by affidavit that the controversy is real and the proceedings in good faith, to determine the rights of the parties; whereupon the court shall proceed to try the same, and render judgment as in other cases.

Record.

(4582) § 2. The statement of the case, the submission and the judgment shall constitute the record.

Judgment how enforced, costs

(4583) § 3. The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as if it had been rendered in an action; and in like manner shall be with costs, subject to an appeal, unless otherwise provided in the submission.

SECTION.
1. What may be referred.
2. Manner of trial and finding.
3. How appointed
4. Referees, compensation of.

(4584) § 1. All or any of the issues in the action, except in actions for divorce and for the nullification of marriage whether those issues be of fact or of law, or both, may be referred: What may be referred.

First. Where the trial involves the examination of accounts, and the items controverted by the pleadings are numerous.

Second. In any other civil action upon peremptory order of the court, or by accounts of parties in open court, or by stipulation filed in the office of the clerk.

Third In all actions where a jury have twice disagreed a reference shall be made.

(4585) § 2. The trial by referees is conducted in the same manner as a trial by the court. They shall have the same power to grant adjournments as the court may upon such trial. If required, they must state the facts found and the conclusions of law separately and their decisions must be given and may be excepted to and reviewed in like manner. Manner of trial and finding.

(4586) § 3. In all cases of reference, the parties may agree upon a suitable person or persons not exceeding three, and the reference shall be ordered accordingly; and if the parties do not agree, the court shall appoint one or more referees, not exceeding three who shall be free from exception. How appointed

(4587) § 4. The referee or referees, shall each receive such compensation as the court shall direct, to be paid by the prevailing party before the report is filed, and recorded as costs in the action. Referees, compensation of ARTICLE 22.—NEW TRIAL.

SECTION.
1 Causes for.
2. Small damages no grounds
3. Motion, when made.
SECTION
4. Manner of applying.
5. Causes discovered after term.

(4588) § 1. A new trial may be granted in the following cases: Causes for.

First. Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, or prevailing party, or any order of court, or abuse of discretion, by which the party was prevented from having a fair trial.

Second. Misconduct of the jury or prevailing party.

Third. Accident or surprise, which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.

Fourth. Excessive damages.

Fifth. Error in the assessment of the amount of recovery, whether too large or too small, where the action is upon a contract or for the injury or detention of property.

Sixth. That the verdict or decision is not sustained by sufficient evidence, or is contrary to law.

Seventh. Newly discovered evidence, material for the party applying, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the trial.

Eighth. Error of law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the party making the application. And the court in granting new trials, may allow the same at the costs of the party applying therefor, or on the costs abiding the event of the suit, or a portion of the costs, as the justice and equity of the case may require, taking into consideration the causes which may make such new trial necessary.

Small damages no ground.

(4589) § 2. A new trial shall not be granted on account of the smallness of the damages in actions for an injury to the person or reputation, nor any other action where the damages shall equal the actual pecuniary loss sustained.

Motion, when made.

(4590) § 3. The application for a new trial may be made at any time during the term at which the verdict or decision is rendered; and if the verdict or decision be rendered on the last day of the session of any court, or on the last day of any term, then on the first day of the next term of such court, whether general, special or adjourned.

Manner of applying.

(4591) § 4. The application must be by motion upon written cause filed at the time of making the motion. The cause mentioned in the second, third and seventh clauses of section 4588 must be sustained by affidavit showing their truth.

Causes discovered after term, limit.

(4592) § 5. Where causes for new trial are discovered after the term at which the verdict or decision was rendered, the application may be made by a complaint filed with the clerk, not later than the second term after the discovery, on which a summons shall issue, as on other complaints, requiring the adverse party to appear and answer. The application shall stand for hearing at the term to which the summons is returned executed, and shall be summarily decided by the court upon the evidence produced by the parties. But no such application shall be made more than one year after the final judgment was rendered.

(4593) § 1. When a trial by jury has been had, and a general verdict rendered the judgment must be in conformity to the verdict. On general verdict.

(4594) § 2. Where the verdict is special, or where there has been a special finding on particular questions of fact, the court shall render the proper judgment. On special verdict.

(4595) § 3. When upon the statements in the pleadings, one party is by law entitled to judgment in his favor, judgment shall be so rendered by the court, though a verdict has been found against such party. On pleadings, notwithstanding verdict.

(4596) § 4. In actions against two or more defendants, where the plaintiff is barred by the provisions of this act as to one or more of the defendants, and is entitled to recover against others for any cause, judgment shall be rendered against those liable and not for those not liable. Where plaintiff is barred as to part.

(4597) § 5. Judgment may be given for or against one or more of several plaintiffs, and for or against one or more of several defendants; and it may, when the justice of the case requires it, determine the ultimate rights of the parties on each side as between themselves. Against part of plaintiffs or defendants.

(4598) § 6. In a suit against several defendants, the court may, in its decision, render judgment against one or more of them, leaving the action to proceed against the others whenever a several judgment is proper. Against defendants, when joint or several.

Defendants all served, judgment against part only.

(4599) § 7. Though all the defendants have been summoned, judgment may be rendered against any of them severally, when the plaintiff would be entitled to judgment against such defendants if the action had been against them severally,

Set-off, judgment for excess

(4600) § 8. If a set-off established at the trial exceed the plaintiff's claim so established, judgments shall be rendered for the excess; or if it appear that the defendant is entitled to any other affirmative relief, judgment may be given therefor.

Judgment in replevin.

(4601) § 9. In an action to recover the possession of personal property, judgment for the plaintiff may be for the delivery of the property, or the value thereof in case a delivery cannot be had, and damages for the detention. When the property has been delivered to the plaintiff and the defendant claims a return thereof, judgment for the defendant may be for the return of the property, or its value in case a return cannot be had, and damages for the taking and withholding of the property.

Proof and assessment on default.

(4602) § 10. If the taking of an account, or the proof of a fact, or the assessment of damages is necessary to enable the court to pronounce judgment upon a failure to answer, or after a decision of an issue of law, the court may take the accounts, hear the proof and in actions founded on contract, assess the damages, or may refer the same to a commissioner, or may direct the same to be ascertained or assessed by a jury.

On mortgage or lien final

(4603) § 11. It shall not be necessary in any action upon a mortgage or lien to give time for the payment of money, or for doing any other act, but final judgment may, in such cases, be given in the first instance.

In foreclosure, sale ordered.

(4604) § 12. In the foreclosure of a mortgage, the sale of the mortgaged property shall in all cases be ordered.

Without relief, when separated.

(4605) § 13. When a judgment is to be executed without relief from appraisement laws, it shall be so ordered in the judgment. When the plaintiff has included in one action demands subject to the appraisement laws with demands made payable without any relief from appraisement laws, the court may render separate judgments upon such demands.

Against officers, when without relief or stay

(4606) § 14. Hereafter all judgments recovered against any sheriff, constable, or public officer, administrator, executor, or any other person or corporation, or the sureties of any or either of them, for money collected or received in a judiciary capacity; or for a breach of any official duty; or for money or other article of value held in trust for another, shall be collectable without stay of execution or benefit of the violation or appraisement laws of this Territory.

On bonds, when without relief.

(4607) § 15. Hereafter all judgments recovered upon bonds, written undertakings, or recognizances executed in any legal proceedings, civil or criminal, shall be collectable without relief from valuation or appraisement laws of the Territory of Oklahoma.

Entry what it shall specify.

(4608) § 16. The judgment must be entered on the order book, and specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the action.

Satisfaction.

(4609) § 17. Satisfaction of a judgment or credits thereon may be ordered, for sufficient cause, upon notice and motion.

Indorsement of payment on record, etc., effect.

(4610) § 18. Every indorsement of payment, satisfaction, or release in whole or part, upon the record or margin thereof of any judgments or decree, or upon any execution or order of sale issued thereon, signed by the judgment-plaintiff or his attorney-in-fact; or by the assignee of such judgment-plaintiff (whose assignment is upon or annexed to the record of such judgment or decree and attested by the clerk,) when attested by the clerk upon the record of such judgment or decree; or by the sheriff upon such execution or order of sale,—shall operate as a satisfaction or release of such judgment or decree, or of such part thereof so indorsed as paid, satisfied, or released in favor of subsequent purchaser or lien holders in good faith. And when such satisfaction, payment, or release is entered by the attorney-in-fact shall be noted on the margin of the record or the execution, as the case may be; and such power of attorney thall be recorded in the miscellaneous records of the recorder's office.

Judgment-docket, contents.

(4611) § 19. The clerk of every court of record shall keep a docket in which he shall enter within, thirty days after each term of court in alphabetical order a statement of each judgment rendered at such term containing:

First. The names at length of all the parties.

Second. The amount of the judgment and costs and date of its rendition.

Third. If the judgment be against several persons, the statement shall be repeated under the name of each defendant in alphabetical order.

Entry of stay of execution.

(4612) § 20. Recognizances of bail for stay of execution shall be entered in such docket immediately after the taking or return thereof, specifying the judgment and its amount, the date of recognizance and names of bail.

Record, open to all

(4613) § 21. Such docket shall be a record, and open during the usual hours of transacting business to the examination of any person desiring it.

Neglect of clerk to enter judgment, liability

(4614) § 22. Every clerk neglecting to enter judgment or recognizance, as herein required, shall be liable to any person injured for the amount of damages, sustained by such neglect, to be recovered in an action against the clerk alone, or upon his official bond against him and his sureties.

Who may confess judgment

(4615) § 23. Any person indebted, or against whom a cause of action exists, may personally appear in a court of competent jurisdiction, and, with the consent of a creditor or person having such cause of action, confess judgment thereof; whereupon, judgment shall be rendered accordingly.

Debt, how stated, release of error.

(4616) § 24. The debt or cause of action shall be briefly stated in a writing to be filed and copied into the judgment. The confession shall operate as a release of errors.

Confession by attorney, affidavit.

(4617) § 25. Whenever a confession of judgment is made by power of attorney or otherwise, the party confessing shall, at the time he executes such power of attorney or confesses judgment, make affidavit that the debt is just and owing, and that such confession is not made for the purpose of defrauding his creditors. The affidavit shall be filed with the court.

Non-resident o file cost-bond.

(4618) § 26. Plaintiffs who are not residents of this Territory, before commencing any action, shall file in the office of the clerk a written undertaking, payable to the defendant, with surety to be approved by the clerk for the payment of all costs which may accrue in the action to the proper officer or person; but the suit shall not be dismissed for want thereof; if the plaintiff will file in open court, upon being ordered to do so, such undertaking, which shall include all previous costs, the sureties shall be liable in the first instance as parties.

Costs.

(4619) § 27. In all civil actions the party recovering judgment shall recover costs, except in those cases in which a different provision is made by law.

Costs, how apportioned.

(4620) § 28. In actions where there are several plaintiffs or several defendants, the cost shall be apportioned according to the judgment rendered; and where there are several causes of action embraced in the same complaint, or several issues, the plaintiff shall recover costs upon the issues determined in his favor and the defendant shall recover costs upon the issues determined in his favor.

When suits can be joined, costs in one only

(4621) § 29. When the plaintiff shall at the same court, bring several actions against the defendant upon demands which might have been joined in one action, he shall recover costs only in one action, unless it shall appear to the court that the actions effect different rights of interests, or other sufficient reasons exist why the several demands ought not to have been joined in one action.

When costs adjudged before final judgment.

(4622) § 30. Whenever in any action an order shall be made for the payment of any costs at any time before final judgment, the court shall, upon motion of any person interested, render judgment for the costs in favor of the party entitled to receive the same.

Costs of transcript.

(4623) § 31. When in any suit pending in this Territory, it shall be necessary to procure a transcript of any judgment or proceeding, or exemplification of any record as evidence in such action, the necessary expense of procuring such transcript or exemplification shall be taxed as other costs in the cause and recovered as in other cases.

Fee-bills.

(4624) § 32. Fee bills and executions may issue for the collection of costs in the proper cases against parties to the action, relators, persons for whose use an action is brought and sureties on undertakings for the payment of costs.

Except divorce when opened.

(4625) § 33. Parties against whom a judgment has been rendered without other notice than the publication in the newspaper herein required, except in cases of divorce, may at any time within five years after the rendition of the judgment, have the same opened and be allowed to defend.

Notice of application.

(4626) § 34. Before any judgment shall be opened such party shall give notice to the original complainant, or his heirs, devisees, executors, or administrators, of his intention to make application to have the judgment opened as the court, in term, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall require; and shall file a full answer o the original complaint and an affidavit stating that, during the pendency of the action, he received no actual notice thereof in time to appear in court and object to the judgment; and shall also pay all such costs of action as the court shall direct.

Bona fide purchaser not effected.

(4627) § 35. If any property which was the subject of, or property sold under any judgment sought to be opened, as provided in the last two preceding sections, shall have passed into the hands of a purchaser in good faith, he shall not be affected by any proceedings consequent upon the opening of the judgment.

How assigned.

(4628) § 36. Judgments and decrees of a court of record for the recovery of money, and judgments obtained before a justice of the peace, may be assigned by the plaintiff or complainant, and the assignees thereof successively, on or attached to the entry of such judgment or decree; and the assignment, when attested by the clerk of the court or such justice of the peace, shall vest the title to such judgment or decree in each assignee thereof successively.

Payment to assignor, when valid

(4629) § 37. Payments or satisfaction on such judgment or decree to the assignors shall be valid, if made before notice of assignment to the judgment debtor, but not otherwise.

Execution, when issued and indorsed

(4630) § 38. In case of assignment, execution shall issue in the name of the original plaintiff or complainant, but shall be indorsed by the clerk or justice, to be for the use of the assignee.

Assignee may maintain action.

(4631) § 39. Any action which the plaintiff or complainant in such judgment or decree might have thereon may be in the name of the assignee.

Delivery-bond, suit on judgment.

(4632) § 40. Bonds for the delivery of property levied upon by virtue of such execution shall be to the judgment-plaintiff, for the use of such asignee; and all suits and proceedings relating to such judgment or decree, or against any officer on his bond for neglect of duty relating thereto, may be against, or on relation, or for the use of such assignee, as the case may require.

Lien upon real estate

(4633) § 41. All final judgments in the courts of record for the recovery of money or costs shall be a lien upon real estate and chattels real, liable to execution in the county where judgment is rendered, for the space of five years after the rendition thereof, and no longer, exclusive of the time during which the party may be restrained from proceeding thereon by any appeal or injunction, or by the death of the defendant, or by agreement of the parties entered of the record.

Transcript to another county.

(4634) § 42. It shall be the duty of the clerk of any court of record of this Territory, rendering any judgment, to make out a certified copy thereof, under the seal of such court at the request of any person interested; which copy may be filed in the office of the clerk of any district court of this Territory, and when so filed shall be recorded and entered in the judgment docket in the same manner as judgments rendered in any such court.

Lien on such judgment.

(4635) § 43. Such judgment, from the time of filing the copy aforesaid, shall be a lien upon all real estate, including chattels real, of the judgment-debtor, situated in the county where filed, as fully as if such judgment had been rendered thereon.

Transcript from justice.

(4636) § 44. It shall be the duty of every justice of the peace in this Territory, when requested, by the plaintiff or his agent, to make out and certify a true and complete transcript of the proceedings and judgment in any cause upon any docket legally in his possession. The plaintiff may file such transcript in the office of the clerk of any court in this Territory.

Recording, docketing, lien.

(4637) § 45. It shall be the duty of the clerk forthwith, to record the transcript in the order-book, and docket the judgment in the judgment-docket. The judgment set forth in the transcript shall be a lien upon the real property of the defendant within the county, to the same extent as judgments of the court, from the time of filing the transcript.

Execution, how obtained.

(4638) § 46. Whenever the plaintiff shall also procure from the justice a certificate that an execution has been issued upon the judgment to the proper constable, and by him returned, indorsed that no goods or chattels could be found sufficient to satisfy the judgment or a part thereof, and file the certificate with the clerk, he shall record it in the order-book with the transcript, and, upon the plaintiff or his agent also filing with the clerk his affidavit that the judgment is unpaid in whole or in part, stating the amount dne, he shall issue an execution upon the judgment, and indorse the amount to be levied of principal, interest and cost; which execution shall be issued, served and returned in the same manner as executions issued upon the judgment of the court.

Review of, by whom, exception,

(4639) § 47. Any person who is a party to a judgment or the heirs, devisees, or personal representatives of a deceased party, may file in the court where such judgment is rendered a complaint for a review of the proceedings and judgment. Any person under legal disabilities may file such complaint at any time within one year after the disability is removed. But no complaint shall be filed for a review of a judgment of divorce.

For what had, limit of filing.

(4640) § 48. The complaint may be filed for any error of law appearing in the proceedings and judgment and within one year, or for material new matter discovered since the rendition thereof, within three years; or for both causes, within one year after the rendition of the judgment, end without leave of court.

For new matter, verified, contents.

(4641) § 49. When the complaint for a review is filed for new matter discovered since the rendition of the judgment, it shall be verified by the complainant, and show that new matter could not have been discovered before judgment by reasonable diligence, and that the complaint is filed without delay after the discovery.

Stay, bond.

(4642) § 50. At any time after filing the complaint, and before the final hearing the court may, upon application of the plaintiff, stay all further proceedings on the judgment. When proceedings are stayed, the court shall direct bond and sureties to be given as in case of appeal.

Notice of filing, issue

(4643) § 51. The defendant shall be notified of the filing of such complaint, and the parties shall proceed to form issues of law and fact as in other cases.

Judgment, costs.

(4644) § 52. Upon the hearing, the court may reverse or affirm the judgment in whole or in part, or modify the same as the justice of the case may require and award costs according to the rule prescribed for the awarding of costs in the Supreme Court, on appeal.

(4645) § 53. In case of the death of any judgment debtor, the heirs, devisees, or legatees of such debtor, or the tenant of real property owned by him and effected by the judgment, and the personal representatives of the decedent, may, after the expiration of one year from the time of granting letters testimentary or of administration upon the estate of the decedent be summoned to show cause why the judgment should not be enforced against the estate of the judgment debtor in their hands respectively.

Death of judgment-debtor, heirs, etc.

(4646) § 54. The judgment-creditor, his representatives or attorney, shall file an affidavit that the judgment has not been satisfied, to his knowledge, or information and belief, and shall specify the amount due thereon, and the property sought to be charged.

Affidavit by judgment-creditor.

(4647) § 55. A summons shall be issued, served, and returned, or publication may be made, as in other cases; issues shall be formed and tried as an original suit and the court shall order the property of the decedent in the hands of the heirs, devisees, or legatees, or in the hands of the tenant of real property, to be sold to pay the judgment and costs in the manner required by the judgment.

Service of summons, issue, trial, order.

(4648) § 56. When two or more persons shall be jointly liable on a contract or a judgment, and either of them shall die, his estate, executors and administrators, shall be liable for the failure to perform the contract and for the payment of the judgment, to the same extent and in the same manner as if such contract or judgment were joint and several.

Death of one joint judgment debtor.

It shall not be necessary to copy a written instrument or any documentary evidence into a bill of exception, but it shall be sufficient to refer to such evidence, if its appropriate place be designated by the words "here insert:" Provided, That if a motion for a new trial shall be filed in a cause in which decision, so excepted to, is assigned as a reason for a new trial, such motion shall carry such decision and exception forward to the time of ruling on such motion, and time may be then given by the court within which to reduce such exception to writing.

Form of exception

(4651) § 3. No particular form of exception is required. The objection must be stated, with so much of the evidence as is necessary to explain it, and no more, and the whole as briefly as possible.

Exception records, now noted.

(4652) § 4. Where the decision objected to is entered on the record, and the grounds of the objection appear in the entry, the exception may be taken by the party causing it to be noted at the end of the decision that he excepts.

Bill, how signed and filed, entry.

(4653) § 5. When the record does not otherwise show the decision or grounds of objection thereto, the party objecting must, within such time as may be allowed, present to the judge a proper bill of exceptions, which, if true, he shall promptly sign and cause it to be filed in the cause; if not true the judge shall correct, sign, and cause it to be filed without delay. When so filed it shall be a part of the record; and delay of the judge in signing and filing the same, shall not deprive the party objecting of the benefit thereof. The date of the presentation shall be stated in the bill of execptions, and the entry shall show the time granted if beyond the term, for presenting the same.

Questions of law, how reserved.

(4654) § 6. Either party may reserve any question of law decided by the court during the progress of the cause, for the decision of the Supreme Court. Any question of law so reserved may be taken to the Supreme Court upon the bill of exceptions showing the decision, or, if it arises on demurrer, upon the pleadings involved. When the question so reserved is shown by the bill of exceptions, the party excepting shall notify the court that he intends to take the question of law to the Supreme Court upon the bill of exceptions only; and the court shall thereupon cause the bill of exceptions to be so made that it will distinctly and briefly embrace so much of the record of the cause only and the statement of the court, as will enable the Supreme Court to apprehend the particular question involved.

Time for appeal, supercedeas

(4655) § 7. The party excepting may take the reserved question to the Supreme Court by appeal, at any time within one year after the final judgment in the cause, and not afterward. The appeal in such case shall not stay proceedings upon the judgment, unless so ordered by the Supreme Court or some judge thereof.

(4656) § 8. Appeals may be taken from the district courts to the Supreme Court, by either party, from all final orders and judgments.

Appeals to Supreme court, proviso.

(4657) § 9. Appeals in all cases hereafter tried must be taken within one year from the time the judgment is rendered. In all cases heretofore tried they must be taken within one year from the time this act takes effect; but the time allowed the appellant by the pre-existing law shall not be enlarged. Where the appellant is under legal disabilities at the time the judgment is rendered, he may have his appeal at any time within one year after the disability is removed.

Appeal within one year, exception.

(4658) § 10. The Supreme court, upon being satisfied that the statute of limitations has barred a part only of the appellants, may strike the names from the record, and proceed to affirm, or reverse, or modify the judgments as to those appellants only who are before the court.

Part only barred, proceedings.

(4659) § 11. A part of several co-parties may appeal; but in such case, they must serve notice of the appeal upon all the other co-parties, and file the proof thereof with the clerk of the Supreme Bourt. Unless they appear and decline to join, they shall be regarded as having joined, and shall be liable for their due proportion of the costs. If they decline to join, their names may be struck out on motion; and they shall not take an appeal afterward, nor shall they derive any benefit from the appeal, unless from the necessity of the case, except persons under legal disabilities.

A part may appeal, notice.

(4660) § 12. In case of the death of any or all the the parties to a judgment before an appeal is taken, an appeal may be taken by, and notice of appeal served upon, the persons in whose favor and against whom the action might have been revived, if death had occurred before judgment.

Death of party, appeal, notice.

(4661) § 13. The death of any or all parties shall not cause the proceedings to abate; but the names of the proper persons being substituted, upon consent or upon notice, the cause may proceed.

Death no abatement.

(4662) § 14. When an appeal is taken during the term at which judgment is rendered it shall operate as a stay of all further proceedings on the judgment, upon an appeal bond being filed by the appellant, with such penalty and surety as the court shall approve, and within such time as it shall direct, payable to the appellee, with condition that he will duly prosecute his appeal and abide by and pay the judgment and costs which may be rendered or affirmed against him; and if the appeal is taken from a judgment of real property, or the possession thereof, by the party against whom the judgment for the recovery is rendered, then the condition of the bond shall further provide, that the appellant shall also pay all damages which may be sustained by the appellee for the mesne profits, waste or damage to the land during the pendency of the appeal; and if from a judgment for the recovery or return of personal property, or for such property or its value, then that if he deliver or return the property he will also pay the reasonable value of its use and any damage it may sustain during the Appeal during term, stay bond, transcript.

pendency of an appeal. The transcript shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court within sixty days after filing the bond.

Failure to file record, execution, proviso

(4663) § 15. In all cases appealed to the Supreme Court, where bond shall have been filed in the court below in term and execution therein stayed, and the appellants shall fail to file in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court the record of the cause so appealed within the time required by law, the party in whose favor the judgment may be in the court below may have execution thereon upon filing with the clerk of the proper court the certificate of the clerk of the Supreme Court showing that said record was not so filed in proper time: Provided, however, That nothing in in this section shall be so construed as to prevent any such appellant from filing the transcript and perfecting an appeal afterwards according to law.

Appeal after term, notice, filing

(4664) § 16. After the close of the term at which the judgment is rendered, an appeal may be taken by the service of a notice in writing, on the adverse party or his attorney, and also on the clerk of the court in which the proceedings were had, stating the appeal from the judgment or some specific part thereof; or such appeals may be taken by procuring from the clerk of the court a transcript of the record and proceeding in the suit, or so much thereof as is embraced in the appeal, and filing the same in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court, who shall endorse thereon the time of filing, and issue a notice of the appeal to the appellate.

Appeal after term, bond, supercedeas

(4665) § 17. An appeal taken after the close of the term shall not stay executuion or other proceedings in the court below, unless an order to that effect be granted by the Supreme Court, in term, or any judge thereof in term or vacation, which shall be indorsed on the transcript. The court or judge, shall, at the time of making the order, direct that the appellant shall give bond to the appellee, with condition as required when an appeal is taken during the term at which the judgment is rendered.

Bond, how appealed, stay

(4666) § 18. The appeal-bond and surety may be approved be the clerk of the Supreme Court or by the clerk of the court below And upon the filing of the bond, execution and all other proceedings on the judgment in the court below shall be stayed; and if the execution has issued, the clerk shall notify the sheriff of the appeal and order to stay proceedings, and the execution shall be forthwith returned, and any levy made shall be relinquished

Certificate of stay to clerk below

(4667) § 19. Whenever an order to stay execution of a judgment is granted, the clerk of the Supreme Court shall issue a certificate thereof to the clerk of the court below.

Length of stay

(4668) § 20. Such order shall operate until the termination of the appeal, unless otherwise ordered by the court of a judge thereof.

Executors bond not required

(4669) § 21. Executors, administrators and guardians, may have an appeal and stay of proceedings in the court below without giving an appeal.

When taken.

(4670) § 22. Such appeal may be taken at the term of the court at which the order is made; or, when made in vacation, the appeal may be taken at the time or during the next term. The appeal shall not be granted until the appellant has filed an appeal bond as in other cases of appeal.

Length of stay.

(4671) § 23. Such appeal shall not stay proceedings upon the order more than thirty days, unless the Supreme Court in term, or some judge thereof, in term or vacation, shall otherwise order.

Transcript for appeal

(4672) § 24. Upon the request of the appellant, or upon being served with notice as aforesaid, and, in either case, upon the payment of the proper fees, the clerk shall forthwith make out and deliver to the party, at his request, or transmit to the clerk of the Supreme Court, a transcript of the record in the cause, or so much thereof, as the appellant in writing directs certified and sealed, to which shall be appended the written directions of the appellant above contemplated, if any.

Transcript, certificate, when evidence omitted,

(4673) § 25. All proper entries made by the clerk, and all papers pertaining to a cause, and filed therein (except a summons for the defendant, where all the persons named in it have appeared to the action, and summons for the witnesses depositions, and other papers which are used as mere evidence), are to be deemed parts of the record; but a transcript of motions, affidavits, and other papers, when they relate to collateral matters, and depositions; and papers filed as mere evidence shall not be certified, unless made a part of the record by exception or order of court, and directed to be certified by the appellant. Neither shall the clerk certify any pleading first filed, when there is an amended pleading of the same matter subsequently filed, embracing all the pleadings first filed; and the amendments thereto, but shall certify such amended pleading only. Every paper and pleading above excepted may be part of the record by the exceptions or order of the court, on motion. If the clerk should certify matter not material to the determination of the appeal to the Supreme Court may direct the person blamable therefor to pay the costs thereof: Provided, That when in any case an appeal is prosecuted upon the question of the correctness of instructions given or refused, or the modification thereof, it shall not be necessary to set out in the record all the evidence given in the cause, but it shall be sufficient in the bill of exceptions to set out the instructions or modifications excepted to, with a recital of the fact that the same were applicable to the evidence in the case.

Publication against non-resident.

(4674) § 26. Whenever it shall appear to the Supreme Court, by satisfactory proof, that the appellee in a cause appealed after the close of the term is not a resident of this Territory and that a notice of an appeal cannot be served upon the attorney of the record in the court below, the court may order that notice of the pendancy of the appeal be given in some newspaper printed and published in this Territory, for three weeks successively, after which the court shall proceed in all respects as if the defendant had been served with process.

When appeal stands for trial.

(4675) § 27 Every appeal shall stand for trial at the first term of the Supreme Court after filing the transcript, when taken during the term of the court below, and in all other cases, when notice has been served ten days, or publication made thirty days before the first day of the term.

Docketing, order of hearing.

(4676) § 28. The clerk shall docket all appeals in the order in which the transcripts are filed, and they shall be heard in the same order, unless the court, for good cause shown, direct a different mode of hearing.

Proceedings each day signed by chief judge.

(4677) § 29. The proceedings of a court for every day of the term shall be drawn up at full length by the clerk against the next sitting of the court, and such corrections being made therein as shall be necessary and right, they shall be signed by the chief justice of the court.

Assignment of error, answer.

(4678) § 30. No pleadings shall be required in the Supreme Court upon an appeal, but a specific assignment of all errors relied upon, to be entered on the transcript in law matters only, which shall be assigned on or before the first day of the term at which the cause stands for trial; and the appellee shall file his answer thereto.

Questions of fact how tried.

(4679) § 31. All questions of fact to be determined in the Supreme Courts shall be tried according to rules to be adopted by the court.

Dismissal, effect of, new appeal.

(4680) § 32. No appeal shall be dismissed for any informality or defect in the transcript or appeal bond, if the appellant shall correct the informality or defect within reasonable time. When an appeal has deen dismissed for want of prosecution, the court may reinstate it at the same time next term, good cause being shown. When any appeal has been dismissed, another appeal may be taken.

Defect in form, etc, no ground for reversal

(4681) § 33. No judgment shall be stayed or reversed, in whole or in part, by the Supreme Court, for any defect in form, variance, or imperfections contained in the record, pleadings, process, entries, returns, or other proceedings therein, which by law might be amended by the court below, but such defects shall be deemed to be amended in the Supreme Court; nor shall any judgment be stayed or reversed, in whole or in part, where it shall appear to the court that the merits of the cause have been fairly tried and determined in the court below.

One judge interested, others divided, proceedings

(4682) § 34. Whenever, on the hearing of an appeal, one of the judges of the Supreme Court has been of counsel in the cause, or is otherwise incompetent to participate in the decision, and the remaining judges are equally divided, the cause shall be continued to the next term; and if then the judges shall be equally divided, the judgment shall be affirmed without costs and in such case, each judge shall give his written opinion of each point in the case arising upon the record, which shall be reported among the cases decided by the Supreme Court.

Reversal, remanding for new trial, instructions.

(4683) § 35. When the judgment is reversed, in whole or in part, the Supreme Court shall remand the cause to the court below, with instructions for a new trial, when the justice of the case requires it, but, if no new trial is required, with particular instructions relative to the judgment to be rendered and all modifications thereof. And whenever any cause is reversed in the Supreme Court, in whole or in part, on appeal and sent back for such further proceedings as may require a trial, if the opinion and decision of the Supreme Court in such cause shall have been deposited in the office of the clerk of the district court, ten days or more before the first day of any term of such court, such cause shall stand for trial at such term; otherwise it shall be continued until the next term of such court.

Judgment of Supreme Court, damages.

(4684) § 36. The Supreme Court may reverse or affirm the judgment below, in whole or in part, and remand the cause to the court below, and the court shall decide all errors assigned. Of the court affirm the judgment, damages may be assessed in favor of the appellee, not exceeding ten per cent upon the judgment in money judgments, and in any other cases in the discretion of the court; and the court shall remand such causes for execution.

Notice to clerk below, petition for rehearing

(4685) § 37. When any cause is determined in the Supreme Court, the clerk shall forthwith notify the clerk of the court below that it is determined, and whether reversed or affirmed, in whole or in part, or dismissed. At any time within sixty days after such determination, either party may file a petition for a re-hearing; if not so filed, the decision and instructions of the Supreme Court shall be certified to the court below, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

Death no effect after submission.

(4686) § 38. If the death of any or all the parties occur after the submission of the cause, judgment shall be rendered as at the term at which the submission was made, without any change of parties.

Costs

(4687) § 39. When a judgment is affirmed in whole, the appellee shall recover costs, and when the judgment is reversed in whole, the appellant shall recover costs in the Supreme Court and the court below, to the time of the first error for which the judgment is reversed, which shall be pointed out in the opinion of the Supreme Court. In all other cases costs shall be awarded as the court may deem right, following, as nearly as possible, the general regulation for awarding costs.

Fee for transcript, etc

(4688) § 40. The fee paid for procuring the transcript, the costs of serving the notice of appeal, and the printer's fee for publication are a part of the costs of the Supreme Court.

Execution from Supreme court, return.

(4689) § 41. Executions issued from the Supreme Court shall be the same as those of other courts of record and shall be returnable as in other cases.

Money judgment, execution, when.

(4690) § 42. In all cases appealed to the Supreme Court, where the judgment below has been for the recovery of money, and the same shall be fully and unconditionally affirmed in the Supreme Court, the clerk of the court below shall be authorized to issue execution on said judgment as soon as the certified copy of the opinion and judgment of the Supreme Court, so affirming said judgment, shall be filed in his office.

Order to inferior court for transcript and papers

(4691) § 43. Any appellate court shall have full power to compel any inferior court, board, or officer exercising judicial functions or other person, to certify to such court a full and complete transcript of the records and proceedings of any such tribunal, board, officer, or person, and the production of any paper, whenever it shall be necessary for the proper determination of any cause or proceeding pending before the appellate court. The breach of any order may be punished as a contempt.

Chap. 70.

Reversal, effect upon title.

(4692) § 44. The reversal of any judgment by virtue of which any real estate has been sold or transferred, or the titles thereto affirmed, shall not avoid the sale, transfer, or title, if the person to be affected thereby shall be, or claim under, a purchaser in good faith, and not a party to the record or attorney of any party.

Restitution impossible, remedy of defendant

(4693) § 45. In every case of a sale, transfer, or confirmation of real estate upon execution or by judgment, where the defendant shall not have restitution of his estate, he shall be entitled to recover of the judgment-plaintiff the full value of the estate with interest, when the judgment-plaintiff has purchased the estate, or had the same confirmed or transferred to him; and when the land has been sold by the sheriff to any other person, he may recover the proceeds of the sale, with interest, deducting the amount applied to the costs of the judgment-defendant.

Restitution.

(4694) § 46. In every other case of the reversal of any judgment, by virtue of which any real estate has been sold or transferred, or the title confirmed, the judgment-defendant shall have restitution thereof as follows:

Notice of motion for restitution

(4695) § 47. He may notify the purchaser or his tenant, or other person in possession, that at the next term he will move the court which rendered the judgment to restore to him the possession of the premises.

Hearing and judgment.

(4696) § 48. Upon proof that the notice has been served ten days, the court may proceed to hear and determine the issues made by the parties, and render judgment accordingly, or the judgment-defendant may recover his real estate by the ordinary action.

Writs of.

(4697) § 1. Writs of execution, as now used for the enforcement of judgments, are modified in conformity to this act, and any party in whose favor judgment has been heretofore or shall hereafter be rendered may, at any time within five years after the entry of judgment, proceed to enforce the same as provided in this act.

After five years, upon leave.

(4698) § 2. After the lapse of five years from the entry of judgment or issuing of an execution, an execution can be issued only on leave of the court upon motion after ten days personal notice to the adverse party, unless he be absent or non-resident or cannot be found when service of notice may be made by publication, as in an original action or in such manner as the court shall direct Such leave shall not be given unless it be established by the oath of the party, or other satisfactory proof, that the judgment or some part thereof remains unsatisfied and due.

Three kinds of (4699) § 3. There shall be three kinds of executions—one against the property of the judgment debtor, one against his person, and one for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, or such delivery with damages for withholding the same; and executions may be issued to the sheriffs of different counties at the same time; but the plaintiff shall pay the costs upon all executions not necessary to the collection of his judgment.

Execution-docket, contents

(4700) § 4. The clerk of every court of record shall keep an execution docket, in which he shall enter all executions as they are issued by him, specifying, in proper columns, the names of the parties, the amount of the judgment, and interest due at the issuing of the execution and costs, and prepare an additional column, in which he shall enter at length the return of the sheriff; and such docket entries shall be taken and deemed to be a record.

Precipe for execution and fee-bill

(4701) § 5. No execution shall, in any case, be issued on any cause, except on the written order of a party to such suit, his representatives or assigns, or of his attorney of record; and no fee-bill shall be issued, unless the same shall be ordered by the person to whom such fees, or a part thereof, are due, but the clerk shall receive nothing for any fee-bill issued for his own fees.

Judgments, how enforced.

(4702) § 6. When a judgment requires the payment of money or delivery of real or personal property, the same shall be enforced in those respects by execution, as provided in this act. Where it requires the performance of any other act, a certified copy of the judgment may be served upon the party against whom it is given, or upon the person or officer who is required thereby, or by law, to obey the same, and his obedience thereto enforced; if he refuse, he may be punished by the court as for contempt.

No execution against body or property.

(4703) § 7. No execution against the body shall be issued while an execution against the property remains unreturned, nor shall an execution against the property be issued while there is an execution against the body unreturned

To whom issued

(4704) § 8. When the execution is against the property or body of the judgment-debtor, it may issue to the sheriff of any county in the Territory. Where it requires the delivery of real or personal property, it must be issued to the sheriff of the county where the property, or some part thereof, is situated.

Requisites.

(4705) § 9. The execution must issue in the name of the Territory, and be directed to the sheriff of the county, sealed with the seal, and attested by the clerk of the court. It must intelligibly refer to the judgment, stating the court where and the time when rendered, the names of the parties, the amount, if it be for money, and the amount actually due thereon, and shall require the sheriff substantially as follows:

First. If it be against the property of the judgment-debtor, it shall require the sheriff to satisfy the judgment out of the property of the debtor subject to execution.

Second. If it be against the real or personal property in the hands of personal representatives, heirs, devisees, legatees, tenants of real property, or trustees, it shall require the sheriff to satisfy the judgment out of such property.

Third. If it be against the body of the judgment-debtor, it shall require the sheriff to arrest such debtor and commit him to the jail of such county, until he shall pay the judgment, or be discharged according to law.

Fourth. If it be for the delivery of the possession of the real or personal property, it shall require the sheriff to deliver the possession of the same particularly describing it to the party entitled thereto; and may at the same time require the sheriff to satisfy any costs, damages, or rents and profits recovered by the same judgment out of the property of the party against whom it was rendered subject to execution, and the value of the property for which the judgment was recovered to be specified therein, if a delivery thereof cannot be had; and shall in that respect be deemed an execution against the property.

Time of return.

(4706) § 10. The execution shall be returnable within one hundred and eighty days from its date.

When may issue on Sunday.

(4707) § 11. An execution may be issued and executed on Sunday, whenever an affidavit shall be filed by the plaintiff, or some person in his behalf, stating that he will lose his judgment, as he has reason to fear and believe unless process issue on that day.

Indorsement of clerk on such writ.

(4708) § 12. The clerk shall indorse on such execution that the defendants are not privileged from serving on Sunday.

Lien on property, when first levy preferred.

(4709) § 13. When an execution against the property of any person is delivered to an officer to be executed, the goods and chattels of such person within the jurisdiction of the officer shall be bound from the time of delivery; but if there be several executions whether issued out of a court of record or by a justice of the peace, against the same defendant in the hands of different officers, that execution, without regard to the time of its delivery, under which the first levy is made shall have the preference, and all liens created by the prior delivery of any other execution shall be divested in favor of the execution first levied.

Sheriff's successor to execute writ, when.

(4710) § 14. If the sheriff die or go out of office before the return of any execution, his successor, or other officer authorized to discharge the duties of the office in such case, shall proceed thereon in the same manner that the sheriff should have done.

Alias execution.

(4711) § 15. The clerk, upon the return of an execution unsatisfied, shall issue another execution upon the judgment, and indorse thereon the amount of money levied by the former, if any.

To another county, lien from levy

(4712) § 16. An execution against property issued to another county shall bind the real estate of the defendant from the time of the levy.

Stay of, time

(4713) § 17. When judgment has been rendered against any persons for the recovery of money or sale of property, he may, by procuring one or more freehold sureties to enter into recognizance, acknowledging themselves bail for the defendant for the payment of the judgment, together with the interest and cost accrued and to accrue, have a stay of execution from the time of signing the judgment as follows:

First. If the sum for which the judgment was rendered, inclusive of costs, does not exceed six dollars for thirty days.

Second. If such sum and costs exceed six and do not exceed twelve dollars, sixty days.

Third. If such sum and costs exceed twelve and do not exceed twenty dollars, ninety days.

Fourth. If such sum and costs exceed twenty and do not exceed forty dollars, one hundred and twenty days.

Fifth. If such sum and costs exceed forty and do not exceed one hundred dollars, one hundred and fifty days.

Sixth. If such sum and costs exceed one hundred dollars, one hundred and eighty days.

Bail, how taken, its effect.

(4714) § 18. The bail for stay of execution may be taken and approved by the clerk, and the recognizance entered of record at any time before the term of the stay of execution expires. The undertaking in the recognizance shall be for the payment of the judgment, interest, and costs that may accrue at or before the expiration of the term of the stay of execution. The recognizance shall be written immediately following the entry of the judgment, and signed by the bail.

Clerk to notify sheriff, return.

(4715) § 19. When the bail is entered after execution is issued, the clerk shall immediately notify the sheriff of the stay, and he shall forthwith return the execution, noting his doings thereon.

Clerk's indorsement on replevial judgment,

(4716) § 20. When execution issues for want of bail before the term for stay expires, the clerk shall indorse thereon the date of the judgment, and that the same is repleviable.

Stay for residue.

(4717) § 21. In such cases the defendant may have a stay of execution for the residue of such term, by putting in bail, to be approved by the sheriff, and indorsed thereon, and signed by the bail.

Recognizance, where copied.

(4718) § 22. The sheriff having taken the bail, shall immediately return the execution, with his doings thereon, to the clerk's office and the recognizance shall be copied by the clerk in the execution docket, and shall have the same force as if taken by the clerk.

Property levied on to be relinquished.

(4719) § 23. All property levied on before stay of execution, and all written undertakings for the delivery of personal property to the sheriff, shall be relinquished by the officer upon bail for the stay of execution being entered.

Bail, effect of judgment confessed

(4720) § 24. Every recognizance or bail, taken as above provided, shall have the effect of a judgment confessed, from the date thereof, against the person and property of the bail.

Joint execution.

(4721) § 25. At the expiration of the stay it shall be the duty of the clerk to issue a joint execution against the property of all the judgment debtors and replevin bail; but the sheriff shall first levy upon the property of the judgment defendants, if sufficient can be found, if not he shall then without delay levy the execution upon the property of the bail. But no property of the bail shall be sold while property of the original judgment debtor, subject to the execution can be found in the county.

When stay not allowed, return limited

(4722) § 26. No stay of execution shall be allowed upon any judgments recovered against any officer, person or corporation, or the sureties of any of them, for money received in a fiduciary capacity or for a breach of any official duty. The clerk shall issue executions upon such judgments forthwith, returnable in ninety days, and indorsed "not repleviable," and it shall be so ordered in the judgment.

Sureties may prevent stay, exceptions.

(4723) § 27. When any court shall render judgment against two or more persons any of whom are sureties for any other or others in the contract on which the judgment is founded there shall be no stay of execution of the judgment if the sureties object at the time of rendering the judgment; and it shall be so ordered by the court, unless the bail for the stay of execution will under-

Chap. 70. take specially to pay the judgment in case the amount thereof cannot be levied of the principal defendant.

When bail may have execution.

(4724) § 28. Any bail for the stay of execution may file with the clerk an affidavit, stating that he verily believes he will be liable for the judgment, interest and costs thereon unless execution issue immediately, and the clerk shall thereupon issue execution forthwith, unless other sufficient bail be entered before the clerk or sheriff, as in other cases.

Entry of other bail, its effect.

(4725) § 29. If other sufficient bail be entered, it shall have the force of the original bail entered before the filing of the affidavit, and shall discharge the original bill.

Exemption, six hundred dollars.

(4726) § 30. An amount of property not exceeding in value six hundred dollars, owned by any resident house holder, shall not be liable to sale on execution or on any other final process from a court, for any debt growing out of, or founded upon a contract, express or implied, after the taking effect of this act.

Kind of property exempt

(4727) § 31. The property may be real or personal, or both, as the debtor may elect and designate at the time he claims the exemption.

Selection of appraisers.

(4728) § 32. For the appraisement of any property to be exempted under the provisions of this act, two disinterested house holders of the neighborhood shall be chosen, one by the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, and one by the execution debtor; and these two, in case of disagreement, shall select the third; and in case either party fails to select an appraiser the same shall be selected by the officer holding the execution.

Schedule and appraisement.

(4729) § 33. Such appraisers shall proceed forthwith to make a schedule of the real and personal property selected by the debtor describing the real estate by metes and bounds. and the personal property by separate items, affixing to each the value they may agree upon; and they, or a majority, shall affix to the schedule so made an affidavit in substance as follows: "We, the undersigned, swear that, in our opinion, the above is a just valuation of the property herein described."

Return of officer, re-appraisement, costs.

(4730) § 34. Such schedule shall be delivered to the officer holding the execution or other process, and shall be by him returned with such execution or other process, and made a part of such return: Provided, That all second or subsequent appraisments, under this act, shall be at the cost of the party or parties asking the re-appraisment, unless the property of the debtor, at the time of the re-appraisment, is appraised at enough over and above the legal exemption to meet said costs.

Debtor to pay appraiser's fee.

(4731) § 35. Each appraiser, for his services, shall be allowed the sum of fifty cents, to be paid by the execution debtor.

Duty ot officer, when personalty only is claimed.

(4732) § 36. If the debtor claim as exempt from execution personal property only, the officer holding the execution shall cause the same to be appraised and set apart to the debtor, and shall proceed to sell such other property, if any, as may be liable to the execution, according to law.

Duty when claim includes personalty and realty.

(4733) § 37. If the claim of the debtor, as exempt from execution, include both real and personal property the officer holding the execution shall proceed to have the personal property appraised and set apart to the debtor, and then to have the real property claimed appraised, and if the amount of both appraisements exceed six hundred dollars, the debtor may, within sixty days thereafter, pay the excess or an amount sufficient to satisfy the execution; but if he fail to do so, the officer shall proceed to sell the real property as other real property is sold on execution, if the execution authorize the sale of such property. In making the sale he shall receive no bid unless it exceed the difference between six hundred dollars and the appraisement of the personal property so set apart to the debtor. If the officer sell the real property, he shall pay over to the debtor the amount of said difference, and of the remainder apply upon the execution enough to satisfy it, and pay the balance, if any, to the debtor, or to such other party as may be entitled to it.

Duty, when claim is for realty only.

(4734) § 38. If the debtor claim as exempt from the execution real property only, it shall be appraised; and if its appraised value exceed six hundred dollars, it shall be sold, if there is a bid for more than six hundred dollars. If sold, the officer shall pay to the debtor six hundred dollars and the remainder of the purchase money shall be disposed of as provided in the last preceding section.

Real property, how divided.

(4735) § 39. In all cases in which real property is claimed as exempt from sale on execution, and said real property is susceptible of division by metes and bounds without material injury thereto, it shall be so divided as to exempt the principal dwelling house or homestead of the debtor.

Debtor must make and deliver schedule.

(4736) § 40. Before a debtor shall receive the benefitof the exemption provided by law, he shall on demand make out and deliver to the officer holding the execution a schedule of all of his property as now required by law, in case an exemption from sale on execution is claimed.

Verified schedule required.

(4737) § 41. Before any person shall be entitled to the benefit of the provisions of the exemption law he shall make out on demand and deliver to the sheriff or other officer having the writ, an inventory of all his or her real estate, within or without this Territory, money on hand or on deposit within or without this Territory, rights, credits and chooses in action, and all personal property of every description whatever belonging to him or in which he had any interest at the date of the issuing of the writ, and make and subscribe an affidavit to the same that such inventory contains a full and true account of all such property as required in this act to be set out in the said inventory, had or held by him at the time such writ was issued; and if any such property has been disposed of by him since the issuing ot the writ such affidavit shall allow that fact, and how the same has been disposed of, and what disposition he has made with the proceeds; and until such inventory and affidavit shall be furnished to such officer, he shall not set apart any property to the execution-defendant as exempt from execution.

Wife may act in husband's absence.

(4738) § 42. In any case when the execution-defendant is absent from this Territory, or shall absent himself from his home, and an attachment or execution shall be directed against his property, his wife may make out and verify the schedule of his property, and claim and receive for him the exemption provided in this act, and claim and exercise all rights which would belong to her husband were he present.

When husband's mortgage of realty invalid.

(4739) § 43. No mortgage or sale of any real estate exempted under the provisions of this act shall be valid if executed by a married man, unless the mortgage or deed be signed and acknowledged by the wife in due form of law.

No exemption against mechanics' liers, etc.

(4740) § 44. The exemption under this act shall not effect any laborer's or mechanic's lien, nor lien for the purchase money of the real property exempted; nor exempt any property from taxation or from sale for taxes.

Levy and offer to sell.

(4741) § 45. When an execution against the property of any person is issued to the sheriff, he shall serve said execution upon the defendant or defendants in said county, and levy the same, if not paid, upon property and make at least one offer to sell property levied upon within sixty days after such execution comes to his hands, if property can be found, unless otherwise directed by the plaintiff or plaintiffs, or his or their agents.

Money may be levied on.

(4742) § 46. Current coin and lawful money, and such bank notes as the plaintiff is willing to receive as money, may be levied upon and returned on execution, without sale as so much money collected.

Bills, notes, etc.

(4743) § 47. Bills, notes, drafts and checks, or other evidences of debt, issued by any moneyed corporation or bank, or by this Territory or the United States and circulating as money, may be levied upon as personal property and sold on execution.

Goods pledged etc., subject to lien

(4744) § 48. Goods and chattels liable to exemption, pledged, assigned, or mortgaged as security for any debt or contract, may be levied upon and sold on execution against the person making the pledge, assignment, or mortgage, subject thereto, and the purchaser shall be entitled to the possession, upon complying with the conditions of the pledge, assignment, or mortgage.

Shares of stock, sheriffs duties and powers.

(4745) § 49. Shares of stock in any corporation or company may be levied upon and sold in the county where the office and books showing the shares of stock and stockholders of the corporation or company are kept; and the sheriff shall transfer the stock subject to the rights of the corporation or company. The sheriff shall have access to the books of any corporation or company in his county, for the purpose of making the levy; and if refused access, the court shall enforce the right. The shares of stock subject to be levied upon shall be bound by the execution from the time of the levy; and when such levy is made, the sheriff shall leave the notice thereof with the officers of the company, and such levy shall constitute a lien upon the stock from the time of such levy.

Debt or thing in action, when given up.

(4746) § 50. Any debt or thing in action, legally or equitably assignable, may be levied upon, when given up by the defendant, and sold on execution, in the same manner as other personal property.

Assigment thereof by sheriff, effect.

(4747) § 51. The sheriff making the sale of any such debt or thing in action shall assign and deliver the same to the purchaser, and the assignment shall have the same effect as if made by the execution-defendant at the time of making the levy thereon, and shall be treated as so made.

Pleading and proof in action thereon.

(4748) § 52. In any action in which such assignment is declared upon or stated, it shall not be necessary to plead or prove any judgment or execution by virtue of which the assignment was made, nor to prove the execution of the assignment, unless the same be denied under oath.

First levy on property selected by debtor.

(4749) § 53. When any execution shall issue against the real or personal property of any person, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to levy the same; first upon that part of the property designated by such person, if there be no reasonable doubt that he is the owner thereof, and if designated in time to enable the sheriff to levy and sell without unnecessary delay.

When none designated, levy general.

(4750) § 54. If no property be thus designated, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to levy the execution upon any property of the debtor which can be found subject to the execution.

When insufficient, levy general.

(4751) § 55. If the property thus designated be insufficient to satisfy the execution, the sheriff shall levy the same upon such other property subject to execution as can be most readily found sufficient in addition to the property designated, to satisfy the execution.

Personalty first sold, exception, debtor's residence.

(4752) § 56. In all cases where the personal estate of the debtor subject to execution is insufficient to satisfy the execution, the real estate shall be exempt from levy and sale until the personal estate is levied upon and sold, unless the debtor shall direct otherwise; and the principal messuage, lands, or tenements of the debtor, or upon which he may reside, shall not be levied upon, unless other property cannot be found sufficient to satisfy the execution in the hands of the sheriff.

Further levies and sales

(4753) § 57. If the property levied on shall not sell for a sum sufficient to satisfy the execution, the sheriff shall make a further and sufficient levy, if sufficient property can be found, and proceed as upon the first levy, and return his doings thereon.

Sale for two-thirds appraised value, exception.

(4754) § 58. No property shall be sold on any execution or order of sale issued out of any court for less than two-thirds of the appraised cash value thereof, exclusive of the liens and incumbrances, except where otherwise provided by law.

Sheriff to ascertain cash value.

(4755) § 59. The sheriff, immediately upon levying an execution, shall proceed to ascertain the cash value of the property levied upon.

Appraisers, selection, duties

(4756) § 60. For that purpose two disinterested householders of the neighborhood where the levy is made shall be selected as appraisers, one of whom shall be selected by each of the parties or their agent; or, in the absence of either party or his agent, or upon the failure or refusal of either party, after three days notice by the sheriff, to make the selection, the sheriff shall proceed to select the appraisers. They shall forthwith proceed to appraise the property according to its cash value at the time, deducting liens and incumbrances; and in case of their disagreement as to the value, the sheriff shall select a like disinterested appraiser, and with his assistance, shall complete the valuation; and the appraisement of any two of them shall be deemed the cash value.

Vacancy.

(4757) § 61. In case any appraiser shall fail to act or to complete such valuation, another shall be chosen in his stead, as above provided.

Liens and incumbrances, list of.

(4758) § 62. It shall not be the duty of the sheriff or appraisers to ascertain the amount of liens and incumbrances; but either party may furnish the sheriff with a list thereof, with the amount and nature of each.

Schedule and valuation.

(4759) § 63. The sheriff shall furnish the appraisers a schedule of the property levied upon, with the incumbrances made known to him, and they shall proceed to fix and set down opposite to each tract, lot, or parcel of real estate, and of the several articles of personal property, the cash value, deducting liens and incumbrances; which schedule they shall return to the sheriff.

Oath of appraisers

(4760) § 64. The appraiser shall take and subscribe an oath annexed to such appraisement, to the effect that the property mentioned in the schedule is, to the best of their judgment, worth the sums specified therein; that the same is a fair cash value thereof at the time, exclusive of liens and incumbrances; which oath the sheriff is authorized to administer and attest, when taken and subscribed by the appraisers.

Purchaser's privileges as to liens, proviso,

(4761) § 65. Where any property shall be sold subject to liens and incumbrances, the purchaser may pay the liens and incumbrances, and hold the property discharged from all claims of the execution-defendant; or, he may hold the property subject to be redeemed by the execution-defendant, his heirs or assigns, by paying to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, the purchase money, with interest. When redeemed, the purchaser shall have the growing crops and shall not be accountable for rents and profits, but he shall account for waste: Provided, That nothing contained in this section shall deprive a party from the right to redeem when authorized by statute.

Duty of sheriff as to unsold property.

(4762) § 66. When any property levied on remains unsold, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, when he returns the execution, to return the appraisement therewith, stating in his return the failure to sell and the cause of the failure.

Lien of levy to continue, limit, new writ

(4763) § 67. The lien of the levy upon the property shall continue; and the clerk, when directed by the plaintiff, shall forthwith issue another execution reciting the return of the former execution, the levy and failure to sell and directing the sheriff to satisfy the judgment out of the property unsold, if the same be sufficient; if not, then out of any other property of the debtor subject to execution; but such lien as to personal property shall continue only for thirty days (unless a second execution be issued thereon) from the time of said return, at which time it shall be released as to bona fide purchasers for value and as to levies of writs on other judgments, and the levy shall, as between the parties, be deemed vacated; and as to real property, after six month, the levy of such writ shall be discharged.

Re-offer, costs, re-valuation

(4764) § 68. Whenever any property levied upon remains unsold for want of buyers, the plaintiff may cause the same to be re-offered at any time before the return-day of the execution, at his costs, as often as he may direct; but in case of the sale of the property, the costs of such offer and sale shall be taxed against the defendant. Either party may have a re-valuation of the property, at his costs, after any offer to sell.

Fraud, sale without appraisement.

(4765) § 69. The property conveyed to a debtor, with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors, shall be sold without appraisement.

Delivery bond.

(4766) § 70. Any personal property taken in execution may be returned to the execution-defendant by the sheriff, upon delivery by the defendant, to him of a written undertaking, payable to the execution-plaintiff, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the sheriff, to the effect that the property shall be delivered to the sheriff at a time and place named in the undertaking, to be sold according to law, or for the payment to the sheriff of the appraised value thereof, or when the same has not been appraised, then of the value of the same.

Appraisement, when pre-requisite,

(4767) § 71. Before the sheriff shall deliver any part of the property to the defendant, he shall cause it to be appraised in the manner prescribed by law, when an appraisement thereof is required; and the defendant may sell or dispose of the property, paying the officer the full appraised value thereof.

Non-delivery, duty of sheriff.

(4768) § 72. In case of the non-delivery of the property according to the undertaking, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to levy upon and sell the same or any other property of the defendant as soon as practicable, at any time before the return-day of the execution.

Return of forfeiture.

(4769) § 73. Upon the forfeiture of the written undertaking, the officer shall forthwith return it, endorsed "forfeited," to the clerk's office for the use of the plaintiff.

Action on bond, damages.

(4770) § 74. Such undertaking shall be valid in law and an action had thereon whenever the condition thereof is broken; and on recovery, the value of the property, so taken with damages not exceeding ten per cent on the value, shall be assessed in favor of the plaintiff. But the recovery shall not exceed the amount due on the execution, and ten per cent on the principal.

Execution without stay, return when.

(4771) § 75. On judgment obtained on such written undertaking, execution will issue forthwith, without stay, returnable in thirty days; and the sheriff shall not return any property to the execution defendant levied on thereby except upon payment of judgment.

Notice of sale of personalty.

(4772) § 76. Previous notice of the time and place of the sale of any personal property, on execution, shall be given for ten days successively, by posting up written notices thereof in at least three of the most public places in the township where the sale is to be made.

Personalty, how sold.

(4773) § 77. Personal property shall not be sold unless the same shall be present and subject to the view of those attending the sale; and it shall be sold at public auction, in such lots and parcels as shall be calculated to bring the highest price.

Real estate liable to judgment, exception.

(4774) § 78. Real estate other than the homestead shall be liable to all judgments and attachments, and to be sold on execution against the debtor owning the same or for whose use the same is holden, viz.

Chap. 70.

First. All lands of the judgment debtor whether in possession remainder, or reversion.

Second. Land fraudulently conveyed with the intent to delay or defraud creditors.

Third. All rights of redeeming mortgaged lands; also all lands held by virtue of any land office certificate.

Fourth. Lands, or any state or interest therein, holden by any one in trust for or to the use of another.

Fifth. All chattels real of the judgment debtor.

Rents and profits first offered.

(4775) § 79. The estate or interest of the judgment-debtor in any real estate shall not be sold on execution until the rents and profits thereof, for a term not exceeding seven years, shall have been first offered for sale at public auction; but if the same shall not sell for a sum sufficient to satisfy the execution, then the estate or interest of the judgment-debtor shall be sold by virtue of the execution.

How valued.

(4776) § 80. Rents and profits may be sold as other property, the appraisers setting down the value of each year separately.

Manner of sale, lease by sheriff.

(4777) § 81. So many years, not exceeding such term of seven, shall be sole as will satisfy the execution, and no more; and the sheriff shall execute a lease to the purchaser for the term sold.

Notice of sale of realty.

(4778) § 82. The time and place of making a sale of real estate on execution shall be advertised by the sheriff for at least twenty days successively next before the day of sale, by posting up written or printed notices thereof in three public places in the township in which the real estate is situated, and a like advertisement at the door of the court house of the county and also by advertising the same for three weeks successively in a newspaper of general circulation, printed in the English language, and published in the county where the real estate is situate: Provided, That if the sheriff shall not be able to procure the publication of the notice in a newspaper of general circulation published within his county, it shall be lawful for him to dispense with the publication of the notice, and the land may be sold without such publication, and the sheriff shall in his return of the writ, state his inability to procure the publication and such return shall have the same effect in evidence as the official returns of sheriffs in other cases.

Damages against sheriff for breach of duty

(4779) § 83. A sheriff who shall sell any real estate without giving the previous notice herein directed, or shall sell the same otherwise than in the manner herein prescribed, shall forfeit and pay to the party injured not less than ten nor more than two hundred dollars, in addition to such other damages as the party may have sustained, to be recovered from the sheriff, or from him and his sureties, in an action on his official bond.

Purchase by sheriff void.

(4780) § 84. If any sheriff or his deputy making sale of property on execution shall, directly or indirectly, purchase the same, the sale shall be void.

Bidder not paying, liability.

(4781) § 85. Whenever the purchaser of any property sold on execution shall fail or refuse to pay the purchase money, he shall be liable, on motion to be made by the sheriff or the execution plaintiff or defendant, in the proper court, five days notice being given, to a judgment for the amount of the purchase money, and damages not exceeding ten per cent and interest, with costs; and no stay of execution shall be allowed upon the judgment.

Re-sale liability of first bidder.

(4782) § 86. The sheriff may re-expose and sell the property on the same or any subsequent day, according to law, and if the amount bid at the second sale shall not equal the amount bid at the first sale and the costs of the second sale, the first purchaser shall be liable for the deficiency, and damages thereon not exceeding ten per cent and interest and costs, to be recovered by a like notice and motion as provided in the last section. In case he sells on a subsequent day, he shall re-advertise as in other cases.

Excess to debtor.

(4783) § 87. When property shall be sold on execution for more than will satisfy the execution, including interest and costs, the sheriff shall pay the over-plus to the execution debtor of whom it was levied, or to his assigns, unless he be notified of the existence of liens to the payment of which it ought to be applied, and in that event he shall return the money, to be disposed of as the court shall direct.

Deed of sheriff.

(4784) § 88. Upon the sale of real estate by virtue of an execution, and the payment of the purchase money, the sheriff making the sale, or in case of his death or going out of office, his successor or any officer authorized to discharge the duties of the office, shall execute and deliver to the purchaser a deed of conveyance for the premises, which shall be valid and effectual to convey all the right, title and interest of the execution debtor therein to the purchaser, except any right of redemption as provided by law.

Deed to heirs and devisees.

(4785) § 89. In case the purchaser of any real estate upon execution having paid the purchase money therefor shall die before a deed of conveyance shall have been executed to him, the sheriff shall convey such real estate to the heirs or devisees of the deceased person.

Purchaser subrogated, when.

(4786) § 90. If upon the sale of property, real or personal, the title of the purchaser is invalid as to all or any part of such property, by reason of any defect in the proceedings or want of title, the purchaser may be subrogated to the rights of the creditor against the debtor, to the extent of the money paid and applied to the debtors benefit; and where the judgment is entered satisfied in whole or in part by reason of such sale, such purchaser upon notice to the parties to the proceedings, and upon motion, may have such satisfaction of the judgment vacated in whole or in part. Such purchaser, when the proceedings are defective, or the description of the property sold is imperfect, shall also have a lien to the same extent on the property sold as against all persons except bona fide purchasers without notice; but this section shall not be construed to require the creditor to refund the purchase-money by reason of the invalidity of any such sale.

Certificate of purchase, contents, duplicate, etc.

(4787) § 91. Whenever any real estate or interest therein shall be sold by the sheriff on execution or decretal order, he shall issue to the purchaser (or if the real estate be sold in parcels, to different purchasers, to each purchaser) a certificate of purchase. Such purchase shall show the court in which the judgment or decree was rendered, the parties thereto and date thereof the dates of the execution and sale, the name of the owner and purchaser, and price paid; and shall contain a particular description of the premises and the estate therein sold whether in fee, for life or for years; and shall state the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a conveyance of the property. The sheriff making such sale shall prepare and sign a duplicate of such certificate of purchase, and forthwith deliver it to the clerk of the district court of the county in which such real estate is situated. Such clerk shall immediately record the certificate in the "Lis Pendens Record" kept in his office. The certificate shall be assignable by the indorsement, and shall entitle the purchaser, his heirs, devisees, or assigns, to a conveyance of the estate in said real property bought by such purchaser, at the expiration of one year from the date of his purchase, unless the the same shall have been previously redeemed as hereinafter provided. Any assignment of such certificate duly acknowledged as in case of deeds, shall, together with the acknowledgment, be recorded by the clerk in the "Lis Pendens Record" at the request of the assignee, and on the payment or tender of the fees allowed therefor.

Owner entitled to possession for one year.

(4788) § 92. The owner of the real estate or interest therein, sold as aforesaid, shall be entitled to the possession of the same for one year from the date of such sale.

Manner of redemptions, lis pendens entry.

(4789) § 93. The real estate or interest therein sold as aforesaid, or any part thereof separately sold, may be redeemed at any time within one year from the date of such sale by the owner thereof, or by his executor or administrator under the direction of the court appointing him, or the judge thereof in vacation, or by his heirs or devisees, or by any one holding either the legal or equitable title, by paying to the clerk of the court in whose office such certificate of purchase is required to be recorded, for the use of the purchasers, his executors, administrators, or assigns, the amount of his purchase money, and interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum thereon from the date of his purchase; or if the premises shall have been previously redeemed by any person having a lien thereon, as hereinafter provided, then by paying to such clerk, for the use of the last redemptioner, the amount paid by him for the redemption, with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum thereon and his costs of redemption. If the real estate has been sold in separate parcels by the sheriff, such owner or other person may redeem any separate parcel or parcels sold in one body, by paying to such clerk, for the use of such purchaser, the amount paid by him for such parcel or parcels, interest, and costs thereon as aforesaid; or if the real estate has been redeemed, in whole or in part, by a liener as aforesaid; then by paying to the clerk, for the use of the last redemptioner his redemption money, with interest and costs as aforesaid. Immediately upon such redemption being made, the clerk shall make an entry in the "Lis Pendens Record," showing the date and amount of the redemption, by whom redeemed, the character in which he redeemed, as owner or otherwise, the particular parcel or parcels redeemed, and the judgment and execution, under which the sheriff's sale was made. If the execution upon which the sale was made issued from the court of a county other than that in which the real estate is situate, the clerk to whom such redemption money is paid shall make out, and deliver to the person redeeming, a certified copy of the entry aforesaid, who shall cause the same to be recorded by the clerk of the court from which such execution issued, who shall record the same in the "Lis Pendens Record" kept in his office, If any person other than the party owning the real estate at the time of the sale apply to the clerk to redeem, he shall file with the clerk an affidavit, showing the facts entitling him to redeem. If this right to redeem is based upon any record in the office of the clerk of any court in the county or of the recorder of the county in which the real estate is situate, it shall be sufficient to state in such affidavit the particular record, volume, and page where such record may be found. If such right is based upon some record kept in an office without such county, he shall file, with his affidavit, a duly certified copy of such record. The clerk shall note the date of filing such affidavit and copy, properly endorsed thereon, and preserve the same as part of the record of his office.

Undivided interest, how redeemed, lien.

(4790) § 94. Any person having an undivided interest in the property sold may redeem such property, or any parcel or parcels thereof sold in one body, as provided in the foregoing section. And if he so redeem, he shall have a lien on the several shares of the other owners for their respective shares of redemption money, with interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum thereon, and his costs of redemption; which lien shall be superior to all liens on the real estate so redeemed, junior to the lien of the judgment under which the sale was made, and may be enforced against the other part owners and junior incumbrances by appropriate legal proceedings.

Redemption by owner vacates sale, re-sale when not allowed (4791) § 95. Whenever any real estate, interest therein, or parcel thereof, sold as aforesaid, shall be redeemed by the owner or any part owner or persons claiming under them as above provided, the sale thereof by the sheriff shall be wholly vacated as to the real estate, interest therein or part thereof redeemed, and the real estate, subject to sale on execution, as if such sale had not been made, saving to a part owner redeeming his lien as aforesaid. But whenever real estate or an interest therein has been sold by the sheriff as aforesaid, no re-sale thereof shall be had upon execution or decretal order issued upon any judgment or decree, junior in lien to that upon which the sale was made, within one year from the date of such sale, unless the same shall have been previously redeemed by the owner or part owner, or some one claiming under either, as above provided.

Owner failing, judgment-creditor may redeem.

(4792) § 96. In the absence of a redemption as above provided, by any owner, part owner, or person claiming under either, the real estate sold, or any parcel or parcels thereof sold in one body, may be redeemed at any time within one year from the date of sale, by any judgment-creditor, his executors, administrators, or assigns holding a judgment or decree against the defendant whose title or interest shall have been sold, which, at the time he or they offer to redeem, shall be a lien upon such title or interest, and which shall be junior to the judgment under which the property was sold. Such redemption made by any person entitled thereto, without regard to the order of priorities of liens, and successive redemptions may be made by the several persons entitled to redeem, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Manner of redemption by judgment-creditor.

(4793) § 97. Any judgment-creditor authorized by the preceding section to redeem, who shall desire to redeem from the purchaser at such sale, shall first file with the clerk of the court in whose office the certificate of purchase is required to be recorded a statement, duly verified by his affidavit, or the affidavit of his agent or attorney, showing the court in which his judgment was rendered, the parties thereto, amount and date thereof, and amount due and unpaid thereon, and, if less than the whole, the parcel or parcels thereof which he desires to redeem and the sale from which he desires to redeem. He shall thereupon pay to such clerk, for the use of the purchaser, his executor, administrator, or assigns, the amount paid by such purchaser for the real estate or portion thereof sought to be redeemed, as shown by the record of the certificate of purchase in the "Lis Pendens Record" in the office of said clerk, and interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum thereon from the date of his purchase. Upon the receipt of the redemption money and interest, the clerk shall make out and sign a certificate showing the date and amount of the redemption, the land or part thereof redeemed, the judgment in right of which the redemption was made, and the execution under which the sale was made; and, after recording such statement, affidavit, and certificate "Lis Pendens Record" shall deliver such certificate to the redemptioner When such redemption has been made, any other judgment-creditor, entitled and wishing to redeem, may do so by filing with said clerk a statement and affidavit similar to those above provided for and containing, in addition, the name of the preceding redemptioner from whom he wishes to redeem, and the particular parcels he wishes to redeem. He shall thereupon pay to such clerk, for the use of the last preceding redemptioner, if the lien of the latter be junior to that of the party now redeeming, his redemption money and interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum thereon and costs of redemption; and if his lien be senior to that of the party seeking to redeem, he shall pay to the clerk, for the use of the aforesaid, the judgment of the last redemptioner on account of which his redemption was made and interest thereon and his costs of suit in addition to the amounts aforesaid; and thereupon such clerk shall issue to him a certificate similar to the one above provided for, and record the statement, affidavit, and certificate in the "Lis Pendens Record" aforesaid. Supsequent redemptions may be made by other judgment-creditors entitled to redeem, substantially in the manner and upon the terms above provided; and when the redemption of any parcel is made from a prior redemption, the amount to be paid by the redemptioner shall be in the same proportion as provided in section 4790. When any person claims the right as the executor, administrator, or assignee of a judgment-plaintiff, to redeem, he shall file a verified statement of the facts, showing his right to redeem; and if his right to redeem is based upon records other than those in the office of the clerk where such redemption is made, he shall file certified copies of such records with his statement; all of which shall be properly endorsed and filed by the clerk.

Venditioni exponas by last redemption.

(4794) § 98. If, during the year hereinbefore allowed for redemption, the real estate, or interest therein, sold by the sheriff, or any parcel or parcels thereof sold separately, shall be redeemed by any owner or part owner or by any person claiming under them, at the expiration of such year, the last redemptioner shall be immediately thereafter entitled to sue out an execution in the nature of a venditioni exponas upon his judgment, by virtue of which he made his redemption. Such execution shall recite the judgment upon which the original sale was made, naming the court wherein rendered, the parties thereto, the date and amount thereof the dates of the execution and sale, and name of the owner, the price paid by the purchaser or purchasers for the real estate, if sold in one body, or for each parcel thereof, if sold in parcels, or interest therein redeemed by said redemptioner, the amount paid by such redemptioner in redemption thereof, date of payment, and costs of redemption, and the judgment of said redemptioner, under which his redemption was made and amount due threon; which execution shall issue to the sheriff of the county in which such real estate is situate, commanding him to sell the real estate, interest therein, or parcels thereof, redeemed by said redemptioner, to the highest bidder; and after paying the costs of such sale, and paying to such redemptioner his redemption money and interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum, and his cost of redemption, and the amount of principal, interest and costs due on his judgment, pay the residue into the office of the clerk issuing such execution. Such real estate shall be sold upon like notice as in other cases, but without offering the rents and profits, and without regard to appraisement laws, and if redeemed in parcels shall be offered in like parcels, and the redemptioner suing out such execution shall be deemed the bidder for the amount paid by him in redemption thereof, and interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum, his costs of redemption and the costs of sale, and if no one bid more, he shall be deemed the purchaser for that amount, and the sheriff shall immediately upon the perfecting of such sale, execute to the purchaser a conveyance of the premises, which shall convey to the purchaser all the title and interest of the owner sold under the original execution. If such sale should fail to satisfy the execution in full, the residue may be levied and collected of any other property of the defendant thereto, as in other cases. If the execution upon the judgment of the last redemptioner be stayed at the expiration of the year aforesaid, or there be installments on his judgment or decree, not then due, he shall, nevertheless, be entitled to execution as aforesaid, for the amount due him on account of his redemption, which shall be without prejudice to his right to sue out further final process on his judgment or decree, and any surplus remaining, after satisfying the costs of sale and amount due him on account of redemption, shall be paid to the clerk for distribution, as hereinafter provided. Such sale shall discharge the lien of the judgment on which the original sale was made, and the liens of all intervening judgments and decrees; and if any surplus remain after satisfying the execution upon the last sale, it shall be distributed by the court from whence said execution issued, among the judgment creditors whose liens are junior to that under which the original sale was made, according to their original priorities and equities. If the judgment on which such execution issues shall have been rendered in a court other than that in the clerk's office of which the statement, affidavit, and certificate of such last redemptioner are required to be filed, he shall before the issuing of such execution, procure duly certified copies of such statement, affidavit and certificate, and cause them to be filed and recorded in the "Lis Pendens Record," kept in the office of the clerk issuing the execution and said writ shall contain the recitals and mandate hereinbefore required.

Chap. 70.

Manner of redemption by lien holder whose lien is recorded

(4795) § 99. Any person having a lien, otherwise than by judgment upon the real estate, or any parcel or parcels thereof sold in one body, may, at any time within one year from said sale, and after he shall have had his lien duly recorded where, by law, the recording thereof is provided for, redeem the same from the purchaser at said sale, or from any prior redemptioner, and redemption thereof may be made from him upon the same terms and conditions as hereinbefore required in cases of redemption by judgment-creditors, and if, at the expiration of one year from the sale on execution, no one shall have redeemed from him, and his lien remains unforeclosed, he shall retain a lien on the real estate so redeemed by him, as of the date of the judgment on which said sale was made, and may enforce the same in the suit to foreclose or enforce his lien, or by an independent action; and any sale of said real estate, in pursuance thereof, shall be absolute, and the purchaser immediately entitled to a conveyance, having the same effect as if in his lien, at the time he redeemed, had been in judgmnet.

All redemption entries to be indexed by clerk

(4796) § 100. All entries in relation to the sale and redemption of real estate, as provided in this act, in the "Lis Pendens Record," shall be indexed therein by the clerk in the names of the judgment plaintiffs upon whose execution the real estate was sold against the defendant owing the same and also in the name of said defendant at the suit of said plaintiffs.

Pay of sheriff and other officers.

(4797) § 101. The officers performing the services herein required shall charge and receive the like compensation as for similar services in other cases; but the sheriff, or other officer making the second or subsequent sale shall be entitled to a commission, only on the excess of the redemption money.

Purchaser may recover for waste and injury.

(4798) § 102. The person receiving a conveyance from the sheriff pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be entitled to recover for any waste or injury to the premises conveyed, committed after the original sale on execution.

Act not applicable to former sales.

(4799) § 103. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any sale or execution or decretal order made before the taking effect of this act; but all liens and rights of redemption and resale, existing at the passage of this act and growing out of any such sale, may be enforced in like manner as if this act had not been passed, and in accordance with the statute in force when such sale was made. But all sales made after the passage of this act, and all redemptions therefrom, shall be governed by the provisions of this act.

Receipt of sheriff.

(4800) § 104. The sheriff receiving an execution shall endorse thereon the year, month, day and hour when he received it.

Property of principal to be first exhausted.

(4801) § 105. If it appear from the face of the execution, or by the indorsement of the clerk, that of those against whom it issued any one is surety for another, the property of the principal shall be first sold, unless the surety shall direct otherwise.

Return by mail, money excepted.

(4802) § 106. When any execution shall be issued to any county other than the one in which the judgment is rendered. return may be made by mail, but money cannot be thus sent, except by the direction of the party entitled thereto or his attorney.

Sheriff to pay at once.

(4803) § 107. When the sheriff has collected any money on execution, he shall pay over the same at the earliest opportunity, unless enjoined.

Neglect to levy, liability of sheriff.

(4804) § 108. If any sheriff shall neglect or refuse to levy upon or sell any property justly liable to execution when the same might have been done, he shall be amerced to the value of such property, not to exceed the amount necessary to satisfy the execution.

Neglect to return, liability of sheriff.

(4805) § 109. If any sheriff shall neglect or refuse to return an execution as required by law, or shall make a false return thereon, he shall be amerced in such amount as he might and should have levied by virtue of the execution.

Neglect to pay over, liability of sheriff.

(4806) § 110. If any sheriff shall neglect or refuse, on demand, to pay over any money collected on execution to the execution-creditor, his agent or attorney, or to the execution-debtor, when he is entitled thereto, he shall be amerced to the amount thus withheld.

Further liability of sheriff.

(4807) § 111. In all cases specified in the last three sections, the plaintiff shall, in addition to the amercement, recover of the officer legal interest and damages, not exceeding ten per cent on the principal sum recovered.

Proceedings against delinquent sheriff.

(4808) § 112. Such recovery may be had by motion against the officer, in the proper court, ten days notice thereof being given, or by action on the bond of the sheriff. The proceedings in this section contemplated may be commenced immediately upon the default of the sheriff, either before or after the return day of the execution.

Return of execution.

(4809) § 113. Every execution shall be returned forthwith, upon being satisfied by the collection of the money; also, upon order of the plaintiff or his agent indorsed thereon. When the return day of an execution falls on Sunday, it shall be returned on the following Monday.

When sheriff shall give refunding bond.

(4810) § 114. When the sheriff has sold the property of a non-resident or other person upon an execution issued on a judgment recovered against him in a case where publication is provided for, and no personal notice of the pendency of the action was given to such defendant, the plaintiff shall not be entitled to receive any of the proceeds of such sale until he has filed in the clerks office a written undertaking, with surety to be approved by the clerk, to the effect that he will refund the money about to be received by him, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, if the judgment shall afterward be annulled or set aside, and the defendant shall show that the plaintiff's claim is unfounded in whole or in part. But surety to refund shall not be required in cases of attachment.

Effect of death of defendant

(4811) § 115. The death of a defendant, after the execution is placed in the hands of the sheriff to be executed, shall not effect his proceedings thereon, except that the amount of property allowed absolutely to the widow of the decedent shall be exempt from levy and sale under such execution.

Against the body.

(4812) § 116. No execution shall be issued pon any judgment against the body of any execution-debtor, except as hereinafter provided.

Writ served by arrest and commitment

(4813) § 117. Before any such execution shall issue, the plaintiff shall file with the clerk an affidavit, charging the debtor with fraudulently concealing, removing, conveying, or transferring his property subject to execution, with intent to defraud and delay the plaintiff, or charging that the debtor has money, rights, credits, or effects, with which the judgment, or some part thereof, might be paid, and which he fraudulently withholds or conceals with a view to delay or defraud the creditor.

Finding must designate the property.

(4814) § 118. The affidavit need not designate specifically any property, moneys, or effects, fraudulently removed, transferred, concealed, conveyed, or withheld, by the debtor; but the jury or court, in determining the matters in issue between the parties, if the finding be for the creditor, shall designate, in the finding, the moneys, effects, property, debts, or things in action, subject to execution, which have been removed, concealed, transferred, conveyed, or withheld, and the value thereof.

Notice to debtor.

(4815) § 119. Upon the filing of the affidavit, the clerk shall issue a notice, requiring the debtor to appear at the next term of the court, and show cause why such execution should not appear against him.

Hearing, when had.

(4816) § 120. After ten days notice, or after the return of two notices of "not found," the court shall hear and determine the matters and things contained in the affidavit.

Hearing in absence of debtor.

(4817) § 121. If the debtor shall fail to appear and show cause, the court may hear and determine the same in the absence of the debtor; or a jury for that purpose may be empanelled, if desired by the creditor.

Issue on trial.

(4818) § 122. If the debtor appear and plead to the affidavit and sufficient matter to bar the issuing of the execution, and issue be taken thereon, the same may be tried by the court or a jury, as in other cases.

Issue against debtor, execution.

(4819) § 123. If the issue be determined against the debtor, the court, unless good cause be shown, shall forthwith order an execution against his body, subject to the rules and restrictions of the next two sections.

If property surrendered, no execution

(4820) § 124. If the debtor shall surrender such moneys, effects, property, debts, or things in action, to the use and for the benefit of the creditor, or pay the value thereof, as found by the court, or jury no execution shall for that cause be issued against his body.

On failure to surrender, execution issues

(4821) § 125. If the debtor fail to surrender or pay as provided in the preceding section upon the return of such finding an execution shall forthwith issue against his body upon the judgment.

Writ served by arrest and commitment.

(4822) § 126. The execution against the body shall be served by arresting the defedant, and unless discharged by due course of law committing him to the common jail of the county.

Affidavit for arrest pending proceedings.

(4823) § 127. If the creditor show in his affidavit that the debtor has not been held to special bail in the original action, or, having thus been held, has been surrendered by the bail, and that he has reason to fear, and does fear, that such debtor will leave the Territory, before the trial and determination of the matters alleged in the affidavit, an order of arrest and bail shall issue against the debtor, and be served in return, as in other cases.

Recognizance.

(4824) § 128. The debtor, when arrested on an order of arrest, may enter into recognizance, with sufficient surety, for his appearance at the trial of such proceedings, and for the surrender of his body if an execution be awarded.

Its form, effect, and return.

(4825) § 129. The sheriff may take the recognizance in the form and by the rules provided in other cases for order of arrest and bail, either before or after the debtor is committed to prison, and shall return the same to the proper court. The recognizance shall have the same force as in other cases, and all subsequent proceedings may be had thereon by the parties and persons interested, as are provided in cases of arrest and bail.

Debtor, how discharged.

(4826) § 130. Any person arrested or imprisoned on execution may discharge himself from custody by delivering to the sheriff a sufficiency of property, either real or personal, to discharge the debt or damages due on the execution, together with the interest and costs thereon, or by delivering to the sheriff all the property both real and personal, which he may have, not included in the finding of the court or jury, subject to execution, if any, together with the property, credits, and effects included in the finding of the court or jury, and all choses in action, if any, exceeding, with other property retained, the amount exempt by law from execution. He shall also make oath that he has no more or other property either real or personal, subject to execution, and that he has no moneys, rights, credits, or effects in his possession, or under his control, or in the possession, or under the control of any other person for his use, exceeding, with other property retained, the amount exempt from execution, and that he has neither directly nor indirectly, disposed of, transferred, or concealed any of his property, rights, credits, moneys, or effects nor confessed or suffered any judgment with intent to delay or defraud any of his creditors.

Oath, how taken.

(4827) § 131. For the purpose of enabling the defendant to take the oath, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, upon the prisoner's request, to take him before some person authorized to administer an oath, who shall reduce the oath to writing, explain it to the prisoner, and cause him to be sworn to and subscribe it, and, having certified the oath, deliver to the sheriff, who shall make it a part of his return, by appending it to the execution.

Time and place of oath, notice to creditor.

(4828) § 132. The execution-creditor shall be notified of the time and place at which the oath will be taken. The notice shall be served upon the creditor, or his agent or attorney, by the sheriff, if the creditor, his agent or attorney reside in the county, and if neither party reside in the county, the sheriff snall post up the notice in the clerk's office five days.

Creditor may examine prisoner.

(4829) § 133. When the oath is administered, the execution-creditor, his agent or attorney, may propound to the prisoner any relevant questions tourching his property, moneys, rights, credits and effects, and the person administering the oath shall reduce the questions and answers to writing, and forthwith file the same with the clerk.

Discharge.

(4830) § 134. When the prisoner has strictly complied with the foregoing provisions he shall be discharged.

Disposition of property

(4831) § 135. Any property given up by the person under arrest shall be disposed of by the sheriff in the same manner as property taken on execution against property.

Return of sheriff.

(4832) § 136. The sheriff shall make return of all his doings therein, the discharge of the debtor, and the sale of the property, according to the facts to the court.

Effect of death of prisoner.

(4833) § 137. The arrest of any person who may die while in custody shall not discharge the judgment of any lien upon the property, but the same may be enforced by any legal proceedings.

Proceedings upon escape

(4834) § 138. Any person escaping from custody may be returned by the same or a new execution against his body, or his property may be proceeded against in the same manner as if his body had never been taken in execution.

Judgment-debtor, when required to answer.

(4835) § 139. When an execution against the property of the judgment-debtor or any of the several debtors in the same judgment, issued to the sheriff of the county where he resides (or if he does not reside in the Territory, to the sheriff of the county where the judgment is rendered,) is returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the judgment-creditor; after such return is made, shall be entitled to an order, to be issued by any court of record in the county to which such execution issued, or by the clerk thereof in vacation, requiring the judgment-debtor to appear forthwith before the court if in session (if the court is not in session, then before the judge thereof, at a time and place to be spcified therein, or on the first day of the next term of the court,) to answer concerning his property within the county to which the execution was issued, and a transcript of a judgment from a justice of the peace filed and docketed in the district court shall, for the purposes of this act, have all the effects of a judgment rendered originally in said court.

Judgment-debtor, when required to apply property

(4836) § 140. If, after the issue of an execution against property, the execution-plaintiff, or any other person in his behalf, shall make and file an affidavit with the clerk of any court of record of any county, to the effect that any judgment-debtor, residing in such county, has property (describing it) which he unjustly refuses to apply toward the satisfaction of the judgment; the court, if in session, or the judge or clerk thereof in vacation, shall issue an order requiring the judgment-debtor to appear forthwith before the court, if in session, (if not, at the next term of the court, or before the judge thereof, at a time and place to be specified therein), to answer concerning the same, and such proceedings may thereafter be had for the application of the property of the judgment-debtor toward the satisfaction of the judgment, as provided upon the return of an execution.

Order of arrest and bail, when had.

(4837) § 141. When the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, shall, at the time of applying for the order, or at any time afterward, make and file his affidavit with the court, or the clerk thereof in vacation, that there is danger of a debtor leaving the Territory or concealing himself, and that there is reason to believe he has property, rights, credits, moneys, or effects which he unjustly refuses to apply to the judgment, with intent to defraud the creditor, the court shall issue to the sheriff of the county an order of arrest and bail.

Bonds when required.

(4838) § 142. The sheriff, having taken the execution-debtor into custody upon the order of arrest, shall require him to enter into a written undertaking to the plaintiff, with surety to be approved by the officer, that he will attend before the court, or judge thereof, as required, and abide such order as shall be made, and that he will not, in the meantime, dispose of any part of his property not exempt from execution. In default thereof, he shall be committed to prison, and, upon breach of such undertaking, the plaintiff shall have his remedy thereon to the amount of the value of the property unlawfully withheld or disposed of.

Other persons required to answer, after issue and return.

(4839) § 143. After issuing or return of execution against the property of the judgment-debtor or any one of several debtors in the same judgment, and upon affidavit; that any person or corporation has property of such judgment-debtor, or is indebted to him in any amount, which, together with other property claimed by him as exempt from execution, shall exceed the amount of property so exempted by law, such person, corporation, or any member thereof, may be required to appear and answer concerning the same, as above provided,

Witnesses and examination.

(4840) § 144. Witnesses may be required to appear and testify in the proceeding provided for in this act; and either party may examine the other as a witness in the same manner as upon the trial of an issue, or the plaintiff may waive the answer of the debtor, and rely upon other testimony. All such examinations and answers shall be on the oath of the party, except that when a corporation answers, the answer shall be on the oath of an officer thereof.

Orders of court as to property.

(4841) § 145. Upon the hearing, the judge of the court may order any property of the judgment-debtor, not exempt from exemption, in the hands of himself or any other person, or any debt due to the judgment-debtor, to be applied to the satisfaction of the judgment, and forbid transfers in choses in action, and such judge or court shall have full power to enforce all orders and decrees in the premises, by attachment or otherwise.

Costs, proceedings, summary

(4842) § 146. Costs shall be awarded and taxed in this proceeding as in other cases; and all proceedings under this act, after the order has been made requiring parties to appear and answer, shall be summary, without further pleadings, upon the oral examination and testimony of parties and witnesses. But the sufficiency of the order and of the affidavit first filed by the plaintiff may be tested by demurrer or motion to dismiss or strike out the same.

(4847) § 5. Before proceeding to hear any testimony such arbitrator or arbitrators shall be sworn faithfully and fairly to hear and examine the matters in controversy, and to make a just reward according to the best of his or their understanding.

Oath of arbitrators.

(4848) § 6. Such oaths, and oaths to witnesses, may be administered by any person authorized to administer oaths.

Who to administer oaths.

(4849) § 7. Witnesses may be required to attend before arbitrators on behalf of either party, by subpœnas issued by any justice of the peace, in the same manner and subject to the same process and penalties for disobedience, to be enforced by such parties as in trials before justices of the peace.

Witnesses.

(4850) § 8. As soon as the arbitrator or arbitrators are ready to proceed to business the parties may exhibit their proofs. All the arbitrators must meet together and hear the allegations of the parties, but the award of a majority is valid unless otherwise required by the submission.

Hearing, award of majority valid.

(4851) § 9. The award shall be in writing, and signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators who agree thereto, and shall be attested by a subscribing witness.

Award must be in writing, signed and attested.

(4852) § 10. The fees of the justice issuing process and of the witness in such case shall be the same as allowed before justices of the peace and shall be ascertained and estimated by the arbitrators, and returned with the award, including therein their own fees as allowed by law.

Fees to be returned with award.

(4853) § 11. A true copy of the award, and of the costs aforesaid shall be delivered to each of the parties, or left at his last usual place of residence, by any one of the arbitrators within fifteen days after the signing of such award.

Copies to be given to parties.

(4854) § 12. If either of the parties shall fail or refuse to comply with such award the other party may file the same, together with the agreement of submission in the court named in such submission.

Filing in court.

(4855) § 13. Upon such submission being proved by a subscribing witness thereto, or in case of his death, insanity or absence out of the Territory, then by proof thereof, as in other cases of a written instrument, and upon the award also being proved in like manner, or by the arbitrators of any of them, and upon proof that a copy of the award has been duly served on the party against whom the rule is asked, the court shall cause such submission and award to be entered of record, and shall grant a rule thereon against the adverse party, to show cause at that or the succeeding term of the court why judgment shall not be entered by such court upon the said award.

Entry of award, rule to show cause.

(4856) § 14. Upon the return of the rule, the court shall confirm the award and render judgment thereon, unless the award be vacated or modified, or postponed, as herein provided, which judgment shall have the same force and effect as judgments in other causes.

Judgment on award.

Chap. 70.

Hearing, when had on rule to show cause.

(4857) § 15. If the rule has been served ten days or more on the adverse party before the time set for showing cause against the award, the court may proceed to examine and determine the same in his absence, or, if he appear, they shall proceed to hear and determine the grounds alleged against such award, if there be any.

What causes may be shown.

(4858) § 16. In all cases where an award or umpirage shall be presented to any court of record for a judgment to be entered thereon, whether the reference shall have been made by submission of parties aforesaid or by rule of court, the adverse party may show, for cause against the rendition of such judgment, any of the following gronnds:

First. Such award or umpirage was obtained by fraud, corruption, partiality or other undue means, or that there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators or any of them.

Second. That the arbitrator or arbitrators was or were guilty of misconduct in refusing to postpone a hearing upon sufficient cause shown, or in refusing to hear evidence material and pertinent to the controversy, or any other misbehavior by which the rights of any party shall have been predjudiced.

Third. That the arbitrator or arbitrators exceeded his or their powers, or that he or they so imperfectly executed them that a mutual, final, and definite award on the subject matter submitted was not made.

When party may move to correct award.

(4859) § 17. Any party to such submission may move the court to modify or correct such award or umpirage, in the following cases:

First. When there is an evident miscalculation of figures, or an evident mistake in the description of any person, thing, or property referred to or mentioned in such award or umpirage

Second. When the arbitrator or arbitrators shall have awarded upon some matter not submitted and not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matters which were submitted.

Third. When the award or umpirage shall be imperfect in some matter or form not affecting the controversy, and while, if it had been a verdict, such defect could have been properly amended or disregarded by the court.

Proceedings on motion

(4860) § 18. The court shall hear the proofs and allegation of of the parties, to invalidate and sustain such award and umpirage, and shall decide thereon, either confirming such award or umpirage, or may modify and correct the same in the cases prescribed in the last preceding section so as to effect the intent thereof and to promote justice between the parties, and shall render judgment upon such original or corrected award or umpirage; or the court may vacate such award or umpirage for any of the causes hereinafter specified, at the cost of the parties seeking to enforce such award or umpirage.

Kinds of judgment.

(4861) § 19. If such award or umpirage be confirmed, judgment may be given in favor of any party to whom any sum of money or damages shall have been awarded that he may recover the same, and if the award or umpirage shall have ordered any act to be done by either party, judgment may be entered that such act be done according to such award or umpirage.

Costs, how taxed.

(4862) § 20. The costs of the proceedings in court shall be taxed as costs in suits, and if no provision for the fees and expenses of the arbitration shall have been made in the award or umpirage the court shall make the allowance therefor. But if there was a suit pending previous to such admission, the costs of which were not noticed by the arbitrators or umpire the court shall not allow or tax any of the costs thereof prior to such submission.

Judgment to do an act, how enforced.

(4863) § 21. When by any judgment of the court on award or umpirage, any party shall be required to perform an act other than the payment of money, the court shall have power to enforce the same by attachment, until the term of such judgment shall be complied with.

Reference of suit in open court

(4864) § 22. If the subject matter of any suit pending in any court might originally have been submitted to arbitration, the parties to such suit, their agent or attorney-at-law may consent, by rule of the court, to refer the matter in controversy to certain persons mutually chosen by them in open court.

Referees, when sworn, report.

(4865) § 23. Such referees, if required by the parties, shall be sworn in open court, or before any officer authorized to adminster oaths, faithfully and impartially to investigate, adjust and report the matters thus submitted, and shall proceed to the investigation of such matters according to the submission of the parties, and report to the court at such time as shall be agreed by the parties in such rule of reference.

Report and effect thereof.

(4866) § 24. When such report shall be returned under the hands of the referees, or a majority of them, it shall be entered on the order-book, and shall be of the same effect, and be deemed and taken to be as available in law as the verdict of a jury.

Judgment on report.

(4867) § 25. Either party may move the court for judgment on such report; and if no sufficient cause be shown to the contrary, judgment shall be rendered thereon in like manner and with like force and effect as if rendered upon verdict of a jury.

Pay of arbitrators and referees.

(4868) § 26. Such arbitrators and referees shall be allowed one dollar per day each for every day they are necessarily employed as such arbitrators.

Arrest, conditions and manner

(4869) § 1. A defendant in a civil action can be arrested and held to bail only upon the conditions and in the manner prescribed in this act.

Order of arrest, affidavit.

(4870) § 2. An order for the arrest of the defendant shall be made by the court, in term time in which the action is brought, or by the clerk thereof, in vacation, at the commencement of the action or at any time before judgment when there is filed in the office of such clerk an affidavit of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, specifying the plaintiff's right to recover an existing debt or damages from the defendant, and stating that he believes the defendant is about to leave the Territory, taking with him the property subject to execution, or money, or effects which should be applied to the payment of plaintiff's debt or damages with intent to defraud the plaintiff.

Plaintiff's undertaking.

(4871) § 3. The order of arrest shall not be issued until there has been executed and filed in the office of the clerk of such court, by one or more sufficient sureties of the plaintiff, to be approved by the clerk of the court making the order, a written undertaking to the effect that the plaintiff shall pay to the defendant all damages which he may sustain by reason of the arrest, if the order is wrongfully obtained, not exceeding double the amount of the plaintiff's claim stated in the affidavit.

Sheriff to execute order, contents

(4872) § 4. The order of arrest shall be addressed and delivered to the sheriff. It shall state the names of the parties to the action, in the court in which the action is brought, and the amount of the plaintiff's claim specified in the affidavit and shall require the sheriff to arrest the defendant, and hold him to bail in the sum of the plaintiff's claim, with the costs of the action, and to make return of the order on a day to be named therein with the recognizance, if any is taken.

Arrest.

(4873) § 5. The sheriff shall execute the order, by arresting the defendant, and keeping him in custody until discharged by law.

Recognizance of special bail.

(4874) § 6. When an order of arrest and bail is executed, the sheriff shall take recognizance of special bail of some responsible person, resident of this Territory, in substance that the surety acknowledges himself special bail for the defendant in the action; and which shall have the force and effect of recognizance of special bail, and be obligatory as such.

Return.

(4875) § 7. It shall be the duty of the sheriff to return the order of arrest to the office whence it issued, immediately upon taking and approving of the recognizance of special bail, when bail is taken and in all other cases, on the return day, and in all cases the officer shall indorse his doings thereon.

Effect of recognizance

(4876) § 8. Any such recognizance of special bail shall only amount to an undertaking that the defendant will surrender his body, or the money. property, and effects, or the value thereof, held or owned by him at the time of filing such affidavit, and in default of such surrender, the surety to such recognizance shall only be liable for the amount of the property, moneys, and effects which the plaintiff may show the defendant to have held or owned at the time of the filing such affidavit exceeding the amount exempt from execution.

Habeas corpus.

(4877) § 9. When any person shall be committed to prison on an order of arrest for want of special bail, he may sue out a writ of habeas corpus in any court, or before any judge of competent jurisdiction, and on the return thereof the plaintiff shall be compelled to show that the facts alleged in the affidavit, on which the defendant is held to bail are true, and on failure to do so, the defendant shall be discharged.

Length of detention.

(4878) § 10. When any person is committed for want of bail, he shall be he held in prison (unless he is bailed or otherwise legally discharged) until final judgment in the action in which he is arrested, and if the judgment be against him he shall be held for such time thereafter as the court shall direct, not exceeding ten days.

Plaintiff may object to insufficient bail

(4879) § 11. If the plaintiff deem the bail insufficient, he may at the term to which the writ was returnable, or at any term thereafter before final judgment, object to the sufficiency of the bail by giving three days notice of the objection to the sheriff.

Hearing, proceeding, liability of sheriff.

(4880) § 12. At the time specified in such notice, the court shall proceed to hear and determine as to the sufficiency of the bail, if adjudged insufficient, another bail approved by the court, is not given, the bail shall not be thereby discharged, but may be proceeded against by the plaintiff, and if he cannot recover the amount for which such bail may have become liable, the sheriff shall be liable upon his official bond for the same or so much as may remain unsatisfied, and for the costs of the action against the bail.

Sheriff, when not liable.

(4881) § 13. The sheriff shall not be liable to the plaintiff on account of the insufficiency of the bail, if it shall appear that he acted with due care in accepting the same.

Who may make affidavit.

(4882) § 14. Affidavits of the plaintiff's right to the debt or damages which he claims may be made by any person residing in this or any other territory, state or country, and additional affidavits may be made by other persons, stating the further grounds necessary to obtain an order for arrest and bail, and upon filing such affidavits duly authenticated, an order for the arrest and bail may be entered as in other cases.

Bail, when exonerated.

(4883) § 15. The bail may be exonerated either by the death of the defendant, or his imprisonment in the state prison, or by his legal discharge from the obligation to render him amendable to the process, or by his surrender to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested in execution thereof, at any time before final adjournment against the bail of his recognizance.

Arrest of principal by bail

(4884) § 16. The bail may at any time take a certified copy of the order of arrest and recognizance, by virtue of which he may take his principal and deliver him into the custody of the proper officer. Such copy shall be given and certified by the clerk.

Surrender in open court.

(4885) § 17. If the court to which the order of arrest is returnable be in session at the time of the surrender, the same may be made in open court, and the court shall cause the discharge of the bail from all further liability, to be entered of record.

Surrender in vacation to sheriff or jailor.

(4886) § 18. If the court be not in session, the surrender may be made to the sheriff or keeper of the jail of the proper county, who shall receive the prisoner and hold him in custody in like manner as if he had been committed by virtue of the order of arrest on which he was held to bail.

Copy of order must accompany surrender.

(4887) § 19. But the sheriff shall not be bound to receive any person so surrendered unless the bail shall deliver to him a copy of the order of arrest and recognizance, certified by the officer who issued the original order of arrest.

Indorsement of surrender, effect.

(4888) § 20. The sheriff or keeper of the jail shall acknowledge the reception of the principal, by an indorsement on the certified copy of the order of arrest, and, the surrender shall acquit the bail from all further liability as special bail.

New bond.

(4889) § 21. Every defendant surrendered by his bail may be bailed as if arrested by the original order of arrest.

Notice of surrender after judgment.

(4890) § 22. When the surrender of the principal is made after final judgment against him the bail shall within ten days after cause notice of the time and place thereof to be given to the plaintiff or his attorney, if either reside in the Territory, which notice shall be served by the sheriff, who shall deliver a certified copy of the notice to the keeper of the jail, on or before the expiration of ten days from the time of the surrender, but if neither the plaintiff nor his attorney reside in the Territory, the notice shall be posted up ten days in the clerk's office of the county, and a copy of the notice, certified by the clerk, shall be forthwith thereafter delivered to the keeper of the jail.

Disposition of surrendered defendant, after judgment

(4891) § 23. When the surrender is made after the judgment, the prisoner shall be detained in custody, but if the plaintiff shall not proceed to charge him in execution within five days after the notice, the defendant shall be discharged from custody without any order for that purpose.

Failure to notify, liability of bail

(4892) § 24. If any bail shall fail to give the required notice to the plaintiff or his attorney, and the principal shall be discharged, no proceedings being commenced to discharge him in execution, the bail shall remain liable on his own recognizance.

Suit on recognizance, limitation.

(4893) § 25. Whenever the right of action has accrued against any special bail, the creditor may at any time within two years after final judgment against the principal and not afterward, maintain an action on the recognizance in his own name.

Causes

(4894) § 1. The plaintiff at the time of filing his complaint, or at any time afterward, may have an attachment against the property of the defendant in the cases and in the manner hereinafter stated, where the action is for the recovery of money:

First. Where the defendant, or one of several defendants, is a foreign corporation or a non-resident of this Territory.

Second. Where the defendant, or one of several defendants. is secretly leaving or has left the Territory, with intent to defraud his creditors.

Third. So conceals himself that a summons cannot be served upon him.

Fourth. Is removing or about to remove his property subject to execution, or a material part thereof, out of this Territory, not leaving enough therein to satisfy his creditors or if the debt is due for property obtained under false pretense or if the indebtedness was fraudulently incurred.

Fifth. Has sold, conveyed, or otherwise disposed of his property subject to execution, or suffered or permitted it to be sold, with the fraudulent intent to cheat, hinder, or delay his creditors.

Sixth. Is about to sell, convey, or otherwise dispose of his property subject to execution, with such intent:

Provided, That the plaintiff shall be entitled to an attachment for the causes mentioned in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth specifications of this section, whether his cause of action be due or not.

Chap. 70.

Concealing absence, effect.

(4895) § 2. If the wife or family of the debtor shall refuse or be unable to give account of his absence, or the place where he may be found, or shall give a false account of either, such refusal, inability or false account shall be deemed an attempt to conceal his absence, within the provisions of this act.

Affidavit.

(4896) § 3. The plaintiff, or some person in his behalf, shall make an affidavit showing:

First. The nature of the plaintiff's claim.

Second. That it is just.

Third. The amount which he believes the plaintiff ought to recover.

Fourth. That there exists in the action some one of the grounds for an attachment above enumerated.

Bond.

(4897) § 4. The plaintiff or some one in his behalf shall execute a written undertaking with sufficient surety to be approved by the clerk payable to the defendant, to the effect that the plaintiff will duly prosecute his proceeding in attachment, and will pay all damages which he may be sustained by the defendant, if the proceedings of the plaintiff shall be wrongful and oppressive.

Order.

(4898) § 5. Upon the filing of such affidavit and written undertaking in the office of the clerk, he shall issue an order of attachment, which shall be directed and delivered to the sheriff. It shall require him to seize and take into his possession the property of the defendant in his county not exempt from execution.

Order to different counties; judgment, when had.

(4899) § 6. Orders of attachment may be issued to the sheriff of any county, and several of them may at the option of the plaintiff, be issued at the same time or in succession, but the costs only of such as have been executed in whole or in part shall be recovered against the defendant, unless otherwise directed by the court. The plaintiff shall not have judgment in any such action except in some of the following cases, viz:

First. When the defendant shall have been personally served with process.

Second. When the property of the defendant shall have been attached in the county where the action was brought.

Third. When a garnishee shall have been summoned in the county where the action is brought, who shall be found to be indebted to the defendant, or to have property or assets in his hands subject to an attachment.

When may issue on Sunday.

(4900) § 7. An order of attachment may be issued on Sunday, if the plaintiff will show in his affidavit that the defendant is about to abscond on that day to the injury of the plaintiff.

Inventory and appraisement, return.

(4901) § 8. The sheriff shall proceed, with the assistance of a disinterested and creditable house-holder of the county, to attach the lands and tenements, goods and chattles of the defendant subject to execution, and shall, with the assistance of the house-holder, make an inventory and appraisement thereof, and return the same with the order.

Lien of.

(4902) § 9. An order of attachment binds the defendant's property in the county subject to execution, and becomes a lien thereon from the time of its delivery to the sheriff in the same manner as an execution.

Personalty attached before realty.

(4903) § 10. The defendant's personal property shall be first taken under an attachment, if enough thereof is not found to satisfy the plaintiff's claim and costs of the action, then his real estate. If, after an order of attachment is placed in the hands of the sheriff, and property of the defendant is removed from the county, the sheriff may pursue and attach the same in any county, within three days after the removal.

Delivery bond.

(4904) § 11. The defendant, or other person having possession of property attached, may have the same or any part thereof delivered to him, by executing and delivering to the sheriff a written undertaking, with surety to be approved by the sheriff, payable to the plaintiff, to the effect that such property shall be properly kept and taken care of, and shall be delivered to the sheriff on demand, or so much thereof as may be required to be sold on execution to satisfy any judgment which may be recovered against him in the action, or that he will pay the appraised value of the property, not exceeding the amount of the judgment and costs.

Right of property, how tried.

(4905) § 12. Whenever any person other than the defendant shall claim any property attached, the right of property may be tried as in cases of property taken on execution, and the claimant, having notice of the attachment, shall be bound to prosecute his claim as in such cases, or be barred of his right.

Examination on oath.

(4906) § 13. The defendant or claimant of any attached property may be required by the court to attend before it and give information on oath, respecting the property.

Lien of consignee.

(4907) § 14. Goods attached in the hands of the consignee shall be subject to a lien for any debt due him from the consignor.

Bond for restitution.

(4908) § 15. If the defendant, or any person in his behalf, at any time before judgment, shall execute a written undertaking to the plaintiff, with sufficient surety to be approved by the court, clerk, or sheriff, to the effect that the defendant will appear to the action, and will perform the judgment of the court, the attachment shall be discharged and restitution made of any property taken under it or the proceeds thereof.

Sale of perishable goods, notice.

(4909) § 16. When personable property attached is of a perishable nature or its keeping expensive, the court may direct the sheriff to sell it at public auction upon reasonable notice if the property is liable to immediate damage, the sheriff in vacation may sell it by giving ten days notice without an order of the court, and the proceeds of all sales shall be deposited with the clerk.

Expenses for keeping.

(4910) § 17. The sheriff shall be allowed by the court the necessary expenses of keeping the attached property, to be paid by the plaintiff and taxed in the costs.

Affidavit and summons for garnishee, return.

(4911) § 18. If at the time an order of attachment issues, or at any time before or afterward, the plaintiff, or other person in his behalf, shall file with the clerk an affidavit that he has good reason to believe that any person, naming him, has property of the defendant of any description in his possession, or under his control, which the sheriff cannot attach by virtue of such order, or that such person is indebted to the defendant, or has the control or agency of any property, moneys, credits, or effects, or that the defendant has any shares or interest in the stock of any association or corporation, the clerk shall issue a summons notifying such person, corporation, or association to appear at the ensuing term of the court, and answer as garnishee in the action. The summons shall be directed to the sheriff, and served and returned by him in the same manner as a summons is served and returned in other cases. When the summons issues before an attachment, the affidavit must show some one of the causes authorizing the attachment.

Liability of garnishee.

(4912) § 19. From the day of the service of the summons the garnishee shall be accountable to the plaintiff in the action for the amount of money, property, or credits in his hands, or due and owing from him to the defendant.

Statement of garnishee, examination.

(4913) § 20. It shall be the duty of any officer or agent of an association or corporation, and of every other person summoned as a garnishee, when served, or within five days afterward, to furnish the sheriff with a certificate of the number of shares or rights of the defendant in the stock of such corporation or association, or a description of the property held by such corporation, association, or person whether due or not, which certificate shall be returned by the sheriff with the summons. If such officer, agent or person refuse to do so, he may be required by the court to attend before it and be examined on oath, concerning the same, and obedience to the orders may be enforced by attachment.

Judgment for failure to answer.

(4914) § 21. Whenever any garnishee, being duly summoned, fails to appear and make discovery as required by law, or fails to answer or demur to the matters set forth against him in the affidavit or additional complaint or interrogatories, such matters may be taken as confessed, or judgment entered by default, as the case may require, or he may be examined under oath touching all the matter charged in the affidavit or additional complaint, and all such proceedings, pleadings, and process, shall be had, according to the practice in other cases, as shall be necessary to determine the rights of the parties and render a final judgment.

Arrest of absconding garnishee.

(4915) § 22. If any plaintiff or other person in his behalf shall file with the clerk an affidavit that he fears that the garnishee will abscond before judgment can be had, with intent to defraud the plaintiff, and that he verily believes that the garnishee has moneys, things in action, goods, chattels, or effects of said defendant is in possession, or is indebted to said defendant, the clerk shall issue an order of arrest against the garnishee, and hold him to bail therein as in a civil action.

No judgment until main action determined

(4916) § 23. Final judgment shall not be rendered against a garnishee until the action against the defendant in attachment is determined, and if the plaintiff fails to recover judgment either againt the defendant or the garnishee, the garnishee shall be discharged and recover his costs.

Proceedings not effected by return of "no property."

(4917) § 24. The return of no property found upon the order of attachment shall not effect the proceedings against the garnishee.

Costs as to garnishee.

(4918) § 25. If the plaintiff recover judgment against the defendant, and the garnishee deliver up to the sheriff before judgment against him, all the defendant's goods and chattels, or other goods in his possession subject to execution, or an inventory thereof, and pay to the sheriff or into court all moneys due from him or belonging to the defendant the costs in the proceedings against the garnishee shall be paid by the defendant, but if the garnishee shall not appear, or if appearing shall refuse truly to confess the matter alleged, and, on the trial, the plaintiff shall recover judgment against him, or if he admits that he has moneys, credits or effects belong to the defendant in his hands and shall refuse to pay or deliver the same as above provided, he shall pay costs.

Contract of garnishee, how performed.

(4919) § 26. A garnishee in attachment shall not be compelled in any case to pay or perform any contract in any other manner or at any other time, than he would be bound to do for the defendant in attachment.

Garnishee paying is discharged.

(4920) § 27. A garnishee may pay the money owing to the defendant by him to the sheriff or into court, and shall be discharged from liability to the defendant for moneys so paid, not exceeding the plaintiff's claim.

Examination, order of court.

(4921) § 28. A garnishee, or officer of a corporation, summoned as a garnishee, at any time after being served with the summons five days, may be examined in open court, on oath; and if it be discovered on such examination, that at the time or after the service of the summons upon him, he or the corporation was possessed of any property of the defendant, or was indebted to him, the court may order the delivery of such property and the payment of such indebtedness into court, or the execution of a written undertaking by the garnishee, with sufficient sureties to be approved by the court, payable to the plaintiff, to the effect that the indebtedness shall be paid or the property forthcoming, as the court shall direct.

Collecting officers subject to garnishment.

(4922) § 29. Clerks of the district courts, sheriffs, justices of the peace, constables, and all other officers who may collect money by virtue of their office, and all executors, administrators, guardions, and trustees, shall be subject to garnishment at the suit of any attachment creditor of the person who has money or choses in action in the hands of such officer, executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee at the time of the service of such garnishee process, in the same manner and to the same extent as other persons are liable to be garnished in attachment proceedings.

Claims of other creditors, how filed.

(4923) § 30. Any creditor of the defendant, upon filing his affidavit and written undertaking, as hereinbefore required of the attaching creditor, may, at any time before the final judgement of the suit, make himself a party to the action, file his complaint, and prove his claim or demand against the defendant, and may have any person summoned as garnishee, or held to bail, who has not before been summoned or held to bail, and propound interrogatories to the garnishee, and enforce answers thereto, in like manner, as the creditor who is plaintiff.

Subsequent creditors not effected by dismissal.

(4924) § 31. A dismissal of his action or proceedings in attachment by the first attaching creditor shall not operate as a dismissal of the action or proceedings of any subsequent attaching creditor.

Appearance, discharge and restitution.

(4925) § 32. Any defendant against whom an order of attachment has been issued may, after appearing to the action, move to have attachment discharged and restitution awarded of any property taken under it, but an appearance to the action shall not operate to discharge the attachment, unless a written undertaking be filed as required in section six hundred and twenty. If the defendant appear, and judgment be rendered in favor of the plaintiff, and any part thereof remain unsatisfied after exhausting the property attached, such judgment shall be deemed a judgment against the defendant personally, and shall have the same force and effect as other judgments, and execution shall issue thereon accordingly for the collection of such residue. If the plaintiff's undertaking be insufficient, he shall have a reasonable time to file an additional one.

Effect of judgment for defendant.

(4926) § 33. If the judgment in the action is rendered for the defendant, the attachment shall be discharged and the property attached, or its proceeds, returned to him.

Judgment for plaintiff, enforced.

(4927) § 34. If judgment in the action is rendered for the plaintiff, or one or more of the several plaintiffs, and sufficient proof be made of the goods, chattels, rights, credits, moneys and effects in the possession of the garnishee, the court shall also give judgment in favor of the plaintiff, or creditors against the garnishee or the property of the defendant, or both, as the case may require, which may be enforced by execution.

Attached property, how sold.

(4928) § 35. After judgment for the plaintiff, or one or more of several plaintiffs, property attached and remaining unsold may be sold on execution as in other cases.

Money how distributed.

(4929) § 36. The money realized from the attachment and the garnishee shall, under the direction of the court, after paying all costs and expenses, be paid to the several creditors in proportion to the amount of their several claims as adjusted, and the surplus, if any shall be paid to the defendant.

Action on plaintiff's bond, where.

(4930) § 37. Every defendant shall be entitled to an action on the written undertaking of the plaintiff or creditor by whose proceedings in attachment he shall have been aggrieved, if it shall appear that the proceedings were wrongful and oppressive, and he shall recover damages at the discretion of the jury.

Action by Territory, no affidavit or bond.

(4931) § 38. In all actions in the name of the Territory of Oklahoma, or of any person, agent, or officer for the use of the Territory, if process be returned that any defendant is not found, an order of attachment may be issued and proceedings had in like manner, as in other cases, without filing any affidavit or written undertaking.

Sheriff's return.

(4932) § 39. When an order of attachment is fully executed or discharged, the sheriff shall return the same, with his proceedings thereon, to the court.

Proceedings before justices.

(4933) § 40. Attachments against the goods and chattels, rights, credits, moneys and effects of defendants, may be issued in cases contemplated in the foregoing provisions, upon any claim within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, upon filing with the justice an affidavit, as prescribed in this article, and the justice shall perform the duties required of the court and the clerk thereof, and the constable shall perform the duties required of the sheriff in the above provisions. The constable shall return the order of attachment within ten days with his doings thereon, and in case where a summons has not been served and property has been attached, the justice shall give three weeks notice of the attachment in some newspaper published in the county, if any is published therein, if not, then by posting up written notices thereof in three of the most public places in the township, and fix the day of trial at the expiration of such notice.

Trial, judgment.

(4934) § 41. If the defendant do not appear and give bond for the release of the property attached, before the day of trial, the justice shall proceed to hear and determine the cause; and in case judgment be given against the defendant, he shall order the property to be sold to satisfy the judgment, according to the provisions of this article.

Garnishees.

(4935) § 42. Garnishees may be summoned and the same proceedings had before the justice, as provided in higher courts.

Proceedings where claim exceeds jurisdiction of justice

(4936) § 43. When any suit is commenced before a justice of the peace, and an attachment is also issued by said justice in the same action against the property of the defendant, any person who shall have a claim against said defendant of a larger amount than the jurisdiction given to justices of the peace, may file the same with the justice of the peace under the attachment; and if any such claim is filed, the justice of the peace shall immediately certify the cause, with all the papers belonging to the district court of the county wherein said suit was commenced; and the clerk of said court to which the cause is certified, shall docket the same; and the said court shall proceed with such cause in the same manner as if it had been commenced in said court.

When plaintiff to pay costs.

(4937) § 44. If any person shall file a claim before the justice of the peace, as stated in the preceding section, and shall, on the trial in the district court, fail to establish his claim to an amount sufficient to entitle him to recover costs in such court according to the provisions of law now in force, then, and in that event, he may recover judgment for his claim, if proved, but shall pay all costs that accrue in consequence of such transfer but if he shall recover judgment to an amount sufficient to entitle him to recover costs, then, and in that event, the attachment-defendant shall pay all costs to each attachment-plaintiff that shall recover judgment

Wages, parties non-resident, no jurisdiction

(4938) § 45. Hereafter no court in this Territory shall have or entertain jurisdiction in any action of attachment, garnishment, or supplementary proceedings, when the plaintiff and principal defendant are both non-residents of this Territory, and the money sought to be reached by such attachment, garnishment or supplementary proceedings is the personal earnings, or wages due or owing to the principal defendant from any person or corporation doing business in this Territory.

Wages for six months exempt.

(4939) § 46. The wages of all persons in employ of any person or corporation shall be exempt from garnishment and proceedings supplemental to execution in the hands of such person or corporation so long as such employee remains in such employment, not exceeding six months wages at any one time.

Garnishee may pay six month's wages.

(4940) § 47. Any person or corporation in debt for wages, as in the preceding section provided, may, at any time after being served with a garnishee summons, pay to any such employee the amount of wages exempted by the preceding section; and such payment shall discharge such garnishee-defendant from liability for the amount so paid, as effectually as if paid before the issuing of such summons.

ARTICLE 29.—CONTEMPTS OF COURT.

SECTION.
1. Direct, disturbing business of court.
2. Direct, refusing to testify, etc.
3. Indirect, disobeying process.
4. Indirect, resisting process, etc.
5. Indirect, false report of trial.
6. Punishment.
7. Trial for direct, appeal.
8. Indirect, rule to show cause.
9. Proceedings, decision and appeal.
10. To what courts law applicable, proviso.

Direct, disturbing business of court.

(4941) § 1. Every person who shall, by the commission of any felony, misdemeanor, or unlawful act; or who by talking, moving about, or by signs, or gestures, or in any other manner, in any court of record, where the same is open for the transaction of business, and engaged therein, create any noise or confusion therein, whereby the business and proceedings of said court shall be disturbed, shall be deemed guilty of a direct contempt of court.

Direct, refusing to testify, etc,

(4942) § 2. Every person who being sworn to testify as a witness in any court of record, in any trial or proceeding therein, shall refuse to testify touching the same; or who, being required by any court to be sworn in any such trial or proceeding, shall refuse to take an oath or affirmation therein, or who, while upon the witness stand, shall purposely so bemean himself, as to retard or disturb the proceedings thereof, shall be deemed guilty of direct contempt thereof.

Indirect, disobeying process

(4943) § 3. Every person who shall be guilty of any wilful disobedience of any process or any order lawfully issued by any court of record, or by the proper officer thereof under the authority of law or the direction of such court, after the same shall have been served upon him, shall be guilty of an indirect contempt of court from which such process or order shall have issued.

Indirect, resisting process, etc.

(4944) § 4. Every person who shall wilfully resist, hinder or delay the execution of any lawful process or order of any court of record shall be guilty of an indirect contempt of said court. And every person who shall offer, give, or promise any reward, or who shall threaten to assault or injure, or shall assault or beat, or in any other manner whatever influence or intimidate, or attempt to influence any witness to give or abstain from giving testimony in any case, or to abstain from attending as such witness in any case, or who shall do any act to put such witness in fear on account of any testimony, which he or she may have given, or who, on account of any such testimony shall injure or threaten to injure such witness, shall be guilty of a direct or indirect contempt of the court in which such witness may be called to testify, according as the same may be done in the presence of such court or elsewhere out of the presence thereof.

Indirect, false report of trial.

(4945) § 5. Every person who shall falsely make, utter or publish any false or grossly inaccurate report of any case, trial or proceeding thereof shall be deemed guilty of an indirect contempt of the court in which such case trial or proceeding may have been instituted, held or determined, if made at any time after such proceeding shall have been commenced and at any time while the same is pending, and while the court shall have jurisdiction thereof, and at any time before it shall be fully determined or entered, or if such report shall be so made pending such case, trial or proceeding touching any ruling or order of said court therein such person shall be deemed guilty of an indirect contempt of the court making such ruling or order.

Punishment

(4946) § 6. Punishment for contempt of court under this act may be by fine or imprisonment or both in the discretion of the court inflicting the same, but no fine shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, nor shall any imprisonment extend beyond the term of three months.

Trial for direct, appeal.

(4947) § 7. When any person shall be arraigned for a direct contempt of any court of record of this Territory, no affidavit, charge in writing, or complaint shall be required to be filed against him, but the court shall distinctly state the acts, words, signs, or gestures, or other conduct of the defendant which is alleged to constitute such contempt; and such statement shall be reduced to writing, either by the judge making it or by some reporter authorized by him to take it down when made; and the same shall be substantially set forth in the order of the court on the same, together with any statement made in explanation, extenuation or denial thereof, which the defendant may make in response thereto, and the court shall thereupon pronounce judgment, either acquitting and discharging the defendant or inflicting such punishment upon him as may be consistent with the provisions of this act; and if found guilty, the defendant shall have the right to except to the opinion and judgment of the court. And in all cases where the defendant may be adjudged to pay a fine of fifty dollars or more, or to be imprisoned for such contempt, he shall have the right, either before or after the payment of such fine or undergoing such imprisonment, to move the court to reconsider its opinion and judgment of the case, upon the facts before it, or upon the affidavits of any or all persons who were actually present and heard or saw the conduct alleged to have constituted such contempt; and, if the defendant shall fail to present the affidavit of every person present, in support of his motion the court may direct the affidavit of all such persons as were so present (whose affidavits the defendant may have failed to procure) to be procured; and upon all such affidavits and original statements of the court and himself touching such contempt, the defendant mny move the court for a new trial and recision of its judgment against him; and if the court shall thereupon overrule such motion the defendant may except and file a bill of exceptions, as in other criminal actions; and in all cases an appeal shall lie thereupon to the supreme court; or in case judgments shall have been rendered in any special term of the district court, an appeal shall lie in the first instance to the general term thereof, and thence as in other cases, to the Supreme Court.

Chap. 70.

Indirect rule to show cause.

(4948) § 8. In all cases of indirect contempt, the person charged therewith shall be entitled, before answering thereto or being punished therefor, to have served upon him a rule of the court against which the alleged contempt may be committed; and which rule shall clearly and distinctly set forth the facts which are alleged to constitute such contempt, and shall specify the time and place of such facts with reasonable certainty as to inform the defendant of the nature and circumstances of the charge against him and shall specify a time and place at which he is required to show cause, in said court, why he should not be attached and be punished for such contempt, which time the court shall on proper showing, extend so as to give the defendant a reasonable and just opportunity to purge himself of such contempt. No such rule as hereinbefore provided for, shall ever issue until the facts alleged therein to constitute such contempt shall have been brought to the knowledge of the court by an information duly verified by the oath of affirmation of some officers of the court or other responsible person.

Proceedings, decision, appeal.

(4949) § 9. If the defendant shall fail to appear in said court at the time and place specified in the rule provided for in the last preceding section, to answer the same, or if, after having appeared thereto, the defendant shall fail or refuse to answer touching such contempt, the court may proceed at once, and without any further delay, to attach and punish him or her for such contempt; but if the defendant shall answer to the facts set forth in such rule, by showing that, even if they are all true, they do not constitute a contempt of court, or by denying or explaining or confessing and avoiding them, so as to show that no contempt was intended, then and in every such case, the court shall acquit and discharge the defendant. But if the defendant shall not in his answer to such rule, sufficiently deny, explain, or avoid the facts therein set forth, so as to show that no contempt has been committed, the court may proceed to attach and punish him for contempt by a fine or imprisonment, or both as hereinbefore provided; and the defendant, having appeared to such rule, may except, file a bill of exceptions, and appeal to the general term to the Supreme Court, in the same manner as in cases of direct contempt.

To what courts law applicable, proviso

(4950) § 10. The provisions of this act shall apply to all proceedings of contempt in all courts of records in this Territory except the Supreme Court thereof: Provided, however, That nothing therein contained shall be construed or held to embrace, limit or control any proceeding against any officer or party for contempt for the enforcement of civil rights and remedies: And Provided, further, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to any case where any person has been personally served with notice to appear and testify as a witness in any court in this Territory in any case, civil or criminal, but that such persons so failing to appear as a witness may be proceeded against as for contempt of court by attachment, as though this act was not in force, but the proceeding against such absent witness by attachment shall not cause a continuance of the case in which such witness was subpœned to testify.

ARTICLE 30.—CONVEYANCES BY COMMISSIONERS.

19. Alimony.
20. Custody of children.
21. Decree of alimony, how payable.
22. Effect of divorce.
23. Divorce granted in another state.

Marriages void.

(4960) § 1. All marriages prohibited by law on account of consanguinity, affinity, difference of color, or where either party thereto have a former wife or husband living, is solemnized within this Territory, shall be absolutely void without any legal proceedings.

Marriages voidable, issue legitimate

(4961) § 2. When either of the parties to a marriage shall be incapable, from want of age or understanding, of contracting such marriage, the same shall be declared void, on application of the incapable party, by any court having jurisdiction to decree divorces; but the children of such marriage, begotten before the same is annulled, shall be legitimate; in such cases the same proceedings shall be had as is provided in applications for divorce.

Issue of certain marriages legitimate.

(4962) § 3. The issue of a marriage, void on account of sanguinity, affinity, or difference of color, shall be deemed to be legitimate.

When issue legitimate, though former marriage exists.

(4963) § 4. When either of the parties to a marriage void because of former marriage exists undissolved shall have contracted such void marriage in the reasonable belief that such disability did not exist, the issue of such marriage begotten before the discovery of such disability by such innocent party shall be deemed legitimate.

Proceedings to determine legitimacy.

(4964) § 5. For the purpose of evidence any person or persons interested in the question of such legitimacy may file his petition in the district court or probate court of any county in this Territory where either of the parties to said marriage may reside, setting forth the facts and making defendants thereto all persons interested in such question, and give such notice to said defendants as is by this act required to be given to the defendant on a petition for a divorce, and the court on hearing such petition shall decree such issue to be legitimate or illegitimate as the facts may be. And from such decree an appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court, and when taken the case shall be governed by the same rules and disposed of as other civil actions are in cases of appeal.

Judgment, how opened, purchasers protected.

(4965) § 6. Parties against whom a judgment of divorce has been rendered, without other notice than publication in a newspaper may have the same opened at any time, so far as relates to the care, support and custody of the children. Parties against whom a judgment for divorce shall hereafter be rendered, without other notice than a publication in a newspaper, may at any time within two years after the rendition of such judgment have the same opened and be allowed to defend as well on the granting of the divorce as in relation to the allowance of alimony and the disposition of property; and until the expiration of said two years, it shall not be lawful for the parties obtaining such divorce to marry again; which shall be stated in the decree of the court. Before any judgment shall be opened, as above, for any cause, the applicant shall file a statement of the causes relied upon, and give such notice thereof as the court in term time, or the judge thereof, in vacation, shall require. And when the causes specified by such applicant relate to the granting of the divorce, alimony and disposition of property, or either of them, the applicant shall file an affidavit stating that during the pendency of the action, he or she received no actual notice thereof, in time to appear in court at the time of the trial of such action, and object to said judgment, and shall also place such costs as the court may direct. Any property which may have been sold under any such judgment so sought to be opened, and which may have passed into the hands of a purchaser or purchasers in good faith, shall not be affected by any proceeding consequent upon the opening of such judgment.

Petition for divorce, residence, affidavit.

(4966) § 7. Divorce may be decreed by the district and probate courts of this Territory, on petition filed by any person who, at the time of the filing of such petition, is and shall have been a bona fide resident of the Territory for the last two years previous to the filing of the same, and a bona fide resident of the county at the time of and for at least six months immediately preceding the filing of such petition, which bona fide residence shall be duly proven by such petitioner, to the satisfaction of the court trying the same, by at least two witnesses who are resident freeholders and householders of the Territory, And the plaintiff shall, with his petition, file with the clerk of the court an affidavit subscribed and worn to by himself, in which he shall state the length of time he has been a resident of the Territory, and stating particularly the place, town, city or township in which he has resided for the last two years past, and stating his occupation, which shall be sworn to before the clerk of the court in which said complaint is filed.

Causes, how specified.

(4967) § 8. A petition for divorce shall specify the causes therefor with certainty to a common intent.

Summons and service.

(4968) § 9. The clerk of the court in which such petition is filed shall issue a summons for the defendant to appear and answer such petition; which summons shall be personally served on the said defendant, if a resident of the Territory, either by reading or leaving a copy thereof at his or her usual place of residence; such usual place to be the residence of such defendant at the time the copy is so left.

Chap. 70.

Notice by publication, copy, when mailed.

(4969) § 10. If it shall appear by the affidavit of a disinterested person that the defendant is not a resident of this Territory the clerk shall give notice of the pendency of such petition, by publication for three successive weeks in some weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in such county, or if there be no such paper, then in one published in this Territory nearest to the county seat of such county: Provided, That the plaintiff shall in case such notice is to be given by publication as aforesaid, before the same is given, file his or her affidavit with the clerk, stating therein the residence of the defendant, if such residence be known to the plaintiff, such affidavit shall so state; and in case such affidavit state the residence of the defendant the clerk shall forward by mail to such defendant the number of the paper containing such notice and the notice marked.

Issue and trial,

(4970) § 11. The cause shall stand for issue and trial at the first term of the court after the summons has been personally served upon the defendant ten days, or publication had been made thirty days before the first days of such term.

When prosecutor to resist.

(4971) § 12. Whenever a petition for divorce remains undefended it shall be the duty of the county attorney to appear and resist such petition.

Answer, proofs required.

(4972) § 13. The defendant shall answer said petition under oath, if required to do so by the petitioners, but no decree shall be rendered on default without proof, nor shall any admissions made in said answer be used as evidence in any other case against said defendant; nor shall the denial under oath, by the defendant, of the facts alleged in the petition rendered necessary any other or further proof by the complainant than would have been necessary if such denial had not been under oath.

Cross petition and proceedings thereon.

(4973) § 14. In addition to an answer the defendant may file a cross petifion for divorce, and when filed the court shall decree the divorce to the party legally entitled thereto. If the original petition be dismissed after the filing of the cross petition, the defendant may proceed to the trial of the cross petition without further notice to the adverse party, and the case upon such cross petition shall in all things be governed by the same rules applicable to a case on an orignal petition.

Witnesses, depositions.

(4974) § 15. Witnesses may be examined in court or depositions taken, and used as in other civil actions, at the option of the party offering the testimony, but this section shall not be construed to authorize the taking of depositions where the witnesses can be compelled to attend and testify as provided by law in other cases unless the judge for good cause shown shall otherwise direct.

Interlocutory orders, how enforced.

(4975) § 16. Pending a petition for divorce, the court or the judge thereof in vacation, shall make and by attachment enforce such orders for the disposition of the persons, property and children of the parties as may be deemed right and proper, and such orders relative to the expenses of such suit as will insure to the wife an efficient preparation of her case and a fair and impartial treatment thereof. And on decreeing a divorce in favor of the wife or refusing one on the application of the husband the court shall, by order to be enforced by attachment, require the husband to pay all reasonable expenses of the wife in the prosecution or defense of the petition when such divorce has been granted or refused: Provided, That such orders shall be made under the same rules and regulations, and upon such notice as restraining orders and injunctions are granted in other civil actions, except that no bond shall be required of either party.

Misconduct of husband, rights to realty.

(4976) § 17. A divorce granted for misconduct of the husband shall entitle the wife to the same rights, so far as her real estate is concerned, that she would have been entitled to by his death.

Miseonduct of wife, rights as to realty.

(4977) § 18. A divorce decreed on account of the misconduct of the wife shall entitle the husband to the same rights, so far as his real estate is concerned, as he would have been entitled to by her death.

Alimony.

(4978) § 19. The court shall make such decree for alimony in all cases contemplated by this act, as the circumstances of the case shall render just and proper; and such decree for alimony heretofore made or hereinafter made, shall be valid against the husband, whether asked for in the petition or given by the judge on default.

Custody of children.

(4979) § 20. The court in decreeing a divorce shall make provision for the guardianship, custody, support, and education of the minor children of such marriage.

Decree for alimony, how payable (4980) § 21. The decree for alimony to the wife shall be for a sum in gross, and not for annual payments; but the court, in its discretion, may give a reasonable time for the payment thereof by installments, on sufficient surety being given. And in all cases where alimony has been thus given by installments, or may hereafter be given, and the surety required shall not be given within thirty days from the date of such decree, then the whole amount ol such alimony shall become due and payable the same as if no such installments had been mentioned in the decree.

Effect of divorce.

(4981) § 22. The divorce of one party shall fully dissolve the marriage contract as to both.

Divorce granted in another state.

(4982) § 23. A divorce decree in any other state or territory, by a court having jurisdiction thereof, shall have full effect in this Territory.

(4988) § 6. The answer of the defendant may contain a denial of each material statement or allegation in the complaint, under which denial the defendant shall be permitted to give in evidence every defense to the action that he may have, either legal or equitable.

Proof of defendant's possession, when needless

(4989) § 7. When the defendant makes defense, it shall not be necessary to prove him in possession of the premises.

Plaintiff must show title

(4990) § 8. The plaintiff must recover on the strength of his own title.

Use of premises, recovery of limit

(4991) § 9. The plaintiff cannot recover for the use and occupation of the premises for more than six years next before the commencement of the action; but may recover, in the same action, for use and occupation up to the time of its termination.

When plaintiff recovers damages only

(4992) § 10. If the interest of the plaintiff expire before the time in which he could be put in possession, he shall obtain a judgment for damages only.

Recovery separate or joint according to rights.

(4993) § 11. Where there are two or more plaintiffs or defendants, any one or more of the plaintiffs may recover against one or more of the defendants the premises or any part thereof, or interest therein, or damages according to the right of the parties, but the recovery shall not be for a greater interest than that claimed.

Damages and set-off.

(4994) § 12. When a plaintiff, in an action of this nature, is entitled to damages for withholding or using or injuring his property, the defendant may set off the value of any permanent improvements made thereon to the extent of such damages, unless he prefer to avail himself of the law for the benefit of occupying claimants.

Exemplary damages.

(4995) § 13. In case of wanton aggression on the part of a defendant, the jury may award exemplary damages.

Proof against co-tenant.

(4997) § 14. In action by a tenant in common or joint-tenant real property against his co-tenant, the plaintiff must show in addition to his evidence of right, that defendant either denied plaintiff's right or did some act amounting to such denial.

New trial of right, bond.

(4997) § 15. The court rendering the judgment on application made within one year thereafter by the party against whom judgment is rendered, his heirs, assigns or representatives, and on the applicant giving an undertaking with surety to be approved by the court or clerk that he will pay all costs and damages which shall be recovered against him in action, shall vacate the judgment and grant a new trial. The court shall grant but one new trial under the provisions of this section.

New trial, after term,

(4998) § 16. If the application for a new trial is made after the close of the term at which the judgment is rendered, the party obtaining a new trial shall give the opposite party ten days notice thereof before the term next succeeding the granting of the application.

Innocent purchasers

(4999) § 17. The result of the new trial, if application therefor is made after the close of the term at which the judgment is rendered, shall in no case effect the interest of third persons, acquired in good faith, for a valuable consideration, since the former trial.

Damages in lieu of land.

(5000) § 18. But the party who on such trial, shows himself entitled to the lands which have thus passed to the hands of a purchaser in good faith may recover the proper amount of damages against the other party, either in the same or subsequent actions.

Entry and survey.

(5001) § 19. The court, on motion, and after notice to the opposite party, may, for cause shown, grant an order allowing the party applying therefor to enter upon the property in controversy, and make survey and measurement thereof for the purposes of the action.

Order and service.

(5002) § 20. The order must describe the property, and a copy thereof must be served upon the owner or person having the occupancy and control of the land

Action to quiet title.

(5003) § 21. An action may be brought by any person either in or out of possession, or by any one having an interest in remainder or reversion, against another who claims title to or interest in real property adverse to him, although the defendant may not be in possession thereof, for the purpose of determining and quieting the question of title.

Quietting title and partition, rules

(5004) § 22. The rules above prescribed shall, in such cases, be observed as far as they are applicable; and in partition cases, when the title to real estate is bona fide in question, upon the pleadings and evidence between the parties.

Disclaimer, costs.

(5005) § 23. If in such cases the defendant disclaim in his answer any interest or real estate in the property, or suffer judgment to be taken against him without answer, the defendant shall recover costs.

Real party in interest to be plaintiff.

(5006) § 24. Any person having a right to recover the possession of real estate, or to quiet title thereto in the name of any other person or persons, shall have a right to recover possession or quiet title in his own name; and no action shall be defeated or reversed where it might have been successively maintained by the plaintiff, in the name of another, to inure to his benefit: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to or affect pending actions.

18. Sale in parcels, order.
19. Whole to be sold, when.
20. Plaintiff's endorsement on execution

Possession of premises

(5007) § 1. Unless a mortgage specially provide that the mortgagee shall have possesson of the mortgaged premises he shall not be entitled to the same.

How construed, remedy

(5008) § 2. No mortgage shall be construed as implying a covenant for the payment of the sum intended to be secured, so as to enable the mortgagee, his assigns, or representatives to maintain an action for the recovery of such sum, and where there is no express covenant contained in the mortgage for such payment and no bond or other separate instrument to secure such payment shall have been given, the remedies of the mortgagee shall be confined to the lands mentioned in the mortgage.

Foreclosure before sale

(5009) § 3. No mortgage of real estate, or instrument operating as having the legal effect of a mortgage, hereafter executed, shall authorize the mortgagee to sell the mortgaged premises, but every such sale shall be made under a judicial proceeding.

Purchase money, priority,

(5010) § 4 A mortgage granted by a purchaser to secure purchase money shall have preference over a prior judgment against such purchaser.

Entry of satisfaction, effect

(5011) § 5. Every mortgagee of lands whose mortgage has been recorded, having received full payment of the sum or sums of money, therein specified, from the mortgagor, shall, at the request of such mortgagor, enter satisfaction on the margin or other proper place in the record, of such mortgage, which shall operate as a complete release and discharge thereof.

Certificate of satisfaction, record.

(5012) § 6. Where such mortgage has been paid and satisfied by the mortgagor, he may take a certificate thereof, duly acknowledged by the mortgagee or his lawful agent, as herein required for the acknowledgment of conveyances, to entitle the same to be recorded, which certificate and acknowledgment shall be recorded by the recorder in whose office such mortgage is recorded, with a reference to the book and page containing the record of the mortgage aforesaid, and such recorded certificate shall forever discharge and release the mortgagor from such mortgage, and forever bar all suits and actions thereon.

Foreclosure by Territory.

(5013) § 7. Nothing in this act shall affect any provisions made by law in relation to the foreclosure of mortgages to the Territory of Oklahoma, so far as the same conflict with the provisions of this act.

Assignment, how made.

(5014) § 8. Any mortgage of record, or any part thereof, either by assignment entered on the margin of such record, signed by the person making the assignment and attested by the recorder, or by a separate instrument executed and acknowledged before any person authorized to take acknowledgments, and recorded on such margin, or in the mortgage records of the county, in which case such assignment shall be noted in such margin by the recorder, by reference to the book and page where such assignment is recorded. And after such entry is made of record, the mortgagor and all other persons shall be bound thereby, and the same shall be deemed a public record. Any assignee or his personal representatives may enter satisfaction or release of the mortgage; or the part thereof held by him of record as aforesaid.

Parties, effects of sale, redemption.

(5015) § 9. And in a suit to foreclose said mortgage, it shall be sufficient to make the mortgagee, or the assignee shown by said record to hold an interest therein, plaintiffs. And all persons failing to cause assignment to them to be made or put of record in the manner aforesaid, unless they cause themselves to be made parties pending the action, shall be bound by such decree as may be rendered, the same as if they had been parties to the suit. And any purchaser at judicial sale of the mortgaged premises, or any part thereof, under such decree or claiming title under the same, buying without actual notice of any assignment not thus of record, or of the transfer of any note, the holder whereof was not a party to the action, shall hold the said premises, so purchased, free and discharged of such lien: Provided, however, That any assignee or transfer may redeem said premises, like any other creditor, during the period of one year allowed by statutes after such sales.

Foreclosure.

(5016) § 10. When default is made in the performance of any condition contained in a mortgage, the mortgagee or his assigns, may proceed, in the district court of the county where the land lies, to foreclose the equity of redemption contained in the mortgage.

When remedy confined to mortgaged property.

(5017) § 11. When there is no express agreement in the mortgage, nor any separate instrument given for the payment of the sum secured thereby, the remedy of the mortgagee shall be confined to the property mortgaged.

Chap. 70.

Personal judgment, order of sale.

(5018) § 12. In rendering judgment of foreclosure, the court shall give personal judgment against any party to the suit liable upon any agreement or agreements, for the payment of any sum or sums of money secured by the mortgage, and shall order the mortgaged premises, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the mortgage and judgment and costs of the action, to be first sold, before levy of execution upon other property of the defendant. The payment of the mortgaged debt, with interest and costs, at any time before sale, shall satisfy the judgment.

Clerk to enter satisfaction, fees.

(5019) § 13. Upon the foreclosure of any mortgage in the district court of any county in this Territory, and upon the payment and satisfaction of such judgment as may be rendered in such proceedings in forclosure, in said court, the clerk thereof shall immediately thereafter enter satisfaction of said mortgage on the records of the recorder's office of such county, if the same shall have been recorded: Provided, That the record in foreclosure and satisfaction thereof shall show that the whole debt secured by such mortgage has been paid. Such clerk shall tax a fee of forty cents in each case of foreclosure requiring satisfaction, which shall be paid as other costs in such cases; twenty cents of which he shall pay to the recorder for his services, retaining twenty cents for his own services.

Order of sale.

(5020) § 14. When there is an express written agreement for the payment of the sum of money secured contained in the mortgage or any separate instrument, and the court shall direct, in the order of sale, the balance due on the mortgage, and costs which may remain unsatisfied after the sale of mortgaged premises, shall be levied of any property of the mortgage-debtor.

Copy of order, how issued, sale

(5021) § 15. The copy of the order of sale and judgment shall be issued and certified by the clerk, under the seal of the court, to the sheriff, who shall thereupon proceed to sell the mortgaged premises, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the judgment, interest and costs, as upon execution, and if any part of the judgment, interest and costs remain unsatisfied, the sheriff shall forthwith proceed to levy the residue on the other property of the defendant.

When cannot foreclose.

(5022) § 16. The plaintiff shall not proceed to foreclose his mortgage while he is prosecuting any other action for the same debt or matter which is secured by the mortgage, or while he is seeking to obtain execution of any judgment in such other action, nor shall he prosecute any other action for the same matter, while he is foreclosing his mortgage or prosecuting a judgment of foreclosure.

Installments not due, proceedings.

(5023) § 17. Whenever a complaint is filed for the foreclosure of a mortgage upon which there shall be due any interest, or installment of the principal, and there are other installments not due, if the defendant pay into court the principal and interest due, with costs, at any time before final judgment, the complaint shall be dismissed; if such payment be made after final judgment, proceedings thereon shall be stayed, subject to be enforced upon a subsequent default in the payment of any installment of the principal and interest thereafter becoming due. In the final judgment, the court shall direct at what time and upon what default any subsequent execution shall issue.

Sale in parcels order

(5024) § 18. In such cases, the court shall ascertain whether the property can be sold in parcels, and, if it can be done without injury to the interest of the parties, the court shall direct so much only of the premises to be sold as will be sufficient to pay the amount then due on a mortgage, with costs, and the judgment shall remain and be in force upon any subsequent default, unless the amount due shall be paid before execution of the judgment is perfected.

Whole to be sold, when (5025) § 19. If the mortgaged premises cannot be sold in parcels the court shall order the whole to be sold, and the proceeds of the sale shall be applied first to the payment of the principal due, interest and costs, and then to the residue secured by the mortgage, and not due. And if the residue do not bear interest a deduction shall be made therefrom, by discounting the legal interest. And in all cases where the proceeds shall be more than sufficient to pay the amount due and costs, the surplus shall be paid to the mortgage debtor, his heirs or assigns.

Plaintiff's endorsement on execution

(5026) § 20. Whenever an execution shall issue upon a judgment recovered for a debt secured by a mortgage of the real property, the plaintiff shall indorse thereon a brief description of the mortgaged premises and the equity of redemption shall in no case be sold on execution.

ARTICLE 34.—INFORMATIONS.

SECTION.
1 When filed.
2 By whom filed.
3. Of what consist.
4 For usurping office
5. Summons and proceeedings.
6 Contest for office, judgment.
7. Judgment for relator.
8. Damages.
9. One information against several.
10 Judgment of ouster and forfeiture.
11. Judgment against corporations.
12 To recover escheated property.
13. Costs.
14. To annul instrument.
15. Proceedings to annul.

When filed.

(5027) § 1. An information may be filed against any person or corporation in the following cases:

First. When any person shall usurp, intrude into, or unlawfully hold or exercise any public office or any franchise within this Territory, or any office in any corporation created by the authority of the Territory.

Second. Whenever any public officer shall have done or suffered any act which, by the provisions of law, shall work a forfeiture of his office.

Third. Where any association or number of persons shall act, with this Territory, as a corporation, without being legally incorporated.

Fourth. Or where any corporation do or omit acts which amount to a surrender or forfeiture of their rights and privileges

Chap. 70. as a corporation, or when they exercise powers not conferred by law.

By whom filed

(5028) § 2. The information may be filed by the county attorney or attorney general in the district court of the proper county, upon his own relation, whenever he shall deem it his duty to do so, or shall be directed by the court or other competent authority, or by any other person, on his own relation, whenever he claims an interest in the office, franchise or corporation which is the subject of the information.

Of what consist.

(5029) § 3. The information shall consist of a plain statement of the facts which constitute the grounds of the proceeding, addressed to the court.

For usurping office.

(5030) § 4. Whenever an information shall be filed against a person for usurping an office, by the county attorney or attorney general, he shall also set forth therein the name of the person rightfully entitled to the office, with an averment of his right thereto; and when filed by any other person, he shall show his interest in the matter; and he may claim the damages he has sustained.

Summons and proceeeings

(5031) § 5. Whenever an information is filed, a summons shall issue thereon; which shall be served and returned as in other actions. The defendant shall appear and answer, or suffer default, and subsequent proceedings be had as in other cases.

Contest for office, judgment

(5032) § 6. In every case contesting the right to an office, judgment shall be rendered upon the rights of the parties and for damages the relator may show himself entitled to, if any, to the time of the judgment.

Judgment for relator

(5033) § 7. If judgment be rendered in favor of the relator, he shall proceed to exercise the function of the office, after he has been qualified as required by law; and the court shall order the defendant to deliver over all books and papers, pursuant to the order, and the court, or judge thereof, shall enforce the order by attachment and imprisonment.

Damages.

(5034) § 8. When the judgment is rendered in favor of the plaintiff, he may if he has not claimed his damages in the information, have his action for the damages at any time within one year after the judgment.

One information against several.

(5035) § 9. When several persons claim to be entitled to the same office or franchise, one information may be filed against any or all such persons, in order to try their respective rights to the office or franchise.

Judgment of ouster or forfeiture.

(5036) § 10. Whenever any person shall be found guilty of any usurpation of, or intrusion into, or unlawfully exercising any office or any franchise within this Territory, or any office in any corporation created by the authority of this Territory, or when any public officer, thus charged, shall be found guilty of having done or suffered any act which, by the provisions of law, shall work a forfeiture of his office, or when any association or number of persons shall be found guilty of having acted as a corporation, without having been legally incorporated, the court shall give judgment of ouster against the defendant, and exclude him from the office, franchise, or corporate rights, (and in cases of corporations, that the same shall be dissolved) and the court shall adjudge costs in favor of the plaintiff.

Judgment against corporation.

(5037) § 11. If judgment be rendered against any corporation, or against any persons claiming to be a corporation, the court may cause the costs to be collected by execution against the persons claiming to be a corporation, or by attachment against the directors or other officers of the corporation; and shall restrain the corporation, appoint a receiver of its property and effects, take an account and make a distribution thereof among the creditors. The county attorney and Attorney General shall immediately institute proceedings for that purpose.

To recover escheated property.

(5038) § 12. Whenever any property shall escheat or be forfeited to the Territory for its use, the legal title shall be deemed to be in the Territory from the time of the escheat or forfeiture, and an information may be filed by the Attorney General or county attorney in the district for the recovery of the property, alleging the ground on which the recovery is claimed, and like proceedings and judgment shall be had as in a civil action for the recovery of the property.

Costs

(5039) § 13. When an information is filed by the Attorney General or county attorney, he shall not be liable for costs, but when it is filed upon the relation of a private person, he shall be liable for costs, unless the same are adjudged against the defendant.

To annul instrument.

(5040) § 14. An information may be prosecuted for the purpose of annulling or vacating any letters patent, certificate or deed granted by the proper authorities of this Territory, when there is reason to believe that the same were obtained by fraud, or through mistake or ignorance of a material fact, or when the patentee or those claiming under him shall have done or omitted an act in violation of the terms on which the letters, deeds, or certificate was granted, or have by any means forfeited the interest acquired under the same.

Proceedings to annul.

(5041) § 15. In such cases, the information may be filed by the Attorney General or county attorney upon his relation, or by any private person upon his relation, showing his interest in the subject matter, and the subsequent proceeding, judgment of the court and awarding of costs shall conform to the above provisions, and such letters patent, deed, or certificate shall be annulled or sustained according to the right of the case.

ARTICLE 35.—INJUNCTIONS.

SECTION.
1. Who may grant.
2. Proceedings to obtain
3 Application to be verified.
4. Notice unneccessary unless emergency
5 Affidavits may be read.
6 Terms and conditions.
7. Bond
8 Second bond unnecessary, exception.
9 Copy of order a sufficient writ.
10 Stay of judgment, release of errors.

SECTION.
11. When and whom binds.
12. Notice.
13. Money on judgment enjoined.
14. Order disobeyed, contempt.
15. Service of attachment, action of the court.
16. Bond of party.
17. Motions to dissolve or modify.
18. Damages on dissolving
19. Damages include rents and waste.
20. Motion to reinstate.

Who may grant.

(5042) § 1. Restraining orders and injunctions may be granted by the Supreme Court in term time, when necessary and proper for the due exercise of the jurisdiction and powers of such court, or by any judge thereof in vacation or recess, and by the district courts in their respective counties in term time, or by the judges thereof in vacation, or by a probate judge and the said courts in term time, or the judge thereof in vacation may, in any county of the district, issue restraining orders or injunctions to operate in any other county in the district.

Proceedings so obtain

(5043) § 2. When it appears by the complaint that the plaintiff is entitled to the relief demanded, and the relief, or any part thereof, consists in restraining the commission or continuance of some act, the commission or continuance of which during the litigation, would produce great injury to the plaintiff; or when, during the litigation, it appears that the defendant is doing, or threatens, or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering some act to be done, in violation of the plaintiff's rights, respecting the subject of the action, and tending to render the judgment ineffectual; or when such relief, or any part thereof, consists in restraining proceedings upon any final order or judgment, an injunction may be granted to restrain such acts or proceedings until the further order of the court; which may, afterward, be modified upon motion. And when it appears in the complaint at the commencement of the action, or during the pendency thereof by affidavit, that the defendant threatens or is about to remove or dispose of his property with intent to defraud his creditors, a temporary injunction may be granted to restrain the removal or disposition of his property.

Application to be verified,

(5044) § 3. In all applications for an injunction, the complaint shall be verified by affidavit. The injunction may be granted at the time of commencing the action, or at any time afterward before judgment in the proceeding.

Notice unnecessary, unless emergency.

(5045) § 4. No injunction shall be granted until it shall appear to the court or judge granting it, that some one or more of the opposite party concerned has had reasonable notice of the time and place of making the application; except that in cases of emergency to be shown in the complaint, the court may grant a restraining order until notice can be given and hearing thereon.

Affidavits may be read.

(5046) § 5. On the hearing of an application for a restraining order or temporary injunction, each party may read affidavits of documentary or record evidence.

Terms and conditions.

(5047) § 6. Upon the granting or continuing of an injunction such terms and conditions may be imposed upon the party obtaining it as may be deemed equitable.

Bond.

(5048) § 7. No injunction or restraining orders shall be granted until the party asking it shall enter into a written undertaking with surety to be approved by the court or judge, to the adverse party effected thereby, for the payment of all damages and costs which may accrue by reason of the injunction or restraining order.

Second bond unnecessary, exception.

(5049) § 8. When an injunction is granted upon the hearing, after a temporary restraining order, the plaintiff shall not be required to enter into a second written undertaking, unless the former shall be deemed insufficient, but the plaintiff and his surety shall remain liable upon the original undertaking.

Copy of order a sufficient writ.

(5050) § 9. It shall not be necessary to issue a writ of injunction, but the clerk shall issue a copy of the order of injunction, duly certified by him; which shall be forthwith served by delivering the same to the adverse party.

Stay of judgment, release of errors.

(5051) § 10. In applications to stay proceedings after judgment, the plaintiff shall indorse upon his complaint a release of errors in the judgment whenever required to do so by the judgment or court.

When and whom binds.

(5052) § 11. An order of injunction shall bind every person and officer restrained, from the time he is informed thereof.

Notice.

(5053) § 12. When notice of the application for an injunction has been given to the adverse party it shall not be necessary to serve the order upon him, but he shall be bound by the injunction as soon as the written undertaking required of the plaintiff is executed and delivered to the proper officer.

Money on judgment enjoined.

(5054) § 13. Money collected upon a judgment afterward injoined remaining in the hands of the collecting officer, shall be paid to the clerk of the court granting the injunction, subject to the order of the court.

Order disobeyed, contempt.

(5055) § 14. When it shall appear to any court granting an order of injunction, or judge thereof in vacation, by affidavit, that any person has wilfully disobeyed the order, after notice thereof, such court or judge shall award an attachment for contempt against the party charged or a rule to show cause why it should not issue. The attachment or rule shall be issued by the clerk of the court, and directed to the sheriff, and shall be served by him.

Service of attachment, action of court

(5056) § 15. The attachment for contempt shall be immediately served by arresting the party charged. and bringing him into court, if in session, to be dealt with as in other cases of contempt; and the court shall also take all necessary measures to secure and indemnify the plaintiff against damages in the premises.

Bond of party.

(5057) § 16. If the court be not in session the officer making the arrest shall cause the person to enter into a written undertaking, with surety to be approved by the officer, personally to appear in open court, on the first day of the next term thereof, to answer such contempt, and that he will pay to the plaintiff all his damages and costs occasioned by the breach of the order; and in default thereof he shall be committed to the jail of the county, until he shall enter into such written undertaking with surety, or be otherwise legally discharged.

Motion to dissolve or modify.

(5058) § 17. Motions to dissolve or modify injunctions may be made in open court at any time after the adverse party has had reasonable notice.

Damages on dissolving.

(5059) § 18. When an injunction to stay proceedings after judgment for debt or damages shall be dissolved the court shall award such damages not exceeding ten per cent on the judgment, as the court may deem right, against the party in whose favor the injunction issued.

Damages include rents and waste.

(5060) § 19. If an injunction to stay proceedings after verdict or judgment in an action for the recovery of real estate or the possession thereof be dissolved, the damages assessed against the party obtaining the injunction shall include the reasonable rents and profits of the land recovered, and all waste committed after granting the injunction.

Motion to reinstate.

(5061) § 20. Upon an order being made dissolving or modifying an order of injunction, the plaintiff may move the court to reinstate the order, and the court may, in its discretion, allow the motion, and appoint a time for hearing the same before the court or at a time and place for hearing before some judge thereof; and upon the hearing, the parties may produce such additional affidavits or depositions as the court shall direct, and the order of injunction shall be dissolved, modified, or reinstated as the court or judge may deem right. Until the hearing of the motion to reinstate the order of injunction, the order to dissolve or modify it shall be suspended.

ARTICLE 36.—MANDATE AND PROHIBITION.

SECTION.

11. Costs.

What courts issue.

(5062) § 1. Writs of mandate and prohibition may issue from the Supreme and district courts of this Territory, but such writs shall issue from the Supreme Court only when necessary for the exercise of its functions and powers.

To whom and for what purpose.

(5063) § 2. Writs of mandate may be issued to any inferior tribunal, corporation, board or person to compel the performance of an act which the law specially enjoins or a duty resulting from an office, trust or station.

Application, neglect to return.

(5064) § 3. The writ shall be issued upon affidavit and motion, and shall be attested and sealed, and made returnable as the court shall direct, and the person, body, or tribunal to whom the same shall be directed and delivered, shall make return, and for neglect to do so shall be proceeded against as for a contempt.

Writ, alternative or peremptory.

(5065) § 4. The first writ shall be issued in the alternative or peremptory as the court shall direct.

Issues, proceedings.

(5066) § 5. Whenever a return shall be made to any writ issues of law and fact may be joined, and like proceedings shall be had for the trial of issues and rendering judgment as in civil actions.

Damages peremptory writ.

(5067) § 6. In case a verdict shall be found for the plaintiff where the writ is in the alternative, or if judgment be given for him he shall recover damages as in action for a false return against the party making the return and a peremptory writ shall be granted without delay.

(5068) § 7. The court shall have the power to enlarge the time of making the return and pleading to such writ and for filing any subsequent pleadings, and to continue such cause, as in civil actions. Power of court.

(5069) § 8. Obedience to such writs may be enforced by attachment, and fine or imprisonment, or both. Obedience, how enforced.

(5070) § 9. The writ of prohibition shall command the court and party to whom it shall be directed, to refrain from any further proceedings in the matter therein specified until the return of the writ and the further order of the court thereon, and upon the return, to show cause why they shall not be absolutely restrained from any further proceedings in the matter. Writ of prohibition.

(5071) § 10. The court shall render judgment, either that a prohibition absolute, restrain the court and party from proceeding in the matter, do issue, or authorizing the court and party to proceed in the matter in question. Judgment in prohibition.

(5072) § 11. Costs shall be awarded in these proceedings as in civil actions. Costs.

24. Proceedings, when reviewed

(5073) § 1. Any person holding lands as joint-tenant or tenant in common, whether in his own right or as an executor or trustee, may compel partition thereof in the manner provided in this act. An administrator or executor may also compel partition as a tenant in common or joint tenant may do, whenever, in the discharge of his duties as such, it shall be necessary for him to sell the estate of the decedent therein. Who may compel.

(5074) § 2. Any such tenant may apply to the district court, or court having probate jurisdiction of the county in which the lands or part thereof may lie, by petition, setting forth a description of the premises and the rights and titles therein of the persons interested. Petition, contents, jurisdiction.

(5075) § 3. The proceedings, practice, and pleadings shall be the same as in civil suits, except as otherwise provided in this act. Proceedings as in civil cases

(5076) § 4. If upon trial of any issue, or upon default, or by consent of parties, it shall appear that partition ought to be made, the court shall award an interlocutory judgment that partition be made to parties who may desire same, specifying therein the share assigned to each, and taking into consideration advancements to Interlocutory judgment, sale when.

heirs of a person dying intestate; and the residue of the premises shall remain for the persons entitled thereto, subject to a future partition. But if upon trial of any issue, or upon default, or by confession or consent of parties, it shall appear that the lands of which partition is demanded, cannot be divided without damage to the owners, then, and in that case, the court in its discretion may order the whole or any such part of the premises to be sold, as provided for in section 5086

Testator's intention governs.

(5077) § 5. Such court shall not order or affirm partition of any real estate contrary to the intention of the testator, expressed in his will.

Commissioners

(5078) § 6. Upon judgment of partition, the court shall appoint three disinterested resident freeholders of the county in which such court is held, not of kin to any of the parties who shall make partition of such lands, in pursuance of the judgment of the court.

Oath

(5079) § 7. Before proceeding to discharge their duties such commissioners shall take an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their trust, which oath if taken in open court, shall be entered in their order book, and if not, shall be endorsed on the warrant issued to them to make such partition.

Shares when set-off together.

(5080) § 8. Two or more persons may if they choose have their shares set off together.

Guardians act for wards

(5081) § 9. In all proceedings under this act, guardians may act for their wards, as their wards might have acted, being of age.

Minors, parties, commissioners may plat into lots.

(5082) § 10. In all cases where proceedings are now pending, or may hereafter be commenced in any [court] of this Territory, for the partition of real estate in which any minor is a party in interest, the commissioners appointed to make such partition are hereby authorized to lay off into lots or out-lots, streets and alleys, any lands including in such partition, and to make a plat thereof which shall be reported to the court for approval or rejection. If confirmed by the court such plat shall be acknowledged by such commissioners in open court, and shall be recorded as other plats of like nature are recorded, and shall have the validity in law as if made by a legal proprietor of such lands, of full age. It shall be the duty of the court to determine in such cases upon the return of such plats by said commissioners, whether it will be for the interest of the parties that such land should be layed off into lots or out-lots, streets, and alleys, and if so, then the partition may be made by said commissioners, as in other cases, if practicable, without detriment to the parties interested; and if the same shall not be susceptible of partition, then said lots or out-lots, may be sold by order of the court, as in other cases.

Report, how made.

(5083) § 11. The commissioners shall make to the court and acknowledge in open court their report, or shall sign and swear to their report before some person authorized to administer oaths; which report shall specify by divisions or lots, or metes and bounds, or by plats, the shares assigned to each party.

Confirmation, judgment.

(5084) § 12. Such report if confirmed by the court shall be spread upon the order book, and judgment of the partition be rendered accordingly.

Report, how set aside, new commissioners,

(5085) § 13. The court before confirmation may set aside such return for good cause shown and commit the duty of partition anew to the same or other commissioners, to be appointed and qualified as aforesaid, whereupon the same proceedings shall be had as are before directed.

Land indivisible, sale, appraisement.

(5086) § 14. When such commissioners shall report to the court that the whole or a part of the lands of which partition is demanded cannot be devided without damage to the owners, the court in its discretion may order the whole or such part of the premises to be sold at public or private sale on such terms and conditions as it may prescribe, provided that at public sale such land shall sell for at least two-thirds of its appraised value, and at private sale at not less than its appraised value, to be ascertained as in cases of sales of land on execution. And if a part only be sold the remainder may be partitioned subject to the rules hereinbefore provided.

Effect of partial partition.

(5087) § 15. If under such partial partition, duly confirmed, the shares assigned be full shares the residue reserved for sale shall be dischared from all title or claim of the parties so receiving assignment of the shares.

Commissioner to sell, bond.

(5088) § 16. Such sale shall be made by a commissioner to be appointed by the court other than one of the commissioners to make partition, and such commissioners shall file a bond payable to the Territory of Oklahoma in such penalty as the court may direct, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his trust.

Commissioner's deed

(5089) § 17. Whenever it shall appear to the court that the purchase-money for the land sold had been duly paid, the court shall order such commissioner or some other person to execute conveyances to the purchasers, which shall bar all claims of such owners to said lands as effectually as if they themselves had executed the same.

Commissioners cannot purchase.

(5090) § 18. Commissioners to make partition or to sell shall not become purchasers of said land.

Proceeds, how distributed.

(5091) § 19. The money arising from such sale, after payment of just costs and expenses, shall be paid by such commissioners to the persons entitled thereto according to their respective shares, under the directions of the court.

Two commissioners may act.

(5092) § 20. Any two of the persons named as commissioners to make partition may perform the duties required by this act; and vacancies may be filed by the court.

Vacancy, successors' acts valid.

(5093) § 21. The occurrence of a vacancy shall not invalidate the previous acts of the commissioners, and a successor shall take up and continue the proceedings, which shall be valid as if the same had been done by the commissioners first appointed.

Pay of commissioners.

(5094) § 22. Such court shall make allowance to the commissioners for their services, and for surveying, marking, chaining, plating, and the execution of the necessary conveyances as to such court shall seem reasonable.

Costs, how apportioned.

(5095) § 23. All costs and necessary expesnses shall be awarded and enforced in favor of those entitled thereto, against the partitioners, in such proportion against each as the court may determine.

Proceedings when reviewed

(5096) § 24. Upon showing sufficient cause, any person not served with summons may, within one year after such partition is confirmed, appear and open the proceedings, and obtain a review thereof; and also any person of unsound mind, or any infant whose guardian did not attend and approve such partition, may, within one year after the removal of his disability, have a review of such partition.

ARTICLE 38.—PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

SECTION.
1. Notice to creditor.
2. Surety discharged, when.
3. Trial of suretyship.
4. Order to exhaust principal's property.
5. Judgment in force for surety.
6. Remedy of co-sureties who pay.
7. When surety shall not suffer judgment.
8. When judgment of surety without relief.
9. Provisions extend to heirs of sureties.
10. Rate of interest.
11. Recognizance, when a lien.
12. Defective bond.

Notice to creditor

(5097) § 1. Any person bound as surety upon any contract in writing for the payment of money or the performance of any act, when the right of action has accrued, may require by notice in writing, the creditor or obligee forthwith to institute an action upon the contract.

Surety, discharged when.

(5098) § 2. If the creditor or obligee shall not proceed within a reasonable time to bring his action upon such contract, and prosecute the same to judgment and execution, the surety shall be discharged from all liability thereon.

Trial of suretyship

(5099 § 3. When an action is brought against two or more defendants upon a contract, any one or more of the defendants being surety for the others, the surety may, upon a written complaint to the court, cause the question of suretyship to be tried and determined upon the issue made by the parties at trial of the cause, or at any time before or after the trial, or at a subsequent term; but such proceeding shall not effect the proceedings of the plaintiff.

Order to exhaust principal's property

(5100) § 4. If the finding upon such issue be in favor of the surety, the court shall make an order directing the sheriff to levy the execution, first upon and exhaust the property of the principal, before a levy shall be made upon the property of the surety, and the clerk shall indorse a memorandum of the order on the execution.

Judgment in force for surety.

(5101) § 5. When any defendant surety in a judgment, or special bail or replevin bail, or surety in a delivery bond, or replevin bond, or any person being surety in any undertaking whatever has been or shall be compelled to pay any judgment or any part thereof, or make any payment which is applied upon such judgment by reason of such suretyship, or when any sheriff or other officer, or any surety upon his official bond, shall be compelled to pay any judgment, or any part thereof, by reason of any default of such officer, except for failing to pay over any money collected, or for wasting property levied on, the judgment shall not be discharged by such payment, but shall remain in force for the use of the bail, surety, officer, or other person making such payment, and after the plaintiff is paid, so much of the judgment as remains unsatisfied may be prosecuted to execution for his use.

Remedy of co-sureties who pay.

(5102) § 6. Any one of the several judgment-defendants, and any one of several replevin-bail, having paid and satisfied the plaintiff, shall have the remedy provided in the last section against the co-defendants or co-sureties, to collect of them the ratable proportion each is equitably bound to pay.

When surety shall not suffer judgment

(5103) § 7. No surety or his representatives shall confess judgment, or suffer judgment by default in any case, when he is notified that there is a valid defense, if the principal will enter himself defendant to the action, and tender to the surety or his representatives good security to idemnify him to be approved by the court.

When judgment of surety without relief.

(5104) § 8. Whenever any person seeks a remedy against another for whom he has discharged a debt or claim upon contract, in whole or in part, made payable without any relief from valuation or appraisement laws, for which he was bound as surety or otherwise, the remedy of such person shall also be enforced without any relief from such laws.

Provisions extend to heirs of sureties,

(5105) § 9. The foregoing provisions of this article shall extend to heirs, executors, and administrators of deceased persons; but the provisions concerning sureties giving notice to the creditors shall not operate against persons under legal disabilities.

Rate of interest.

(5106) § 10. In any case when a surety on any bill, note, bond or other instrument in writing shall be compelled to pay the debt or obligation of the principal debtor, such surety shall recover such rate of interest on the amount so paid by him for his principal as was originally provided for in such bill, note, bond or other instrument in writing held against the principal debtor, and the judgment therein shall bear the same rate of interest not exeeeding ten per cent per annum.

Recognizance, when a lien.

(5107) § 11. Every recognizance shall bind the real estate of the principal from the time it was taken, but shall only bind the real estate of surety from the time judgment of forfeiture was rendered.

Defective bond

(5108) § 12. No official bond entered into by any officer, or any bond, recognizance, or written undertaking taken by any officer in the discharge of the duties of his office, shall be void for want of form or substance or recital of condition, nor the principal or surety be discharged; but the principal and surety shall be bound by such bond, recognizance, or written undertaking to the full extent contemplated by the law requiring the same, and the sureties to the amount specified in the bond or recognizance. In all actions on a defective bond, recognizance, or written undertaking, the plaintiff or relator may suggest the defect in his complaint, and recover to the same extent as if such bond, recognizance, or written undertaking were perfect in all respects.

ARTICLE 39.—RECEIVERS.

SECTION.
1. When appointed.
2. Who shall not be.
3 Oath and bond.
4. Deposit of money in court.
5. Failure to deposit, order of sheriff.
6. Money not to be loaned, exception.
7. Powers of receiver.
8. Court may enforce payment.
9. Notice of application, exception.
10. Apppeal in ten days.

When appointed.

(5109) § 1. A receiver may be appointed by the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, in the following cases:

First. In an action by a vendor to vacate a fraudulent purchase of property, or by a creditor to subject any property or fund to his claim.

Second. In actions between partners, or persons jointly interested in any property or fund.

Third. In all actions, when it is shown that the property, fund, or rents and profits in controversy is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured.

Fourth. In actions by mortgagee for the foreclosure of a mortgage and the sale of the mortgaged property, when it appears that such property is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured; or when such property is not sufficient to discharge the mortgaged debt,—to secure the application of the rents and profits accruing before a sale can be made. And in cases where the mortgage provides for a receiver.

Fifth. When a corporation has been dissolved, or is insolvent or is in imminent danger of insolvency, or has forfeited its corporate rights.

Sixth. To protect or preserve, during the time allowed for redemption, any real estate or interest therein sold on execution or order of sale, and to secure to the person entitled thereto the rents and profits thereof.

Seventh. And in such other cases as may be provided by law; or where in the discretion of the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, it may be necessary to secure ample justice to the party.

Who shall not be.

(5110) § 2. No party or attorney, or other person interested in an action, shall be appointed receiver therein.

Oath and bond.

(5111) § 3. Before entering upon his duties, the receiver must be sworn to perform them faithfully, and with one or more sureties, approved by the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, execute a written undertaking, payable to such person as the court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall direct, to the effect that he will faithfully discharge the duties of a receiver in the action and obey the orders of the court or the judge thereof.

Deposit of money in court

(5112) § 4. When it is admitted by the pleading or examination of a party that he has in his possession or under his control any money or other thing capable of delivery, which, being the subject of litigation, is held by him as trustee for another party, or which belongs or is due to another party, the court, or the judge thereof in vacation. may order the same to be deposited in court, or with the clerk thereof in vacation, or deliver to such party with or without security, subject to the further order of the court or the judge thereof.

(5113) § 5. Whenever, in the exercise of its authority, a court, or the judge thereof in vacation, shall have ordered the deposit or delivery of money or other thing, and the order is disobeyed, the court or the judge, besides punishing the disobedience as for contempt, may make an order requiring the sheriff to take the money or thing, and deposit it or deliver it in conformity with the direction of the court or judge thereof. Failure to deposit, order of sheriff.

(5114) § 6. Money deposited or paid into court, or with the clerk thereof, in an action, shall not be loaned out, unless with the consent of all the parties having an interest in or making claim to the same. Money not to be loaned, exception.

(5115) § 7. The receiver shall have power, under the control of the court, or of the judge thereof in vacation, to bring and defend actions, to take and keep possession of the property, to receive rents, collect debts in his own name, and generally to do such acts respecting the property, as the court or the judge thereof may authorize. Power of receiver

(5116) § 8. When the answer of the defendant admits part of the plaintiff's claim to be just, the court, on motion, may order the defendant to satisfy that part of the claim, and may enforce the order by execution. Court may enforce payment.

(5117) § 9. Receivers shall not be appointed either in term or vacation, in any case, until the adverse party shall have appeared, or shall have had reasonable notice of the application for such appointment, except upon sufficient cause shown by affidavit. Notice of application exception.

(5118) § 10. In all cases hereafter commenced or now pending in any of the courts of this Territory, in which a receiver may be appointed or refused, the party aggrieved may, within ten days thereafter, appeal from the decision of the court to the Supreme Court, without awaiting the final determination of such case, and in cases where a receiver shall be or has been appointed upon the appellant filing an appeal bond with sufficient sureties, in such sum as may have been required of such receiver, conditioned for the due prosecution of such appeal, and the payment of all costs and damages that may accrue to any officer or person by reason thereof, the authority of such receiver shall be suspended until the final determination of such appeal. Appeal in ten days claimed by any person other than the defendant, the owner or claimant may bring an action for the possession thereof.

Affidavit for delivery.

(5120) § 2. The plaintiff may at the time of issuing the summons or at any time before answer claim the immediate delivery of such property as provided in this act. When a delivery is claimed an affidavit must be made by the plaintiff, or some one in his behalf, showing:

First. That the plaintiff is the owner of the property, or that he is then lawfully entitled to the possession thereof, and particularly describe it.

Second. That the same has not been taken for tax, assessment, or fine, pursuant to a statute, or seized under an execution or attachment against the property of the plaintiff, or if so seized that it is by a statute exempt from such seizure.

Third. That the property has been wrongfully taken, or is unlawfully detained by the defendant, or is unlawfully detained.

Fourth. The estimated value of the property, and in what county the same is believed to be detained.

Order for delivery.

(5121) § 3. When such affidavit is filed with the clerk he shall issue an order for the seizure of the property and delivery thereof to the plaintiff.

Contents of order.

(5122) § 4. The order shall be directed and delivered to the sheriff. It shall state the name of the parties to the action and the court in which action is brought and direct the sheriff to take the property, describing it and deliver it to the plaintiff and direct him to make return of his doings thereon.

Order, how executed. receiver

(5123) § 5. The sheriff shall forthwith proceed to execute the order, by taking possession of the property described in the affidavit, or so much as can be found; and the defendant, or some person in his behalf, within twenty-four hours thereafter, shall execute a written undertaking, payable to the plaintiff with sufficient surety to be approved by the sheriff, to the effect that the defendant shall safely keep the property, that the same shall not be in any way injured or damaged, and that he will deliver the same to the plaintiff if judgment shall be rendered to that effect, and also that he will pay to the plaintiff all such sums of money as he may recover in the action, then the sheriff shall deliver the property to the defendant. But if such undertaking is not given within the time aforesaid, then the sheriff shall deliver the property to the plaintiff on receiving from him or some person on his behalf within twenty-four hours thereafter a written undertaking, payable to the defendant with sufficient surety to be approved by the sheriff, to the effect that the plaintiff will prosecute his action with effect and that he will return the property to the defendant, if return be adjudged by the court, and that he will pay to the defendant all such sums of money as may be recovered in the action for any cause whatever, and in default of the undertaking being given, the property shall be returned to the defendant, but the action shall not be dismissed or delayed thereby. And if the property claimed by the plaintiff shall have a peculiar value, that cannot be compensated by damages, either party, in term time or vacation, may by affidavit upon notice to the other, move the judge of the court in which said cause is pending to appoint a receiver to take possession of the property, and keep the same until determination of the litigation in the cause, or until the further order of the court. And the judge upon such application shall make such order in the premises as will protect the rights of the parties.

Breaking open buildings.

(5124) § 6. If the property, or any part thereof, be concealed in a building or enclosure, the sheriff shall demand its delivery, and if it shall not be delivered, he shall cause the building or enclosure to be broken open, and take the property into his possession, and if necessary, he may call to his aid the power of the county. If the sheriff cannot find the property, or any part thereof, the action shall not abate, but be prosecuted to final judgment.

Custody of property.

(5125) § 7. The sheriff shall safely keep the property during the time prescribed by the statute, and shall be allowed by the court the necessary expenses for doing so, to be paid by the plaintiff and taxed in the costs, if the property is recovered by the plaintiff. When it appears by the affidavit of the plaintiff, or any person on his behalf, or by the return of the officer, that the property claimed has been disposed of or concealed so that the order cannot be executed, the court may compel the attendance of the defendant, examine him on oath as to the situation of the property, and punish a wilful obstruction, or hinderance of the execution of the order and a disobedience of the orders of the court in this respect, as in cases of a contempt.

Orders to different counties.

(5126) § 8. When the property is removed to another county after the commencement of the action, an order may at any time before judgment, be directed to such county for the seizure and delivery of the property claimed; and several orders to different counties may issue at the same time, at the option of the plaintiff, and the costs shall be taxed as the court shall direct. Such order to another county shall be served, and the property be delivered to the plaintiff, and the order returnable in the manner and upon the same terms as above provided.

Fraudulent concealment, etc, fact returned

(5127) § 9. In all actions for the recovery of the possession of personal property upon affidavit filed as provided in this act, if the defendant shall fraudulently conceal, remove, transfer, withhold, or refuse to deliver the property mentioned in the affidavit of the plaintiff or his agent, with a view to defraud the plaintiff, the sheriff, or officer charged with the execution of the order to take such property into his possession, shall indorse the fact of such concealment, removal, transfer, withholding, or refusal by said defendant upon said order, and make return thereof to the court whence it issues.

Summons to show cause.

(5128) § 10. Upon the filing of such return, on application of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, the clerk or court who issues such order shall issue a summons requiring said defendant to appear before the court at the time set for the trial of said cause, to show why an execution against his body should not issue.

Service, proceedings.

(5129) § 11. Such summons shall be served and returned in the same manner as other summons; and if the defendant fail to appear, the trial of the issues shall proceed in his absence, according to the rule of practice in other cases.

Issue, when tried.

(5130) § 12. The issue to be tried shall be the truth of the facts alleged in the plaintiff's affidavit and the officer's return endorsed on the order, which issue shall be tried at the time of the trial of the original suit.

Execution against body.

(5131) § 13. If such trial be determined against such defendant, and he will not forthwith surrender for the benefit of the plaintiff the property mentioned in such affidavit found to have been concealed, removed, transferred, or withheld by him, or pay the value thereof into the court, an execution shall issue forthwith against his body, and he be arrested and committed to the prison of the county, there to be confined until duly discharged according to law.

Publication, how made.

(5132) § 1. Publications of legal and other official matters printed in the English language shall be lawful if published in any newspaper of general circulation published in the county.

Time, how computed

(5133) § 2. The time within which an act is to be done, as herein provided, shall be computed by excluding the first day and including the last. If the last day be Sunday, it shall be excluded.

Surety, examination of.

(5134) § 3. Every court and officer authorized to take any bail or surety shall have power to examine on oath, the person offering to become such bail or surety, concerning his property and sufficiency as bail or surety.

Money substitute for bail

(5135) § 4. Any person required to give bail may deposit with the clerk the amount of money for which he is required to give bail and thereupon be discharged from arrest.

Defective appeal bonds, new bonds.

(5136) § 5, In all cases where an appeal shall be taken from a justice of the peace, board of county commissioners, viewers, or commissioners to assess damages, or from any other person or tribunal, to the district court, and the appeal bond filed in such case shall be defective in substance or form, or for want of proper approval, such case shall not be dismissed on account of such defect or informality, if the appellant will when required by the court to which such appeal is taken, file in such court a sufficient bond, with surety to the acceptance of such court, in such sum as such court shall require.

Costs accrued, additional bond.

(5137) § 6. In all such appeal cases, when costs shall have accrued so as to render the sum named in the appeal-bond insufficient to secure the same, the court in which such appeal is pending shall require the appellant to give an additional bond in such sum as the court shall deem sufficient, with surety to the acceptance of such court; and if the appellant fail or refuse so to do, such appeal shall be dismissed.

Certain words, how construed.

(5138) § 7. In the construction of this act, the following rules shall be observed, when consistent with the context:

The word "sheriff" means the sheriff of the county or any other person authorized to perform his duties in any case.

9. Occupying and acts leading to ownership.
10. Claimant put in possession.
11. Cause, when docketed.
12. Improvements precedent and subsequent.
13. Rental a set-off against improvements.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Ejectment of claimant

(5144) § 1. When a person qualified under the laws of the United States to make legal settlement upon public lands in Oklahoma has in good faith settled upon land or town lots, while the same was a part of the public domain of the United States, and made valuable improvements thereon, under such circumstances as to give him good reason to believe, and in addition thereto if he did believe, that he had a right to improve the land or lots so settled upon, and in any contest before the land departments to which the occupant, or any of his assignors, were parties by themselves or by trustees or agents acting for the settlers on the land in dispute, or if in an action in court to remove the settler from the land or lots, he is found not to be entitled to the same, he shall not be removed therefrom until his rights as occupying claimant are adjusted and his improvements paid for as in this act provided.

Dispossession.

(5145) § 2. When an occupant of land or lots other than public domain has color of title thereto, and has in good faith made any valuable improvements thereon and is afterwards in any action found not to be the rightful owner thereof, he shall not be deprived of the possession of the property until the provisions of this act have been complied with.

Improvements, recovery of value

(5146) § 3. Any person occupying land or lots as provided in section one or two, shall be allowed sixty days after the final determination that he is not entitled to the possession of the same, in which to file his petition for the recovery of the value of the improvements by him so made upon the land or lots, which petition must be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which the land or lots is located, and during said sixty days no execution shall issue for his removal therefrom, or the occupying claimant may file his petition as a counter-claim in any action at law brought against him to recover the land or lots, but such counter-claim shall not be tried until there is a finding that the occupying claimant is not entitled to the land or lots in controversy.

Counter-claim, petition.

(5147) § 4. Such petition or counter-claim must set forth the ground on which the occupying claimant seeks relief, stating the judgment or finding of the land officers of the United States against him, or judgment of the proper court and stating as accurately as possible the circumstances under which he improved the land or lots and the value of the improvements upon the land or lots as well as the value of the same apart from the improvements.

Joinder of issue, costs, etc.

(5148) § 5. Summons shall issue and be served, and issues thereon shall be joined and the cause be tried as in ordinary actions, and if the value of the land or lots or improvements is in controversy, the separate value of each must be ascertained and fixed by the verdict of the jury and judgment of the court, and the costs in such cases may be apportioned in such manner as the courts may deem just and proper.

Taking property.

(5149) § 6. The claimant to the land or lots may thereupon pay into court the value of the improvements as fixed by the judgment and take the property; should he fail to do this after a reasonable time, to be fixed by the court, the plaintiff may take the property upon paying the value of the land or lots aside from the improvements.

Tenants in common.

(5150) § 7. If this be not done in a reasonable time, to be fixed by the court, the parties will be held to be tenants in common of the land or lots including the improvements, each holding an interest proportionate to the value of his property as ascertained by the judgment, and may maintain action for partition as between themselves.

Tax sales.

(5151) § 8. The purchaser in good faith at any judicial or tax sale made by the proper officer, has color of title within the meaning of this act, whether such person or officer has sufficient authority to sell or not, unless such want of authority was known to such person at the time of the sale. The rights of such purchaser shall pass to his assignee or representatives in all cases.

Title by occupancy.

(5152) § 9. Any person has also such color of title who has occupied the tract of land or lots by himself, or by those under whom he claims, for the term of five years, if he or those under whom he claims have at any time during such occupancy with the knowledge or consent expressed or implied of the real owner made any valuable improvements thereon, or if he or those under whom he claims have at any time during such occupancy paid the ordinary taxes assessed by the county for any one year, and two years thereafter have elapsed without the payment or proffer of repayment of the same by the owner of the land or lots, and such occupancy is continued up to the time suit is brought in which the recovery of the same is obtained; but nothing in this act shall be construed to give tenants color of title against their landlords.

Claimant, how possessed.

(5153) § 10. If the value of the improvements, as found by the judgment, be paid by the claimant of the land or lots, he shall be entitled to an order and execution for the possession of the same.

Chap. 70.

Cause, when docketed.

(5154) § 11. If the occupying claimant pay the value of the land or lots as fixed by the judgmemt, the cause shall be docketed and proceeded with at the next term of court, without further notice, and a decree entered quieting the title to the land or lots in the occupying claimant, his heirs or assigns.

Improvements, date of.

(5155) § 12. The occupying claimant shall not recover for the improvements made upon the land or lots after the same has been awarded to the adverse party, but he may recover for all improvements made in good faith before such adjudication is had.

Rent, a set-off.

(5156) § 13. The claimant of the land or lots shall be entitled to the rental value of the same in the condition it was before any improvements of the occupying claimant were placed thereon, which rental value may be set off against the value of the improvements at the time of the trial, and the judgment shall be for the value of the improvements less the rental value so found.

ARTICLE 43.—TIME IN WHICH ACTIONS MAY BE BROUGHT

AN ACT to Prescribe the Time in which Civil Actions May be Brought.

[Took effect December 25, 1890.]

SECTION.

1. Five year's limitation.
2. Time of commencing civil action.
3. Fraud, mistake, trespass.
4. Current account.
5. Delivery of summons.
6. Period of limitation and non-residents.
7. Action barred by previous residence.
8. Limitation extended for insane and minors.
9. Death of party entitled to action.
10. Failure to prosecute, second suit.
11. Circulating mediums exempt.
12. Cause of action revived by written admission of debt.
13. Counter claim not baired, a defense.
14. Statute of limitation, when inoperative.
15. Same, when first in effect.
16. School fund exempt.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Five years limitation.

(5157) § 1. No action shall be brought within this Territory to revive any judgment rendered in any court in this Territory unless commenced within five years after the same was originally rendered, and then such judgment may be revived and have such force and effect as when rendered.

Time of commencing action.

(5158) § 2. The following actions may be brought within the time herein limited respectively after their causes accrue and not afterwards, except when otherwise specially declared: Actions founded on injuries to the person or reputation, whether based on contract or tort, or for a statute penalty, or on judgments of foreign courts within two years. Action to enforce a mechanic's lien within one year from the filing of the statement for such lien. Those against a sheriff or other public officer, growing out of a liability incurred by the doing of an act in an official capacity, or by the omission of an official duty, including the non-payment of money collected on execution within three years. If founded on any unwritten contract, those brought for injuries to property or for relief on the ground of fraud, and in aid of other actions not otherwise provided for in this act, within three years. Those founded on written contracts, and those brought for the recovery of real property within five years. Those founded on a judgment of a court of the United States within twenty years.

Fraud, mistake, trespass

(5159) § 3. In actions for relief on the ground of fraud or mistake, and in actions for trespass to property, the cause of action shall not be deemed to have accrued until the fraud, mistake or trespass complained of shall have been discovered by the party aggrieved.

Current account

(5160) § 4. When there is a continuous open current account, the cause of action shall be deemed to have accrued on the date of the last item of debit or credit entered therein as proved on the trial.

Delivery of summons

(5161) § 5. The delivery of the summons to the sheriff or other officer of the proper county, with intent that it shall be served immediately, which intent shall be presumed unless the contrary appear, or the actual service of the summons by another person, or the filing of the petition in court, is a commencement of the action.

Non-resident.

(4162) § 6. The time which the defendant is a non-resident of the Territory shall not be included in computing any of the periods of limitation above prescribed.

Action barred by previous residence

(5163) § 7. When a cause of action has been fully barred by the laws of any country or state where the defendant has previously resided, such bar shall be a full and complete defence, but this section shall not apply to causes of action arising within this Territory.

Limitation for insane and minors.

(5164) § 8. The time limited for actions herein shall, in favor of minors as defined by this act, or insane persons, be extended so that they shall have one year after the termination of such disability within which to commence their action.

Death of party entitled to action

(5165) § 9. If the person entitled to bring any action [die] within one year prior to the expiration of the limitation above provided, the limitation shall not apply until one year after such death.

Failure to prosecute, second suit

(5166) § 10. If after the commencement of an action, the plaintiff fail therein for any cause except negligence in its prosecution, and a new suit be brought within six months thereafter, the second suit shall, for the purpose herein comtemplated, be deemed a continuation of the first.

Circulating medium exempt.

(5167) § 11. The above limitations and provisions shall not apply to evidences of debt intended to circulate as money, but shall, in other respects, be applicable to all actions brought by or against all bodies corporate or politic, except when otherwise expressly declared.

Cause of action revived.

(5168) § 12. Causes of action founded on contract, are revived by an admission that the debt is unpaid, as well as by a new promise to pay the same, but such admission or new promise must be in writing and signed by the party to be charged thereby.

Counter-claim

(5169) § 13. A proper counter-claim may be pleaded as a defense to any cause of action, notwithstanding the same is barred by the provisions of this article, if such counter-claim so pleaded was the property of the party pleading it at the time it became barred, and the same was not barred at the time the claim sued on originated; but no judgment thereon, except for costs, can be rendered in favor of the party pleading the same.

Statute of limitation, inoperative.

(5170) § 14. When the commencement of an action shall be stayed by injunction or statutory prohibition, the time of the continuance of such injunction or prohibition shall not be a part of the time limited for the commencement of the action, and as to that action while so enjoined or prohibited, the statute of limitation shall not run.

Same, when first in effect.

(5171) § 15. The statute of limitations shall not be held to have commenced running against any action accruing to a party within the Territory of Oklahoma or in the Indian Territory after the opening of the Oklahoma lands to settlement, until the 2nd day of May, 1890.

School fund exempt.

(5172) § 16. The provisions of this act shall not be applicable to any action brought on any contract for part of the school fund.

18. Justices' quarterly report to county board.

ARTICLE 1.—THE JURISDICTION OF JUSTICE'S COURTS.

SECTION.
1. Justices' office kept where.
2. Civil jurisdiction of justices classified.
3. Criminal jurisdiction.

When justices shall keep their offices.

(5173) § 1. Justices of the peace must keep their offices and hold their courts at some place selected by them, in their respective townships and counties, in and for which they may be elected and these courts are always open for the transaction of business.

Civil jurisdiction of courts of justices of the peace classified and limited.

(5174) § 2. The civil jurisdiction of these courts, within their respective counties, extends:

First. To an action arising on contract, for the recovery of money only, where the sum claimed does not exceed one hundred dollars.

Second. To an action for damages for injury to the person or for taking or detaining personal property, or for injuring personal property, or for an injury to real property, where the title or boundary of such of such real property does not in anywise come in question, and where the damages claimed do not exceed one hundred dollars.

Third. To an action for a fine, penalty or forfeiture, not exceeding one hundred dollars, given by statute or the ordinance of an incorporated city or town.

Fourth. To an action upon a bond or undertaking conditioned for the payment of money, not exceeding one hundred dollars, though the penalty exceed that sum the judgment to be given for the sum actually due. When the payments are to be made by installments, an action may be brought for each installment as it becomes due.

Fifth. To an action to recover the possession of personal property when the value of such property does not exceed one hundred dollars.

Sixth. To take and enter judgment on the confession of a defendant when the amount confessed does not exceed one hundred dollars.

Seventh. To actions for forcible entry and detainer, or detainer only of real property, where the title or boundary thereof in no-wise comes in question.

Criminal jurisdiction.

(5175) § 3. These courts shall have criminal jurisdiction to try and determine all cases of misdemeanor committed within their respective counties not indictable where the punishment is a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment. And as to all public offences which are indictable, they have the power of committing magistrate.

ARTICLE 2.—PLACE OF TRIAL.

SECTION.
1. Actions commenced and tried, where.
2. Causes for change of place of trial.
3. But one change, when; where case shall be sent.
4. Proceedings on change of place.
5. Jurisdiction of new court.
6. Title to lands cannot be tried by justice.

Actions commenced and tried, where.

(5176) § 1. Actions in justices' courts must be commenced, and subject to the right to change the place of trial as hereinafter provided, must be tried in the county where the defendant resides, or in which he may be summoned.

Causes for change of place of trial.

(5177) § 2. The court may at any time before the trial, on motion, change the place of trial in the following cases:

First. Where it appears to the satisfaction of the justice before whom the action is pending, by affidavit of either party, that such justice is a material witness for either party.

Second. Where either party makes and files an affidavit, that he believes he cannot have a fair and impartial trial, before such justice, by reason of the interest, prejudice or bias of the justice.

Third. When from any cause the justice is disqualified from acting.

Fourth. When the justice is sick or unable to act.

But one change when, where case shall be sent

(5178) § 3. When the court orders the place of trial to be changed, the action must be transferred to a justice's court the parties may agree upon; if they do not so agree, then the party not applying for the change, may file his affidavit alleging against any one justice to whom it is proposed to transfer the cause, the existance of any of the grounds for the change named in section 5177, and the cause shall not then be transferred to that justice, but shall be sent to the next nearest justice in the same county. If after such changes are granted, it be made to appear to the justice that any justice other than the ones before objected to, is related to either of the parties by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree, or is a witness, or has been employed as an attorney in the action the cause shall be transferred to the next nearest justice in the county, against whom none of the last named objections do exist. Thereafter no changes of place of trial shall be allowed in the cause. Such change shall not be allowed before the time set for hearing the cause unless the parties sooner appear.

Proceedings on change of place,

(5179) § 4. After an order has been made transferring the action for trial to another court the following proceedings must be had:

First. The justice ordering the transfer must immediately transmit to the justice of the court to which it is transferred, on payment by the party applying of one dollar for the transcript, all the papers in the action, together with a certified transcript from his docket of the proceedings therein.

Second. Upon the receipt by him of such papers, the justice of the court to which the case is transferred, must proceed with the trial, and no notice of the time of trial need be given, but the justice if unable to proceed with the trial, may set a day for its hearing, and if the parties be not then present, shall issue notice at least one day before the time fixed for the trial, and the manner of service shall be the same as in cases of service of a summons.

Jurisdiction of new court.

(5180) § 5. From the time the order changing the place of trial is made, the court to which the action is thereby transferred, has the same jurisdiction over it as though it had been commenced in such court.

Title to lands cannot be tried by justice.

(5181) § 6. The parties to an action in a justice's court cannot introduce evidence upon any matter wherein the title to, or boundary of, real property in anywise comes in question; and if it appear from the answer of the defendant, verified by his oath, that the determination of the action will necessarily involve the question of title to, or boundary of, real property, in anywise, the justice must suspend all further proceedings in the action, and certify the pleadings, and if any of the pleadings are oral, a transcript of the same from his docket, to the clerk of the district court of the county or subdivision, on the payment by the plaintiff of one dollar for such transcript, and all costs accrued before such justice; and from the time of filing such pleadings or transcript with the clerk, the district court has over the action the same jurisdiction as if it had been commenced therein.

ARTICLE 3.—MANNER OF COMMENCING ACTIONS.

SECTION.
1. Action commenced, how.
2. Parties in person or by attorney.
3. Infants' appearance.
4. Summons must state what.
5. Time for defendant's appearance
6. Service of Summons, limitation of time.
7. Who may serve summons, by publication.
8. One hour for appearance.

Action commenced, how.

(5182) § 1. An action in a justice's court is commenced by issuing the summons, or by the voluntary appearance and pleading of the parties.

Parties in person or by attorney.

(5183) § 2. Parties in justices' courts may appear and act in person or by attorney; and any person, except by whom the summons or jury process was served, may act as attorney.

Infant's appearance,

(5184) § 3. When an infant is a party, he must appear either by his general guardian, if he have one, or by a guardian appointed by the justice, as follows:

First. If the infant be plaintiff the appointment must be made before the summons is issued, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years; if under that age, upon the application of a relative or friend.

Second. If the infant be defendant, the guardian must be appointed at the time the summons is returned, or before the answer. It is the right of the infant to nominate his own guardian, if the infant be over fourteen years of age, otherwise the justice must make the appointment.

Summons must state, what.

(5185) § 4. The summons must be directed to the defendant and signed by the justice, or the plaintiff, or his attorney, and must contain:

First. The title of the court, name of the county or township in which the action is commenced, and the names of the parties thereto.

Second. A sufficient statement of the cause of action, in general terms to appraise the defendant of the nature of the claim against him.

Third. A direction that the defendant appear and answer before the justice at his office, at a time specified in the summons.

Fourth. In an action arising on a contract, for the recovery of money or damages only, a notice that unless the defendant so appears and answers, the plaintiff will take judgment for the sum claimed by him, stating it.

Fifth. In other actions, a notice that unless the defendant so appears and answers, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded. If the plaintiff has appeared by attorney, the name of the attorney must be indorsed on the summons.

Time for defendant's appearance.

(5186) § 5. The time specified in the summons for the appearance of the defendant, shall in all cases be not less than three nor more than twelve days from the date of the service of the same.

Limitation of time of service of summons, when service in another county

(5187) § 6. The summons cannot be served out of the county of the justice before whom the action is brought, except where the action is brought upon a joint contract or obligation of two or more persons who reside in different counties, and the summons has been served upon the defendant resident of the county, or found therein, in which case the summons may be served upon the other defendants out of the county, When the defendant resides in the county, or is summoned therein, the summons cannot be served within two days of the time fixed for the appearance of the defendant; when he resides out of the county, and the summons is served out of the county, the summons cannot be served within seven days of such time.

Who may serve summons by publication

(5188) § 7. The summons may be served by a sheriff, constable or any other person not a party to the action and must be served and returned in the same manner as summons in the district court, or in actions of attachment, it may be served by publication as provided by the civil procedure, and so far as they relate to the publication of summons, they are made applicable to justices' court, the word "justice," being substituted for the word, "judge," whenever the latter word occurs: Provided, That when a summons is to be served out of the county in which it was issued the summons shall have attached to it a certificate under seal by the clerk of the district court to the effect that the person issuing the same was an acting justice of the peace at the date of the summons: Provided, however, That whenever any summons or other process shall be served by any person other than a sheriff or other duly elected and qualified officer, no fees shall be allowed therefor, either for mileage in travelling or making such service, or for serving said summons or process.

One hour for appearance.

(5189) § 8. The parties are entitled to one hour in which to appear after the time fixed in the summons but are not bound to remain longer than that time unless both parties have appeared, and the justice, being present, is engaged in the trial of another cause.

ARTICLE 4.—PLEADINGS.

SECTION.
1. Manner of pleading in justice's court.
2. Order of pleading.
3. Complaint is what.
4. Demurrer, when.
5. Answer, contain what.
6. Demurrer to the answer.
7. Proceedings on demurrer.
8. Amendments to pleadings.
9. Pleading to the amended pleading.

Manner of pleading in justices court.

(5190) § 1. Pleadings in justices' court:

First. Are not required to be in any particular form, but must be such as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.

Second. May be oral or in writing.

Third. Must be verified.

Fourth. If in writing must be filed with the justice.

Fifth. If oral an entry of their substance must be made in the docket and sworn to before the summons is issued.

Order of pleading.

(5191) § 2. The pleadings are:

First. The complaint by plaintiff.

Second. A motion or demurrer to the complaint.

Third. The answer by the defendant.

Fourth. A motion or demurrer to the answer.

Fifth. Reply to the answer.

Complaint is what

(5192) § 3. The complaint in justices' courts is a concise statement of the facts constituting the plaintiff's cause of action.

Demurrer, when.

(5193) § 4. The defendant may, at any time before answering, demur to the complaint.

Answer, contain what.

(5194) § 5. The answer may contain a denial of any or all of the material facts stated in the complaint, which the defendant believes to be untrue; and also a statement, in a plain and direct manner, of any other facts constituting a defense or counter-claim, upon which an action might be brought by the defendant against the plaintiff in a justice's court.

Demurrer to the answer.

(5195) § 6. When the answer contains new matter in avoidance, or constituting a defense or a counter-claim, the plaintiff may, at any time before the trial, demur to the same for insufficiency, stating therein the grounds of such demurrer.

Proceedings on the demurrer.

(5196) § 7. The proceedings on demurrer are as follows:

First. If the demurrer to the complaint is sustained, the plaintiff may, within such time, not exceeding two days, as the court allows, amend his complaint.

Second. If the demurrer to a complaint is overruled, the defendant may answer forthwith.

Third. If the demurrer to an answer be sustained, the defendant may amend his answer within such time, not exceeding two days, as the court may allow.

Fourth. If the demurrer to an answer is overruled, the plaintiff may, if the answer contain new matter, reply forthwith. If the answer does not contain new matter, the action must proceed as if no demurrer had been interposed.

Amendments to pleadings, when allowed.

(5197) § 8. Either party may, at any time before the conclusion of the trial, amend any pleading; but if the amendment is made after the issue, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court by oath, that an adjournment is necessary to the adverse party, in consequence of such amendment, an adjournment must be granted. The court may also, in its discretion, when an adjourment will, by the amendment, be rendered necessary, require, as a condition to the allowance of such amendment, made after issues joined, the payment of such costs to the adverse party as he may be put to by reason of such adjournment. The court may also, on such terms as may be just, and on payment of costs, relieve a party from a judgment by default, taken against him by his mistake, inadvertance, surprise, or excusable neglect; but the application for such relief must be made within ten days after the entry of the judgment, and upon an affidavit showing good cause therefor.

Pleading to the amended pleading.

(5198) § 9. When pleading is amended, the adverse party may answer or demur to it within such time, not exceeding two days as the court may allow.

ARTICLE 5.—ATTACHMENTS.

SECTION.
1. When writ of attachment may issue.
2. Undertaking by the plaintiff.
3. Requisites of the writ.
4. Service and return of the writ.

When writ of attachment may issue

(5199) § 1. In the cases mentioned in the law relating to attachments in civil procedure, a writ to attach the personal property of the defendant must be issued by the justice at the time of, or after issuing the summons and before answer, on receiving an affidavit, by or on behalf of the plaintiff, stating the same facts as are required to be stated by the affidavit specified in the article on attachments in civil procedure.

Undertaking by plaintiff.

(5200) § 2. Before issuing the writ, the justice must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with two or more sufficient sureties in a sum not less than fifty nor more than three hundred dollars, to the effect that if the defendant recover judgment, the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking.

Requisites of the writ.

(5201) § 3. The writ may be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, and must require him to attach and safely keep all the personal property of the defendant within his county, not exempt from execution, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, the amount of which must be stated in conformity with the complaint, unless the defendant give him security, by the undertaking of two sufficient sureties, in an amount sufficient to satisfy such demand besides costs; in which case, to take such undertaking.

Service and return of writ.

(5202) § 4. The writ may be served by the sheriff or any constable of the county in which it is issued, and returned in the same manner as warrants of attachment are served and returned in actions in the district court, and with the same force and effect.

ARTICLE 6.—CLAIM AND DELIVERY OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

SECTION.
1. Action for claim and delivery.

Action for claim and delivery.

(5203) § 1. In an action to recover possession of personal property, the plaintiff may, at the time of issuing summons, or at any time thereafter before answer, claim the delivery of such property to him, and the provisions in relation to the recovery of of the possession of personal property in civil procedure is applicable to such claim when made in justices' courts, the powers therein given and the duties imposed on sheriffs being extended to constables and the word "justice" substituted for "judge."

ARTICLE 7.—JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT.

SECTION.
1 Proceedings upon default.
2. Default presumed, when.

Proceedings upon default.

(5204) § 1. When the defendant fails to appear and answer or demur, at the time specified in the summons, or within one hour thereafter, then upon proof of service of the summons, the following proceedings must be had:

First. If the action is based upon a contract and is for the recovery of money or damages only, the court must render judgment in favor of plaintiff for the sum specified in the summons.

Second. In all other actions the court must hear the evidence offered by the plaintiff, and must render judgment in his favor for such a sum, not exceeding the amount stated in the summons, as appears by such evidence to be just.

Default presumed, when.

(5205) § 2. In the following cases the same proceedings must be had, and judgment must be rendered in like manner, as if the defendant had failed to appear and answer or demur:

First. If the complaint has been amended, and the defendant fails to answer it as amended within the time allowed by the court.

Second. If the demurrer to the complaint is overruled, and the defendant fails to answer at once.

Third. If the demurrer to the answer is sustained and the defendant fails to amend the answer within the time allowed by the court.

ARTICLE 8.—TIME OF TRIAL AND POSTPONEMENTS.

SECTION.
1. When trial shall commence.
2. Court may postpone trial.
3. Postponement by consent.
4. Postponement on application of party.
5. No adjournment for more than ten days

When trial shall commence.

(5206) § 1. Unless postponed as provided in this article, or unless transferred to another court, the trial of the action must commence at the expiration of one hour from the time specified in the summons for the appearance of defendant, and the trial must be continued without adjournment for more than twenty-four hours at any one time, until all issues therein are disposed of.

Court may postpone trial.

(5207) § 2. The court may, of its own motion, postpone the trial:

First. For not exceeding one day, if, at the time specified in the summons, or by an order of the court for the trial, the court is engaged in the trial of another action.

Second. For not exceeding two days, if, by an amendment of the pleadings, or the allowance of time to make such amendment, or to plead, a postponement is rendered necessary.

Third. For not exceeding three days, if the trial is upon issues of fact, and a jury has been demanded.

Postponement by consent.

(5208) § 3. The court may by consent of the parties, given in writing or in open court, postpone the trial to a time agreed upon by the parties.

Postponement on application of party, requisites.

(5209) § 4. The trial may be postponed upon the application of either party, for a period not exceeding sixty days:

First. The party making the application must prove, by his own oath or otherwise, that he cannot, for want of material testimony, which he expects to procure, safely proceed to trial, and must show in what respect the testimony expected is material, and that he has used due diligence to procure it, and has been unable to do so.

Second. The party making the application must, if required by the adverse party, consent that the testimony of any witness of such adverse party, who is in attendance, may be then taken by deposition before the justice, and that the testimony so taken may be read on the trial, with the same effect, and subject to the same objections as if the witness was produced; but the court may require the party making the application to state, upon affidavit, the evidence which he expects to obtain, and if the adverse party thereupon admits that such evidence would be given, and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial must not be postponed.

Third. If the trial be postponed the depositions of witnesses residing out of the county or Territory may be taken either upon commission issued by the justice, or upon notice to take depositions in the same manner as is provided by civil procedure; and such depositions shall, when completed, be directed to the justice, and be published by the justice in the same manner as depositions are published by the clerk of the district court.

No adjournment for more than ten days, exception.

(5210) § 5. No adjournment must, unless by consent, be granted for a period longer than ten days, upon the application of either party, except upon condition that such party file an undertaking in an amount fixed by the justice, with two sureties, to be approved by the justice, to the effect that they will pay to the opposite party the amount of any judgment which may be recovered against the party applying, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking.

ARTICLE 9.—TRIALS.

SECTION.
1. Issues classified.
2. Issues of law.
3. Issues of fact.
4. Issues of law tried by the court.
5. Issues of fact tried by the jury.
6. Jury may be waived.
7. Failure of one party to appear.
8. Jury, how drawn.
9. Challenges and talesmen.
10. Jury less than twelve.
11. Oath of jury.
12. Production and inspection of papers.
13. Genuineness admitted if not denied.

Issues classified

(5211) § 1. Issues arise upon the pleadings when a fact or conclusion of law is maintained by the one party and is controverted by the other. They are two kinds:

First. Of law; and,

Second. Of fact.

Issues of law.

(5212) § 2. An issue of law arises upon a demurrer to the complaint or answer, or to some part thereof.

Issues of fact.

(5213) § 3. An issue of fact arises.

First. Upon a material allegation in the complaint, controverted by the answer; and,

Second. Upon new matter in the answer, except an issue of law is joined thereon.

Issues of law tried by court,

(5214) § 4. An issue of law must be tried by the court.

Issue of fact tried by jury,

(5215) § 5. An issue of fact must be tried by a jury, unless a jury is waived, in which case it must be tried by the court.

Jury may be waived

(5216) § 6. A jury may be waived:

First. By consent of parties, entered in the docket.

Second. By a failure of either party to demand a jury before the commencement of the trial of an issue of fact.

Third. By the failure of either party to appear at the time fixed for the trial of an issue of fact.

Failure of one party to appear,

(5217) § 7. If either party fails to appear at the time fixed for trial, the trial may proceed, at the request of the adverse party.

Jury, how drawn.

(5218) § 8. When the value in controversy or the sum demanded exceeds twenty dollars, either party may demand a jury, and upon such demand the justice shall write down the names of eighteen persons, residents of the county, and having the qualifications of jurors in the district court, from which list of names each party, the plaintiff beginning, may strike out six names alternately, and in case of the absence of either party, or his refusal to strike out, the justice may strike out of such list such names, and the justice shall at once issue his venire directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, commanding him to summon the six persons whose names remain upon the list as jurymen.

Challenges and talesmen.

(5219) § 9. In case any juror summoned shall fail to attend, the justice shall direct the sheriff or any constable to return forthwith a sufficient number of talesmen, having the qualifications of jurors to complete the panel. Challenges to talesmen shall be admitted in the same manner, and for the same causes as in the district courts in civil actions, and must be tried in a summary manner by the justice, who may examine the juror challenged, or other witnesses under oath.

Jury less than welve.

(5220) § 10. Parties may agree that the jury may consist of a less number than six jurors, but an agreement to that effect must be in writing, signed by the parties and filed with the papers in the case, or made in open court, and a minute thereof entered by the justice in his docket.

Oath of jury.

(5221) § 11. The justice shall administer to the jurors the same oath as is prescribed for jurors in civil actions in the district court. Five jurors may in all civil cases tried in a justice's court return a verdict.

Production and inspection of papers.

(5222) § 12. When the cause of action or counter-claim arises upon an account or instrument for the payment of money only, the court at any time before the trial may by an order under his hand require the original to be exhibited to the inspection of and a copy to be furnished to the adverse party at such time as may be fixed in the order; or if such order is not obeyed, the account or instrument cannot be given in evidence.

Genuineness admitted if not denied.

(5223) § 13. If the plaintiff annex to his complaint, or file with the justice at the time of issuing the summons the original or a copy of the promissory note, bill of exchange, or other written obligation for the payment of money upon which the action is brought the defendant is deemed to admit the genuineness of the signatures of the makers, indorsers or assignors thereof, unless he specifically deny the same in his answer, and verify the answer by his oath.

4. On trial by the court.
5. Action to recover personal property.
6. Excess may be remitted.
7. Offer of judgment, costs.
8. Costs taxed, how.
9. Transcript of judgment.

Judgment by confession.

(5224) § 1. Judgments upon confession may be entered up in any justice's court specified in the confession.

Dismissal of action.

(5225) § 2. Judgment that the action be dismissed, without predjudice to a new action, may be entered, with costs, in the following cases:

First. When the plaintiff voluntarially dismisses the action before it is finally submitted.

Second. When he fails to appear at the time specified in the summons, or at the time to which the action has been postponed, or within one hour thereafter.

Third. When, after a demurrer to the complaint has been sustained, the plaintiff fails to amend it within the time allowed by the court.

Judgment entered; execution.

(5226) § 3. When a trial by jury has been had, judgment must be entered by the justice within twenty-four hours in conformity with the verdict, but execution may on application of either party be issued at once.

In trial by the court.

(5227) § 4. When the trial is by the court, judgment must be entered at the close of the trial.

Actions to recover personal property.

(5228) § 5. In actions to recover the possession of personal property, the judgment must be entered substantially in the form required by the provisions relating to the recovery of the possession of personal property in civil procedure.

Excess may be remitted.

(5229) § 6. When the amount found due to either party exceeds the sum for which the justice is authorized to enter judgment, such party may remit the excess, and judgment may be rendered for the residue.

Costs taxed, how.

(5230) § 7. If the defendant at any time before the trial offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken against him for a specified sum the plaintiff may immediately have judgment therefor, with the costs then accrued, but if he do not accept such offer before the trial, and fail to recover in the action a sum equal to the offer the cannot recover costs, but costs must be adjudged against him and if he recover costs, [but costs must be adjudged against him, and if he recovers] be deducted from his recovery. The offer and failure to accept it cannot be given in evidence nor affect the recovery otherwise than as to costs, and cannot be mentioned on the trial.

Costs taxed, how.

(5231) § 8. The justice must tax and include in the judgment the costs allowed by law to the prevailing party.

Transcript of judgment.

(5232) § 9. The justice on the demand of a party in whose favor judgment is rendered must give him a certified transcript thereof, on the payment to him of all costs accrued before him, and one dollar for such transcript.

SECTION.
1. Execution must issue within five years.
2. Requisites of execution.
3. Execntion on money judgment.
4. Execution for possession of peisonalty.
5. Execution in case of forcible entry and detainer.
6. Renewal of execution.
7. Sale of personalty under execution.

Execution must issue within five years.

(5233) § 1. Execution for the enforcement of a judgment of a justice's court may be issued by the justice who entered the judgment, or his successor in office, on the application of the party entitled thereto, at any time within five years from the entry of judgment, except when it has been taken to the district court on error or appeal, or docketed therein.

Requisites of the execution.

(5234) § 2. The execution must be directed to the sheriff or any constable within the county, and must be subscribed by the justice and bear the date of its delivery to the officer. It must intelligibly refer to the judgment, stating the names of the parties thereto. in whose favor, against whom, the time when, the county where, and the name of the justice before whom the judgment was rendered; and it must be made returnable to the justice within thirty days after its date.

Execution on money judgment.

(5235) § 3. An execution issued upon a judgment for a sum of money must state in the body thereof the sum actually due upon the judgment, and it must substantially require the officer to satisfy the judgment, together with interest and costs, out of the personal property of the judgment-debtor; and to bring the money before the justice by the return day of the execution, to be rendered by the justice to the party who recovered the judgment. If the judgment was rendered for a fine, penalty or forfeiture of undertakings and bonds, or of recognizances taken or entered in a criminal case, the justice must indorse that fact on the execution.

Execution for possession of personalty.

(5236) § 4. An execution entered upon a judgment for the delivery of the possession of personal property, shall substantially require the officer to deliver the possession of the same, particularly describing it, to the party entitled thereto; and may, at the same time require the officer to satisfy any costs or damages recovered by the judgment, out of the personal property of the party against whom it was rendered, and the value of the property for which the judgment was recovered to be specified therein, if a delivery cannot be had.

Execution in case of forcible entry and detainer.

(5237) § 5. An execution issued upon a judgment in an action of forcible entry and detainer, or detainer only, of real property, shall substantially require the officer to deliver the possession of the premises, particularly describing them, to the party entitled thereto, and may at the same time require the officer to satisfy the costs out of the personal property of the party against whom the judgment was rendered.

Renewal of execution,

(5238) § 6. An execution may, at the request of the judgment creditor, be renewed before the expiration of the time fixed for its return, by the word "renewed" written thereon, with the date thereof, and subscribed by the justice. Such renewal has the effect of an original issue, and may be repeated as often as necessary. If an execution is returned unsatisfied, another may be afterward issued.

Sale of personalty under execution.

(5239) § 7. The provisions of civil procedure relating to the levy and sale or delivery of personal property, so far as the same are applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, apply to and govern the levy, sale and delivery of personal property, under execution issued by a justice of the peace. And the constable, when the execution is directed to him, is vested for that purpose with all the powers of the sheriff: Provided, That notice shall not be published in a newspaper, but shall be given by posting for ten days in five public places within the county, one of which shall be at the office of the justice issuing the execution.

ARTICLE 12.—CONTEMPTS IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

SECTION.
1. Acts that constitute contempts.
2. Summary punishment.
3. When contempt not in presence of court.
4. Penalty limited.
5. Must be entered in docket.

Acts that constitute contempt.

(5240) § 1. A justice may punish as for contempt, persons guilty of the following acts, and no other:

First. Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior towards the justice while holding the court, tending to interrupt the due course of a trial or other judicial proceeding.

Second. A breach of the peace, boisterous conduct, or violent disturbance in the presence of the justice, or in the immediate vicinity of the court held by him, tending to interrupt the due course of a trial or other judicial proceeding.

Third. Disobedience or resistence to the execution of a lawful order or process, made or issued by him.

Fourth. Disobedience to a subpœna duly served, or refusing to be sworn or to answer as a witness.

Fifth. Rescuing any person or property in the custody of an officer by virtue of an order or process of the court held by him.

Summary punishment.

(5241) § 2. When a contempt is committed in the immediate view and presence of the justice, it may be punished summarily; to that end an order must be made, reciting the facts as they occurred, and adjudging that the person proceeded against is thereby guilty of contempt, and that he be punished as therein prescribed.

When contempt not in presence of court

(5242) § 3. When the contempt is not committed in the immediate view and presence of the justice, a warrant of arrest may be issued by such justice, on which the person so guilty may be arrested and brought before the justice immediately, when an opportunity to be heard in his defence or excuse must be given. The justice may, thereupon, discharge him, or may convict him of the offense.

Penalty limited.

(5243) § 4. A justice may punish for contempts, by fine or imprisonment, or both; such fine not to succeed, in any case, one hundred dollars, and such imprisonment one day.

Must be entered in docket.

(5244) § 5. The conviction, specifying particularly the offense and the judgment thereon, must be entered by the justice in his docket.

ARTICLE 13.—DOCKETS OF JUSTICES.

SECTION.
1. Justice to keep a docket; entries therein.
2. Entries, when and how made.
3. Index to docket.
4. Records and files to go to successor.
5. Vacancy, books to other justice.
6. Powers of justice receiving docket.

Justice to keep a docket; entries therein

(5245) § 1. Every justice must keep a book, denominated a docket, in which he must enter:

First. The title of every action or proceeding.

Second. The object of the action or proceeding; and if a sum of money be claimed, the amount thereof.

Third. The date of the summons, and the time of its return; and if a writ of attachment be issued, a statement of the fact.

Fourth. The time when the parties, or either of them, appear, or their non-appearence, if default be made; a minute of the pleadings and motions, if in writing, referring to them; if not in writing, a concise statement of the material parts of the pleading.

Fifth. Every adjournment, stating on whose application, and to what time.

Sixth. The demand for a trial by jury, when the same is made, and by whom made, the order for the jury, and time appointed for the return of the jury and for the trial.

Seventh. The names of the jurors who appear and are sworn, and the names of all witnesses sworn and at whose request.

Eighth. The verdict of the jury and when received; if the jury disagree and are discharged, the fact of such disagreement and discharge.

Ninth. The judgment of the court specifying the costs included and the time when rendered.

Tenth. The issuing or the execution when issued and to whom, the renewals thereof if any and when made, and a statement of any money paid to the justice when and by whom.

Eleventh. The receipt of a notice of appeal, if any be given, and of the appeal bond if any be filed.

Entries, when and how made.

(5246) § 2. The several particulars in the last section specified must be entered under the title of the action to which they relate, and unless otherwise in this chapter provided at the time when they occur. Such entries in a justice's docket, or a transcript thereof certified by the justice, or his successor in office, are prima facie evidence of the facts so stated.

Index to docket.

(5247) § 3. A justice must keep an alphabetical index to his docket, in which must be entered the names of the parties to each judgment, with a reference to the page of entry. The names of the plaintiffs must be entered in the index, in the alphabetical order of the first letter of the family name.

Records and files to go to successor.

(5248) § 4. Every justice of the peace, upon the expiration of his term of office, must deposit with his successor his official dockets and all papers filed in his office, as well his own as those of his predecessors, or any other which may be in his custody to be kept as public records.

When there is a vacancy books go to other justice.

(5249) § 5. If the office of a justice becomes vacant by his death, removal or otherwise, before his successor is elected or qualified, the docket and papers in possession of such justice must be deposited in the office of some other justice in the township or county, to be by him delivered to the successor of such justice.

Powers of justice receiving docket,

(5250) § 6. Any justice with whom the docket of his predecessor, or of any other justice, is deposited, has and may exercise over all actions and proceedings entered in such docket, the same jurisdiction as if originally commenced before him. In case of the creation of a new county, or the change of the boundary between two counties, any justice in whose hands the docket of a justice formerly acting as such within the same Territory may come, is, for the purposes of this section, considered the successor of such former justice.

ARTICLE 14.—APPEALS.

SECTION.

1. Appeal from judgment in justices' court.
2. Appeal on questions of law, statement to be prepared.
3. Appeal on questions of fact.
4. Justice to transmit certified copy of docket.
5. Undertaking on appeal is for stay of proceedings.
6. Undertaking in forcible entry and detainer.
7. Order for stay of execution.
8. Powers of district court on appeal.

Appeal from judgment in justice's court.

(5251) § 1. Any party dissatisfied with a judgment rendered in a civil action in a justice's court, may appeal therefrom to the district court of the county or subdivision at any time within thirty days after the rendition of the judgment. The appeal is taken by serving a copy of the notice of appeal on the adverse party or his attorney, and by filing the notice of appeal with the justice. The notice must state whether the appeal is taken from the whole or a part of the judgment; and if from a part, what part, and whether the appeal is taken on questions of law or fact, or both.

Appeal on question of law; statement to be prepared.

(5252) § 2. When a party appeals to the district court on questions of law alone, or desiring a review therein, upon the evidence appearing on the trial below, either of questions of facts or law, he must, within ten days from the rendition of judgment, prepare a statement of the case and file the same with the justice. The statement must contain the grounds upon which the party intends to rely on the appeal, and so much of the evidence as may be necessary to explain the grounds, and no more. Within ten days after he receives notice that the statement is filed, the adverse party, if dissatisfied with the same, may file amendments. The proposed statement and amendments must be settled by the justice, and if no amendments be filed the original statement stands as adopted. The statement thus adopted or as settled by the justice, with a copy of the docket of the justice, and all motions filed with him by the parties during the trial and the notice of appeal, may be used on the hearing of the appeal before the district court.

Appeals on question of fact

(5253) § 3. When a party appeals to the district court on questions of fact, or on question of both law and fact, and demands in his notice of appeal a new trial in the district court, no statement must be made, but the action must be tried anew in that court.

Justice to transmit certified copy of docket.

(5254) § 4. Upon receiving the notice of appeal, and on payment of one dollar for the return of the justice, and filing an undertaking as required in the next section, and after settlement or adoption of statement, if any, the justice must within five days transmit to the clerk of the district, if the appeal be on questions of fact or both law and fact, and a new trial in the district court be demanded in the notice of appeal a certified copy of his docket, the pleadings, all notices, motions and other papers filed in the cause, the notice of appeal and the undertaking filed; in all other cases a certified copy of his docket, the statement as admitted or as settled, the notice of appeal and the undertaking filed; and the justice may be compelled by the district court, by an order entered, upon motion, to transmit such papers and may be fined for neglect or refusal to transmit the same. A certified copy of such order may be served on the justice by the party or his attorney. In the district court either party may have the benefit of all legal objections made in the justice's court.

Undertaking on appeal or for stay of proceedings.

(5255) § 5. An appeal from a justice's court is not effectual for any purpose, unless an undertaking be filed, with two or more sureties. in the sum of one hundred dollars, for the payment of the costs on the appeal; or if a stay of proceedings be claimed, in a sum equal to twice the amount of the judgment, including costs, when the judgment is for the payment of money; or twice the value of the property, including costs, when the judgment is for the recovery of specific personal property, and must be conditioned, when the action is for the recovery of money, that the appellant will pay the amount of the judgment appealed from and all costs, if the appeal be withdrawn or dismissed, or the amount of any judgment and all costs that may be recovered against him in the action in the district court. When the action is for the recovery of specific personal property the undertaking must be conditioned that the appellant will pay the judgment and costs appealed from, and obey the order of the court made therein, if the appeal be withdrawn or dismissed, or any judgment and costs that may be recovered against him in said action in the district court, and will obey any order made by the court therein. A deposit of the amount of the judgement, including all costs appealed from, or of the value of the property, including all costs in actions for the recovery of specific personal property, with the justice, is equivalent to the filing of the undertaking, and in such cases the justice must transmit the money to the clerk of the district court, to be by him paid out on the order of the court. The adverse party may except to the sufficiency of the sureties within five days after the filing of the undertaking, and unless they or other sureties justify before the justice before whom the appeal is taken, within five days thereafter, upon notice to the adverse party, to the amounts stated in their affidavits, the appeal must be regarded as if no such undertaking had been given.

Undertaking in forcible entry and detainer.

(5256) § 6. In judgments for the delivery of possession in actions of forcible entry and detainer, or detainer only, the execution of the same can not be stayed unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant, with two or more sureties, to the effect that during the possession of such property by the appellant he will not commit or suffer to be committed any waste thereon, and that if the judgment be affirmed, or the appeal be dismissed, he will pay all rents for the use and occupation of the property, and all damages from the time of the appeal until the delivery of the possession thereof.

Order to stay execution.

(5257) § 7. If an execution be issued, on the filing of the undertaking staying proceedings, the justice must, by order, direct the officer to stay all proceedings on the same. Such officer must, upon payment of his fees for the services rendered on the execution, thereupon relinquish all property levied upon, and deliver the same to the judgment debtor, together with all moneys collected from sales or otherwise. If his fees be not paid, the officer may retain so much of the property or proceeds thereof as may be necessary to pay the same.

Powers of district court on appeal.

(5258) § 8. Upon an appeal heard upon a statement of the case, the district court may review all orders affecting the judgment appealed from, and may set aside, affirm or modify the judgment, or any or all the proceedings subsequent to or dependent upon such judgment, and may, if necessary or proper, order a new trial. When the action is tried anew, upon appeal, the trial must be conducted in all respects as trials in the district court. The provisions of civil procedure as to changing the place of trial, and all the provisions as to trials in the district court, are applicable to trials on appeal in that court. For a failure to prosecute an appeal, or unnecessary delay in bringing it to a hearing, the district court, after notice, may order the appeal to be dismissed. Judgments rendered in the district court on appeal, have the same force and effect, and may be enforced in the district court in the same manner, as judgments in actions commenced therein, except that when a new trial is granted the case must be remanded, and the new trial shall be had in the justice's court. No notice of trial and note of issue shall be required to be served or filed in order to bring the cause appealed upon the trial calendar in the district court, but said appeal shall be filed by the clerk, on payment of his costs, and entered upon the calendar, and shall stand for trial as soon as the same is reached in the regular call of the calendar thereafter. If not so filed within fifteen days from the time such appeal was perfected, then the same shall be dismissed by the order of the court at any time thereafter, upon motion of the appellee, after three days notice to the appellant or his attorney.

Chap. 71. ARTICLE 15,—COLLECTION OF COMPENSATION FOR PERSONAL SERVICES.

AN ACT to provide for collection of compensation for personal services.

[Took effect December 25, 1890.]

SECTION.
1. Laborers' claim, petition; attorney's fees.
2. Contents of laborer's claim.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Laborer's claim, petition, attorney's fees.

(5259) § 1. In all cases where any action is brought by any clerk, servant, nurse or laborer of any kind for compensation claimed, due for personal services performed, by the plaintiff for the defendant, if the amount claimed be less than one hundred dollars, and a recovery be had in such action, the plaintiff shall in addition to the amount due be entitled to recover a judgment against the defendant for an attorney's fee of not less than two dollars and fifty cents, and not more than fifteen dollars for the use and benefit of plaintiff's attorney, together with costs. If, however, the defendant appear before the time set for trial and offer to confess judgment for a sum of money and costs, and the plaintiff on trial fails to recover a greater sum, then no attorney's fees or costs made after the tender shall be taxed against the defendant.

Contents of laborer's claim.

(5260) § 2. Such laborer shall in his account or petition filed in court, state that the action is brought to recover compensation due for personal services, and the court shall state upon the records that fact, if judgment be recovered, and when an execution is issued thereon, such execution shall be endorsed for personal services and the defendant shall hold no property exempt from levy under such execution, any exemption law to the contrary notwithstanding.

ARTICLE 16,—FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETENTION OF PROPERTY.

AN ACT regulating proceedings in actions for the forcible entry and detention and forcible detention only of property.

[Took effect December 25, 1890.]

SECTION.
1. Powers of justices of the peace.
2. Tenant's unlawful holding, crop rent.
3. Notice to vacate
4. Summons, when issued, complaint, what contained therein.
5. Summons, contents.
6. Defendant's non appearance.
7. Continuance asked by defendant.
8. Trial without jury.
9. Trial by jury.
10. Judgment for less than claimed.
11. Appeal to district court, stay, bond, exceptions saved.
12. Appeal by defendant.
13. Judgment of restitution, writ of execution.
14. Time of executing writ, stay of proceedings.
15. Tenant's eviction by writ from district court.
16. Repeal.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Powers of justice.

(5261) § 1. Any justice of the peace within his proper county shall have power to inquire, in the manner hereinafter directed, as well [as] against those who make unlawful and forcible entry into lands or tenements and detain the same, as against those who having made lawful and peaceable entry into lands or tenements, unlawfully and by force hold the same; and if it be found upon such inquiry in either case that the lands or tenements are held unlawfully, such justice of the peace shall cause the party complaining to have restitution thereof.

Tenants unlawful holding, rent.

(5262) § 2. A tenant shall be deemed to hold unlawfully whenever he has failed, neglected or refused to pay the rent, or any part thereof, when the same became due and payable, and judgment either before a justice of the peace or in the district court, under this act shall not be a bar to any action afterwards brought by either party: Provided, however, That in cases of tenants or agricultural lands where rent, or a part thereof, is payable in kind, the tenant shall not be evicted for non-payment of rent, unless it be so expressly agreed in a written lease.

Notice to vacate.

(5263) § 3. It shall be the duty of the party desiring to commence an action under this act to notify the adverse party in writing to leave the premises for the possession of which action is about to be brought, which notice shall be served at least three days before commencing the action, by leaving a copy with the defendant or at his usual place of abode.

Summons; complaint.

(5264) § 4. The summons shall not issue until the plaintiff shall have filed his complaint in writing under oath, with the justice, which shall particularly describe the premises so entered upon or detained, and shall set forth either an unlawful and forcible entry and detention, or an unlawful detention of the premises described therein, and such complaint in a separate paragraph may set forth the amount, if any, due for rent and for damages to the premises and pray for a judgment for the rent due and damages, as well as for restitution of the premises.

Summons; contents.

(5265) § 5. The summons shall be issued and directed; shall state the cause of complaint, the time and place for trial, and shall be served and returned as in other cases.

Defendant's non-appearance.

(5266) § 6. If the defendant fail to appear at the time appointed, for trial in the summons, or at any time to which the case may be continued or adjourned, the trial shall proceed in all respects as though he were present,

Continuance, defendant.

(5267) § 7. No continuance shall be granted at the instance of the defendant unless he give an undertaking to the adverse party with sufficient surety, to be approved by the justice conditioned that the defendant will comply with the judgment that may be rendered against him in such action, unless the defendant have filed an answer under oath denying the material facts set forth in the complaint, and in such case the continuance shall not be for a longer period than eight days without the defendant filing a bond as in this action provided.

Trial without jury.

(5268) § 8. At the time fixed for the trial of the case, if neither party demand a jury, the justice shall proceed to try the same. If, after hearing the evidence and arguments, he shall be of the opinion that the complaint is not true, he shall render judgment against the plaintiff for costs. If he find the complaint true, in whole or in part, he shall render such judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, as the plaintiff may be entitled to under the complaint and evidence, and the plaintiff shall be entitled to recover double rent from the date of service of the notice to leave the premises, if it be found that the defendant wilfully unlawfully withholds possession of the premises.

Trial with jury.

(5269) § 9. If a jury be demanded by either party, the proceedings, until the impanelling thereof, shall be the same as in other civil cases; the jury shall be sworn or affirmed to well and truly try the complaint, and render a true verdict. If they find the complaint true, they shall render a general verdict of guilty against the defendant; if they find the complaint not true, they shall render a general verdict of not guilty. If they find the complaint true in part they shall render a verdict to that effect, setting forth the facts they find true, and in either case they shall find the amount of rent, if any, due to the plaintiff and the amount of damages, if any, which the plaintff has sustained. The justice shall enter the verdict upon his docket, and shall render such judgment in the action as if the facts authorizing the finding of such verdict had been found by himself to be true.

Judgment for part.

(5270) § 10. In all actions brought under this act if upon the trial the evidence shows that any portion of the premises described in the complaint and notice are unlawfully withheld by the defendant, the plaintiff shall be entitled to such judgment as though such portion only had been described in such complaint and notice.

Appeal, stay,

(5271) § 11. Exceptions to the opinion of the justice upon questions of law whether the case is tried with or without a jury may be taken by either party and the proceedings of the justice reviewed by the district court upon a petition in error, or either party may appeal from the judgment rendered by the justice as in other civil cases, but in no case shall such petition in error or appeal operate as a stay of proceedings before the justice unless and until the party aggrieved file a bond with such justice, conditioned for the payment [of such judgment] and costs as may be rendered against him in the district court.

Appeal by defendant.

(5272) § 12. In all appeals or writs of error to the district court under the provisions of this act, if such appeal or writ of error, be taken by the defendant, and the judgmeut in the action be rendered in said court, against the defendant, such judgment shall include double rent for the time such premises were wilfully and unlawfully withheld by defendant, during the pendency of the appeal or writ of error, and if not wilfully withheld, then only reasonable rent shall be included.

Restitution; execution.

(5273) § 13. Where a judgment of restitution shall be entered by a justice of the peace, he shall at the request of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, issue a writ of execution thereon which shall be in the following form as near as practicable:

TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA, } ss.
.....COUNTY. }

To the constable or sheriff of.....County

Whereas, in a certain action for the forcible entry and detention or the forcible detention, as the case may be, of the following described premises, to-wit:.....lately tried before me, wherein.....was plaintiff, and.....was defendant, judgment was rendered on the.....day of.....A. D....., that the plaintiff has restitution of said premises, and also that he recover of said defendant the sum of.....dollars, and costs in the sum of.....dollars; you are therefore and hereby commanded to cause the defendant to be forthwith removed from said premises, and the said plaintiff to have restitution of the same, also that you levy on the goods and chattles of said defendant and make the amount of the judgment and the costs aforesaid and all accruing costs, and of this writ make legal service and due return.

Witness my hand this.....day of.....A. D....

.....

Justice of the Peace.

Which writ shall be served only in day time.

Executing writ, stay.

(5274) § 14. The officer shall, within three days after receiving the writ, execute the same by restoring the plaintiff to the possession of the premises, and by collectiug the amount of the judgment and the costs as in other actions, and shall make return of said writ as in other civil actions. If the officer shall receive notice from the justice that the proceedings have been stayed by an appeal or petition in error, he shall immediately delay all further proceedings under the execution, and if the premises have been restored to the plaintiff, he shall immediately place the defendant in the possession thereof, and return the writ with his proceedings and costs taxed thereon.

Eviction.

(5275) § 15. If the tenant is evicted by writ from the district court, and on appeal the judgment be in his favor, he shall on proper supplemental plea, filed in the district court, recover judgment for the damages sustained by such wrongful eviction, and if the time of his tenancy has not expired, he shall have writ of restitution for the leased premises.

Repeal.

(5276) § 16. All other laws in force in this Territory in conflict herewith are hereby repealed when this act takes effect.

ARTICLE 17.—GENERAL PROVISIONS.

SECTION.
1. Process of justice to any part of county.

6. Costs to prevailing party.
7. Attorney's fees allowed.
8. Civil procedure, applicable.
9. Error in appeal not fatal.

Chap. 71.

Process of justice to any part of county.

(5277) § 1. Justices of the peace may issue in any action or proceedings in the courts held by them, any original, mesne or or final process to any part of the county.

Papers issued by justice must have no blanks.

(5278) § 2. The summons, execution and every other paper made or issued by a justice, except a subpœna, must be issued without a blank left to be filled by another, otherwise it is void.

Justice must receive moneys

(5279) § 3. Justices of the peace must receive from the sheriff or constable of their county, all moneys collected on any process or order issued from their courts respectively, and all moneys paid to them in their official capacity, and must pay the same over to the parties entitled or authorized to receive them, without delay.

Another justice may hold court.

(5280) § 4. In case of the sickness or other disability, or necessary absence of a justice, on a return of a summons, or at the time appointed for a trial, another justice of the same township or county, may, at his request, attend in his behalf, and thereupon is vested with the power, for the time being, of the justice before whom the summons was returnable. In that case the proper entry of the proceedings before the attending justice, subscribed by him, must be made in the docket of the justice before whom the summons was returnable. If the case is adjourned, the justice before whom the summons was returnable, may resume jurisdiction.

Surety for costs from non-resident.

(5281) § 5. The justice shall in all cases where the plaintiff is a non-resident of the Territory, or foreign corporation, before filing and docketing the cause and issuing a summons, require of the plaintiff sufficient surety for costs. The surety must be a resident of the county. His obligation shall be complete by simply endorsing the summons, or signing his name on the complaint, as security for costs.

Costs to prevailing party.

(5282) § 6. The prevailing party in civil actions in justices' courts is entitled to costs except when otherwise specifically provided by law.

Attorney's fees allowed.

(4283) § 7. In all actions in justices' courts, the party obtaining judgment shall be entitled to attorney's fees as follows: On all judgments less than twenty-five dollars, an amount equal to twenty per cent of such judgment; on all judgments over twenty-five dollars and under fifty dollars, five dollars as attorney's fees; on all judgments over fifty dollars, an amount equal to ten per cent of such judgment as attorney's fees; in actions for the recovery of personal property, the value of the property recovered shall govern the amount of attorney's fees to be recovered in such action, and when judgment is for the defendant the amount claimed in the plaintiff's complaint shall govern the amount of attorney's fees to be recovered by the defendant: Provided, however, That no attorney's fees shall be allowed in any such action, unless the party has appeared therein by an attorney of a court of record.

Code of civil procedure applicable, how far.

(5284) § 8. Justices' courts being courts of peculiar and limited jurisdiction, only those provisions of civil procedure which are in their nature applicable to the organization, powers, and course of proceedings in justices' courts, or which have been made applicable to justices' courts by special provisions in this chapter are applicable to justices' courts and the proceedings therein.

(5285) § 9. In any case taken to the district court on writ of error or appeal, the cause shall not be dismissed by reason of an error in bringing an action to the court by the wrong method; but the district court shall treat it as an appeal or writ of error as should be done under the record. Error in appeal not fatal.

ARTICLE 18.—JUSTICES' QUARTERLY REPORT TO COUNTY BOARD.

SECTION.
1. Justices must make quarterly report to county board.
2. Contents of the reports.
3. Must pay over all money.
4. Penalty for violating.
5. Violation is a crime.

(5286) § 1. It shall be the duty of all justices of the peace to make a full report, under oath, of all their proceedings in actions or matters in which the county or Territory is a party, or interested therein, to the county commissioners of each of their respective counties, on the first Monday of January, April, July and October of each year. Justices must make quarterly report to county board.

(5287) § 2. Such report shall contain the names of the parties to the action or proceeding, a statement of all orders made by said justice, whether the defendant be bound over or otherwise, the judgment, whether of dismissal or imprisonment, or for a fine and costs, or either; if for imprisonment, the extent thereof and costs; if for a fine, the amount thereof and costs, the amount of fine and costs paid, if any, and the disposition thereof; an itemized account of the fees of said justices, and of all officers and witnesses, and the names of each. Contents of the report.

(5288) § 3. Said justices shall pay into the treasury of their respective counties all fines and moneys collected by them in behalf of the county or Territory, at the time of making their reports, as provided in this act; but if at any time, such moneys in their hands amount to two hundred dollars, they shall pay the same into the treasury forthwith. Must pay over all money.

(5289) § 4. Any justice of the peace violating any of the provisions of this act shall be liable to a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, to be recovered in a civil action by the county, which action may be brought originally in a justice's court or the district court. Penalty for violation.

(5290) § 5. And if any justice of the peace shall neglect or refuse to make such report, or neglect or refuse to pay over the aforesaid moneys collected by them, or shall refuse to allow the county commissioner or any of them, to examine their records in regard to such matters, they shall be deemed guilty of wilful and corrupt misconduct in office. Violation a crime.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Title of code.

(5291) § 1. This act shall be known as the criminal procedure of the Territory of Oklahoma.

Crime defined, punishment.

(5292) § 2. A crime or public offense is an act or omission forbidden by law, and to which is annexed, upon conviction, either of the following punishments:

First. Death.

Second. Imprisonment.

Third. Fine.

Fourth. Removal from office.

Fifth. Disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor trust or profit under this Territory.

Division of crimes.

(5293) § 3. Crimes or public offenses are divided into

First. Felonies.

Second. Misdemeanors.

(5294) § 4. A felony is a crime which is, or may be, punishable with death, or by imprisonment in the Territorial prison. Felony defined (5295) § 5. Every other crime is a misdemeanor. Misdemeanor.

(5296) § 6. No person can be punished for a public offense except upon legal conviction in a court having jurisdiction thereof. Punishment only on conviction.

(5297) § 7. Every public offense must be prosecuted by indictment, except: Indictment necessary except, when.

First. Where proceedings are had for the removal of civil officers of this Territory.

Second. Offenses arising in the militia, when in actual service, and in the land and naval forces in the time of war, or which the Territory may keep, with the consent of Congress in time of peace.

Third. Offenses tried in justices' and police courts in cases concerning which lawful jurisdiction, without the intervention of a grand jury, is or may be conferred upon said courts.

Fourth. Offenses, not infamous crimes, all of which may be tried on information, before the county or probate court, and if not there tried then before the district court.

(5298) § 8. The rule of common law that penal statutes are to be strictly construed, has no application to this chapter. This chapter establishes the law of this Territory respecting the subjects to which it relates, and its provisions and all proceedings under it are to be liberally construed, with a view to promote its objects, and in furtherance of justice. Rule o construction of chapter.

(5299) § 9. No part of this chapter is retroactive unless expressly so declared. Chapter not retroactive.

(5300) § 10. Unless when otherwise provided, words used in this code in the present tense include the future as well as the present. Words used in the masculine comprehend as well the feminine and neuter. The singular number includes the plural, and the plural the singular. And the word person includes a corporation as well as a natural person. Construction of words.

(5301) § 11. The term writing includes printing. Writing includes printing.

(5302) § 12. The term oath includes an affirmation. Oath includes affirmation.

(5303) § 13. The term signature includes a mark when the person cannot write, his name being written near it, and the mark being witnessed by a person who writes his own name as a witness, except to an affidavit or deposition, or a paper executed before a judicial officer, in which case the attestation of the officer is sufficient. What signature includes.

(5304) § 14. This chapter applies to criminal actions and to all other proceedings in criminal cases which are herein provided for. To what this chapter applies.

(5305) § 15. The procedure, practice and pleadings in the district courts of this Territory, in criminal actions or in matters of criminal nature. not specifically provided for in this chapter, shall be in accordance with the procedure, practice and pleadings of the common law, and assimilated as near as may be with the procedure, practice and pleadings of the United States or federal side of said courts. Common law prevails when chapter is silent.

Chap. 72.

Criminal action defined.

(5306) § 16. The proceeding by which a party charged with a public offense is accused and brought to trial and punishment, is known as a criminal action.

Criminal action, how prosecuted.

(5307) § 17. A criminal action is prosecuted in the name of the Territory of Oklahoma as a party, against the person charged with the offense.

Party defendant.

(5308) § 18. The party prosecuted in a criminal action is designated in this chapter as the defendant.

Rights of defendant.

(5309) § 19. In a criminal action the defendant is entitled:

First. To a speedy and public trial.

Second. To be allowed counsel, as in civil actions, or to appear and defend in person and with counsel; and,

Third. To produce witnesses on his behalf, and to be confronted with the witnesses against him in the presence of the court.

But one prosecution.

(5310) § 20. No person can be subjected to a second prosecution for a public offense for which he has once been prosecuted and duly convicted or acquitted, except as hereinafter provided for new trials.

Witness against self.

(5311) § 21. No person can be compelled in a criminal action to be witness against himself; nor can a person charged with a public offense be subjected before conviction to any more restraint than if necessary for his detention to answer the charge.

How conviction may be had,

(5312) § 22. No person can be convicted of a public offense, unless by the verdict of a jury, accepted and recorded by the court, or upon a plea of guilty, or upon final judgment for or against him upon a demurrer to the indictment, or upon a judgment of a police or justice's court in cases in which such judgment may be lawfully given without the intervention of a jury or grand jury.

ARTICLE 2.—COURTS HAVING JURISDICTION IN CRIMINAL ACTIONS.

SECTION.
1. The district court.
2. District court, where held.
3 Jurisdiction of district court.
4. Final decisions reviewed, how.
5. Jurisdiction of justice of the peace.

The district court.

(5313) § 1. There is in each of the three districts of this Territory a court denominated the district court, with jurisdiction conferred by the Organic Act of this Territory and other laws of Congress, and having, among other things, common law jurisdiction, and authority for the redress of all wrongs committed against the laws of this Territory, affecting persons or property.

District court where held.

(5314) § 2. Each of the said district courts may be held, for the trial of criminal actions, in any county or subdivision in the same district, as is, or may be, provided by law.

Jurisdiction of district court.

(5315) § 3. The district court has jurisdiction:

First. To inquire, by the intervention of a grand jury, of all public offenses committed or triable in the county or subdivision for which the court may be held.

Second. To inquire into the cause of detention of all persons imprisoned in the jail of the county or subdivision, or otherwise detained, and to make an order for their recommitment or discharge, or otherwise according to law.

Third. To hear, try and determine all criminal actions according to law, and to exercise all powers whether original or appelate, conferred upon it by this chapter, or by the other laws of this Territory.

Final decisions reviewed, how.

(5316) § 4. The final decisions of the district courts are reviewable and determinable by the Supreme Court, according to law, on writs of error allowable by the Supreme Court, and bringing up for review the record and bills of exceptions.

Jurisdiction of justice of the peace.

(5317) § 5. Justices of the peace shall have power and jurisdiction throughout their respective counties, as follows:

First. As committing magistrates, under the provisions of this chapter as provided in the chapter in relation to criminal procedure before justice's procedure; and,

Second. To exercise such lawful jurisdiction, to try and determine petit misdemeanors, not indictable, as by the Organic law and said justice's procedure, or other laws, is now, or may hereafter be conferred upon them.

33. Officer guilty of misdemeanor.
34. Officers may disperse assembly.
35. Precautions before endangering life.
36. Penalty for resisting officers in dispersing riot.

Lawful resistance to commission of offense.

(5318) § 1. Lawful resistance to the commission of a public offense may be made:

First. By the party about to be injured.

Second. By other parties.

By party to be injured.

(5319) § 2. Resistance sufficient to prevent the offense may be made by the party about to be injured:

First. To prevent an offense against his person or his family, or some member thereof.

Second. To prevent an illegal attempt, by force, to take or injure property in his lawful possession.

Resistance by other person.

(5320) § 3. Any other person, in aid or defense of the person about to be injured, may make resistence sufficient to prevent the offense.

Public offenses prevented.

(5321) § 4. Public offenses may be prevented by the intervention of the officers of justice:

First. By requiring security to keep the peace.

Second. By forming a police in cities and villages, and by requiring their attendance in exposed places.

Third. By suppressing riots.

Persons assisting officers.

(5322) § 5. When the officers of justice are authorized to act in the prevention of public offenses, other persons, who, by their command, act in their aid, are justified in so doing.

Information laid before whom (5323) § 6. An information, verified by the oath of the complainant, may be laid before any magistrate, that a person has threatened to commit an offense against the person or property of another.

Magistrate must issue warrant

(5324) § 7. If it appear from the information that there is just reason to fear the commission of the offenses threatened, by the person complained of, the magistrate must issue a warrant, directed generally to the sheriff of the county, or any constable, or marshal, or policeman of the city or town, reciting the substance of the information, and commanding the officer forthwith to arrest the person complained of, and bring him before the magistrate of the county.

Proceedings when charge is controverted.

(5325) § 8. When the person complained of is brought before the magistrate, if the charge be controverted, the magistrate must take testimony in relation thereto. The evidence must, on demand of the defendant, be reduced to writing, and subscribed by the witnesses.

When person to be discharged.

(5326) § 9. Unless it appear that there is just reason to fear the commission of the offense alleged to have been threatened, the person complained of must be discharged.

When person must give bond.

(5327) § 10. If, however, there be just reason to fear the commission of the offense the person complained of may be required to enter into an undertaking in such sum, not exceeding one thousand dollars, as the magistrate may direct, with one or more sufficient sureties, to abide the order of the next district court of the county, and in the meantime to keep the peace toward the people of this Territory, and particularly toward the complainant.

When bond is or is not given.

(5328) § 11. If the undertaking required by the last section be given the party complained of must be discharged. If he do not give it the magistrate must commit him to prison, specifying in the warrant the requirement to give security, the amount thereof, and the omission to give the same.

Person may be discharged on giving bond.

(5329) § 12. If the person complained of be committed for not giving security he may be discharged by any justice of the peace of the county, or police or special justice of the city, upon giving the same.

Undertaking sent to district court.

(5330) § 13. The undertaking must be transmitted by the magistrate to the next district court of the county.

Assault in presence of magistrate

(5331) § 14. A person who, in the presence of a court or magistrate, assaults or threatens to assault another, or commit an offense against his person or property, or who contends with another with angry words, may be ordered by the court or magistrate to give security, as provided in section 5327 or if he refuses to do so, he may be committed as provided in section 5328.

Person must appear in district court.

(5332) § 15. A person who has entered into an undertaking to keep the peace must appear on the first day of the next term of the district court of the county. If he do not, the court may forfeit his undertaking, and order it to be prosecuted unless his default be excused.

If complainant does not appear person to be discharged.

(5333) § 16. If the complainant do not appear, the person complained of may be discharged, unless good cause to the contrary be shown.

Proceedings when parties appear.

(5334) § 17. If both parties appear, the court may hear their proofs and allegations, and may either discharge the understanding, or require a new one for a time not exceeding one year.

When an undertaking to keep the peace is broken.

(5335) § 18. An undertaking to keep the peace is broken on the failure of a person complained of to appear at the district court as provided in section 5332, or upon his being convicted of a breach of the peace.

Undertaking prosecuted

(5336) § 19. Upon the district attorney producing evidence of such conviction to the district court to which the undertaking is returned, that court must order the undertaking to be prosecuted, and the district attorney must thereupon commence an action upon it in the name of this Territory.

What alleged in the action.

(5337) § 20. In the action the offense stated in the record of conviction must be alleged as the breach of the undertaking, and such record is conclusive evidence thereof.

Limitation.

(5338) § 21. Security to keep the peace or to be of good behavior cannot be required, except as prescribed in this article.

Court to tax costs in cases of security to keep the peace.

(5339) § 22. In all cases of security to keep the peace under this chapter, the court in addition to the orders mentioned in said chapter shall tax the costs against the complainant or defendant, or both, as justice may require, and enter judgment therefor, which may be enforced as judgments for costs in criminal cases, and execution may issue therefor.

Organization of police

(5340) § 23. The organization and regulation of the police in the cities and villages of this Terrltory are governed by special statutes.

Force of police to attend public meetings

(5341) § 24. The mayor or other officer having the direction of the police in a city or village, must order a force sufficient to preserve the peace to attend any public meeting, when he is satisfied that a breach of the peace is reasonably apprehended.

Officer may command assistance.

(5342) § 25. When a sheriff or other public officer authorized to execute process, finds, or has reason to apprehend that resistance will be made to the execution of the process, he may command as many male inhabitants of his county as he may think proper, and may in manner and form as provided by law, and not otherwise, call any military company or companies in the county, armed and equipped, to assist him in overcoming the resistance, and if necessary, in seizing, arresting and confining the resisters and their aiders and abettors, to be punished according to law.

Officer must report names of resisters.

(5343) § 26. The officer must certify to the court from which the process is issued, the names of the resisters and their aiders and abettors, to the end that they may be proceeded against for contempt.

Refusal to assist officer a misdemeanor.

(5344) § 27. Every person commanded by a public officer to assist him in the execution of a process, as provided in section 5342, who, without lawful cause, refuses or neglects to obey the commands, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Governor must order an additional force when necessary.

(5345) § 28. If it appears to the governor that the power of the county is not sufficient to enable the sheriff to execute process delivered to him, or to suppress riots and to preserve the peace, he must, on the application of the sheriff, or the judge, order such a force from any other county or counties as is necessary, and all persons so ordered or summoned by the governor or acting governor, are required to attend and act; and any such persons who, without lawful cause, refuse or neglect to obey the command, are guilty of a misdemeanor.

Governor may call on the military.

(5346) § 29. Under the facts and circumstances mentioned in the last section, and when the civil power of the county is not deemed sufficient, in shall be the duty of the governor to apply to the military authorities of the United States for a force sufficient to execute the laws and to prevent resistance thereto, to suppress riots, execute process and preserve the peace.

Unlawful assemblage.

(5347) § 30. Where any number of persons, whether armed or not, are unlawfully or riotously assembled, the sheriff of the county, or any sheriff of the sub-division, and his deputies, the officials governing the city or town, or the justices of the peace and marshals and constables and police thereof, or any of them, must go among the persons assembled, or as near to them as possible, and command them in the name of the Territory, immediately to disperse.

Proceedings if assembly does not disperse.

(5348) § 31. If the persons assembled do not immediately disperse the magistrates and officers must arrest them or cause them to be arrested, that they may be punished according to law, and for that purpose may command the aid of all persons present or within the county.

Who are deemed rioters.

(5349) § 32. If a person so commanded to aid the magistrates or officers neglect to do so he is deemed one of the rioters and is punishable accordingly.

Officer guilty of a misdemeanor.

(5350) § 33. If a magistrate or officer having notice of an unlawful or riotous assembly mentioned in section 5347, neglect to proceed to the place of the assembly, or as near thereto as he can with safety, and to exercise the authority with which he is invested for surpressing the same and arresting the offenders, he is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Officer may disperse assembly.

(5351) § 34. If the persons assembled and commanded to disperse do not immediately disperse, any two of the magistrates or officers mentioned in section 5347, may command the aid of a sufficient number of persons, and may proceed in such manner as in their judgment is necessary, to disperse the assembly and arrest the offenders.

11. Method of trial.
12. Judgment if convicted.
13. Removal of Territorial officers.
14. Presentment by grand jury.
15. Removal of district attorney.
16. Other proceedings and penalties.

Proceedings for the removal of civil officers.

(5354) § 1. In addition to the proceedings mentioned in civil procedure in relation to vacancies in office and supplying the same, and apart and distinct from any other criminal action or proceedings, the following provisions are adopted to obtain a judgment of removal from office.

Accusation, how presented.

(5355) § 2. An accusation in writing against any county, township, city or municipal officer, for wilful or corrupt misconduct in office, may be presented by the grand jury to the district court of the county in or for which the officer accused is elected or appointed.

Requisites of accusation.

(5356) § 3. The accusation must state the offense charged, in ordinary and concise language, without repetition, and in such manner as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.

Duty of judge and attorney.

(5357) § 4. After receiving the accusation, the judge to whom it is delivered must forthwith cause it to be transmitted to the district attorney of the county or subdivision, except when he is the officer accused, who must cause a copy thereof to be served upon the defendant, and required by written notice of not less than five days that he appear before the district court of the county or subdivision, and answer the accusation at a specified time. The original accusation must then be filed with the clerk of the court.

Defendant to appear, when.

(5358) § 5. The defendant must appear at the time appointed in the notice, and answer the accusation, unless, for sufficien cause, the court assigns another day for that purpose. If he do not appear, the court may proceed to hear and determine the accusation in his absence.

Defendant answer.

(5359) § 6. The defendant may answer the accusation either by objecting to the sufficiency thereof, or of any article therein, or by denying the truth of the same.

Objection made, how.

(5360) § 7. If he object to the legal sufficiency of the accusation the objection must be in writing but need not be in any specific form, it being sufficient if it present intelligibly the ground of the objection.

Denial of accusation.

(5361) § 8. If he deny the truth of the accusation the denial may be oral and without oath and must be entered upon the minutes.

Answer.

(5362) § 9. If an objection to the sufficiency of the accusation be not sustained the defendant must answer the accusation forthwith

Judgment on trial

(5363) § 10. If the defendant plead guilty, or refuse to answer the accusation the court must render judgment of conviction against him. If he deny the matters charged, the court must proceed to try the accusation.

Method of trial.

(5364) § 11. The trial must be by jury and conducted in all respects in the same manner as the trial of an indictment for a misdemeanor.

Judgment if convicted.

(5365) § 12. Upon a conviction, the court must pronounce judgment, that the defendant be removed from office. But to warrant a removal, the judgment must be entered upon the minutes, assigning therein the causes of removal.

Removal of territorial officers.

(5366) § 13. The same proceedings may be had, on like grounds, for the removal of any Territorial officer elected by the people of the Territory, or appointed by the Governor thereof, except delegate to Congress and members of the Legislative Assembly.

Presentment by grand jury.

(5367) § 14. In such proceedings the accusation may be presented by the grand jury of the county or subdivision in which such Territorial officer resides, or in which he has his place of office for the usual transaction of his official business.

Removal of district attorney,

(5368) § 15. The same proceedings may be had, on like grounds for the removal of a district attorney, except that the accusation must be delivered by the judge to the clerk, and by him to such person as may be appointed by the judge to act as prosecuting officer in the matter, who is authorized and required to conduct the proceedings.

Other proceedings and penalties.

(5369) § 16. The same proceedings may be had against any officer within the jurisdiction of the court who is accused of charging and collecting illegal fees for services rendered or to be rendered in his office, or who has refused or neglected so perform the official duties pertaining to his office, or who has rendered himself incompetent to perform his said duties by reason of habitual drunkenness; and, upon conviction thereof, the court may pronounce judgment that the defendant be removed from office, or that he pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars in favor of the informer, with costs of suit; or the court may, in its discretion, pronounce judgment, both for his removal from office and for the payment or the fine and costs.

(5370) § 1. Every person is liable to punishment for a public offense, as prescribed by section 1862, except as it is by law cognizable exclusively in the courts of the United States. Who is punishable

(5371) § 2. When the commission of a public offense, commenced without this Territory, is consummated within its boundaries, the defendant is liable to punishment therefor in this Territory, though he were out of the Territory at the time of the commission of the offense charged, if he consummated it in this Territory through the intervention of an innocent or guilty agent, or by any other means proceeding directly from himself; and, in such case, the jurisdiction is in the county in which the offense is consummated. Offenses consummated within the territory.

(5372) § 3. When an inhabitant or resident of this Territory, by previous appointment or engagement, fights a duel, or is concerned as second therein, out of the jurisdiction of this Territory, and in the duel a wound is inflicted upon a person, whereof he dies in this Territory, the jurisdiction of the offense is in the county where the death happened. Jurisdiction in case of duel.

(5373) § 4. When an inhabitant of this Territory shall have left the same for the purpose of evading the operation of the provisions of the statutes relating to dueling and challenges to fight, with the intent or for the purpose of doing any of the acts prohibited therein, the jurisdiction is in the county of which the offender was an inhabitant when the offense was committed, or in any county in which, in the opinion of the Governor, the evidence can be most conviently obtained and produced, to be designated by him by written appointment, filed in the office of the clerk of the court of that county. When person leaves the territory to evade the law.

(5374) § 5. When a public offense is committed, partly in one county and partly in another county, or the acts or effects thereof, constituting or requsite to the offense, occur in two or more counties, the jurisdiction is in either county. Offense committed in two counties.

(5375) § 6. When a public offense is committed on the boundry of two or more counties, or within five hundred yards thereof, the jurisdiction is in either county. Offense committed near boundary of county.

Chap. 72.

Jurisdiction in certain cases.

(5376) § 7. The jurisdiction of an indictment:

First. For forcibly and without lawful authority seizing and confining another, or inveigling or kidnapping him, with intent, against his will, to cause him to be secretely confined or imprisoned in this Territory, or to be sent out of the Territory, or from one county to another; or,

Second. For decoying, or taking or enticing away a child under the age of twelve years, with intent to detain and conceal it from its parents, guardian, or other person having lawful charge of the child; or,

Third. For the inveigling, enticing, or taking away an unmarried female of previous chaste character, under the age of twenty-one years for the purpose of prostitution; or,

Fourth. For taking away any female under the age of sixteen years from her father, mother, guardian or other person having the legal charge of her person without their consent either for the purpose of concubinage or prostitution,

Is in any county in which the offence is committed or into or out of which the person upon whom the offense was committed, may, in the commission of the offense, have been brought, or in which an act was done by the defendant in instigating, procuring, promoting, aiding or in being an accessory to the commission of the offense, or in abetting the parties concerned therein.

Jurisdiction for bigamy or incest.

(5377) § 8. When the offense either of bigamy or incest is committed in one county and the defendant is apprehended in another, the jurisdiction is in either county.

Proceedings when property stolen and brought into another county

(5378) § 9. When property taken in one county, by burglary, robbery, larceny or embezzlement, has been brought into another, the jurisdiction of the offense is in either county. But if, before the conviction of the defendant in the latter, he be indicted in the former county, the sheriff of the latter must, upon demand, deliver him to the sheriff of the former county, upon being served with a certified copy of the indictment, and upon a receipt indorsed thereon by the sheriff of the former county, of the delivery of the body of the defendant, and is, on filing the copy of the indictment and the receipt, exonerated from all liability in respect to the custody of the defendant.

Jurisdiction in case of accessory.

(5379) § 10. In the case of an accessory in the commission of a public offense, the jurisdiction is in the county where the offense of the accessory was committed, notwithstanding the principal offense was committed in another county.

Conviction or acquittal a bar.

(5380) § 11. When an act charged as a public offense is within the jurisdiction of another territory, county or state, as well as this Territory, a conviction or acquittal thereof in the former is a bar to a prosecution or indictment therefor in this Territory.

When jurisdiction is in more than one county.

(5381) § 12. When an offense is in the jurisdiction of two or more counties, a conviction or acquittal thereof in one county is a bar to a prosecution or indictment thereof in another.

Indictment for an escape.

(5382) § 13. The jurisdiction of an indictment for escaping from prison is in any county of the Territory.

Stolen property.

(5383) § 14. The jurisdiction of an indictment for stealing in any state or country, or other territory, the property of another, or receiving it, knowing it to have been stolen, and bringing the same into this Territory, is in any county into or through which such stolen property has been brought.

For murder or manslaughter.

(5384) § 15. The jurisdiction of an indictment for murder or manslaughter, when the injury which caused the death was inflicted in one county, and the party injured dies in another county, or out of the Territory, is in the county where the injury was inflicted.

When principal was not present.

(5385) § 16. The jurisdiction of an indictment against a principle in the commission of a public offense, when such principal is not present at the commission of the public offense, is in the same county it would be under this chapter if he were so present and aiding and abetting therein.

No limit as to time of action for murder.

(5386) § 17. There is no limitation of the time within which a prosecution for murder must be commenced. It may be commenced at any time after the death of the person killed.

Limit for other crimes.

(5387) § 18. In all other cases an indictment for a public offense must be found within three years after its commission.

Absence of the defendant.

(5388) § 19. If when the offense is committed the defendant be out of the Territory, the indictment may be found within the term herein limited after his coming within the Territory, and no time during which the defendant is not an inhabitant of or usually resident within the Territory, is part of the limitation.

When indictment is found.

(5389) § 20. An indictment is found within the meaning of the last three sections, when it is duly presented by the grand jury in open court, and there received and filed.

Information defined

(5390) § 21. The information is the allegation in writing, made to a magistrate, that a person has been guilty of some designated public offense and is amenable.

Magistrate defined.

(5391) § 22. A magistrate is an officer having power to issue a warrant for the arrest of a person charged with a public offense.

Who are magistrates

(5392) § 23. The following persons are magistrates:

First. The judges of the Supreme Court.

Second. The district judges.

Third. Justices of the peace.

Fourth. Police and other special justices appointed or elected in a city, village or town.

Magistrate to issue warrant.

(5393) § 24. When an information, verified by oath or affirmation, is laid before a magistrate, of the commission of a public offense, he must, if satisfied therefrom that the offense complained of has been committed, and that there is reasonable ground to believe that the defendant has committed it, issue a warrant of arrest.

Form of warrant.

(5394) § 25. A warrant of arrest is an order in writing, in the name of the Territory, signed by a magistrate, commanding the arrest of the defendant, and may be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA } SS
COUNTY OF ....., }

To any sheriff, constable, marshal or policeman in this Territory (or in the county of ....., as the case may be):

Information upon oath having been this day laid before me that the crime of (designating it) has been committed, and accusing C D thereof; You are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest the above named C D, and bring him before me at (naming the place,) or, in case of my absence or inability to act, before the nearest or most accessible magistrate in this county.

Dated at.....this.....day of.....18....

E. F., Justice of the Peace (or as the case may be.)

Requisites of warrant.

(5395) § 26. The warrant must specify the name of the defendant, or, if it be unknown to the magistrate, the defendant may be designated therein by any name. It must also state an offense in respect to which the magistrate has authority to issue the warrant, and the time of issuing it, and the county, city, town or village where it is issued, and be signed by the magistrate with his name of office.

Warrant directed to whom (5396) § 27. The warrant must be directed to and executed by a peace officer.

Peace officer.

(5397) § 28. A peace officer is a sheriff of a county or subdivision, or constable, marshal or policeman of a city, town or village or township.

Warrants, by whom served

(5398) § 29. All warrants, except those issued for violation of city ordinances, may be served in any county in the Territory; and may be served by [any] peace officer [to whom] it may be directed or delivered.

When warrant charges a felony.

(5399) § 30. If the offense charged in the warrant be a felony, the officer making the arrest must take the defendant before the magistrate who issued the warrants or some other magistrate in the county as provided in section 5400.

When offense charged is a misdemeanor

(5400) § 31. If the offense charged in the warrant be a misdemeanor and the defendant be arrested in another county, the officer must, upon being required by the defendant, take him before a magistrate in that county, who must admit the defendant to bail and take bail from him accordingly.

Proceedings when bail is taken.

(5401) § 32. On taking bail, the magistrate must certify that fact on the warrant, and deliver the warrant and undertaking of bail to the officer having charge of the defendant. The officer must then discharge the defendant from arrest, and must, without delay, deliver the warrant and undertaking to the clerk of the court at which the defendant is required to appear.

When bail is not given

(5402) § 33. If, on the admission of the defendent to bail, as provided in section 5400, bail be not forthwith given, the officer must take the defendant before the magistrate who issued the warrant, or some other magistrate in the same county, as provided in the next section.

When magistrate is absent.

(5403) § 34. When, by the preceding sections of this chapter, the defendant is required to be taken before the magistrate who issued the warrant, he may, if the magistrate be absent or unable to act, be taken before the nearest or most accessible magistrate in the same county, The officer must, at the same time, deliver to the magistrate the warrant, with the return indorsed and subscribed by him.

Must be no delay.

(5404) § 35. The defendant must, in all cases, be taken before the magistrate without unnecessary delay.

When taken before magistrate who did not issue warrant.

(5405) § 36. If the defendant be taken before a magistrate other than the one who issued the warrant, the information on which the warrant was granted must be sent to that magistrate, or if it cannot be procured, the prosecutor and his witness must be summoned to give their testimony anew.

When offense is triable in another county.

(5406) § 37. When an information is laid before a magistrate of the commission of a public offense triable in another county of the Territory, but showing that the defendant is in the county where the information is laid, the same proceedings must be had as prescribed in this chapter, except that the warrant must require the defendant to be taken before the nearest and most accessible magistrate of the county in which the offense is triable, and the information of the informant, with the depositions, if any, of the witnesses who may have been produced, must be delivered by the magistrate to the officer to whom the warrant is delivered.

Duty of officers.

(5407) § 38. The officer who executes the warrant must take the defendant before the nearest or most accessible magistrate of the county in which the offense is triable with his return indorsed thereon, and the magistrate must then proceed in the same manner as upon a warrant issued by himself.

Duty when offense is a misdemeanor.

(5408) § 39. If the offense charged in the warrant issued, pursuant to section 5403, is a misdemeanor, the officer must, upon being required by the defendant, take him before a magistrate of the county in which the warrant was issued, who must admit the defendant to bail, and immediately transmit the warrant, information, depositions, if any, and undertaking, to the clerk of the court in which the defendant is required to appear.

Arrest defined.

(5409) § 40. Arrest is the taking of a person into custody, that he may be held to answer for a public offence.

Arrest made by whom

(5410) § 41. An arrest may be either:

First. By a peace office, under warrant.

Second. By a peace officer, without a warrant; or,

Third. By a private person.

Aid of officer

(5411) § 42. Every person must aid an officer in the execution of a warrant, if the officer require his aid.

Arrest when made.

(5412) § 43. If the offense charged is a felony, the arrest may be made on any day, and at any time of the day or night. If it is a misdemeanor, the arrest cannot be made at night, unless upon the direction of the magistrate indorsed upon the warrant.

Arrest how made.

(5413) § 44. An arrest is made by an actual restraint of the person of the defendant, or by his submission to the custody of the officer.

Restraint.

(5414) § 45. The defendant is not to be subjected to any more restraint than is necessary for his arrest and detention.

Officer must show warrant.

(5415) § 46. The officer must inform the defendant that he acts under the authority of the warrant, and must also show the warrant if required.

When defendant resists

(5416) § 47. If, after notice of intention to arrest the defendant, he either flee or forcibly resist, the officer may use all necessary means to effect the arrest.

Officer may break open door.

(5417) § 48. The officer may break open an outer or inner door or window of a dwelling house, to execute the warrant, if, after notice of his authority and purpose, he be refused admittance.

Same to liberate person detained.

(5418) § 49. An officer may break open an outer or inner door or window of a dwelling house for the purposes of liberating a person who, having entered for the purpose of making an arrest, is detained therein, or when necessary for his own liberation.

Arrest without warrant.

(5419) § 50. A peace officer may, without a warrant, arrest a person:

First. For a public offense, committed or attempted in his presence.

Second. When the person arrested has committed a felony, although not in his presence.

Third. When a felony has in fact been committed, and he has reasonable cause for believing the person arrested to have committed it.

Fourth. On a charge, made upon reasonable cause, of the commission of a felony by the party arrested.

May break door, when (5420) § 51. To make an arrest, as provided in the last section, the officer may break open an outer or inner door or window of a dwelling house, if, after notice of his office and purpose, he be refused admittance.

Arrest without warrant at night

(5421) § 52. He may also at night, without a warrant, arrest any person whom he has reasonable cause for believing to have committed a felony, and is justified in making the arrest though it afterward appear that the felony had not been committed.

Authority must be stated

(5422) § 53. When arresting a person without a warrant, the officer must inform him of his authority and the cause of the arrest, except when he is in the actual commission of a public offense, or is pursued immediately after an escape.

Arrest by bystander.

(5423) § 54. He may take before a magistrate, a person, who being engaged in a breach of the peace, is arrested by a bystander and delivered to him.

Offense committed in presence of magistrate.

(5424) § 55. When a public offense is committed in the presence of a magistrate, he may, by a verbal or written order, command any person to arrest the offender, and may thereupon proceed as if the offender had been brought before him on a warrant of arrest.

Arrest by private person.

(5425) § 56. A private person may arrest another:

First. For a public offense committed or attempted in his presence.

Second. When the person arrested has committed a felony although not in his presence.

Third. When a felony has been in fact committed, and he has reasonable cause for believing the person arrested to have committed it.

Inform person of cause of arrest.

(5426) § 57. He must, before making the arrest, inform the person to be arrested of the cause thereof, and require him to submit, except when he is in the actual commission of the offense or when he is arrested on pursuit immediately after its commission.

Private person may break door.

(5427) § 58. If the person to be arrested have committed a felony, and a private person, after notice of his intention to make the arrest, be refused admittance, he may break open an outer or inner door or window of a dwelling house, for the purpose of making the arrest.

Duty in case of arrest by private person

(5428) § 59. A private person who has arrested another for the commission of a public offense, must, without unnecessary delay, take him before a magistrate or deliver him to a peace officer.

Offensive weapons taken away.

(5429) § 60. Any person making an arrest must take from the person arrested all offensive weapons which he may have about his person, and must deliver them to the magistrate before whom he is taken.

Pursuit and arrest of an escape.

(5330) § 61. If a person arrested escape or be rescued, the person from whose custody he escaped or was rescued, may immediately pursue and retake him, at any time, and in any place in the Territory.

May break door or window to make arrest.

(5431) § 62. To take the person escaping or rescued, the person pursuing may, after notice of his intention and refusal of admittance, break open an outer or inner door or window of a dwelling house.

Duty of magistrate.

(5432) § 63. When the defendant is brought before a magistrate upon an arrest, either with or without a warrant, on a charge of having committed a public offense, the magistrate must immediately inform him of the charge against him, and of his right to the aid of counsel in every stage of the proceedings, and also of his right to waive an examination before any further proceedings are had.

Defendant allowed counsel.

(5433) § 64. He must also allow to the defendant a reasonable time to send for counsel, and adjourn the examination for that purpose; and must, upon the request of the defendant, require a peace officer to take a message to such counsel in the county or city as the defendant may name. The officer must, without delay, perform that duty, and shall receive fees therefor as upon service of a subpœna: Provided, however, That at any time before the examination is begun, a change of venue may be had, for the same causes and in the same manner, and be transmitted to another justice, as in cases finally triable before a justice of the peace.

Defendant to be examined.

(5434) § 65. The magistrate must without a jury, immediately after the appearance of counsel, or if none appear and the defendant require the aid of counsel, after waiting a reasonable time therefor, proceed to examine the case. The defendant may be sworn and testify in his own behalf as in civil cases.

Adjournment.

(5435) § 66. The examination must be completed at one session unless the magistrate for goood cause adjourn it. The adjournment cannot be for more than two days at each time, nor more than six days in all, unless by consent or on motion of the defendant.

Disposition of defendant on adjournment

(5436) § 67. If an adjournment be had for any cause, the magistrate must commit the defendant for examination, or discharge him from custody upon sufficient bail, or upon the deposit of money as provided in this chapter, as security for his appearence at the time to which the examination is adjourned.

Commitment for examination.

(5437) § 68. The commitment for examination is by an indorsement signed by the magistrate, on the warrant of arrest, to the following effect.

The within named A B, having been brought before me under this warrant, and having failed to give bail for his appearance, is committed to the sheriff of the county of ....(or to the marshal of the city of..... ....., as the case may be), to await examination on the..... day of.... ... .18...., at .....o'clock, at which time you will have his body before me at my office.

Duty of magistrate on examination.

(5438) § 69. At the examination the magistrate must, in the first place, read to the defendant the information on file before him. He must also, after the commencement of the prosecution, issue subpœnas for any witnesses required by the prosecutor or the defendant.

Rights of the defendant.

(5439) § 70. The witnesses must be examined in the presence of the defendant, and may be cross examined in his behalf. And on demand of the defendant all the testimony in the case must be reduced to writing in the form of depositions.

Order of witnesses

(5440) § 71. When the examination of the witnesses on the part of the Territory is closed, any witnesses the defendant may produce must be sworn and examined.

Magistrate to keep depositions.

(5441) § 72. The magistrate or his clerk must keep the depositions taken on the examination, if any have been taken, and the statement of the defendant, if any, until they are returned to the proper court, and must not permit them to be inspected by any person except a judge of a court having jurisdiction of the offense, the district attorney of the county, and the defendant and his counsel.

Violation of provisions of last section.

(5442) § 73. A violation of the provisions of the last section is punishable as a misdemeanor.

Defendant discharged, when.

(5443) § 74. After hearing the proofs and the statement of the defendant, if he have made one, or his testimony if he testifies if it appear either that a public offense has not been committed, or that a public offense has been committed, but there is not sufficient cause to believe the defendant guilty thereof, the magistrate must order the defendant to be discharged, by an indorsement on the information over his signature to the following effect:

There being no sufficient cause to believe the within named A B. guilty of the offense within mentioned, I order him to be discharged.

Costs taxed against complainant.

(5444) § 75. If the defendant on a preliminary examination for a public offense be discharged as provided in the last section and if the magistrate find that the prosecution was malicious and without probable cause, he shall enter such judgment on his docket and tax the costs against the complaining witness which shall be enforced as judgments for costs in criminal cases, and execution may issue therefor.

Defendant held to answer.

(5445) § 76. If, however, it appear from the examination that any public offense triable on indictment has been committed, and that there is sufficient cause to believe the defendant guilty thereof, the magistrate must in like manner indorse on the information an order signed by him to the following effect:

It appearing to me that the offense in the within [named] information mentioned (or any other offense, according to the fact, stating generally the nature thereof,) has been committed, and that there is sufficient cause to believe the within named A. B. guilty thereoof, I order that he be held to answer the same.

Proceedings when offense is not bailable.

(5446) § 77. If the offense be not bailable, the following words, or words to the same effeet, must be added to the indorsement:

And that he is hereby committed to the sheriff of....., or to the marshal of the city of....., or as the case may be.)

When offense is bailable.

(5447) § 78. If the offense is bailable, and bail is taken by the magistrate, the following words, or words to the same effect, must be added to the indorsement mentioned in the second preceding section:

And I have admitted him to bail, to answer, by the undertaking hereto annexed.

If bail is not taken.

(5448) § 79. If the offense is bailable, and the defendant is admitted to bail, but the bail have not been taken, the following words, or words to the same effect, must be added to such indorsement:

And that he is admitted to bail in the sum of..... ..dollars, and be committed to the sheriff of the county of..... (or marshal of the city of....., or as the case may be,) until said bail be given.

Commitment.

(5449) § 80. If the magistrate order the defendant to be committed as provided in the three preceding sections, he must make out a commitment, signed by him, with his name of office, and deliver it, with the defendant, to the officer to whom he is committed, or if that officer be not present, to the peace officer, who must immediately deliver the defendant into the proper custody, together with the commitment.

Form of commitment.

(5450) § 81. The commitment must be to the following effect:

THE TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA }
COUNTY OF ....., } SS

To the sheriff of the county of ....., (or the marshal of the city of ....., or as the case may be):

An order having been this day made by me, that A B be held to answer upon a charge of (stating briefly the nature of the offense, with time and place as near as may be), you are commanded to receive him into your custody, and detain him until he is legally discharged.

Dated at ....., this..... day of ....., 18....

C..... D.....

Justice of the peace (or as the case may be).

Witness to give undertaking.

(5451) § 82. On holding the defendant to answer, the magistrate may take from each of the material witnesses examined before him on the part of the Territory, a written undertaking, without surety, to the effect that he will appear and testify at the court to which the information and deposition, if any, are to be sent, or that he will forfeit such sum as the magistrate may fix and determine.

Sureties may be required.

(5452) § 83. When the magistrate is satisfied, by proof on oath, that there is reason to believe that any such witness will not appear and testify, unless security be required, he may order the witness to enter into a written undertaking, with such sureties and in such sum as he may deem proper, for his appearance, as specified in the last section.

Infants and married women.

(5453) § 84. Infants and married women, who are material witnesses against the defendant, may in like manner be required to procure sureties for their appearance, as provided in the last section.

Witness committed.

(5454) § 85. If a witness, required to enter into an undertaking to appear and testify, either with or without sureties, refuse compliance with the order for that purpose, the magistrate must commit him to prison until he comply, or is legally discharged.

Subsequent security may be demanded.

(5455) § 86. When, however, any material witness on the part of the people has been discharged on his undertaking, without surety, if afterwards, on the sworn application of the district attorney or other person on behalf of the Territory, made to the magistrate or to any judge, it satisfactorily appears that the presence of such witness or any other person on the part of the people is material or necessary on the trial in court, such magistrate or judge may compel such witness, or any other material witness on the part of the Territory, to give an undertaking with sureties, to appear on the said trial and give his testimony therein; and, for that purpose, the said magistrate or judge may issue a warrant against such person, under his hand, with or without seal, directed to a sheriff, marshal or other officer, to arrest such person and bring him before such magistrate or judge.

Witness may be confined.

(5456) § 87. And in case the person so arrested shall neglect or refuse to give said undertaking in the manner required by said magistrate or judge, he may issue a warrant of commitment against such person, which shall be delivered to said sheriff or other officer, whose duty it shall be to convey such person to the jail mentioned in said warrant, and the said person shall remain in confinement until he shall be removed to the grand jury and to the court, for the purpose of giving his testimony, or until he shall have given the undertaking required by said magistrate or judge.

Magistrate must return papers and record.

(5457) § 88 When a magistrate has discharged a defendant, or has held him to answer, he must return immediately to the next district court of the county or subdivision, the warrant, if any, the information, the depositions, if any have been taken, of all the witnesses examined before him, the statement of the defandant, if he have made one, and all undertakings of bail or for the appearance of witnesses, taken by him, together with a certified record of the proceedings as they appear on his docket.

(5462) § 5. No indictment shall be found nor shall any accusation be made without the concurrence of at least twelve grand jurors. Twelve jurors may find indictment.

(5463) § 6. The Territory, or a person held to answer a charge for a public offense, may challenge the panel of a grand jury, or an individual grand juror. Who may challenge a panel

Same, cause for.

(5464) § 7. A challenge to the panel may be interposed by either party for one or more of the following causes only.

First. That the requisite number of ballots was not drawn from the jury box of the county or subdivision.

Second. That the drawing was not had in the presence of the officers designated by law, or in the manner prescribed by law.

Jury discharged.

(5465) § 8. If a challenge to the panel be allowed, the grand jury must be discharged.

Challenge to juror.

(5466) § 9. A challenge to an individual grand juror may be interposed by either party, for one or more of the following causes only.

First. That he is a minor.

Second. That he is not a qualified elector.

Third. That he is otherwise disqualified under any of the provisions of law, in relation to the qualification of grand jurors.

Fourth. That he is insane.

Fifth. That he is a prosecutor upon a charge against the defendant.

Sixth. That he is a witness on the part of the prosecution, and has been served with process or bound by an undertaking as such.

Seventh. That a state of mind exists on his part in reference to the case, or to either party, which will prevent him from acting impartially and without prejudice to the substantial rights of the party challenging; but no person shall be disqualified as a juror, by reason of having formed and expressed an opinion upon the matter or cause to be submitted to such jury, founded upon public rumor, statements in public journals, or common notoriety, provided it satisfactorily appear to the court, upon his declaration, under oath, or otherwise, that he can and will, notwithstanding such opinion, act impartially and fairly upon the matters to be submitted to him.

Oral or written challenge.

(5467) § 10. Challenges may be oral or in writing, and must be tried by the court.

Duty of clerk of court.

(5468) § 11. The court must allow or disallow the challenge and the clerk must enter its decision upon the minutes if demanded.

Effect of challenge allowed.

(5469) § 12. If a challenge to an individual grand juror is allowed, he cannot be present at, or take part in the consideration of the charge against the defendant who interposed the challenge, or the deliberations of the grand jury thereon.

Violation of last section

(5470) § 13. The grand jury must inform the court of a violation of the last section, and it is punishable by the court as a contempt.

Challenge to be before jury is sworn.

(5471) § 14. Neither the Territory, nor a person held to answer a charge for a public offense, can take advantage of any objection to the panel or to an individual grand juror unless it be by challenge, and before the grand jury is sworn, except that after the grand jury is sworn, and before the indictment is found, the court may, in its discretion, upon a good cause shown, receive and allow a challenge.

Court may order another jury.

(5472) § 15. If the grand jury is discharged by an allowance of a challenge to the whole panel, or if an offense is committed during the sitting of the court after the regular discharge of the grand jury, or if after such discharge a new indictment becomes requisite by reason of an arrest of judgment or by the quashing of an indictment, or if from any other good and sufficient cause another grand jury may become necessary the court may in its discretion, order that another grand jury be summoned, and the court may to that end forthwith make an order to the county commissioners for the immediate selection and furnishing to the clerk of a list of jurors and may make such further orders to the clerk, sheriff and other officers for an immediate compliance with their duties as may be proper to obtain another grand jury at and during the same term of the court.

Special grand jury.

(5473) § 16. A grand jury formed and impaneled as to and in a particular case after a challenge or challenges to individual grand jurors have been allowed, shall only be sworn to act in such particular case and as to all other cases at the same term of the court the grand jury shall be formed in the usual manner provided by law.

Court to appoint foreman

(5574) § 17. From the persons summoned to serve as grand jurors, and appearing, the court must appoint a foreman. The court must also appoint a foreman when a person already appointed is discharged or excused before the grand jury are dismissed.

Oath to foreman.

(5475) § 18. The following oath must be administered to the foreman of the grand jury:

You, as foreman of this grand jury, shall diligently inquire into, and true presentment make, of all public offenses against this Territory, committed or triable within this county (or subdivision), of which you shall have or can obtain legal evidence. You will keep your own counsel, and that of your fellows, and of the Territory, and will not, except when required in the due course of judicial proceedings, disclose the testimony of any witness examined before you, nor anything which you or any other grand juror may have said, nor the manner in which you or any other grand juror may have voted on any matter before you. You shall present no person through malice, hatred, or ill will, nor leave any unpresented through fear, favor or affection, or for any reward, or the promise or hope thereof; but in all your presentments, or indictments, you shall present the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, according to the best of your skill and understanding. So help you God.

Oath to other jurors.

(5476) § 19. The following oath must be immediately thereupon administered to the other grand jurors present:

The same oath which your foreman has now taken before you on his part, you and each of you shall well and truly observe on your part. So help you God.

Grand jury charged.

(5477) § 20. The grand jury, being impanelled and sworn, must be charged by the court. In doing so, the court must give them such information as it may deem proper as to the nature of of their duties, and as to any charges for public offenses returned to the court, or likely to come before the grand jury.

Jury retires

(5478) § 21. The grand jury must then retire to a private room and inquire into the offenses cognizable by them.

Grand jury must appoint a clerk.

(5479) § 22. The grand jury must appoint one of their number as clerk, who must preserve minutes of their proceedings, except of the votes of the individual members, and of the evidence given before them.

Jury discharged.

(5480) § 23. On the completion of the business before them, or whenever the court shall be of opinion that the public interests will not be subserved by a further continuance of the session, the grand jury must be discharged by the court; but whether the business be completed or not, they are discharged by the final adjournment of the court.

General powers and duties of grand jury.

(5481) § 24. The grand jury has power, and it is their duty to inquire into all public offenses committed or triable in the county or subdivision, and to present them to the court, by indictment or accusation in writing.

Indictment defined.

(5482) § 25. An indictment is an accusation in writing, presented by a grand jury to a competent court, charging a person with a public offense.

Oath to witness.

(5483) § 26. The foreman may administer an oath to any witness appearing before the grand jury.

What evidence received.

(5484) § 27. In the investigation of a charge for the purpose of either presentment or indictment or accusation, the grand jury can receive no other evidence than such as is given by witnesses produced and sworn before them, or furnished by legal documentary evidence.

Only best evidence

(5485) § 28. The grand jury can receive none but legal evidence and the best evidence in degree to the exclusion of hearsay or secondary evidence.

Evidence for defendant.

(5486) § 29. The grand jury is not bound to hear evidence for the defendant, but it is their duty to weigh all the evidence submitted to them, and when they have reason to believe that there is other evidence, they may, by and with the consent of the district attorney, order such evidence to be produced, and for that purpose the district attorney may issue process for the witnesses.

Indictment to be found, when.

(5487) § 30. The grand jury ought to find an indictment when all the evidence before them, taken together, is such as in their judgment would, if unexplained or uncontradicted, warrant a conviction by the trial jury.

Members to give evidence.

(5488) § 31. If a member of the grand jury knows, or has reason to believe, that a public offense has been committed, which is triable in the county or subdivision, he must declare the same to his fellow jurors, who must thereupon investigate the same.

Subjects for inquiry by the grand jury.

(5489) § 32. The grand jury must inquire:

First. Into the case of every person imprisoned in the jail of the county or subdivision, on a criminal charge, and not indicted.

Second. Into the condition and management of the public prisons in the county or subdivision; and,

Third. Into the wilful and corrupt misconduct in office of public officers of every description in the county or subdivision.

Have access to prisons.

(5490) § 33. They are also entitled to free access at all reasonable times, to public prisons, and to the examination, without charge, of all public records in the county.

District attorney privileged.

(5491) § 34. The grand jury may at all reasonable times ask the advice of the court or of the district attorney. The district attorney may at all times appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information or advice relative to any matter cognizable before them and may interrogate witnesses before them whenever he thinks it necessary, but no other person is permitted to be present during their sessions except the members and a witness actually under examination and no person whomsoever must be permitted to be present during the expression of their opinions or the giving of their votes upon any matter before them.

Proceedings kept secret.

(5492) § 35. Every member of the grand jury must keep secret whatever he himself or any other grand juror may have said, or in what manner he or any other grand juror may have voted on a matter before them.

When juror may disclose proceedings.

(5493) § 36. A member of the grand jury may, however, be required by any court to disclose the testimony of a witness examined before the grand jury for the purpose of ascertaining whether it is consistent with that given by the witness before the court, or to disclose the testimony given before them by any person, upon a charge against him for perjury in giving his testimony or upon his trial therefor.

Jurors cannot be questioned.

(5494) § 37. A grand juror cannot be questioned for anything he may say, or any vote he may give in the grand jury, relative to a matter legally pending before the jury, except for a perjury of which he may have been guilty in making an accusation or giving testimony to his fellow jurors.

26. Indictment for selling obscene books.
27. When there are several defendants.
28. Accessories and principal.
29. Accessory tried.
30. Compounding a felony.

Finding an indictment.

(5495) § 1. An indictment cannot be found without the concurrence of at least twelve grand jurors. When so found, it must be indorsed "A true bill," and the indorsement must be signed by the foreman of the grand jury.

Dismissal of charge.

(5496) § 2. If twelve grand jurors do not concur in finding an indictment against a defendant who has been held to answer, the original information of the certified record of the proceedings before the magistrate transmitted to them, must be returned to the court, with an indorsement thereon, signed by the foreman, to the effect that the charge is dismissed.

Resubmission of charge.

(5497) § 3. The dismissal of the charge does not, however, prevent its being again submitted to a grand jury as often as the court may so direct. But without such direction it cannot be again submitted.

Name of witnesses.

(5498) § 4. When an indictment is found, the names of the witnesses examined before the grand jury must, in all cases, be inserted at the foot of the indictment or indorsed thereon before it is presented to the court.

Indictment, presented how,

(5499) § 5. An indictment, when found by the grand jury, must be presented by their foreman, in their presence, to the court, and must be filed with the clerk, and remain in his office as a public record.

Proceedings to arrest,

(5500) § 6. When an indictment is found against a defendant who has not been previously arrested. and is not under bail, the same proceedings must be had as are prescribed against a defendant who fails to appear for arraignment.

Forms of pleading

(5501) § 7. All forms of pleading in criminal actions, and rules by which the sufficiency of pleadings is to be determined, are those prescribed by this chapter.

First pleading

(5502) § 8. The first pleading on the part of the Territory is the indictment.

Requisites of indictment

(5503) § 9. The indictment must contain:

First. The title of the action, specifying the name of the court to which the indictment is presented, and the names of the parties.

Second. A statement of the acts constituting the offense, in ordinary and concise language, and in such manner as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.

Indictment must be certain and direct.

(5504) § 10. The indictment must be direct and certain as it regards:

First. The party charged.

Second. The offense charged.

Third. The particular circumstances of the offense charged, when they are necessary to constitute a complete offense.

Fictitious name.

(5505) § 11. When a defendant is indicted or prosecuted by a fictitious or erroneous name, and in any stage of the proceedings his true name is discovered, it must be inserted in the subsequent proceedings, referring to the fact of his being indicted by the name mentioned in the indictment.

Indictment must charge but one offense.

(5506) § 12. The indictment must charge but one offense, but the same offense may be set forth in different forms or degrees under different counts; and when the offense may be committed by the use of different means, the means may be alleged in the alternative in the same count.

Time of offense

(5507) § 13. The precise time at which the offense was committed need not be stated in the indictment; but it may be alleged to have been committed at any time before the finding thereof, except where the time is a material ingredient in the offense.

Certain immaterial errors.

(5508) § 14. When an offense involves the commission of, or an attempt to commit a private injury, and is described with sufficient certainty in other respects to identify the act, an erroneous allegation as to the person injured, or intended to be injured, is not material.

Words, how construed.

(5509) § 15. The words used in an indictment must be construed in their usual acceptation, in common language, except words and phrases defined by law, which are to be construed according to their legal meaning.

Statute not strictly pursued.

(5510) § 16. Words used in a statute to define a public offense, need not be strictly pursued in the indictment, but other words conveying the same meaning may be used.

Indictment when sufficient.

(5511) § 17. The indictment is sufficient if it can be understood therefrom:

First. That it is entitled in a court having authority to receive it, though the name of the court be not stated.

Second. That it was found by a grand jury of the county or subdivision in which the court was held.

Third. That the defendant is named, or if his name cannot be discovered, that he is described by a fictitious name, with the statement that his true name is to the jury unknown.

Fourth. That the offense was committed at some place within the jurisdiction of the court, except where the act, though done without the local jurisdiction of the county or subdivision, is triable therein.

Fifth. That the offense was committed at some time prior to the time of finding the indictment.

Sixth. That the act or omission charged as the offense is clearly and distinctly set forth in ordinary and concise language, without repetition, and in such a manner as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.

Seventh. That the act or omission charged as the offense, is stated with such a degree of certainty, as to enable the court to pronounce judgment upon a conviction according to the right of the case.

Certain informalities disregarded.

(5512) § 18. No indictment is insufficient, nor can the trial, judgment, or other proceedings thereon be affected, by reason of a defect or imperfection in the matter of form which does not tend to the prejudice of the substantial rights of the defendant upon the merits.

What need not be stated.

(5513) § 19. Neither presumptions of law, nor matters of which judicial notice is taken, need be stated in an indictment

Pleading a judgment.

(5514) § 20. In pleading a judgment or other determination of, or proceeding before a court or officer of special jurisdiction, it is not necessary to state the facts conferring jurisdiction; but the judgment or determination may be stated to have been duly given or made. The facts constituting jurisdiction, however, must be established on the trial.

Pleading private statute,

(5515) § 21. In pleading a private statute, or a right derived therefrom, it is sufficient to refer to the statute by its title and the day of its passage, and the court must thereupon take judicial notice thereof, as provided in article 25 of chapter 25.

Indictment for libel.

(5516) § 22. An indictment for libel need not set forth any extrinsic facts for the purpose of showing the application to the party libelled of the defamatory matter on which the indictment is founded, but it is sufficient to state generally that the same was published concerning him, and the fact that it was so published must be established on trial.

Indictment for forgery

(5517) § 23. When an instrument, which is the subject of an indictment for forgery, has been destroyed or withheld by the act or procurement of the defendant, and the fact of the destruction or withholding is alleged in the indictment and established on the trial, the misdescription of the instrument is immaterial.

Indictment for perjury.

(5518) § 24. In an indictment for perjury, or subornation of perjury, it is sufficient to set forth the substance of the controversy or matter in respect to which the offense was committed, and in what court or before whom the oath alleged to be false was taken, and that the court or person before whom it was taken had authority to administer it, with proper allegations of the falsity of the matter on which the perjury is assigned; but the indictment need not set forth the pleadings, record, or proceedings with which the oath is connected, nor the commission or authority of the court or person before whom the perjury was committed.

Indictment for larceny or embezzlement.

(5519) § 25. In an indictment for the larceny or embezzlement of money, bank notes, certificates of stock or valuable securities, or for a conspiracy to cheat and defraud a person of any such property, it is sufficient to allege the larceny or embezzlement, or the conspiracy to cheat and defraud, to be of money, bank notes, certificates of stock or valuable securities, without specifying the coin, number, denomination or kind thereof.

Indictment for selling obscene books.

(5520) § 26. An indictment for exhibiting, publishing, passing, selling or offering to sell, or having in possession with such intent, any lewd or obscene book, pamphlet, picture, print, card, paper or writing, need not set forth any portion of the language used or figures shown upon such book, pamphlet, picture, print, card, paper or writing, but it is sufficient to state generally the fact of the lewdness or obscenity thereof

When there are several defendants

(5521) § 27. Upon an indictment against several defendants, any one or more may be convicted or acquitted.

Accessories and principals.

(5522) § 28. The distinction between an accessory before the fact and a principal, and between principals in the first and second degree, in cases of felony, is abrogated, and all persons concerned in the commission of a felony, whether they directly commit the act constituting the offense, or aid and abet in its commission, though not present, must hereafter be indicted, tried and punished as principals, and no additional facts need be alleged in any indictment against such an accessory than are required in an indictment against his principal.

Accessory tried.

(5523) § 29. An accessory to the commission of a felony may be indicted, tried and punished, though the principal felon be neither indicted nor tried, and though the principal may have been acquitted.

Compounding a felony.

(5524) § 30. A person may be indicted for having, with the knowledge of the commission of a public offense, taken money or property of another, or a gratuity or reward, or an engagement or promise therefor, upon the agreement or understanding, express or implied, to compound or conceal the offense, or to abstain from a prosecution therefor, or to withhold any evidence thereof, though the person guilty of the original offense have not been indicted or tried.

Defendant arraigned.

(5525) § 1. When the indictment is filed, the defendant must be arraigned thereon before the court in which it is found, if triable therein, if not, before the court to which it is removed or transmitted.

If for felony, defendant must be present.

(5526) § 2. If the indictment is for a felony the defendant must be personally present, but if for a misdemeanor only, his personal appearance is unnecessary, and he may appear upon the arraignment by counsel.

Officer to bring him before court.

(5527) § 3. When his personal appearance is necessary, if he be in custody, the court may direct the officer in whose custody he is, to bring him before it to be arraigned, and the officer must do so accordingly.

Bench warrant to issue, when (5528) § 4. If the defendant has been discharged on bail, or have deposited money instead thereof, and does not appear to be arraigned, when his personal attendance is necessary, the court, in addition to the forfeiture of the undertaking of bail or of the money deposited, may direct the clerk to issue a bench warrant for his arrest.

Clerk to issue warrant.

(5529) § 5. The clerk, on the application of the district attorney, may, accordingly, at any time after the order, whether the court be setting or not, issue a bench warrant into one or more counties.

Form of warrant.

(5530) § 6. The bench warrant upon the indictment must, if the offense is a felony, be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA, } S.S.
COUNTY OF ..... }

To any Sheriff, constable, policeman or marshal in this Territory:

An indictment having been found on the.....day of..... ....., A.D. 18...., in the district court in and for the county (or sub-division) of ....., charging C. D. with the crime of ....., (designating it generally) you are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest the above named C. D., and bring him before the court (or before the court to which the indictment may have been removed, naming it) to answer said indictment, or if the court have adjourned for the term, that you deliver him into the custody of the sheriff of the county of.....

.....

Given under my hand, with the seal of said court affixed this ..... day of ....., A.D. 18.....

By order of the court.

(SEAL) E. F., Clerk.

When offense is misdemeanor or bailable felony.

(5531) § 7. If the offense is a misdemeanor or a bailable felony, the bench warrant must be in a similar form, adding to the body thereof a direction to the following effect:

Or if he requires it that you take him before any magistrate in that county or in county in which you arrest him, that he may give bail to answer the indictment.

Court to fix amount of bail.

(5532) § 8. If the offense charged is bailable the court, upon directing the bench warrant to issue, must fix the amount of bail; and an indorsement must be made on the bench warrant and signed by the clerk, to the following effect:

The defendant is to be admitted to bail in the sum of ..... dollars.

Offenses not bailable.

(5532) § 9. The defendant, when arrested under a warrant for an offense not bailable, must be held in custody by the sheriff of the county or subdivision in which the indictment is found.

Warrant served in any county

(5534) § 10. The bench warrant may be served in any county in the same manner as a warrant of arrest, except that when served in another county it need not be indorsed by a magistrate of that county.

Taking bail.

(5535) § 11. If the defendant is brought before a magistrate of another county for the purpose of giving bail, the magistrate must proceed in respect thereto, in the same manner as if the defendant had been brought before him upon a warrant of arrest, and the same proceedings may be had thereon.

Duty of court when indictment is found

(5536) § 12. When the indictment is for a felony, and the defendant, before the finding thereof, has given bail for his appearance to answer the charge, the court to which the indictment is presented, or sent or removed for trial, may order the defendant to be committed to actual custody, either without bail, or unless he give bail in an increased amount, to be specified in the order.

Defendant present in court.

(5537) § 13. If the defendant is present when the order is made, he must be forthwith committed accordingly. If he is not present, a bench warrant must be issued and proceeded upon in the manner provided in this chapter.

Counsel appointed before arraignment.

(5538) § 14. If the defendant appear for arraignment, without counsel, he must be informed by the court that it is his right to have counsel before being arraigned, and must be asked if he desire the aid of counsel. If he desires, and is unable to employ counsel, the court must assign counsel to defend him.

Arraignment made, how.

(5539) § 15. The arraignment must be made by the court, or by the clerk or district attorney, under its direction, and consists in reading the indictment to the defendant, and asking him whether he pleads guilty or not guilty to the indictment.

True name of defendant.

(5540) § 16. When the defendant is arraigned, he must be informed that if the name by which he is indicted be not his true name, he must then declare his true name or be proceeded against by the name in the indictment.

No name given.

(5541) § 17. If he gives no other name, the court may proceed accordingly.

Another name given.

(5542) § 18. If he allege that another name is his true name, the court must direct an entry thereof in the minutes of the arraignment, and the subsequent proceedings on the indictment may be had against him by that name, referring also to the name by which he is indicted.

Time to answer given,

(5543) § 19. If, on the arraignment, the defendant require it, he must be allowed until the next day, or such further time may be allowed him as the court may deem reasonable, to answer the indictment.

Move to set aside, demur or plead.

(5544) § 20. If the defendant do not require time, as provided in the last section, or if he do, then on the next day, or at such further day as the court may have allowed him, he may, in answer to the arraignment, either move the court to set aside the indictment, or may demur or plead thereto.

Causes for setting aside the indictment

(5545) § 21. The indictment must be set aside by the court in which the defendant is arraigned, and upon his motion, in either of the following cases.

First. When it is not found, indorsed presented or filed, as prescribed in this act.

Second. When the names of the witnesses examined before the grand jury are not inserted at the foot of the indictment, or indorsed thereon.

Third. When a person is permitted to be present during the session of the grand jury, while the vote on the finding of the indictment is being taken.

On motion made, objections waived

(5546) § 22. If the motion to set aside the indictment be not made, the defendant is precluded from afterward taking the objections mentioned in the last section.

Motion heard, when.

(5547) § 23. The motion must be heard at the time it is made unless for good cause the court postpone the hearing to another time.

Motion denied, answer immediately.

(5548) § 24. If the motion be denied, the defendant must immediately answer to the indictment, either by demurring or pleading thereto.

When defendant discharged,

(5549) § 25. If the motion be granted the court must order that the defendant, if in custody, be discharged therefrom, or if admitted to bail, that his bail be exonerated, or if he have deposited money instead of bail, that the money be refunded to him, unless it direct that the case be re-submitted to the same, or another grand jury.

Resubmission of case.

(5550) § 26. If the court direct that the case be re-submitted, the defendant, if already in custody, must so remain, unless he be admitted to bail, or if already admitted to bail, or money have been deposited instead thereof, the bail or money is answerable for the appearance of the defendant to answer a new indictment, unless a new indictment is found before the next grand jury of the county is discharged, the court must, on the discharge of such grand jury, make the order prescribed in the preceding section.

Setting aside indictment not a bar.

(5551) § 27. An order to set aside an indictment, as provided in this chapter, is no bar to a further prosecution for the same offense.

Defendant's pleading.

(5552) § 28. The only pleading on the part of the defendant is either a demurrer or a plea.

Made in open court.

(5553) § 29. Both the demurrer and the plea must be put in in open court, either at the time of the arraignment, or at such other time as may be allowed to the defendant for that purpose.

When defendant may demur.

(5554) § 30. The defendant may demur to the indictment when it appears upon the face thereof, either:

First. That the grand jury by which it was found had no legal authority to inquire into the offense charged, by reason of its not being within the legal jurisdiction of the county or subdivision.

Second. That it does not substantially conform to the requirements of this act.

Third. That more than one offense is charged in the indictment.

Fourth. That facts stated do not constitute a public offense.

Fifth. That the indictment contains any matter which, if true, would constitute a legal justification or excuse of the offense charged, or other legal bar to the prosection.

Requisites of demurrer.

(5555) § 31. The demurrer must be in writing, signed either by the defendant or his counsel, and filed. It must distinctly specify the grounds of the objection to the indictment, or it must be disregarded.

Objections heard.

(5556) § 32. Upon the demurrer being filed, the objections presented thereby must be heard, either immediately or at such time as the court may appoint.

Judgment of court.

(5557) § 33. Upon considering the demurrer, the court must give judgment either sustaining or overruling it, and an order to that effect must be entered upon the minutes.

Effect if demurrer is sustained

(5558) § 34. If the demurrer is sustained, the judgment is final upon the indictment demurred to, and is a bar to another prosecution for the same offense, unless the court, being of opinion that the objection on which the demurrer is sustained may be avoided in a new indictment, direct the case to be resubmitted to the same or another grand jury.

Defendant discharged.

(5559) § 35. If the court do not direct the case to be resubmitted, the defendant, if in custody, must be discharged, or if admitted to bail, his bail is exonerated, or if he have deposited money instead of bail, the money must be refunded to him.

Proceedings if resubmitted.

(5560) § 36. If the court direct that the case be submitted anew, the same proceedings must be had thereon as are prescribed in this act, or in sections 5548, 5549 and 5550.

Objections how taken.

(5561) § 37. When the objections mentioned in section 5554 appear upon the face of the indictment, they can only be taken by demurrer, except that the objection to the jurisdiction of the court over the subject of the indictment, or that the facts stated do not constitute a public offense, may be taken at the trial, under the plea of not guilty, and in arrest of judgment.

Pleas classified.

(5562) § 38. There are three kinds of pleas to an indictment. A plea of:

First. Guilty.

Second. Not guilty.

Third. A former judgment of conviction or acquittal of the offense charged, which may be pleaded either with or without the plea of not guilty.

Plea must be oral.

(5563) § 39. Every plea must be oral, and must be entered upon the minutes of the court.

Form of plea.

(5564) § 40. The plea must be entered in substantially the following form:

First. If the defendant plead guilty:

The defendant pleads that he is guilty of the offense charged in this indictment.

Second. If he plead not guilty:

The defendant pleads that he is not guilty of the offense charged in this indictment.

Third. If he plead a former conviction or acquittal:

The defendant pleads that he has already been convicted (or acquitted, as the case may be), of the offense charged in this indictment, by the judgment of the court of. .. ..(naming it), rendered at.....(naming the place), on the.....day of ....

Requisites of plea of guilty.

(5565) § 41. A plea of guilty can in no case be put in, except by the defendant himself, in open court, unless upon an indictment against a corporation, in which case it can be put in by counsel.

Plea may be withdrawn.

(5566) § 42. The court may, at any time before judgment, upon a plea of guilty, permit it to be withdrawn, and a plea of not guilty substituted.

Issues on plea.

(5567) § 43. The plea of not guilty puts in issue every material allegation in the indictment.

Evidence under the plea.

(5568) § 44. All matters of fact tending to establish a defense other than specified in the third subdivision of section 5562, may be given in evidence under the plea of not guilty.

Acquittal of another offensn

(5569) § 45. If the defendant was formerly acquitted on the ground of variance between the indictment and proof, or the indictment was dismissed upon an objection to its form or substance, or in order to hold the defendant for a higher offense, without a judgment of acquittal, it is not an acquittal of the same offense.

Acquitted on merits.

(5570) § 46. When, however, he was acquitted on the merits, he is deemed acquitted of the same offense, notwithstanding a defect in form of substance in the indictment on which he was acquitted.

Former acquittal or conviction.

(5571) § 47. When the defendant shall have been convicted or acquitted upon an indictment, the conviction or acquittal is a bar to another indictment for the offense charged in the former, or for an attempt to commit the same, or for an offense necessarily included therein, of which he might have been convicted under that indictment.

Refusal to plead.

(5572) § 48. If the defendant refuse to answer the indictment by demurrerer or plea, a plea of not guilty must be entered.

Action removed how and when.

(5573) § 49. A criminal action, prosecuted by indictment, may, at any time before the trial is begun, on the application of the defendant, be removed from the court and county in which it is pending as follows:

First. If the offense charged in the indictment, be punishable with death or imprisonment in the Territorial prison for life, if it be made to appear by the affidavit of the accused, and two disinterested persons that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in such county, the change must be granted.

Second. If the offense charged in the indictment be punishable with confinement in and for a term less than life in the Territorial prison, and it be shown to the court by the affidavit of the accused corroborated by five disinterested persons, that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in the county, then the court may in his his discretion, award or refuse the change; the order shall be reviewable on appeal.

Third. In other cases no change shall be allowed, but one such removal can be had. If the accused shall make affidavit that he cannot have an impartial trial by reason of the bias or prejudice of the presiding judge of the district court, where the indictment is pending, the judge of such court shall designate and call any other judge of a district court to preside at such trial, and it shall be the duty of such other judge to so preside and to do any other act in reference thereto, as though he was the presiding judge of such district court.

Duty of clerk on order of removal.

(5574) § 50. The order of removal must be entered upon the minutes, and the clerk must thereupon make out and transmit to the court to which the action is removed, a certified copy of the order of removal and of the records, pleadings and proceedings in the action, including the undertakings for the appearance of the defendant and of the witnesses.

Disposition of defendant.

(5575) § 51. If the defendant is in custody, the order must provide for the removal of the defendant, by the sheriff of the county or subdivision where he is imprisoned, to the custody of the proper officer of the county or subdivision to which the action is removed, and he must be removed according to the terms of such order.

Court may require bail.

(5576) § 52. When the court has ordered a removal of the action, it may require the accused, if the offense be then bailable, to enter into an undertaking with good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the court, in such sum as the court may direct, conditioned for his appearance in the court to which the action has been removed, on the first day of the next term thereof, and to abide the order of such court; and in default of such undertaking, a warrant shall be issued to the sheriff or other proper officer, commanding him safely to keep, and at the proper time to convey the prisoner to the jail of the county or subdivision where he is to be tried, there to be safely kept by the jailer thereof until discharged by due course of law.

Witnesses to recognize.

(5577) § 53. When a removal of the action is allowed, the court may recognize the witnesses on the part of the Territory to appear before the court to which the defendant is to be tried.

Trial, records and papers,

(5578) § 54. The court to which the action is removed must proceed to trial and judgment therein the same in all respects as if the action had been commenced in such court. If it is necessary to have any of the original pleadings or other papers before such court, the court from which the action is removed must at any time upon application of the district attorney or the defendant, order such papers or pleadings to be transmitted by the clerk, a certified copy thereof being retained.

Removal of cause by territory.

(5579) § 55. The district attorney, on behalf of the Territory, may also apply in a similar manner for a removal of the action, and the court being satisfied that it will promote the ends of justice, may order such removal upon the same terms and to the same extent as are provided in this chapter, and the proceedings on such removal shall be in all respects as above provided.

Issue of fact arises, when.

(5580) § 56. An issue of fact arises,

First. Upon a plea of not guilty, or.

Second. Upon a plea of a former conviction or acquittal of the same offense.

Issue of fact, how tried.

(5581) § 57. Issues of fact must be tried by a jury.

Defendant must be present.

(5582) § 58. If the indictment is for a felony, the defendant must be personally present at the trial, but if for a misdemeanor not punishable by imprisonment, the trial may be had in the absence of the defendant; if, however, his presence is necessary for the purpose of identification, the court may, upon application of the district attorney, by an order or warrant, require the personal attendance of the defendant at the trial.

Who are jurors.

(5583) § 59. The jurors duly drawn and summoned for the trial of civil actions, are also the jurors for the trial of criminal actions.

Trial jury, how formed.

(5584) § 60. Trial juries for criminal actions may also be formed in the same manner as trial juries in civil actions.

Clerk to prepare ballots

(5585) § 61. At the opening of the court the clerk must prepare separate ballots. containing the names of the persons returned as jurors, which must be folded as nearly alike as possible, and so that the same cannot be seen, and must deposit them in a sufficient box.

Names of all jurors to be called (5586) § 62. When the case is called for trial, and before drawing the jury, either party may require the names of all the jurors in the panel to be called, and the court in its discretion may order that an attachment issue against those who are absent; but the court may, in its discretion, wait or not for the return of the attachment.

Manner of drawing juror.

(5587) § 63. Before the name of any juror is drawn, the box must be closed and shaken, so as to intermingle the ballots therein. The clerk must then, without looking at the ballots, draw them from the box.

Disposition of ballots

(5588) § 64. When the jury is completed, the ballots containing the names of the jurors sworn must be laid aside and kept apart from the ballots containing the names of the other jurors, until the jury so sworn is discharged.

After jury discharged.

(5589) § 65. After the jury is so discharged, the ballots containing their names must be again folded and returned to the box, and so on, as often as a trial is had.

When juror is absent.

(5590) § 66. If a juror be absent when his name is drawn, or be set aside, or excused from serving on the trial, the ballot containing his name must be folded and returned to the box as soon as the jury is sworn.

If all jurymen do not appear.

(5591) § 67. When a jury has been duly summoned, if, upon calling the cause for trial, twenty-four of the jurors summoned do not appear, the court may, in its discretion, order the sheriff to summon from the body of the county or subdivision, as many persons as it may think proper, at least sufficient to make twenty-four jurors, from whom a jury for the trial of the cause may be selected.

Names put in box.

(5592) § 68. The names of the persons summoned to complete the jury must be written on distinct pieces of paper, folded each as nearly alike as possible, and so that the name can not be seen, and must be deposited in the box before mentioned.

Drawing the jury.

(5593) § 69. The clerk must thereupon, under the direction of the court, publicly draw out of the box so many of the ballots, one after another, as are sufficient to form the jury.

Number of jury, how sworn.

(5594) § 70. The jury consists of twelve men, chosen as prescribed by law, and sworn or affirmed well and truly to try and true deliverance to make between the Territory of Oklahoma and the defendant whom they shall have in charge, and a true verdict to give according to the evidence; which verdict must be unanimous.

If number of jurymen fail.

(5595) § 71. If a sufficient number cannot be obtained from the box to form a jury, the court may, as often as is necessary, order the sheriff to summon from the body of the county or subdivision, so many persons qualified to serve as jurors as it deems sufficient to form a jury. The jurors so summoned may be called from the list returned by the sheriff, and so many of them not excused or discharged, as may be necessary to complete the jury, must be impaneled and sworn.

Affirmation.

(5596) § 72. Any juror who is conscientiously scrupulous of taking the oath above described, shall be allowed to make affirmation, substituting for the words "so help you God," at the end of the oath, the following: "This you do affirm under the pains and penalties of perjury."

Postpone men for cause.

(5597) § 73. When an indictment is called for trial,, or at any time previous thereto, the court may, upon sufficient cause shown by either party, as in civil cases, direct the trial to be postponed to another day in the same or next term.

33. Peremptory challenge.

Challenges classed

(5598) § 1. A challenge is an objection made to the trial jurors, and is of two kinds:

First. To the panel.

Second. To an individual juror.

When several defendants

(5599) § 2. When several defendants are tried together they cannot sever their challenges, but must join therein.

Panel defined

(5600) § 3. The panel is a list of jurors returned by a sheriff, to serve at a particular court, or for the trial of a particular action.

Challenge to panel

(5601) § 4. A challenge to the panel is an objection made to all the trial jurors returned, and may be taken by either party.

Cause for challenge

(5602) § 5. A challenge to the panel can be founded only on a material departure from the forms prescribed by law, in respect to the drawing and return of the jury, or on the intentional omission of the sheriff to summon one or more of the jurors drawn, from which the defendant has suffered material prejudice.

When taken.

(5603) § 6. A challenge to the panel must be taken before a juror is sworn, and must be in writing, specifying plainly and distinctly the facts constituting the ground of challenge.

Issue on the challenge.

(5604) § 7. If the sufficiency of the facts alleged as a ground of challenge be denied, the adverse party may except to the challenge. The exception need not be in writing, but must be entered upon the minutes of the court, and thereupon the court must proceed to try the sufficiency of the challenge, assuming the facts alleged therein to be true.

Proceedings on exception to challenge

(5605) § 8. If, on the exception, the court deem the challenge sufficient, it may, if the justice require it, permit the party excepting to withdraw his exception, and to deny the facts alleged in the challenge. If the exception be allowed; the court may, in like manner, permit an amendment of the challenge.

When challenge denied.

(5606) § 9. If the challenge is denied, the denial may, in like manner, be oral, and must be entered upon the minutes of the court, and the court must proceed to try the questions fact.

Trial of challenge.

(5607) § 10. Upon the trial of the challenge, the officers, whether judicial or ministerial, whose irregularity is complained of, as well as any other persons, may be examined to prove or disprove the facts alleged as the ground of challenge.

Bias of officer

(5608) § 11. When the panel is formed from persons whose names are not drawn as jurors, a challenge may be taken to the panel on account of any bias of the officer who summoned them, which would be good ground of challenge to a juror. Such challenge must be made in the same form, and determined in the same manner as if made to a juror.

Discharge of jury.

(5609) § 12. If, upon an exception to the challenge, or a denial of the facts, the challenge be allowed, the court must discharge the jury, and another jury can be summoned for the same term forthwith from the body of the county or subdivision; or the judge may order a jury to be drawn and summoned in the regular manner. If it be disallowed, the court must direct the jury to be impanelled.

Court to inform defendant of his right to challenge.

(5610) § 13. When twelve men are called as jurors, the defendant must be informed by the court or under its direction, of his right to challenge the jurors, and that he must do so before the jury is sworn to try the cause.

Nature of challenge.

(5611) § 14. A challenge to an individual juror, is either;

First. Peremtory; or,

Second. For cause.

Challenge, when taken.

(5612) § 15. It must be taken when the jury is full and as soon as one person is removed by challenge, another must be put in his place, until the challenges are exhausted or waived. The court for good cause shown may permit a juror to be challenged after he is sworn to try the cause, but not after the testimony has been partially heard.

Peremptory challenge, who taken by.

(5613) § 16. A peremptory challenge can be taken either by party, and may be oral It is an objection to a juror for which no reason need be given, but upon which the court must exclude him.

Peremptory challenge, number each party entitled to.

(5614) § 17. In all criminal cases the county attorney and the defendant are each entitled to the following peremptory challenges:

First. For capital offenses, twelve jurors.

Second. In prosecution for offenses punishable by imprisonment in the Territorial prison, seven jurors.

Third. In other prosecutions, five jurors.

Prosecutor's challenges

(5615) § 18. The prosecuting attorney in capital cases may challenge peremptorily six jurors; in other cases three jurors.

Challenge for cause

(5616) § 19. A challenge for cause may be taken either by the Territory or the defendant.

Challenge for cause classed.

(5617) § 20. It is an objection to a particular juror and is either:

First. General, that the juror is disqualified from serving in any case on trial; or,

Second. Particular, that he is disqualified from serving in the case on trial.

Causes for challenge.

(5618) § 21. General causes of challenges are:

First. A conviction for felony.

Second. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by law, to render a person a competent juror, including a want of knowledge of the English language as used in the courts.

Third. Unsoundness of mind, or such defect in the faculties of the mind or organs of the body as renders him incapable of performing the duties of a juror.

Particular case

(5619) § 22. Particular causes of challenge are of two kinds:

First. For such a bias as when the existence of the facts is ascertained, in judgment of law disqualifies the juror, and which is known in this chapter as implied bias.

Second. For the existence of a state of mind on the part of the juror, in reference to the case, or to either party, which satisfies the court, in the exercise of a sound discretion, that he cannot try the issue impartially, without prejudice to the substantial rights of the party challenging, and which is known in this chapter as actual bias.

Challenge for implied bias.

(5620) § 23. A challenge for implied bias may be taken for all or any of the following cases, and for no other:

First. Consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree, inclusive, to the person alleged to be injured by the offense charged or on whose complaint the prosecution was instituted, or to the defendant.

Second. Standing in the relation of guardian and ward, attorney and client, master and servant, or landlord and tenant, or being a member of the family of the defendant, or of the person alleged to be injured by the offense charged, or on whose complaint the prosecution was instituted, or in his employment on wages.

Third. Being a party adverse to the defendant in a civil action, or having complained against, or been accused by him in a criminal prosecution.

Fourth. Having served on the grand jury which found the indictment, or on a coronor's jury which inquired into the death of a person whose death is the subject of the indictment.

Fifth. Having served on a trial jury which has tried another person for the offense charged in the indictment.

Sixth. Having been one of the jury formerly sworn to try the indictment, and whose verdict was set aside, or which was discharged without a verdict, after the cause was submitted to it.

Seventh. Having served as a juror in a civil action brought against the defendant for the act charged as an offense.

Eight. If the offense charged be punishable with death, the entertaining of such conscientious opinions as would preclude his finding the defendant guilty of, in which case he shall neither be permitted nor compelled to serve as a juror.

Exemption from jury service

(5621) § 24. An exemption from service on a jury is not a cause of challenge, but the privilege of the person exempted.

Cause stated in challenge.

(5622) § 25. In a challenge for implied bias, one or more of the causes stated in the second preceding section must be alleged. In a challenge for actual bias, the cause stated in the second subdivision of the third preceding section, must be alleged; but no person shall be disqualified as a juror by reason of having formed or expressed an opinion upon the matter or cause to be submitted to such jury, founded upon rumor, statements in public journals, or common noteriety, provided it appears to the court, upon his declaration, under oath or otherwise, that he can and will, notwithstanding such opinion, act impartially and fairly upon the matters to be submitted to him. The challenge may be oral, but must be entered upon the minutes of the court.

Exception to the challenge.

(5623) § 26. The adverse party may except to the challenge in the same manner as to a challenge to the panel, and the same procedings must be had thereon as prescribed in section 5604, except that if the exception be allowed the juror must be excluded. The adverse [party] may also orally deny the facts alledged as the grounds of challenge.

Challenge, how tried.

(5624) § 27. All challenges, whether to the panel or to individual jurors, shall be tried by the court, without the aid of triers.

Juror challenged as a witness

(5625) § 28. Upon the trial of a challenge to an individual juror, the juror challenged may be examined as a witness to prove or disapprove the challenge, and is bound to answer every question pertinent to the inquiry therein.

Other witnesses.

(5626) § 29. Other witnesses may also be examined on either side, and the rules of evidence applicable to the trial of other issues govern the admission or exclusion of testimony, on the trial of the challenge.

Duty of the court on trial of challenge.

(5627) § 30. On the trial of a challenge, the court must either allow or disallow the challenge, and direct an entry accordingly upon the minutes.

Order of taking challenges.

(5628) § 31. All challenges to an individual juror must be taken, first by the defendant and then by the Territory alternately.

Order of challenges for cause.

(5629) § 32. The challenges of either party for cause need not all be taken at once, but they must be taken separately, in the following order, including in each challenge all the causes of challenge belonging to the same class:

First. To the panel.

Second. To an individual juror for a general disqualification.

Third. To an individual juror for implied bias.

Fourth. To an individual juror for actual bias.

Peremptory challenges.

(5630) § 33. If all challenges on both sides are disallowed, either party, first the Territory and then the defendant, may take a peremptory challenge, unless the party's peremptory challenges are exhausted.

Order of trial.

(5631) § 1. The jury having been impanelled and sworn, the trial must proceed in the following order:

First. If the indictment is a felony, the clerk or district attorney must read it, and state the plea of the defendant to the jury. In other cases this formality may be dispensed with.

Second. The district attorney, or other counsel for the Territory, must open the case and offer the evidence in support of the indictment.

Third. The defendant or his counsel may then open his defense, and offer his evidence in support thereof.

Fourth. The parties may then, respectively, offer rebutting testimony only, unless the court for good reason, in furtherance of justice, or to correct an evident oversight, permit them to offer evidence upon their original case.

Fifth. When the evidence is concluded, the attorneys for the prosecution and the defense, may submit to the court written instructions. If the questions of law involved in the instructions are to be argued, the court shall direct the jury to withdraw during the argument, and after the argument, must settle the instructions, and may give or refuse any instruction asked, or may modify the same as he deems the law to be. Instructions refused shall be marked in writing by the judge, if modified, modification shall be shown in the instruction, and by refusal to give instructions or the modification thereof, shall be deemed to be excepted to. When the instructions are thus settled, the jury, if sent out, shall be recalled and the court shall thereupon read the instructions to the jury

Sixth. Thereupon, unless the case is submitted to the jury without argument, the counsel for the Territory shall commence, and the defendant or his counsel shall follow, then the counsel for the Territory shall conclude the argument to the jury. During the argument the attorneys shall be permitted to read and comment upon the instructions as applied to the evidence given, but shall not argue to the jury the correctness or incorrectness of the propositions of law therein contained. The court may permit one or more counsel to address the jury on the same side, and may arrange the order in which they shall speak, but shall not without the consent of the attorney's limit the time of their arguments. When the arguments are concluded, if the court be of the opinion, that the jury might be misled by the arguments of counsel, he may to prevent the same further instruct the jury. All instructions given shall be in writing unless waived by both parties, and shall be filed and become a part of the record in the case.

Court to decide the law.

(5632) § 2. The court must decide all questions of law which arise in the course of the trial.

Jury to determine facts in case of libel, courts instructions.

(5633) § 3. On the trial of an indictment for libel, the jury shall determine the facts under the instructions of the court as in other cases.

Jury limited to questions of fact.

(5634) § 4. On the trial of an indictment, questions of law are to be decided by the court, and the questions of fact are to be decided by the jury; and, although the jury have the power to find a general verdict, which includes questions of law as well as of fact, they are bound, nevertheless, to receive the law which is laid down as such by the court.

Restriction of argument,

(5635) § 5. If the indictment is for an offense punishable with death, three counsel on each side may argue the case to the jury. If it is for any other offense the court may, in its discretion, restrict the argument to one counsel on each side.

Defendant presumed innocent.

(5636) § 6. A defendant in a criminal action is presumed to be innocent until the contrary is proved, and in case of a reasonable doubt as to whether his guilt is satisfactorily shown, he is entitled to be acquitted.

Doubt as to degree of guilt.

(5637) § 7. When it appears that a defendant has committed a public offense and there is reasonable ground of doubt in which of two or more degrees he is guilty, he can be convicted of the lowest of such degree only.

Defendants tried separately.

(5638) § 8. When two or more defendants are jointly indicted for a felony, any defendant requiring it must be tried separately. In other cases defendants jointly prosecuted may be tried separately or jointly, in the discretion of the court.

Discharge of defendant for a witness.

(5639) § 9. When two or more persons are included in the same indictment, the court may, at any time time before the defendants have gone into their defense, on the application of the district attorney, direct any defendant to be discharged from the indictment. that he may be a witness for the Territory.

Same, duty of court

(5640) § 10. When two or more persons are included in the same indictment, and the court is of opinion that in regard to a particular defendant there is not sufficient evidence to put him on his defense, it must, before the evidence is closed, in order that he may be a witness for his co-defendant, submit its said opinion to the jury, who, if they so find, may acquit the particular defendant for the purpose aforesaid.

Defendant may be a competent witness

(5641) § 11. In the trial of all indictments, informations, complaints and other proceedings against persons charged with the commission of a crime, offenses and misdemeanors before any court or committing magistrate in this Territory, the person charged shall at his own request, but not otherwise, be a competent witness, and his failure to make such request shall not create any presumption against him, nor be mentioned on the trial if commented upon by counsel it shall be ground for a new trial.

Rules of evidence.

(5642) § 12. The rules of evidence in civil cases are applicable also to criminal cases, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

Overt act for conviction of conspiracy.

(5643) § 13. Upon a trial for conspiracy, in a case where an overt act is necessary to constitute the offense, the defendant cannot be convicted unless one or more overt acts be expressly alleged in the indictment, nor unless one or more of the acts alleged be proved; but any other overt act, not alleged in the indictment may be given in evidence.

Same, accomplice.

(5644) § 14. A conviction cannot be had upon the testimony of an accomplice unless he be corroborated by such other evidence as tends to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense, and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely show the commission of the offense or the circumstances thereof.

Evidence of false pretenses.

(5645) § 15. Upon a trial for having, with an intent to cheat or defraud another designedly, by any false pretense, obtained the signature of any person to a written instrument, or having obtained from any person any money, personal property or valuable thing, the defendant cannot be convicted if the false pretense was expressed in language unaccompanied by a false token or writing, unless the pretense, or some note or memorandum thereof, be in writing, either subscribed by, or in the handwriting of the defendant, or unless the pretense be proven by the testimony of two witnesses, or that of one witness and corroborating circumstances. But this section does not apply to prosecution for falsely representing or personating another, and in such assumed character, marrying or receiving money or property.

Evidence of seduction.

(5646) § 16. Upon a trial for inveigling, enticing or taking away an unmarried female of previous chaste character, under the age of twenty-five years, for the purpose of prostitution, or aiding or assisting therein, or for having, under promise of marriage, seduced and had illicit connection with an unmarried female of previous chaste character, the defendant cannot be convicted upon testimony of the person injured unless she is corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense.

Court may suspend proceedings, when (5647) § 17. If it appear by the testimony that the facts proved constitute an offense of a higher nature than that charged in the indictment, the court may direct the jury to be discharged, and all proceedings on the indictment to be suspended, and may order the defendant to be committed or continued on, or admitted to bail, to answer any new indictment which may be found against him for the higher offense.

Same, not a former acquittal.

(5648) § 18. If an indictment for the higher offense is found by a grand jury impanelled within a year next thereafter, he must be tried thereon, and a plea of former acquittal to such last found indictment is not sustained by the fact of the discharge of the jury on the first indictment.

Trial on original indictment.

(5649) § 19. If a new indictment is not found for the higher offense within a year as aforesaid, the court must again proceed to try the defendant on the original indictment.

Jury may be discharged.

(5650) § 20. The court may direct the jury to be discharged, where it appears that it has not jurisdiction of the offense, or that the facts as charged in the indictment do not constitute an offense punishable by law.

Disposition of prisoners.

(5651) § 21. If the jury is discharged because the court has not jurisdiction of the offense charged in the indictment, and it appears that it was committed out of the jurisdiction of this Territory, the court may order the defendant to be discharged, or to be detained for a reasonable time specified in the order, until a communication can be sent by the district attorney to the chief executive officer of the state, territory or district where the offense was committed.

Same, bail and records

(5652) § 22. If the offense was committed within the exclusive jurisdiction of another county of this Territory, the court must direct the defendant to be committed for such time as it deems reasonable to await a warrant from the proper county for his arrest, or if the offense be a misdemeanor only, it may admit him to bail in an undertaking, with sufficient sureties, that he will, within such time as the court may appoint, render himself amenable to a warrant for his arrest from the proper county, and if not sooner arrested thereon, will attend at the office of the sheriff of the county where the trial was had, at a time particularly specified in the undertaking, to surrender himself upon the warrant, if issued, or that his bail will forfeit such sum as the court may fix, and to be mentioned in the undertaking, and the clerk must forthwith transmit a certified copy of the indictment, and all the papers in the action filed with him, to the district attorney of the proper county, the expense of which transmission is chargeable to that county.

Warrant not from proper county prisoner discharged.

(5653) § 23. If the defendant is not arrested on a warrant from the proper county, he must be discharged from custody, or his bail in the action be exonerated, or money deposited instead of bail refunded, as the case may be, and the sureties in the undertaking, as mentioned in the last section, must be discharged.

Proceedings if arrested.

(5654) § 24. If he is arrested, the same proceedings must be had thereon as upon the arrest of a defendant in another county, on a warrant of arrest issued by a magistrate.

Not punishable offense, court discharge prisoner.

(5655) § 25. If the jury be discharged because the fact as charged do not constitute an offense punishable by law, the court must order that the defendant, if in custody, be discharged therefrom, or if admitted to bail that the bail be exonerated, or if he have deposited money instead of bail, that the money deposited be refunded to him, unless in its opinion a new indictment can be framed, upon which the defendant can be legally convicted, in which case it may direct that the case be resubmitted to the same or another grand jury.

Court may advise jury to acquit.

(5656) § 26. If, at any time after the evidence on either side is closed, the court deem it insufficient to warrant a conviction, it may advise the jury to acquit the defendant. But the jury are not bound by the advice, nor can the court, for any cause, prevent the jury from giving a verdict.

Jury may view place.

(5657) § 27. When, in the opinion of the court, it is proper that the jury should view the place in which the offense was charged to have been committed, or in which any other material fact occurred, it may order the jury to be conducted in a body, in the custody of proper officers, to the place, which must be shown to them by a person appointed by the court for that purpose, and the officers must be sworn to suffer no person to speak to or communicate with the jury, nor to do so themselves, on any subject connected with the trial, and to return them into court without unnecessary delay, or at a specified time.

If juror has personal knowledge of a fact in controversy must declare it in open court.

(5658) § 28. If a juror have any personal knowledge respecting a fact in controversy in a cause he must declare it in open court during the trial. If, during the retirement of a jury, a juror declare a fact, which could be evidence in the cause, as of his own knowledge, the jury must return into court. In either of these cases, the juror making the statement must be sworn as a witness and examined in the presence of the parties.

Custody and conduct of jury.

(5659) § 29. The jurors sworn to try an indictment, may, at any time before the submission of the cause to the jury, in the discretion of the court, be permitted to separate, or to be kept in charge of proper officers. The officers must be sworn to keep the jurors together until the next meeting of the court, to suffer no person to speak to or communicate with them, nor to do so themselves, on any subject connected with the trial, and to return them into the court at the next meeting thereof.

Jury admonished by the court.

(5660) § 30. The jury must also, at each adjournment of the court, whether permitted to separate or kept in charge of officers, be admonished by the court that it is their duty not to converse among themselves or with any one else on any subject connected with the the trial, or to form or express any opinion thereon, until the case is finally submitted to them.

When juror is taken sick.

(5661) § 31. If, before the conclusion of a trial, a juror becomes sick, so as to be unable to perform his duty, the court may order him to be discharged. In that case a new juror may be sworn, and the trial begin anew, or the jury may be discharged, and a new jury then or afterwards impanelled.

Burden of proof in mitigation of murder.

(5663) § 32. Upon a trial for murder, the commission of the homicide by ths defendant being proved, the burden of proving circumstances of mitigation, or that justify or excuse it, devolves upon him, unless the proof on the part of the prosecution tends to show that the crime committed only amounts to manslaughter, or that the defendant was justifiable or excusable.

Proof on trial for bigamy.

(5663) § 33. Upon a trial for bigamy, it is not necessary to prove either of the marriages by the register, certificate or other record evidence thereof, but the same may be proved by such evidence as is admissible to prove a marriage in other cases, and when the second marriage took place out of this Territory, proof of that fact, accompanied with proof of co-habitation thereafter in this Territory, is sufficient to sustain the charge.

Proof on trial for forgery.

(5664) § 34. Upon a trial for forging any bill or note purporting to be the bill or note of an incorporated company or bank, or for passing or attempting to pass, or having in possession with intent to pass, any such forged bill or note, it is not necessary to prove the incorporation of such bank or company by the charter or act of incorporation, but it may be proved by general reputation, and persons of skill are competent witnesses to prove that such bill or note is forged or counterfeited.

Requisites of charge of court.

(5665) § 35. In charging the jury, the court must state to them all matters of law which it thinks necessary for their information in giving their verdict, and if it state the testimony of the case, it must in addition inform the jury that they are the exclusive judges of all questions of fact. Either party may present to the court any written charge, and request that it be given. If the court thinks it correct and pertinent, it must be given; if not, it must be refused. Upon each charge presented and given or refused the court must indorse or sign its decision. If part of any written charge be given and part refused the court must distinguish, showing by the indorsement or answer what part of each charge was given and what part refused.

Jury after the charge.

(5666) § 36. After hearing the charge, the jury may either decide in court, or may retire for deliberation. If they do not agree without retiring, one or more officers must be sworn to keep them together in some private and convenient place, without food or drink, except bread and water, unless otherwise ordered by the court, and not to permit any person to speak to or communicate with them, nor do so themselves, unless it be by order of the court, or to ask them whether they have agreed upon a verdict, and to return them into court when they have so agreed, or when ordered by the court.

Defendant may be committed.

(5667) § 37. When a defendant who has given bail appears for trial, the court may, in its discretion, at any time after his appearance for trial order him to be committed to the custody of the proper officer of the county to abide the judgment or further order of the court, and he must be committed and held in custody accordingly.

Substitute for district attorney.

(5668) § 38. If the district attorney fails, or is unable to attend at the trial, the court must appoint some attorney at law to perform the duties of the county attorney on such trial.

Perjury, when

(5669) § 39. In cases of perjury, where the perjury is charged to have been committed in the court it shall be sufficient to show that the oath was administered by any officer of the court authorized so to do, or that the defendant testified and gave his testimony as under oath, or if the question be in doubt as to what particular officer administered the oath, it may be shown that it was administered by any officer authorized so to do.

Chap. 72. ARTICLE 11.—CONDUCT OF THE JURY AFTER THE CAUSE IS SUBMITTED TO THEM.

SECTION.
1. The jury room.
2. Food and lodging.
3. Papers the jury may take.
4. Jury brought into court for information.
5. Juror sick after retirement.
6. Jury cannot be discharged until when.
7. Cause retried.
8. Adjournment from time to time; final adjournment discharges jury.

The jury room.

(5670) § 1. A room must be provided by the board of commissioners of a county for the use of the jury, upon their retirement for deliberation, with suitable furniture, fuel, lights and stationery. If the commissioners neglect, the court may order the sheriff to do so, and the expenses incurred by him in carrying the order into effect, when certified by the court, are a county charge.

Food and lodging.

(5671) § 2. While the jury are kept together, either during the progress of the trial or after their retirement for deliberation, they must be provided by the sheriff, upon the order of the court, at the expense of the county, with suitable and sufficient food and lodging.

Papers the jury may take.

(5672) § 3. Upon retiring for deliberation, the jury may take with them all papers which have been received as evidence in the cause, or copies of such parts of public records or private documents, given in evidence, as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in possession.

Jury brought into court for information

(5673) § 4. After the jury have retired for deliberation, if there be a disagreement between them as to any part of the testimony, or if they desire to be informed on a point of law arising in the cause, they must require the officer to conduct them into court. Upon their being brought into court, the information required must be given in the presence of, or after notice to the district attorney and the defendant or his counsel, or after they have been called.

Juror sick after retirement.

(5674) § 5. If, after the retirement of the jury, one of them become so sick as to prevent the continuance of his duty, or any other accident or cause occur to prevent their being kept together for deliberation, the jury may be discharged.

Jury cannot be discharged until, when (5675) § 6. Except as provided in the last section, the jury cannot be discharged after the cause is submitted to them until they have agreed upon their verdict, and rendered it in open court, unless by the consent of both parties entered upon the minutes, or unless at the expiration of such time as the court deems proper, it satisfactorily appear that there is no reasonable probability that the jury can agree.

Cause retried.

(5676) § 7. In all cases where a jury are discharged or prevented from giving a verdict, by reason of an accident or other cause, except where the defendant is discharged from the indictment during the progress of the trial, or after the cause is submitted to them, the cause may be again tried at the same or another term, as the court may direct.

(5677) § 8. While the jury are absent the court may adjourn from time to time as to other business, but it is nevertheless deemed open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to them, until a verdict is rendered or the jury discharged. A final adjournment of the court discharges the jury.

Adjournment from time to time, final discharges jury.

ARTICLE 12.—VERDICT.

SECTION.
1. Return of the verdict.
2 Verdict rendered in presence of defendant.
3. Proceedings when jury appear.
4. Form of general verdict.
5. Degree of crime stated.
6. May find any degree.
7. Same, when several defendants.
8 Jury may reconsider verdict.
9. Form of verdict.
10. Judgment when jury persist in informal verdict.
11. Jury may be polled.
12. Clerk to record verdict.
13. Defendant discharged, when.
14. Committal of defendant on conviction.
15. Defense of insanity and acquittal.

(5678) § 1. When the jury have agreed upon their verdict, they must be conducted into court by the officer having them in charge. Their names must then be called, and if all do not appear, the rest must be discharged without giving a verdict. In that case the cause must be again tried, at the same or another term.

Return of the verdict.

(5679) § 2. If the indictment is for a felony, the defendant must, before the verdict is received, appear in person. If it is for a misdemeanor, the verdict may, in the discretion of the court, be rendered in his absence.

Verdict rendered in presence of defendant.

(5680) § 3. When the jury appear, they must be asked, by the court or the clerk, whether they have agreed upon their verdict, and if the foreman answers in the affirmative, they must, on being required declare the same.

Proceedings when jury appear.

(5681) § 4. A general verdict upon a plea of not guilty, is either "guilty," or "not guilty," which imports a conviction or acquittal of the offense charged in the indictment. Upon a plea of a former conviction or acquittal of the same offense, it is either "for the Territory," or "for the defendant." When the defendant is acquitted on the ground that he was insane at the time of the commission of the act charged, the verdict must be "not guilty by reason of insanity." When the defendant is acquitted on the ground of variance between the indictment and the proof, the verdict must be "not guilty by reason of variance between indictment and proof."

Form of general verdict.

(5682) § 5. Whenever a crime is distinguished into degrees, the jury, if they convict the defendant, must find the degree of the crime of which he is guilty.

Degree of crime stated

(5683) § 6. The jury may find the defendant guilty of any offense, the commission of which is necessarily included in that with which he is charged in the indictment, or of an attempt to commit the offense.

May find any degree.

(5684) § 7. On an indictment against several, if the jury cannot agree upon a verdict as to all, they may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom they do agree, on which a judgment

Same, when there are several defendants.

must be entered accordingly, and the case as to the rest may be tried by another jury.

Jury may reconsider their verdict.

(5685) § 8. When there is a verdict of conviction in which it appears to the court that the jury have mistaken the law, the court may explain the reason for that opinion, and direct the jury to reconsider their verdict, and if, after the reconsideration, they return the same verdict, it must be entered. But when there is a verdict of acquittal, the court cannot require the jury to reconsider it.

Informal verdict.

(5686) § 9. If the jury render a verdict not in form, the court may, with proper instructions as to the law, direct them to reconsider it, and it cannot be recorded until it be rendered in some form from which it can be clearly understood what is the intent of the jury.

Judgment when jury persist in informal verdict.

(5687) § 10. If the jury persist in finding an informal verdict, from which, however, it can be clearly understood that their intention is to find in favor of the defendant upon the issue, it must be entered in the terms in which it is found, and the court must give judgment of acquittal. But no judgment of conviction can be given unless the jury expressly find against the defendant, upon the issue, or judgment be given against him on a special verdict.

Jury may be polled.

(5688) § 11. When a verdict is rendered, and before it is recorded, the jury may be polled on the requirement of either party, in which case they must be severally asked whether it is their verdict, and if any one answer in the negative, the jury must be sent out for further deliberation.

Clerk to record verdict

(5689) § 12. When the verdict is given, and is such as the court may receive, the clerk must immediately record it in full upon the minutes, and must read it to the jury and inquire of them whether it is their verdict. If any juror disagree, the fact must be entered upon the minutes, and the jury again sent out; but if no disagreement is expressed, the verdict is complete, and the jury must be discharged from the case.

Defendant discharged, when.

(5690) § 13. If the judgment of acquittal is given on a general verdict, and the defendant is not detained for any other legal cause, he must be discharged as soon as judgment is given, except that when the acquittal is for a variance between the proof and the indictment which may be obviated by a new indictment the court may order his detention to the end that a new indictment may be preferred in the same manner and with like effect as provided in cases where the jury is discharged.

Committed upon conviction.

(5691) § 14. If the general verdict is rendered against the defendant he must be remanded if in custody, or if on bail he may be committed to the proper officer of the county to await the judgment of the court upon the verdict. When committed his bail is exonerated, or if money is deposited instead of bail it must be refunded to the defendant.

Defense of insanity and acquittal

(5692) § 15. If the defense is the insanity of the defendant, the jury must be instructed, if they acquit him on that ground, to state the fact with their verdict. The court may thereupon, if the defendant is in custody and they deem his discharge dangerous to the public peace or safety order him to be committed to the care of the sheriff until he becomes sane.

ARTICLE 13.—BILLS OF EXCEPTION.

SECTION.
1. Exceptions to matters of law.
2. Bill signed and filed.
3. Character of bill of exception.
4. When prepared if not settled at trial.
5. Refusal to settle and sign.
6. Time extended.
7. Exceptions deemed abandoned, when.
8. What exceptions must contain.
9. Bill to be filed, when
10. Other exceptions.

Exceptions to matters of law.

(5693) § 1. On the trial of an indictment, exceptions may be taken by the defendant to the decision of the court upon a matter of law by which his substantial rights are prejudiced, and not otherwise, in any of the following cases:

First. In disallowing a challenge to the panel of the grand or petit jury, or to individual juror for implied bias.

Second. In admitting or rejecting witnesses or testimony, on the trial of a challenge to a juror for actual bias.

Third. In admitting or rejecting witnesses or testimony, or in deciding any question of law, not a matter of discretion, or in charging or instructing the jury upon the law, on the trial of the issue, or on any other matter prejudicial to the rights of the defendant.

Bill signed and filed.

(5694) § 2. A bill containing the exceptions must be settled and signed by the presiding judge, and filed with the clerk.

Character of bill of exceptions.

(5695) § 3. The bill of exceptions must be settled at the trial, unless the court otherwise direct. If time be given, the court shall order the period thereof, not exceeding sixty days, and bills of exceptions filed within such period shall be valid. If no such direction be given, the point of the exception must be particularly stated in writing, and delivered to the court, and must immediately be corrected or added to, until it is made conformable with the truth.

When prepared if not settled at trial.

(5696) § 4. If the bill of exceptions be not settled at the trial, it must be prepared and served within three days thereafter on the district attorney, who may, within three days thereafter, serve on the defendant or his counsel amendments thereto. The defendant may then, within three days, serve the district attorney with a notice to appear before the presiding judge of the court, at a specified time, not less than five nor more than ten days thereafter, to have the bill of exceptions settled.

Refusal to settle and sign

(5697) § 5. At the time appointed the judge must settle and sign the bill of exceptions: Provided, however, If the judge in any case refuse to allow an exception in accordance with the facts, the party desiring the bill settled, may apply by petition to the Supreme Court, to prove the same. The application may be made in the mode and manner and under such regulations as the court may prescribe, and the bill, when proven, must be certified by a justice thereof as correct and filed with the clerk of the court in which the action was tried; and when so filed, it has the same force and effect as if settled by the judge who tried the cause.

Chap. 72.

Time extended.

(5698) § 6. The time for preparing the bill of exceptions, or the amendments thereto, or for settling the same, may be enlarged by the consent of the parties, or by the presiding judge.

Exceptions deemed abandoned, when.

(5699) § 7. If the bill of exceptions be not served within the time prescribed in section 5696, or within the enlarged time therefor, as prescribed in the last section, the exceptions are deemed abandoned. If it be served and the parties omit, within the time limited by section 5696, the one to prepare the amendments, and the other to give notice of appearance before the judge, they are respectively deemed, the one to have agreed to the bill of exceptions, the other to the amendmeats.

What exceptions must contain.

(5700) § 8. The bill of exceptions need contain only so much of the evidence, as is necessary to present the questions of law upon which the exceptions were taken. If the evidence was taken by a stenographic reporter, it shall be sufficient in the bill of exceptions to refer thereto, by unmistakable reference and when transcribed, the evidence so taken may be inserted in the bill of exceptions, and become part thereof. The judge must on the settlement of the bill of exceptions, whether agreed to by the parties or not, strike out all irrelevant matters contained therein.

Bill filed, when.

(5701) § 9. The bill of exceptions must be filed with the clerk of the court at the time of, or before taking the appeal.

Other exceptions.

(5702) § 10. Exceptions may be taken by either party to a decision of the court or judge upon a matter of law:

First. In granting or refusing a motion in arrest of judgment.

Second. In granting or refusing a motion for a new trial.

ARTICLE 14.—NEW TRIAL AND ARREST OF JUDGMENT.

SECTION.
1. New trial, what it is.
2. Court has power to grant new trial.
3. Application made, when.
4. Motion in arrest of judgment
5. Court may arrest on its own motion.
6. Defendant guilty, but indictment insufficient.

(5703) § 1. A new trial is a re-eximation of the issue in the same court, before another jury, after a verdict has been given. The granting of a new trial places the parties in the same position as if no trial had been had. All the testimony must be produced anew, and the former verdict cannot be used or referred to, either in evidence or in argument, or be pleaded in bar of any conviction which might have been had under the indictment.

Court has power to grant new trial, when.

(5704) § 2. The court in which a trial has been had upon an issue of fact, has power to grant a new trial, when a verdict has been rendered against the defendant by which his substantial rights have been prejudiced, upon his application in the following cases only:

First. When the trial has been had in his absence, if the indictment is for felony.

Second. When the jury has received any evidence out of court other than that resulting from a view of the premises.

Third. When the jury have separated without leave of the court, after retiring to deliberate upon their verdict, or been guilty of any misconduct by which a fair and due consideration of the case has been prevented.

Fourth. When the verdict has been decided by lot, or by any means other other than a fair expression of opinion on the part of all the jury.

Fifth. When the court has misdirected the jury in a matter of law, or has erred in the decision of any question of law arising during the course of the trial.

Sixth. When the verdict is contrary to law or evidence.

Seventh. When new evidence is discovered material to the defendant, and which he could not with reasonable diligence have discovered and produced at the trial. When a motion for a new trial is made upon the ground of newly discovered evidence, the defendant must produce at the hearing, in support thereof, the affidavits of the witnesses by whom such evidence is expected to be given, and if time is required by the defendant to produce such affidavits, the court may postpone the hearing of a motion for such length of time as, under all the circumstances of the case, may seem reasonable.

Application must be made, when.

(5705) § 3. The application for a new trial must be made before judgment, but the court or judge thereof may upon good cause shown allow such application to be made at any time within thirty days after the entry of such judgment. And motions for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, may be made after judgment at the term in which the cause is tried, or during vacation before the court or judge thereof at any time before the next succeeding term or at such term.

Motion on arrest of judgment.

(5706) § 4. A motion in arrest of judgment is an application on the part of the defendant that no judgment be rendered on plea or verdict of guilty, or on a verdict against the defendant on a plea of former conviction or acquittal. It may be founded on any of the defects in the indictment mentioned as grounds of demurrer to the indictment unless such objection has been waived by a failure to demur and must be before or at the time the defendant is called for judgment.

Court may arrest on its own motion, no bar

(5707) § 5. The court may also, on its own view of any of these defects, arrest the judgment without motion. The effect of allowing a motion in arrest of judgment is to place the defendant in the same situation in which he was before the indictment was found, and in no case of arrest of judgment is the verdict a bar to another prosecution or indictment.

Defendant guilty but indictment insufficient

(5708) § 6. If, from the evidence on the trial, there is reasonable ground to believe the defendant guilty, and a new indictment can be framed upon which he may be convicted, the court may order him to be recommitted to the officer of the proper county or subdivision, or admitted to bail anew to answer the new indictment. If the evidence shows him guilty of another offense, he must be committed or held thereon; but if no evidence appears sufficient to charge him with any offense, he must, if in custody, be discharged, or if admitted to bail his bail is exonerated, or if money has been deposited instead of bail, it must be refunded to the defendant, and the arrest of judgment operates as an acquittal of the charge upon which the indictment was founded.

41. Death, when executed.
42. Who may be present at execution.
43. Return of the execution.
44. Sheriff to file certificate.

Court appoints time for judgment,

(5709) § 1. After a plea or verdict of guilty, or after a verdict against the defendant on a plea of a former conviction or acquittal, if the judgment is not arrested or a new trial granted, the court must appoint a time for pronouncing judgment.

Time must be two days from verdict.

(5710) § 2. The time appointed must be at least two days after the verdict, if the court intend to remain in session so long; or, if not, at as remote a time as can reasonably be allowed.

Defendant absent in case of misdemeanor.

(5711) § 3. For the purpose of judgment, if the conviction is for a misdemeanor, judgment may be pronounced in his absence.

Officer to produce prisoner,

(5712) § 4. When the defendant is in custody, the court may direct the officer in whose custody he is to bring him before it for judgment, and the officer must do so accordingly.

Bench warrant, when defendant on bail.

(5713) § 5. If the defendant has been discharged on bail, or has deposited money instead thereof, and does not appear for judgment when his personal attendance is necessary; the court, in addition to the forfeiture of the undertaking of bail or of money deposited, may direct the clerk to issue a bench warrant for his arrest.

Clerk to issue warrant.

(5714 § 6. The clerk, on the application of the county attorney, may, accordingly, at any time after the order, whether the court be sitting or not, issue a bench warrant into one or more counties.

Form of warrant.

(5715) § 7. The bench warrant must be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA. } ss.
COUNTY OF..... }

To any sheriff, constable, marshal or policeman in this Territory:

A B having been, on the.....day of..... A. D., 18...., duly convicted in the district court of the county of..... of the crime of (designating it generally), you are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest the above named A B and bring him before that court for judgment, or if the court has adjourned for the term, you are to deliver him into the custody of the sheriff of the county of.....(as the case may be).

Given under my hand, with the seal of said court affixed, this .....day of....., A. D., 18....

By order of the court.

[SEAL] E. F., Clerk.

Warrant served, how.

(5716) § 8. The bench warrant may be served in any county, in the same manner as a warrant of arrest, except that when served in another county, it need not be indorsed by a magistrate of that county.

Disposal of defendant.

(5717) § 9. Whether the bench warrant is served in the county in which it was issued or in another county, the officer must arrest the defendant and bring him before the court, or commit him to the officer mentioned in the warrant, according to the command thereof.

Defendant informed of proceedings.

(5718) § 10. When the defendant appears for judgment, he must be informed by the court, or by the clerk under its direction, of the nature of the indictment, and his plea and the verdict, if any thereon, and must be asked whether he has any legal cause to show why judgment should not be pronounced against him.

Defendant may show cause against judgment.

(5719) § 11. He may show for cause against the judgment:

First. That he is insane; and if, in the opinion of the court, there is reasonable ground for believing him to be insane, the question of his insanity must be tried as hereinafter in this chapter provided for. If, upon the trial of that question the jury find that he is sane, judgment must be pronounced, but if they find him insane he may be committed to the Territorial lunatic asylum, if there be one, until he becomes sane, or be otherwise committed according to law, and when notice is given of that fact, as hereinafter provided for, he must be brought before the court for judgment.

Second That he has good cause to offer, either in arrest of judgment, or for a new trial, in which case the court may, in its discretion, order the judgment to be deferred, and proceed to decide upon the motion in arrest of judgment, or for a new trial.

Judgment rendered.

(5720) § 12. If no sufficient cause be alleged or appear to the court why judgment should not be pronounced it must thereupon be rendered.

Court may hear further evidence

(5721) § 13. After a plea or verdict of guilty in a case where a discretion is conferred upon the court as to the extent of the punishment the court upon the suggestion of either party that there are circumstances which may be properly taken into view, either in aggravation or mitigation of the punishment may in its discretion hear the same summarily at a specified time and upon such notice to the adverse party as it may direct.

Testimony, how presented.

(5722) § 14. The circumstances must be presented by the testimony of witnesses examined in open court, except that when a witness is so sick or infirm as to be unable to attend, his deposition may be taken by a magistrate of the county out of court, at a specified time and place, upon such notice to the adverse party as the court may direct.

Other evidence prohibited.

(5723) § 15. No affidavit or testimony, or representation of any kind, verbal or written, can be offered to or received by the court or member thereof in aggravation or mitigation of the punishment, except as provided in the last two sections.

Judgment in two offenses

(5724) § 16. If the defendant have been convicted of two or more offenses, before judgment on either, the judgment may be that the imprisonment upon any one may commence at the expiration of the imprisonment upon any other of the offenses.

Fine and imprisonment

(5725) § 17. A judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied, specifying the extent of the imprisonment, which cannot exceed one day for every two dollars of the fine.

Fine constitutes lien.

(5726) § 18. A judgment that the defendant pay a fine constitutes a lien, also, in like manner as a judgment for money rendered in a civil action.

Papers filed by the clerk.

(5727) § 19. When judgment upon a conviction is rendered, the clerk must enter the same upon the minutes, stating briefly the offense for which the conviction has been had, and must immediately annex together and file to following papers, which constitute a record of the action.

First. The indictment and a copy of the minutes of the plea or demurrer.

Second. A copy of the minutes of the trial.

Third. The charges given or refused, and the indorsements, if any, thereon; and,

Fourth. A copy of the judgment.

Copy of judgment furnished to officer.

(5728) § 20. When a judgment, except of death, has been pronounced, a certified copy of the entry thereof, upon the minutes, must be forthwith furnished to the officer whose duty it is to execute the judgment, and no other warrant or authority is necessary to justify or require its execution.

Execution to issue on fine.

(5729) § 21. If the judgment is for a fine alone, execution may issue thereon as on a judgment in a civil action.

When for imprisonment

(5730) § 22. If the judgment be imprisonment, or a fine and imprisonment, until such fine be paid, the defendant must forthwith be committed to the custody of the proper officer, and by him detained until the judgment be complied with.

When for imprisonment or fine.

(5731) § 23. When the judgment is imprisonment in a county jail, or a fine, and that the defendant be imprisoned until it be paid the judgment must be executed by the sheriff of the county or subdivision. In all other cases when the sentence is imprisonment, the sheriff of the county must deliver the defendant to the proper officer, in execution of the judgment.

When for imprisonment in territorial prison.

(5732) § 24. If the judgment is for imprisonment in the Territorial prison, the sheriff of the county or sub-division must, upon receipt of a certified copy thereof, take and deliver the defendant to the warden, superintendent or keeper of the Territorial prison. He must also deliver to the warden or other proper officer a certified copy of the judgment, and take from the warden or other proper officer a receipt for the defendant, and make return thereof to the court.

Authority of officer while conveying prisoner.

(5733) § 25. The sheriff or his deputy while conveying the defendant to the proper prison in execution of a judgment of imprisonment, has the same authority to require the assistance of any citizen of this Territory in securing the defendant and in retaking him if he escape, as if the sheriff were in his own county, and every person who refuses or neglects to assist the sheriff, when so required, is punishable as if the sheriff were in his own county.

Proceedings on judgment of death.

(5734) § 26. When judgment of death is rendered, the judge must sign and deliver to the sheriff of the county, a warrant duly attested by the clerk, under the seal of the court, stating the conviction and judgment, and appointing a day on which the judgment is to be executed, which must not be less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time of the judgment.

Duty of judge in such case.

(5735) § 27. The judge of a court at which a conviction requiring a judgment of death is had, must, immediately after the conviction, transmit to the governor, by mail or otherwise, a statement of the conviction and judgment, and of the testimony given at the trial.

Governor may require opinion of Supreme judges.

(5736) § 28. The Governor may thereupon require the opinion of the judges of the Supreme Court or any of them, upon the statement so furnished.

Governor only can reprieve,

(5737) § 29. No judge, court or officer other than the Governor can reprieve or suspend the execution of a judgment of death, except the sheriff, in the cases provided in the next seven sections, unless a writ of error is allowed and taken.

When defendant becomes insane.

(5738) § 30. If, after judgment of death, there is good reason to suppose that the defendant has become insane, the sheriff of the county or subdivision, with the concurrence of the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered, may summon from the list of jurors selected or to be selected, forthwith by the county commissioners, a jury of twelve persons to inquire into the supposed insanity, and must give immediate notice thereof to the district attorney.

Inquisition to try insanity.

(5739) § 31. The district attorney must attend the inquisition, and may produce witnesses before the jury, for which purpose he may issue process in the same manner as for witnesses to attend before the grand jury, and disobedience thereto may be punished in like manner as disobedience to process issued by the court.

Return of certificate of inquisition.

(5740) § 32. A certificate of the inquisition must be signed by the jurors and the sheriff, and filed with the clerk of the court in which the conviction was had.

Duty of sheriff on the finding.

(5741) § 33. If it is found by the inquisition that the defendant is sane, the sheriff must execute the judgment; but if it is found that he is insane, the sheriff must suspend the execution of the judgment until he receives a warrant from the Governor, or from a majority of the judges of the Supreme Court, directing the execution of the judgment.

When finding insane, duty of sheriff

(5742) § 34. If the inquisition find that the defendant is insane, the sheriff must immediately transmit to the Governor, who may, when the defendant becomes sane, issue a warrant appointing a day for the execution of the judgment.

Judgment of death against pregnant woman.

(5743) § 35. When there is good reason to suppose that a female, against whom judgment of death is rendered, is pregnant, the sheriff of the county or subdivision, with the concurrence of the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered, may summon a jury of three physicians of the Territory to inquire into the supposed pregnancy. Immediate notice thereof must be given to the county attorney. The provisions of sections 5741 and 5742 apply to the proceedings upon the inquisition.

Duty of sheriff on finding (5744) § 36. If it is found by the inquisition that the female is not pregnant, the sheriff must execute the judgment. If, however, it is found that she is pregnant, the sheriff must suspend the execution of the judgment, and transmit the inquisition to the Governor.

Governor to order execution

(5745) § 37. When the Governor is satisfied that the female is no longer pregnant, he may issue his warrant appointing a day for the execution of the judgment.

Duty of court when judgment is not executed.

(5746) § 38. If, for any reason, a judgment of death has not been executed, and it remains in force, the court in which the conviction was had, on the application of the district attorney, must order the defendant to be brought before it, or, if he is at large, a warrant for his apprehension may be issued.

Same, inquiry by court

(5747) § 39. Upon the defendant being brought before the court, it must inquire into the facts, and if no legal reason exists against the execution of the judgment, must make an order that the sheriff of the proper county execute the judgment at a specified time. The sheriff must execute the judgment accordingly.

Death produced, how (5748) § 40. The punishment of death must be inflicted by hanging the defendant by the neck until he is dead, or his life may, under the direction of the Governor, and at the costs of the Territory, be taken by electricity if the court so orders.

Death, when executed

(5749) § 41. A judgment of death must be executed within the walls or yard of a jail of the county in which the conviction was had, or some convenient private place in the county. If there is no such jail or prison in the county in which the conviction was had, or if it becomes unfit or unsafe for the confinement of prisoners, or is destroyed by fire or otherwise, and the jail of another county has been legally designated for the confinement of the prisoners of the county in which the conviction was had, the judgment must be executed in manner as above.

Who may be present at execution

(5750) § 42. The sheriff or deputy sheriff of the county must be present at the execution and must invite the presence by at least three days notice of the district attorney, together with one physician and twelve reputable citizens, to be selected by him. He must, also, at the request of the defendant, permit any minister or ministers of the Gospel whom the defendant may name, and any of his relatives or friends, not to exceed five, to attend the execution, and also such peace officers as the sheriff or under sheriff may deem proper. But no person other than those mentioned in this section can be present at the execution, nor can any person under age be allowed to witness the same.

Return of execution

(5751) § 43. The sheriff or deputy sheriff must prepare and sign with their names of office a certificate attached to the death warrant setting forth the time, manner and place of the execution, and that the judgment was executed upon the defendant according to the provisions of the last three sections, and attested by at least twelve persons not relatives of the defendant who witnessed the execution.

Sheriff to file certificate

(5752) § 44. The sheriff or deputy sheriff must cause the certificate to be filed in the office of the clerk of the court.

ARTICLE 16.—WRIT OF ERROR, APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT.

SECTION.
1. Defendant may appeal to Supreme Court.
2. Appeal
3. Territory may appeal to Supreme Court.
4 Time in which appeal must be taken.
5. How appeal is taken.
6 Appeal by Territory not to affect judgment for defendant, until reversal.
7. Defendant's right to bail and appeal, when,
8. Duty of clerk when Territory appeals
9. An appeal shall stand for trial, when.
10. Defendants may appeal jointly or severally.
11. Appellate court, powers of.
12. Duties of Supreme Court in cases of reversal.
13. Court must give judgment on appeal.
14 Appeal not dismissed on informalities.
15. Judgment of affirmance, executed.
16. Supreme Court opinions in writing.

Defendant may appeal to Supreme Court.

(5753) § 1. An appeal to the Supreme Court may be taken by the defendant, as a matter of right from any judgment against him; and upon the appeal, any decision of the court, or intermediate order made in the progess of the case, may be reviewed.

Appeal.

(5754) § 2. An appeal from a judgment in a criminal action may be taken in the manner and in the cases prescribed in this section [article].

Territory may appeal to Supreme Court

(5755) § 3 Appeals to the Supreme Court may be taken by the Territory in the following cases and no other:

First. Upon the judgment for the defendant on quashing or setting aside an indictment or information.

Second. Upon an order of the court arresting the judgment.

Third. Upon a question reserved by the Territory.

Time in which appeal must be taken.

(5756) § 4. The appeal must be taken within one year after the judgment is rendered, and the transcript must be filed as hereinafter directed.

How appeal is taken,

(5757) § 5. An appeal is taken by the service of a notice upon the clerk of the court where judgment was entered, stating that the appellant appeals from the judgment. If taken by the defendant, a similar notice must be served upon the prosecuting attorney. If taken by the Territory, a similar notice must be served upon the defendant, if he can be found in the county; if not there, by posting up a notice three weeks in the office of the clerk of the district court.

Appeal by Territory not to effect judgment for defendant nntil reversal (5758) § 6. An appeal, taken by the Territory, in no case stay or affects the operation of the judgment in favor of the defendant, until the judgment is reversed.

Defendants right to bail and appeal, when.

(5759) § 7. If the crime of which the defendant is convicted, be a bailable one; the court shall at the time of entering judgment, notify the defendant of his right to an appeal and fix the amount of his bail bond. If an appeal is taken and the bond so fixed is given by the defendant, conditioned, that the defendant will appear, submit to and perform any judgment rendered by the Supreme or district court in the further progress of the cause, and not depart without leave of the court, to be approved by the clerk of the district court, the execution of judgment shall be stayed until affirmed or reversed, or modified by the Supreme Court. If no bond be given the appeal shall not stay the execution of the judgment. If pending the appeal the bond be given, the further execution of the judgment shall be stayed, and the defendant if incarcerated shall be released. In cases where the sentence is for a crime not bailable, the appeal shall suspend execution, until the matter is determined by the Supreme Court, and the defendant in the mean time shall be confined in the Territorial prison. When the appeal is taken the appellant shall within sixty days thereafter, prepare and serve upon the opposite party or his attorney, an abstract of the record of the cause, setting forth so much thereof as he may deem necessary to clearly present the errors complained of, and shall accompany it by an assignment of error, and shall file in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court seven printed or type-written copies thereof, and the clerk of that court shall then docket the cause, plaintiff and defendant, as it stood in the court below. Within thirty days thereafter if the attorney for the appellee, deem the abstract so filed, insufficient, incomplete or incorrect, he may serve upon the opposite counsel, and file in the Supreme Court, an additional or supplemental abstract, amending, adding to, or denying, in whole or in part, the abstract so filed by the appellant. Within ten days thereafter, the appellant may prepare and serve upon the attorney for the appellee. a denial of the supplemental abstract so filed, and shall within thirty days file such denial, accompanied by a certified transcript of the record in the cause, in the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court. If the abstract filed by the appellant, be not denied it shall be deemed correct, and the cause shall be heard and determined thereon. If there be a supplemental abstract filed and not denied, then the record shall be deemed to be as stated by such supplemental abstract, and the cause shall be tried and determined in the Supreme Court on the record so stated. If there be a denial of the supplemental abstract then the cause shall be tried on the transcript of the record. If an appeal be taken more than sixty days before the term of the Supreme Court, and the party appealing has failed to certify, and file his abstract as required in this section, the defendant may, if the appeal be by the Territory, and the Territory must, if the appeal be by the defendant, file in such court a certified copy of the judgment entry below, and thereupon the Supreme Court shall, unless good cause for a continuance be shown, affirm the judgment below, and order its execution. Abstracts, briefs and argument shall be in such form, and filed, as the Supreme Court may by rule direct.

Duty of clerk when territory appeals.

(5760) § 8. In case of an appeal from a question reserved on the part of the Territory it is not necessary for the clerk of the court below to certify in the transcript any part of the proceedings and record except the bill of exceptions and the judgment of acquital. When the question reserved is defectively stated the Supreme Court may direct any other part of the proceedings and record to be certified to them.

An appeal shall stand for trial when.

(5761) § 9. An appeal shall stand for trial immediately after filing the transcript if the Supreme Court is in session, if not in session, at the next term thereafter on proof of notice of appeal to the appellee.

Defendants may appeal jointly or severally.

(5762) § 10. When several defendants are tried jointly, any one or more of them may take an appeal, but those who do not join in the appeal shall not be affected thereby.

Appellate court, powers of.

(5763) § 11. The appellate court may reverse, affirm or modify the judgment appealed from, and may, if necessary or proper, order a new trial. In either case, the cause must be remanded to the court below, with proper instructions, and the opinion of the court, within the time, and in the manner, to be prescribed by rule of the court.

Duty of Supreme Court in cases reversed.

(5764) § 12. When a judgment against the defendant is reversed, and it appears that no offense whatever has been committed, the Supreme Court must direct that the defendant be discharged; but if it appear that the defendant is guilty of an offense, although defectively charged in the indictment, the Supreme Court must direct the prisoner to be returned and delivered over to the jailor of the proper county, there to abide the order of the court in which he was convicted.

Court must give judgment on an appeal.

(5765) § 13. On an appeal, the court must give judgment without regard to technical errors or defects, or to exceptions which do not affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Appeal not dismissed for informalities.

(5766) § 14. An appeal shall not be dismissed for any informality or defect in the taking thereof. If the same be corrected in a reasonable time after an appeal has been dismissed, another appeal may be taken.

Judgment of affirmance executed

(5767) § 15. On a judgment of affirmance against the defendant, the original judgment must be carried into execution, as the appellate court may direct.

Supreme court opinions, in writing.

(5768) § 16. All opinions of the Supreme Court in criminal prosecutions, must be given in writing and recorded in the journal.

Chap. 72. ARTICLE 17.—COMPELLING THE ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES.

SECTION.
1 Subpoena defined.
2. Magistrate may issue subpoena.
3. District attorney may issue subpoena for grand jury.
4. Same, for trial.
5. Clerk to issue for defendant.
6. Form of subpoena.
7. Subpoena duces tecum.
8. Subpoena served by whom.
9. How served
10. Expenses of witnesses.
11. Payment of witnesses, expenses.
12. When witness resides out of county.
13. Disobedience to subpoena.
14. When witness for defendant disobeys subpoena.

Subpoena defined

(5769) § 1. The process by which the attendance of a witness before a court or magistrate is required, is a subpœna.

Magistrate may issue subpoena

(5770) § 2. A magistrate before whom an information is laid, or to whom a presentment of a grand jury is sent, may issue subpœnas, subscribed by him, for witnesses within the Territory. either on behalf of the Territory or of the defendant.

District attorney may issue subpoena for grand jury

(5771) § 3. The district attorney may issue subpœnas, subscribed by him, for witnesses within the Territory, in support of the prosecution, or for such other witnesses as the grand jury may direct, to appear before the grand jury upon an investigation before them.

Same for trial

(5772) § 4. The district attorney may in like manner issue subpœnas for witnesses within the Territory, in support of an indictment, to appear before the court at which it is to be tried.

Clerk to issue for defendant,

(5773) § 5. The clerk of the court at which an indictment is to be tried, must, at all times, upon the application of the defendant, and without charge, issue as many blank subpœnas, under the seal of the court and subscribed by him as clerk, for witnesses within the Territory, as may be required by the defendant.

Form of subpoena

(5774) § 6. A subpœna, authorized by the last four sections, must be substantially in the following form:

IN THE NAME OF THE TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA.

To A B:

You are commanded to appear before C D, a justice of the peace at the town of ....., (or the grand jury of the county of ....., or "the district court ....." (or as the case may be), on (stating the day and hour), as a witness in a criminal action prosecuted by the Territory of Oklahoma against E. F.

Dated at the town of ...., (as the case may be), the ..... day of ....., 18....

G H, justice of the peace," or "I K, district attorney," or "by order of the court, L M, clerk," (as the case may be).

Subpoena duces tecum

(5775) § 7. If the books, papers or documents be required, a direction to the following effect must be contained in the subpœna.

And you are required also to bring with you the following: (Describe intelligently the books, papers or documents required.)

Subpoena served by whom

(5776) § 8. A peace officer must serve in his county, city, town or village, as the case may be, any subpœena delivered to him for service, either on part of the Territory or of the defendant, and must make a written return of the service, subscribed by him stating the time and place of service without delay. A subpœna may, however, be served by any other person.

How served.

(5777) § 9. A subpœna is served by delivering it, or by showing it, and delivering a copy thereof to the witnesses personally.

Expenses of witnesses.

(5778) § 10. When a person attends before a magistrate, grand jury or court as a witness on behalf of the Territory upon a subpœna, or pursuant to an undertaking and it appears that he has come from a place out of the county, or that he is poor, the court if the attendance of a witness be upon a trial, by an order entered upon its minutes, or in any other case, the district judge, by a written order, may direct the county treasurer to pay the witness a reasonable sum to be specified in the order for his expenses.

Payment of witnesses' expenses.

(5779) § 11, Upon the production of the order, or a certified copy thereof, the county treasurer must pay the witness the sum specified therein, out of the county treasury.

When witness resides out of county.

(5780) § 12. No person is obliged to attend as a witness, before a court or magistrate out of the county where the witness resides or is served with the subpœna, unless the judge of the court in which the offense is triable, upon an affidavit of the prosecutor or district attorney, or of the defendant or his counsel, stating that he believes that the evidence of the witness [is] material, and his attendance at the examination of trial necessary, shall indorse on the subpœna an order for the attendance of the witness.

Disobedience to subpoena.

(5781) § 13. Disobedience to a subpœna, or a refusal to be sworn or to testify, may be punished by the court or magistrate, as for a criminal contempt, in the manner provided in civil procedure.

When witness for defendant disobeys subpoena

(5782) § 14. A witness disobeying a subpœna issued on the part of the defendant, also forfeits to the defendant the sum of fifty dollars, which may be recovered in a civil action.

Right of defendant.

(5783) § 1. When a defendant has been held to answer a charge for a public offense, he may either before or after indictment or information, have witnesses examined conditionally on his behalf as prescribed in this chapter, and not otherwise.

In case of sick witness

(5784) § 2. When a material witness for the defendant is about to leave the Territory, or is so sick or infirm as to afford reasonable grounds for apprehending that he will be unable to attend the trial, the defendant may apply for an order that the witness be examined conditionally.

Affidavit for conditional examination of witnesses

(5785) § 3. The application must be made upon affidavit, stating:

First. The nature of the offense charged.

Second. The state of the proceedings in the action.

Third. The name and residence of the witness, and that his testimony is material to the defense of the action.

Fourth. That the witness is about to leave the Territory, or is so sick or infirm as to afford reasonable grounds for apprehending that he will not be able to attend the trial.

Application made, when.

(5786) § 4. The application may be made to the court or to a judge thereof, and must be made upon five days notice to the district attorney.

Court to issue order for examination.

(5787) § 5. If the court or judge is satisfied that the examination of the witness is necessary, an order must be made that the witness be examined conditionally at a specified time and place, and that a copy of the order be served on the district attorney within a specified time before that fixed for the examination.

Order must direct what

(5788) § 6. The order must direct that the examination be taken before a magistrate named therein; and on proof being furnished to such magistrate, of service upon the district attorney of a copy of the order, if no counsel appear on the part of the the people, examination must proceed.

When examination shall not proceed

(5789) § 7. If the district attorney or other counsel appear on behalf of the people, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the magistrate by affidavit or other proof, or on the examination of the witness, that he is not about to leave the Territory, or is not sick or infirm, or that the application was made to avoid the examination of the witness on trial, the examination cannot take place; otherwise, it must proceed.

Attendance of witness enforced, how (5790) § 8. The attendance of the witness may be enforced by subpœna issued by the magistrate before whom the examination is to be taken, or from the court where the trial is to be had.

Testimony must be written and deposition authenticated.

(5791) § 9. The testimony given by the witness must be reduced to writing. The magistrate before whom the examination is had may, in his discretion, order the testimony and proceedings to be taken down in short hand, and for that purpose he may appoint a short hand reporter. The deposition or testimony of the witness must be authenticated in the following form:

First. It must state the name of the witness, his place of residence and his business or profession.

Second. It must contain the questions put to the witness and his answers thereto, each answer being distinctly read to him as it is taken down. and being corrected or added to until it conforms to what he declares is the truth; except in cases where the testimony is taken down in short hand, the answer or answers of the witness need not be read to him.

Third. If a question be objected to on either side and overruled, or the witness declines answering it, that fact with the ground on which the question was overruled, or the answer declined must be stated.

Fourth. The deposition must be signed by the witness, or if he refuses to sign it his reason for refusing must be stated in writing as he gives it; except in cases where the deposition is taken down in short hand, it must not be signed by the witness.

Fifth. It must be signed and certified by the magistrate when reduced to writing by him or under his direction, and when taken down in short hand the manuscript of the reporter, appointed as aforesaid, when written out in long hand writing, and certified as being a correct statement of such testimony and proceedings in the case, shall be prima facie a correct statement of such testimony and proceedings. The reporter shall within five days after the close of such examination transcribe into long hand writing his said short hand notes, and certify and deliver the same to the magistrate who shall also certify the same and transmit such testimony and proceedings, carefully sealed up, to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending or may come for trial.

Deposition read in evidence when.

(5792) § 10. The deposition or certified copy thereof may be read in evidence by either party on the trial upon its appearing that the witness is unable to attend by reason of his death, insanity, sickness, or infirmity, or of his continued absence from the Territory. Upon reading the depositions in evidence the same objections may be taken to a question or answer contained therein as if the witness had been examined orally in court.

When witness is a prisoner his evidence may be taken.

(5793) § 11. When a material witness for a defendant under a criminal charge, is a prisoner in a Territorial prison or in a county jail of a county other than that in which the defendant is to be tried, his deposition may be taken on behalf of the defendant in the manner provided for in the case of a witness who is sick; and the foregoing provisions of this article, so far as they are applicable, govern in the application for, and in the taking and use of such depositions, such deposition may be taken before any magistrate or notary public of the county in which the jail or prison is situated; or in case the witness is confined in a Territorial prison, and the defendant is unable to pay for taking the deposition, before the warden or clerk of the board of directors of the prison, whose duty it shall be to act without compensation. Every officer before whom testimony shall be taken by virtue hereof, shall have authority to administer, and shall administer an oath to the witness, that his testimony shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

When the witness is not in the territory.

(5794) § 12. When an issue of fact is joined upon an indictment or information the defendant may have any material witness residing out of the Territory examined in his behalf as prescribed in this article and not otherwise.

Chap. 72.

Application for commission to take testimony.

(5795) § 13. When a material witness for the defendant resides out of the Territory the defendant may apply for an order that the witness be examined on a commission to be issued under the seal of the court, and the signature of the clerk, directed to some party designated as commissioner, authorizing him to examine the witness upon oath or interrogatories annexed thereto, and to take and certify the deposition of the witness and return it according to the instructions given with the commission.

Application made upon affidavit,

(5796) § 14. Application must be made upon affidavit stating:

First. The nature of the offense charged.

Second. The state of the proceedings in the action and that an issue of the fact has been joined therein.

Third. The name of the witness and that his testimony is material to the defense of the action.

Fourth. That the witness resides out of the Territory.

Application made on five days' notice.

(5797) § 15. The application may be made to the court or judge himself, and must be upon five days notice to the district attorney.

Court to make order.

(5798) § 16 If the court or judge to whom the application is made, is satisfied of the truth of the facts stated and that the examination of the witness is necessary to the attainment of justice, an order must be made that a commission be issued to take his testimony, and the court or judge may insert in the order a direction that the trial be stayed for a specified time reasonably sufficient for the execution of the commission and return thereof, or the case may be continued.

Interrogatories to be served.

(5799) § 17. When the commission is ordered, the defendant must serve upon the district attorney, without delay, a copy of the interrogatories to be annexed thereto, within three days notice of the time at which they will be presented to the court or judge. The district attorney may in like manner serve upon the defendant or his counsel cross interrogatories, to be annexed to the commission, with like notice. In the interrogatories, either party may insert any question pertinent to the issue. When the interrogatories and cross interrogatories are presented to the court or judge, according to the notice, the court or judge must modify the questions, so as to conform them to the rules of evidence, and must indorse upon them his alterations, and annex them to the commission.

Court to direct the manner of return.

(5800) § 18. Unless the parties otherwise consent by an indorsement upon the commission, the court or judge must indorse thereon the direction and manner in which it must be returned, and may in his discretion direct that it be returned by mail or otherwise, addressed to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, designating his name, and the place where his office is kept.

Commission to be executed, how.

(5801) § 19. The commissioner, unless otherwise specially directed, may execute the commission as follows:

First. He must administer an oath to the witness that his answers given to the interrogatories shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Second. He must cause the examination of the witness to be reduced to writing and subscribed by him.

Third. He must write the answers of the witness as nearly as possible in the language in which he gives them, and read to him each answer so taken down, and correct or add to it until it conforms to what he declares is the truth.

Fourth. If the witness declines to answer a question, that fact, with the reason assigned by him for declining, must be stated.

Fifth. If any papers or documents are produced before him, and proved by the witness, they, or copies of them, must be annexed to the deposition, subscribed by the witness, and certified by the commissioner.

Sixth The commissioner must subscribe his name to each sheet of the deposition, with the papers and documents proved by the witness, or copies thereof, to the commissioner, and must close it up under seal, and address it as directed by the indorsement thereon.

Seventh. If there be direction on the commission to return it by mail, the commissioner must immediately deposit it in the nearest post office. If any other direction be made by the written consent of the parties, or by the court or judge, to the commissioner as to its return, the commissioner must comply with the directions. A copy of this section must be annexed to the commission.

When commission is delivered to an agent.

(5802) § 20. If the commission and return be delivered by the commissioner to an agent, he must deliver the same to the clerk to whom it is directed, or to the judge of the court in which the action is pending, by whom it may be received and opened upon the agent making affidavit that he received it from the hands of the commissioner, and that it has not been opened or altered since he received it.

When agent is incapacitated

(5803) § 21. If the agent is dead, or from sickness or other cause is unable personally to deliver the commission and return as prescribed in the last section, it may be received by the clerk or judge from any other person, upon his making an affidavit that he received it from the agent, that the agent is dead, or, from sickness or other casualty, unable to deliver it, and it has not been opened or altered since the person making the affidavit received it, and that he believes it has not been opened or altered since it came from the hands of the commissioner

Commission and return to be filed

(5804) § 22. The clerk or judge receiving and opening the commission and return must immediately file it, with the affidavit mentioned in the last two sections, in the office of the clerk of the court in which the indictment or information is pending. If the commission and return is transmitted by mail, the clerk to whom it is addressed must receive it from the post office, and open and file it in his office, where it must remain unless otherwise directed by the court.

Commission and return made public record.

(5805) § 23. The commission and return must at all times be open to the inspection of all persons, who must be furnished a copy of the same, or any part thereof, on payment of his fees.

Depositions may be read on trial.

(5806) § 24. Depositions, taken under a commission, may be read in evidence by either party on the trial upon it being shown that the witness is unable to attend from any cause whatever, and the same objections may be taken to a question in the interrogatories, or to the answers in the deposition, as if the witness had been examined orally in court.

ARTICLE 19.—INQUIRING INTO THE SANITY OF THE DEFENDANT BEFORE TRIAL OR AFTER CONVICTION.

SECTION.
1. Insane person cannot be tried.
2. When doubt as to sanity arises
3. Trial to be suspended.
4. Order of trial.
5. Charge of the court.
6. If sane, trial to proceed.
7. If insane, judgment suspended.
8. Commitment exonerates bail.
9. Restoration to sanity.
10. Expenses of keeping defendant.

Insane person cannot be tried.

(5807) § 1. An act done by a person in a state of insanity cannot be punished as a public offense, nor can a person be tried, adjudged to punishment, or punished for a public offense, while he is insane.

When doubt as to sanity arises.

(5808) § 2. When an indictment is called for trial, or upon conviction the defendant is brought up for judgment, if a doubt arise as to the sanity of the defendant, the court must order a jury to be impanelled from the jurors summoned and returned for the term, or who may be summoned by direction of the court, to inquire into the fact.

Trial to be surpended.

(5809) § 3. The trial of the indictment or the pronouncing the judgment, as the case may be, must be suspended until the question of insanity is determined by the verdict of the jury.

Order of trial.

(5810) § 4. The trial of the question of insanity must proceed in the following order:

First. The counsel for the defendant must open the case and offer evidence in support of the allegation of insanity.

Second. The counsel for the Territory may then open their case and offer evidence in support thereof.

Third. The parties may then respectively offer rebutting testimony only, unless the court, for good reason, in furtherance of justice, permit them to offer evidence upon their original case.

Fourth. When the evidence is concluded, unless the case be submitted to the jury on either side or on both sides, without argument, the counsel for the Territory must commence, and the defendant or his counsel may conclude, the argument to the jury.

Fifth. If the indictment be for an offense punishable with death two counsels on each side may argue the cause to the jury, in which case they must do so alternately. If it be for any other offense, the court may, in its discretion, restrict the argument to one counsel on each side.

Sixth. The court must then charge the jury before argument as in other cases.

Charge of the court.

(5811) § 5. The provisions of the chapter on trials, in respect to the duty of the court upon questions of law, and of the jury upon questions of fact, and the provisions in respect to the charge of the court to the jury, upon the trial of an indictment or information. apply to the questions of insanity.

(5812) § 6. If the jury find the defendant sane, the trial of the indictment must proceed, or judgment may be pronounced, as the case may be,

If insane, judgment suspended.

(5813) § 7. If the jury find the defendant is insane, the trial or judgment must be suspended until he becomes sane, and the court, if it deem his dischage dangerous to the public peace or safety, may order that he be, in the meantime, committed to the care of the sheriff until he becomes sane.

Commitment exonerates bail.

(5814) § 8. The commitment of the defendant as mentioned in the last section, exonerates his bail, or entitles a person authorized to receive the property of the defendant to return of money he may have deposited instead of bail.

Restoration to sanity.

(5815) § 9. When he becomes sane the sheriff must thereupon, without delay, place him in the proper custody until he be brought to trial or judgment, as the case may be, or be legally discharged.

Expenses of keeping defendant.

(5816) § 10. The expenses of keeping the defendant are in the first instance chargeable to the county, but the county may recover them from the estate of the defendant, if he have any, or from a relative.

ARTICLE 20.—SEARCH WARRANTS.

SECTION.

1. Search warrant defined.
2. Grounds for issue of search warrant.
3. Must have probable cause
4. Sworn complaint must be made.
5. Requisite of the warrant.
6. Form of the warrant.
7. Search warrant served by whom
8. Officer may break open door.
9. Same, for liberating persons.
10. Warrant served at night, when.
11. Warrant void after ten days.
12. Property disposed of, how.
13. Return of the warrant.
14. Copy of inventory.
15. Complaint controverted.
16. Testimony how taken.
17. Property to be restored.
18. Depositions returned to district court.
19. Procuring search warrant without cause.
20. Officer exceeding his authority.
21. Searching defendant by magistrate.

Search warrant defined.

(5817) § 1. A search warrant is an order in writing, in the name of the Territory, signed by a magistrate, directed to a peace officer, commanding him to search for personal property and bring it before the magistrate.

Grounds for issue of search warrant.

(5818) § 2. It may be issued upon either of the following grounds:

First. When the property was stolen or embezzled, in which case it may be taken on the warrant, from any house or other place in which it is concealed, or from the possession of the person by whom it was stolen or embezzled, or of any other person in whose possession it may be.

Second. When it was used as the means of committing a felony, in which case it may be taken on the warrant from any house or other place in which it is concealed, or from the possession of the person by whom it was used in the commission of the offense, or of any other person in whose possession it may be.

Third. When it is in the possession of any person, with the intent to use it as the means of committing a public offense, or in the possession of another to whom he may have delivered it for the purpose of concealing it or preventing its being discovered, in which case it may be taken on the warrant from such person, or from a house or other place occupied by him, or under his control, or from the possession of the person to whom he may have so delivered it.

Must have probable cause.

(5819) § 3. A search warrant cannot be issued but upon probable cause, supported by affidavit, naming or describing the person, and particularly describing the property and the place to be searched.

Sworn complaint must be made.

(5820) § 4. The magistrate must, before issuing the warrant, take, on oath, the complaint of the prosecuting witness in writing, which must set forth the facts tending to establish the grounds of the application, or probable cause for believing that they exist.

Requisites of the warrant.

(5821) § 5. If the magistrate be thereupon satisfied of the existence of grounds of the application, or that there is probable cause to believe their existence, he must issue a search warrant, signed by him, with his name of office, to a peace officer in his county, commanding him forthwith to search the person or place named, for the property specified, and to bring it before the magistrate, and also to arrest the person in whose possession the same may be found, to be dealt with according to law.

Form of the warrant.

(5822) § 6. The warrant must be in substantially the following form:

County of .....

In the name of the Territory of Oklahoma: To any sheriff, constable, marshal or policeman in the county of .....

Proof by affidavit having been this day made before me, by (naming every person whose affidavit has been taken) the (stating the particular grounds of the application according to the second section of this chapter, or if the affidavit be not positive) that there is probable cause for believing that (stating the grounds of the application in the same manner).

You are therefore commanded, in the day time, (or "at any time of the day or night," as the case may be, according to the fourth following section) to make immediate search on the person of C. D. (or "in the house situated," describing it, or any other place to be searched, with reasonable particularity, as the case may be), for the following property (describing it with reasonable particularity), and if you find the same, or any part thereof, to bring it forthwith before me, at (stating the place).

Dated at.....: the.....day of....., 18....

E. F., Justice of the peace of the city (or town) of (or as the case may be).

Search warrant served by whom

(5823) § 7. A search warrant may in all cases be served by any of the officers mentioned in its direction, but by no other person except in aid of the officer, on his requiring it, he being present, and acting in its execution.

Officer may break open door

(5824) § 8. The officer may break open an outer or inner door or window of a house, or any part of the house, or anything therein, to execute the warrant, if, after notice of his authority and purpose he be refused admittance.

Same for liberating person.

(5825) § 9. He may break open any outer or inner door or window of a house for the purpose of liberating a person who, having entered to aid him in the execution of the warrant, is detained therein, or when necessary for his own liberation.

Warrant may be served at night, when.

(5826) § 10. The magistrate must insert a direction in the warrant that it be served in the day time, unless the affidavits be positive that the property is on the person, or in the place to be searched. In which case he may insert a direction that it be served at any time of the day or night.

Search warrant void after ten days.

(5827) § 11. A search warrant must be executed and returned to the magistrate by whom it wass issued within ten days. After the expiration of these times respectively, the warrant, unless executed, is void.

Property disposed of how.

(5828) § 12. When the property is delivered to the magistrate, he must, if it was stolen or embezzled, deliver it to the owner on satisfactory proof of his title, and on his paying the necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, to be certified by the magistrate. If it were taken on a warrant issued on the grounds stated in the second and third subdivisions of the second section of this chapter, he must retain it in his possession, subject to the order of the court to which he is required to return the proceedings before him, or of any other court in which the offense, in respect to which the property was taken, is triable.

Return of the warrant.

(5829) § 13. The officer must forthwith return the warrant to the magistrate, and deliver to him a written inventory of the property taken, made publicly, or in the presence of the person from whose possession it was taken, and of the applicant for the warrant, if they be present, verified by the affidavit of the officer, and taken before the magistrate, to the following effect.

I, A B, the officer by whom this warrant was executed, do swear that the above inventory contains a true and detailed account of all the property taken by me on the warrant.

Copy of inventory.

(5830) § 14. The magistrate must thereupon. if required, deliver a copy of the inventory to the person from whose possession the property was taken, and to the applicant for the warrant.

Complaint controverted

(5831) § 15. If the grounds on which the warrant was issued be controverted, the magistrate must proceed to take testimony in relation thereto.

Testimony, how taken

(5832) § 16. The testimony given by each witness must be reduced to writing and authenticated in the manner as in preliminary examinations.

Property to be restored.

(5833) § 17. If it appear that the property taken is not the same as that described in the warrant, or that there is no probable cause for believing the existence of the grounds on which the warrant was issued, the magistrate must cause it to be restored to the person from whom it was taken.

Depositions returned to district court.

(5834) § 18. The magistrate must annex together the depositions, the search warrant and return, and the inventory, and then return them to the next district court of the county having power

(5878) § 19. If any person confined in any jail upon a conviction or charge of any offense, is refractory or disorderly, or if he wilfully destroy or injure any article of bedding or other furniture, door or window, or any other part of such prison, the sheriff of the county, after due inquiry, may chain and secure such person, or cause him to be kept in solitary confinement not more than three days for any one offense; and during such solitary confinement he may be fed with bread aud water only, unless other food is necessary for the preservation of his health.

Punishment for escaping from prison.

(5879) § 20. Any person committed to a Territorial prison who shall escape from or break said Territorial prison with intent to escape therefrom, or who shall attempt by force or violence, or in any other manner, to escape from said prison, whether such escape be effected or not, shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by imprisonment in said prison for a term not exceeding double the term for which he or she was so sentenced, to commence from and after the expiration of his or her former sentence.

Same for person not convicted

(5880) § 21. If any person who may be imprisoned pursuant to a sentence of imprisonment in the county jail, or any person who shall be committed for the purpose of detaining him for trial, for any offense not capital, shall break prison and escape, he shall be imprisoned in the county jail for the term of six months.

Same when committed for capital offenses.

(5881) § 22. If any person shall be committed to prison, for the purpose of detaining him for trial, for a capital offense, shall break prison and escape, he shall be imprisoned in the Territorial prison for the term of two years.

Prisoners in case of fire.

(5882) § 23. If any prison, or any building thereto, shall be on fire, and the prisoners shall be exposed to danger by such fire, the keeper may remove such prisoners to a place of safety, and there confine them, so long as may be necessary to avoid such danger, and such removal and confinement shall not be deemed an escape of such prisoners.

When a poor convict is held for fine and costs.

(5883) § 24. When any poor convict shall have been confined in any prison for the space of six months, for the non-payment of fine and costs only, or either of them, the sheriff of the county in which such person shall be imprisoned shall make a report thereof to any two justices of the peace for such county; if required by such justices, the said keeper shall bring such convict before them, either at the prison, or at such other convenient place thereto as they shall direct, the said justices shall proceed to inquire into the truth of said report, and if they shall be satisfied that the report is true, and the convict has not had since his conviction any estate, real or personal, with which he could have paid the sum for the nonpayment of which he was committed, they shall make a certificate thereof to the sheriff of the county, and direct him to discharge such convict from prison and the sheriff shall forthwith discharge him.

Sheriff to receive and hold United States prisoners.

(5884) § 25. All sheriffs, jailers, prison keepers, and their and each and every of all their deputies, within this Territory, to whom any person or persons shall be sent or committed, by virtue of legal process, issued by or under the authority of the United States, shall be and they are hereby enjoined and required to receive such persons into custody, and to keep them safely until they be discharged by due course of the laws of the United States; and all such sheriffs, jailers, prison keepers and their deputies, offending in the premises, shall be liable to the same pains and penalties, and the parties aggrieved shall be entitled to the same remedies against them, or any of them, as if such prisoners had been committed to their custody by virtue of legal process issued under the authority of this Territory.

United States shall be liable for expenses of keeping prisoners

(5885) § 26. The United States shall be liable to pay for the support and keeping of said prisoners the same charges and allowances as are allowed for the support and keeping of prisoners committed under authority of this Territory.

(5886) § 27. Before every stated term of the United States court, to be held within this Territory, the said sheriffs, jailers and prison keepers shall make out, under oath, a calendar of prisoners in their custody, under the authority of the United States, with the date of their commitment, by whom committed, and for what offense, and transmit the same to the judge of the district court of the United States for this district, and at the end of every six months they shall transmit to the United States marshal of this Territory, for allowance and payment of their account, if any, against the United States, for the support and keeping of such prisoners, as aforesaid.

15. Penalty for rearresting person on same cause.
16. All penalties inure to use of person aggrieved.
17. General issues may be pleaded.
18. Recovery of penalties no bar to civil action.
19. Who may issue writ of habeas corpus.

Application for writ of habeas corpus, issue and service.

(5911) § 1. If any person shall be committed or placed under bond or detained for any criminal or supposed criminal matter, it shall and may be lawful for him to apply to the Supreme or district court in term time, or any judge thereof in vacation, for a writ of habeas corpus, which application shall be in writing, and signed by the prisoner or some person on his behalf, setting forth the facts concerning his imprisonment, and in whose custody he is detained, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the warrant or warrants of commitment, or an affidavit that the said copy has been demanded of the person in whose custody the prisoner is detained, and by him refused or neglected to be given. The said court judge to whom the said application shall be made. shall forthwith award the said writ of habeas corpus, unless it shall appear from the petition itself, or from the document annexed, that the party can neither be discharged nor admitted to bail, nor in any other manner, relieved, which said writ, if issued by the court, shall be under the seal of the court; if by a judge, under the hand of a judge, and shall be directed to the person in whose custody the prisoner is detained, and made returnable forthwith, to the intent that no officer, sheriff, jailer, keeper, or other person to whom such writ shall be directed, may pretend ignorance thereof. Every such writ shall be indorsed with these words, "by the habeas corpus act," and whenever the said writ shall by any other person, be served upon the sheriff, jailer, or keeper, or other person whatsoever, to whom the same shall be directed, or being brought to him, or being left with any of his under officers or deputies, at the jail or place where the prisoner is detained, he, or some of his under-officers or deputies, shall, make return of such writ, and bring or cause to be brought, the body of the prisoner before the court ot judge who granted the writ, or in case of the adjournment of the said court or absence of the judge, then before any of the judges aforesaid, and certify the the true cause of his imprisonment, within three days thereafter, unless the commitment of such person be in a place beyond the distance of twenty miles from the place where the writ is returnable; if beyond the distance of twenty miles and not above one hundred miles, then within ten days, and if beyond the distance of one hundred miles, then within twenty days after the delivery of the writ as aforesaid, and not longer.

Person not committed for crime may apply

(5912) 2. When any person, not being committed or detained for any criminal or supposed criminal matter, shall be confined or restrained of his or her liberty, under any color or pretense whatever, he or she may apply for a writ of habeas corpus as aforesaid. Application shall be in writing, signed by the party or some person on his behalf, setting forth the facts concerning his or her imprisonment, and wherein the illegality of such imprisonment consists, and in whose custody he or she is detained, which application or petition shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the party applying, or some other person on his or her behalf. If the confinement or restraint is by virtue of any judicial writ, or process or order, a copy thereof shall be annexed thereto, or an affidavit made that the same has been demanded and refused; the same proceedings shall thereupon be had in all respects as are directed in the preceding section.

Return of the writ, the hearing, causes for the discharge of the prisoner (5913) § 3. Upon the return of the writ of habeas corpus, a day shall be set for the hearing of the cause of imprisonment or detainer, not exceeding five days thereafter, unless the prisoner shall request a longer time. The said prisoner may deny any of the material facts set forth in return, or may allege any fact to show, either that the imprisonment or detention is unlawful, or that he is then entitled to his discharge, which allegations or denials shall be made on oath. The said return may be amended by leave of the court or judge, before or after the same is filed, as also may also all suggestions made against it, that thereby material facts may be ascertained. The said court or judge shall proceed in a summary way to settle the said facts by hearing the testimony and arguments, as well of all parties interested civilly, if any there be, as of the prisoner and the person who holds him in custody, and shall dispose of the prisoner as the case may require; if it appears that the prisoner is in custody by virtue of process from any court legally constituted, he can be discharged only for some of the following causes.

First. When the court has exceeded the limit of its jurisdiction, either as to the matter, place, sum or person.

Second. Where though the original imprisonment was unlawful, yet by some act, omission or event, which has subsequently taken place, the party has become entitled to his discharge.

Third. Where the process is defective in some substantial form required by law.

Fourth. Where the process though in proper form, has been issued in a case or under circumstances where the laws do not allow precess or orders for imprisonment or arrest to issue.

Fifth. When although in proper form, the process has been issued or executed by a person either unauthorized to issue or execute the same, or where the person having the custody of the prisoner under such process is not the person empowered by law to detain him.

Chap. 72.

Sixth. Where the process appears to have obtained by false pretense or bribery.

Seventh. Where there is no general law nor any judgment, order or decree of a court to authorize the process, if in a civil suit, nor any conviction, if in a criminal proceeding.

No court or judge, on the return of a habeas corpus, shall, in any other manner inquire into the legality or justice of a judgment or decree of a court legally constituted; in all cases where the imprisonment is a criminal, or supposed criminal matter, if it shall appear to the said court or judge that there is sufficient legal cause for the commitment of the prisoner, although such commitment may have been informally made, or without due authority, or the process may have been informally made, or without due authority, or the process may have been executed by a person not authorized, the court or judge shall make a new commitment in proper form, and directed to the proper officer, or admit the party to bail, if the case be bailable.

Recognizance with security to be given, when (5914) § 4. When any person shall be admitted to bail on habeas corpus, he shall enter into recognizance, with one or more securities, in such sum as the court or judge shall direct, having regard to the circumstances of the prisoner, and the nature of the offense, conditioned for his or her appearance at the next district court, to be holden in and for the county where the offense was committed, or where the same is to be tried; where any court or judge shall admit to bail or remand any prisoner brought before him or them on any writ of habeas corpus, it shall be the duty of the said court or judge to bind all such persons as do declare anything material to prove the offense with which the prisoner is charged, by recognizance, to appear at the proper court having cognizance of the offense, on the first day of the next term thereof, to give evidence touching the said offense, and not to depart the said court without leave, which recognizance so taken, together with the recognizance entered into by the prisoner when he is admitted to bail, shall be certified and returned to the proper court on the first day of the next succeeding term thereof; if any such witness shall neglect or refuse to enter into a recognizance as aforesaid, when thereunto required, it shall be lawful for the court or judge to commit him to jail until he shall enter into such recognizance, or he be otherwise discharged by due course of law; if any judge shall refuse or neglect to bind any such witness or prisoner by recognizance, when taken as aforesaid, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and be proceeded against accordingly.

When prisoner is remanded, second writ.

(5915) § 5. When any prisoner, brought up on a habeas corpus shall be remanded to prison, it shall be the duty of the court or judge remanding him to make out and deliver to the sheriff or other person to whose custody he shall be remanded, an order in writing stating the cause or causes of remanding him; if such prisoner shall obtain a second writ of habeas corpus, it shall be the duty of such sheriff, or other person to whom the same shall be directed, to return therewith the order aforesaid, and if it shall appear that the said prisoner was remanded for any offense adjudged not bailable, it shall be taken and received as conclusive, and the prisoner shall be remanded without further proceedings.

Power of judge under second writ of habeas corpus

(5916) § 6. It shall not be lawful for any court or judge, on a second writ of habeas corpus obtained by such prisoner, to discharge the said prisoner, if he is clearly and specifically charged in the warrant of commitment with a criminal offense; but the said court or judge shall, on the return of such second writ, have power only to admit such prisoner to bail, where the offense is bailable by law, or remand him to prison where the offense is not bailable, or where such prisoner shall fail to give the bail required.

Person cannot be again committed unless indicted.

(5917) § 7. No person who has been discharged by order of a court or judge on a habeas corpus, shall be again imprisoned, restrained, or kept in custody for the same cause, unless he be afterward indicted for the same offense; or unless by the legal order or process of the court wherein he is bound by recognizance to appear. The following shall not be deemed to be the same cause:

First. If after a discharge for a defect of proof, or on any material defect in the commitment in a criminal case, the prisoner should be again arrested on sufficient proof, and committed by legal process for the same offense.

Second. If in a civil suit the party has been discharged for any illegality in the judgment or process, and is afterward imprisoned by legal process for the same cause of action.

Third. Generally, whenever the discharge has been ordered on account of the non-observance of any of the forms required by law the party may be a second time imprisoned, if the cause be legal, and the forms required by law observed.

Prisoner liberated for want of prosecution, when.

(5918) § 8. If any person shall be committed for a criminal or supposed criminal matter, and not admitted to bail, and shall not be tried on or before the the second term of the court having jurisdiction of the offense, the prisoner shall be let at liberty by the court, unless the delay shall happen on the application of the prisoner; if such court at the second term shall be satisfied that due exertions have been made to procure the evidence for and on behalf of the Territory, and that there are reasonable grounds to believe that such evidence may be procured at the third term, they shall have power to continue such case till the third term; if any such prisoner shall have been admitted to bail for a crime other than a capital offense, the court may continue the trial of said cause to a third term, if it shall appear by oath or affirmation that the witnesses for the Territory are absent, such witnesses being mentioned by name, and the court shown wherein their testimony is material.

Writ of habeas corpus not allowed to delay trial.

(5819) § 9. To prevent any person from avoiding or delaying his trial, it shall not be lawful to remove any prisoner on habeas corpus under this act out of the county in which he or she is confined, within fifteen days next preceding the term of the court at which such person ought to be tried, except it be to convey him or her into the county where the offense with which he or she stands charged is properly cognizable.

Prisoner shall not be removed from one prison to another except in certain cases.

(5920) § 10. Any person being committed to any prison, or in custody of any officer, sheriff, jailer, keeper, or other person, or his under officer or deputy, for any criminal or supposed criminal matter, shall not be removed from the said prison or custody into other prison or custody, unless it be by habeas corpus, or some other legal writ; or where the prisoner shall be delivered to the constable, or other inferior officer, to be carried to some common jail; or shall be removed from one place to another, within the county, in order to his discharge or trial in due course of law; or in case of sudden fire, infection or other necessity, or where the sheriff shall commit such prisoner to the jail of an adjoining county for the want of a sufficient jail in his own county, as is provided in the act concerning jails and jailers; or where the prisoner, in pursuance of a law of the United States, may be claimed or demanded by the executive of the United States, or territories; if any person shall, after such commitment as aforesaid, make out, sign or countersign any warrant or warrants for such removal, except as before excepted, then he or they shall forfeit to the prisoner or aggrieved party, a sum not exceeding three hundred dollars, to be received by the prisoner or party aggrieved in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Penalty if judge refuses or delays writ.

(5921) § 11. Any judge empowered by this act to issue writs of habeas corpus, who shall corruptly refuse to issue such writ, when legally applied to, in a case where such writ may lawfully issue, or who shall, for the purpose of oppression, unreasonably delay the issuing of such writ, shall for every such offense, forfeit to the prisoner or party aggrieved a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Penalty if officer refuses to execute and return writ.

(5922) § 12. If any officer, sheriff, jailer, keeper or other person to whom any such writ shall be directed, shall neglect or refuse to make the returns as aforesaid, or to bring the body of the prisoner according to the command of said writ, within the time required by this act, all and every such officer, sheriff, jailer, keeper or other person, shall be deemed guilty of contempt of the court or judge who issued said writ; whereupon the said court or judge may, and shall, issue an attachment against such officer, sheriff; jailer, keeper or other person, and cause him or them to be committed to the jail of the county, there to remain without bail or mainprise, until he or they shall obey the said writ; such officer, sheriff, jailer, keeper or other person, shall also forfeit to the prisoner or agrieved party a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and shall be incapable of holding or executing his said office.

Removing or concealing prisoner with intent to avoid a writ of habeas corpus.

(5923) § 13. Any one having a person in his custody, or under his restraint, power or control, for whose relief a writ of habeas corpus is issued, who, with intent to avoid the effect of such writ, shall transfer such person to the custody, or place him or her under the control of another, or shall conceal him or her, or change the place of his or her confinement, with intent to avoid the operation of such writ, or with intent to remove him or her out of this Territory, shall forfeit for every such offense one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned not less than one year, nor more than five years; in any prosecution for the penalty incurred under this section, it shall not be necessary to show that the writ of habeas corpus had issued at the time of the removal, transfer or concealment therein mentioned; if it be proven that the acts therein forbidden were done with the intent to avoid the operation of such writ.

Copy of commitment to be given to prisoner on demand, penalty for refusal.

(5924) § 14. Any sheriff or his deputy, any jailer or coroner, having custody of any prisoner committed on a civil or criminal process of any court or magistrate, who shall neglect to give such prisoner a copy of the process, order or commitment by virtue of which he is imprisoned, within six hours after the demand made by said prisoner, or any one on his behalf, shall forfeit five hundred dollars.

Penalty for re-arresting person on same cause.

(5925) § 15. Any person who, knowing that another has been discharged by order of a competent judge or tribunal, on a habeas corpus, shall contrary to the provisions of this act, arrest or detain him again for the same cause which was shown on the return of such writ, shall forfeit five hundred dollars for the first offense, and one thousand dollars for every subsequent offense.

All penalties insure to use of person aggrieved.

(5926) § 16. All the pecuniary forfeitures under this act shall inure to the use of the party for whose benefit the writ of habeas corpus issued, and shall be sued for and recovered, with costs in the name of the Territory, by every person aggrieved.

General issue may be pleaded.

(5927) § 17. In any action or suit for any offense against the provisions of this act, the defendant or defendants may plead the general issue, and give the special matter in evidence.

Recovery of penalties no bar to civil action.

(5928) § 18. The recovery of the said penalties shall be no bar to a civil suit for damages.

Who may issue writ of habeas corpus.

(5929) § 19. The Supreme and district courts within this Territory, or the judges thereof in vacation, shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, for the purpose of bringing the body of any person confined in any jail within the same before them, to testify or be surrendered in discharge of bail. When a writ of habeas corpus shall be issued for the purpose of bringing into court any person to testify, or the principal, to be surrendered in discharge of bail, and such principal or witness, shall be confined in any jail in this Territory, out of the county in which such principal or witness is required to be surrendered, or to any county in this Territory, and there be executed and returned by any officer to whom it shall be directed, and the principal, after being surrendered, or his bail discharged, or a person testifying as aforesaid, shall, by the officer executing such writ, be returned by virtue of an order of the court, for the purpose aforesaid, an attested copy of which, lodged with the jailer, shall exonerate such jailer from being liable for an escape. The party praying out such writ of habeas corpus shall pay to the officer executing the same, such reasonable sum for his services as shall be adjudged by the courts respectively.

Chap. 72. ARTICLE 26.—OFFENSES COMMITTED WHILE NEBRASKA LAWS WERE IN FORCE. CERTAIN CIVIL RIGHTS.

AN ACT Relating to Offenses in Oklahoma Territory Committed while the Laws of Nebraska were in force therein and Relating to the Prosecution thereof, and also Relating to Civil Rights accrued under the Laws of Nebraska.

[Took effect December 25, 1890.]

SECTION.
1. Prosecution of offenses committed while Nebraska laws were in force.
2. Cases pending, governed by laws of Nebraska.
3. Prosecutions not yet commenced.
4. Rights and proceedings arising under Nebraska laws.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Prosecution of offenses committed while Nebraska laws were in force.

(5930) § 1. That as to all offenses committed in this Territory against the laws of Nebraska while in force in this Territory, said laws so offended against, shall continue in force until the apprehension and prosecution and until the punishment and penalty is imposed upon such offenders.

Cases pending to be governed by Nebraska laws.

(5931) § 2. That as to all offenses mentioned in the preceding section in which prosecutions are now pending, the laws of criminal procedure of the state of Nebraska now and heretofore in force in this Territory shall continue in force for the purpose of prosecuting such offenses, but for no other purpose.

Prosecutions not yet commenced.

(5932) § 3. That as to all offenses mentioned in section of this act, where prosecutions have not yet been commenced, such offenses shall be prosecuted under the procedure in force in this Territory after the adjournment of the first sessession of the Legislative Assembly.

Rights and proceedings arising under Nebraska laws.

(5933) § 4. The expiration of the time for which the laws of Nebraska, where by Act of Congress extended over this Territory, shall not effect any act done, any rights accruing, or which have accrued, or been established, nor any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause under said laws, but such rights and proceedings shall have as full force and effect as though said laws had continued in full force, but the proceedings in such cases, shall conform to the provisions of the statutes of this Territory as far as consistent.

ARTICLE 27.—BAIL, REPRIEVES, COMMUTATIONS AND PARDONS.

SECTION.
1. Bail must be admitted except crime punishable by death.
2. Bail when crime is punishable by death.
3. Bail after conviction.
4. Qualification and justification of sureties.
5. Discharge of defendant.
6. Deposit of bail
7. Defendant arrested by his bail.
8. Forfeiture of bail.
9. Additional security demanded.
10. Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons
11. In cases of treason.
12. Annual report to Legislature.
13. Report of case on application for pardon.
14. Applications for pardon.
15 Method of making application for pardon.
16. Contest of application.
17. Governor may make additional rules.
18. Papers filed with Secretary of Territory.

Bail must be admitted except when crime is punishable by death.

(5934) § 1. Bail, by sufficient sureties, shall be admitted upon all arrests in criminal cases where the offense is not punishable by death, and in such cases it may be taken by any of the persons or courts authorized by law to arrest and imprison offenders.

Bail when crime is punishable by death.

(5935) § 2. Bail, by sufficient sureties, may be admitted upon all arrests in criminal cases where the punishment may be death, unless the proof is evident or the presumption great; and in such cases it shall be taken only by the Supreme Court or a district court, or by a justice or judge thereof, who shall exercise their discretion therein, having regard to the nature and circumstances of the offense, and of the evidence and to the usages of law; but if the case has been tried by jury, and the jury have disagreed on their verdict, then the above presumption is removed, and the defendant shall thereupon be entitled to bail, unless it shall appear to the court or judge thereof, by due proof, that such disagreement was occasioned by the misconduct of the jury.

Bail after conviction.

(5936) § 3. After conviction of an offense not punishable with death, a defendant who sues out a writ of error for the revision of a judgment may be admitted to bail:

First. As a matter of right when the writ of error is from a judgment imposing a fine only.

Second. As a matter of discretion in all other cases.

Qualification and jurisdiction of sureties.

(5937) § 4. The qualifications of bail are the same as those in civil cases, and the sureties must in all cases justify by affidavits taken before the magistrate, court or judge, that they each possess those qualifications.

Discharge of defendant

(5938) § 5. Upon the allowance of bail and the execution of the requisite recognizance, bond or undertaking, to the Territory, the magistrate, judge or court, must, if the defendant is in custody, make and sign an order for his discharge, upon the delivery of which to the proper officer the defendant must be discharged.

Deposit for bail.

(5939) § 6. A deposit of the sum of money mentioned in the order admitting to bail is equivalent to bail and upon such deposit the defendant must be discharged from custody.

Defendant may be arrested by his bail.

(5940) § 7. Any party charged with a criminal offense and admitted to bail may be arrested by his bail at any time before they are finally discharged, and at any place within the Territory; or by a written authority indorsed on a certified copy of the recognizance, bond or undertaking, may empower any office or person of suitable age and discretion, to do so, and he may be surrendered and delivered to the proper sheriff or other officer, before any court, judge or magistrate having the proper jurisdiction in the case; and at the request of such bail the court, judge or magistrate shall re-commit the party so arrested to the custody of the sheriff or other officer, and indorse on the cognizance, bond or undertaking, or certified copy thereof, after notice to the district attorney, and if no cause to the contrary appear, the discharge and exoneration of such bail; and the party so committed shall therefrom be held in custody until discharged by due course of law.

Forfeiture of bail

(5941) § 8. If, without sufficient excuse, the defendant neglects to appear according to the terms or conditions of the recognizance, bond or undertaking, either for hearing, arraignment, trial or judgment, or upon any other occasion when his presence in court or before the magistrate may be lawfully required, or to surrender himself in execution of the judgment, the court must direct the fact to be entered upon its minutes, and the recognizance, bond or undertaking of bail, or the money deposited instead of bail, as the case may be, is and shall be thereupon declared forfeited. But, if at any time before the final adjournment of court the defendant or his bail appear and satisfactorily excuse his neglect, the court may direct the forfeiture to be discharged upon such terms as may be just. After the forfeiture, the district attorney must proceed with all due diligence, by action against the bail upon the instrument so forfeited. If money deposited instead of bail be so forfeited, the clerk of the court or other officer with whom it is deposited, must, immediately after the final adjournment of the court, pay over the money deposited to the county treasurer.

Additional security may be demanded.

(5942) § 9. When proof is made to any court, judge or other magistrate having authority to commit on criminal charges, that a person previously admitted to bail on any such charge is about to abscond, or that his bail is insufficient, or has removed from the Territory, the judge or magistrate shall require such person to give better security, or for default thereof cause him to be committed to prison; and an order for his arrest may be indorsed on the former commitment, or a new warrant therefor may be issued by such judge or magistrate, setting forth the cause thereof.

Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons

(5943) § 10. The Governor has power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after convictions, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, upon such conditions, and with such restrictions and limitations as he may think proper, subject to the regulations provided in this chapter, and in the chapter defining the duties and powers of the executive.

In case of treason report to legislature

(5944) § 11. He may also suspend the execution of the sentence upon a conviction for treason, until the case can be reported to the Legislature at the next meeting, when the Legislature must either pardon or commute the sentence, direct the execution thereof, or grant a further reprieve.

Must make annual report to legislature.

(5945) § 12. He must annually communicate to the legislature each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon, stating the name of the convict, the crime of which he was convicted, the sentence and its date, and the date of the commutation, pardon or reprieve.

On application for pardon Governor may demand report of case

(5946) § 13. When an application is made to the Governor for a pardon, he may require the presiding judge of the court before which the conviction was had, or the district attorney by whom the action was prosecuted, to furnish him, without delay, with the statement of the facts proved on the trial, and of any other facts having reference to the propriety of granting the pardon.

Application for pardon.

(5947) § 14. All applications for pardons on behalf of any person or persons convicted in any court of this Territory, of any crime punishable under the laws thereof by imprisonment in the Territorial prison, and sentenced to such imprisonment, shall be made and conducted in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

Method of making application for pardon.

(5948) § 15. Notice of the application for such pardon shall be given to the judge who presided at the trial, or his successor in office, and to the district attorney, or his successor in office, of the district, who prosecuted the indictment against such person or persons so convicted and sentenced, at least thirty days before such application shall be filed with the Governor; the service of such notice upon the judge and district attorney aforesaid, shall be made and return thereof certified in the same manner as now provided for the service of summons in the district court, and such certificate of service shall accompany every such application to the Governor; a notice of such application, setting forth the name of the person or persons on whose behalf it is made, the crime of which he shall have been convicted, the time of such conviction and the term of imprisonment, shall also be published at least once each week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where the offense for which pardon is sought was committed; or if there be no newspaper published therein, then such notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place on the door of the court house of such county for four successive weeks prior to the application; the affidavit of the publisher of such paper or the person posting such notice, shall also accompany such application showing that such notice has been published or posted as herein provided.

Contest of application

(5949) § 16. Any person or persons feeling aggrieved by the application for any pardon may contest the same, and for that purpose may appear in person before the Governor during the consideration of said application, and show cause by written or oral testimony why such pardon should not be granted.

Governor may make additional rules.

(5950) § 17 The Governor may in his discretion make such additional rules and regulations governing applications for pardons as may from time to time seem to him best, not in conflict with the provisions of this act; but the provisions of this act shall not apply to the applications for pardon to be granted within thirty days before the time when the convict would otherwise be legally entitled to discharge.

Papers filed with the Secretary of the Territory

(5951) § 18. When the Governor grants a reprieve, commutation or pardon, he must, within ten days thereafter, file all the papers presented to him in relation thereto, in the office of the Secretary of the Territory, by whom they must be kept as records, open to public inspection.

County to employ counsel for indigent defendant

(5952) § 1. In all criminal cases triable in the Territory of Oklahoma, where it is satisfactorily shown to the court that the defendant has no means, and is unable to employ a counsel, the court shall, in all such cases, where counsel is appointed and assigned for defense, allow and direct to be paid by the county in which such trial is had, a reasonable and just compensation to the attorney or attorneys so assigned for such services as they may render: Provided, however, That such attorney or attorneys shall not be paid a sum to exceed twenty-five dollars in any one case.

Misdemeanor may be compromised, when.

(5953) § 2. When a defendant is held to answer on a charge of misdemeanor, for which the person by the act constituting the offense has a remedy by a civil action, the offense may be compromised as provided in the next section, except when it was committed:

First. By or upon an officer of justice while in the execution of the duties of his office.

Second. Riotously; or,

Third. With an intent to commit a felony.

Stay of proceedings in such case.

(5954) § 3. If the party injured appear before the court to which the deposition and statement are required to be returned at any time before trial, on an indictment for the offense, and acknowledge in writing that he has received satisfaction for the injury, the court may, in its discretion, on payment of the costs incurred, order all proceedings to be stayed upon the prosecution, and the defendant to be discharged therefrom. But in that case the reasons for the order must be set forth therein and entered upon the minutes.

Such a stay is a bar.

(5955) § 4. The order authorized by the last section is a bar to another prosecution for the same offense.

No public offense compromised except as provided.

(5956) § 5. No public offense can be compromised, nor can any proceedings for the prosecution or punishment thereof, upon a compromise, be stayed, except as provided in sections 5953 and 5954.

Summons for corporation.

(5957) § 6. Upon an information against the corporation, the magistrate may issue a summons signed by him, with his name of office, requiring the corporation to appear before him at a specified time and place to answer the charge. The time to be not less than ten days after the issuing of the summons.

Form of such summons.

(5958) § 7. The summons must be in substantially the following form:

County of.....

In the name of the Territory of Oklahoma.

To the (naming the corporation):

You are hereby summoned to appear before me at (naming the place), on (specifying the day and hour), to answer to the charge made against you, upon the information of A. B., or the presentment of the grand jury of the county of..... for (designating the offense generally).

Dated at the city, or town, of....., the..... day of..... .....18....

G..... H.....

Justice of the peace (as the case may be.)

When and how served

(5959) § 8. The summons must be served at least five days before the day of appearance fixed therein, by delivering a copy thereof and showing the original to the president, or other head of the corporation, or to the secretary, cashier or managing agent thereof.

Examination of charge

(5960) § 9. At the time appointed in the summons, the magistrate must investigate the charge in the same manner as in the case of a natural person brought before him, so far as those proceedings are applicable.

Certificate of magistrate.

(5961) § 10. After hearing the proofs the magistrate must certify upon the depositions, either that there is or is not sufficient cause to believe the corporation guilty of the offence charged, and must return the depositions and certificate in the same manner prescribed by the law on preliminary examinations.

Grand jury may proceed for indictment.

(5962) § 11. If the magistrate return a certificate that there is sufficient cause to believe the corporation guilty of the offense charged, the grand jury may proceed thereon, as in the case of a natural person held to answer.

Appearance and plea.

(5963) § 12. If an indictment be found, the corporation may appear by counsel to answer the same. If they do not thus appear, a plea of not guilty must be entered, and the same proceedings had thereon as in other cases.

Fine collected, how

(5964) § 13. When a fine is imposed upon a corporation, on conviction it may be collected, by virtue of the order imposing it, by the sheriff of the county, out of their real and personal property, in the same manner as upon an execution.

Affidavits need not be entitled.

(5965) § 14. It is not necessary to entitle an affidavit, or deposition in the action, whether taken before or after indictment, or upon a writ of error; but if made without a title, or with an erroneous title, it is as valid and effectual for every purpose as if it were duly entitled, if it intelligibly refer to the proceeding, indictment or writ of error in which it is made.

Informalities in pleadings, not fatal

(5966) § 15 Neither a departure from the form or mode prescribed in this chapter in respect to any pleadings or proceeding, nor an error or mistake therein, renders it invalid, unless it has actually prejudiced the defendant or tended to his prejudice, in respect to a substantial right.

Stolen property to be held by officer

(5967) § 16. When property alleged to have been stolen or embezzled, comes into the custody of a peace officer, he must hold it subject to the order of the magistrate authorized by the next section to direct the disposal thereof.

Magistrate to give order for delivery.

(5968) § 17. On satisfactory proof of the title of the owner of the property, the magistrate before whom the information is laid, or who examines the charge against the person accused of stealing or embezzling the property, may order it to be delivered to the owner on his paying the reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, to be certified by the magistrate. The order entitles the owner to demand and receive the property.

Magistrate must deliver property on proof

(5969) § 18. If the property stolen or embezzled come into the custody of a magistrate, it must be delivered to the owner on satisfactory proof of his title, and on his paying the necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, to be certified by the magistrate.

Court may deliver by order

(5970) § 19. If property stolen or embezzled have not been delieved to the owner, the court before which a trial is had for stealing or embezzling it, may, on proof of his title, order it to be restored to the owner.

If property not claimed in six months

(5971) § 20. If property stolen or embezzled be not claimed by the owner before the expiration of six month from the conviction of a person stealing or embezzling it, the magistrate or other officer having it in his custody must on payment of the necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, deliver it to the county commissioners to be paid into the county treasury.

Receipt given to defendant and clerk.

(5972) § 21. When money or other property is taken from a defendant arrested upon a charge of public offense, the officer taking it must at the time give duplicate receipts therefor, specifying particularly the amount of money or the kind of property taken. One of which receipts he must deliver to the defendant, and the other of which he must file with the clerk of the court to which the depositions and statement must be sent, as provided in the last section of the chapter on preliminary examinations. Chap. 73.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Justice as committing magistrate

(5973) § 1. The criminal procedure relating to the jurisdiction and duties of justice of the peace as committing magistrates; direct the mode of proceeding, when an information, verified by oath, is laid before them of the commission of a public offense triable on indictment.

Security to keep the peace.

(5974) § 2. The same procedure relates to their jurisdiction and duties in cases of securities to keep the peace.

Sworn complaint made.

(5975) § 3. All proceedings and actions before a justice court, for a public offense of which such court has jurisdiction, to try and determine the same, must be commenced by complaint under oath setting forth the offense charged, with such particulars of time, place, person, and property, as to enable the defendant to understand distinctly the character of the offense complained of, and to answer the complaint. The complaint, if found insufficient, may be amended to any extent to conform to the facts proven. If it be made to appear to the court that the defendant, by reason of such amendments, cannot safely proceed with the trial, he shall be allowed time sufficient to prepare his defense to the information as amended, and for that purpose the cause may be continued.

Warrant, form of.

(5976) § 4. If the justice of the peace is satisfied therefrom that the offense complained of has been committed, he must issue a warrant of arrest, which must be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA, } ss.
COUNTY OF..... }

To any sheriff or constable of said county:

Complaint upon oath having been this day made before me.... by C. D., that the offense of (designating it generally,) has been committed, and accusing E. F., thereof, you are therefore commanded forthwith to arrest the above named E. F., and bring him before me forthwith, at (naming the place,)

Witness my hand at.....,this.....day of.....A. D.....

A. B.

Warrant served in another county.

(5977) § 5. The warrant may be served in any other county in the manner prescribed by criminal procedure relating to justices of the peace.

Criminal docket

(5978) § 6. A docket must be kept by the justice of the peace, in which must be entered each action, and the proceedings of the court therein.

Defendant to plead, how.

(5979) § 7. The defendant may make the same plea as upon an indictment. His plea must be oral, and entered in the minutes. If the defendant plead guilty the court may, before entering such plea or pronouncing judgment, examine witnesses to ascertain the gravity of the offense committed; and if it appears to the court that a higher offense has been committed than the offense charged in the complaint, the court may order the defendant to be committed or admitted to bail, to answer any indictment which may be found against him by the grand jury.

Case to be tried, when.

(5980) § 8. Upon a plea other than a plea of guilty, if neither the Territory nor the defendant demand a trial by jury, or an adjournment or change of venue is not granted, the court must proceed to try the case.

Change of venue.

(5981) § 9. In criminal proceedings before a justice of the peace, a change of the place of trial or examination may be had at any time before such trial or examination commences, when it appears from the affidavit of the defendant that he has reason to believe and does believe that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial or examination before the justice about to try or examine such case by reason of the bias or prejudice of such justice; whereupon the attorney for the Territory may object to a justice to whom it is to be sent as provided for in changes of place of trial in civil cases, and thereupon the case shall be transferred to the next nearest justice of the same county unless the parties otherwise agree: Provided, That a change of the place of trial or examination under the provisions of this section can be had but once.

Proceedings upon change of venue.

(5982) § 10. When a change of the place of trial is ordered the justice must transmit to the justice before whom the trial is to be had all the original papers in the cause, with a certified copy of the minutes of his proceedings; and upon receipt thereof, the justice to whom they are delivered must proceed with the trial in the same manner as if the proceeding or action had been originally commenced in his court.

Postponement of trial

(5983) § 11. Before the commencement of the trial either party may, upon good cause shown, have a reasonable postponement thereof.

Defendant's presence.

(5984) § 12. The defendant must be personally present before the trial can proceed.

Trial by jury.

(5985) § 13. Before the court hears any testimony upon the trial either party may demand a jury. The formation of the jury is provided for in chapter 71, article 10.

Challenges

(5986) § 14. The same challenges may be taken by either party to any individual juror, as on the trial of an indictment for a misdemeanor; but the challenge must, in all cases, be tried by the court.

Oath to jury.

(5987) § 15. The court must administer to the jury the following oath:

You do swear that you will well and truly try this issue between the Territory of Oklahoma and A. B, the defendant, and a true verdict render according to the evidence. So help you God

Any juror who is conscientiously scrupulous of taking an oath, shall be allowed to make affirmation, substituting for the words "so help you God," at the end of the oath, the words, "this you do affirm under the pains and penalties of perjury."

Duty of the jury.

(5988) § 16. After the jury are sworn they must sit together and hear the proofs and allegations of the parties, which must be delivered in public and in the presence of the defendant.

Court decides the law but gives no charge.

(5989) § 17. The court must decide all questions of law which may arise in the course of the trial, but can give no charge with respect to matters of fact.

Jury in consultation, officers sworn.

(5990) § 18. After hearing the proofs and allegations, the jury may decide in court, or may retire for consideration. If they do not immediately agree, an officer must be sworn to the following effect:

You do swear that you will keep this jury together in some quiet and convenient place; that you will not permit any person to speak to them, nor speak to them yourself, unless by order of the court, or to ask them whether they have agreed upon a verdict. and that you willl return them into court when they have so agreed, or when ordered by the court.

Verdict of the jury.

(5991) § 19. The verdict of the jury must, in all cases, be general. When the jury have agreed on their verdict, they must deliver it publicly to the court, who must enter or cause it to be entered in the docket.

Verdict as regards part of defendants when several (5992) § 20. When several defendants are tried together, if the jury cannot agree npon a verdict as to all, they may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom they do agree, on which a judgment must be entered accordingly, and the case as to the rest may be tried by another jury.

Jury discharged, when.

(5993) § 21. The jury cannot be discharged after the cause is submitted to them until they have agreed upon and rendered their verdict, unless for good cause the court sooner discharges them.

New trial.

(5994) § 22. If the jury is discharged, as provided in the last section, the court may proceed again to the trial, in the same manner as upon the first trial, and so on until a verdict is rendered.

Judgment when guilty.

(5995) § 23. When the defendant pleads guilty, or is convicted, either by the court or by a jury, the court must render judgment thereon, of fine or imprisonment, or both, as the case may be.

Fine and imprisonment.

(5996) § 24. A judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied, in the proportion of one day's imprisonment for every two dollars of the fine.

Acquittal and discharge, prosecutor to pay costs, when.

(5997) § 25. When the defendant is acquitted, either by the court or by the jury, he must be immediately discharged; and if the court certify in the minutes that the prosecution was malicious or without probable cause, it may order the prosecutor to pay the costs of the action, or to give satisfactory security, by a written undertaking, with one or more sureties, to pay the same within thirty days after the trial.

Judgment must be entered at once.

(5998) § 26. At the close of the trial, judgment must be immediately rendered by the justice, and entered in his docket.

Defendant discharged at once on acquittal

(5999) § 27. If judgment of acquittal is given, and the defendant is not detained for any other legal cause, he must be discharged as soon as the judgment is given.

Certified copy of judgment of imprisonment.

(6000) § 28. When a judgment of imprisonment is entered, a certified copy thereof must be delivered to the sheriff, or other officer, which is a sufficient warrant for its execution.

Custody until fine is paid.

(6001) § 29. When a judgment is entered imposing a fine, or ordering the defendant to be imprisoned until the fine is paid, he must be held in custody during the time specified in the judgment, unless the fine is sooner paid.

Fines must be paid over to treasurer.

(6002) § 30. Upon the payment of the fine to the justice, the officer must discharge the defendant, if he is not detained for any other legal cause, and apply the money to the payment of the expenses of the prosecution, and pay over the residue, if any, within ten days, to the county treasurer, which shall be placed in and become a part of the general county fund. If a fine is imposed and paid before commitment, it must be applied as prescribed in this section.

Bail allowed before conviction.

(6003) § 31 The defendant, at any time after his arrest and before conviction, may be admitted to bail, by giving an undertaking, with sufficient surety, in an amount to be fixed by the justice, for his appearence before the justice to answer the complaint.

Subpoenas, contempt.

(6004) § 32. In all criminal proceedings, the justice may issue subpœnas for witnesses, and punish for contempts, as provided for in article 13 of chapter 71.

ARTICLE 2.—APPEALS IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

SECTION.
1. Right to appeal in criminal cases, oral notice.
2. Appeal as in civil cases.
3. Bail on appeal.
4. Bail taken by any magistrate.
5. Witnesses may be bound to appear.
6. Proceedings on appeal, record and papers.
7. No appeal in criminal cases shall be dismissed.

Right to appeal in criminal cases, oral notice.

(6005) § 1. The justice immediately on rendering judgment against the defendant, must inform him of his right to appeal therefrom, and the defendant may thereupon take an appeal to the district court of the county in which the trial was had, by giving notice orally to the justice that he appeals, and the justice must make an entry on his docket of the giving of such notice, and upon such appeal the action may be tried anew in the district court upon questions of law and fact, or fact alone, or the appeal may be determined therein upon questions of law alone, and the judgment may be set aside, affirmed or modified, or a new trial granted as provided for in chapter 71.

Appeal as in civil cases

(6006) § 2. Instead of such appeal, the defendant may at any time within thirty days after judgment, appeal to such district court in the same manner, and such appeal may be determined as provided for in chapter 71.

Bail on appeal.

(6007) § 3. Upon an appeal the justice must enter an order on his docket, fixing the amount in which bail may be given by the defendant, and the execution of the judgment shall not be stayed unless he enter into an undertaking in the amount fixed with sufficient surety to be approved by the justice to appear and answer at the next term of the district court, and not depart without leave of the same.

Bail taken by any magistrate.

(6008) § 4. The bail may be taken by the justice who rendered the judgment, or by any magistrate in the county who has authority to admit to bail, or by the district court or the clerk thereof.

Witnesses may be bound to appear.

(6009) § 5. When an appeal is taken, the justice must, if application be made by the district attorney, cause all material witnesses on behalf of the prosecution to enter into an undertaking in like manner as in a case where a defendant is held to answer on a preliminary examination for an indictable offense

Proceedings on appeal, record and papers transmitted.

(6010) § 6. Upon an appeal being taken, the justice must, within five days. transmit to the clerk of the district court, if the appeal be upon questions of law alone, a certified copy of his docket, the statement as admitted or as settled, the notice of appeal, if any, and the undertaking of bail; or, if the appeal be on questions of fact, or both law and fact, a certified copy of his docket, the pleadings, all notices, motions and other papers filed in the cause, the notice of appeal, if any, and the undertakings filed, and the justice may be compelled by the district court, by an order entered upon motion, to transmit such papers, and, if the return be defective to make further return and may be fined for neglect or refusal to transmit the same. A certified copy of such order may be served on the justice by the party or his attorney. In the district court either party may have the benefit of all legal objections made in the justice's court.

No appeal in criminal cases shall be dismissed.

(6011) § 7. No appeal from the judgment of a justice of the peace in criminal proceedings shall be dismissed. All proceedings necessary to carry the judgment upon appeal into effect shall be had in the district court: Provided, however, That when a new trial is granted the case must be remanded and a new trial had in the justice's court.

AN ACT to Provide for the Distribution of the Money Appropriated by Congress for the Relief of Persons in Oklahoma Territory Rendered Destitute by the Unexampled Drouth of the present Season, and other Donations or Aid from any sources

[Took effect September 14, 1890.]

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Secretary to receive money

(6112) § 1. That the Secretary of the Territory of Oklahoma be and he is hereby authorized to receive from the Treasury of the United States, the money appropriated by a joint resolution of Congress for the relief of persons in Oklahoma Territory rendered destitute by the unexampled drouth of the present season, approved September, 1890, and all other donations or aid from any source, and to execute proper vouchers for the same.

Duties of board of relief

(6113) § 2. The Governor shall appoint, with the advice and consent of the Council, a commission consisting of three persons, who shall constitute a Territorial "Board of Relief." One from each of the three political parties in the Territory, whose duty it shall be to ascertain and make a record of all cases of destitution in the Territory, to purchase and distribute such supplies as are necessary to afford relief in the same, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Distribution of aid.

(6114) § 3. The fund so appropriated by Congress, and other donations or aid, shall be distributed among the counties of the Territory of Oklahoma in proportion to their respective population as shown by the census taken under the direction of the Governor; but such ratio of distribution may be changed by the "Territorial Board" herein provided for, on full reports made to them by the county distributing committees, which reports shall be based upon reports made to them by the various wards, villages and townships. It is hereby made the duty of said township and county commissions to so report on request of the Territorial board of relief.

County board of relief

(6115) § 4. For the purpose of creating county boards in each county the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, shall appoint three persons from each county in Oklahoma Territory, and no more than one of the same board shall belong to the same political party. The Governor shall be and is hereby authorized to remove any one or more of the persons so appointed for any failure to properly discharge the duties incumbent upon them under the provisions of this act, and by and with the advice and consent of the Council, may fill any vacancy which may occur by such removal or otherwise, if the Legislature be in session, and if not in session the Governor alone may fill such vacancy. It shall be the duty of each county board on the last day of each month to make a full and complete report to the "Territorial Board" of all supplies received and distributed by them.

Classes of boards.

(6116) § 5. The respective boards created by the preceeding section of this act, in each county of this Territory are hereby empowered to appoint three discreet persons who are resident property holders, from each ward of the various cities and villages, from each village and from each Congressional township or fraction thereof, in Oklahoma Territory, whose duties shall be as hereinafter provided, and shall have the power to fill all vacancies which may occur.

Purchase of supplies.

(6117) § 6. The "Territorial Board of Relief" shall from time to time, as the necessities of the destitute people may demand, and as the conditions of said fund will permit, contract at the lowest possible rates for the plain and ordinary necessities of life, which shall consist of flour, bacon, meal, beans and salt in suitable quantities, which contracts shall be in writing, plainly specifying the kind, grade, quantity and the price of each article, and shall designate the place where said goods are to be delivered and shall be signed by at least two of the commission above named, and also by the party contracting to supply the said goods, and shall be filed with the Secretary of the Territory and preserved in his office subject to inspection at all reasonable hours.

Supplies for sick.

(6118) § 7. The "Territorial Board of Relief" may in like manner contract for the purchase of a proper quantity of supplies suitable to the care and sustenance of the sick.

Distributing points.

(6119) § 8. The goods so contracted for, shall for Payne county be shipped to Stillwater and Perkins, via Guthrie or Wharton, as the "county board" may designate; for Logan county, to Guthrie; for Oklahoma county, to Oklahoma City and Edmond; for Cleveland county, to Norman; for Canadian county, to Frisco, via El Reno; for Kingfisher county, to Kingfisher and Henessey; for Beaver county, to Buffalo and Beaver; and shall be consigned to the commissioners provided for in section 4 of this act.

Contracting powers of board.

(6120) § 9. The Territorial board of relief provided for in section 2 of this act shall have the authority to contract for and fix the rate for all necessary freight and storage of the goods purchased from the point of purchase to the point of destination. The county board provided for in section 4 of this act shall have authority to rent buildings in which to store the supplies shipped to them and from which to distribute them. The freight and storage of such goods from the point of purchase to the point of destination shall be paid by the Secretary of the Territory out of the relief fund, on the order of "The Territorial board of relief, and the rent of buildings at the points of distribution, shall be paid by the Secretary of the Territory out of the relief fund on the order of the county board, and in both cases the Secretary of the Territory shall hold such orders, and the receipts from the persons to whom the orders are given for the money shall be vouchers in the hands of the Secretary for the money so paid out.

Discretionary powers of commissioners,

(6121) § 10. The commissioners provided for in section 4 of this act, shall receive the goods shipped to the respective counties, and shall send a receipt therefor to the Secretary and shall safely keep the goods and deliver them to the parties holding orders therefor, as hereinafter provided; but if any one of said commissioners, provided for in section 4, has good reason to believe that any of said orders are not in good faith, or that the holder of said order is not a fit subject of charity, they shall refuse to fill the same, or if there be not goods sufficient to fill the orders issued, they may fill them in part only to the end that there may be a fair distribution of said goods.

Preferred claimants.

(6122) § 11. The three persons named in their respective townships, villages and wards shall see to the condition and situation of persons claimed to be destitute and shall give to such persons, who were lawful residents of Oklahoma, on the first day of August 1890, an order to the commission named in section 4 of this act, for goods, which order shall show the ward, village or township in which the one receiving it resides and which said commission may fill as hereinafter provided, and on issuing these orders children, widows and sick persons shall always be preferred. Next in order, men lawful residents who are heads of families shall be preferred according to the conditions of their respective families. ARTICLE 1.—PROPERTY SUBJECT TO TAXATION.

SECTION.
1. General classes.
2. Property exempt from taxation.
3. Property subject to taxation.

General classes.

(6128) § 1. All property, whether real or personal, all moneys, credits, investments in bonds, stocks owned by joint stock companies or otherwise, of persons residing in this Territory, the property of corporations now existing or hereafter created, and the property of all banks or banking companies, now existing or hereafter created, and of all bankers, except such property as is hereinafter expressly exempted, shall be subject to taxation, and such property, moneys, credits, investments, in bonds, stocks, joint stock companies or otherwise, or the value thereof, shall be entered on the list of taxable property for that purpose in the manner prescribed by this act.

Property exempt from taxation.

(6129) § 2. The following classes of property shall be exempt from taxation, and may be omitted from the list herein required to be given:

First. The property of the United States and of this Territory, including school lands.

Second. The property of a county, incorporated city or village, or school district, when devoted to public use and not held or used for pecuniary profit.

Third. Public grounds, by whomsoever devoted to the public use and including all places set apart for the burial of the dead, except such as are held by any person, company or corporation with a view to profit or for the purpose of speculation in the sale thereof.

Fourth. The engine and implements used for the extinguishing of fires with the grounds used exclusively for their buildings and for the meetings of fire companies,

Fifth. The grounds and buildings of library, scientific, educational, benevolent and religious institutions, colleges or societies, devoted solely to the appropriate objects of these institutions, not exceeding ten acres in extent, and not leased or otherwise used with a view to pecuniary profit.

Sixth. The books, papers, furniture, scientific or other apparatus pertaining to the above institutions and used solely for the purpose above contemplated, and the like property of students in any such institutions used for the purpose of their education.

Seventh. Moneys and credits belonging exclusively to educational institutions and devoted solely to sustaining them, but not to exceed in amount of total valuation, aside from the property of students as above mentioned, the sum prescribed in their charter or act of incorporation.

Eighth. Family portraits.

Ninth. All food and fuel provided in kind for the use of the family not to exceed provisions for one year's time: Provided, That no person for whom a compensation for board or lodging is received or expected shall be considered a member of the family within the intent and meaning of this act.

Tenth. All pensions from the United States or from any of the states of the Union, until paid into the hands of the pensioners.

Eleventh. Sixteenth. All other property not specially enumerated in this section by its actual cash value, except such as is specially exempted by section two of this chapter.

List may be extended.

(6132) § 2. The above list of items may be extended at the discretion of the Territorial Auditor, Treasurer and Attorney General, or board of county county commissioners, so as to obtain such facts as they may deem desirable.

Assessment to begin when.

(6133) § 3. The assessor shall in no case commence assessing before the first Monday of February of each year.

Taxable property must be listed

(6134) § 4. All taxable property, real andpersonal, shall be listed and assessed each year in the name of the owner thereof, as soon as practicable on or after the first Monday in February, including all property owned on the first day of January of that year, and in case of stocks of goods, wares and merchandise, and the personal property of banks and banking institutions, including money loans, discounts and credits, the statement shall include the average amount of the same for the preceding year ending on January first And in order to make the assessment, such assessor shall demand from each person and firm and from the president, cashier, treasurer or managing agent of each corporation, association or company within his county, a statement under oath or affirmation of all the real estate within the county, and personal property owned by, claimed, or in the use, possession or control of such person, firm, corporation, association or company, whether held by the party sworn, for himself or as agent for another, and shall set out in such sworn statement an itemized account of all classes of property, by this act defined as subject to assessment, by him so held or controlled. If any person, firm, officer or agent shall neglect or refuse, on demand of the assessor, to give under oath or affirmation the statement required by this section, the assessor shall ascertain and estimate from the best information he can obtain, the number, amount and cash value of all the several species of property required, and shall list the same accordingly, and the value so fixed by the assessor, shall not be reduced by the county board of equalization.

(6135) § 5. If the owner of any property not listed by another person shall be absent or unknown to the assessor, he shall ascertain and estimate the value thereof, and if the name of such owner be known to the assessor the property shall be assessed in his, her or their name; if unknown to the assessor, the property shall be assessed to "unknown owners." The list shall be signed and sworn to by the person making it, and the oath thereto may be administered by the assessor or his deputy, or by any other officer authorized to administer oaths, and shall be certified by him, and the oath may be printed upon the blank form and shall be in substance as follows:

Property of unknown owners; oath

I, A B, do solemnly swear, (or affirm) that I have listed above and within, all the lands, town and city lots, personal property, money and credits subject by law to taxation and owned, used, possessed or controlled by me, or by law required to be listed by me for any other person or persons as guardian, husband, parent, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, accounting officer, partner, factor, bailee or agent, according to the best of my knowledge.

(6136) § 6. In case any person required to render the list under oath fail or refuse to do so, the assessor in order to perform his duty as required in section 6131, shall list the property of such person and as a penalty shall add fifty per cent to the actual value thereof and he may examine on oath any person whom he supposes to have knowledge in relation to the property required to be listed; and if any such person refuse to testify when so required, he shall forfeit the sum of five dollars, to be recovered in civil action in the name and to the use of the proper county; and the assessor shall make a minute of the names of persons refusing to swear to such list or to testify in relation to property, and shall note the same on the list and return the same to the board of county commissioners

Assessor may require oath of owner or other person, penalty for refusal.

(6137) § 7. The said statements of persons refusing to swear shall be indorsed with the name of the person whose property is therein listed, and the assessors shall file them in alphabetical order, and return them to the office of the county clerk by the first Monday of May next ensuing, at which time or before he shall also prepare and deliver his assessment roll. All property is to be valued to the assessor, by the person whose duty it is to list the same, but the assessor may assess a different value on the property so listed if he is satisfied that the value so given is not correct; and the assessor shall seek to have assessed the same classes of property at a uniform value throughout the county.

List of refusals

(6138) § 8. The assessor shall take and subscribe an oath to be certified by the officer administering it, and attach it to the assessment roll, which oath is to be in substance as follows:

Assessor's oath to assessment roll

I, A. B., county or township assessor, in and for..... county, Oklahoma Territory, do solemnly swear or affirm, that the value of all property, moneys and credits, of which a statement has been made and verified by the oath of the person required to list the same. is hereby truly returned as set forth in such statement; that in every case where I have been required to ascertain the amount of value of the property of any person or body corporate, I have diligently and to the best means in my power endeavored to ascertain the true amount and value; and that, as I verily believe, the full value thereof is set forth in the above returns. And that in no case have I knowingly omitted to demand of any person of whom I was required to make it, a statement of the amount and value of his property which he was required by law to list, nor have I connived at any violation or evasion of any of the requirements of the law in relation to the assessment of property for taxation.

False list, perjury

(6139) § 9. If any person shall wilfully make or give under oath or affirmation a false list of his, her, or their taxable property, or a false list of the taxable property in the use or possession or under the control of him, her or them, and required by law to be listed by him, her or them, or place a false value thereon, such person shall be deemed guilty of perjury and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished therefor as is by law provided for the punishment of perjury.

Definition of the term "credits"

(6140) § 10. The term "credits" as used in this act, includes every claim and demand for money, labor or other valuable thing; and every annuity or sum of money receivable at stated periods, and all moneys in property of any kind and secured by deed, mortgage or otherwise; but unpaid pensions from the United States or any state are not included in the above terms.

Who to list property

(6141) § 11. Every inhabitant of this Territory, of full age and sound mind, unless excepted by the provisions of this act, shall list all property subject to taxation in this Territory of which he is the owner or has the control or management in the manner herein directed, but the property of a ward is to be listed by his guardian; of a minor having no other guardian, by his father if living, if not, then by his mother if living, if not, then by the person having the property in charge; of a married woman. by her husband, but if he be unable or refuse, then by herself; of a beneficiary for whom property is held in trust, by the trustee, and the personal property of a decedent, by the executor, administrator or heirs; of a body corporate, company, society or partnership, by the principal accounting officer, agent or partner; property under mortgage, or leased to be listed by and taxed to the mortgagor or lessor, unless to be listed by the mortgagee or lessee.

Commission merchants

(6142) § 12. Commission merchants and all persons trading or dealing on commission, and consignees authorized to sell, when the owner of the goods does not reside in this Territory, are for the purpose of taxation required to list all the property in their possession.

When property listed

(6143) § 13. All personal property is to be listed, assessed and taxed in the county where said property may be situated and kept, on the first day of January, and if the owner, his agent or person having in charge such property neglect to list it, he will be subject to the penalty hereinafter provided.

(6144) § 14. When any personal property is situated and kept in any unorganized county of this Territory then such property shall be subject to taxation in the organized county to which it is attached for judicial purposes, and shall be listed and assessed by the assessor of said organized county, and the taxes collected therein.

Same in unorganized counties.

(6145) § 15. If any assessor or county commissioner shall enter into any contract, agreement or understanding with the owner or his agent of any personal property, whereby and pursuant to which such property is to be assessed at less than its cash value, in consideration that the owner or owners of such property shall remove or cause to be removed said property for the purpose of taxation into the county of said assessor or commissioner, such assessor or commissioner and the owner of such property and all persons aiding or abetting such corrupt transaction and agreement shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars and by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than three months nor more than six months.

Assessment at less than cash value a misdemeanor.

(6146) § 16. A person required to list property in behalf of another shall list in the same county or township in which he would be required to list it if it were his own, except as herein otherwise directed. But he must list it separate from his own, naming the person to whom it belongs. But the undivided property of a person deceased, belonging to his heirs, may be listed as belonging to such heirs without enumerating them.

List in behalf of another.

(6147) § 17. When a person is doing business in more than one county, the property and credits existing in any one of the counties are to be listed and taxed in that county; and credits not existing in nor pertaining especially to the business in any one county are to be listed and taxed in that county where his principal place of business may be. Each individual of a partnership is liable for the taxes due from the firm.

Persons doing business in more than one county.

(6148) § 18. Depreciated bank notes and depreciated stocks or shares in corporations or companies may be listed at their current value and rate, credits shall be listed at such sums as the person listing them believes will be received or can be collected, and annuities at the value which the person listing believes them to be worth in money.

Depreciated notes and stocks, how listed.

(6149) § 19. That shares of stock in all national banks in this Territory, held by any person or persons, shall be assessed at their par value, and the owner or owners thereof shall be required to pay taxes thereon, the same as though they were shares in banks chartered and incorporated by the laws of the Territory, or by the laws of any state or territory of the United States: And provided, That for the purpose of taxation no discrimination shall be made between any national bank and any other bank doing business in this Territory under the laws thereof.

National bank stock assessed at par.

(6150) § 20. The stock-holders in every bank located within this Territory, whether such bank has been organized under the banking laws of this Territory or any other territory or state, or of the United States, shall be assessed and taxed on the value of their shares of stock therein in the county, town, district, village or city, where such bank or banking association is located, and not elsewhere, whether such stock-holder reside in such place or not. Such shares shall be listed and assessed with regard to the ownership and value thereof as they existed on the first day of January annually, subject however, to the restriction that taxation of such shares shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon any other monied capital in the hands of individual citizens of this Territory, in the county, town, district, village or city where such bank is located. The shares of capital stock of national banks not located in this Territory, held in this Territory shall not be required to be listed under the provisions of this act.

List of stockholders to be kept, etc

(6151) § 21. In each such bank there shall be kept at all times a full and correct list of the names and residences of its stockholders, and of the number of shares held by each; which list shall be subject to the inspection of the officers authorized to assess property for taxation; and it shall be the duty of the assessor to ascertain a correct list of the names and residences of all stockholders in any such bank, with the number and assessed value of all such shares held by each stock-holder and enter the same on his tax-list. The assessor shall enter the valuation of such shares in the tax-lists in the names of the respective owners of the same.

How tax on shares collected, lien.

(6152) § 22. The officer or officers authorized to receive taxes, may all or either of them, have an action to collect the tax assessed on any share or shares of bank stock from the avails of the sale of such share or shares, and the tax against such share or shares shall be and remain a lien thereon from January first in each year until the payment of said tax.

Dividends to be held for taxes, shares sold when (6153) § 23. For the purpose of collecting such taxes it shall be the duty of every such bank, or the managing officer or officers thereof, to retain so much of every dividend or dividends belonging to such stockholders as shall be necessary to pay any taxes levied upon their shares of stock respectively until it shall be made to appear to such bank or its officers, that such taxes have been paid; and any officer of any such bank who shall pay over or authorize paying over of any such dividend or dividends or any portion thereof, contrary to the provisions of this section, shall thereby become liable for such tax; and if the said tax shall not be paid, the collector of taxes where said bank is located, shall sell said share or shares to pay the same like other personal property, and in case of sale, the provisions of law in regard to the transfer of stock when sold on execution shall apply to such sale,

In arriving at the value of the property so to be assessed, the assessor shall consider the the report made by the company as in this act provided, and shall then view and assess the property at the fair cash value thereof, whether that be higher or lower than the value shown in such report. Such assessments shall be subject to review before the board of equalization as in other cases.

Rolling stock held to be personal property, schedule.

(6159) § 6. The movable property belonging to a railroad company shall be held to be personal property and denominated, for the purpose of taxation "rolling stock." Every person, company or corporation owning, constructing or operating a railroad in this Territory, shall in the month of January annually, return a list or schedule, which shall contain a correct detailed inventory of all the rolling stock belonging to or leased by such company, and which shall distinctly set forth the number of locomotives of all classes, passengers cars of all classes, sleeping and dining cars, express cars, baggage cars, house cars, cattle cars, coal cars, platform cars, wrecking cars, pay cars, hand cars and all other kinds of cars.

How listed and taxed

(6160) § 7. The rolling stock shall be listed and taxed in the several counties, towns, villages, districts and cities in the proportion that the length of the main track used or operated in such county, town, village, district, or city bears to the whole length of the road used or operated by such person, company or corporation, whether owned or leased by him or them in whole or in part. Said list or schedule shall set forth the number of miles of main track on which said rolling stock is used in the Territory of Oklahoma, and the number of miles of main track on which said rolling stock is used elsewhere.

Tools, materials, etc., when listed

(6161) § 8. The tools and materials for repairs and all other personal property of any railroad, except rolling stock, shall be listed and assessed in the county, town, village, district, or city wherever the same may be on the first day of January. All real estate, including the stations and other buildings and structures thereon, other than that denominated "railroad track" belonging to any railroad shall be listed as lands or lots, as the case may be, in the county, town, village, district or city where the same are located.

How other personalty and realty to be assessed.

(6162) § 9. The county clerk shall return to the assessor, a copy of the schedule or list of the real estate, including railroad track, and of the personal property, except rolling stock pertaining to the railroad; and such real estate and personal property shall be assessed by the assessor. Such property shall be treated in all respects, in regard to assessment and equalization, the same as other similar property belonging to individuals, except that it shall be treated as property belonging to railroads, under the terms "lands," "lots" and personal property.

Return to auditor

(6163) § 10. At the same time that the lists or schedules are hereinbefore required to be returned to the county clerk, the person, company or corporation running, operating or constructing any railroad in this Territory shall return to the Auditor of of public accounts, sworn statements or schedules as follows:

First. Of the property denominated "railroad track," giving the length of the main and side or second tracks and turnouts, and showing the proportions in each county, and the total in the Territory.

Second. The rolling stock, giving the length of the main track in each county, the total in this Territory, and the entire length of the road.

Third. A statement or schedule showing:

First. The amount of capital stock authorized, and the number of shares into which such capital stock is divided

Second. The amount of capital paid up.

Third. The market value, or if no market value, then the actual value of the shares of stock.

Fourth. The total amount of all indebtedness, except for current expenses for operating the road.

Fifth. The total listed valuation of all its tangible property in this Territory.

Such schedule shall be made in conformity to such instructions and forms as may be prescribed by the Auditor of public accounts.

Neglect to return.

(6164) § 11. If any person, company or corporation, owning operating or constructing any railroad, shall neglect to return to the county clerks, the statements or schedules required to be returned to them, the property so to be returned and assessed by the assessor shall be listed and assessed as other property. In case of failures to make returns to the Auditor, as hereinbefore provided, the Auditor, with the assistance of the county clerks and assessors, when he shall require such assistance, shall ascertain the necessary facts. In case of failure to make said statements, either to the county clerk or Auditor, such corporation, company or person shall forfeit, as a penalty, not less than one thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars for each offense, to be recovered in any proper form of action, in the name of the Territory of Oklahoma, and paid into the Territorial treasury.

Railroad tax book, extending and collecting tax.

(6165) § 12. The county clerk shall procure, at the expense of the county, a record book, properly ruled and headed, in which to enter the railroad property of all kinds, as listed for taxation and shall enter the valuations as assessed, corrected and equalized in the manner provided by this act; and against such assessed, corrected or equalized valuation, as the case may require, the county clerk shall extend all the taxes thereon for which said property is liable. And at the proper time fixed by this act for the delivering tax-books to the county treasurer, the clerk shall attach a warrant under his seal of office, and deliver said book to the county treasurer, upon which the said county treasurer is hereby required to collect the taxes therein charged against railroad property, and pay over and account for the same in the manner provided in other cases. Said book shall be returned by the treasurer and be filed in the office of the county clerk for future use.

Description of platted land.

(6166) § 13. When any railroad company shall make or record a plat of any contiguous lots or parcels of land belonging to it, the same may be described as designated on such plat.

County clerk shall furnish plat, etc

(6167) § 14 It shall be the duty of the county clerks in the various counties of this Territory, on or before the first day of December of each year, to deliver to some station agent of each railway company passing through or into such county, a plat showing what sections or parts thereof are embraced within the corporate limits of the towns, school-townships, or assessment-districts within his county and through which railway passes, and the railroad company shall conform their report to the divisions indicated on the plat so furnished.

Return of refusals to swear to property listed, proviso

(6171) § 2. In every case where a person is required to list property for himself or in behalf of another, if he shall neglect or refuse to list the same the assessor shall proceed as directed in section 6136 and in return of personal property, opposite the name of such person, he shall write the words "by the assessor" when the list was made by himself or his deputy, together with the words "absent," or "sick," or "refused to swear," or such other words as will express the cause why the person required to make the list did not make it; and a neglect to make it shall be taken as a refusal to do so: Provided, That if any party, from any good cause, without fault on his or her part fails to list to the assessor at the time of assessment any property which such party should have listed or fail to list the same as fully as it should have been done such party shall furnish such list, or corrected list, to the board of equalization on or before the first day of the meeting thereof.

ARTICLE 6.—COUNTY BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

SECTION.
1. Powers of, limitation.
2. Further powers of board
3. Clerk of the board.
4. Abstract of assessment roll to be sent to Territorial Auditor.

Powers of limitation.

(6172) § 1. The board of county commissioners of each county shall constitute a board of equalization for the county, and said board or a majority of the members thereof, shall hold a session of not less than two days at the county seat, commencing on the first Monday of July in each year, for the purpose of equalizing and correcting the assessment roll in their county, and in order to equalize and correct such assessment roll they may change the valuation and assessment of any property real or personal, upon the roll by increasing or diminishing the assessed valuation thereof as shall be reasonable and just, to render taxation uniform: Provided, That the aggregate assessment shall not be thereby materially changed.

Further powers of board.

(6173) § 2. The said board of equalization must also place upon and add to the assessment roll any property, real or personal, subject to taxation, which has been ommitted therefrom by the owner or by the assessor, and enter for the same a reasonable, just and uniform taxation. During the session of said board, any person or his attorney or agent, feeling aggrieved by anything in the assessment roll, may apply to the board for the correction of any alleged errors in the listing or valuation of his property. whether real or personal, and the board may correct the same as shall be just, and if any person returned as failing or refusing to render a list or to be sworn thereto, or to the list of the property of another returnable by him, can show good cause for such failure or refusal, the penalty herein provided may be remitted: Provided, That in equalizing the assessment all property, personal or real, said board must be governed by the value of such property on the first day of January preceding, of if that cannot be reasonably and justly ascertained by its average value during the year preceding.

Clerk of the board

(6174) § 3. The county clerk of the county shall be clerk of said board of equalization for the county.

Abstract of assessment roll to be sent to Territorial Auditor.

(6175) § 4. As soon as practicable after the assessment rolls are equalized and corrected, as provided in the two preceding sections, and before the third Monday in July next ensuing, the county clerk shall make out an abstract thereof containing:

Whole number of acres of land listed in the county and the total value thereof.

Lien of taxes defined

(6199) § 2. Taxes upon real property are hereby made a perpetual lien. Taxes due from any person upon personal property, and unpaid for the two years last past, shall be a lien on any real property owned by such persons in the county where the land is located, or in a county to which unpaid taxes have been certified before the holder of the land has sold the same.

How collected.

(6200) § 3. All taxes on personal property that shall remain due and unpaid on the first Monday of February may be collected in the following manner: the county treasurer shall between the tenth and twentieth days of February issue a warrant under his hand directed to the sheriff of the county commanding him to levy the amount of such unpaid taxes and the penalty thereon, together with his fees for collecting the same, of the goods and chattels of the persons to whom such taxes were assessed and to pay the same to the county treasurer and return such warrant within sixty days from the date thereof.

Duty of sheriff.

(6201) § 4. It shall be the duty of the several sheriffs of this Territory, in making their returns of the delinquent tax warrants to the treasurer of their respective counties, to note in their return the county to which any such delinquent tax-payer may have removed or resides with the date of his removal if he shall be able to ascertain such fact, and it is hereby made his duty to make diligent inquiry therefor.

Duty of county treasurer in case of tax warrants

(6202) § 5. It shall be the duty of the several county treasurers in the Territory, immediately after their receiving said warrants, returned as provided in the preceding section, to issue an "alias" tax warrant directed to the sheriff of any county in this Territory into which any such tax payer may have removed or may reside, or in which his personal property may be found, who shall proceed to collect said taxes the same as upon execution, together with his costs upon the same, and after collecting the said taxes, to forward the same to the Treasurer of the county who issued said warrant, together with the warrant and his return endorsed thereon.

Sheriff's fees

(6203) § 6. For the services specified in the preceding sections the sheriff shall be entitled to the same fees as they are allowed by law on execution.

Failure of treasurer or sheriff to issue tax warrants, penalty.

(6204) § 7. All warrants returned by the sheriff shall be endorsed with the date of service, date of collection and amount collected, and if no property is found, so state; and if any treasurer or sheriff fail to issue or serve and return the warrants as provided by this act, such treasurer or sheriff shall be held liable for the amouut of tax upon which warrants have so failed to be issued, served or returned.

When lien on realty, provisions for collecting

(6205) § 8. The treasurer shall in all cases where taxes are a lien on real property and unpaid on August 15th of each year, proceed to advertise and sell such real estate for such taxes and costs as hereinafter provided, and shall not be bound before so doing to proceed to collect by a sale of personal property, taxes on personal property which are by this act made a lien on realty; but shall include such personal tax with that due on the realty, and sell the realty for all said taxes.

Notice of sale for taxes.

(6206) § 9. The treasurer shall give notice of the sale of real property by publication thereof once a week for three consecutive weeks, commencing the first week in September preceding the sale, in the official newspaper in his county and if there be no paper published in his county, he shall give notice by written or printed notice posted on the door of the court house or building in which courts are commonly held, or the usual place of meeting of the county commissioners, for three weeks previous to the sale; such notice shall contain a notification that all lands on which the taxes of the preceding year (naming it) remain unpaid will be sold, and the time and place of the sale; and said notice must contain a list of the lands to be sold and the amount of taxes due. The county treasurer shall charge and collect in addition to the taxes and interest and penalty, the sum of twenty-five cents on each tract of real property and ten cents on each town lot advertised for sale, which sum shall be paid into the county treasury and the county shall pay the cost of the publication, but in no case shall the county be liable for more than the amount charged to the delinquent lands for advertising.

Lands offered for sale

(6207) § 10. On the first Monday of October in each year, between the hours of nine o'clock A. M. and four P. M. the treasurer is directed to offer at public sale at the Treasurer's office where by law the taxes are made payable, all lands, town lots or other real property which shall be liable for taxes of any description for the preceding year or years, and which shall remain due and unpaid, and he may adjourn the sale form day to day until all the lands, lots or other real property have been offered, and no taxable property shall be exempt from levy and sale for taxes.

Method of sale, parcels.

(6208) § 11. The person who offers to pay the amount due on any parcel of land for the smallest portion of the same is to be considered the highest bidder, and when such a portion constitutes a half or more of the parcel it is to be taken from the east side thereof, dividing it by a line running north and south, except that town lots are to be divided in such case lengthwise by a line parallel with the proper lines of the lots. If the portion taken be less than one-half of the parcel, it is to be taken from the southeast corner in a square form, as nearly as the form of the land will conveniently permit.

Failure of bidders to pay, lands again offered

(6209) § 12. Should any person so bidding fail to pay the amount due, the treasurer may again offer the land for sale if the sale has not closed, and if it has closed he may again advertise it specially and by description by one written or printed notice posted for two weeks on the front door of the court house or place where courts are usually held, after which it may be sold at public sale; or the treasurer may recover the amount so bid by civil action brought in the name of the county in which the sale was held.

Returns of the sale.

(6210) § 13. On or before the first Monday of November following the sale of real property, the treasurer is required to file in the office of the county clerk of his county a return of his sale of land, retaining a copy in his office, showing the lands sold, the names of the purchasers and the sums paid by them, and also a copy of the notice of sale with a certificate of the advertisement verified by an affidavit, and such certificate shall be evidence of the regularity of the proceedings.

Description entered numerically, form.

(6211) § 14. The description of real estate in such returns shall be entered in the same numerical order as required in the tax list, and such returns shall be as nearly as may be in the following form to-wit:

TREASURER'S SALE BOOK. DELINQUENT TAXES OF 18.....COUNTY, OKLAHOMA TERRITORY.

Date of Sale.	Part of Section or Name of Town.	Section or Lot.	Town or Block.	Range or Lot.	Acres or Block.	Name of Purchaser.	Amount Sold For.	Subsequent Taxes Paid.	Total.	By Whom Redeemed.	Amount Paid for Redemption.	Redemption Money.	Remarks.

Purchaser is entitled to a certificate

(6212) § 15. The purchaser of any tract of land sold by the county treasurer for taxes will be entitled to a certificate in writing describing the land so purchased and the sum paid, and the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed, which certificate shall be assignable and said assignment must be acknowledged before some officer having power to take acknowledgment of deeds, such certificate shall be signed by the treasurer in his official capacity, and shall be presumptive evidence of the regularity of all prior proceedings. The purchaser acquires the lien of the tax on the land and if he subsequently pays the taxes levied on the same, whether levied for one year or years, previous or subsequent to such sale, he shall have the same lien for them and may add them to the amount paid by him in the purchase, and the treasurer shall make out a tax receipt and duplicate for the taxes on the real estate mentioned in such certificate the same as in other cases, and shall write thereon, "sold for tax at public sale." Such certificate shall be substantially in the following form:

COUNTY TREASURER'S CERTIFICATE OF TAX SALE.

THE TERRITORY OF OKLAHOMA. } ss.
.....COUNTY. }

I, ..., Treasurer of the county of..... in the Territory of Oklahoma, do hereby certify that the following described real estate in said county and Territory, to-wit: (describing the same), was on the.....day of..... A. D,, ... , duly sold by me in the manner provided by law. for the delinquent taxes for the year.....thereon, amounting to.....dollars, including interest and penalty thereon, and the cost allowed by law to..... for the sum of.....dollars, he being the highest and best bidder for the same. And I further certify that unless redemption is made of real estate, in the manner provided by law, the said.....or assigns will be entitled to a deed therefor on and after the.....,.....day of..... A. D., ..., or surrender of this certificate.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand this ..... day of..... ....., A. D,, ...

Treasurer.

(6213) § 16. The treasurer is authorized to demand fifty cents for each deed or certificate made by him on such sale and the fee for the notary public or other officer acknowledging the deed, but any number of parcels of land bought by any one person may be included in one deed or certificate, as may be desired by the purchaser; and whenever the treasurer makes a deed of any land sold for taxes he shall enter an account thereof in the sale book opposite the description of the land conveyed. Fees for deed.

(6214) § 17. When by mistake or a wrongful act of the treasurer, land has been sold on which no tax was due at the time, the county is to save the purchaser harmless by paying him the amouut of principal and interest at the legal rate of interest per annum from the date of sale. Erroneous sale corrected.

(6215) § 18. The county treasurer of each county within the Territory is hereby authorized at all tax sales hereafter made under the laws of this Territory, in case there are no other bidders offering the amount due, to bid off all or any real estate offered at said sale for the amount of taxes, penalty, interest and costs due and unpaid thereon, in the name of the county in which the sale takes place, the said county acquiring all the rights both legal and equitable that any other purchaser could acquire by reason of said purchase. County treasurer may purchase, when.

(6216) § 19. In case the owner of real estate or any person having any legal or equitable interest therein is desirious of redeeming said real estate from said sale, they shall have the right so to do any time within two years from the date of sale by paying the county treasurer the amount of all taxes, penalty, interest and cost of sale up to the date of redemption, and upon the payment thereof, the said county treasurer is hereby required to give the person so redeeming, a certificate of redemption, and to mark upon the tax duplicate that is kept in his office, opposite the discription of said real estate where said description is entered upon said duplicate, the word "Redeemed" and the date when the same was done, which certificate must be countersigned by the county clerk before it is delivered to the person redeeming, and shall be of no validity unless so countersigned. Redemption.

(6217) § 20. If any person is desirous of purchasing the interest of said county in said real estate acquired by reason of said county treasurer bidding the same off in the name of and for said county, he may do so by paying to said county treasurer the amount of taxes, penalty, interest and cost of sale and transfer up to the date he so pays and thereupon the said treasurer shall, and it is hereby made his duty to assign and deliver to said purchaser the certificate of the purchase held by said county for said real estate, which assignment and transfer shall convey unto said purchaser all rights of said county both legal and equitable in Treasurer may sell certificate and to said real estate as much so as if he had been the original purchaser at said tax sale.

Certificate of purchase issued to county.

(6218) § 21. Whenever the county treasurer of any county shall bid off any real estate in the name of his county, he shall make out a certificate of purchase to said county just as he is required to do if the sale had been made to any other person, but he shall retain the same in his office until transferred as provided in section 6217.

Certain taxes not payable (6219) § 22. No amount due the Territory or any other fund, costs or treasurer's commission shall be payable by the county on lands bid in by the county, until redemption is made from such sale or the time for redemption has expired, or until the interest of said county has been transferred or assigned as provided in section 6217.

Redemption of lands sold for taxes.

(6220) § 23. The owner of any land sold for taxes, or any other person having legal or equitable interest therein may redeem the same at any time within two years after the day of such sale, or at any time before the execution of a deed of conveyance therefor by the county treasurer, by paying the county treasurer for the use of the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, the sum mentioned in this certificate and interest thereon at the rate of twenty-five per cent per annum from the date of purchase, together with all other taxes subsequently paid, whether for any year or years previous or subsequent to said sale, and interest thereon at the same rate from date of such payment; and the treasurer shall enter a memorandum of the redemption of the list of sales, and give a receipt therefor to the person redeeming the same, and file a duplicate of the same with the county clerk as in other cases, and hold the money paid to the order of the purchaser, his agent or attorney: Provided, That infants, idiots, and insane persons may redeem any land belonging to them, sold for taxes, within one year after the expiration of such disability: And provided further, That when the owner of any land which has been sold for taxes, and who desires to redeem the same shall not demand a receipt or certificate of redemption from the county treasurer, the return of the certificate of purchase for cancellation shall operate as a release of all the claims to the tract or lot described therein, under or by virtue of the purchase; and the county treasurer upon receiving such certificate of purchase shall marke on the tax sale record opposite the description of the property for which said certificate of purchase has been issued "sale cancelled by return of certificate." The fee for making said entry shall be ten cents for each description: And provided further, That only ten per cent interest shall be charged at the redemption of land sold on the part of infants, idiots or insane persons.

Undivided lands.

(6221) § 24. Any person claiming an undivided part of any land sold for taxes, may redeem the same on paying the purchase money, interest principal and subsequent taxes.

Tax deed, when given, effect.

(6222) § 25. If any person shall redeem such lands within two years, at any time after the expiration thereof, and on production of the certificate of purchase, the treasurer of the county in which the sale of such lands took place shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, a deed of land remaining unredeemed, which shall vest in the grantee an absolute estate in fee simple in such land, subject however, to all claims which the Territory may have thereon for taxes or other liens or incumbrances.

Tax deed, when given, form of, validity.

(6223) § 26. The deed shall be signed and executed by the county treasurer in his official capacity, and acknowledged before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds; and when substantially thus executed and recorded, in the proper record of titles to real estate, shall vest in the purchaser a full right, title and interest in and to said lands. Such deed shall be presumptive evidence in all the courts of the Territory, in all suits and controversies in relation to the rights of the purchaser, his heirs or assigns to the land thereby conveyed, of the following facts:

First. That the real property deeded was subject to taxation for the year or years stated in the deed.

Second. That the taxes were not paid at any time before the sale.

Third. That the real property deeded had not been redeemed from sale at the date of the deed.

Fourth. That the property had been listed and assessed.

Fifth. That the taxes were levied according to law.

Sixth. That the property was sold for taxes, as stated in the the deed, and was duly advertised before being sold, and to defeat the deed it must be clearly plead and clearly proven that some one of the above named six requisities was wholly omitted and not done and a showing that any one or all of them was irregularly done will not be sufficient to defeat the deed.

Such deed shall be held in all such cases, as conclusively proving the following facts:

First. That the manner in which the listing, assessment, levy, notice and sale were conducted was as to manner, and form or procedure, regular in all respects, and conducted as the law directs.

Second. That the grantee named in the deed or his assigns was the purchaser.

Third. That all the prerequisites of the law were complied with by all the officers who had, or whose duty it was to have performed any matter in connection therewith.

To defeat the deed, the person desiring to set the same aside and recover the land, or to resist the recovery of possession by the holder of the deed in addition to showing clearly the entire failure to do some one or all the things of which the tax deed is made presumptive evidence, must show that he or the person under whom he claims, had the right to redeem the land from tax sale at the time the deed was made, and must, when his action to set aside the tax deed is brought, or a defense to a recovery of possession is plead, tender in open court for the use of the holder of the tax deed, all taxes, penalties, interests and costs, which the party seeking to redeem would be bound to pay if he was then re-

Chap. 75. deeming the land from tax sale, and on failure so to do, his action or defense, as the case may be, shall be dismissed. The rule that tax proceedings are to be strictly construed as against the tax purchaser, shall not apply to proceedings under this act, but in all courts its provisions shall be liberally construed, to the end that its provisions and all proceedings thereunder shall be sustained. The tax deed shall be substantially in the following form, to-wit:

WHEREAS, A. B., did, on the.....day of.....A. D. 18....produce to the undersigned C. D., treasurer of the County of.....in the Territory of Oklahoma, a certificate of pur-purchase in writing bearing date of the.....day of..... 18...., signed by E. F. who at the last mentioned date was treasurer of said county, from which it appears that....., did on the.....day of.....18...., purchase at public auction, at the door of the court house in said county, the tract, parcel or lot of land lastly in this indenture described, and which lot was sold to.....for the sum of....., being the amount due on the following tract or lot of land, returned delinquent for nonpayment of taxes, costs and charges for the year 18...., to wit: (here insert the land offered for sale). And it appearing that the said A B. is the legal owner of said certificate of purchase, and the time fixed by law for redeeming the land therein described having now expired, and the same not having been redeemed as provided by law and the said A. B., having demanded a deed for the tract of land mentioned in said certificate, and which was the least quantity of the tract above described that would sell for the amount due thereon for taxes, costs and charges, as abov specified, and it appearing that said lands were legally liable for taxation, and had been duly assessed and properly charged on the tax book or duplicate for the year 18....,and that said lands had been legally advertised for sale for said taxes, and were sold on the .....day of.....18.....

NOW, THEREFORE, this indenture, made this day..... day of..... ...., 18...., between the Territory of Oklahoma, by C. D., the treasurer of said county, of the first part and the said A. B. of the second part, witnesseth, that the said party of the first part for and in consideration of the premises and the sum of one dollar in hand paid, hath granted, bargained, and sold, and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell and convey to the said party of the second part.....heirs and assigns forever, the tract or parcel of land mentioned in said certificate and described as follows, to-wit: (describe the land) to have and to hold said mentioned tract or parcel of land with the appurtenances thereto belonging, to the said party of the second part .....heirs and assigns forever, in as full and ample manner as the said treasurer of said county is empowered by law to sell the same.

In testimony whereof, the said C. D. treasurer of said county of———, has hereunto set his hand and seal on the day and year aforesaid.

ATTEST. _____

[SEAL.]

Which deed shall be acknowledged by said Treasurer before some one authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds.

Limitation of action to recover land.

(6224) § 27. No action shall be commenced by the holder of the tax deed or the former owner or owners of lands by any person claiming under him or them to recover possession or the land which has been sold and conveyed by deed for non-payment of taxes, or to avoid such deed, unless such action shall be commenced within one year after the recording of such deed; and in case of action to avoid the deed not until all taxes, interest and penalties, costs and expenses shall be paid or tendered by the parties commencing such action.

Tax sale not voidable

(6225) § 28. The sale of lands, town or city lots on any other real property shall not be invalid on account of such real property having been listed or charged on the duplicate in any other name than that of the rightful owner; nor shall any such sale be invalid nor the conveyance for the real property so sold be voidable by reason of neglect or failure of the treasurer or any other officer to collect the tax for which it was sold by distraint and sale of personal property.

Certificate delivered for deed,

(6226) § 29. When deeds are delivered for real property sold for taxes, the certificates therefor must be cancelled and filed away by the county clerk; and in case of the loss of any certificate, on being satisfied thereof by due proof and bond being given to the Territory of Oklahoma in a sum equal to the value of the property conveyed, as in cases of lost notes or other commercial paper, the the county treasurer may execute and deliver the proper conveyance and file such proof and bond with the county clerk

Judgment required for taxes due

(6227) § 30. Whenever any action or proceeding shall be commenced and maintained before any court or judge to prevent or restrain the collection of any tax or part thereof, or any particular act of an officer in the collection thereof, or to recover any such tax previously paid, or to recover the possession or title of any property real or personal, sold for taxes, or to invalidate or cancel any deed or grant thereof for taxes, or to restrain, prevent recover or delay any payment of taxes, the true and just amount of taxes due upon such property or by such person if in dispute, must be ascertained and paid before the judgment prayed for, and if not in dispute must be paid in accordance with the provisions of section 6216.

Treasurer of county to pay money to Territorial Treasurer,

(6228) § 1. The treasurers of the several counties shall pay into the Territorial Treasury all funds in their hands belonging thereto on or before the first Monday of March, and on the first Monday of September in each year, and at such other time as the Territorial Treasurer shall require, and the funds so paid in shall be the identical Territorial warrants, if any, received by the Treasurer for the payment of the tax, or in coin, or in treasury notes of the United States; and the said county treasurer shall send said warrants and money to the Territorial Treasurer by express, for which he shall be allowed the actual expenses of transmitting the same and no more.

Failure to settle with Territorial Treasurer, penalty.

(6229) § 2. If the county treasurer shall willfully and negligently fail to settle with the Territorial Treasurer at the time and in the manner above described, he shall forfeit to the use of the Territory the sum of five hundred dollars, which sum may be recovered from him or his sureties on suit brought by the Territorial Treasurer in any court in this Territory having jurisdiction; or in case of failure of the Territorial Treasurer to bring such suit, then any citizen of the Territory may bring the same.

Land becoming taxable

(6230) § 3. A list of lands becoming taxable for the first time in each county of the Territory, shall be procured by the Territorial Auditor from the proper land officers, and a list of the lands becoming so taxable in each of the several counties shall be forwarded by the Auditor to the county clerk of each county on or before the thirtieth day of December of each year.

Warrant book for county, form

(6231) § 4. Each county treasurer is required to keep a book called the "Warrant Book" in which he shall enter every Territorial, county, road or other warrant or order by him paid or received in payment of taxes, specifying the date at which the same was received and cancelled, from whom received, the payee or person in whose favor it was drawn, its number and date, the amount for which it was originally drawn, the total number of indorsements or payments made thereon, the principal sum for which it was received, the interest allowed, and the total amount for which it was received; and the treasurer shall keep his account of warrants and orders by him received for and on account of taxes separate and distinct from such as are paid him in cash, and in another and separate place, he shall enter an account of all indorsements made on warrants or orders in part payment thereof. Such warrant book shall be in the following form, to-wit:

TRASUREK'S WARRANT BOOK,.....COUNTY, OKLAHOMA TERRITORY.

Date	From whom received	Payee of warrant.	Number of warrant.	Date of warrant.	Am't	Ind'rs'm'ts.	Principal	Interest.	Total.

Substituting warrants, penalty

(6232) § 5. If any county treasurer, or his deputy, or any other person, shall knowingly and wilfully make, issue and deliver any tax receipt, or duplicate tax receipt, and therein designate any part or parts of the amount thereof as being paid in warrants or orders when the same was paid in cash, such treasurer or deputy treasurer or other person shall be deemed guilty of a felony, for which he may be indicted by a grand jury, and on conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction in this Territory, he shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than five years in the discretion of the court.

Fraudulent receipts, penalty.

(6233) § 6. If any county treasurer in this Territory, or his deputy, or any person, shall knowingly or wilfully make, issue and deliver any tax receipt, or duplicate tax receipt, required by this act, to be issued, by fraudulently making the tax receipt and its duplicate, or the paper purporting to be its duplicate, different from each other, with intent to defraud the Territory of Oklahoma, or any county in said Territory, or any person or persons whomsoever, such treasurer, or deputy treasurer, or other person shall be deemed guilty of a felony, for which he may be indicted by thc grand jury, and on conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction of this Territory, he shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one year, nor more thau five years, in the discretion of the court.

Dereliction of officer

(6234) § 7. In the case of dereliction of any duty on the part of any officer or person required by law to perform any duty under the provisions of this act, in any county in the Territory, such person shall thereby forfeit all pay and allowance that would otherwise be due him, and the county commissioners in any such county, on receiving satisfactory evidence of such dereliction or failure to perform as required by law any duty enjoined by this act, shall refuse to pay such person or persons any sum whatever for such services.

Miscellaneous receipts.

(6235) § 8. When any money shall be paid to the county treasurer, he shall make the proper duplicate receipts for the same, as in case of the payment of taxes, and shall give one of said receipts to the person paying said money and the other to the county clerk within one month thereafter.

Interest on warrants.

(6236) § 9. When the county treasurer shall receive any county or Territorial warrants or orders on which any interest is due, he shall note on such warrants or orders the amount of interest paid by him thereon, and shall enter in his account the amount of such interest distinct from the principal.

Redeemed warrants

(6237) § 10. When the county treasurer of any county shall pay any county order drawn on him by the county commissioners, or when he shall take or receive any such order in payment of any tax, he shall write on the face of any such order "redeemed" and the date of redemption, and shall sign his name thereto.

When warrant exceeds tax, provision.

(6238) § 11. When any person desiring to pay any taxes due and unpaid, shall present a county order to the treasurer of any county, in payment of such tax, which shall exceed the amount that such treasurer is authorized to receive in county orders in payment of such tax, he shall endorse on the back of such order in part payment the amount he is authorized by law to receive, and date the same. Said treasurer shall take two receipts from the holder of such order for the amount so indorsed and paid, showing the date of the indorsement, a full description of such county order, including the date thereof, to whom given, the the amount for which it was given, and all the indorsements thereon; one of which receipts he shall forthwith file with the county clerk, the other he shall retain as his voucher.

Delinquent treasurer.

(6239) § 12. If any county treasurer shall fail to make return, fail to make settlement, or fail to pay over all money with which he may stand charged, at the time and in the manner prescribed by law, it shall be the duty of the county clerk, on receiving instructions for that purpose from the Territorial Auditor, or from the county commissioners of his county, to cause suit to be instituted against such treasurer and his sureties or any of them, in the district court of his county.

Board may remove

(6240) § 13. Whenever suit shall have been commenced against any delinquent county treasurer as aforesaid, the Board of County Commissioners of such county may at their discretion remove such treasurer from office, and appoint some suitable person to fill the vacancy thereby created, as hereinbefore provided.

Additional surety may be required

(6241) § 14. The county commissioners of any of the counties of this Territory, may require the county treasurer to give additional freehold securities whenever in the opinion of a majority of said county commissioners the existing security shall have become insufficient, and said commissioners are hereby also authorized and empowered to demand and receive from said county treasurer an additional bond as required by law, with good and sufficient freehold security in such sum as said commissioners or a majority of them may direct, whenever in their opinion more money shall have passed or is about to pass into the hands of said treasurer than is or would be recovered by the penalty in the previous bond.

Failnre to give additional surety.

(6242) § 15. If any county treasurer shall fail or refuse to give such additional security or bond within twenty days from and after the day on which said commissioners shall have required said treasurer so to do, his office shall be declared vacant, and another treasurer shall be appointed agreeable to the provisions of this act.

Treasurer may not discount warrants.

(6243) § 16. No county treasurer shall directly or indirectly contract for or purchase any order or orders issued by the county for which he is the treasurer, at any discount whatever upon the sum due on such order or orders; and if any county treasurer shall so contract for or purchase any such order or orders, he shall not be allowed in settlement the amount of said order or orders, or any part thereof, and shall also forfeit the whole amount due on such order or orders, to be recovered by civil action at the suit of the Territory of Oklahoma for the use of the county.

Certain credits forbidden

(6244) § 17. The county treasurer on his settlement with the county commissioners, shall not be credited with any sum for interest paid on any order unless he shall at the time of receiving the same have noted thereon the amount of interest due thereon.

County treasure shall not loan or use funds

(6245) § 18. If the county treasurer shall loan any money belonging to his county, with or without interest, or shall use the same for his own individual purpose, he shall forfeit and pay for every such offense a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars nor less than one hundred dollars, to be recovered in an action at law at the suit of the Territory for the use of the county.

Payments after settlement

(6246) § 19. Each county treasurer shall immediately after the annual settlement with the county commissioners of his county, on demand and presentation of the order of the clerk, issued by direction of the county commissioners therefor, pay over to the district or precinct treasurer, city treasurer or other proper officer, all the moneys in the county treasury belonging to any district, precinct, city, town or school district: Provided, That the moneys mentioned in this section may by the direction of the proper local officers remain in the county treasury on the order of the county clerk as aforesaid.

Detailed exhibit of receipts and disbursements

(6247) § 20. The county clerk and the county treasurer conjointly shall make out annually a detailed exhibit, showing the receipts and disbursements of the county for the fiscal year, and also the assets and liabilities at the time of making out the same; said exhibits shall show the amount of all orders on the treasury issued during the year next preceding, to whom allowed, and on what account, and also the liabilities of the county stated in detail, and the assets of every kind as near as may be; showing also the amount of funds in the treasury at the time of making said exhibit, on what account paid in, and the kind of funds; said exhibit, shall be made out annually and posted up in the office of the treasurer on the first Monday in November.

Loaning and embezzlement, penalty.

(6248) § 21. If any county treasurer, other officer or person charged with the collection, receipt, safe keeping, transfer or disbursement of the public money or any part thereof, belonging to the Territory or any county, precinct, district, city, town, or school district in this Territory, shall convert to his own use or to the use of any other person or persons, body corporate, association or party whatever, in any way whatever; or shall use by way of investment in any kind of security, stocks, loan property, land or merchandise, or in any other manner or form whatever; or shall loan with or without interest to any company or corporation, association or individual, or if any person shall advise, aid, or in any manner knowingly participate in such act, every such act shall be deemed and held in law to be an embezzlement of so much of said money or other property as aforesaid, as shall be thus converted, used, invested, loaned or paid out as aforesaid, which is hereby declared to be a felony; and upon presentation, trial by indictment and conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction in this Territory, such county treasurer or other officer or person shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary and kept at hard labor for a term of not less than one nor more than twenty-one years, according to the magnitude of the embezzlement, and also to pay a fine equal to double the amount in money or other property so embezzled as aforesaid; which fine shall operate as a judgment lien at law on all the estate of the party so convicted and sentenced, and shall be enforced by execution or other process for the use only of the party or parties whose money or other funds, property, bonds or other securities, assets or effects of any kind as aforesaid have been so embezzled; and in all cases such fine so operating as a judgment shall only be released or entered as satisfied by the party or parties in interest as aforesaid.

Chap. 15.

Extraordinary expenditure requires vote.

(6249) § 22. If the county commissioners deem any expenditure necessary, greater in amount than can be provided for by the annual tax, they shall require a vote of the county thereon, either at a general election or one called especially for the purpose. In either case four weeks' notice of said election shall be given in each newspaper published in the county and the notice shall specify the amount to be raised, and the precise purpose for which it is to be expended; and if a majority of the votes cast authorize the tax the county commissioners shall cause the same to be levied and collected in the same manner as the annual tax, and if possible at the same time: Provided, however, That no new assessment shall be made for any special tax.

Duty of county treasurer to balance books and count funds in presence of county commissionrs and county clerk.

(6250) § 23. In addition to the statements and showings required by this act, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer three times in each year to balance his books and come to an accounting with the county commissioners, and shall then produce and count in the presence of the county commissioners, any balance of money shown to be in his hands; he shall in addition thereto file his written oath that the money produced to be counted by the county commissioners is public money in his hands as county treasurer, and that no portion of it is borrowed for the purpose of being counted in the presence of the board. In addition to the above, the county treasurer shall once in each month produce and count in the presence of the county clerk the public funds in his hands as county treasurer, and the county clerk shall, in like manner, administer to the treasurer an oath that the money so counted is public funds and not borrowed for the purpose of being so counted before him by the county treasurer.

Loaning, discounting, failure to produce funds, penalty.

(6251) § 24. If the county treasurer shall loan any part of the public funds in his hands as such treasurer, or shall discount any county warrant either directly or indirectly, by himself or through others, or shall fail to produce any funds in his hands as such treasurer, when demanded for counting by the county clerk, or board of county commissioners, or shall fail to pay over any part thereof at any time when required by law so to do, he shall in addition to the penalties prescribed in this act, be deemed guilty of a crime against the revenue, the property of the Territory, and shall be punished as provided for that offense.

8. Appiaisers estimate what as damages.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma.

Condemnation of rights of way.

(6252) § 1. It shall be lawful for any person or persons or corporations or partnerships, to condemn the right of way through the lands of others for the purpose of digging ditches and constructing drains to drain ponds, swamps, marshes and wet land, as in this act provided.

File plat, deposit fee, file petition.

(6253) § 2. When it is desired so to drain lands as designated in the last section, parties desiring the right of way for ditch through the lands of others, shall file with the probate judge a map or plat showing the location of the land by section, township and range proposed to be drained, and showing the most feasible and direct line of drainage, and the names of the owners or homstead-occupants possessing the lands through which it is proposed to dig such ditch; and shall deposit with the probate judge of the county in which such ditch is to be dug, or the greater portion of it may lie, if it be in two counties, at least ten dollars to be applied in payment of costs, and a sworn petition stating the parties who desire to dig the ditch, asking the appointment of a board of appraisers to estimate the damages caused to the land of others by digging such ditch; thereupon the probate judge shall issue a notice to the parties whose lands are to be so invaded, of the application, which shall be served as a summons in a civil action.

Showing in court, viewers report of.

(6254) § 3. In ten days after the service of such notice, the parties through whose lands the right of way is to be condemned, and the parties applying so to do, shall appear before the probate judge and make a showing as to parties fit to act as appraisers, and from the parties so suggested the probate judge shall choose three persons to view the lands and determine the manner as to whether or not drainage is necessary, and to fix and select the shortest and most direct line for the ditch to drain the lands, following as nearly as practicable section or half section lines, and shall estimate the damages to each piece of land to be crossed by such ditch, they shall make a report under oath showing the lands to be drained and the line of the ditch selected, and the award of damages made to each land owner or occupant, whose land may be crossed by such ditch, and file the same with the probate judge.

Chap. 76.

Deposit of all costs and damages

(6255) § 4. Within ten days thereafter, the parties applying for the right to dig the ditch, must deposit with the probate judge all costs of the appraisers, and of the court, and amount of damages awarded to each claimant of land crossed by the ditch.

Fees per diem.

(6256) § 5. The fees allowed to the appraisers shall be two dollars per day, and to the probate judge five dollars.

Appeal taken, how

(6257) § 6. Within ten days after the money is so deposited, any party aggrieved may appeal from the award made by such appraisers to the district court of their county, as appeals are taken from the judgment of the justices of the peace. On the trial in the district court, the jury shall determine whether or not the drainage of the wet lands is necessary, and beneficial, and also the damages that should be awarded to the land-holders, if on such appeal the applicant recover a judgment for no greater sum than the award made by the appraisers, he shall pay the costs of the appeal.

Decision final, when (6258) § 7. If no appeal be taken within twenty days after the appraisers shall make and file their returns with the probate judge and within ten days after the money is deposited in payment of damages, the decision shall be final and conclusive, and the claimant and persons desiring to dig the ditch may enter upon the land, and proceed with the construction of such ditch in the manner and form of the size and depth shown to the appraisers to be necessary. The appraisers shall in their report to the probate court show the size and depth of the ditch by them calculated as damaging the lands through which it may pass.

Appraisers estimate what as damages

(6259) § 8. The appraisers shall estimate as damages the costs of keeping up and maintaining any bridges that may be necessary to be maintained across such ditch for the purpose of maintaining proper farm crossings thereover.

Section lines public highways, width.

(6260) § 1. All section lines in this Territory shall be and are hereby declared to be public highways. The said roads or highways shall be sixty-six feet wide, until otherwise changed or vacated under the provisions of this act, and shall be taken equally from each side of said section line: Provided, That forest or fruit trees may be planted and grown to within twenty-five feet of the center of such highway.

Trustee to divide township, record, overseer.

(6261) § 2. The township trustee of each municipal township shall divide his township into convenient road districts, and he may make such alterations in the same as may be necesaary. He shall cause a record to be made accurately by defining the boundaries and number of each road district, as well as all alterations made in such district or districts in his township. Each road district shall elect its own overseer at the first election for county and township officers after the passage and approval of this act, and at every biennial election thereafter, who shall hold his office for the term of two years.

Application, etc.

(6262) § 3. That application for laying out roads or for viewing, reviewing, altering or vacating any road, shall be by petition to the board of county commissioners signed by at least twelve persons who are free holders or who occupy real estate under the homestead laws of the United States, of the county, residing in the vicinity where the said road is to be laid out, viewed, reviewed, altered or vacated, and one or more of the signers of any petition presented as aforesaid, shall enter into a bond with sufficeint security, payable to the Territory of Oklahoma, for the use of the county, to be approved by the county commissioners, conditioned that the persons signing such bond shall pay into the treasury of the county, the amount of all costs and expenses accruing on said location, view, review, alteration or vacation; in case the proceedings had in pursuance of said petition shall not be finally confirmed and established, and on neglect or refusal of the persons so bound, after a liability shall have accrued, the county clerk of the county shall collect or cause to be collected, such costs and expenses and pay the same into the county treasury.

Chap. 77.

Petition.

(6263) § 4. All petitions for laying out or altering roads shall specify the place of beginning, the intersection points, if any, and the place of termination of such road.

Commissioners, notice, record, etc., meeting.

(6264) § 5. Upon presentation of any petition for a road, or for the alteration or vacation of any road, the county commissioners at any regular session of their board, it shall be the duty of said commissioners. if they find the petition to be a legal one, and that the proper bond has been filed, to appoint three disinterested free holders of the county as viewers, and the county clerk shall give notice by advertisement set up in the county clerk's office, and in every municipal township through which any part of the road is designed to be laid out, altered, or vacated, for at least twenty days, and the publication for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper, if there be one published in the county, setting forth that such petition has been presented, giving the substance thereof, and that the viewers will, on such day as the commissioners designate, not more than twenty days after the expiration of the notice herein required, proceed to view such road and give all parties a hearing. They shall also cause a record of such notice to be entered on their journal by the county clerk, They shall issue an order directing the county surveyor to meet them at the time and place named in said notice, to survey such road. In case of failure to meet on the day designated, they may meet on the following day without further notice and in case of failure to meet within the time herein specified new notice shall be given as hereinbefore provided; that in all applications for the location, change and re-location of any road, to be located upon or along any half or quarter section line, and the petition shall so state, and shall specify the half or quarter section lines to be followed, the place of beginning and the place of ending, the survey may be dispensed with, and in case the owners of the land taken agree in writing, to the proposed location, relocation or change, and the commissioners are satisfied that the location, relocation or change prayed for is practicable, and can be made without unreasonable expense, they may dispense with the viewing of such location, relocation or change of road, and shall order the same to be opened, and also direct the county clerk to note such location, relocation or change of roads upon the road records of his office.

Petitioner's notice.

(6265) § 6. It shall be the duty of at least one of the petitioners to cause six days notice to be given in writing to the owner or owners, or their agents, if residing in the county, or if such owner be a minor, idiot or insane person, then to the guardian of such person, if a resident of the county, through whose lands such road is proposed to be laid out and established, and also six days notice to the county surveyor, of the time and place of meeting, as specified in the notice of the commissioners. Copies of said notice to owners of lands, with affidavits of service attached, shall be filed in the county clerk's office before said road shall be established.

Viewer's and surveyors.

(6266) § 7. It shall be the duty of the viewers, or a majority of them, and the county surveyor to meet at the time and place specified in the notice aforesaid, or on the following day thereafter; and they may, if they deem it necessary, take to their assistance two suitable persons as chain carriers, and then proceed to view, survey, lay out, alter or vacate the road as prayed for in said petition, or as nearly as a good road can be made at a reasonable expense, taking into consideration the utility, convenience and inconvenience and expense, which will result to individuals as well as to the public, if such road, or any part thereof, shall be established and opened or altered. Said viewers shall also assess and determine the amount of damages sustained by any person or persons through whose premises the said road is proposed to be established. Said viewers shall not assess or award damages or compensation to any person or persons in consequence of the opening of said road unless the owner or owners or their agents or guardians, having been duly notified as provided in section five of the applications and proceedings by which their property is sought to be appropriated or damaged, shall have filed a written application with said viewers, giving a description of the premises on which damages or compensation are claimed at the time of said view and hearing as hereinbefore provided for: Provided, That in case that any person has not received the notice of the view of said road, as provided for in section five, he may at any time within twelve months after the location of said road, file an application for damages with the county commissioners, who shall determine the amount of damages sustained by such claimant, and all applications for damages shall be forever barred, unless they are presented as provided for in this act.

Return, viewer's report, duty of commissioners.

(6267) § 8. The surveyor shall survey said road under the directions of the viewers, and cause the same to be conspicuously marked throughout, noting the courses and dictances. He shall also make out and deliver to the county clerk, without delay, a correct and certified return of the survey of the said road, and a plat of the same, and the viewers shall make and sign a report in wrlting, stating their opinion in favor of or against the establishment, alteration or vacation of said road, or any part thereof, and set forth the reason of the same; which report shall be delivered to the county clerk by one of the viewers on or before the first day of the session of the county commissioners then next ensuing, and it shall be the duty of the commissioners, on receiving the report aforesaid, to cause the same to be read before their meeting; and if said report is favorable, and no legal objections appear against said report, and they are satisfied that such road will be of public utility, they shall order said road survey and plat to be recorded, and from thence forth said road shall be considered a public highway, and the commissioners shall issue their order to the trustees of the respective townships in which said road is located, directing them to cause the same to be opened for the public travel; but if the report of the viewers be against such proposed road or alteration, and in the opinion of the commissioners said report is a just one, and that such road as applied for is unnecessary, then no further proceedings shall be had thereon; and the obligor or obligors in the bond securing costs, shall be liable for the full amount of all costs accrued by reason of the view of said road.

Damage assessed

(6268) § 9. It shall be the duty of the viewers at the same time they make their report of the view, to also make a separate report to the county commissioners in writing, stating the amount of damages, if any, by them assessed, and to whom. They shall also be required to submit with such report, the written application on which assessments have been made. All allowances for damages, as provided in this act, shall be subject to revision by the board of county commissioners, and any person feeling himself aggrieved by the award of damages made by the board of county commissioners, may appeal from the decision of the said board of county commissioners to the district court upon the same terms, and in the same manner, and with like effect as in appeals from judgments of justices of the peace in civil cases.

Line ascertained.

(6269) § 10. When the place of beginning or true course of auy road shall be uncertain, by reason of the removal of any monument or marked tree by which the road was originally designated, or from any other cause, the county commissioners of the proper county may appoint three disinterested house-holders of the county to review and straighten said road if they deem it necessary; and the county surveyor shall survey the same and said reviewers and surveyor shall review and survey said road, and the same correctly mark as in the case of new roads, and shall make a correct return of said survey, and a plat of said road to the commissioners, who shall cause the same to be recorded as in other cases, and from thenceforth said road, surveyed as aforesaid, shall be considered as a public highway.

On county and city line

(6270) § 11. When it shall become necessary to establish, alter or vacate a road on a county line, the inhabitants along such line may petition the board of [county] commissioners of their respective counties, for a view of said road in the manner hereinbefore provided; and it shall be the duty of the board of commissioners for each of the counties interested, to appoint three disinterested house-holders, as viewers, who, or a majority of whom, shall meet at the time or place named in the order of the county interested first, in alphabetical order, together with the surveyor of such county; and the viewers and surveyors aforesaid, shall assess all damages, and shall in all respects be governed by the preceding provisions of this act, and the viewers and surveyors shall make their report in writing for or against such road, and the commissioners upon receiving such report, shall be governed by this act; and when it shall become necessary to establish, alter or vacate a road on the line of any city, the board of commissioners of the county and the corporate authorities of such city may each appoint three householders as above who shall proceed as directed herein to establish, alter or vacate a road of the width of sixty feet along such line, one half on the side of the city and the other half on the side of the county; or the said viewers may act separately in laying off so much of said road as lies within the corporate limits of said city, or county outside of said city: Provided, That all expenses either in money, material or labor necessary for the opening, improvement or keeping in repair of said roads shall be borne jointly and equally by the townships or township and city or town contiguous thereto.

Receipt of report.

(6271) § 12. If, on receiving such report, and there being no legal objection thereto, and the commissioners interested, or a majority of them, shall be of the opinion that said road, if established, altered or vacated, would be of public utility, they shall order the same to be done in the manner provided in this act.

Compensation.

(6272) § 13, All persons required to render service under this act shall receive compensation for each day they shall necessarily be employed as follows, to-wit: Viewers and chain-carriers, one dollar each, to be charged as costs and expenses and paid out of the county treasury on order of the commissioners.

Notice of opening, duties of road overseer.

(6273) § 14. It shall be the duty of each and every road-overseer, to open or cause to be opened all roads and highways which have been or may hereafter be laid out or established throughout any part of the district assigned to such over-seer, first giving notice to the owner or owners, or their agent or agents if residing in the county, or if such owner be a minor, idiot, or insane person, then to the guardian of such person if a resident of the county, through whose enclosure or cultivated lands such road is laid out or established, notifying such owners aforesaid to open said road through their lands within ninety days after service of such notice; and if the person or persons so notified do not open such road within the time named in such notice, it shall be lawful for such over-seer, or any person under his direction, to enter upon said lands and open said road: Provided, That if such notice be given between the first day of March and the first day of October, the notice shall designate the first day of January next as the time of opening such road, and the over-seer shall keep the same in repair, and remove or cause to be removed, all obstructions that may from time to time be found thereon, for which purpose the over-seer is hereby authorized to enter upon any uncultivated land unencumbered by a crop, near or adjoining a public road, to dig and carry away any gravel, sand or stone, and to purchase any timber which may be necessary to improve or repair said road and to enter upon any land adjoining or lying near to said road, to make such drains or ditches through the same as he may deem necessary for the benefit of the roads, doing as little damage to said lands as the nature of the case and the public good will permit, and the drains and ditches thus made shall be kept open by the overseer, if necessary, and shall not be obstructed by the owner or occupants of said land, or by any other person, under the penalty of being fined not exceeding ten dollars for each offense, before any justice of the peace of the county. Any overseer, who shall take away any gravel or stone for the purpose of repairing any road, or for building or repairing any bridge, shall, upon demand of the owner, give a certificate showing the quantity and value thereof, and the time when taken, and upon the presentation of such certificate to the trustee of the township in which such road or bridge is situated, the owner of such certificate shall be allowed by the township trustee such compensation as may be just and equitable.

Posts and guide boards

(6274) § 15. Each over-seer within his district shall erect and keep up at the expense of the township posts and guide boards at the forks of all public roads containing an inscription in legible letters directing the way and warning the distance to the nearest towns or cities situated on said roads;and any road over-seer, failing to do so in a reasonable time, not to exceed six months, shall, upon conviction thereof before any justice of the peace of the proper county, be fined in any sum not exceeding five dollars with costs of suit; and such fine when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury for school purposes.

Streets, etc., highways.

(6275) § 16. All avenues, streets and alleys in cities which are or may hereafter be laid out agreeable to law, shall be and are hereby declared public highways: Provided, That the municipal authorities of any incorporated city may make or ordain and enforce such ordinances concerning the sidewalks of the streets of such city as shall be deemed necessary to prevent such sidewalk from being used for the passage of horses, wagons or carriages, or hitching horses or other animals thereon.

Cities, road district, duties of overseer, streets worked.

(6276) § 17. Each incorporated city of more than three hundred inhabitants, shall constitute a separate road district, and the corporate authorities of such corporation, shall have power to appoint a road over-seer for such corporation, fix his term of office and compensation and remove him from office for any misconduct, and shall require him to give bond with good security for the faithful discharge of his duties, and for the safe keeping and proper use of any money or property that may come into his hands or custody, and to use the same in the manner directed by the corporation, and such over-seers shall do and perform all the duties in the same manner and under the same instructions and limitations as are provided for the government of over-seers in this act, except as herein otherwise provided; and the said corporate authorities of any such city are authorized and empowered to use the four days work provided for by this act, or the money paid by persons in the discharge of the same, in paving, macadamizing or grading the streets or alleys in such city in any manner provided by ordinance or resolution of any corporation: Provided, Such work or moneys shall be applied first to the most public streets not macadamized or graded, and that the work required to be done as provided for in this act, shall be done between the first day of March and the first day of December of each year, and such city shall have the power to pass any law or ordinance necessary to carry out fully the provisions of this act.

Penalty.

(6277) § 18. If any person shall wilfully demolish, throw down, alter or deface any mile-stone or guide-board, on or at the forks of any roads, or shall wilfully obstruct any such road by any means or in any manner whatever, every person so offending shall, on conviction, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punishished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months or by a fine of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment, which fine shall be paid by the officer receiving the same into the county treasury for school purposes. And every person obstructing any such road as aforesaid, shall also be liable in a civil action for all damages sustained by any person who has in any manner whatever been damaged by reason of such obstruction.

Road work.

(6278) § 19. All male persons between twenty-one and forty-five years of age, who have resided thirty days in this Territory, who are capable of performing labor on public highways, and who are not a township or a county charge, shall be liable each year to perform four days work of eight hours each on the public roads, under the direction of the road over-seer within whose district they may respectively reside, or furnish a substitute to do the same, or pay the sum of one dollar per day to said road over-seer, who shall receipt for the same, and expend it in repair on the public roads within his district; and any moneys so received and not expended shall be paid over to his successor in office, who shall expend the same as above provided: Provided, That one dollar per day shall be allowed for a team when used at the discretion of the supervisor.

Notice.

(6279) § 20. The over-seer of highways in each road district shall give notice to persons residing in his district liable to or charged with a road tax, of the time and place he will attend and direct the work to be performed as aforesaid. The over-seer may direct what impliments such person shall bring with which to perform such work.

Performance, penalty.

(6280) § 21. Whenever it shall happen in consequence of sickness, or absence from home, or from any other cause, that the four days work aforesaid shall not be performed within the time specified in this act, the overseer shall be authorized to require the performance of such work at any time prior to the first day of December then next ensuing; and in case any person shall neglect or refuse to do the four days work or furnish a substitute, or pay the sum of one dollar per day, as provided in this act, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined in the sum of five dollars for each refusal so to work, upon conviction before any justice of the peace of the township. If any person shall appear at the proper time and place as directed by the overseer, and neglect or refuse to do a reasonable days work according to his ability he shall be liable the same as if he neglected or refused to appear or furnish a substitute or pay the said sum of money as provided herein.

Road tax.

(6281) § 22. The county commissioners of each county by and with the consent of the respective township trustees, may at the time prescribed by law for levying county taxes, levy a road tax of not more than five mills on the dollar on all taxable property in their respective townships, except the real estate in incorporated city of over two thousand inhabitants, and the said tax may be paid in labor under the direction of the over-seer of the district in which the property is situated, by any able bodied man at the rate of one dollar per day and the same amount shall be allowed for horse-team and wagon, or team and plow.

Duty of county clerk.

(6282) § 23. It shall be the duty of the county clerk, after such tax has been levied, to furnish to each township trustee a list of all taxable real estate, and persons charged with taxes on personal property within their respective townships, and the amount of road tax chargeable to each tract or person, said list to be furnished on or before the first day of January of each year.

Duty of township trustee.

(6283) § 24. The trustees of the several townships, after receiving the list mentioned in the preceding section, shall proceed to make out lists of all the taxable real estate, and all persons charged with taxes on personal property, with the amount of road tax chargeable to each tract and person within the various road districts, and deliver the same to the overseer of such districts on or before the first day of March of each year.

Unpaid taxes.

(6284) § 25. All road taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of December shall be returned by the road overseer to the township trustees or to the city clerk in such cities of over two thousand [inhabitants] as have township organization. The township trustee or city clerk shall on or before the fifteenth day of December return all such delinquent road taxes to the county clerk, who shall charge the same against the respective lands, lots or personal property on the county tax roll for the current year.

Road work, receipt.

(6285) § 26. It shall be the duty of each road over-seer to receipt to each person who performs labor on the public highways of the district under the provisions of this act, for the amount of labor so performed; and he shall specify the land or land or the persons for which such labor was the payment of the road tax, which receipt shall be received by the county treasurer in payment of road taxes charged against lands or persons described therein for the year; and in case the labor performed by any person shall exceed the amount of road tax which such person wishes to pay for that year, the road overseer shall give such person a certificate showing that such person has performed such amount of labor, which certificate shall be received by the county treasurer in payment of such person's road tax for the following year; and the county treasurer shall receive no per centum on the amount of road taxes thus paid and receipted.

Obstructed highways.

(6286) § 27. If at any time any highway shall be obstructed or become impassable, or any bridge be impaired so as to be unsafe; it shall be the duty of the overseer of the district in which such obstruction, impassable road or impaired bridge may be situated, to cause such obstruction to be removed, or such road or bridge to be repaired forthwith; for such purpose he shall order out such number of persons liable for road tax in his district as will be necessary to make said repairs; and every person so ordered out, who shall refuse or neglect to attend with proper implements, or shall spend the time in idleness after reporting for labor, shall be liable to a fine of five dollars.

Width of roads.

(6287) § 28. The width of all roads shall be determined by viewers at the time of establishing the same, and shall not be more than eighty or less than sixty feet.

Petition for outlet.

(6288) § 29. That whenever the premises of any person in this Territory shall be so completely surrounded by adjoining lands, by the property of other persons as to be without access to any public highway, then such person may petition the board of county commissioners of the county in which such premises lie, for a road through some portion of the of the adjoining lands, and the board shall, on the presentation of such petition, proceed in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing sections to lay out such road, make return of plats and allow damages, if any should be held or allowed: Provided, Said road shall not exceed twenty-five feet in width and be laid out upon a half section line when practicable.

Report of overseer, penalty.

(6289) § 30. Each over-seer shall, on or before the twentieth day of March of each year, report to the township trustee the names of all persons subject to the four days road tax for the preceding year, the names of those who have worked out said tax, the names of those who have paid said tax in money, and the names of those delinquent; and also all moneys received by him from all sources, and how expended, and the account of said road over-seer of work performed by himself, which report shall be approved by said trustee before any final settlement shall be made with such road over-seer. Each and every road over-seer or other officer, who shall neglect or refuse to perform the several duties enjoined upon him by this act, or who shall under any pretense whatever, give or sign a receipt or certificate for labor performed or money paid unless the labor shall have been performed or money paid prior to the signing or giving of such receipt or certificate, every over-seer so offending shall forfeit for every suchoffense not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, to be recovered by an action before any justice of the peace within the township where such overseer may reside; and it is hereby made the duty of every county attorney to prosecute all offenses against the provisions of this act not otherwise provided for.

Fast driving.

(6290) § 31. It shall be the duty of the township trustees of the several townships in each county in this Territory to cause to be put up and kept in good repair at each end of each and every bridge erected by the county upon any highway in their respective townships, a span of not less than twenty-five feet a notice which shall be printed in conspicious [letters] with the following

Chap. 77. words: "Five dollars fine for riding or driving over this bridge faster than a walk."

Penalty. (6291) § 32. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, to ride or drive any horse, mule, ass or ox over any such bridge, faster than a walk, or drive more than fifty head of cattle on such bridge at one time, and any such person who shall so unlawfully ride or drive such horse, ass or ox over such bridge, or drive over the same more than fifty head of cattle at one time, upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine of ten dollars and costs of suit.

Per diem. (6292) § 33. Road over-seers shall be allowed one dollar and fifty cents per day for all services required by this act and actually performed in their respective districts, to be paid in township orders, as other claims are paid: Provided, No over-seer shall receive pay from the township for more than twenty-five days in any one year, and not until he has made the return provided for in section thirty of this act.

Expense. (6293) § 34. All expenses either in money, material, or labor arising from the improvement of any portion of such road, shall be borne jointly by the counties or townships contiguous thereto, as the case may be.

Water marks (6294) § 35. That each road over-seer within his district, shall erect and keep up at the expense of the township, posts or boards at the fords of every river or creek that in high water becomes impassable, which posts shall be set at or near low water mark, on which shall be inscribed in legible letters or plain figures the depth of water at low water, together with a scale of feet showing the scale of feet above low water mark to the height which said stream is known to have ever risen.

Road taxes how and for what purpose applied. (6295) § 36. The township trustees shall receive from the county treasurer the road taxes paid within their respective townships, and they shall be appropriated to the building of bridges, culverts, repairing of roads and the purchasing of necessary plows and scrapers for repairing roads within the respective road districts from which the same was collected under the supervision of the road overseer of such road district.

ARTICLE 2.—DUTIES OF TRAVELLERS.

AN ACT Defining the Duties of Persons Using the Public Highways.

[Took effect December 18, 1890.]

SECTION.
1. Method of passing.
2. Same, fine
3. Drunken drivers,
4 Teams not tied.
5. Injury to passengers.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma:

Method of passing. (6296) § 1. Whenever any persons shall meet each other on any bridge or road, travelling with carriages, wagons, sleds, sleighs or other vehicle, each shall pass to the right of the middle of the travelled part of such bridge or road, so that the respective carriages or other vehicle aforesaid may pass each other without interference.

Same, fine.

(6297) § 2. Each person offending against the provisions of the preceding section shall for each offence be fined in a sum not exceeding ten dollars, and shall be liable to the party injured for all damages sustained by reason of such offense.

Drunken drivers.

(6298) § 3. No person owning or having the direction or control of any coach or other vehicle running or travelling upon any or any of the streets or alleys of any town, village or city in this Territory for the conveyance of passengers, shall employ or continue in employment any person to drive such coach or other vehicle, who is addicted to drunkenness or to the excessive use of intoxicating liquors; and if any such person shall violate the provisions of this section, he shall forfeit a sum not less than ten and not exceeding fifty dollacs, and shall be liable for all damages sustained.

Teams not tied.

(6299) § 4. It shall not be lawful for the driver of any carriage or other vehicle to leave the horses attached thereto upon any street or public highway without making such horses fast with a sufficient halter, rope or chain, or without some suitable person to take the charge or guidance of them so as to prevent their running, and if any such driver shall violate the provisions of this section, he and his employer or employers, jointly and severally, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding twenty dollars, but no prosecution shall be commenced therefor after the expiration of three months from the time of committing the offence.

Injury to passengers.

(6300) § 5. The owners of any carriage or other vehicle running or travelling upon any road, street or alley, for the conveyance of passengers or other persons for hire, shall be liable jointly and severally to the party injuried in all cases for all damages done by any person in the employment of such persons as driver while driving such carriage or vehicle to any person or to the property of any person, whether the act occasioned such injury or damage be wilful, negligent or otherwise, in the same manner as such driver would be liable.

Sale defined.

(6301) § 1. Sale is a contract by which, for a pecuniary consideration, called a price, one transfers to an another an interest in property.

Subjects of sale.

(6302) § 2. The subject of sale must be property, the title to which can be immediately transferred from the seller to the buyer.

Classes of agreements for sale.

(6303) § 3. An agreement for sale is either:

First. An agreement to sell.

Second. An agreement to buy; or,

Third. A mutual agreement to sell and buy.

Agreement to sell defined.

(6304) § 4. An agreement to sell is a contract by which one engages, for a price, to transfer to another the title to a certain thing.

Agreement to buy defined.

(6305) § 5. An agreement to buy is a contract by which one engages to accept from another and pay a price for the title to a certain thing.

Agreement to sell and buy

(6306) § 6. An agreement to sell and buy is a contract by which one engages to transfer the title to a certain thing to another, who engages to accept the same from him, and to pay a price therefor.

What is subject of the contract

(6307) § 7. Any property which, if in existence, might be the subject of sale, may be the subject of an agreement for a sale, whether in existence or not.

Sale of realty.

(6308) § 8. An agreement to sell real property binds the seller to execute a conveyance in form sufficient to pass the title to the property.

Agreement to give usual covenants.

(6309) § 9. An agreement on the part of a seller of real property to give the usual convenants, binds him to insert in the grant, covenants of seizin, quiet enjoyment, further assurance. general warranty, and against incumbrances.

Substance of the covenants

(6310) § 10. The covenants mentioned in the last section must be in substance, as follows;

The party of the first part covenants with the party of the second part that the former is now seized in fee simple of the property granted; that the latter shall enjoy the same without any lawful disturbance; that the same is free from all incumbrances; that the party of the first part, and all persons acquiring any interest in the same through or for him, will, on demand, execute and deliver to the party of the second part, at the expense of the latter, any further assurance of the same that may be reasonably required; and that the party of the first part will warrant to the party of the second part all the said property against every person lawfully claiming the same.

Statute of frauds, personal property.

(6311) § 11. No sale of personal property, or agreement to buy or sell it for a price of fifty dollars or more, is valid unless:

First. The agreement or some note or a memorandum thereof be in writing, and subscribed by the party to be charged, or by his agent; or,

Second. The buyer accepts and receives part of the things sold, or when it consists of a thing in action, part the evidences thereof, or some of them; or,

Third. The buyer, at the time of sale, pays a part of the price.

Contract for manufacture.

(6312) § 12. An agreement to manufacture a thing from materials furnished by the manufacturer or by another person, is not within the provisions of the last section.

Contract for sale of real property.

(6313) § 13. No agreement for the sale of real property, or of an interest therein, is valid unless the same, or some note or memorandum thereof, be in writing, and subscribed by the party to be charged, or his agent thereunto authorized in writing; but this does not abridge the power of any court to compel the specific performance of any agreement for the sale of real property in case of part performance thereof.

Form of transfer.

(6314) § 14. The form of a transfer of real property is described by the chapter on such transfers.

Rights and Duties Before Delivery

SECTION.
1. Seller acts as depositary.
2. Seller may resell.

Delivery.

SECTION.
3. Delivery on demand.
4. Delivery, where.
5 Expense of transportation.
6. Notice of option.
7. Buyer's directions govern.
8. Reasonable hours.

Warranty.

SECTION.
9. Warranty defined.
10. Not implied by sale.
11. Warranty of title to personalty.
12. Warranty of quality by sample.
13. Seller knows buyer relies on him.
14. Merchandise not in existence.
15. Warranty against latent defects.
16. Fit for purpose.
17. Inaccessible merchandise
18. Trade-mark genuine.
19. Marks of quality.
20. Validity of instrument.
21. Food sound and wholesome
22. Sale of good-will.
23. Upon judicial sale.
24. General warranty.

Seller acts as depositary.

(6315) § 1. After personal property has been sold, and until the delivery is completed, the seller has the rights and obligations of a depositary for hire, except that he must keep the property without charge, until the buyer has had a reasonable opportunity to remove it.

Seller may re-sell

(6316) § 2. If a buyer of personal property does not pay for it according to contract, and it remains in the possession of the seller, after payment is due, the seller may rescind the sale, or may enforce his lien for the price in the manner prescribed by the chapter on liens.

Delivery on demand

(6317) § 3. One who sells personal property, whether it was in his possession at the time of sale or not, must put it into a condition fit for delivery, and deliver it to the buyer within a reasonable time after demand, unless he has a lien thereon.

Delivery where.

(6318) § 4. Personal property sold is deliverable at the place where it is at the time of sale or agreement to sell, or, if it is not then in existence, it is deliverable at the place where it is produced.

Expense of transportation

(6319) § 5. One who sells personal property must bring it to his own door, or other convenient place for its acceptance by the buyer, but further transportation is at the risk and expense of the buyer.

Notice of option.

(6320) § 6. When either party to a contract of sale has an option as to the time, place or manner of delivery, he must give the other party reasonable notice of his choice, and if he does not give such notice within a reasonable time, his right of option is waived.

Buyers directions govern sending

(6321) § 7. If a seller agrees to send the thing sold to the buyer, he must follow the directions of the latter as to the manner of sending, or it will be at his own risk during its transportation. If he follows such directions, or if in the absence of special directions he uses ordinary care in forwarding the thing it is at the risk of the buyer.

Reasonable hours

(6322) § 8. The delivery of a thing sold can be offered or demanded only within reasonable hours of the day.

Warranty defined

(6323) § 9. A warranty is an engagement by which a seller assures to a buyer the existence of some fact affecting the transaction, whether past, present or future.

Not implied by mere sale.

(6324) § 10. Except as prescribed by this article, a mere contract of sale or agreement to sell does not imply a warranty.

Warranty of title to personalty.

(6325) § 11. One who sells or agrees to sell personal property, as his own, thereby warrants that he has a good and unimcumbered title thereto.

Warranty of quality by sample.

(6326) § 12. One who sells or agrees to sell goods by sample, thereby warrants the bulk to be equal to the sample.

Seller knows buyer relies on him.

(6327) § 13. One who sells or agrees to sell personal property, knowing that the buyer relies upon his advice or judgment, thereby warrants to the buyer that neither the seller, nor any agent employed by him in the transaction, knows the existence of any fact concerning the thing sold which would, to his knowledge, destroy the buyer's inducement to buy.

Merchandise not in existence.

(6328) § 14. One who agrees to sell merchandise not then in existence, thereby warrants that it shall be sound and merchantable at the place of production contemplated by the parties, and as nearly so, at the place of delivery, as can be secured by reasonable care.

War rant against latent defects

(6329) § 15. One who sells or agrees to sell an article of his own manufacture, thereby warrants it to be free from any latent defect, not disclosed to the buyer, arising from the process of manufacture, and also that neither he nor his agent in such manufacture has knowingly used improper materials therein.

Fit for purpose.

(6330) § 16. One who manufactures an article under an order for a particular purpose, warrants by the sale that it is reasonably fit for that purpose.

Inaccessible merchandise.

(6331) § 17. One who sells or agrees to sell merchandise inaccessible to the examination of the buyer, thereby warrants that it is sound and merchantable.

Trade-mark genuine.

(6332) § 18. One who sells or agrees to sell any article to which there ls affixed or attached a trade mark, thereby warrants that mark to be genuine and lawfully used.

Marks of quality.

(6333) § 19. One who sells or agrees to sell any article to which there is affixed or attached a statement or mark to express the quantity or quality thereof, or the place where it was in whole or in part produced, manufactured or prepared, thereby warrants the truth thereof.

Validity of instrument

(6334) § 20. One who sells or agrees to sell an instrument purporting to bind any one to the performance of an act, thereby warrants the instrument to be what it purports to be, and to be binding according to its purport upon all the parties thereto, and also warrants that he has no knowledge of any facts which tend to prove it worthless, such as the insolvency of any of the parties thereto, where that is material, the extinction of its obligations or its invalidity for any cause.

Food sound and wholesome.

(6335) § 21. One who makes a business of selling provisions for domestic use, warrants, by a sale thereof, to one who buys for actual consumption, and not for the purpose of sale, that they are sound and wholesome.

Sale of good will.

(6336) § 22. One who sells the good-will of a business, thereby warrants that he will not endeavor to draw off any of the customers.

Upon judicial sale

(6337) § 23. Upon a judicial sale, the only warranty implied is that the seller does not know that the sale will not pass a good title to the property.

General warranty.

(6338) § 24. A general warranty does not extend to defects inconsistent therewith, of which the buyer was then aware, or which were then easily discernible by him, without the exercise of peculiar skill; but it extends to all other defects.

ARTICLE 3.—RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE BUYER.

SECTION.
1. Buyer to pay and take away.
2. Right to inspect.
3. Buyer may rescind, when.

Buyer to pay and take away.

(6339) § 1. A buyer must pay the price of the thing, sold on its delivery, and must take it away within a reasonable time after the seller offers to deliver it.

Right to inspect.

(6340) § 2. On an agreement for sale, with warranty, the buyer has a right to inspect the thing sold, at a reasonable time before accepting it, and may rescind the contract if the seller refuses to permit him to do so.

Buyer may rescind for breach of warranty

(6341) § 3. The breach of a warranty entitles the buyer to rescind an agreement for sale, but not and executed sale, unless the warranty was intended by the parties to operate as a condition.

ARTICLE 4.—SALE BY AUCTION.

SECTION.
1. Sale by auction defined.
2. Sale complete, when.
3. Withdrawal of bid.
4. Sale within conditions.
5 Absolute right of bidder.
6. Bidding by agent of seller.
7. Auctioneer's memorandum.

Sale by auction defined.

(6342) § 1. A sale by auction is a sale by public outcry to the highest bidder on the spot.

When sale is complete.

(6343) § 2. A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer publicly announces, by the fall of his hammer, or any other customary manner, that the thing is sold.

Withdrawal of bid.

(6344) § 3. Until the announcement mentioned in the last section has been made, any bidder may withdraw his bid, if he does so in a manner reasonably sufficient to bring it to the notice of the auctioneer.

Sale within conditions.

(6345) § 4. When a sale by auction is made upon written or printed conditions, such conditions cannot be modified by any oral declaration of the auctioner, except so far as they are for his own benefit.

Absolute right of bidder.

(6346) § 5. If, at a sale by auction, the auctioneer having authority to do so, publicly announces that the sale will be without reserve, or makes any announcement equivalent thereto, the highest bidder in good faith has an absolute right to the completion of the sale to him; and upon such a sale, bids by the seller or any agents for him are void.

Bidding by request of seller, fraud.

(6347) § 6. The employment by a seller at a sale of auction, without the knowledge of the buyer, of any person to bid at the sale, without an intention on the part of such bidder to buy, and on the part of the seller to enforce his bid as a fraud upon the buyer which entitles him to rescind his purchase.

Auctioneer's memorandum.

(6348) § 7. When property is sold by auction an entry made by the auctioneer in his sale book, of the time of the sale, specifying the name of the person for whom he sells, the thing sold, the price, the terms of sale, and the name of the buyer, binds both parties in the same manner as if made by themselves.

ARTICLE 5.—EXCHANGE.

SECTION.
1. Exchange defined,
2. Validity of contract.
3. Each party a seller
4. Warranty as to money.

Exchange defined

(6349) § 1. Exchange is a contract by which the parties mutually give, or agree to give, one thing for another, neither thing, or both things, being money only.

Validity of contract

(6350) § 2. The provisions of section 6311 apply to all exchanges in which the value of the thing to be given by either party is fifty dollars or more.

Each party is a seller.

(6351) § 3. The provisions of the title on sale apply to exchanges. Each party has the rights and obligations of a seller as to the thing which he gives, and of a buyer as to that what he takes.

Warranty that money is genuine.

(6352) § 4. On an exchange of money, each party thereby warrants the genuineness of the money given by him.

Appointment.

(6384) § 1. Within ten days after the passage and approval of this act, the Governor shall appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Territorial Council, a Territorial superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall hold his office for the term of two years and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

Vacancy.

(6385) § 2. When a vacancy shall occur in the office of the Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction, by death, resignation or otherwise, the Governor shall appoint, as soon as practicable, some person to fill the vacancy, and the person receiving such appointment shall qualify as required by law before entering upon the discharge of the duties of the office and shall hold his office until his successor is appointed and qualified.

Official qualifications.

(6386) § 3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, before he enteres upon the duties of office, take and subscribe to the proper oath of office, and shall execute to the Territory of Oklahoma a bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by the executive council, or in case there is no executive council, then by the Governor, conditioned that he shall faithfully perform the duties of said office, which oath and bond shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Territory. [Amended to read as follows]: The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe to the proper oath of office, and shall execute to the Territory of Oklahoma two bonds in the sum of five thousand dollars each, with two or more sufficient sureties to be approved by the Governor and Secretary of the Territory. One of such bonds as ex-officio Territorial Auditor, and the other as Superintendent of Public Instruction, conditioned that he shall faithfully perform the duties of said offices. Each oath and bonds shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Territory.

General duties.

(6387) § 4. The educational interests of the Territory shall be under the supervision and management of the Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction, subject to such limitations and restrictions as are or may be prescribed by law; and he shall have and exercise the powers and perform the duties pertaining to such office.

Apportionment.

(6388) § 5. Such Territorial Superintendent shall apportion the income of the Territorial school fund and the annual taxes collected by the Territory for the support of public schools to those counties of the Territory from which proper reports have been received by said Territorial Superintendent. Such apportionment shall be made as follows: All such moneys remaining in the Territorial treasury on the fifteenth day of January shall be apportioned between the fifteenth and last day of such month, and that remaining on the fifteenth of July shall be apportioned between the fifteenth and last day of such month. The apportionment to each county shall be made in proportion to the number of children over the age of six years and under the age of twenty-one years resident therein, as shown by the last annual report of the county superintendent to the Territorial Superintendent. Such superintendent in distributing all funds mentioned in this section shall draw his order on the Territorial Secretary or other officer having custody of such fund, in favor of the county treasurers of the counties respectively entitled to school moneys for the amount of such moneys apportioned to his county, and certify the amount of such order to the Territorial Secretary, and also to the county clerk and superintendent of the proper county: Provided, That the federal appropriation made shall be apportioned under the direction of the Governor, after the passage of this act, to the several counties in proportion to the number of children of school age shown by the national census.

Official opinions.

(6389) § 6. Such Superintendent shall at the request of any county or city superintendent give his opinion upon a written statement of facts on all questions and controversies arising out of the interpretation and construction of the school laws in regard to the rights, powers and duties of township and city boards, school officers and county superintendents, and shall keep a record of all such opinions. Before giving any opinion which involves the construction of the school law, the superintendent shall submit the statement of facts to the Attorney General forthwith, for his opinion thereon, to examine such statement and suggest the proper opinion to be made upon such facts.

School laws and blanks.

(6390) § 7. Such Superintendent not more than once in two years may publish the school laws in force, with such forms, regulations, instructions and decisions as he may judge expedient, thereto annexed and shall cause the same to be forwarded to the persons entitled to receive them. He shall prescribe and cause to be prepared all forms and blanks necessary in the details of the public school system, so as to secure its uniform operation throughout the Territory, and shall cause the same to be forwarded to the several county and city superintendents, to be by them distributed to the several persons or officers entitled to receive the same:

Provided, That as soon after the passage of this act as practicable, the Secretary of the Territory shall publish and distribute the school laws as provided in this act.

Visitation.

(6391) § 8. It shall be the duty of such Superintendent to visit each county in the Territory at least once in each year, and as much oftener as may be consistent with the discharge of his duties, for the purpose of advancing and promoting the cause of education throughout the Territory, and to open such correspondence as may enable him to obtain all necessary information relating to the system of schools in other states.

Office.

(6392) § 9. Such Superintendent shall have an office at the seat of Government, where he shall keep all books and papers pertaining to the duties of his office, and all books, school and other, and all apparatus, maps and charts belonging to the office of the Territorial Superintendent, and such as may hereafter be received for such office by purchase, exchange or otherwise, shall be kept and preserved in such office, and delivered by the Superintendent to his successor. He shall file and carefully preserve in his office, the official reports made to him by the county superintendents of the several counties, trustees or directors of academies, graded schools or colleges.

Biennial reports.

(6393) § 10. The Superintendent shall on the first day of December preceding each regular session of the Legislature, make out and deliver to the Governor a report containing:

First. A statement of the number of public schools in the Territotry, the number of pupils attending the same, their sex, and the branches taught; a statement of the number of private schools in the Territory, so far as the same can be ascertained, and the number of pupils attending the same, their sex, and the branches taught; a statement of the normal schools in the Territory, and the number of students attending them, the number of academies and colleges in the Territory, the number of students and their sex, attending them, and such other matters of interest as he may deem expedient, drawn from the reports of the county superintendents of the several counties in the Territory, and from other reports received on the subject of education from the trustees or other school boards within the Territory.

Second. A statement of the condition of the public school funds of the Territory, including moneys, school lands or other property held in trust by the Territory for the support of the public schools, and giving a full statement of the school land account of each county.

Third. A statement of the receipts and expenditures of the year.

Fourth. A statement of plans for the management and improvement of public schools, and such other information relating to the educational interests of the Territory as he may deem important.

Salary

(6394) § 11. The Territorial Superintendent shall receive a salary of twelve hundred dollars per annum, the same to be audited and paid by the Territory as salaries and contingent expenses of other Territorial officers are paid.

Election

(6405) § 1. The Governor of the Territory shall call an election to be held within thirty days after the passage and approval of this act, at which election school boards shall be elected as follows, to wit: The qualified voters of each township shall meet at the proper or designated precinct and elect by ballot from the township at large one person as president of the school board who shall serve to the close of the current school year. Also at the same voting precinct in each township on the same day and in the same manner the qualified voters of each district shall elect one member of the school board from their district. The members in districts one and three shall serve to the close of the current year; those elected in districts two and four shall serve to the close of the second year. And also on the same day and in the same manner, and for the same length of term as stated in the foregoing part of this section, a president shall be elected in every city. Also one member of the school board shall be elected from each ward. The members elected in first, third and fifth wards shall serve to the close of the current school year; those elected in second, fourth and sixth wards shall serve to the close of the second school year. In all elections for school purposes of any kind, whatsoever, all persons possessing the qualifications of electors residing in such district, or school township, shall be entitled to vote without distinction of sex.

Annual election

(6406) § 2. On the first Tuesday of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and annually thereafter, an election shall be held as prescribed in the preceding section to fill such vacancies of the school boards as shall occur by virtue of the expiration of the term of office to which said members were elected, the president serving three years and the members elected from districts and wards serving two years respectively: Provided,

Chap. 79.

That members elected at the first election shall serve as stated in section fifty-three: And provided also, That in cities no member of the school board shall be a member of the town or city council.

Vacancy

(6407) § 3. The county superintendent shall have power to fill any vacancy which may occur in any school board: Provided, That any vacancy occurring more than ten days previous to the annual election and having an unexpired term of one year, shall be filled at the first annual election thereafter; and the ballots and the returns of election shall be designated as follows: "To fill unexpired term."

Enumeration lists.

(6428) § 13. The school board of each township and city shall, between the first and fifteenth days of May of each year, take or cause to be taken, and forwarded to the county clerk, an enumeration of the names of all persons between the age of six and twenty-one resident within the township or city, designating male and female, white, colored and indians; and the board shall also take, or cause to be taken, an alphabetical list of the resident tax-payers of said township or city and forward the same to the county clerk within the time specified in this section, and the secretary of the board shall enter the same upon the records of the township or city, together with the date that such lists were forwarded as herein provided; and should the board neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of this section, each member so in default shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars,

Assessment and collection.

(6429) § 14. The county clerk shall upon the property liable to taxation for Territory and county purposes, make the proper computation of annual school tax levied by the school board, in the same manner as for Territorial and county revenue, and shall place the amount of said tax on the tax list, and duplicate thereof, as other taxes are entered, in appropriate columns; and said tax shall be collected by the county treasurer, as other taxes are collected.

Property.

(6430) § 1. The titles of all property held for the use or benefit of the public schools shall be vested in the school boards and held by them in trust for the city or township, and the school board may sue in its own name for all money due, or to become due, to the board or the school fund; and for any trespass upon or injury or damage to any of the school property of said township or city for the benefit of the school fund of such township or city.

Sale of property.

(6431) § 2. No school property of any kind shall be sold or

Chap. 79. be conveyed by any school board, except at a regular meeting of the same, and not then without an affirmative recorded vote of at least two-thirds of all the members of said board, and no real estate shall be sold unless authorized by a majority vote of the electors of the township or city.

Exemptions. (6432) § 3. All property held by the board of education for the use of public schools shall be exempt from taxation and shall not be taken in any manner for any debt due from the city or township.

Site condemned. (6433) § 4. In case any township or city school board cannot by purchase by [at] reasonable rates, or by donation or otherwise obtain title to the site selected by such school board; or if it be deemed advisable by such school board to add other ground to any school house site already selected; or if, in good faith, but by mistake or otherwise, a school house has been or shall be erected wholly or partially upon any land or lot to which said school board at the time of erection of such building, or any addition thereto, had not acquired title, then, in any such cases, upon the written application of said board, or a majority of the board, it shall be the duty of the probate judge of the county in which such school site is situated to appoint three disinterested free holders of such county or city, and not residents of the school district or ward containing said site, to condemn and appraise such site or addition thereto, who shall take an oath for the faithful performance thereof, and in case such land or lot so condemned, shall be an original selection for the school house site the amount so condemned and appraised shall not exceed one and one-half acres, and if it be for an addition to an existing site, the additional amount condemned and appraised shall not with the original site exceed one and one-half acres. Immediately after their appointment, such appraisers shall proceed to condemn and appraise the value of the sites selected or the addition to such existing sites. And they shall within ten days thereafter make and sign a report describing the land or lot so condemned, the purpose for which it was so condemned and the appraised value thereof, which report shall be by them filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which such land or lot is situated, and by such register duly recorded as other instruments of writing affecting the title to real estate are recorded. In appraising any school house site, or addition thereto, to which such school, township or city had not title at the time of erecting thereon any school house or addition thereto, said appraisers shall exclude from their appraisement the value of such school house or addition, and appraise such land or lot at its value exclusive of such building, addition or other improvements placed thereon in good faith, but by mistake of said school board. Within thirty days after the report of said appraisers is filed in the office of the register of deeds, the school board of such township or city, shall pay to the county treasurer of the county in which such condemned land or lot is situated, the amount of the appraised value thereof, and also fifty cents for said register of deeds for recording said report. And upon such payment being made to such county treasurer by by such township or city school board, the title to such site or addition shall vest in such school board. The owner of the land or lot condemned, or the school board, may appeal from such appraisement to the district court in the same time and manner that appeals are taken from judgment of justices of the peace in civil action. Chap. 79.

ARTICLE 11.—TERRITORIAL OR PERMANENT SCHOOL FUNDS.

SECTION.
1. Territorial or permanent funds.
2. Annual taxation.
3. County school fund.
4. County clerk.
5. Joint district fund.
6 Justice of the peace.

Territorial or permanent fund.

(6434) § 1. All the land, money, or other property granted or bequeathed, or which may be granted or in any manner conveyed to this Territory for educational purposes, shall be used and expended in accordance with the terms of such grant, bequest or conveyance. The following are hereby declared to be perpetual funds for public school purposes, of which the annual interest or income only can be appropriated, to wit:

First. Such per centum as may hereafter be granted by Congress on the sale of lands in the Territory.

Second. All moneys arising from the sale of sections numbers sixteen and thirty-six in each township in this Territory, and the lands that may be selected in lieu thereof.

Third. The proceeds of all lands that have been or may hereafter be granted to this Territory, whereby the terms and conditions of said grant, the same are not to be otherwise appropriated.

Fourth. The net proceeds of lands and other property and effects that may come to the Territory by escheat, or forfeiture, or for unclaimed dividends, or distributed shares of the estate of deceased persons.

Annual taxation.

(6435) § 2. The county commissioners shall at the time the annual taxes for the Territorial and county purposes are levied, levy on the taxable property of the county, a tax not to exceed one (1) per cent, which shall be collected as other taxes; and the money so realized, together with the proceeds of all moneys collected from fines, forfeitures, penalties, proceeds from the sale of estrays and all moneys paid by persons as equivalent for exemption from military duty, and all moneys collected from marriage licenses, shall constitute a county school fund, and be appropriated exclusively for the purpose of establishing and supporting public school for not less than three nor more than nine months in each year, and defraying current expenses of the same, of every description; and said county school fund, shall be apportioned to each school township in said county in proportion to the number of children over the age of six years and under the age of twenty-one years, resident therein, as shown by the last annual enumeration of the same.

County school fund.

(6436) § 3. In each school district, school township and city, as the case may be, the electors thereof may at the annual election for the choice of members of the school board vote upon the district, township or city, a school tax of not to exceed one (1) per cent for that year, to be used for the purposes named in the preceding section, and for the purpose of building, repairing and improving school houses, of procuring furniture, fuel, libraries and apparatus, and for all other necessary incidental expenses. The secretary of the board shall certify to the county clerk the number of so voted, who is hereby authorized and required to place the mills same on the tax-rolls of said county, as a levy on the taxable property in that district, township or city, to be collected by the treasurer of the county, as other taxes, and payment on orders and warrants drawn by authority of the school board of the district, township or city.

County clerks

(6437) § 4. The county clerk of each county shall, on the first Mondays of January and July of each year, make out and transmit to the county superintendent a true statement of any county school money then in the county treasury.

Joint district fund

(6438) § 5. Whenever it shall appear that any school township in this Territory is situated in two or more counties, it shall be the duty of the treasurer of the counties having the smaller amount of territory in said township to transfer to the treasurer of the county having the greater amount of territory of said township, before the 10th of January, first day of July and 20th of September of each year, all moneys in his hands belonging to said township and the treasurer receiving said money shall issue therefor, and forward to the treasurer so sending the money, receipts in triplicate, one of which said treasurer shall file with the county clerk of the county and the board of county commissioners thereof shall give said treasurer proper credit therefor. One of said receipts shall be sent to the county clerk of the county to which the money was sent, who shall charge the county treasurer with the amount thereof.

Justice of the peace.

(6439) § 6. Each justice of the peace shall report to the county clerk on the first day of January and on the first day of July of each year, the amount received from the proceeds of fines and estrays during the months preceding, and belonging to the school fund of the county, and each justice of the peace, at the time of making his report to the county clerk, shall promptly pay all of such proceeds to the county treasurer, to be apportioned by the superintendent at the next ensuing semi-annual dividend.

(6440) § 1. The Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Territorial Secretary and the Territorial Treasurer shall constitute a board of commissioners for the management and investment of the Territorial permanent school, Territorial Normal School and Territorial University funds. Such board shall be organized as follows: The Secretary of the Territory shall be the president, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be the secretary thereof. In the absence of either of said officers, the Territorial Treasurer shall as president, or secretary, as the case may be. Such commissioners when acting as such, must act personally; no member thereof can be represented in such board or by any other person. Management of school fund.

(6441) § 2. Such board of commissioners shall meet regularly in the office of the Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction on the last Saturday of May and November of each year. Special meetings of the board may be had at any time at the call of any member thereof. Same, meetings (6442) § 3. Said commission shall keep in a suitable book a correct record of all their proceedings at every session of the board, which record shall, at the close of the session be signed by the president and secretary. Record of proceedings.

(6443) § 4. They may also keep such other books as may be necessary to keep the record of their office. Such record books shall be ruled so as to enable the board to register the name, residence and location of persons to whom money belonging to the school fund may be loaned, together with a description of the land upon which it is secured. Same.

(6444) § 5. Whenever there accumulates in the hands of the Territorial Treasurer the sum of one thousand dollars belonging to the permanent school fund of the Territory, it shall be his duty to call said board together, and they shall apportion that money to the various counties of the Territory, in proportion to the scholastic population of each; thereupon it shall be the duty of the Territorial Treasurer to transmit to the treasurer of the various counties, the sum so apportioned to each county, and the treasurer of the county shall hold the same as a part of the permanent school fund of this Territory, to be dealt with as hereinafter provided. It shall be the duty of the auditing officer of the Territory to to notify the county clerks of the various counties Apportionment and transmission that the money has been forwarded to the county treasurer, and the amount thereof, and thereupon the auditing officer of the Territory shall credit the Territorial Treasurer with the money by him so forwarded, and shall charge the same to the various counties to which it is transferred, and the various county clerks shall charge their respective county treasurers therewith as permanent school funds.

Erection of buildings,

(6445) § 6. The Territorial University and Normal Sihool funds, shall for the next five years, be disbursed by the Territorial school fund commissioners in erecting buildings for the Territorial University, the Territorial Normal School and the maintenance of schools therein. Said Territorial University and Normal School funds shall thereafter be disbursed as may be provided by law.

Loan aud security.

(6446) § 7. For the purpose of securing the permanent school fund against loss, and for accumulating interest thereon, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to loan out the permanent school fund forwarded to the county treasury as the same may come into his hands; but no loan to any one person or company shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, nor shall any loan of the permanent school fund be made to the county clerk, county treasurer, or to any of the commissioners. Said loan shall not be made for a shorter time than one year, nor for a longer time than five years. The payment of the money thus borrowed, together with the interest thereon at the rate of not less than six nor more than ten per cent per annum, to be paid semi-annually in advance, shall be secured by promissory notes, executed by the party borrowing and by two good sureties, resident free-holders of the county, and also by first mortgage on unincumbered real estate, which, exclusive of all buildings, is appraised by appraisers as hereinafter provided for, as worth double the amount of money loaned thereon; which such real estate must be located in the county in which such loan is made.

Appraisement of realty

(6447) § 8. The value of the real estate offered as security for money borrowed from the permanent school fund as hereinafter provided, shall be affixed by three appraisers under oath, who shall be selected by the county clerk, and in making the appraisement the appraisers shall not take into consideration any buildings that may be on the land; said appraisers shall be allowed for their services the sum of fifty cents each, to be paid by the party borrowing, and the party borrowing shall also pay for the recording of the mortgage given to secure the loan.

Interest,

(6448) § 9. Interest not paid when due shall bear interest at the same rate as the principal.

Method of obtaining loans.

(6449) § 10. When any person desires to borrow money from the permanent school fund, he shall apply to the county clerk, and if, in the opinion of the clerk, it would be to the interest of the school fund to grant such application, he shall order the necessary papers to be made out to secure the amount to be borrowed, as hereinbefore required; when they are made out they shall be presented to the county clerk, who shall, after he approves the note and sureties, thereon, and the mortgage, endorse thereon, "accepted," and sign his name below the same, he shall also examine the title of any real estate offered as security, and make and preserve an abstract of such title, and cause the land to be appraised as before provided, all of which shall be certified to by him, and submitted to the county commissioners at their first meeting thereafter; he may charge a fee of not exceeding two dollars for making abstracts of title for such tract, which amount shall be paid by the party borrowing. The clerk shall require the borrower to make an affidavit before him, that there are no liens upon nor claims against the land offered as security, that no improvements have been made on said land within the time allowed for filing mecanics' lien therefor and that none are now being make thereon; or if such there be, they are fully paid for; thereupon the clerk shall give to the party borrowing, a copy of the promissory note certified over his hand and official seal, that it is a correct copy of the same which together with the mortgage securing it has been filed in his office, and upon the party presenting said certificate, together with the warrant drawn by the clerk upon the treasurer, shall pay the amount specified in such copy of such note and warrant out of the permanent school funds in his possession, and retain the said copy and warrant and the vouchers for the money so paid out. The county clerk shall file the mortgage for record, and after being duly recorded, shall retain said note and mortgage in his office as part of the record thereof, and shall thereupon notify the auditing officer of the Territory that the loan has been made, giving the name of the borrower, his sureties, and description of the land mortgaged, the amount of the money loaned, and the time for which the loan was made: Provided, The security accepted by the said clerk shall be approved by said board of county commissioners before the borrower shall receive the money so borrowed.

Same, county commissioners.

(6450) § 11. At each regular meeting of the county commissioners, the clerk shall make a full statement of all money received by the county and belonging to the permanent school fund, and of the various applications for loans, and he shall also submit for their examination all notes and mortgages, and abstracts of titles connected therewith, which have come into his possession since the last meeting of the said board. Said board at the first meeting after such papers are submitted to them, shall either approve or disapprove of the said applications for loans, and should they disapprove of any applications for loans, or security thus reported, they may require the applicant to give additional security within thirty days. When any person desires to pay either principal or interest due the school fund, he shall obtain a certificate from the county clerk, specifying the amount due from such person to the permanent school fund, stating whether it is principal or interest or both, and the amount of each, upon the presentation of this certificate to the county treasurer, the treasurer shall receive the amount specified from the person presenting the certificate, and shall endorse on said certificate the date and his name, and upon return to the county clerk of such certificate so endorsed, the party returning it shall have a receipt for the amount so paid, and not otherwise.

Buying in incumbered realty.

(6451) § 12. If by oversight, any portion of the school fund has been loaned upon real estate security, upon which exists a prior incumbrance other than for taxes, the county commissioners shall have authority in their discretion, if they deem it necessary, to remove said prior incumbrance by purchasing the same, in order that said fund may ultimately realize the money secured thereon, and also the amount paid for the prior incumbrance. They are authorized to appropriate so much money out of the permanent school funds, if any there be within their county, as shall be necessary to remove said prior incumbrance: Provided, That said incumbrance in the aggregate shall not exceed one-half the actual value of the real estate.

Assignment of claim.

(6452) § 13. The county commissioners may by resolution direct the county clerk to assign, without recourse, any school fund claim to any person having a lien on the premises incumbered by the school fund loan, upon the full payment of the amount due said fund, but not otherwise.

Renewal of notes and mortgages,

(6453) § 14. Such board may, when deemed necessary, affect the county clerk to examine the securities aforesaid, make abstract of title to the land mortgaged, and make out a complete statement thereof for such board; and under the direction of such board, or committee thereof, to procure the renewal of notes and mortgages by persons desiring to renew, upon such terms, as to time and security, in all respects as in making new loans. Any such agent may, with the consent of such board or committee, take from any person responsible for any loan, any additional security by way of bond or mortgage, or both, in case where the property mortgaged is inadequate security for the sum loaned, and the applicant shall pay all interests and procure a written consent of the securities on the note; but in all cases of renewal of loans, as well as in cases of new loans, abstracts of title shall be presented and filed with the mortgage, which shall show that the title to the mortgaged premises is in the mortgagor, free and clear of any incumbrance or debt.

Default in payment.

(6454) § 15. In case the persons executing said mortgage shall neglect to pay the sums due thereon, or to renew the loan, if due, within thirty days from the time the same becomes due, the county commissioners may cause suit to be brought and prosecuted with the utmost diligence to procure said fund; and in any action in favor of a county for the use of the school fund, an injunction may issue without bond. In any such action where service is made by publication, default and judgment may be entered and enforced without bond. In all such suits the court shall give judgment for the plaintiff for such an amount as part of the costs, as will be sufficient compensation for the plaintiff's attorney in the case, not to exceed ten per cent on the amount for which judgment is rendered, and in no case to exceed twenty-five dollars.

Bidding in property.

(6455) § 16. In case of sales of lands on execution founded on any such mortgage or contract, the county attorney, or other person authorized by said board, shall bid on behalf of the county for the use of the county, such sum as the interests of said county may require, and if struck off to the county, the land shall be held and disposed of by the county board and the proceeds thereof paid to the county treasurer.

School fund credits

(6456) § 17. All contracts, notes and mortgages given to the permanent school fund shall be made payable to the county controlling them; but no such contracts, notes or mortgages shall be invalid because of any technical defect therein, nor because they are made payable to any other payee; but such notes and mortgages shall be held to belong to said connty for the use of said permanent school fund, and suits may be maintained thereon, in the name of the county, with the same effect as if they were regularly and properly drawn to the county.

County treasurer's records.

(6457) § 18. Each county treasurer shall immediately upon receiviag or paying out any money belonging to the school fund, make entry thereof on books kept by him for that purpose, distinguishing between principal and interest, and shall keep a separate account showing all money due the school fund, principal or interest, and designating the amount of each, and from whom due; and his books shall at all times present a clear and intelligent statement of the school funds in his hands, said books shall at all times be open to the inspection of any householder or tax payer in the county.

County clerk's record and statement

(6458) § 19. Each county clerk shall keep in his office, in books provided for that purpose, an account to be known as the permanent school fund account, in which he shall enter all notes, bonds, mortgages and assets of every kind and description which may come into his hands, and he shall open accounts with the county treasurer, in which he shall charge him with all money in his hands at the time his account was opened, and also with all money which may thereafter be paid to the treasurer, as shown by the certificates before provided for, distinguishing between principal and interest, which shall be kept in separate accounts, and shall on the third Monday in May, the first Monday of October, and the third Monday of December, in each and every year, make a complete settlement of the school fund account with the county treasurer, from the time of the last settlement, and at each regular meeting of the board of county commisioners, the county clerk shall submit a full report of his settlement with the county treasurer, and also of all notes, bonds, mortgages and assets of every kind and description, which have come into his hands since the last meeting of the board.

Treasurer and clerk liable.

(6459) § 20. Any county treasurer or clerk, failing or neglecting to perform any of the duties which are required of him by the provisions of this article, shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by civil action in the district court, by the board of county commissioners in the name of the county, the judgment to be entered against the party defendant and his bondsmen, and the proceeds to go to the county school fund.

Time given delinquent debtors.

(6460) § 21. Whenever it shall be evident to the county commissioners that the interest of the school fund will be injured by the immediate foreclosure of any mortgage, or the sale of any

Chap. 79. mortgaged premises, they may give such reasonable time as they may deem for the best interests of the school fund.

School fund, loss.

(6461) § 22. Lapse of time shall in nowise bar any action brought or to be brought, or any contract for any part of the school fund, nor shall such lapse of time prevent a recovery. In all cases where losses occur to the permanent school fund in any of the counties, from any cause whatsoever, the loss shall be sustained by the county, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to order a warrant drawn upon the county funds in the hands of the county treasurer for the amount of such loss. The county clerk when drawing such warrant shall credit the treasurer on behalf of the county fund with that amount and charge him with the sum as a part of the permanent school fund in his hands, and on receipt of such warrant, the treasurer shall transfer from the county fund to the permanent school fund, the amount thereof: If however, The loss so sustained be afterwards recovered from any officer, or his bondsmen, or realized from property mortgaged, it shall be paid into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county fund.

Same, interest.

(6462) § 23. It shall be the duty of the county clerk on the first Monday of May and November of each year, to report to the Territorial auditing officer, the amount of money collected as interest on the permanent school fund, and the county clerk shall at the same time transfer all money received as interest on the loans of the permanent school fund in his county to the county common school fund to be used in the support of common schools in the county, as provided in this act.

Tax sale and mortgage.

(6463) § 24. If any lands upon which there is any school fund mortgage be sold for taxes, such sale shall not defeat or in any manner impair the lien of such mortgage, but the purchaser shall hold the land subject to the lien of the school fund mortgage.

Separate schools.

(6464) § 1. Separate schools for the education of white and colored children may be established in the Territory as follows, and in no other way.

Election.

(6465) § 2. In each county at the first election for township school officers and on the first Tuesday of April, 1891, and on the first Tuesday of April every three years thereafter, there shall be held an election where all persons who are qualified school electors may vote for or against the maintenance of separate schools for white and colored children in said county.

Same, result.

(6466) § 3. If a majority of the votes cast at said election be against the establishment of separate schools in said county, then the white and colored children shall attend the same school in such county; but if a majority of the votes cast be in favor of the establishment of separate schools for white and colored children, then there shall be established such separate schools for white and colored children as hereinafter provided.

Same, provisions for.

(6467) § 4. Not more than twenty days nor less than ten days prior to said election the county commissioners of each county shall appoint in each election precinct in their respective counties two judges and one clerk, whose duty it shall be to hold said election: Provided, That at first election, herein provided for, the election precincts be the same as those designated by the Governor in his proclamation calling an election for delegates to Congress upon November fourth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

Same, returns and canvass.

(6468) § 5. Said judges of election shall within five days after said election make certified returns of the result of said election to the board of county commissioners, who shall within five days after such returns have been made, canvass the same, and publish the result in some newspaper published in their county.

Separate school tax.

(6469) § 6. In all counties in which the electors have voted to establish separate schools for white and colored children, the board of commissioners shall annually levy a tax in addition to the tax provided for in section eighty-six of this act, sufficient to maintain such separate schools

Term.

(6470) § 7. When separate schools are established as provided in this act, the term of school shall be the same in each school in each year and shall be provided with equal school facilities.

Failure to comply.

(6471) § 8. Any failure to comply with any and all the provisions of this act, shall render such act of establishing separate schools void, and immediately all the children of school age in such county shall be admitted to the school or schools of their respective district.

Remedy for grievance

(6472) § 9. Any person aggrieved by any actions on the part of a district or township school board, or board of county commissioners in failing to comply with the provisions of this act, may have his remedy by a writ of mandamus against such district or township school board or board of county commissioners in any court having jurisdiction, and such action may be brought in the name of the party aggrieved or his or her parent or guardian.

ARTICLE 14.—SCHOOL DISTRICTS ESTABLISHED AND SCHOOL SITES LOCATED.

AN ACT Establishing the School Districts for a Public School System in the Territory of Oklahoma, and Providing for Locating the School Sites Therein.

[Took effect October 11, 1890.]

SECTION.
1. School townships
2. School districts.
3. Township organization.
4. Town and city organization.
5. Adjacent Territory.

Chap. 79. Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma.

School township

(6473) § 1. The Territory of Oklahoma is hereby divided into school townships as follows: All boundry lines extending from east to west shall be one-half mile north of and extend parallel with the Congressional township lines east and west, and all bonndary lines extending north and south shall be one-half miles east of and extend parallel with the Congressional township lines north and south.

School districts.

(6474) § 2. Each school township shall be divided into four districts of equal size and square form with site for school building fixed as near the center as practicable. But school houses already built shall remain as at present located until changed to the center by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the district at an election called by the board of such townships, which election shall be called and held in the manner provided in the act for other special elections: Provided, That the number of districts in any school township, and the boundaries thereof, may by action of the township board, subject to the approval of the county superintendent, be made to conform to such existing topographical peculiarities as shall render uniform districting impracticable: And provided also, That where such topographical or physical conditions exist in two or more adjacent townships, the boundary lines of said townships may be changed, regardless of that township or county lines, by joint action of the township boards concerned, but subject to the approval as above required. And in case two or more counties are concerned, it shall require the approval of the county superintendents and boards of county commissioners, jointly, of said counties: And provided further, That in sparsely settled communities, such school townships and districts shall be formed by the county superintendent and county commissioners as shall meet the requirements of such communities: And provided further, That any district containing a town remote from the center thereof, or any district having a oopulation so distributed as to need a school or schools, other than at the center of the district, such school or schools may be so located.

Township organization

(6475) § 3. Each school township shall be under the control of a township board of education, which shall consist of one member elected from each school district and president elected by the township at large.

Town and city organization

(6476) § 4. All towns having a population of three hundred or over, shall be independent school districts, and be divided into not less than four wards for school purposes. Such independent district school boards shall consist of one member elected from each ward, and a president elected by the district.

Adjacent territory

(6477) § 5. Territory outside any city limits, but adjacent thereto, may be attached to such city for school purposes upon application to the board of county commissioners by a majority of the electors of such adjacent territory, the school board of such city consenting thereto; and upon such application being made, the board of county commissioners shall, if they deem it for the best interests of all parties concerned, issud an order attaching said territory to such city for school purposes only; and the taxable property of such adjacent territory, shall be subject to taxation and shall bear its full proportion of all expenses incurred in the erection of school buildings, and in maintaining the schools of such city: Provided, That any school property within such adjacent territory and belonging to the township shall be paid for by said city school board to the township school board upon due appraisement of said property: Provided further, That said territory may in like manner be detached from said city.

(6478) § 1. Specific or preventive relief may be given in the cases specified in this chapter and in no others. Specific relief.

(6479) § 2. Specific relief is given: Methods of giving specific relief

First. By taking possession of a thing and delivering it to a claimant.

Second. By compelling a party himself to do that which ought to be done; or,

Third. By declaring and determining the rights of parties, otherwise than by an award of damages.

(6480) § 3. Preventive relief is given by prohibiting a party from doing that which ought not to be done, Preventive relief

(6481) § 4. Neither specific nor preventive relief can be granted to enforce a penal law, except in a case of nuisance, nor to enforce a penalty or forfeiture in any case. Limitation of specific and preventive relief.

Relief for possession of real property, how enforced.

(6482) § 1. A person entitled to specific real property, by reason either of a perfected title, or of a claim to title which ought to be perfected, may recover the same in the manner prescribed by civil procedure, either by a judgment for its possession, to be executed by the sheriff, or by a judgment requiring the other party to perfect the title, and to deliver possession of the property.

Recovery of personal property

(6483) § 2. A person entitled to the immediate possession of specific personal property may recover the same in the manner provided by civil procedure.

Specific delivery of personal property.

(6484) § 3. Any person having the possession or control of a particular article of personal property, of which he is not the owner, may be compelled specifically to deliver it to the person entitled to its immediate possession.

Specific performance of obligations

(6485) § 4. Except as otherwise provided in this article, the specific performance of an obligation may be compelled.

This remedy is mutual

(6486) § 5. Neither party to an obligation can be compelled specifically to perform it, unless the other party thereto has performed, or is compellable specifically to perform, everything to which the former is entitled under the same obligation, either completely or nearly so, together with full compensation for any want of entire performance.

(6487) § 6. It is to be presumed that the breach of an agreement to transfer real property cannot be adequately relieved by pecuniary compensation, and that the breach of an agreement to transfer personal property can be thus relieved. Different presumptions as to real and personal property.

(6488) § 7. A party who has signed a written contract may be compelled specifically to perform it, though the other party has not signed it, if the latter has performed, or offers to perform it on his part, and the case is otherwise proper for enforcing specific performance. When only one has signed contract, though other has performed.

(6489) § 8. A contract otherwise proper to be specifically enforced may be thus enforced, though a penalty is imposed, or the damages are liquidated for its breach, and the party in default is willing to pay the same. Performance may be enforced instead of damages

(6490) § 9. The following obligations cannot be specifically enforced. Certain obligations cannot be specifically enforced.

First. An obligation to render personal service.

Second. An obligation to employ another in personal service.

Third. An agreement to submit a controversy to arbitration.

Fourth. An agreement to perform an act which the party had not power lawfully to perform when required to do so.

Fifth. An agreement to procure the act or consent of the wife or the contracting party, or of any other third person; or,

Sixth. An agreement, the terms of which are not sufficiently certain to make the precise act which is to be done clearly ascertainable.

(6491) § 10. Specific performance cannot be enforced against a party to a contract, in any of the following cases: Against certain parties specific performance cannot be enforced.

First. If he has not received an adequate consideration for the contract.

Second. If it is not, as to him, just and reasonable.

Third. If his assent was obtained by misrepresentation, concealment, circumvention, or unfair practice of any party to whom performance would become due under the contract, or by any promise of such party which has not been substantially fulfilled; or,

Fourth. If his assent was given under the influence of mistake, misapprehension, or surprise, except that where the contract provides for compensation in case of mistake, a mistake within the scope of such provision may be compensated for, and the contract specifically enforced in other respects, if proper to be so enforced.

(6492) § 11. Specific performance cannot be enforced in favor of a party who has not fully and fairly performed all the conditions precedent on his part to the obligation of the other party, except where his failure to perform is only partial, and either entirely immaterial or capable of being fully compensated; in which case specific performance may be compelled, upon full compensation being made for the default. In favor of certain parties cannot be enforced.

(6493) § 12. An agreement for the sale of property cannot be specifically enforced in favor of a seller who cannot give to the buyer a title free from reasonable doubt. Agreement for sale of property when title fails.

Against subsequent holder of real property

(6494) § 13. Whenever an obligation in respect to real property would be specifically enforced against a particular person, it may be in like manner enforced against any other person claiming under him by a title created subsequently to the obligation, except a purchaser or incumbrancer in good faith and for value, and except, also, that any such person may exonerate himself by conveying all his estate to the person entitled to enforce the obligation.

Contract may be revised for mistake or fraud.

(6495) § 14. When through fraud, or mutual mistake of the parties, or a mistake of one party, which the other at the time knew or suspected, a written contract does not truly express the intention of the parties, it may be revised on the application of a party aggrieved, so as to express that intention, so far as it can be done without prejudice to rights acquired by third persons, in good faith, and for value.

Equitable intention presumed.

(6496) § 15. For the purpose of revising a contract, it must be presumed that all the parties thereto intended to make an equitable and conscientious agreement.

Meaning of contract of language to be considered.

(6497) § 16. In revising a written instrument, the court may inquire what the instrument was intended to mean, and what were intended to be its legal consequences, and is not confined to the inquiry what the language of the instrument was intended to be.

First revised then enforced.

(6498) § 17. A contract may be first revised and then specifically enforced.

Rescission of contract may be adjudged, when.

(6499) § 18. The rescission of a written contract may be adjudged on the application of a party aggrieved:

First. In any of the cases mentioned in section 892; or,

Second. Where the contract is unlawful, for causes not apparent upon its face, and the parties were not equally in fault; or,

Third. When the public interest will be prejudiced by permitting it to stand.

Rescission not adjudged for mere mistake

(6500) § 19. Rescission cannot be adjudged for mere mistake, unless the party against whom it is adjudged can be restored to substantially the same condition as if the contract had not been made.

On recission compensation may be granted

(6501) § 20. On adjudging the rescission of a contract, the court may require the party to whom such relief is granted to make any compensation to the other which justice may require.

Cancellation may be adjudged when.

(6502) § 21. A written instrument, in respect to which there is a reasonable apprehension that if left outstanding it may cause serious injury to a person against whom it is void or voidable, may upon his application, be so adjudged and ordered to be delivered up or cancelled.

Instrument vaild on its face not deemed capable of causing injury

(6503) § 22. An instrument, the validity of which is apparent upon its face, or upon the face of another instrument which is necessary to the use of the former in evidence, is not to be deemed capable of causing injury within the provisions of the last section.

Partial cancellation.

(6504) § 23. Where an instrument is evidence of different rights or obligations, it may be cancelled in part, and allowed to stand for the residue.

SECTION.
1. By injunction.
2. Regulated, how.
3. Injunction allowed, when.
4. Injunction cannot be granted, when.

(6505) § 1. Preventitive relief is granted by injunction, provisional or final. Preventive relief by injunction.

(6506) § 2. Provisional injunctions are regulated by civil procedure. How regulated.

(6507) § 3. Except where otherwise provided by this chapter, a final injunction may be granted to prevent the breach of an obligation existing in favor of the applicant: Injunction allowed, when.

First. Where pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief.

Second. Where it would be extremely difficult to ascertain the amount of compensation which would afford adequate relief.

Third. Where the restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of judicial proceedings; or,

Fourth. Where the obligation arises from a trust.

(6508) § 4. An injunction cannot be granted: Injunction cannot be granted, when.

First. To stay a judicial proceeding dending at the commencement of the action in which the injunction is demanded, unless such restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of such proceedings.

Second. To stay proceedings in a court of the United States.

Third. To stay proceedings in a state upon a judgment of a court of that state.

Fourth. To prevent the execution of a public statute, by officers of the law, for the public benefit.

Fifth. To prevent the breach of a contract, the performance of which would not be specifically enforced.

Sixth. To prevent the exercise of a public or private office, in a lawful manner, by the person in possession.

Seventh. To prevent a legislative act by a municipal corporation.

CHAPTER LXXXI.—STATUTES.

(6520) § 10. He shall transmit to the county clerk of each county, on or before the first day of May in each year, a list of lands within such county which shall have become subject to taxation within the preceeding year, agreeable to the information by him received from the land offices of the Territory.

Uniformity in assessing.

(6521) § 11. He shall from time to time prepare and transmit to the county clerk of each county, such general forms and instructions in conformity with the laws in force, as in his opinion maybe necessary to secure uniformity in assessing, charging and collecting and accounting for the public revenue, and assessors and treasurers shall observe such forms and instructions.

Correction of tax errors

(6522) § 12. The Auditor is hereby authorized to remit any penalty for the non-payment of taxes, when satisfied that the same is improperly charged, or that such penalty occurred in consequence of the negligence or error of any officer required to do any duty relative to the levy and collection of such taxes, and may from time to time, correct all errors which he shall discover in the duplication of taxes assessed in any county on a showing that the same corrections have been ordered by the county commissioners.

Provision for certain expenses

(6523) § 13. The expense of procuring books directed by this act to be procured, and the copies of entries, surveys and other documents from the land offices, and all other contingent expenses of his office, shall be paid by the Auditor out of the contingent fund appropriated for the use of said office.

Revenue officer's work incomplete.

(6524) § 14. If any officer concerned in the collection of the Territorial revenue shall fail to collect, to make proper return, to make settlement, or to pay over all the money by him received and belonging to the Territory at the time and in the manner required by law, the Auditor of the Territory, shall, after the expiration of fifteen days, next after the expiration of the time within which such are by law required to be performed, transmit to the county clerk of the proper county, a statement of the sum claimed by the Territory from such delinquent officer, with direction for such county clerk to proceed against such delinquent officer, and his securities in the manner prescribed by law, provided that when the Auditor of the Territory shall be satisfied that such default results from some inevitable accident, and not from the negligence of such officer he may at his discretion postpone the instructions for bringing suit for any time not exceeding sixty days.

Witnesses, oath.

(6525) § 15. The Auditor is authorized to administer an oath to accountants and witnesses in support of the justice of such accounts as may be exhibited to him for liquidation and to certify the same accordingly.

14- Expenses of two above sections, how met.
15. Election proclamation, publication.
16 Executive officers' report to the Governor.
17. Additional powers and duties.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Oklahoma: Chap. 82.

Governor, how appointed.

(6550) § 1. The supreme executive power of the Territory shall be vested in the Governor appointed as provided by the laws of the United States, and he shall take care that the laws of the Territory are faithfully executed.

Territorial officers

(6551) § 2. The Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Council (expressed by a majority of all the councillors elected, voting by yeas and nays) appoint and commission all Territorial officers.

Vacancy filled.

(6552) § 3. In case a vacancy should occur in any Territorial office, when the Legislative Assembly is not in session, the Governor shall make a temporary appointment until the next session of the Legislature, when he shall nominate some person to fill such office, and, if confirmed by the Council, the person so nominated shall hold the office during the remainder of the term and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified. Any person once rejected by the Council, shall not be renominated for the same office.

Removal of territorial officers.

(6553) § 4. The Governor shall have power to remove any officer so appointed by him, in case of incompetency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office; and may then fill the same as provided in cases of vacancy.

Pardons, reprieves and commutations.

(6554) § 5. The Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons after convictions subject to such regulations as may be provided for by law, relative to the manner of applying for pardons.

Message.

(6555) § 6. The Governor shall at the commencement of each session of the Legislature, give to that body information, by message, of the condition of the Territory, and shall recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient; and during the session may make any further recommendations that he may deem proper. He shall also present estimates of the amount of money required to be raised by taxation for the Territorial purposes during the next two years, and shall also inform the Legislature as to any deficit that may be in the funds of the Territory.

Extra session legislature.

(6587) § 21. The township trustee shall prosecute, in the name of his township, all violations of the road law, or any provisions thereof, and in such prosecution it shall be the duty of the county attorney to act on behalf of the township.

Same. removal of obstructions from highway.

(6588) § 22. The township trustee shall remove obstructions from the highways in cases where the road over-seer shall refuse or fail to do so, and the trustee shall in such cases have all the power of road overseer in calling out the inhabitants to perform the work necessary to remove such obstructions.

Treasurer's duties,

(6589) § 23. The township treasurer shall receive and take charge of all moneys belonging to his township or which are by law required to be paid to him and shall pay out and account for the same upon orders drawn upon him by the township trustee, and shall discharge such other duties as may be required of him by law.

Same, separate account for each fund,

(6590) § 24. The township treasurer shall keep a true account of all moneys by him received by virtue of his office; and the manner in which the same have been disbursed, keeping a separate account with each fund in a book to be provided at the expense of the township for that purpose, and shall exhibit such account, together with his vouchers to the township auditing board at their annual meeting on the last Saturday of December in each year for adjustment and settlement.

Same, accounts verified

(6591) § 25. The account as provided for in the last preceding section shall be made out in duplicate and shall be verified by affidavit, that the same is in all respects true and correct, and that it contains a full and true amount of all moneys received by him during the full period of time for which he should make such statement, and one of such verified duplicates shall be filed forthwith by the treasurer in the office of the county clerk.

Township clerk's bond.

(6592) § 26. Each township clerk shall before entering upon the duties of his office, execute a bond to the county in a sum not less than two hundred dollars, with two or more sureties, the amount and sufficiency of the bond to be approved by the board of county commissioners, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, which bond shall be by him forthwith filed in the office of the county clerk.

Clerk's duties.

(6593) § 27. The township clerk shall have the custody of the records, books and papers of the township when no other provision is made by law, and he shall file in his office all such papers as are by law required to be filed, and promptly record such as are by law required to be recorded therein, and he shall discharge such other duties as may be required by law.

Same, records kept open.

(6594) § 28. He shall immediately after receiving the report of the township trustee, record the same at length in the township record and publish the same by posting up certified copies thereof at the usual place of holding elections in the township. The records and other books of the township clerk and treasurer shall always be open for public inspection.

Same, report county clerk.

(6595) § 29. That in addition to the duties now required by law of the township clerks, they shall each of them make and transmit to the clerk of their respective counties on or before the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners next succeeding the annual settlement of the township treasurer and road overseer a complete certified statement of the floating and bonded indebtedness with date of issuing and of maturing of outstanding bonds, amount of sinking fund, if any, for redeeming the same, and such other information as may be required by the county clerk concerning the financial condition of their respective townships; and when no outstanding indebtedness exists, such fact shall be reported.

Road overseer

(6596) § 30. The duties of road overseer shall be such as are and may be prescribed by law.

Same, duties.

(6597) § 31. Each road overseer shall keep an accurate account of all moneys received by him by virtue of his office, and the manner in which the same has been disbursed, and to whom, and shall on the last Saturday in December in each year exhibit such accounts, together with his vouchers to the township auditing board, for adjustment and settlement. Such accounts shall be in writing, verified by the affidavit of the overseer that the same is in all respects a full and true account of all moneys received by him during the full time which he should make settlement and of the amounts expended and the manner in which they were expended.

Justice of the peace

(6598) § 32. The jurisdiction, powers and duties of justices of the peace shall be such as are prescribed by law.

Additional justices.

(6599) § 33. Whenever a majority of all the voters in any township in this Territory shall petition the county commissioners of their respective counties that there is not a sufficient number of justices of the peace or constables in such township, the county commissioners shall make an order for the additional number of justices as they may deem expedient, and said justice or justices, constable or constables shall be elected at the next regular election held in such township.

Constables, powers, etc

(6600) § 34. All constables shall be ministerial officers in justices' courts in their respective counties, and civil and criminal process may be executed by them throughout the county under the restrictions and provisions of law. They may appoint one or more deputies, who may perform the same duties as their principals, and such principals shall be responsible upon their official bonds for the acts of such deputies.

Same, duties

(6601) § 35. In serving all process, either civil or criminal, and in doing his duties generally, when not otherwise restricted by law, the authority of a constable shall extend throughout the county in which he may be elected or appointed, and in executing and serving process issued by a justice of the peace he shall have and exercise the same authority and powers over goods and chattels and the person of parties, as is granted by law to the sheriff or coroner under like process issued from the courts of record.

Same.

(6602) § 36. It shall be the duty of every constable to serve all warrants, writs, precepts, executions and other process to him directed and delivered, and in all respects whatever, to do and perform all things pertaining to the office of constable.

Same

(6603) § 37. It shall be the duty of every constable to apprehend, on view or on warrant, and bring to justice all disturbers and violators of the criminal laws of this Territary; to suppress all riots, affrays and unlawful assemblies which may come to his knowledge, and generally keep the peace in his county.

Same, incarcerate prisoner,

(6604) § 38. When it shall become the duty of the constable to take the body of any person to the jail of the county, he shall deliver to the sheriff or jailer a certified copy of the commitment or other process whereby he holds such person in custody, and return the original to the justice who issued the same, which copy shall be sufficient authority to the sheriff or jailer to keep the prisoner in jail until discharged by due course of law.

Same, attend trial, when.

(6605) § 39. Whenever any constable shall serve a warrant in a criminal case, or summons in a civil case, it shall be his duty to attend upon the trial of such case, if held within his own township either personally or by a deputy, and execute all orders and process made or issued by the justice therein.

Same, to call aid

(6606) § 40. In discharging their duties, constables may call to their aid the power of the county, or such assistance as may be necessary.

Failure to give bond

(6607) § 41. If any person elected to any township office of whom an oath or bond is required, shall enter upon the duties of such office before he shall have filed such oath or bond, he shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Refusal to deliver records, etc

(6608) § 42. Every township officer who shall after the expiration of his term of office, neglect or refuse to deliver, on demand, to his successor in office, after his successor shall have been duly qualified according to law all moneys, records, books, papers, or other property appertaining to such office, shall be liable to a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars.

Corporate limits of township

(6609) § 43. No city of more than one thousand and five hundred inhabitants shall be included within the corporate limits of any township, but each of such cities shall constitute a township for the purpose of electing justices of the peace and constables as provided in this act, and for the exercise of the process and jurisdiction of such officers as prescribed by law. In such cities said officers shall be elected at the regular city election.

Boundaries altered.

(6610) § 44. No change or alteration of the boundaries of a township or city shall vacate the office of any justice elected and residing therein, but such justice shall be deemed a justice of the township or city into which he may be thrown by such change or alteration, and shall hold his office for the term for which he was elected. Constables shall also be subject to the provisions of this section.

Money paid may be recovered.

(6622) § 4. Any person who shall have purchased from any individual, firm, partnership or corporation, doing business in violation of the provisions of this act, any provisions, feed, fuel, lumber or other building material, articles of merchandise, or other commodity, and paid for the same, may maintain a civil action to recover the full amount of damages sustained in consequence of any such violation of the provisions of this act, together with a reasonable attorneys fee to be fixed by the court, which attorneys fee shall be taxed and collected as part of the costs in such case. In any civil action brought under the provisions of this section the court before whom such suit be pending may compel the defendant to testify, but if the defendant be a corporation, then the court may compel any officer, agent or employe of such corporation to attend, appear and testify or compel the production of any contract or paper as evidence in such civil action: Provided, The evidence so obtained shall not be used in any criminal action against the person so testifying except in a criminal prosecution for perjury committed in giving such testimony.

County attorney's to prosecute.

(6623) § 5. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorneys in their respective counties, to enforce the foregoing provisions of this act, and any prosecuting attorney securing a conviction under the provisions of this act, shall be entitled in addition to such fee or salary as by law he is allowed for such prosecution, to one fifth of the fine received.

Townsite, who may make entry.

(6624) § 1. Whenever any portion of the public lands of the United States have been or shall be settled upon and occupied as a townsite, and therefore not subject to private entry under the agricultural pre-emption laws, it shall be lawful and the duty, whenever requested by a majority of the occupants or owners of the lots within the limits of the town, for the corporate authorities of the town if incorporated, and if not incorporated then for the judge of the probate court of the county in which such town may be situated, to enter at the proper land office the land so settled upon and occupied, and hold the same in trust for the several use and benefit of the occupants thereof and those holding by deed or otherwise, according to their respective interests.

Entry fee, money for, how raised.

(6625) § 2. If at any time the petition is presented as provided for in the preceding section there is not in the treasury of the town moneys sufficient to pay for the land settled upon and occupied, the corporate authorities or the probate judge, as the case may be, may raise by subscription or otherwise sufficient funds to pay for said land and costs of entering the same, and any and all sums so advanced for such purpose shall be repaid in the manner provided for in section 6628.

Disposition of town property.

(6626) § 3. When the corporate authorities of any city or town, or the judge of the probate court of any county in this Territory in which any city or town may be located, shall have entered at the proper land office or any part thereof so settled and occupied as he site of such city or town, pursuant to and by virtue of the act of Congress of the United States, entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March 2, 1867, and acts amendatory thereto, it shall be the duty of such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court, his or their successors, to dispose of the trust so created and conferred by said act of Congress in the manner hereinafter specified.

Person making the entry to transfer to claimants.

(6627) § 4. Any such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court holding the title to any such lands in trust as declared in said act of Congress shall, subject to the provisions of this act, by a good and sufficient deed of conveyance grant and convey the title to each and every block, lot, share or parcel of the same to the person, persons, associations or corporations who shall occupy or possess or be entitled to the right of possession or occupancy thereof, according to the several rights and interests of the respective claimants in or to the same as they existed in law or equity at the time of the entry of such lands, or to the heirs or assigns of such claimants. Every such deed of conveyance made by such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be so executed and acknowledged as to admit the same to be recorded.

Expense of entry and claims.

(6628) § 5. Immediately upon making the entry, and during the sixty days thereafter, such corporate authorities or probate judge shall proceed to itemize and pass upon the expenses of procuring said entry to be made, including the moneys paid at the land office for such entry, the costs of surveying and platting the town site, of attorney's fees, witness fees, recording plat and all other expenses necessary and incident to procuring the entry and perfecting the title, and for this purpose shall give notice to all persons having any claims for moneys advanced or services rendered to present and file a certified statement of the same within said sixty days, such notice to be given promptly after making of the entry, and to be by publication for three weeks in some newspaper published in the county wherein the town site is located, or if none be so published then in the newspaper published nearest thereto. And any person having or making any such claim who shall at the expiration of said sixty days have failed to file such verified statement of account shall be thereafter barred from presenting the same or recovering thereon. Upon the receipt of such verified statements of accounts they shall be duly filed by the said corporate authorities or judge of the probate court, and either allowed, rejected or allowed in part as in the judgment of such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court may be just and right, due notice of such allowance, rejection or allowance in part to be at once given to to the person having filed the verified statement. Any person filing such verified statement or any lot owner feeling aggrieved at the decision of such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court making such allowance, rejection or allowance in part of any claim so filed, may within thirty days after the decision appeal therefrom to the district court of the district wherein such city or town may be located, such appeal to be taken upon notice to such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court in the same manner and subject to the same restrictions as appeals from the board of county commissioners.

Publication of notice of entry and claims awarded.

(6629) § 6. Immediately upon the expiration of sixty days after the first publication of said notice, as hereinbefore provided, at the proper land office, the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court entering the same, his or their successors, shall give public notice thereof by publishing such notice in a newspaper published in the county in which such city or town shall be situated, or in case there shall be no newspaper published in such county then in the newspaper published nearest the said city or town, and in the latter case where there is no newspaper published in said county, copies of said notice shall also be posted in not less than ten conspicious places within the limits of said county; such notice shall be published not less than once a week for six consecutive weeks and shall contain an accurate description of the lands entered as the same is stated in the certificate of entry, and shall also contain a statement of the several amounts awarded and allowed for the expenses of procuring the entry and which will be assessed against the land constituting the townsite in executing the deeds therefor.

Chap. 85.

Same.

(6630) § 7. Such notice provided for in section 6628 shall direct that each and every person, association or corporation claiming to be an occupant or to have, possess or be entitled to the right of possession or occupancy of such lands or any lot, share or parcel thereof, shall within ninety days from the date of the first publication or posting of such notice, in person or by his, her or their or its duly authorized agent or attorney, sign a statement in writing containing an accurate description of the particular lot, lots, parcel or parcels of land in which he, she, they or it claim to have an interest; and the specified right, interest or estate so claimed therein, the character and value of the improvements thereon, and how occupied or possessed by such claimant, and for how long a time, and any other matter or thing illustrating or supporting such claimant's right to a deed of the tract so described, such statement to be verified by the affidavit of the party or parties signing the same.

Statement of claimants to be recorded

(6631) § 8. The statement of the claimant provided for in the preceding section shall, together with the accompanying affidavits, be delivered to the said corporate authorities or judge of the probate court within the time specified in said notice, and shall be by him or them filed and an abstract of the contents thereof, with name of claimant and date of filing, entered in a well bound book to be kept for such purpose, which shall be known as "the record of claimants' statements." And all persons failing to furnish such statement as herein required within the time specified in said notice, except minors and insane persons, shall be forever barred of the right of claiming or recovering such lands or any interest or estate therein or any part or parcel thereof.

Conflicting claims, how treated

porate authorities or judge of the probate court a sworn statement as provided in section 6630, and at the same time a notice that he, she or it contests the statement and application for deed hitherto made and expects at once to begin on action in the district court to determine his, her or its right to the property; whereupon the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court must suspend action on such disputed lot or parcel of ground until a proper certificate be furnished that the dispute has been decided or abandoned. Such party or parties claiming adversely, and having filed such notice of contest, must within ten days thereafter begin action in the district court for the purpose of determining the rights of all parties, in which action all persons claiming adversely to the plaintiff or plaintiffs may be joined as parties defendant, and if not so joined shall have the right to intervene. For the purposes of this section an. action shall be deemed begun when a complaint has been filed in the office of the clerk of the court and a summons placed in the hands of a sheriff for service: Provided, That personal service must be made or service by publication begun within sixty days thereafter. Upon the presentation of the clerk's certificate that no complaint has been filed and no action begun in accordance with the provisions of this section, the party aforesaid having the prima facie right shall be entitled to a deed of conveyance, and in case of action begun the party recovering therein shall be entitled to a deed of conveyance upon presentation of a certified copy of the final judgment or decree of the court in such action to the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court. Upon receiving the certificate aforesaid or certified copy of judgment or decree the same shall be filed and an abstract of the contents entered in the record of claimant's statements, and the said corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall thereupon execute deeds of conveyance to the party or parties entitled to receive the same. All persons except minors and insane persons failing to file their notice of contest and to bring their action within the time herein prescribed shall be thereafter forever barred from setting up or asserting any claim, right or title to such lot or lots, parcel or parcels of lands so adversely claimed.

Extent of ground that may be claimed.

(6633) § 10. The amount of ground which any one claimant shall be entitled to receive a deed for in a single tract under the provisions of this act, unless said claimant or his grantors were in the actual peaceable possession of the same prior to its entry as herein provided for and had improved the same and is still in the occupancy thereof, may equal but not exceed two acres in extent: Provided, That such ground be exclusively occupied by or in the possession of such claimant and have improvements thereon of not less than two hundred dollars in value. Such claimant shall also be entitled to a deed for each additional lot not exceeding in area twenty-five hundred square feet on which he may have substantial improvements of not less than one hundred dollars in value. When any claimant shall make application for a deed to more than one tract or parcel he shall file in addition to his own affidavit as required by this act the affidavits of at least two disinterested witnesses showing the nature, character and actual case value of the improvements upon such additional lot or lots so claimed.

Expenses, certain to be paid by the claimant.

(6634) § 11. Each person shall upon filing an applicant's statement as herein provided be required to pay to the said corporate authorities or judge of the probate court his proper and due proportion of the money lawfully expended in perfecting the title and procuring the entry of said land, including all streets, alleys, public grounds and parks, and all expenses necessarily incurred in making the survey and plat, for recording plat and publishing notices as required by this act, such proportion to be determined by the relation which the value, extent and area of such claimant's land bears to the whole amount of land claimed during the ninety days, and in addition thereto the sum of two dollars for the principal tract claimed and fifty cents for each additional lot of two thousand five hundred square feet claimed by the same person or persons, association or corporation, as a fee for executing the trust, taking affidavits, filing and abstracting statements and affidavits, and executing and acknowledging the deed as required by this act, which charges shall be in full payment for all expenses attending the execution of the trust. In case of appeals provided for in section 6628, the sum of one dollar shall be paid for certified copy of statement of account filed and certificate of decision and award made; and pending such appeal and the review by the district court of any award or allowance of claims for expenses in procuring the entry of land, as provided for in section 6628, the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court must in making and apportioning expenses take care that their estimate be sufficient to meet the same and any possible increase made by the appellate tribunal, any surplus resulting from such estimate to be applied as herein provided. In case of any contest, and deposit of money as in this section provided by both parties, the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall after final judgment and decree refund to the unsuccessful party or parties all money so advanced by such party or parties, except the sum of one dollar, which shall be retained as fees for taking and filing affidavits, statements, notice of contest, certified copy of decree, etc.

Deeds to be given

(6635) § 12. After the expiration of ninety days from the date of the first publication of the notice required by section 6628, the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall proceed to award the lot or lots, parcel or parcels of land as provided in this act, and for that purpose shall as soon as practicable and as near as practicable in the order of the time of the filing of claimant's statements examine each and every claim, read proofs filed and hear additional testimony if deemed advisable, and if the claim should be found to comply with the provisions of this act, and no adverse claim and notice of contest shall have been filed, the said corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall proceed forthwith to make such claimant or claimants a good and sufficient deed of conveyance for such lot or lots or parcels of land so claimed.

Unclaimed lands to be conveyed to board of education.

(6636) § 13. When any lots or parcels of land within the limits of any city or town shall remain unclaimed after the expiration of the time allowed by this act for the filing of claimants' statements, it shall be the duty of the corporate authorities of judge of the probate court to convey the lots or parcels of land so remaining unclaimed by good and sufficient deed to the board of education of such city or town, if there be such body qualified to take the title to real property, to be taken and disposed of by such board of education for school purposes and for the exclusive use and benefit of the school district in which such city or town may be situated, under such directions and limitations as are provided by this act.

Who shall act in absence of probate judge

(6637) § 14. If there be no such board of education legally authorized to take the title to real property, then the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall sell and dispose of the said unclaimed lots or parcels of land so remaining for school purposes, and for the exclusive use and benefit of the school district in which said city or town may be situated, under the directions, limitations and provisions contained in this act.

Unclaimed lands shall be appraised.

(6638) § 15. The board of education, corporate authorities or judge of the probate court aforesaid shall appoint three competent and suitable freeholders of such city or town a board of appraisers whose duty it shall be to make a careful inspection and examination of all the unclaimed lots or parcels of land aforesaid, and upon each of such lots or parcels of land they shall affix a reasonable and just valuation, and upon the completion of their appraisement they shall make and return a full and complete report of their proceedings and appraisement to the board of education, corporate authorities or judge of the probate court, which said report shall contain a full schedule of each and every lot or parcel of land remaining unclaimed, giving an exact description of said lots by their numbers and the number of the block, and all parcels of land not so numbered shall be described by metes and boundaries, and upon each lot or parcel of land separately they shall designate the valuation thereof as fixed by their appraisement; said appraisement and report shall be subscribed and sworn to by at least two of said appraisers.

Public sale of unclaimed lands.

(6639) § 16. The board of education, corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall within thirty days after the receipt of the aforesaid report of said board of appraisers give public notice that all such unclaimed lots or parcels of lands, or so much thereof as may be considered for the best interest of the school district will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash; said notice to be given by publication in not less than three newspapers of general circulation in the Territory and for a period of not less than thirty days immediately prior to such sale, specifying the time and place when said unclaimed lots or parcels of land will be sold, together with a description of the same as returned by the board of appraisers.

Bids, private sale.

(6640) § 17. At the time and place appointed in said notice the board of education, corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall offer for sale at public auction subject to competitive bids all the lots and parcels of land or so much thereof as may be considered for the best interests of the school district, returned by the report of said board of appraisers as unclaimed: Provided, That no bid shall be received for lot or parcel of land sold for a less sum than the appraised valuation, and such sale shall continue open from day to day until all such lots or parcels of land, or so much thereof as may be considered for the best interest of the school district, shall have been offered for sale. Any lots or parcels of land remaining unsold at the close of such sale for want of bids equal to the appraised valuation thereof may thereafter be sold at private sale by said board of education, corporate authorities or judge of probate court for a sum of money not less than the appraised valuation thereof, and not otherwise.

Purchaser shall pay for deed.

(6641) § 18. Any purchaser at such sale, in addition to the amount of purchase money paid for any lot, lots or parcel of land, shall pay to the board of education, corporate authorities or judge of probate court the sum of two dollars as a fee for making, executing and acknowledging a deed of conveyance therefor, and all such lots or parcels of land purchased by any one person may be conveyed to such purchaser in one deed, which fee shall be in full for all charges of conducting sale, giving notice, appointing appraisers, etc.

Proceeds of sale, how applied.

(6642) § 19. The proceeds derived from the sale of such lots or parcels of unclaimed land, after first paying the expenses of advertising, printing and a per diem of not more than three dollars per day to each member of the board of appraisers for the days actually and necessarily employed by them in making such appraisement and report as aforesaid, and other expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the proper conduct and management of such sale, shall be immediately turned over at the close of said sale by the board of education, corporate authorities or judge of the probate court to the treasurer of the school district, and by said treasurer placed to the credit of the school house fund of said school district, only to be disbursed and applied in the payment of outstanding bonds, warrants or other indebtedness against said school district, contracted or created in the erection or construction of school houses, procuring grounds or appurtenances therewith, if any such bonds, warrants or other indebtedness exists, otherwise to be applied and placed to the credit of the general school fund of the school district.

Surplus, how disposed of.

(6643) § 20. In case there should be found any surplus on hand over and above receipts for fees and awards for expenses arising from the conveyances of lots as provided in section 6634, then such surplus shall so soon as ascertained by the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court be accounted for and turned over to the treasurer of the school district wherein such city or town may be situated, to be by such school district treasurer placed to the credit of the school house fund, then to be disbursed and applied as herein provided for the disbursement of the proceeds derived from the sale of unclaimed lots or parcels of land.

Expiration of term of office of person making entry of town site.

(6644) § 21. Whenever the term of office of any corporate authorities or judge of the probate court having made entry of a townsite shall expire, or he or any one or more of said corporate authorities shall resign or be removed from office, he or they shall turn over all books and papers relative to such entry to his or their successor or successors in office, with full report of the condition of the trust and receipts and disbursements thereunder, and thereafter the said trust shall be executed in every particular by such successor or successors. Any wilful violations of the provisions of this act by the corporate authorities or judge of the probate court shall be held and considered a misdemeanor; any such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court wilfully making out a deed to any party not entitled to receive the same shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and any such corporate authorities or judge of the probate court wilfully misappropriating funds received by them in the execution of this trust shall be held guilty of embezzlement.

Appeals from townsite boards may be taken, where.

(6645) § 22. That in all cases heretofore or hereafter tried before the boards of townsite commissioners in Oklahoma appointed by the Secretary of the Interior of the United States, appeals from the decisions of such boards may be taken to the district court of the county in which such decisions are made in the same manner as is provided by law for appeals from justices of the peace and the district court may on motion compel the boards of commissioners to transmit the papers and a transcript in each case appealed provided that in all cases in which decisions have heretofore been made by such boards, such appeals shall be taken within ninety days after the taking effect of this act, and in all other cases within thirty days from the date of the decision by the townsite commissioners.

Sections and numbers may be changed by publisher.

(6646) § 23. When this act is published the sections thereof shall be re-numbered by the publisher and sections properly numbered, and where any section refers to any other section by number such references shall be changed by the publisher to correspond with the numbers of sections as re-numbered by him.

23. Party not named.

Definition of transfer.

(6647) § 1. Transfer is an act of the parties, or of the law, by which the title to property is conveyed from one living person to another.

Consideration unnecessary, when (6648) § 2. A voluntary transfer is an executed contract, subject to all rules of law concerning contracts in general, except that a consideration is not necessary to its validity.

Any property may be transferred,

(6649) § 3. Property of any kind may be transferred, except as otherwise provided by this and the next two sections.

What not transferable.

(6650) § 4. A mere possibility, not coupled with an interest, cannot be transferred.

Right of re-entry only to principal owner

(6651) § 5. A mere right of re-entry, or of re-possession for breach of a condition subsequent, cannot be transferred to any one except the owner of the property affected thereby.

Writing only when required

(6652) § 6. A transfer may be made without writing in every case in which a writing is not expressly required by statute.

Grant defined

(6653) § 7. A transfer in writing is called a grant, or conveyance, or bill of sale. The term "grant" in this and in the balance of this chapter includes all these instruments, unless it is specially applied to real property. Chap. 86.

Delivery.

(6654) § 8. A grant takes effect so as to vest the interest intended to be transferred only upon its delivery by the grantor.

Date presumed.

(6655) § 9. A grant duly executed is presumed to have been delivered at its date.

Delivery absolute.

(6656) § 10. A grant cannot be delivered to the grantee conditionally. Delivery to him or to his agent as such is necessarily absolute; and the instrument takes effect thereupon discharged of any condition on which the delivery was made.

Delivery in escrow.

(6657) § 11. A grant may be deposited by the grantor with a third person, to be delivered on the performance of a condition, and on delivery by the depositary, it will take effect. While in the possession of the third person and subject to condition, it is called an escrow.

Redelivery does not transfer.

(6658) § 12. Re-delivering a grant of real property to the grantor or cancelling it, does not operate to re-transfer the title.

Constructive delivery.

(6659) § 13. Though a grant be not actually delivered into the possession of the grantee, it is yet to be deemed constructively delivered in the following cases:

First. Where the instrument is, by the agreement of the parties at the time of execution, understood to be delivered, and under such circumstances that the grantee is entitled to immediate delivery: or,

Second. Where it is delivered to a stranger for the benefit of a grantee, and his assent is shown or may be presumed.

Interpertation of grants.

(6660) § 14. Grants are to be interpreted in like manner with contracts in general, except so far as is otherwise provided by this article.

Relative force of parts

(6661) § 15. A clear and distinct limitation in a grant is not controlled by other words less clear and distinct.

Recitals clear doubts.

(6662) § 16. If the operative words of a grant are doubtful, recourse may be had to its recitals to assist the construction.

Grants interpreted in favor of grantee, exception.

(6663) § 17. A grant is to be intrepreted in favor of the grantee, except that a reservation in any grant, and every grant by a public officer or body, as such, to a private party, is to be interpreted in favor of the grantor.

Former part prevails

(6664) § 18. If the several parts of a grant are absolutely irreconcilable, the former part prevails.

Without issue defined.

(6665) § 19. Where a future interest is limited by a grant to take effect on the death of any person without heirs, or heirs of his body, or without issue, or in equivalent words, such words must be taken to mean successors or issue living at the death of the person named as ancestor.

Requisites of fee.

(6666) § 20. Words of inheritance or succession are not requisite to transfer a fee in real property.

Vests actual title.

(6667) § 21. A transfer vests in the transferee all the actual title to the thing transferred which the transferer then has, unless a different intention is expressed or is necessarily implied.

Thing include incident.

(6668) § 22. The transfer of a thing transfers also all its incidents unless expressly excepted; but the transfer of an incident to a thing does not transfer the thing itself.

Party not named

(6669) § 23. A present interest, and the benefit of a condition or covenant respecting property, may be taken by any natural person under a grant, although not named a party thereto.

ARTICLE 2.—TRANSFER OF REAL PROPERTY.

Mode of Transfer.

SECTION.
1. Transfer by law or writing.
2. Seal abolished.
3. Form of grant.

Effect of Transfer.

SECTION.
4. All easements pass.
5. Warranties implied by grant.
6. Grant conclusive against whom
7. Grant valid pro tanto.
8. Title to highway.
9. Rights of tenants.
10. Presumptions, constructions, liens.

Transfer by law or writing

(6670) § 1. An estate of real property other than an estate at will or for a term not exceeding one year, can be transferred only by operation of law, or by an instrument in writing, subscribed by the party disposing of the same, or by his agent thereunto authorized by writing.

Seal abolished.

(6671) § 2. The execution of a grant of such estate in real property, if it is not duly acknowledged, must, to entitle the grant to be recorded, be proved by a subscribing witness, or as otherwise provided in section 6694. The absence of the seal of any grantor or his agent from any grant of an estate in real property heretofore or hereafter made shall not invalidate or in any manner impair the same.

Form of grant.

(6672) § 3. A grant of an estate in real property may be made, in substance as follows:

This grant, made the.....day of.....in the year.... between A. B., of....., of the first part, and C. D., of .....of the second part, witnesseth: That the party of the first part hereby grants to the party of the second part, in consideration of.....dollars, now received, all the real property situated in.....and bounded (or described) as follows: .....

Witness the hand of the party of the first part. A. B.

All easements pass.

(6673) § 4. A transfer of real property passes all easements attached thereto, and creates in favor thereof an easement to use other real property of the person whose estate is transferred, in the same manner and to the same extent as such property was obviously and permanently used by the person whose estate is transferred, for the benefit thereof, at the time when the transfer was agreed upon or completed.

Warranties implied by grant.

(6674) § 5. From the use of the word "grant" in any conveyance by which an estate of inheritance or fee-simple is to be passed, the following covenants, and none other, on the part of the grantor for himself and his heirs to the grantee, his heirs and assigns are implied unless restrained by express terms contained in such conveyance:

First. That previous to the time of the execution of such conveyance, the grantor has not conveyed the same estate, or any right, title or interest therein, to any person other than the grantee.

Second. That such estate is at the time of the execution of such conveyance, free from incumbrances done, made, or suffered by the grantor, or any person claiming under him. Such covenants may be sued upon in the same manner as if they had been expressly inserted in the conveyance.

Grant conclusive against whom

(6675) § 6. Every grant of an estate in real property is conclusive against the grantor and every one subsequently claiming under him, except a purchaser or incumbrancer who, in good faith, and for a valuable consideration, acquires a title or lien by an instrument that is first duly recorded.

Grant valid pro tanto

(6676) § 7. A grant made by the owner of an estate for life or years, purporting to transfer a greater estate than he could lawfully transfer does not work a forfeiture of his estate but passes to the grantee all the estate which the grantor could lawfully transfer.

Title to highway.

(6677) § 8. A transfer of land bounded by a highway passes the title of the person whose estate is transferred to the soil of the highway in front to the center thereof, unless a different intent appears from the grant.

Rights of tenants.

(6678) § 9. Grants of rents, or revisions, or of remainders are good and effectual without attornments of the tenants, but no tenant, who, before notice of the grant, shall have paid rent to the grantor must suffer any damage thereby.

Presumptious constructions, liens.

(6679) § 10. Lineal and collateral warranties, with all their incidents, are abolished; but the heirs and devisees of any person who has made any covenant or agreement in reference to the title of, in, or to any real property, are answerable upon such covenant or agreement to the extent of the land descended or devised to them, in the cases and in the manner prescribed by law.

Second. A fee-simple title is presumed to be intended to pass by a grant of real property, unless it appears from the grant that a lesser estate was intended.

Third. An instrument purporting to be a grant of real property, to take effect upon condition precedent, passes the estate upon the performance of the condition.

Fourth. Where a person purports by proper instument to grant real property in fee-simple, and subsequently acquires any title or claim of title thereto, the same passes by operation of law to the grantee, or his successors.

Fifth. Where a grant is made upon condition subsequent, and and is subsequently defeated by the non-performance of the condition, the person otherwise entitled to hold under the grant must re-convey the property to the grantor or his successors, by grant duly acknowledged for record.

Sixth. The term "incumbrances" includes taxes, assessments, and all liens upon real property.

Trusts and ships.

(6680) § 1. An interest in a ship, or in an existing trust, can be transferred only by operation of law, or by a written instrument, subscribed by the person making the transfer, or by his agent.

Other personalty.

(6681) § 2. The mode of transferring other personal property by sale is regulated by article 3 of chapter 60.

Present transfer.

(6682) § 3. The title to personal property, sold or exchanged, passes to the buyer whenever the parties agree upon a present transfer, and the thing itself is identified, whether it is separated from other things or not.

Future transfer.

(6683) § 4. Title is transferred by an executory agreement for the sale or exchange of personal property, only when the buyer has accepted the thing, or when the seller has completed it, prepared it for delivery, and offered it to the buyer, with intent to transfer the title thereto, in the manner prescribed by the law on offer of performance.

Transfer to agent.

(6684) § 5. Where the possession of personal property, together with a power to dispose thereof, is transferred by its owner to another person, an executed sale by the latter, while in posession, to a buyer in good faith and in the ordinary course of business, for value, transfers to such buyer the title of the former owner, though he may be entitled to rescind, and does rescind the transfer made by him.

No consideration.

(6685) § 6. A gift is a transfer of personal property, made voluntarily and without consideration.

Delivery necessary.

(6686) § 7. A verbal gift is not valid, unless the means of obtaining possession and control of the thing are given, nor, if it is capable of delivery, unless there is an actual or symbolical delivery of the thing to the donee.

Irrevocable.

(6687) § 8. A gift, other than a gift in view of death, cannot be revoked by the giver.

Gift in view of death.

(6688) § 9. A gift in view of death is one which is made in contemplation, fear or peril of death, and with intent that it shall take effect only in case of the death of the giver.

(6689) § 10. A gift made during the last illness of the giver or under circumstances which would naturally impress him with an expectation of speedy death, is presumed to be a gift in view of death. Presumed when.

(6690) § 11. A gift in view of death may be revoked by the giver at any time, and is revoked by his recovery from the illness, or escape from the peril, under the presence of which it was made, or by the occurrence of any event which would operate as a revocation of a will made at the same time; but when the gift has been delivered to the donee, the rights of a bona fide purchaser from the donee before the revocation shall not be affected by the revocation. Is revocable, limitation.

(6691) § 12. A gift in view of death is not affected by a previous will; nor by a subsequent will, unless it expresses an intention to revoke the gift. Will does not effect

(6692) § 13. A gift in view of death must be treated as a legacy so far as relates only to the creditors of the giver. Deemed a legacy.

SECTION.
26. First record valid.
27. Conveyance defined.
28. Requisites of revocation.
29. Effect of proved instruments.
30. Unrecorded instruments.

(6693) § 1. Any instrument or judgment affecting the title to or possession of real property may be recorded under this article. Judgments and letters patent may be recorded.

Chap. 86.

Second. Judgments affecting the title to or possession of real property, authenticated by the certificate of the clerk of the court in which said judgments were rendered, may be recorded without acknowledgment or further proof.

Third. Letters patent from the United States and final receivers' receipts from United States land offices may be recorded without acknowledgment or further proof.

Prerequisites to record.

(6694) § 2. Before an instrument can be recorded, unless it belongs to the class provided for in either sections 6714 or 6693 its execution must be acknowledged by the person executing it, or, if executed by a corporation, by its president or secretary, or proved by a subscribing witness, or as provided in sections 6710 and 6711, and the acknowledgment or proof certified in the manner prescribed by sections from 3277 to 3292.

Proved instrument filed.

(6695) § 3. An instrument proved and certified pursuant to sections 6710 and 6711 may be recorded in the proper office, if the original is at the same time deposited therein, to remain for public inspection, but not otherwise.

Creditor's trusts and liens

(6696) § 4. Transfers of property in trust for the benefit of creditors, and transfers of or liens on property, by way of mortgage, are required to be recorded in the cases specified in the law on special relations of debtor and creditor, and the chapter on mortgages, respectively.

Where and when recorded.

(6697) § 5. Instruments entitled to be recorded must be recorded by the register of deeds of the county in which the real property affected thereby is situated. The register must, in all cases, indorse the amount of his fee for the recording on the instrument recorded.

Second. An instrument is deemed to be recorded when, being duly acknowledged or proved and certified, it is deposited in the register's office, with the proper officer, for record.

Conveyances in unorganized counties,

(6698) § 6. The unorganized counties of the Territory in any judicial subdivision, are hereby attached to and made a part of the county where the court is held for such subdivision for the purpose of filing and recording all deeds, mortgages and other instruments, so long as such counties remain unorganized, and the filing and record of all such deeds, mortgages and other instruments heretofore made in the manner herein provided for are hereby declared to be legal and valid.

Separate classes.

(6699) § 7. Grants, absolute in terms, are to be recorded in one set of books, and mortgages in another.

Duty of register.

(6700) § 8. The duties of register of deeds, in respect to recording instruments, are prescribed by statute.

Transfers of vessels

(6701) § 9. The mode of recording transfers of vessels, registered under the laws of the United States, is regulated by acts of congress.

Proof and acknowledgement within territory.

(6702) § 10. The proof or acknowledgment of an instrument may be made at any place within this Territory, before a justice or clerk of the Supreme Court, or notary public.

Within judicial district county or city

(6703) § 11. The proof or acknowledgment of an instrument may be made in this Territory within the judicial district, county, subdivision or city, for which the officer was elected or appointed, before either:

First. A judge or clerk of a court of record; or,

Second. A mayor of a city; or,

Third. A register of deeds: or,

Fourth. A justice of peace; or,

Fifth. A United States circuit or district court commissioner; or,

Sixth. A county clerk; or,

Seventh. A county auditor.

Within United States

(6704) § 12. The proof or acknowledgment of an instrument may be made without the Territory, but within the United States, and within the jurisdiction of the officer, before either:

First. A justice, judge, or clerk of any court of record of the United States.

Second. A justice, judge, or clerk of any court of record of any state or territory; or,

Third. A notary public; or,

Fourth. Any other officer of the state or territory where the acknowledgment is made, authorized by its laws to take such proof or acknowledgment.

Fifth. A commissioner appointed for the purpose by the Governor of this Territory.

Without the United States.

(6705) § 13. The proof or acknowledgment of an instrument may be made without the United States before either:

First. A minister, commissioner, or charge d'affaires of the United States, resident and accredited in the country where the proof of acknowledgment is made; or,

Second. A consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States, resident in the country where the proof or acknowledgment is made; or,

Third. A judge of a court of record of the country where the proof or acknowledgment is made; or,

Fourth. A notary public of such country.

When any of the officers mentioned in this article are authorized by law to appoint a deputy, the acknowledgment or proof may be taken by such deputy in the name of his principal.

Requisites of acknowledgment.

(6706) § 14. The acknowledgment of an instrument must not be taken, unless the officer taking it knows, or has satisfactory evidence, on the oath or affirmation of a credible witness, that the person making such acknowledgment is the individual who is described in and who executed the instrument: or, if executed by a corporation, that the person making such acknowledgment is the president or secretary of such corporation.

Conveyance by married woman.

(6707) § 15. A conveyance or other instrument executed by a married woman, has the same effect as if she were unmarried, and may be acknowledged in the same manner.

Proof of execution when not acknowledged.

(6708) § 16. Proof of the execution of an instrument, when not acknowledged, may be made either:

First. By the party executing it, or either of them; or,

Second. By a subscribing witness; or,

Third. By other witnesses, in cases mentioned in sections 6710 and 6711.

Subscribing witness must be personally known to officer,

(6709) § 17. If, by a subscribing witness, such witness must be personally known to the officer taking the proof to be the person whose name is subscribed to the instrument as a witness, or must be proved to be such by the oath of a creditable witness. The subscribing witness must prove that the person whose name is subscribed to the instrument as a party is the person described in it, and that such person executed it, and that the witness subscribed his name thereto as a witness.

Handwriting.

(6710) § 18. The execution of an instrument may be established by proof of the handwriting of the party and of a subscribing witness, if there is one, in the following cases:

First. When the parties and all the subscribing witnesses are dead; or,

Second. When the parties and all the subscribing witnesses are non-residents of the Territory; or,

Third. When the place of their residence is unknown to the party desiring the proof, and cannot be ascertained by the exercise of due diligence; or,

Fourth. When the subscribing witness conceals himself, or cannot be found by the officer by the exercise of due diligence in attempting to serve the subpœna or attachment; or,

Fifth. In case of the continued failure or refusal of the witness to testify, for the space of one hour, after his appearance.

Facts to be proved.

(6711) § 19. The evidence taken under the preceding section must satisfactorily prove to the officer the following facts:

First. The existence of one or more of the conditions mentioned therein; and,

Second. That the witness testifying knew the person whose name purports to be subscribed to the instrument as a party, and is well acquainted with his signature, and that it is genuine; and,

Third. That the witness testifying personally knew the person who subscribed the instrument as a witness, and is well acquainted with his signature, and that it is genuine; and,

Fourth. The place of residence of the witness.

Contents of certificate

(6712) § 20. An officer taking proof of the execution of an instrument must, in his certificate indorsed thereon or attached thereto, set forth all the matters required by law to be done or known by him, or proved before him, on the proceeding, together with the names of all the witnesses examined before him, their places of residence respectively, and the substance of their evidence.

Forms of certificates.

(6713) § 21. An officer taking the acknowledgment of an instrument must indorse thereon or attach thereto a certificate substantially in the forms hereinafter prescribed:

First. Such certificate of acknowledgment, unless it is otherwise in this article provided, must be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF.....OR STATE OF.....,
COUNTY OF..... } ss.

On this.....day of....., in the year....., before me personally appeared.....known to me or proved to me on the oath of..... to be the person who is described in, and who executed the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that he (or they) executed the same.

Second. The certificate of acknowledgment of an instrument executed by a corporation must be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF.....
COUNTY OF..... } ss.

On this.....day of....., in the year....., before me (here insert the name and quality of the officer), personally appeared....., known to me (or proved to me on the oath of .....)to be the president (or the secretary) of the corporation that is described in and that executed the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that such corporation executed the same.

Third. The certificate of acknowledgment by an attorney in fact must be substantially in the following form:

TERRITORY OF.....,
COUNTY OF..... } ss.

On this.....day of....., in the year....., before me (here insert the name and quality of the officer), personally appeared.....,known to me (or proved to me on the oath of.....) to be the person who is descrsbed in, and whose name is subscribed to the within instrument as the attorney in fact of.....and acknowledged to me that he subscribed the name of.....thereto as principal, and his own name as attorney in fact.

Fourth. Officers taking and certifying acknowledgments or proof of instruments for record, must authenticate their certificates by affixing thereto their signatures, followed by the names of their offices; also their seals of office; if by the laws of the Territory, state or county where the acknowledgement of proof is taken, or by authority of which they are acting, they are required to have official seals. Judges and clerks of courts of record must authenticate their certificates as aforesaid, by affixing thereto the seal of their proper court; and mayors of cities by the seal thereof.

Fifth. The certificate of proof or acknowldgment, if made before a justice of the peace, when used in any county other than that in which he resides, must be accompanied by a certificate under the hand and seal of the clerk of the district court, or of any other county court of record of the county in which the justice resides, setting forth that such justice, at the time of taking such proof or acknowledgement, was authorized to take the same, and that the clerk is acquainted with his handwriting; and believes that the signature to the original certificate is genuine.

(6714) § 22. First. When the acknowlegment or proof of execution of an instrument is properly made, but defectively certified, any Action to correct.

Chap. 86.

party interested may have an action in the district court to obtain a judgment correcting the certificate.

Second. Any person interested under an instrument entitled to be proved for record, may institute an action in the district court against the proper parties to obtain a judgment proving such instrument.

Third. A certified copy of the judgment in a proceeding instituted under either of the two preceding subdivisions, showing the proof of the instrument, and attached thereto, entitles the instrument to record, with like effect as if acknowledged.

Powers of officers.

(6715) § 23. Officers authorized to take the proof of instruments are authorized in such proceedings:

First. To administer oaths or affirmations.

Second. To employ and swear interpreters.

Third. To issue subpœnas, and to punish for contempt, as provided in civil procedure in regard to the means of producing witnesses.

Former laws apply

(6716) § 24. The legality of the execution, acknowledgment; proof, form, or record of any conveyance or other instrument made before this chapter goes into effect, executed, acknowledged, proved or recorded, is not affected by anything contained in this chapter, but depends for its validity and legality, except as to seals, upon the laws in force when the act was performed.

Record and effect of former deeds.

(6717) § 25. All conveyances of real property made before this chapter goes into effect, and acknowledged or proved according to the laws in force at the time of such making and acknowledgment or proof, have the same force as evidence, and may be recorded in the same manner and with like effect as conveyances executed and acknowledged in pursuance of this chapter.

First record valid

(6718) § 26. Every conveyance of real property, other than a lease for a term not exceeding one year, is void as against any subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer, including an assignee of a mortgage, lease, or other conditional estate, of the same property, or any part thereof, in good faith and for a valuable consideration, whose conveyance is first duly recorded.

Conveyance defined.

(6719) § 27. The term "conveyance," as used in the last section, embraces every instrument in writing by which any estate or interest in real property is created, aliened, mortgaged or incumbered, or by which the title to any real property may be affected, exept wills, executory contracts for the sale or purchse of real property, and powers of attorney.

Requisite of revocation

(6720) § 28. No instrument containing a power to convey or execute instruments affecting real property, which has been rerecorded, is revoked by any act of the party by whom it was executed, unless the instrument containing such revocation is also acknowledged or proved, certified and recorded in the same office in which the instrument containing the power was recorded,

Effect of proved instruments.

(6721) § 29. The recording and deposit of an instrument proved and certified according to the provisions of sections 6695, 6708, 6709, 6710 and 6711, are constructive notice of the execution of such instrument to all purchasers and incumbrancers subsequent to the recording; but the proof, recording and deposit do not entitle the instrument, or the record thereof, or the transcript of the record, to be read in evidence.

Unrecorded instrument.

(6722) § 30. An unrecorded instrument is valid as between the parties thereto and those who have notice thereof.

ARTICLE 5.—UNLAWFUL TRANSFERS.

SECTION.
1. Fraudulent transfers.
2. Notice avoids fraud.
3. Constructive revocation.
4. Power deemed executed.
5. Good faith protected.
6. Adverse possession.
7. Other unlawful transfers.

Fraudulent transfers

(6723) § 1. Every instrument other than a will, affecting an estate in real property, including every charge upon real property, or upon its rents or profits, made with intent to defraud prior or subsequent purchasers thereof, or incumbrances thereon, is void as against every purchaser or incumbrancer, for value, of the same property, or the rents or profits thereof.

Notice avoids fraud.

(6724) § 2. No instrument is to be avoided under the last preceding section, in favor of a subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer having notice thereof at the time his purchase was made or his lien acquired, unless the person in whose favor the instrument was made was privy to the fraud intended.

Constructive revocation.

(6725) § 3. Where a power to revoke or modify an instrument affecting the title to, or the enjoyment of an estate to real property, is reserved to the grantor, or given to any other person, a subsequent grant of or charge upon the estate, by the person having the power of revocation, in favor of a purchaser or incumbrancer, for value, operates as a revocation of the original instrument, to the extent of the power, in favor of such purchaser or incumbrancer.

Power deemed executed.

(6726) § 4. Where a person having a power of revocation, within the provisions of the last section, is not entitled to execute it until after the time at which he makes such a grant or charge as is described in that section, the power is deemed to be executed as soon as he is entitled to execute it.

Good faith protected

(6727) § 5. The rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer in good faith and for value are not to be impared by any of the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

Adverse possession.

(6728) § 6. Every grant of real property, other than one made by the Territory, or under a judicial sale, is void, if at the time of the delivery thereof, such real property is in the actual possession of a person claiming under a title adverse to that of the grantor.

Other unlawful transfers.

(6729) § 7. Other provisions concerning unlawful transfers are contained in chapter 27.

Obligations of Third Persons.

SECTION.		SECTION.
23.	Involuntary trustee.	24.	Third persons not prejudiced.

Classes of trusts.

(6730) § 1. A trust is either:

First. Voluntary; or,

Second. Involuntary.

Voluntary trust.

(6731) § 2. A voluntary trust is an obligation arising out of a personal confidence reposed in, and voluntarily accepted by one, for the benefit of another.

Involuntary trust.

(6732) § 3. An involuntary trust is one which is created by operation of law.

Trustor and trustee.

(6733) § 4. The person whose confidence creates a trust, is called the trustor, the person in whom the confidence is reposed, is called the trustee, and the person for whose benefit the trust is created, is called the beneficiary.

What constitutes a trustee.

(6734) § 5. Every one who voluntarily assumes a relation of personal confidence with another, is deemed a trustee within the meaning of this chapter, not only as to the person who reposes such confidence, but also as to all persons of whose affairs he thus acquires information which was given to such person in the like confidence, or over whose affairs he, by such confidence obtains any control.

Purposes of a trust

(6735) § 6. A trust may be created for any purpose for which a contract may lawfully be made, except as otherwise prescribed by article 6 of chapter 69 and this chapter.

Creation of a trust, as to trustor.

(6736) § 7. Subject to the provisions of section 4186, a voluntary trust is created, as to the trustor and beneficiary, by any words or acts of the trustor, indicating with reasonable certainty;

First. An intention on the part of the trustor to create a trust; and,

Second. The subject, purpose and beneficiary of the trust.

Creation of trust as to trustee

(6737) § 8. Subject to the provisions of section 4186 a voluntary trust is created, as to the trustee, by any words or acts of his, indicating with reasonable certainty:

First. His acceptance of the trust, or his acknowledgment, made upon sufficient consideration, of its existence; and,

Second. The subject, purpose and beneficiary of the trust.

Trustee by his own wrong.

(6738) § 9. One who wrongfully detains a thing is an involuntary trustee thereof, for the benefit of the owner.

Trustee by negligence.

(6739) § 10. One who gains a thing by fraud, accident, mistake, undue influence, the violation of a trust, or other wrongful act, is, unless he has some other and better right thereto, an involuntary trustee of the thing gained, for the benefit of the person who would otherwise have had it.

Trustee is bound to act in good faith.

(6740) § 11. In all matters connected with his trust a trustee is bound to act in the highest good faith toward his beneficiary, and may not obtain any advantage therein over the latter, by the slightest misrepresentation, concealment, threat or adverse pressure of any kind.

Not for his own profit.

(6741) § 12. A trustee may not use or deal with the trust property for his own profit, or for any other purpose unconnected with the trust, in any manner.

May not take part in any transactions, exceptions.

(6742) § 13. Neither a trustee, nor any of his agents, may take part in any transaction concerning the trust, in which he, or any one for whom he acts as agent, has an interest, present or contingent, adverse to that of his beneficiary, except as follows:

First. When the beneficiary, having capacity to contract, with a full knowledge of the motives of the trustee, and of all other facts concerning the transaction which might affect his own decision, and without the use of any influence on the part of the trustee, permits him to do so.

Second. When the beneficiary not having the power to contract, the district court, upon the like information of the facts, grants the like permission; or,

Third. When some of the beneficiaries having capacity to contract, and some not having it, the former grant permission for themselves, and the district court for the latter, in the manner above prescribed.

Influence.

(6743) § 14. A trustee may not use the influence which his position gives him to obtain any advantage from his beneficiary.

Adverse trust.

(6744) § 15. No trustee, so long as he remains in the trust, may undertake another trust adverse in its nature to the interest of his beneficiary in the subject of the trust, without the consent of the latter.

Adverse interest.

(6745) § 16. If a trustee acquires any interest, or becomes charged with any duty adverse to the interest of his beneficiary in the subject of the trust, he must immediately inform the latter thereof, and may be at once removed.

Violation is a fraud.

(6746) § 17. Every violation of the provisions of the preceding sections of this article is a fraud against the beneficiary of the trust.

Presumption against trustee.

(6747) § 18. All transactions between a trustee and his beneficiary, during the existence of the trust, or while the influence acquired by the trustee remains, by which he obtains any advantage from his beneficiary, are presumed to be entered into by the latter without sufficient consideration and under undue influence.

Mingling property.

(6748) § 19. A trustee who wilfully and unnecessarily mingles the trust property with his own, so as to constitute himself in appearance its absolute owner, is liable for its safety in all events.

Liability of trustee.

(6749) § 20. A trustee who uses or disposes of the trust property, contrary to section 6741 may, at the option of the beneficiary, be required to account for all profits so made, or to pay the value of its use, and, if he has disposed thereof, to replace it, with its fruits, or to account for its proceeds with interest.

Same, good faith.

(6750) § 21. A trustee who uses or disposes of the trust property in any manner not authorized by the trust, but in good faith, and with intent to serve the interest of the beneficiary, is liable only to make good whatever is lost to the beneficiary by his error.

Trustee responsible for acts of co-trustee when (6751) § 22. A trustee is responsible for the wrongful acts of a co-trustee, to which he consented, or which by his negligence he enabled the latter to commit, but for no others.

Involuntary trustees.

(6752) § 23. Every one to whom property is transferred, in violation of a trust, holds the same as an involuntary trustee under such trust, unless he purchased it in good faith and for a valuable consideration.

Third persons not prejudiced by acts of trustee, when.

(6753) § 24. One who actually and in good faith transfers any money or other property to a trustee, as such, is not bound to see to the application thereof; and his rights can in no way be prejudiced by a misapplication thereof by the trustee. Other persons must, at their peril, see to the proper application of money or other property paid or delivered by them.

20. Office of trustee vacated, how.
21. Discharge of trustee.
22 Removal by the court.

Succession or Appointment of New Trustees.

SECTION.
23. Filling vacancy by court.
24. Trusts survives to co-trustees.
25. Powers of district court.

(6754) § 1. The provisions of this chapter apply only to express trusts, created for the benefit of another than the trustor, and in which the title to the trust property is vested in the trustee; not including, however, those of executors, administrators and guardians as such. Applies to express trusts only.

(6755) § 2. The mutual consent of a trustor and trustee creates a trust, of which the beneficiary may take advantage at any time prior to its rescission. Mutual consent necessary.

(6756) § 3. When a trustee is appointed by a court or public officer as such, such court or officer of the trustor within the meaning of the last section. Appointed by the court.

(6757) § 4. The nature, extent and object of a trust are expressed in the declaration of trust. Declaration of trust.

(6758) § 5. All declarations of a trustor to his trustees, in relation to the trust before its acceptance by the trustees or any of them are to be deemed part of the declaration of the trust, except that when a declaration of trust is made in writing, all previous declarations by the same trustor are merged therein. All declarations deemed part of declaration of trust.

(6759) § 6. A trustee must fulfill the purpose of the trust, as declared at its creation, and must follow all the directions of the trustor given at that time, except as modified by the consent of all parties interested, in the same manner and to the same extent, as an employe. Trustee must obey declaration, (6760) § 7. A trustee, whether he receives any compensation or not, must use at least ordinary care and diligence in the execution of his trust. Must use ordinary care.

(6761) § 8. If a trustee procures or assents to his discharge from his office, before his trust is fully executed, he must use at least ordinary care and diligence to secure the appointment of a trustworthy successor before accepting his own final discharge. Appointment of successor.

(6762) § 9. A trustee must invest money received by him under the trust, as fast as he collects a sufficient amount, in such manner as to afford reasonable security and interest for the same. Investment by trustee.

Chap. 86.

Failure to invest.

(6763) § 10. If the trustee omits to invest the trust moneys according to the last section he must pay simple interest thereon, if such omission is negligent merely, and compound interest if it is wilful.

Purchased claims.

(6764) § 11. A trustee cannot enforce any claim against the trust property which he purchases after or in contemplation of his appointment as trustee; but he may be allowed, by any competent court, to charge to the trust property what he has in good faith paid for the claim, upon discharging the same.

Trustee is a general agent.

(6765) § 12. A trustee is a general agent for the trust property. His authority is such as is conferred upon him by the declaration of trust, and by this chapter and none other. His acts, within the scope of his authority, bind the trust property to the same extent as the acts of an agent bind his principal.

Co-trustees must all act

(6766) § 13. Where there are several co-trustees all must unite in any act to bind the trust property, unless the declaration of trust otherwise provides.

Discretionary powers.

(6767) § 14. A discretionary power, conferred upon a trustee, is prosumed not to be left to his arbitrary discretion, but may be controlled by the district court if not reasonably exercised, unless an absolute discretion is clearly conferred by the declaration of trust.

(6768) § 15. A trustee is entitled to the repayment, out of the trust property, of all expenses actually and properly incurred by him in the performance of his trust. He is entitled to the repayment of even unlawful expenditures if they were productive of actual benefit to the estate.

Same compensation as an executor.

(6769) § 16. When a declaration of trust is silent upon the subject of compensation, the trustee is entitled to the same compensation as an executor. If it specifies the amount of his compensation, he is entitled to the amount thus specified, and no more. If it directs that he shall be allowed a compensation, but does not specify the rate or amount, he is entitled to such compensation as may be reasonable under the circumstances.

Involuntary trustee not included

(6770) § 17. An involuntary trustee, who becomes such through his own fault, has none of the rights mentioned in this article.

Termination by fulfillment.

(6771) § 18. A trust is extinguished by the entire fulfillment of its object, or by such object becoming impossible or unlawful.

Trust cannot be revoked except, when (6772) § 19. A trust cannot be revoked by the trustor after its acceptance, actual or presumed, by the trustee and beneficiaries, except by the consent of all the beneficiaries, unless the declaration of trust reserves a power of revocation to the trustor, and in that case the power must be strictly pursued.

Office of trustee vacated how

(6773) § 20. The office of a trustee is vacated:

First. By his death; or,

Second. By his discharge.

Discharge of trustee.

(6774) § 21. A trustee can be discharged from his trust only as follows:

First. By the extinction of the trust.

Second. By the completion of his duties under the trust.

Third. By such means as may be prescribed by the declaration of the trust.

Fourth. By the consent of the beneficiary, if he has capacity to contract.

Fifth. By the judgment of a competent tribunal, in a direct proceeding for that purpose, that he is of unsound mind; or,

Sixth. By the district court.

Removal by court.

(6775) § 22. The district court may remove any trustee who has violated or is unfit to execute the trust.

Filling vacancy by the court.

(6776) § 23. The district court may appoint a trustee whenever there is a vacancy, and the declaration of trust does not provide a practicable method of appointment.

Trust survives to co-trustees.

(6777) § 24. On the death, renunciation or discharge of one of several co-trustees, the trust survives to the others.

Powers of district court in relation to trusts

(6778) § 25. When a trust exists without any appointed trustee, or where all the trustees renounce, die, or are discharged, the district court of the county or judicial subdivision where the trust property, or some portion thereof, is situated, must appoint another trustee, and direct the execution of the trust. The court may, in its discretion, appoint the original number, or any less number of trustees.

Board of regents.

board of regents, to consist of six members, five of whom to be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Council, and the Governor shall, during the term of his office, be a member of said board. The term of office of said regents shall be for four years, from and after their appointment, unless sooner removed by the Governor for cause; but appointment to fill vacancies before the expiration of term, shall be for the residue of the term only.

Regents, powers and duties

(6781) § 3. The board of regents and their successors in office shall constitute a body corporate, by the name of "The Regents of the University of Oklahoma," and shall possess all the powers necessary or convenient to accomplish the objects and perform the duties prescribed by law, and shall have the custody of the books, records, buildings and all other property of the university. The board shall elect a president and a secretary, who shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by the laws of the board. The secretary shall keep a faithful record of all the transactions of the board, and of the executive committee thereof, and in addition to performing the duties of secretary, shall be the superintendent of the buildings and grounds of the university, and discharge such other duties as may from time to time be prescribed by the board of regents. The Territorial Treasurer shall be the treasurer of the board and perform all the duties of such office, subject to such regulations as the board may adopt, not inconsistent with his official duties, and he and his sureties shall be liable on his official bond as Territorial Treasurer for the faithful discharge of such duties.

Regents, officers and meetings.

(6782) § 4. The time for the election of the president and secretary of said board, and the duration of their respective terms of office, and the time for holding the regular annual meeting and such other meetings as may be required, and the manner of notifying the time, shall be determined by the board. Three members shall coustitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a less number may adjourn from time to time.

University, government of.

(6783) § 5. The board of regents shall enact laws for the government of the University in all its branches, elect a president and the requisite number of professors, instructors, officers and employes, and fix the salaries and term of office of each, and determine the moral and educational qualifications of applicants for admission to the various courses of instruction, but no instruction either sectarian in religion or partisan in politics shall ever be allowed in any department of the University, and no sectarian or partisan test shall ever be allowed or exercised in the appointment of regents, or in the election of professors or other officers of the University, or in the admission of students thereto, or for any purpose whatever. The board of regents shall have power to remove the president or any professor, instructor or officer of the University when in their judgment the interests of the University require it. The board may prescribe rules and regulations for the management of the libraries, cabinet, museum, labratories and all other property of the University, and of the several departments, and for the care and preservation thereof, with penalties and forfeitures by way of damages for their violation, which may be sued for and collected in the name of the board before any court having jurisdiction of such actions.

University fund, branch colleges

(6784) § 6. The board of regents are authorized to expend such portion of the income of the University fund as they may deem expedient for the erection of suitable buildings and the purchase of apparatus, a library, cabinets, and additions thereto, and if they deem it expedient, may receive in connection with the University any college in this Territory, upon application of its board of trustees, and such college so received shall become a branch of the University, and be subject to the visitation of the regents.

Regent's annual report.

(6785) § 7. At the close of each fiscal year the regents, through their president. shall make a report in detail to the Governor, exhibiting the progress, condition and wants of each of the colleges embraced in the University, the course of study in each, the number of professors and students, the amount of receipts and disbursments, together with the nature, costs, and results of all important investigations and experiments, and such other information as they may deem important, one copy of which shall be transmitted free by the Governor of the Territory to all colleges endowed under the provisions of the act of Congress entitled "An Act donating land to the several states and territories which provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and mechanic arts," approved July, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and also one to the Secretary of the Interior as provided in said act.

President, powers and duties.

(6786) § 8. The president of the University shall be president of the several faculties, and the executive head of the instructional force in all its departments; as such, he shall have authority, subject to the board of regents, to give general direction to the instruction and scientific investigations of the several colleges; and so long as the interests of the institution require it he shall be charged with the duties of one of the professorships. The immediate government of the several colleges shall be intrusted to their respective faculties, but the regents shall have the power to regulate the course of instruction and prescribe the books or works to be used in the several courses, and also to confer such degrees and grant such diplomas as are usual in Universities, or as they shall deem appropriate, and to confer upon the faculty, by by-laws, the power to suspend or expel students for misconduct or other causes prescribed in such by-laws.

University, object, departments, additional colleges.

(6787) § 9. The object of the University of Oklahoma shall be to provid ethe means of acquiring a thorough knowledge of the various branches of learning connected with scientific, industrial and professional pursuits, in the instruction and training of persons in the theory and art of teaching, and also instruction in the fundamental laws of the United States and of this Territory, in what regards the rights and duties of citizens, and to this end, it shall consist of the following colleges or departments, to-wit:

First. The college or department of arts;

Chap. 87.

Second. The college or departments of letters;

Third. The normal college or department;

Fourth. Such professional or other colleges or departments as now are or may from time to time be added thereto or connected therewith, and the board of regents are hereby authorized to establish such professional and other colleges or departments when in their judgment they may be deemed necessary and proper: Provided, That no money shall be expended by the board of regents in establishing and organizing any of the additional colleges or departments provided for in this section until an appropriation therefor shall have first been made.

Courses of study.

(6788) § 10. The college department of arts shall embrace courses of instruction in mathematical, physical and natural sciences, with their application to the industrial arts, such as agriculture, mechanics, engineering, mining and metallurgy, manufactures, architecture and commerce, and such branches included in the college of letters as shall be necessary to proper fitness of the pupils in the scientific and practical courses for their chosen pursuits and military tactics; in the normal department the proper instruction and learning in the theory and art of teaching, and in all the various branches and subjects needful to qualify for teaching in the common schools; and as soon as the income of the University will allow, in such order as the wants of the public shall seem to require, the said courses in the sciences and their application to the practical arts shall be expanded into distinct colleges of the University, each with its own faculty and appropriate titles. The college of letters shall be co-existent with the college of arts, and shall embrace a liberal course of instruction in language, literature and philosophy, together with such courses or parts of courses in the college of arts as the regents of the University shall prescribe,

Co-education, diploma and certificate.

(6789) § 11. The university shall be open to female as well as male students, under such regulations and restrictions as the board of regents may deem proper, and all able bodied male students of the university in whatever college may receive instruction and discipline in military tactics, the requisite arms for which shall be furnished by the Territory. After any person has graduated at the university and after such graduation has successfully taught a public school in this Territory for sixteen school months, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall have authority to countersign the diploma of such teacher after such examination as to moral character, learning and ability to teach as to said superintendent may seem proper and reasonable. Any person holding a diploma granted by the board of regents of the Territorial University of Oklahoma, certifying that the person holding the same is a graduate of said university, shall after his diploma has been countersigned by the Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction as aforesaid be deemed qualified to teach any of the public schools of this Territory, and such diploma shall be a certificate of such qualifications until annulled by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(6790) § 12. No student who shall have been a resident of the Territory for one year next preceding his admission shall be required to pay any fees for tuition in the University, except in the law department and for extra studies. The regents may prescribe rates of tuition for any pupil in the law department, or who shall not have been a resident as aforesaid, and for teaching extra studies.

Tuition, how regulated.

(6791) § 13. The regents shall each receive the actual amount of expenses in travelling to and from and attendance upon all meetings of the board, or incurred in the performance of any duty in pursuance of any direction of the board, accounts for such expenses, duly authenticated, shall be audited by the board and paid on their order by the treasurer of the University out of the University fund income. No regent shall receive any pay, mileage or per diem except as above described.

Regent's expenses.

(6792) § 14. The said board of regents shall make rules, regulations and by-laws for the good government and management of the University and of each department thereof; prescribe rules and regulations for the admission of students; but every applicant for admission shall undergo an examination to be prescribed by the board, and shall be rejected if it shall appear that he or she is not of good moral character; require any applicant for admission in the normal department, other than such as shall prior to admission sign and file with said board, a declaration of intention to follow the business of teaching common schools in this Territory for at least one year, to pay or cause to be paid such fees for tuition as the board may deem proper and reasonable.

Government, admission.

(6793) § 15. The board of regents shall from time to time fix the salary of the president, professors and teachers of said University, and shall certify the same to the Territorial Auditor to draw warrants on the Territorial Treasurer upon the certificate of the secretary of said board of regents, that the amount is due for such salary fixed by said board, and that the services therein mentioned were actually performed.

Instructors salaries.

(6794) § 16. The said county of Cleveland shall within six months after the passage and approval of this act provide, by sale of bonds or otherwise, the sum of ten thousand dollars, which sum shall be placed in the hands of the Territorial treasurer, to be by him held for the use of the board of regents for the purpose of erecting the buildings and procuring the apparatus necessary to put the Territorial University in operation.

Ten thousand dollar building fraud,

(6795) § 17. The said board of regents shall be authorized to draw warrants upon any University funds in the hands of the Territorial treasurer, and it shall be the duty of that officer to pay out such funds on the warrants drawn by the regents of such institution. The county commissioners of Cleveland county are hereby authorized to issue bonds of said county in the sum of ten thousand dollars, running twenty years, and bearing five per cent interest which bonds shall not be sold below par, and when sold the proceeds of such sale of bonds shall be placed in the hands of the Territorial treasurer for the benefit of said University to be used as provided in section sixteen of this act: Provided, that before the commissioners shall issue or sell said bonds the question "shall Cleveland

Bonds issued, act void, warrants drawn

Chap. 88. County, Oklahoma Territory, by and through its commissioners, issue and sell bonds of the county bearing five per cent interest running twenty years in the sum of ten thousand dollars, for University funds," must be submitted to a vote of the people of said County at either a general or special election, and if a majority of the qualified voters vote in favor of the proposition then the commissioners aforesaid may issue the bonds, and if a majority vote against the proposition, then the authority imposed by the section is null and void: Provided, That if the said County of Cleveland, through its commissioners, shall neglect or refuse to comply with the conditions imposed in this and the preceding section, within one year, from and after the passage and approval of this act, then this act shall be null and void. All warrants drawn on the Territoril University funds shall be signed by the president of the board of regents, countersigned by the secretary and presented to the Territorial auditing officer, and be by him approved, signed and sealed before the Territorial Treasurer shall pay the same.

Regents to receive bequests.

(6796) § 18. The board of regents of the University of Oklahoma are hereby authorized to receive all grants, additions, all bequests of money, or other property for the use and benefit of the University.

35. Gift to a witness is void.
36. Not if he be entitled to a share.
37. Probate of a will not prevented by subsequent incompetency of witness.
38. Property acquired after will.

Who may make a will.

(6797) § 1. Every person over the age of eighteen years, of sound mind, may by last will, dispose of all his estate, real and personal, and such estate not disposed of by will is succeeded to as provided in article 4 of this chapter, being chargeable in both cases with the payment of all the decedent's debts, as provided in civil procedure.

Married woman same right.

(6798) § 2. A married woman may dispose of all her separate estate by will, without the consent of her husband, and may alter or revoke the will in like manner as if she were single. Her will must be executed and proved in like manner as other wills.

Undue influence

(6799) § 3. A will or part of a will procured to be made by duress, menace, fraud or undue influence, may be denied probate; and a revocation procured by the same means, may be declared void.

What may be disposed of by will.

(6800) § 4. Every estate and interest in real or personal property, to which heirs, husband, widow, or next of kin might succeed, may be disposed of by will.

May be made to any one capable of taking.

(6801) § 5 A testamentary disposition may be made to any person capable by law of taking the property so disposed of, except that no corporation can take under a will, unless expressly authorized by its charter or by statute so to take.

Nuncupative will

(6802) § 6. To make a nuncupative will valid, and to entitle it to be admitted to probate, the following requisites must be observed:

First. The estate bequeathed must not exceed in value the sum of one thousand dollars.

Second. It must be proved by two witnesses who were present at the making thereof, one of whom was asked by the testator at the time to bear witness that such was his will, or to that effect.

Third. The decedent must at the time, have been in actual military service in the field, or doing duty on shipboard at sea, and in either case in actual contemplation, fear or peril of death, or the decedent must have been at the time in expectation of immediate death from an injury received the same day.

Mutual will

(6803) § 7 A conjoint or mutual will is valid, but it may be revoked by any of the testators in like manner with any other will.

Probate of conditional will.

(6804) § 8. A will, the validity of which is made by its own terms conditional, may be denied probate, according to the event, with reference to the condition.

Execution of wills, olographic

(6805) § 9. An olographic will is one that is entirely written, dated and signed by the hand of the testator himself. It is subject to no other form, and may be made in or out of this Territory, and need not be witnessed. Every will, other than a nuncupative will, must be in writing; and every will, other than an olographic will and a nuncupative will, must be executed and attested as follows:

First. It must be subscribed at the end thereof by the testator himself, or some person, in his presence and by his direction, must subscribe his name thereto.

Second. The subscription must be made in the presence of the attesting witnesses, or be acknowledged by the testator to them, to have been made by him or by his authority.

Third. The testator must, at the time of subscribing or acknowledging the same, declare to the attesting witnesses that the instrument is his will; and,

Fourth. There must be two attesting witnesses, each of whom must sign his name as a witness at the end of the will at the testator's request and in his presence.

Nuncupative need not be in writing,

(6806) § 10. A nuncupative will is not required to be in writing, nor to be declared or attested with any formalities.

Method of witnessing a will.

(6807) § 11. A witness to a written will must write, with his name, his place of residence; and a person who subscribes the testator's name, by his direction, must write his own name as a witness to the will. But a violation of this section does not affect the validity of the will.

Codicil effect of (6808) § 12. The execution of a codicil referring to a previous will has the effect to republish the will as modified by the codicil.

Law of place governs.

(6809) § 13. A will of real or personal property, or both, or a revocation thereof, made out of this Territory by a person not having his domicile in this Territory, is as valid when executed according to the law of the place in which the same was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled, as if it were made in this Territory, and according to the provisions of this article.

Law must be followed

(6810) § 14. No will or revocation is valid unless executed either according to the provisions of this article, or according to the law of the place in which it was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled.

Change of domicile,

(6811) § 15. Whenever a will or a revocation thereof is duly executed according to the law of the place in which the same was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled, the same is regulated as to the validity of its execution, by the law of such place, notwithstanding that the testator subsequently changed his domicile to a place, by the law of which such will would be void.

Deposited wills

(6812) § 16. Every probate judge must deposit in his office any will delivered to him for that purpose, and give a written receipt to the depositor; and must enclose such will in a sealed wrapper, so that it cannot be read, and indorse thereon the name of the testator, his residence, and the date of the deposit; and such wrapper must not be opened until its delivery under the provisions of the next section.

How disposed of.

(6813) § 17. A will deposited under the provisions of the last section must be delivered only:

First. To the testator in person.

Second. Upon his written order, duly proved by the oath of a subscribing witness.

Third. After his death, to the person, if any, named in the indorsement on the wrapper of the will; or,

Fourth. If there is no such indorsement, and if the will was not deposited with the probate judge having jurisdiction of its probate, then to the probate judge who has jurisdiction.

Probate judge opens wills

(6814) § 18. The probate judge with whom a will is deposited, or to whom it is delivered, must, after the death of the testator, publicly open and examine the will and file in his office, there to remain until duly proved, or to deliver it to the probate judge having jurisdiction of its probate.

Proof of lost will.

(6815) § 19. A lost or destroyed will of real or personal property, or both, may be established in the cases provided in chapter 19, or any act in force on that subject.

Revocation of wills

(6816) § 20. Except in the cases in this article mentioned no written will, nor any part thereof, can be revoked or altered otherwise than:

First. By a written will or other writing of the testator, declaring such revocation or alteration, and executed with the same formalities with which a will should be executed by such testator; or,

Second. By being burnt, torn, cancelled, obliterated or destroyed, with intent and for the purpose of revoking the same, by the testator himself, or by some person in his presence and by his direction.

Proof of destruction.

(6817) § 21. When a will is cancelled or destroyed by any other person than the testator the direction of the testator, and the fact of such injury or destruction must be proved by two witnesses.

Effect of partial erasure

(6818) § 22. A revocation by obliteration on the face of the will may be partial or total, and is complete if the material part is so obliterated as to show an intention to revoke; but where, in order to effect a new disposition the testator attempts to revoke a provision of the will by altering or obliterating it on the face thereof, such revocation is not valid unless the new disposition is legally effected.

Revocation of will in duplicate

(6819) § 23. The revocation of a will, executed in duplicate, may be made by revoking one of the duplicates.

Wills valid.

(6820) § 24. A prior will is not revoked by a subsequent will, unless the latter contains an express revocation, or provisions wholly inconsistent with the terms of the former will; but in other cases the prior will remains effectual so far as consistent with the provisions of the subsequent will.

Revocation of subsequent will does not revive former without express terms (6821) § 25. If, after making a will, the testator duly makes and executes a subsequent will, the destruction, canceling or revocation of the latter does not revive the former, unless it appears by the terms of such revocation that it was his intention to remove the former will, or unless after such destruction, canceling or revocation, he duly republishes the prior will.

Marriage and issue after will is made

(6822) § 26. First. If, after having made a will, the testator marries and has issue of such marriage, born either in his life-time or after his death, and the wife or issue survive him, the will is revoked, unless provision has been made for such issue by some settlement, or unless such issue are provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of such revocation can be received.

Second. If, after making a will, the testator marries, and the wife survives the testator, the will is revoked, unless provision has been made for her by marriage contract, or unless she is provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of revocation must be received.

Marriage of woman revokes will.

(6823) § 27. A will executed by an unmarried woman is revoked by a subsequent marriage, and is not revived by the death of her husband.

Sale of devised Property, effect.

(6824) § 28. An agreement made by a testator, for the sale or transfer of property disposed of by will previously made, does not revoke such disposal; but the property passes by the will, subject to the same remedies on the testator's agreement, for a specific performance or otherwise, against the devisees or legatees, as might be had against the testator's successors, if the same had passed by succession.

Incumbrance not a revocation.

(6825) § 29. A charge or incumbrance upon any estate, for the purpose of securing the payment of money or the performance of any covenant or agreement, is not a revocation of any will relating to the same estate which was previously executed, but the devise and legacies therein contained must pass subject to such charge or incumbrance.

Partial disposal after will.

(6826) § 30. A conveyance, settlement, or other act of a testator, by which his interest in a thing previously disposed of by his will is altered, but not wholly divested, is not a revocation; but the will passes the property which would otherwise devolve by succession.

When such act revokes a will (6827) § 31. If the instrument by which an alteration is made in the testator's interest in a thing previously disposed of by his will, expresses his intent that it shall be a revocation, or if it contains provisions wholly inconsistent with the terms and nature of the testamentary disposition, it operates as a revocation thereof, unless such inconsistent provisions depend on a condition or contingency, by reason of which they do not take effect.

Codicils.

(6828) § 32. The revocation of a will revokes all its codicils.

Succession supplements will (6829) § 33. Whenever a testator has a child born after the making of his will, either in his life time or after his death, and dies leaving such child unprovided for by any settlement, and neither provided for nor in any way mentioned in his will, the child succeeds to the same portion of the testator's real and personal property that he would have succeeded to if the testator had died intestate:

First. When any testator omits to provide in his will for any of his children, or for the issue of any deceased child unless it appears that such omission was intentional, such child, or the issue of such child, must have the same share in the estate of the testator, as if he had died intestate, and succeeds thereto as provided in the preceding paragraph.

Second. When any share of the estate of a testator is assigned to a child born after the making of a will, or to a child, or the issue of a child, omitted in a will as hereinbefore mentioned, the same must first be taken from the estate not disposed of by the will, if any; if that is not sufficient, so much as may be necessary must be taken from all the devisees, or legatees, in proportion to the value they may respectively receive under the will, unless the obvious intention of the testator in relation to some specific devise or bequest or other provision in the will, would thereby be defeated; in such case such specific devise, legacy or provision may be exempted from such apportionment, and a different apportionment, consistent with the intention of the testator, may be adopted.

Third. If such children, or their decendants, so unprovided for, had an equal proportion of the testator's estate bestowed on them in the testator's life time, by way of advancement, they take nothing in virtue of the provisions of the three preceding subdivisions.

Fourth. Every devise of land in any will conveys all the estate of their devisor therein, which he could lawfully devise, unless it clearly appears by the will that he intended to convey a less estate.

Devisee's descendants take property.

(6830) § 34. When any estate is devised to any child, or other relation of the testator, and the devisee dies before the testator, leaving lineal descendants, such descendants take the estate so given by the will, in the same manner as the devisee would have done had he survived the testator.

Gift to a witness void.

(6831) § 35. All beneficial devises, legacies or gifts whatever, made or given in any will to a subscribing witness thereto, are void unless there are two other competent subscribing witnesses to the same; but a mere charge on the estate of the testator for the payment of debts does not prevent his creditors from being competent witnesses to the will.

Not if he is entitled to share.

(6832) § 36. If a witness to whom any beneficial devise, legacy or gift, void by the preceding section, is made, would have been entitled to any share of the estate of the testator, in case the will should not be established, he succeeds to so much of the share as would be distributed to him, not exceeding the devise or bequest made to him in the will, and he may recover the same of the other devisees or legatees named in the will, in proportion to and out of the parts devised or bequeathed to them.

Probate of will not prevented by subsequent incompetency of witness.

(6833) § 37. If the subscribing witnesses to a will are competent at the time of attesting its execution, their subsequent incompency, from whatever cause it may arise, does not prevent the probate and allowance of the will, if it is otherwise satisfactorily proved.

Property acquired after will.

(6834) § 38. Any estate, right or interest in lands acquired by the testator after the making of his will, passes thereby and in like manner as if title thereto was vested in him at the time of making the will, unless the contrary manifestly appears by the will to have been the intention of the testator. Every will made in express terms, devising, or in any other terms denoting the intent of the testator to devise all the real estate of such testator, passes all the real estate which such testator was entitled to devise at the time of his decease.

Intention of testator governs

(6835) § 1. A will is to be construed according to the intention of the testator. Where his intention cannot have effect to its full extent, it must have effect as far as possible.

Will excludes all oral declarations

(6836) § 2. In case of uncertainty, arising upon the face of a will, as to the application of any of its provisions, the testator's intention is to be ascertained from the words of the will, taking into view the circumstances under which it was made, exclusive of his oral declarations.

Rules of interpretation

(6837) § 3. In interpreting a will, subject to the laws of this Territory, the rules prescribed by the following sections of this article are to be observed, unless an intention to the contrary clearly appears.

Construed together if several.

(6838) § 4. Several testamentary instruments, executed by the same testator, are to be taken and construed together as one instrument.

Irreconcilable parts

(6839) § 5. All the parts of a will are to be construed in relation to each other, and so as if possible to form one consistent whole, but where several parts are absolutely irreconcilable, the latter must prevail.

Inaccuracies

(6840) § 6. A clear and distinct devise or bequest cannot be affected by any reasons assigned therefor, or by any other words not equally clear and distinct, or by inference or argument from other parts of the will, or by an inaccurate recital of or reference to its contents in another part of the will.

Ambiguities

(6841) § 7. Where the meaning of any part of a will is ambiguous or doubtful it may be explained by any reference thereto, or recital thereof, in another part of the will.

Words taken in ordinary sense.

(6842) § 8. The words of a will are to be taken in their ordinary and grammatical sense unless a clear intention to use them in another sense can be collected, and that other can be ascertained.

Construction.

(6843) § 9. The words of a will are to receive an interpretation which will give to every expression some effect rather than one which shall render any of the expressions inoperative.

Validity.

(6844) § 10. Of two modes of interpreting a will that is to be preferred which will prevent a total intestacy.

Technical words

(6845) § 11. Technical words in a will are to be taken in their technical sense unless the context clearly indicates a contrary intention.

Not necessary

(6846) § 12. Technical words are not necessary to give effect to any species of disposition by a will.

Words of inheritance.

(6847) § 13. The term "heirs," or other words of inheritance, are not requisite to devise a fee, and a devise of real property passes all the estate of the testator, unless otherwise limited.

Executing power.

(6848) § 14. Real or personal property embraced in a power to devise passes by a will purporting to devise all the real or personal property of the testator.

General words.

(6849) § 15. A devise or bequest of all the testator's real or personal property, in express terms, or in any other terms denoting his intent to dispose of all his real or personal property, passes all the real or personal property which he was entitled to dispose of by will at the time of his death.

Residue of real estate

(6850) § 16. A devise of the residue of the testator's real property passes all the real property which he was entitled to devise at the time of his death, not otherwise effectually devised by his will.

Residue of personalty

(6851) § 17. A bequest of the residue of the testator's personal property passes all the personal property which he was entitled to bequeath at the time of his death not otherwise effectually bequeathed by his will.

Effect of certain terms.

(6852) § 18. A testamentary disposition to "heirs," "relations," "nearest relations," "representatives," "legal representatives," or "personal representatives," or "family," "issue," "descendants," "nearest," or "next of kin," of any person, without other words of qualification, and when the terms are used as words of donation, and not of limitation, vests the property in those who would be entitled to succeed to the property of such person according to the provisions of the article on succession, in this chapter.

Words of donation

(6853) § 19. The terms mentioned in the last section are used as words of donation, and not limitation, when the property is given to the person so designated, directly, and not as a qualification of an estate given to the ancestor of such person.

Postponed possession.

(6854) § 20. Words in a will referring to death or survivorship, simply, relate to the time of the testator's death, unless possession is actually postponed, when they must be referred to the time of possession.

Class includes all

(6855) § 21. A testamentary disposition to a class includes every person answering the description at the testator's death; but when the possession is postponed to a future period, it includes also all persons coming within the description before the time to which possession is postponed.

Conversion of realty

(6856) § 22. When a will directs the conversion of real property into money, such property and all its proceeds must be deemed personal property, from the time of the testator's death.

(6857) § 23. A child conceived before, but not born until after a testator's death, or any other period when a disposition to a class vests in right or in possession, takes, if answering to the description of the class.

Unborn child included

Imperfection not orally removed.

(6858) § 24. When applying a will, it is found that there is an imperfect description, or that no person or property exactly answers the description, mistakes and omissions must be corrected, if the error appears from the context of the will or from extrinsic evidence; but evidence of the declarations of the testator as to his intention cannot be received.

Vest at death

(6859) § 25. Testamentary dispositions, including devises and bequests to a person on attaining majority, are presumed to vest at the testator's death.

Divested, when.

(6860) § 26. A testamentary disposition, when vested, cannot be divested unless upon the occurrence of the precise contingency prescribed by the testator for that purpose.

Death of devisee causes failure.

(6861) § 27. If a devisee or legatee dies during the lifetime of the testator, the testamentary disposition to him fails, unless an intention appears to substitute some other in his place, except as provided in section 6830.

Not of persons in remainder.

(6862) § 28. The death of a devisee or legatee of a limited interest, before the testator's death, does not defeat the interests of persons in remainder, who survive the testator.

Uncertain event.

(6863) § 29. A conditional disposition is one which depends upon the occurrence of some uncertain event, by which it is either to take effect or be defeated.

Condition precedent

(6864) § 30. A condition precedent in a will is one which is required to be fulfilled before a particular disposition takes effect.

Unknown or unavoidable event.

(6865) § 31. Where a testamentary disposition is made upon a condition precedent, nothing vests until the condition is fulfilled except where such fulfilment is impossible, in which case the disposition vests, unless the condition was the sole motive thereof, and the impossibility was unknown to the testator, or arose from an unavoidable event subsequent to the execution of the will.

Substantial compliance.

(6866) § 32. A condition precedent in a will is to be deemed performed when the testator's intention has been substantially, though not literally, complied with.

Condition subsequent

(6867) § 33. A condition subsequent is where an estate or interest is so given as to vest immediately, subject only to be divested by some subsequent act or event.

Owners in common

(6868) § 34. A devise or legacy given to more than one person vests in them as owners in common.

Gifts do not reduce legacies;

(6869) § 35. Advancements or gifts are not to be taken as ademptions of general legacies, unless such intention is expressed by the testator in writing.

SECTION.
1 Legacies classed.

18. Limitation of power.
19. Will includes codicil.
20. Law of place.
21. Liability of devisees and legatees.

(6870) § 1. Legacies are distinguished and designated, according to their nature, as follows: Legacies classed.

First. A legacy of a particular thing, specified and distinguished from all others of the same kind belonging to the testator is specific; if such legacy fails, resort cannot be had to the other property of the testator.

Second. A legacy is demonstrative when the particular fund or personal property is pointed out from which it is to be taken or paid; if such fund or property fails in whole or in part, resort may be had to the general assets as in case of a general legacy.

Third. An annuity is a bequest of certain specified sums periodically; if the fund or property out of which they are payable fails, resort may be had to the general assets, as in case of a general legacy

Fourth. A residuary legacy embraces only that which remains after all the bequests of the will are discharged.

Fifth. All other legacies are general legacies.

(6871) § 2. When a person dies intestate, all his property, real and personal, without any distinction between them, is chargeable with the payment of his debts, except as otherwise provided in this chapter and under civil procedure. Non-exempt property is assets.

(6872) § 3. The property of a testator, except as otherwise especially provided in this chapter and under civil procedure must be resorted to for the payment of debts in the following order: Order in which property applied to debts.

First The property which is expressly appropriated by the will for the payment of the debts.

Second. Property not disposed of by the will

Third. Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee.

Fourth. Property which is not specifically devised or bequeathed, and,

Fifth. All other property ratably. Before any debts are paid, the expenses of the administration and the allowance to the family must be paid or provided for (6873) § 4. The property of a testator, except as otherwise specially provided in this chapter and under civil procedure, must be resorted to for the payment of legacies in the following order: For payment of legacies.

First. The property which is expressly appropriated by the will for the payment of the legacies.

Second. Property not disposed of by the will.

Chap. 88.

Third. Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee.

Fourth. Property which is specifically devised or bequeathed.

Preferred legacies

(6874) § 5. Legacies to husband, widow or kindred of any class, are chargeable only after legacies to persons not related to the testator.

Class only affected

(6875) § 6. Abatement takes place in any class only as between legacies of that class, unless a different intention is expressed in the will.

Representative may sell.

(6876) § 7. In a specific devise or legacy, the title passes by the will, but possession can only be obtained from the personal representative; and he may be authorized by the probate court to sell the property devised or bequeathed, in the cases herein provided.

Proved devise impairs deed by heir

(6877) § 8. The rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer of real property in good faith, and for value, derived from any person claiming the same by succession, are not impaired by any devise made by the decedent from whom succession is claimed, unless the instrument containing such devise is duly proved as a will, and recorded in the office of the probate court having jurisdiction thereof, or unless written notice of such devise is filed with the probate judge of the county where real property is situated, within four years after the devisor's death.

Succession to limited devises

(6878) § 9. Where specific legacies are for life only, the first legatee must sign and deliver to the second legatee, or, if there is none, to the personal representative, an inventory of the property, expressing that the same is in his custody for life only, and that, on his decease, it is to be delivered and to remain to the use and for the benefit of the second legatee, or to the personal representative as the case may be.

Income after death.

(6879) § 10. In case of a bequest of the interest or income of a certain sum or fund, the income accrues from the testator's death.

Satisfied before death

(6880) § 11. A legacy, or a gift in contemplation, fear or peril of death, may be satisfied before death.

Due in one year.

(6881) § 12. Legacies are due and deliverable at the expiration of one year after the testator's decease. Annuities commence at the testator's decease.

Interest after due

(6882) § 13. Legacies bear interest from the time when they are due and payable, except that legacies for maintainance, or to the testator's widow, bear interest from the testator's decease.

Intention controls

(6883) § 14. The four preceding sections are in all cases to be controlled by a testator's express intention.

Unnamed executor

(6884) § 15. Where it appears by the terms of a will that it was the intention of the testator to commit the execution thereof and the administration of his estate to any person as executor, such person although not named executor, is entitled to letters testamentary in like manner as if he had been named executor.

Void authority

(6885) § 16. An authority to an executor to appoint an executor, is void.

Executor's power begins.

(6886) § 17. No person has any power, as an executor, until he qualifies, except that, before letters have been issued, he may pay funeral charges and take necessary measures for the preservation of the estate.

Limitation of power

(6887) § 18. No executor of an executor, as such, has any power over the estate of the first testator.

Will includes codicil.

(6888) § 19. The term "will," includes all codicils as well as wills.

Law of place.

(6889) § 20. Except as otherwise provided, the validity and interpretation of wills is governed, when relating to real property within this territory, by the law of this Territory; when relating to personal property, by the law of the testator's domicile.

Liability of devisees and legatees.

(6890) § 21. Those to whom property is given by will are liable for the obligations of the testator in the cases and to the extent prescribed by civil procedure, or special statutes.

17. Representation
18 Inheritance by representation
19 Aliens may take
20. Escheated estates.
21. Real propertey subject to charges.
22. Liabilities of heirs.

Succession defined

(6891) § 1. Succession is the coming in of another to take the property of one who dies without disposing of it by will.

All property passes to heirs.

(6892) § 2. The property, both real and personal, of one who dies without disposing of it by will, passes to the heirs of the intestate, subject to the control of the probate court, and to the possession of any administrator appointed by that court for the purpose of administration.

Order of succession

(6893) § 3. When any person having title to any estate not otherwise limited by marriage contract, dies without disposing of the estate by will, it is succeeded to and must be distributed, unless otherwise expressly provided in this code and the chapter on probate court, subject to the payment of his debts, in the following manner:

First. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the lawful issue of one child, in equal shares to the surviving husband, or wife and child, or issue of such child. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and more than one child living, or one child living, and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife, and the remainder in equal shares to his children, and to the lawful issue of any deceased child, by right of representation; but if there be no child of the decedent living at his death, the remainder goes to all his lineal descendants; and if all the descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the decedent they share equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation. If the decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leaves issue, the whole estate goes to such issue, and if such issue consists of more than one child living, or one child living and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, then the estate goes in equal shares to the children living, or to the child living, and the issue of the deceased child or children by right of representation.

Second. If the decedent leave no issue, the estate goes in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife, and to the decedent's father. If there be no father, then one-half goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation; if he leave a mother also, she takes an equal share with the brothers and sisters. If decedent leave no issue, nor husband nor wife, the estate must go to the father.

Third. If there be no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation; if a mother survive, she takes an equal share with the brothers and sisters.

Fourth If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, and no brother or sister is living at the time of his death, the estate goes to his mother to the exclusion of the issue, if any, of deceased brothers or sisters.

Fifth. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and no issue, and no father, nor mother, nor brother, nor sister, the whole estate goes to the surviving husband or wife.

Sixth. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, and no father, nor mother, nor brother, nor sister, the estate must go to the next of kin, in equal degree, excepting that when there are two or more collateral kindred, in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors, those who claimed through the nearest ancestors must be preferred to those claiming through an ancestor more remote. However:

Seventh. If the decedent leave several children, or one child and the issue of one or more children, and any such surviving child dies under age, and not having been married, all the estate that came to the deceased child by inheritance from such decedent decends in equal shares to the other children of the same parent, and to the issue of any such other children who are dead, by right of representation.

Eighth. If, at the death of such child who dies under age, not having been married, all the other children of his parents are also dead, and any of them have left issue, the estate that came to such child by inheritance from his parent descends to the issue of all other children of the same parent; and if all the issue are in the same degree of kindred to the child, they share the estate equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation.

Ninth. If the decedent leave no husband, wife, or kindred, the estate escheats to the Territory for the support of common schools.

(6894) § 4. Dower and courtesy are abolished. Dower and courtesy abolished.

(6895) § 5. Every illegitimate child is an heir of the person who in writing, signed in the presence of a competent witness, acknowledges himself to be the father of such child; and in all cases is an heir of his mother; and inherits his or her estate, in whole or in part, as the case may be, in the same manner as if he had been born in lawful wedlock; but he does not represent his father or mother by inheriting any part of the estate of his or her kindred, either lineal or collateral, unless before his death his parents shall have intermarried, and his father after such marriage, acknowledges him as his child, or adopts him into his family; in which case such child and all the legitimate children are considered brothers and sisters, and on the death of either of them, intestate, and without issue, the others inherit his estate, and are heirs, as hereinbefore provided, in like manner as if all the children had been legitimate; saving to the father and mother respectively, their rights in the estates of all the children in like manner as if all had been legitimate. The issue of all marriages null in law, or dissolved by divorce, are legitimate. Inheritance by illegitimate child.

(6896) § 6. If an illegitimate child, who has not been acknowledged or adopted by his father, dies intestate, without lawful issue, his estate goes to his mother, or, in case of her decease, to her heirs at law. Inheritance from illegitimate child.

(6897) § 7. The degree of kindred is established by the number of generations, and each generation is called a degree. Each generation is a degree.

(6898) § 8. The series of degrees from the line; the series of degrees between persons who descend from one another is called direct or lineal consanguinity; and the series of degrees between persons who do not descend from one another, but spring from a common ancestor, is called the collateral line or collateral consanguinity. Lineal and collateral

(6899) § 9. The direct line is divided into a direct line descending and the direct line ascending. The first is that which connects the ancestor with those who descend from him. The second is that which connects a person with those from whom he descends. Ascending and descending

(6900) § 10. In the direct line there are as many degrees as there are generations. Thus the son is, with regard to the father, in the first degree; the grandson in the second; and vice versa with regard to the father and grandfather toward the sons and grandsons. Direct line degrees

(6901) § 11. In the collateral line the degrees are counted by generations, from one of the relations up to the common ancestor, and from the common ancestor to the other relations. In such computation the decedent is excluded, the relative included, and the ancestor counted but once. Thus brothers are related in the second degree, uncle and nephew in the third degree, cousins german in the fourth degree, and so on. Collateral degree.

(6902) § 12. Kindred of the half blood inherit equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree, unless the inheritance come to the intestate by descent, devise or gift of some one Kindred of the half-blood.

of his ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestors must be excluded from such inheritance.

Advancements part of share.

(6903) § 13. Any estate, real or personal, given by the decedent in his life time, as an advancement to any child or other lineal descendant, is a part of the estate of the decedent for the purposes of division and distribution thereof among his issue, and must be taken by such child, or other lineal descendant, toward his share of the estate of the decedent.

Excess not refunded

(6904) § 14. If the amount of such advancement exceeds the share of the heir receiving the same, he must be excluded from any further portion in the division and distribution of the estate, but he must not be required to refund any part of such advancement; and if the amount so received is less than his share, he is entitled to so much more as will give him his full share of the estate of the decedent.

Advancements defined

(6905) § 15. All gifts and grants are made as advancements, if expressed in the gift or grant to be so made, or if charged in writing by the decedent as an advancement, or acknowledged in writing as such, by the child or other successor or heir.

Expressed value governs

(6906) § 16. If the value of the estate so advanced is expressed in the conveyance, or in the charge thereof made by the decedent, or in the acknowledgment of the party receiving it, it must be held as of that value in the division and distribution of the estate; otherwise it must be estimated according to its value when given, as nearly as the same can be ascertained.

Representation

(6907) § 17. If any child or other lineal descendant receiving advancement, dies before the decedent, leaving issue, the advancement must be taken into consideration in the division and distribution of the estate, and the amount thereof must be allowed accordingly by the representatives of the heirs receiving the advancement, in like manner as if the advancement had been made directly to them.

Inheritance by representation

(6908) § 18. Inheritance or succession by right of representation takes place when the descendants of any deceased heir take the same share or right in the estate of another person that their parents would have taken if living. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parents.

Aliens may take.

(6909) § 19. Aliens may take in all cases, by succession, as well as citizens; and no person, capable of succeeding under the provisions of this title, is precluded from such succession by reason of the alienage of any relative.

Escheated estates

(6910) § 20. If there is no one capable of succeeding under the preceding sections, and the title fails from a defect of heirs, the property of a decedent devolves and escheats to the Territory; and an action for the recovery of such property, and to reduce it into the possession of the Territory, or for its sale and conveyance may be brought by the district attorney in the district court of the county or judicial subdivision in which the property is situated.

Real property subject to charges.

(6911) § 21. Real property passing to the Territory under the preceding section, whether held by the Territory or its grantees, is subject to the same charges and trusts to which it would have been subject if it had passed by succession.

Liabilities of heirs.

(6912) § 22. Those who succeed to the property of a decedent are liable for his obligations in the cases and to the extent prescribed by chapter 19.
